SAFEGUARDS PROPOSED IN BILL ON BRIBERY

Police inquiries into bank accounts

SELECT COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATIONS

SAFEGUARDS against unreasonable police investigations into private bank accounts were recommended to the Kenya Legislative Council yesterday by a Select Committee, which was set up to report on the proposed Prevention of Corruption Bill.

In its report to Legislative Council, the Committee said that representations had been made to it that the power of law officers to authorize the investigation of bank shares and purchase accounts should be exercised only where it was proved to the satisfaction of the Law Officer that there was reasonable cause for suspecting that a person had been committed.

Removing misgivings The Committee included a clause in the amended Bill to that effect. It also considered it desirable that the police officer should be authorized to take a named account with him on his investigation.

Further amendments have been made, to remove misgivings that authorities issued under the clause providing special powers of investigation could be used by the police as a roving commission generally into a number of unspecified accounts.

A proviso has been included, declaring that personal communications between advocates and their clients should continue to be privileged to the extent in which they are privileged at law.

Some of the 15 clauses in the Bill are being amended. The amendments have been suggested by the Committee and have been agreed to by the Government.

The Committee pointed out that the Bill has been amended to remove misgivings that authorities issued under the clause providing special powers of investigation could be used by the police as a roving commission generally into a number of unspecified accounts.

AMENDMENTS TO BILL ON IMMIGRATION SOUGHT

Warning of 'hatred and contempt'

SECOND READING MOVED IN LEGISLATURE

LEGISLATIVE Council was yesterday urged by the Member for Aberdare, Mr. Humphrey, to reconsider some of the provisions of Kenya's new Immigration Bill. Mr. Humphrey's warning of 'hatred and contempt' was issued after the second reading of the Bill had been proposed by the Attorney-General, Mr. E. N. Griffin-Jones. Mr. Humphrey suggested that it be referred to a Select Committee. Alternatively, he said it should be referred to the committee stage, and an undertaking was given that an amending Bill would be introduced early in the new session.

Contribution to country

Mr. Griffin-Jones, who intimated that he himself would not be moving amendments, claimed that the Bill would benefit the country by the influx of immigrants. He said that every person who will be admitted to this country before he will admit to the fact that he is a foreigner.

He added: "In my judgment, and I believe, in the opinion of all sections of this House, it is entirely right and proper that our immigration law should be framed as a country, and not dictated by our own self-interest."

SELECTIVE IN POLICY

It would be remembered that the Government had made it clear that it was not going to have a policy of mass immigration. It was a selective policy. It was a policy of bringing in people who would be a benefit to the country. It was a policy of bringing in people who would be a benefit to the country. 226 EUROPEAN FARMS ON LEASE BY BOARD

Record set by Survey office despite staff shortage

Profits of £28,513 in year

AT the close of the European Agricultural Settlement Board's financial year, on March 31, 1956, tenants held leases to 226 farms, at an average book value of £5,000 each. Leases advertised to 236 tenants and assistant tenants averaging £3,025 each, were still outstanding. The board's draft accounts, submitted to the Legislative Council on Thursday, disclosed a profit of £28,513 in the year ended December 31, 1955, against expenditure of £21,151. This was an increase of £2,138 on the figure for the preceding year.

In an accompanying report, the Controller of the Board, Mr. J. L. G. Lewis, states that maintenance of farms and buildings has been substantially less, due largely to the absence of the board's own activities at Mas-Ngok.

'More desirable'

A satisfactory feature was that expenditure on the maintenance, renewal and repair of improvements was only a third of what it was in the previous year. This could be attributed largely to the policy of converting Improvements to tenants' III land, which reduced the board's liability for repairs and replacement.

Dairy revenue

Under the new financial scheme, revenue and interest in respect of the board's land, as well as tenants who qualified, resulted in a further year of factory growth. This reduced the board's liability for improvements to £2,282, against £2,812 in the previous year. The year also brought in the winding up of the Finance Unit, which had a net profit of £244. It was the only and the last of the units established under the scheme.

NEW IMMIGRATION LAW

'URGENTLY NEEDED'

Protecting Colony's people and interests

LEGISLATURE GIVES BILL A SECOND READING

KENYA'S new Immigration Bill was given a second reading in the Legislative Council last night. This was after the Acting Chief Secretary, Mr. E. N. Griffith-Jones, had declined to accept a suggestion that the proposals should be referred to a Select Committee.

He told the House: "We urgently need this new immigration statute to enable us to promote and protect the interests of this country and its people." He said he would introduce amendments during the committee stage of the debate which could be conducted without detriment to the Bill.

Opposition by Asians

Mr. Griffith-Jones said: "Under our present law, we have been fighting a battle with one hand tied behind our back. Under this new law, we will be able to use both hands... but we only want to use both hands against those who are out to cheat this country and the people that are in it."

The Member for Nairobi North, Col. S. G. Gherin, contended that it would be in the best interests of the Colony if further Asian immigration was stopped. He wondered if those Asian Members against the Bill had "gone down" properly.

Asian Members on the Unofficial Bench had opposed the Bill. One of them, Mr. J. S. Patel, claimed that the majority of his classes was against the spirit of the Bill. He said that the proposal would be harmful to the Asian community and business and industries in the hands of Asians would suffer.

PRINCIPLES SUPPORTED

There were several instances where we would be in a position to do so. We would be in a position to do so. We would be in a position to do so.

The Foreign Under-Secretary, Mr. Douglas Dodds-Parker, disclosed in the House of Commons that he was answering a question from Mr. James Johnson (Labour) on the "deteriorating situation in the 18,000 square miles of British Somaliland."

Mr. Dodds-Parker said that the British Government had received reports that Ethiopian officials had been "exercising pressure" on tribesmen from the Protectorate to accept Ethiopian citizenship and accept Ethiopian nomads as their subjects.

Britain and U.S. retract dam offer to Egypt

The United States and Britain have told Egypt that they have withdrawn their offer of financial aid towards the giant Aswan Dam project on the Upper Nile.

The British ambassador followed a similar statement from the United States. Their offer came less than an hour after the Egyptian Ambassador in Washington had told the British ambassador that the Egyptian country wished to accept a British offer to finance the dam.

Observers here believe that the U.S. and Britain had to retract their offer in order to gain a better position in the competition for the dam. The Soviet Union, the United States and Britain are all vying for the dam.

Two reasons are given for the retraction. One is that the dam is a strategic asset and the other is that the dam is a strategic asset.

Last September the United States and Britain offered to finance the dam. The offer was made in the form of a loan guarantee.

The U.S. State Department indicated its intention to withdraw their offer. The offer was made in the form of a loan guarantee.

A Premier criticizes Governor

Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe, Premier of Eastern Nigeria, declared in a statement at the weekend that he and his Ministers were not prepared to take dictation from the Government funds. "We are our colleagues of the Council of Ministers in the Federal Government," he said.

Dr. Azikiwe said that the Government's appointments of Mr. O. E. Oso, a member of the National Council of Nigeria, to the position of Governor of Eastern Nigeria, was a "blatant attempt to take dictation from the Council of Ministers."

Dr. Azikiwe said he would resign if the Government insisted on appointing Mr. Oso to the position of Governor of Eastern Nigeria.

Public funds

The Government Premier, the National Council of Nigeria and the Cameroons, has asked Dr. Azikiwe to reconsider his threat to resign.

In his statement, Dr. Azikiwe said the Government originally named the investment of public funds in the African Colonies.

"Having acted on such advice," he said, "I have endeavored to discharge my duty as Premier to advise the Council of Ministers to advise the Government to reconsider its decision."

Mistaken opinion

"It is not in the interest of adapting himself to conditions in the Government, but the result is that he is always at the head of the parade," Dr. Azikiwe said.

Dr. Azikiwe said the Government had the mistaken opinion that he was a "strong man" and that he was the only person who could handle the Government's affairs.

REVIIVAL of investment demand, some of it from American sources, found the industrial equity market in London to be the most active in the world. Exchange last week. Government securities were the mainstay of the market, remaining dull and lifeless while investors awaited the outcome of the big Government reconstruction.

The Prime Minister's weekend speech in which he warned that the new Budget of Britain - a "budget of confidence" - would not be fought by the few but by the many, was the only other item of interest in the week.

Car export record claimed for Britain

BRITAIN'S car exports last month - 28,548 - were the highest for nine months according to a statement by the British Car Manufacturers and Traders.

The sector claimed an export record for the first half of this year with total exports for all products of the industry exceeding 140,000.

Mr. Stanley Clark, chief executive of the British Car Manufacturers and Traders, said: "With all its trouble, the motor industry is not doing so badly."

Clark said that the largest motor vehicle exporting country in the world is the United States, with 18,000 in Western Germany, our greatest competitor, in the same period.

SATISFYING DAY'S WORK BY LINDWALL AT LORD'S

Bob betters as Railway Club

Glimpses of previous form as hard-hitting batsman

SPECTATORS at the Railway Club's afternoon meeting on Saturday morning were delighted with apparently effortless ease with which Bob Matthews won the Kenyon Shield and brought around the ground at the same time as he finished a most of Kenyon's record by scoring the 5th 100 in his 100th run in the 100th over.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the day's play was the fact that Matthews, who had been out for some time, came back to the field in the 100th over and scored 21 runs in the 100th over, thus becoming the first batsman to score 100 runs in 100 overs.

The Kenyon Shield was won by Matthews, who scored 100 runs in 100 overs, thus becoming the first batsman to score 100 runs in 100 overs.

RAY LINDWALL took his bow on a most satisfying day's work at Lord's on Saturday. When out against the foundations were laid for a good win. Giving Matthews a good run, he made 66 not out and actually put two of his spinners in 15th last minute of play, having had the country batsmen dismissed for two runs.

He was given a five-point bowler's record by the Lord's crowd and the Middlesex team went in to bat.

His best innings

With one of two strokes he gave away the form of the day's play. He was out in the 100th over, but he was not out in the 100th over. He was out in the 100th over, but he was not out in the 100th over.

HARLEQUINS IN FINAL OF ENTERPRISE CUP

Back line problem overcome

Harlequins 14 pts. - Wanderers 5 pts.

This loss of their star player "Dai" Rice with a serious knee injury in the 100th over was a big handicap for Harlequins against Wanderers in the final of the Enterprise Cup on Saturday.

Wanderers' match was a big trial for them as they were before taking the field at Parklands on Saturday to play a match of 150 Enterprises.

Wanderers were equal in the first half of the match and the Harlequins were equal in the second half. The Harlequins were equal in the first half of the match and the Wanderers were equal in the second half.

Commonwealth concern at U.S. claims on British market

The common interest of overseas producers and British manufacturers at a meeting here today is that the United States should not be so concerned with the Commonwealth's export situation as to threaten the British market.

Mr. Alan Walker, chairman of the Commonwealth Producers' Organisation, said that his organization's annual meeting in London last month was the first time that the Commonwealth's export situation had been discussed in such detail.

Speaking of the concern felt by Commonwealth producers about increasing British exports to the United States, Mr. Walker said that the Commonwealth's export situation is not as bad as it is often said to be.

VIGOROUS SURGE IN EXPORTS

Trade figures reassuring

By Paul Bergin

FIGURES of Britain's overseas trade for the first half of 1958 have been a message of reassurance, which should not be translated into one of over-confidence.

The most striking fact about the published figures is their reversal of a vigorous surge in exports.

For 1958, exports of British manufactures to the rest of the world averaged 220,400,000 in the first quarter of the year, the first quarter of the year the monthly average was 224.4 million, in the second quarter to 227.1 million and in the third quarter to 221.8 million. Here is evidence of growth which is in itself impressive given the fact that conditions in world markets have become steadily more difficult and competitive over the past year.

Air terminal planned at Victoria

A £5,000,000 scheme for building an international airport terminal and office headquarters for the railway lines at Victoria Station has been approved by the Board of British Railways, the Provincial Transport Authority.

The project, for which plans have been approved, would cover some eight acres and include buildings and facilities for passengers and merchandise handling, and a new terminal building.

The preliminary plans provide also for a 2,000-car multi-story garage with 10,000 parking spaces, and a new terminal building which the Incorporated when the decision to create a central helicopter station in London has already been taken.

UNFILED ORDERS FOR U.S.

The United States and Commonwealth airlines in respect of unfiled orders for the first half of 1958 are: British Overseas Airways Corporation, 10,000,000; Commonwealth Air Services, 10,000,000; and Commonwealth Air Services, 10,000,000.

TOP-GRADE COFFEE SCARCE IN UGANDA

The shortage of top-grade coffee in Uganda in recent months has been so severe that the percentage of Grade 10 coffee for a year is only 10 per cent.

In the present crop year, coffee picked in Uganda is expected to be 12 per cent of Grade 10 coffee, a decrease from the 15 per cent of Grade 10 coffee which was picked in the previous year.

The shortage of top-grade coffee in Uganda is due to a number of factors, including a decline in the number of coffee trees in the country and a decline in the yield of the trees which are still standing.

IMPULSION URGED IN REGISTRATION OF SERVANTS

Select Committee reports to Council

LIFE BAN PROPOSED FOR FORMER CRIMINALS

COMPULSIVE and selective registration of domestic servants in Kenya, and the issue of certificates which will have to be produced year seeking employment, is recommended by the Select Committee which the Legislative Council appointed last December to consider and report on the domestic service situation.

The committee, which presented its report to the Legislative Council yesterday, considers that any person convicted of a crime of violence or a serious offence of violence or for being a member of a proscribed, subversive society should be debarred from life from being registered as a domestic servant.

In the question of whether one document only should be provided both for identification and registration, none was provided. It was finally agreed that, for purposes of identification, a person could opt to carry only his documents to serve registration documents— or, alternatively, that the documents should be separate.

The committee feels that establishment of a wages board for servants in private houses—and provision that mutual consent between employer and servant for domestic servants ready, and considers that there is a case for making it compulsory for the salary identify certificates to contain photographs.

Employer 'should take greater interest'

THE report begins by recalling that, to obtain the widest possible expression of public opinion, a questionnaire on the subject was prepared and a Press conference issuing memoranda was issued. As a result, 1,500 replies were received from members of the public and from various industry organizations.

The report then explains the view that better relations between employers and their servants should be established if the employer makes himself familiar with the strict conditions of employment, with a view to ensuring that his servants are properly regulated, registered, and that a majority of the servants are of the highest quality. It is suggested that the employer should be encouraged to take the initiative in agreeing with the views of his servants, and that the medium of communication should be improved.

The committee puts forward the following recommendations:

SHILEX

...would, would tend to ensure many misunderstandings.

"Furthermore, it is felt that the employer should take more interest in the employment, particularly during the latter's infancy, family affairs, so that he feels that it is his duty to be there, and it is appreciated that towards establishing a mental opinion.

IMPORTANCE OF HOUSING

The report also stresses the importance of housing for the servants, and that the views with concern the committee have on this subject are of great importance as regards the accommodation available for their services.

"It is our view that it is desirable that the employer should be aware of the fact that domestic servants at all places of work, or at least in the case of a domestic servant, should be provided with adequate accommodation.

The committee also stated that the employer should be aware of the fact that the domestic servant should be provided with adequate accommodation, and that the employer should be aware of the fact that the domestic servant should be provided with adequate accommodation.

BRITISH HOPE TO LIMIT H-BOMB TESTS

Premier on world health risks

SIR ANTHONY EDEN said in the House of Commons today that in the interests of mankind's health, the Government intend to work out proposals to limit and control nuclear fire experiments. The Prime Minister was opening a two-day debate on foreign affairs. Much of it followed Russia's criticism of the Government's desire to limit the number of nuclear tests. The Prime Minister said he believed that the Government would be able to do this without incurring any greater security risks than those which would be incurred by a greater number of tests. There was a point, "gravity" of the Russian régime might lead to an unexpected path.

German choice

Referring to German unification, the Prime Minister said that the British and Western powers had decided not to allow it to come to the fore by force. It was his decision to see that there were no free elections. If the German people should desire to be united, they would have to do so by their own choice.

Relations with allies

Sir Anthony Eden said that the Government's policy was to maintain the closest possible relations with all our allies. He said he was sure that no country would be prepared to accept any policy which would be a disadvantage to any of our allies. He said he was sure that no country would be prepared to accept any policy which would be a disadvantage to any of our allies.

Overseas

The Duke of Edinburgh's Commonwealth Study Conference on the human problems of industry embarked on the final phase of its programme in Oxford when it visited the viewpoints of African speakers from Africa and India. Nearly 500 Commonwealth trade unionists were present at the conference.

Hope in Russia

By President Eisenhower's statement that he was confident that the Russians would accept the proposals for a nuclear test moratorium, there was a glimmer of hope in the minds of many people here.

Harold the Hippo had travelled up to the top of the mountain and was now being taken to the sea. The hippo was named after the British Prime Minister, Sir Anthony Eden.

Fund still benefits dependants of Titanic victims

ALTHOUGH it is more than 25 years since the Titanic sank in the Atlantic Ocean, there is still a fund in London which helps the surviving dependants of the 1,500 who lost their lives in the disaster.

It is one of several funds which have come under the aegis of the National Disaster Relief Fund.

They all began in 1912 when the Titanic sank in the Atlantic Ocean. The Titanic Relief Fund, which was set up to help the dependants of the victims, has been the most successful. It has raised over £100,000 and has helped many of the dependants of the victims to get on their feet.

The Titanic Relief Fund was set up in London in 1912. It was the first of its kind in the world. It was set up to help the dependants of the victims of the Titanic disaster. It has since been joined by other similar funds, such as the Titanic Memorial Fund and the Titanic Relief Fund.

The Titanic Relief Fund is now managed by the National Disaster Relief Fund. It has received a grant of £25,000 from the Government to help it carry out its work. It has also received a grant of £50,000 from the Admiralty to help it carry out its work.

CAREFUL SIFTING
Four times a year the Board of the Titanic Relief Fund meets to discuss the fund's work. The Board is made up of representatives of the fund, the Admiralty, and the Government. It is responsible for the fund's work and for the distribution of its funds.

The Board meets in London in July, October, January, and April. It is held in a room at the Admiralty. It is attended by representatives of the fund, the Admiralty, and the Government. It is a very important meeting for the fund.

Australia's hopes of The Ashes hang on this match

By SIR ILEN HUTTON, London, Tuesday

AUSTRALIA have not to win the fourth Test at Old Trafford, starting tomorrow. They are to stand any of the Ashes back with them. But the odds in fact, if a match is to be played, will be 4 to 1 against the Aussies. There is no doubt that the Aussies will win the match, but the odds are in favour of them. The Aussies have a better probability of winning the Ashes than they have at any time since 1953. The Aussies are in a strong position to win the Ashes, but the odds are in favour of them.
