THE THREE AND A HALF MILLION LOAN

RAILWAY EXTENSIONS.

Kenya's Friends and Critics in Common Debate.

POINTS AND FEARS.

Map and of Well Settled Branches Cited.

CONTROL OF THE MONEY DEED.

The vote of £5,000,000 for Kenya and £1,000,000 for Uganda, which was provided in the Budget of 1916, has been the subject of much discussion in the House of Commons on February 23.

It is impossible to find space for the whole of the views expressed on the debate, and therefore we will give the substance of the views of those who are in favour of the loan, and those who are in opposition to it.

The main object of the loan is to provide for the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda. The main object of the loan is to provide for the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda. The main object of the loan is to provide for the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda.

It is a further question in connection with this matter whether it is still more important, that in the opinion of the committee and of the House of Commons, the main object of the loan is to provide for the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda.

There is no other matter which is so important as the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda. The main object of the loan is to provide for the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda.

J. M. HOGGE, M.A., M.P.
writes—

"THE greatest need of the busy people in the African States is the development of their roads and long highways are therefore important. The development of their roads and long highways are therefore important. The development of their roads and long highways are therefore important."

The Committee ought to have taken the most careful notice of the reports for which we are asked to provide the money. The Committee ought to have taken the most careful notice of the reports for which we are asked to provide the money.

A further objection is that the loan is too large. The main object of the loan is to provide for the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda. The main object of the loan is to provide for the extension of the railway system in Kenya and Uganda.

Motor Car and Motor Cycle Troubles!

How often is your car or cycle on the "Sick List"? The trouble with it probably can be traced to the use of low-grade lubricants.

It may be months later, but the use of bad quality lubricants will ultimately result in Broken Piston Heads, Broken Ball Bearings, etc.—all of which mean costly and lengthy repair jobs.

Use a recognized high-grade lubricant—on your bearing, wheel and control motor oil, proved by experience and time to be in every way the most reliable and economical.

LOSSES IN ENERGY

A Study of How They Occur.

MINIMIZING THE WASTAGE IN MOTORS.

Components to Which Attention Might be Directed.

By any mechanism which is designed for the purpose of converting one form of energy into another, there is bound to occur some loss of energy.

The losses in energy occur in the various parts of the motor, and are due to the friction of the parts, the resistance of the air, and the resistance of the brushes.

Mechanical Losses.

We now arrive at the engine, and here it is that the greatest wastage of power occurs. First of all there are numerous mechanical losses due to the friction of the working parts and to the various necessary accessories, which must be driven, so that the energy expended in turning the shaft is not only less than that which would be the case if the engine were a perfect one. Further, the motion is spent in turning the shaft, and in the various accessories, which must be driven, so that the energy expended in turning the shaft is not only less than that which would be the case if the engine were a perfect one.

Frictional Losses.

As regards the frictional losses, it is to be noted that the friction which is caused by the rubbing of the surfaces of the engine is not the same as that which is caused by the rubbing of the surfaces of the engine.

Practical Losses.

As regards the practical losses, it is to be noted that the losses which are caused by the rubbing of the surfaces of the engine are not the same as those which are caused by the rubbing of the surfaces of the engine.

Utilization of Heat.

As regards the utilization of heat, it is to be noted that the heat which is lost in the engine is not the same as that which is lost in the engine.

Efficiency of the Engine.

The efficiency of the engine is the ratio of the power which is actually delivered to the shaft to the power which is supplied to the engine.

STARTING STATISTICS.

The latest figures relating to the growth of the automobile industry in the United States of America as published by the statistical section of the U.S. (Automobile) Chamber of Commerce are remarkable, indicating the growth of motoring in any one country. These statistics show a great increase in the number of motor vehicles registered in Great Britain was 1,077,989, that America derives an annual revenue of approximately £38,000,000 from the motor vehicle registration; that Great Britain derives an annual income of £18,118,000 from the same source; that the tax in America is about £2 10s. per vehicle per annum; that the tax in Great Britain is about £12 10s. per vehicle per annum. One of the most important facts brought to light is that America represents not the least of the motor vehicles of the world.

In Great Britain 1,077,989 of the remaining 2,600,000, that is, about 1,500,000 distributed among the remainder of the inhabited globe. When thought is given to the production figures, it becomes very clear that America is supplying the majority of motor vehicles—especially the British overseas markets with those of other countries. It is clear, therefore, that there is vast scope for the development of motor vehicles, and that the share of this business which falls to the British motor industry is really insignificant and could be greatly increased if the number of motor vehicles registered in the United Kingdom were to be increased. It is a fact that the British motor industry is really insignificant and could be greatly increased if the number of motor vehicles registered in the United Kingdom were to be increased. It is a fact that the British motor industry is really insignificant and could be greatly increased if the number of motor vehicles registered in the United Kingdom were to be increased.

It is not everyone who is able to use an extra-ordinary machine. The older cars are often more subject to unexpected breakdowns than their more modern offspring. It may very well happen that the trouble is taken from the pump and carried on to the cylinder, and is then driven along the way miles from anywhere, a breakdown occurs. It is then that the driver with experience and imagination, together forming the useful faculty of being able to improvise "get home."

FORD FRONT-WHEEL BRAKES.

IMPROVEMENTS DERIVED BY INTRODUCTION OF AN EFFICIENT SYSTEM.

The front-wheel brake, for Ford, is not only very efficient as a brake, but its fitting has called for certain alterations and additions to the standard Ford chassis. In order to guard against the danger of the axle being strained through sudden braking which liberally and completely different the steering so that it is wonderfully light and altogether different from the rubber spring standard steering gear for the Motor.

Competition steering, which is absolutely necessary where front wheel brakes are utilized, is obtained by giving the angle of the axle at each end of the axle to meet the rest of the axle in a certain position. It is not the type, in order that the application of the brake should not be affected by the fact that the front wheel is turned, a rubber shoe is attached to each axle, which is turned in a certain position with the axle of the wheel. The shoe is turned in a certain position with the axle of the wheel. The shoe is turned in a certain position with the axle of the wheel.

THE ART OF GETTING HOME.

It is not everyone who is able to use an extra-ordinary machine. The older cars are often more subject to unexpected breakdowns than their more modern offspring. It may very well happen that the trouble is taken from the pump and carried on to the cylinder, and is then driven along the way miles from anywhere, a breakdown occurs. It is then that the driver with experience and imagination, together forming the useful faculty of being able to improvise "get home."

A Word of Advice.

There is no rule that can be laid down as regards improvement of machinery, but it is a fact that the older cars are often more subject to unexpected breakdowns than their more modern offspring. It may very well happen that the trouble is taken from the pump and carried on to the cylinder, and is then driven along the way miles from anywhere, a breakdown occurs. It is then that the driver with experience and imagination, together forming the useful faculty of being able to improvise "get home."

OFFICIAL FIGURES GIVEN IN CONCORD.

Major M. Williams, commanding Secretary of Trade for the Ministry of Commerce recently, has many administrative duties to perform in German East Africa during the year 1923-24 and few more administrative officials are employed under him in Tanganyika.

Mr Thomas The German administrative staff numbered 79 in 1914. The existing administrative staff numbered 115. It is still some way from the 200 of the Report on Tanganyika Territory presented to Parliament in 1921 (Command 1420) that the German side was too weak for adequate supervision of the native officials.

Mr J. Harter said the heavy work of the German side was the most of the administration of the British dependent of the East Africa Protectorate in 1923 and what was the administrative staff of the East Africa Protectorate in 1923?

Mr Thomas if the staff of the Protectorate was 100, it is not an extraordinary number and "adequate" for work so important to the well-being of the Protectorate as the German side.

(From FUTURE CORRESPONDENT)

The first of the new season's fashions are expected earlier than usual this year, and already quite a number of the new styles are on their way and have made their debut at the Grand Palais.

The new styles of hats are very different from the usual ones. The hats are very low and the brims are very wide. The hats are very light and the material is very soft. The hats are very elegant and the style is very modern.

GENERAL BOOTHS' HELP.

Central School in Nairobi to Educate Instructors.

BUILDING SOCIETIES IN U.P.W. AND COUNTY.

In the following article it is shown to be contrary, at the present time, to have a large number of the new class of the Salvation Army to establish a local flax weaving and spinning industry.

The General's latest idea "there is much religion in a spindle" is the latest of action among the flax weavers.

(C. E. SANDERS' SPECIAL).

The Salvation Army has standard the scheme to build up the establishment of the active industry of spinning and weaving in Kenya—no doubt, the first of its kind in the country.

The scheme has been approved by General Booth and is being carried out by the flax weavers in the U.P.W. and County.

There is a plan to open a flax spinning mill in Nairobi to supply the flax weavers in the U.P.W. and County.

The flax weavers in the U.P.W. and County are being trained in the art of spinning and weaving.

THE-COLEMAN QUICK - LITE LANTERN

'THE SUNSHINE OF THE NIGHT' THE IDEAL LIGHT FOR THE FARM.

SOME POINTS FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION.

- (1) The lantern gives a brilliant 500 candle power light—burns 30 oil lamps—and will burn for 15 hours on one filling.
(2) It makes and burns its own gas from ordinary Petrol and air.
(3) It will burn for 20 hours for a cost of less than one shilling.
(4) It is therefore brighter than electricity and cheaper.
(5) It is perfectly safe and, even if held upside down or refilled over, cannot explode.
(6) It will burn unattended by the strongest wind or the heaviest rain.
(7) It smokes not—neither does it smell.
(8) It is the only petrol lamp in this country allowed by your Insurance Company without extra premium.

BUILDING SCHOOLS IN TOWN AND COUNTRY.

In the following article an effort is made to convey, to the greatest extent possible, a broad outline of the new plans of the Salvation Army to establish a local flax weaving and spinning industry.

The following scheme has been approved by General Booth in connection with the local flax.

The General's belief that "there is enough flax in a square" indicates his line of action among the natives.

THE COLEMAN QUICK - LITE LANTERN

The SUNSHINE OF THE NIGHT The IDEAL LIGHT FOR THE FARM.

- SOME POINTS FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION. (1) This lantern gives a brilliant 900 candle power light—brighter than 30 oil lamps—and will burn for 16 hours on one filling. (2) It makes and burns its light gas from ordinary Petrol and Air. (3) It will burn for 30 hours for a cost of less than one shilling. (4) It is therefore brighter than electricity and cheaper than candles. (5) It is perfectly safe and, even if held upside down or rolled over, cannot explode. (6) It will burn unaffected by the strongest wind or the heaviest rain. (7) It smokes not—neither does it smell. (8) It is the only petal lamp in this country allowed by your Insurance Company without extra premium on application.

GREAT FORWARD MOVEMENT.

His developments in land and sea transport have been the main reason for the Army in Australia.

Lord Curzon's visit to Australia has been a landmark in the history of the Commonwealth, which has the full approval of the Government of both countries as well as the backing of the world as a whole.

In each Dominion a representative of representative interest has been appointed, with a gold separator and secretary. The duties of the committee will be to advise the Government as to the best means of carrying out the work of the committee.

For example, one committee has been appointed to advise the Government as to the best means of carrying out the work of the committee.
