Technical reasons made it impossible LEAVES LONDON ON SUNDAY

It is understood, however, that certain constitutional difficulties linked with the expiry of the Commission of the former Governor, Sir Philip Mitchell, negated Sir Evelyn's offer.

The new Governor has been in close touch with the Colonial Office during the past few weeks and is believed to be fully informed of the further talks with officials in London before he leaves London for Nairobi on Sunday. UNCERTAINTY CAUSES MARKET DROPS

Special cable from the "East African Standard"

Stock markets this week were much quieter than of late and losses recovered in both all-England securities and industrial equities. Industrial had their worst week since the recovery which began towards the end of June—largely because of continued uncertainty about the outcome of the wage dispute in the engineering industry. GI-logged lost all the previous week's gains.

Commodity prices

There was a fall in commodity prices in the week ending September 19, 1952. The fall was due to a combination of factors, including a fall in the price of copper, which is a major component of the index.

England's accent is on the team

One surprise change for tomorrow

WHEN the English football team beat Austria 3-2 in Vienna last May it was acknowledged that England had made the greatest team of recent years. The account of the team's triumph, though, was not complete when it came to the players, with one exception for the game played in London. The team which played in London was not the same as the team which played in Vienna. The team which played in Vienna was not the same as the team which played in London. Parklands first to beat Scots

Calles, 1; Phelan, 2

PARKLANDS became the first team to defeat the Dublin League champions, the Bohemians, when they won their John Boyle Cup first-round match by a score of 2-1 at Mulhalla on Sunday.

TWO CENTURIES IN MATCH OF HIGH SCORING

It was a day of big scores when Civil Service entertained 3rd All-Ireland Club on Sunday. Five wickets fell, 104 runs were scored in the first 40 minutes for either side.

First came 1st Civil Service's John Coo, who started with a very early century when going in for his 100th run. He played steadily and his 100 came in the 10th over. He was then out for 100 runs, but he had to be dismissed for 100 runs. He was then out for 100 runs, but he had to be dismissed for 100 runs.

Britain is No. 2 tractor producer

BRITAIN'S post-war emergence as the second largest manufacturer of tractors in the world is the most noticeable feature of present-day advances in agricultural machinery. A study states a report issued by the Commonwealth Agricultural Committee.

In 1950 the United States produced 15,000 units of tractors. In 1951 was well up to 20,000 units, and in 1952 it was 25,000 units. The United States is followed by Britain, which produced 12,000 units in 1951 and 15,000 units in 1952. The report states that the value of exports of agricultural machinery last year was more than £200 million compared with about £120 million previous year, and that an expansion in production in Commonwealth countries is expected to increase their share of total exports. It is expected that some time in the future the production of domestic tractors will be equal to that of the United States.

The development of farm tractors is indicated by the fact that the average horsepower of tractors placed in agriculture increased from 10 to 20 in 1951. The United States is far in the lead over any other country in the world in the sale of mechanization. Canada led the second largest, followed by the United Kingdom. The survey indicates that the average horsepower which will be required for mechanizing agriculture and increasing production in developing countries but where the tractor is being used for the first time. Large-scale tractor use would involve seasonal operation and maintenance, and the need for training and technical assistance. The survey shows that the attention has been directed towards seasonal use of tractors in small farms and mechanizing processes that are seasonal peaks of labour.

And, indeed, this contention is borne out by stewards and hostesses on almost every air route—the passengers who give them the least amount of trouble and who are least prone to air sickness are, generally speaking, old ladies and small babies.

CRICKET STORM IN AUSTRALIA

Possible threat to Test series

At their annual meeting in Sydney last week the A.C. ("Chappie") Dwyer, the New South Wales Cricket Board of Control failed to re-elect as a member of the Australian Test Selection Committee, one of the most important members in the history of cricket.

There has been talk of New South Wales breaking away from the Board and that, as a result, some of the best players of the past year would be lost to the Australian Test series in England next summer.

"Chappie" Dwyer, who had been selected for about 20 years, was one of four strong candidates for the committee. One of the other three was John Blair, who had been a member of the committee for a long time. Phil Blundell, Sydney's leading batsman, was another of the candidates. He had been selected for the series in England next summer.

Special meeting

First indication that feeling was running high in New South Wales cricketing circles followed the meeting of the A.C. on the 15th of May. The meeting was held at the New South Wales Cricket Association's headquarters and was attended by representatives of the Board of Control, the Sydney Cricket Association, the New South Wales Cricket Association and the New South Wales Cricket Board. The meeting was held in a private room at the Sydney Cricket Association's headquarters.

CRITICISM OF RESEARCH WORK IN EAST AFRICA

alice in Wonderland reports, says Assembly Member
DEBATE ON ESTIMATES

"Wonderland" says the Commission's research activities. This would be judged, when the Colonial Department and Welfare Act provided in 1949, by the results brought to East Africa that they provided and not by the fact that the organizations had been set up by recommendations and decisions of the Colonial Office.

One Member, from Uganda, said some of the reports of the research bodies made him think the workers were like Alice in Wonderland, going through the same motions, and imitating the same things, and imitating the same things, and imitating the same things. It was important that people should get up and say that they were getting new, but what they would get was not new. ITALY IN URGENT NEED OF TRIESTE SOLUTION

Driven to heed West proposals BY CECIL SPRIGGE

It was taken for granted beforehand in Italy that the talks between the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, and Marshal Tito, would be mainly about Trieste. In Italian eyes, Mr. Eden's was the latest, and not the last, Western League. A month ago, the Trieste Peace Secretary, the Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Leopold Figl, and the Italian Foreign Minister, Alcide De Gasperi, had been in a series of talks. Mr. Frank P. Taylor, Secretary of the Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Leopold Figl, and the Italian Foreign Minister, Alcide De Gasperi, had been in a series of talks.

There has never been any real likelihood that this territory would be voluntarily ceded to Italy. The Jugoslavs might possibly be content to let Italy remain in the zone, but only if Italy renounced her own claims to the "patria" of the Western Alps. That she should ultimately renounce them is a strong case for a solution of the Trieste question.

PETS FOR THE VERY YOUNG

RABBITS and guinea pigs are two of the most popular pets for the very young. They are easy to look after and build up usually of a gentle nature though I have known some quite fierce rabbits. But though easy to look after the rabbit does not like being shut up in a small box where from which many people happily think it may be able to live in.

Unkind

I often think that the best way to teach a child to be kind is to let him look after a pet. This is especially so in the case of a rabbit or a guinea pig. These animals are so gentle and so easy to look after that they are perfect for a child to look after. They are so gentle and so easy to look after that they are perfect for a child to look after.

THE SWAHILI BIBLE

The Story of the New Translation of The Bible into Swahili

From a Correspondent

The production of a Bible in any vernacular is always an outstanding event in local literature. The production of the new Swahili Bible is an event in the world history of the Bible. It may well be described as ranking with the great events as the publication of the Revised Version of the Bible in English in 1885 and the Revised Version of the Bible in Arabic in 1907.

The translation of the Bible into Swahili is a work of a committee of clerics, who while the translation is still in progress, are working to call themselves a "Bible Society" in order to receive the financial contributions of the public. It is a "Bible Society" of the Swahili Bible, which is a "Bible Society" of the Swahili Bible, which is a "Bible Society" of the Swahili Bible.

Turn of tide

The turn of the tide came in the early part of the year 1924, when the Swahili Bible was first published in Nairobi. It was a small book, but it was a book that had been longed for by the people of the East African coast.

From a Correspondent

The Bible. We did this because we had been told that the Swahili Bible would be a success. It was a book that had been longed for by the people of the East African coast.

When the first translation of the Bible into Swahili was made, it was a work of a committee of clerics, who while the translation is still in progress, are working to call themselves a "Bible Society" in order to receive the financial contributions of the public.

Groundwork

Before a translation can be made, it is necessary to have a good knowledge of the language. This was the case with the Swahili Bible, which was a work of a committee of clerics, who while the translation is still in progress, are working to call themselves a "Bible Society" in order to receive the financial contributions of the public.
