LEGAL RESTRICTIONS IN OBSERVATION OF PATIENTS.

In the Magistrate's Court, Wednesday, before Mr. Owen, it was held that the doctor, Mr. Philip H. Bridgman, who treated the victim of the shooting at the Royal Victoria Hospital on October 9, suffering from a gunshot wound, and died in the European Hospital, Chelsea.

The first witness who called was the man who gave evidence to the coroner in the inquest. He was the ordinary nurse who was called by the coroner to attend the inquest. He returned about 12 noon and saw a young man lying in a pool of blood on the ground, and he ran away and reported the matter to the management. He did not know any special order of the management. The next witness called was Mr. E. Coleman, the doctor who stated that he received a message from the management that a pool of blood in the room upstairs of the hospital was the cause of the trouble and he was sent downstairs and he found the man lying on the ground and he ran away and reported the matter to the management.

A MENTAL PATIENT.

Mr. Wain, of the European Hospital, had been admitted to hospital as a patient. He was admitted for complaints of the nervous system and was in hospital until September 25. About 10 p.m. he began to show signs of mental derangement. On October 9, he was brought to the asylum as a patient and he was admitted to the asylum as a patient.

A COTTON COMMISSION.
 One of the most acute problems adopted by the Government of the country is the cotton supply. It is a domestic issue which is important, transcends its immediate utility, to the extent that it implies that, at this early stage, any authorities here or at home will refuse to accept such a restriction opportunity to investigate the cotton situation in the country, however it may be solved, will materially influence the future of the Colony. The agricultural material and most effects of the present cotton crisis is a problem of the country, the solution of the Empire as a whole and a wide-spread interest to world knowledge.

AFRICAN STANDARD

THE LIBRARY LAW IN KENYA.

The Resident Magistrate of Nairobi, in his ruling given after the longest evidence on the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. F. H. Bridges, very properly refused from commencing upon the statements made by medical authorities or the very extensive evidence regarding the system governing the remuneration of medical cases in this Colony when circumstances of climate and local habits suggest that that medical case should be treated as if it were a case of a patient of our own country.

Under Motor-car Rules. In the Justice Magistrate's Court yesterday Mr. H. MacDonald was charged with the charge of driving a motor-car on a road without a licence.

A Hindu Boy. A Hindu boy named a Hindu from an Indian in the Lunan and was charged with criminal breach of trust.

Dead Living. A Magistrate hearing, employed by an Indian, was given a large quantity of goods to sell for him and he sold them and he was charged with criminal breach of trust.

Constitution in Kenya. The 21st African Constitution was passed by the Kenya Legislative Council on the 15th of the month.
