Urgent need of more money for roads

WARNING BY AUTHORITY

UNLESS more money is allocated for roads in Kenya, there will be a danger of developments in industry and agriculture running ahead of communications. It says that annual reports of the Road Authority warn that nothing could be more damaging to progress in a young country.

Figures given in the report—Kenya has the longest road network in the East African region of Legislative Council—show that the number of motor vehicles in the Colony increased from 30,716 in the year 1955 to 32,675 in 1956.

It is pointed out that the considerable sales by the Service for their vehicles. The report says that military vehicles produced for delivery of revenue to the road funds, but that considerable military traffic caused damage to roads built with comparatively small amounts of money.

The Road Authority's total revenue in the year under review from 1955-56 and 1956-57 was £2,252,000 and £2,270,000 respectively. The total revenue was £2,270,000 in 1956-57 against £2,252,000 in 1955-56.

On the other hand, recurrent expenditure was £2,270,000 in 1956-57 against £2,252,000 in 1955-56. The report says that the average of 200 million shillings for capital expenditure is inadequate.

"With only some 550 miles of roads completed throughout the Colony, it will, at the rate of construction at present, be some 20 years before the Colony could be served by a network of roads which are adequate for the needs of a country which is rapidly becoming a major industrial and commercial centre of the East African region."

It is noted that the report says that the number of goods vehicles in the Colony is increasing and that the number of goods vehicles is increasing and that the number of goods vehicles is increasing.

Petrol sales up

Petrol sales in Kenya for the year under review from 1955-56 to 1956-57 were 21,000,000 gallons, an increase of 10 per cent on the 19,000,000 gallons of 1955-56.

Wear and tear

"There have been widespread demands for an extension and it is anticipated that the Government will create a central road repair authority to coordinate the work of the various departments. It is anticipated that the Government will create a central road repair authority to coordinate the work of the various departments. It is anticipated that the Government will create a central road repair authority to coordinate the work of the various departments."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The rate of road deaths in Nairobi is on the increase, particularly along Landhies and Doonholm roads, which are mainly used by African workers. Every week, on these roads, there are accidents in which one or two lives are lost.

The blame in this grave situation, in my opinion, lies with a hordes of motorists who drive slowly and stop frequently to chat with their colleagues with their cars. They also drive slowly, and stop frequently to chat with their colleagues with their cars. They also drive slowly, and stop frequently to chat with their colleagues with their cars.

Refrigeration and Air Conditioning
By J & E HALL LTD

THE ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SHOW
COME AND SEE WORKING EXHIBITS OF THE FOLLOWING INTERESTING APPLICATIONS ON A. BAUMANN & Co. Ltd

Did you know that cut flowers can be kept in storage after picking for considerable periods under refrigeration?

We will be showing the extreme in size in this type of plant. One being a complete 15-cwt. refrigerator van for the transport of Foot-and-mouth vaccine at constant low temperature, and the other plant being a completely automatic Diesel-driven machine capable of cooling a 12-ton insulated lorry or railway truck.

We will be cooling a 150 cu ft sectional cold-room to 22 degrees below freezing point and will be demonstrating the uses of this type of cold-room.

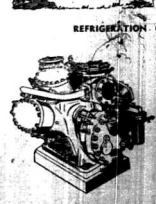

We are showing how to insulate existing walls, etc. with cork insulation, complete with insulated door. This type of insulation is very specialised and considerably cheaper than sectional cold store.

If you require a contemporary kitchen with built-in cupboards we can supply both conventional and deep-freeze built-in refrigerators to comply with your exact requirements and design.

There is unlimited scope for refrigeration from refrigerators to high-altitude wind tunnels for testing aircraft. To show that we can do nearly everything in this line, we have built a frozen pond in the hot sun of Africa.

We shall be displaying a range of J. & E. Hall Ltd machinery of different sizes from 1/2 hp. to 20 hp, together with air-coolers and other ancillary equipment.

The Princess meets Nairobi

Questions to workmen . . . A gift . . . And everywhere a warm welcome

YESTERDAY was Princess Margaret's first full day in Nairobi. And everywhere she went, from the Railway Workshops to the Royal Show, thousands from all over came to greet the Princess's hour-long visit.

There were the men in the workshops, the hundreds who saw her at Mitchell Park, and the thousands of officials who took her to meet the people.

In the picture on the left, the Princess talks to a lather operator using her hair's hair of the railway workshops. On the right she makes happy as she receives a moment of her visit — an industrial presented by Mr. J. Shindler, an officer who has had 22 years' service with the railways. He is wearing the uniform of a sergeant in the Railway St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Below, the picture is a close-up of the gift, which was presented to the Princess.

The hair is of polished steel and mounted on this. We show length of track, rolled down to one-third of an inch, and four pairs of driving wheels.

FROM THE WORKSHOPS TO THE ROYAL SHOW

THE Princess left the workshops to drive to Mitchell Park for the third day of the Royal Show.

In a picture on the right she is seen with Mr. P. J. Rogers, chairman and general manager of the East African Tobacco Co., on a tour of the stands.

Below — The Princess walks to the R.A.S.K. pavilion with the president Mr. Bruce McKenzie. And at the bottom she is seen with the Governor of Kenya, Sir Trevor Baring, as presentations are made to her.

At the bottom right is a flashback to the Princess's arrival at Eastleigh on Thursday — a squad of Turkanu Tribal Police, who had made a two-day, 560-mile journey by horse to greet her. They are wearing their normal duty dress of ostrich plumes, red sashes, short kilts, ornate head necklaces and a profusion of armbands. They rose spontaneously to their feet as the Princess passed and led the cheering.

A footplate inspection

PRINCESS MARGARET, during her tour of the workshops, spent five minutes in the cab of a "59" class locomotive. Above she is seen leaving the footplate, and behind her, is the driver of the locomotive, Samson Singh.

Throughout the day, people all along the Royal route completed for water points. Perhaps the most novel perch is the one shown above on the left — scores of African railway workmen scrambled on to a locomotive to see the Princess as she passed.

Below she is with the general manager of the East African Railways and Harbours Administration, Mr. A. F. Kirby, watching a locomotive being repaired.

I.O.C. will press for amateur oath

M. Avery Brundage, International Olympic President, has a reaffirmed intention of the Olympic Committee to press for an amateur oath at the Melbourne Games.

Brundage has written to the Olympic Council of the United States asking that the committee press for an amateur oath at the Melbourne Games.

The problem was not the fact that the Olympic Council of the United States is a professional organization, but the fact that the Olympic Council of the United States is a professional organization.

There was a great misunderstanding as to the position of the Olympic Council of the United States.

The United States is the only country that made an application for the Olympic Games.

It is not a matter of the Olympic Council of the United States, but of the Olympic Council of the United States.

Athletes jog about hotel corridors to get exercise

THE colder track at the Olympic Stadium, Melbourne, three inches water on Thursday after heavy rain during the preceding three days.

Many athletes were forced to jog about in hotel corridors to get exercise.

They had a workout on the track at the Olympic Stadium.

The fact is that for the first time in the history of the Olympic Games, the athletes are not allowed to jog in the corridors.

Mr. O. R. Wall, Chairman of the Victorian Amateur Athletic Association, said the problem was not the fact that the Olympic Council of the United States is a professional organization, but the fact that the Olympic Council of the United States is a professional organization.

There was a great misunderstanding as to the position of the Olympic Council of the United States.

Panton takes first prize in 'Saxone'

JOHN PANTON, the British professional match play champion, and Ronnie Alexander, professional champion, played a sensational match at Clonmel.

The match was a sensational one, with Panton taking the first prize in the 'Saxone'.

Panton, who took the first prize in the 'Saxone', was a professional match play champion.

He was a professional match play champion, and he was a professional match play champion.

India made a slow start against the Australians, with the batsmen struggling to get going.

The Australians were at the top of the list, with Bradman and Taylor leading the way.

India's batsmen were struggling to get going, with the bowlers trying to keep them out.

PRINCESS MARGARET TAKES TEA WITH AN AFRICAN FAMILY AT KALOLENI

Glittering scenes at the State banquet

On Friday night she attended a State banquet given by the Governor, Sir Stephen Baring, and the Lady Mary Baring, at Government House. She was described as "an almost legendary, fairy-like figure" in her semi-coriandine gown, wearing decorations and Orders and diamond necklaces and a tiara.

The study on the left was taken while she descended the staircase to the glittering scene as the guests awaited her. Below, left, she is the centre of the group with the Governor and Lady Mary.

Next day, she had a heavy programme beginning with visits to the African Stadium and locations. She interrupted the official plans by passing on the train, semi-detached house of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Goss. There she took tea and biscuits while talking to the family. She complimented Mrs. Goss on the neat and clean appearance of her house.

All the photographs in this page were taken by —

8,000 attend the garden party

These two pictures show part of the crowd and a close-up of the Princess among 8,000 guests at the garden party.

After the garden party a number of presentations were made at Government House. Sir Enoch Powell, who headed representatives of the Agricultural Society Council, is seen with his wife, who is being presented to the Princess.

The Princess took a keen interest in the medical, welfare and educational facilities in the African locations. During her tour of Kaloieni with the Major, A.G. Somers (left), she started with bystanders, while little African children looked on with delight. Then she inspected the Infant Welfare Centre, where the qualified matron Jackie Bice, (right), is seen with some of the chiefs and other leading Africans who were presented at the garden party.

20,000 AT FINAL DAY OF SHOW

Need for another road

THE threat of rain and the counter-attraction of the garden party did not prevent a new attendance record at the last day of the Royal Show. Twenty thousand people, a big proportion of them children and Africans, paid for admission and this brought the total for the four days of the show to more than 80,000, a clear 10,000 more than for the 1955.

As late as 4 p.m. only one hour before the official closing time, there was a steady stream of people leaving the premises. It was not until 8.30 p.m. that the last of the 20,000 visitors left the show.

Barriers in the day it seemed likely that the 1956 figure would not be broken. The rush began after lunch the stands were packed, and many people waiting to see events from perches on trees.

The need for another road to access to Mitchell Park became apparent at about 2 p.m. when a stream of cars, radiator to radiator, was seen on the road. Visitors travelling by car did not get away until 10.30 p.m. when the gates were closed.

Avoiding jams The President of the Royal Agricultural Society, Mr. R. H. McClements, noted that efforts had been made to provide an alternative road for future shows. He had noticed many cars leaving well before the finish on the first three days, and it seemed obvious they were "making out early because they feared they might be blocked in the traffic jam which was an unfortunate feature of the 1955 show.

He thought that the Society would have to provide an alternative road for the centre of the arena link with the Langate road.

The Society was fortunate with the weather. On several occasions rain had been forecast, but the sun would undoubtedly be weather in an appalling state in the last days of the show.

President's successes This sixth Royal Show, the first to be visited by a member of the royal family was a personal triumph for the president. With sheep cattle and his pigs he had a very successful day and three championships, 22 first, eight second and seven third prizes.

The chairman of the Trade Section, Mr. J. J. James, noted a record and show machinery, equipment worth of trade stands, valued at over £750,000. With permanent trade buildings valued at about £200,000 and livestock at over £100,000 the total value of the General verdict: 'Finest ever held in Kenya'

STOCK QUALITY IMPROVED

OFFICIALS, competitors and visitors were unanimous in describing the 1956 Royal Show as the finest that has ever been held in Kenya. The Minister for Agriculture, Mr. H. H. McClements, said that it was the best he had seen, and commented on the excellence of the trade stands.

Trade and industry work had brought the country and the Royal Show a country and a continent. There had been such a good response by the visitors. The standard of the animals this year was first class, the Minister said.

LOWLY EVERTON PUT END TO UNITED'S SEQUENCE

First defeat in 26 League games confirms 'hoodoo'

MANCHESTER UNITED'S fantastic run of 26 League games without defeat came to an end on Saturday when struggling Everton, fifth from the foot of the table, beat them on their own ground at Old Trafford 2-0. It was United's first home defeat since March 19, 1930, and on that occasion, also, they were beaten by Everton.

The ending of the "hoodoo" sequence, which had been after their away defeat by Coventry last night in January last, during the 1955-56 season, but had ended four games earlier in the 1954-55 season, was the 19-1 season, in which they were unbeaten in all 26 League games without being beaten.

United's first home defeat since Saturday's defeat, they were without their winning record since forward Denis Viollet had lost a derby game to Arsenal on Monday, the 29th of October, by a 2-1 score at Stamford Bridge.

Tottenham, who were unbeaten in 15 League games, were beaten by Arsenal 3-1 on Monday, the 29th of October, at White Hart Lane. Tottenham's defeat was the first home defeat since they were unbeaten in 15 League games.

Thrilling football in international

WALLES, fielding a team with a £100,000 attack were held to a 2-2 draw by Scotland in the nation's second Soccer international at Ninian Park, Cardiff, on Saturday. All the goals in this excited game, watched by 60,000 spectators in the first-half. Danny Wales went ahead twice. Scotland equalised. No touch the war has Wales beaten Scotland at Cardiff, losing the previous four games there.

It was never at its best, but home and foreign. Plenty of exciting football and some of the best football seen in a long time. There was a thrilling international, and a draw was the result. Wales was held to a 2-2 draw by Scotland in the nation's second Soccer international at Ninian Park, Cardiff, on Saturday.

Another hero in the Scottish defence was Gordon Tully, the first centre-half. Paul was the first to score, but Ford and Charlton, he scored second and third. The first-half was a thrilling one. Paul Ford and Charlton, he scored second and third. The first-half was a thrilling one.

He stands out...

No matter how dense the crowd, how loud the cheering, he is noticed. And it's not because he's ostentatious or noisy... quite the reverse: always smart and tastefully dressed. That's the secret. For years, now he's gone to Abdullah's for his clothes. He knows he can't do better!

Night explosion marks end of Britain's atomic tests

MOST IMPORTANT IN SERIES

BRITAIN has ended her current series of nuclear tests by exploding an atomic weapon for the first time in the night. The explosion, which took place at 11.30 p.m. on the desert night sky, was the last and final blast in the current operation "Buffalo" series of the atomic weapons testing ground in the South Australian Desert.

The atomic weapon, with an explosive force equal to 20,000 tons of dynamite, exploded from the top of a high steel tower like the first of four blasts in the current series.

The explosion is believed to be the most important of the series, but was overshadowed by the test of the hydrogen bomb on Friday.

It is "probably for technical reasons" according to an official spokesman, that the hydrogen bomb test was postponed to a later date.

Press barred
Press observers were barred from the test and, although many atomic scientists had been invited, everyone concerned with the test was barred from the latest explosion.

It was reported, however, that the test had nothing to do with the hydrogen bomb test, and that the test of the recent air drop of the hydrogen bomb was the reason for the postponement of the hydrogen bomb test.

The latest explosion was first reported by the press in a report which held the silent secret was the test of the hydrogen bomb. The test was reported to have been a success, and the test was reported to have been a success.

U.S. criticism of Soviet attitude
President Eisenhower has announced a new letter to the Soviet Premier, Mr. N. S. Khrushchev, on sending hydrogen bomb tests as "interference" by foreign nations in our internal affairs.

The President's reply to Marshal Bulganin's letter, was made public by the State Department on Monday. The President's letter to Mr. Khrushchev is a direct challenge to the Soviet Union's attitude towards the United States.

Despite the critical tone of the letter, the State Department spokesman said that it was not a challenge to the Soviet Union's right to conduct nuclear tests.

HONDURAS MILITARY TAKE-OVER

'Peaceful change over unrest'

THE U.S. State Department announced that a military junta took over the Government of Honduras, Central America, on Sunday.

The Department said it understood the military group had received the executive power from President Juan Lemus, 51, who had been in power since 1954. The new military government is expected to be a "peaceful change over unrest".

KIMATHI'S CAPTURE RESULT OF LONG-TERM PLANNING

Part played by ex-terrorists

DEKAN KIMATHI'S capture on Sunday was the culmination of a plan for the elimination of leading terrorists in the Aberdeenshire area which was introduced by the Special Branch last January. So successful was the plan that Kimathi was lucky to escape "by the skin of his teeth" in eight contacts with security forces during the past six months.

These contacts, all made by means of electronic means, were critical in an official statement of the Government which brought Kimathi's capture to a close. The statement said that Kimathi was "finally captured by the Special Branch of his own district in total isolation. It was the last part of the plan which had been planned in the district of Meru."

First success

The Special Branch plan included the setting up of an intricate system of ambushes by ex-terrorists in the forest. It was hoped to make contact with Kimathi by a "friendly party" of Special Branch team with their hands or rifles bound and subsequently provide information regarding their composition and whereabouts.

The first success was achieved on May 22, when two commandos, accompanied by a Kikuyu army of the Aberdeenshire area, were sent to return and merge with their group and from there to identify the whereabouts of the main group.

Teams built up

During the following few weeks more and more teams were "smashed" in different parts of the forest and were in a similar way.

In this manner it was possible to build up teams of ex-terrorists and to identify their positions in the forest. The teams were then sent to return and merge with their group and from there to identify the whereabouts of the main group.

Reducing strength

In the smaller groups, it was established that because of the large number of terrorists, many of the main group were not members before December 1965. These were then sent to return and merge with their group and from there to identify the whereabouts of the main group.

Tracked to hide

By the latter half of April, it had become known to the Special Branch that Kimathi was hiding in the forest of the Aberdeenshire area, where he was being tracked by a team of commandos.

The first contact with Kimathi was made on May 22, when two commandos, accompanied by a Kikuyu army of the Aberdeenshire area, were sent to return and merge with their group and from there to identify the whereabouts of the main group.

Night raid

This occurred on June 4, 1966, when a party of commandos, accompanied by a Kikuyu army of the Aberdeenshire area, were sent to return and merge with their group and from there to identify the whereabouts of the main group.

Final capture

On June 25, when a party of commandos, accompanied by a Kikuyu army of the Aberdeenshire area, were sent to return and merge with their group and from there to identify the whereabouts of the main group.

Kimathi's group and capture were the result of a long-term plan which was introduced by the Special Branch last January. So successful was the plan that Kimathi was lucky to escape "by the skin of his teeth" in eight contacts with security forces during the past six months.

PERFUME LENDS FRAGRANCE TO ALL OUR LIVES Increasing Demand In World Today

By H. GANE

Nowadays perfume plays an important part in all our lives, whether we like it or not, and whether we are men or women. It sweetens the air of theatres, cinemas and, sometimes, even the air of offices and workshops where progressive managements recognise its effectiveness in confidence and attractive stuffy rooms of buildings. It certainly sweetens the air of many a home where the housewife is perfume-conscious.

It lends fragrance to the long cards that carry a heraldic message to their recipients. In some countries it is used liberally in certain ceremonies and in the reception of guests.

There is the story of ancient Rome that has never been set at rest where the sweetest perfume was produced as in the thirteenth century. And since that time there has been no change in the habit of using perfume in the daily lives of men and women.

Imperial Rome Long after the decline of the Roman Empire the Arabians were in the habit of using perfume in their daily lives.

IMPROVED TENNIS BY JUNIORS AT PARKLANDS

Senior events were almost a monopoly for two schools

From a Special Correspondent
The 11th annual Parklands Junior tennis tournament, completed at the weekend, was a successful one and attracted a total entry of 24. Of this the entry of 40 for the under-16 boys and 30 for the under-14 girls were the champions. Tournament expenses paid for the benefit of the senior ranks.

As it invariably the case, the girls' event was a monopoly for two schools. The boys' event was more open, but the majority of boys and school tennis players were represented.

The boys' event was won by a player from the Parklands school, who defeated his opponent in the final. The girls' event was won by a player from the same school, who defeated her opponent in the final.
