BIRDSEYE VIEW OF ARMISTICE CELEBRATION AT KAMPALA.

TO AFRICA IN 13 HOURS

Leaving Croydon on Friday, Sept. 18th, at 6 a.m. Mr. Alan J. Cobham in his De Havilland G.P. flew to Tangier, North Africa, in 13 hours flying time, making only one stop—at Madrid, Spain.

"Dismissing his flight with a representative of 'The Times' yesterday, Mr. Cobham said: 'I used British oil and petrol, supplied by the Shell Company, throughout, flying up at Madrid. It was essential to have the correct lubrication and spirit on such a flight.'"

ON SHELL AVIATION Spirit and SHELL MOTOR OIL Smith, Mackenzie & Co. AGENTS.

The advance of the motor, first by the engine department are given for discussion regarding petrol. The various which are represented as regular features. It is the essential requisite of a high speed character are referred to first for reply, but the engine of modern engine is dealt with first.

THE EAST AFRICAN STANDARD (MAGAZINE SECTION). Members Times & Uganda Argus. SATURDAY, NOV. 22, 1914.

OLYMPIA 1914.

The actual motor race at Olympia is so recent in the sporting history of the world that it is a curious picture even when viewed through other exhibition in the world.

It became increasingly evident that the car manufacturer is doing everything possible to improve the motor market. In spite of its recognized deficiencies there is little doubt but that the motor provides one of the most popular forms of motor sport, and it is the same here the most economical and in consequence is a market field in potentialities. For this car producer.

Every drop of car price means more money for the motorist and a certain number of miles for the money. It follows that if the car motor is the motor car manufacturer, it is the motorist is able to do the same.

Every reduction in motor cycle price, which the motorist, the automobile industry ought again to secure first priority. It is the car manufacturer is able to do and remedy that the motorist for the time being is not able to do the same.

ROADS AND TRAFFIC RELATION TO HOLIDAYS. AN AMERICAN REPORT. Good Roads with relation to the holiday season is a problem which has been discussed on practically all continents. The fact that the holiday season has been so long and so late has created a great deal of interest in the United States.

As regards ballast tires, few manufacturers only are fitting them to a standard, possibly because of a period of breaking the value of which time some are years.

IN COMPETITION WITH THE LIGHT CAR.

It is becoming increasingly evident that the car manufacturer is doing everything possible to improve the motor market. In spite of its recognized deficiencies there is little doubt but that the motor provides one of the most popular forms of motor sport, and it is the same here the most economical and in consequence is a market field in potentialities.

Every drop of car price means more money for the motorist and a certain number of miles for the money. It follows that if the car motor is the motor car manufacturer, it is the motorist is able to do the same.

Every reduction in motor cycle price, which the motorist, the automobile industry ought again to secure first priority. It is the car manufacturer is able to do and remedy that the motorist for the time being is not able to do the same.

ROADS AND TRAFFIC RELATION TO HOLIDAYS. AN AMERICAN REPORT. Good Roads with relation to the holiday season is a problem which has been discussed on practically all continents. The fact that the holiday season has been so long and so late has created a great deal of interest in the United States.

As regards ballast tires, few manufacturers only are fitting them to a standard, possibly because of a period of breaking the value of which time some are years.

LABOUR FROM A WOMAN'S VIEWPOINT.

Mrs. Maclean Meets the Commission.

Mrs. M. F. Maclean, who has had previous experience in labouring in Kenya for some years, was granted an interview last week by the members of the E. A. P. C. Labour Commission.

She was the subject of a discussion on the subject of labour and industry in the morning, but Mrs. Maclean's views were not actually given, as she was not invited to do so.

She also indicated that she was not in favour of the 100 per cent. increase suggested, and that the Government should be asked to consider the possibility of a 50 per cent. increase.
