BRITAIN WILL NOT FALL INTO SOVIET 'SNARE'

Anglo-US ties to be strengthened: Mr. Churchill

The British Prime Minister, Mr. Winston Churchill, said on Sunday Britain would certainly not fall into the "snare" laid by the Soviet Government and Communists elsewhere of allowing any breach between Britain and the United States.

He told the annual conference of the Conservative Party at Sandown that the "totalitarian" strategy of the Soviet-controlled armies in Europe far exceeded any which the Western nations had been able to meet.

Mr. Churchill pledged to strengthen the ties of friendship and intimacy which had brought her into effective alliance with America. He said the services of the "atomic bomb" were not the only means by which the United States could be believed to have advanced to the point of being able to meet the challenge of the Soviet-controlled armies in Europe far exceeded any which the Western nations had been able to meet.

"I have inherited the services of a great nation," he said, "and I am determined to continue the tradition of the United States, which has been the greatest of all nations."

Mr. Churchill said that the United States was the only nation which had the power to meet the challenge of the Soviet-controlled armies in Europe far exceeded any which the Western nations had been able to meet.

MR. CLEMENT ATTLEE, leader of the British Labour Party, has called on Bevan to drop his "civil war" tactics and turn their backs on the "proletariat" and their friends. He said the first step was to drop the Labour split since it faced up at the recent conference.

The Hermes Ambassadors does away with fatigue

Lightness of touch, speed, noiselessness, beauty of appearance, neat and attractive type, all these sterling qualities of a good typewriter are united in the HERMES AMBASSADOR. But in addition are added those new advantages which make this model the ideal working instrument of the typist.

This judicious use of electricity in the working of the AMBASSADOR allows the hands to play upon the keyboard without interruption and without effort. The ideal solution of the electric carriage return does away with the tiring operations which are required a thousand times over with an ordinary machine. Without lifting the hand from the keyboard, a slight pressure of the finger on a side key causes the carriage to return to the beginning of the line, and automatically gives the desired line spacing.

The electric carriage return is rapid and sure. The saving of time is self-evident. No more wasteful effort, no more muscular fatigue brought about by a thousand movements of the carriage and line spacer every day. The electric control relieves the operator of all tiring motions and allows him or her to carry out the work under the most favourable conditions.

What is more, the HERMES AMBASSADOR can be used even in the case of a breakdown in the electric supply, thanks to its manual line spacer lever.

The mechanical keyboard has been chosen in preference to the electrically operated keyboard on purpose. The continuous noise of the motor is thus avoided, as well as the frequently long and tedious adaptation on the part of the user.

Swiss precision workmanship backed by one year's guarantee and after-sale service by the Agents. Please write for detailed illustrated booklet.

COMMODITY WHY THE COMMONWEALTH TRADE PRICES SURPLUSES ARE NOW DEFICITS

By special cables to the 'East African Standard', London, September 27th, the Commonwealth trade last year was characterized by a sharp turn of events which transformed healthy surplus positions in the first half of the year into well-justified deficits in the second half. Prices of most of the sterling raw materials rose steadily after the devaluation of the pound.

There are important factors in the price movements of the raw materials. The first is the fact that the Commonwealth countries are now producing surplus quantities of many of their raw materials. This is due to the fact that the Commonwealth countries have been able to increase their production of raw materials since the devaluation of the pound. ## UNITED NATIONS BEGIN NEW SESSION TODAY

Is apartheid policy to be discussed?

THE Commonwealth is evenly divided as to whether or not the United Nations—whose new session begins today—should debate the racial segregation policies of the South African Government with a view to suggesting ways to modify them or force them altogether.

South Africa's delegation, under the leadership of Mr. G. F. Verwoerd, the Union's Ambassador, has received a series of latest instructions from Dr. Malan, the South African Prime Minister. These are understood to propose that Africa should at the very outset resist any attempt to place the Arab-Asian problem on the agenda. This request is to be based on the Charter, which defines the role of the United Nations in the domestic affairs of its member States.

India and most of the Arab States maintain that the events in South Africa arising from the Government's apartheid policies are no longer domestic in their nature and are having their "harmful influence" felt far beyond the borders of the Union.

What makes a watch tick?

HERE you see the "innards" of a famous watch. There are 183 separate parts in this picture. Only an expert could identify them all, but see if you can find the part that makes it tick.

Is it the main spring... Or the escapement gadget?

Neither. No single part can make a watch tick. It takes a great many parts working smoothly together.

And so it is with business organisations. No one individual is responsible for making a firm "tick". Of course the personnel, like the parts of a watch, must be good and reliable. There is usually a main spring somewhere in the assembly. But from the office boy to the head of the firm... storekeepers, accountants, stenographers, book-keepers, technicians, salesmen, filing clerks, telephone operators, etc... all working together, they are what makes a firm tick.

The prompt, personal and efficient attention you receive from Gilfillan & Company arises from the smooth functioning of a competent and conscientious staff, the members of which are determined to be of genuine and practical assistance to the Company's customers.

D. T. DOBIE WINS 'CORONATION'

But is five strokes up on last year

D. T. DOBIE, of Karen, won the Coronation Trophy at Nakuru, a most strenuous 75 holes medal event, for the second time in a margin of two strokes. Last year's score of 110 was, however, five strokes more than the all-time record he set up when winning the event in 1951. He has been a most consistent competitor in this event and in 1950 established the then record score of the trophy. P. C. Tait, of Kericho, came second 3/7 but entailed technical dispensation for the provincial ball club. A total of 57 took part in the event, this year, the fifth of the series, but it was unfortunate that 15 were unable to withdraw at the last minute.

In addition to Dobie, the 1952 list of winners, A. J. G. Lewis, who was competing last year making his money from the sale of his own practice and failed to get on.

The first four with their round for the week were: D. T. Dobie (Karen); P. C. Tait (Kericho); A. J. G. Lewis (Mombasa); and W. J. Walsh (Mombasa). The first round of the series was held at Nakuru during the weekend for the narrow margin of one stroke. The last hole of the series was won by Dobie, who scored 68 in the final round. The total score for the week was 270. The first four with their round for the week were: D. T. Dobie (Karen); P. C. Tait (Kericho); A. J. G. Lewis (Mombasa); and W. J. Walsh (Mombasa).

Not to be forgotten is the fact that Dobie's score of 75 is a record for the event. He has also won the event in 1950 and 1951. The event is one of the most popular in the district and attracts a large number of spectators. The trophy is named after D. T. Dobie, who has won it three times. The event is held annually and is a major event in the district's sporting calendar.

HOME GUARDS FOR NIGHT DUTY IN LONE AREAS

Plan to ease Police task—good response

UNITED Press Service
 HOME GUARD units of special police are being formed for night duty in scattered areas fringing Nairobi to ease some of the pressure on the hard-worked Kenya Police. The units will be made up of local recruits who are trained in the use of firearms and are to be stationed at various points in the city. These "Home Guards" will wear blue uniforms. It is believed that the plan of the Commissioner of Police (Mr. M. S. O'Riordan) has been the instigator of the scheme and it was subsequently taken up by a number of leading citizens including two ex-Ministers who during the national elections were on the staffs of banks and business houses in the city. It is understood the response has been generally successful.

Price of lead drops again after rally

THE price of lead in London on Thursday dropped about 2 1/2 per ton to 57 1/2.

The market opened on a moderate rally but had lifted the price a little more in the afternoon.

Business was fairly active at 1 1/2 and 1 3/4, and the price of lead rose to 59 1/2. However, some caution was shown in the afternoon and the price fell to 57 1/2.

It is probable that the price will remain steady for some time, but a further fall is possible if the price of lead continues to rise, especially if the price of lead in the United States rises.
