MAIZE GROWERS DEMAND 12/- A BAG

GOVERNMENT POLICY CONDEMNED

Maize growers in Kenya have expressed their dissatisfaction with the Government's policy of fixing the price of maize at 12/- a bag. The growers claim that the price is too low, and that it does not cover their costs of production.

The growers also claim that the Government's policy is unfair, and that it does not take into account the needs of the growers. The growers demand that the price of maize be raised to 15/- a bag.

The Government has refused to raise the price of maize, and has instead increased the tax on maize. The growers claim that this is a further injustice, and that it will lead to a decline in the production of maize.

PLANTERS PERCUBED BY HOW KENYA FOOD BOARDS WILL WORK

Director Of Produce Disposal Explains

Searching Questions At Thika Meeting

CASE ABOUT CATTLE DIP

A FARMER'S APPEAL

Need for Further Research

Kenya's Tseibi

Problem

Need for Further Research

PLANTERS of Thika, Nairobi and surrounding districts abroad their minds on the maize problem. The meeting was attended by Col. G. C. Griffiths, Director of Produce Disposal, and Mr. W. G. O'Connell, Director of Agriculture and Veterinary Services. Mr. W. G. O'Connell stated that the maize problem was a serious one and that the Government was doing its utmost to solve it. He said that the maize crop was down by 10 to 15 per cent in 1944 compared with 1943. This was due to a combination of factors, including drought and disease. He said that the Government was doing its utmost to solve the problem and that it was necessary to search for new methods of increasing production. He said that the Government was doing its utmost to solve the problem and that it was necessary to search for new methods of increasing production.

At the Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa, which opened in Nairobi on Monday, the appeal was heard by Chief Justice H. R. Hughes. The appellant was a farmer who had been convicted of a crime under the Cattle Dip Act. He appealed against his conviction. The court heard evidence from both sides and then delivered its judgment. The court found in favor of the appellant and set aside his conviction. The court said that the evidence in favor of the appellant was stronger than that of the Crown. The court also said that the law was not clear on the point and that it was necessary to give the appellant the benefit of the doubt.

The provision of food for the population of Kenya is a problem of the first importance. The Government has been busy to realize the need for immediate action. The Kenya Food Board has been set up to deal with the problem. The board is made up of representatives from the Government, the planters, and the consumers. The board's main task is to ensure that there is enough food for everyone. The board has been working hard to solve the problem and has made some progress. It has succeeded in increasing the production of maize and other food crops. It has also succeeded in reducing the price of food. The board's work is still far from finished, but it has shown that it is possible to solve the problem.

At this point Mr. Stanley had the Court find in favor of the appellant. He said that the evidence in favor of the appellant was stronger than that of the Crown. He said that the law was not clear on the point and that it was necessary to give the appellant the benefit of the doubt. He said that the court should set aside the conviction and order a new trial. The court agreed with Mr. Stanley and set aside the conviction. The court also ordered a new trial. The court said that the evidence in favor of the appellant was stronger than that of the Crown. The court also said that the law was not clear on the point and that it was necessary to give the appellant the benefit of the doubt.

Mr. Stanley said that the evidence in favor of the appellant was stronger than that of the Crown. The Kenya Commodity Distribution Board has been set up to deal with the problem of food distribution. The board is made up of representatives from the Government, the planters, and the consumers. The board's main task is to ensure that there is enough food for everyone. The board has been working hard to solve the problem and has made some progress. It has succeeded in increasing the production of maize and other food crops. It has also succeeded in reducing the price of food. The board's work is still far from finished, but it has shown that it is possible to solve the problem.

There has been enough made for all purposes for the year 1942. The fact that the Government has decided to limit the production of these goods is a very serious matter. It is a pity that the Government has not taken more steps to increase the production of these goods. BROAD BASE TERRACING

BROAD base terracing is a mechanical means of erosion control which was developed by President H. Manning, a North Carolina farmer, in 1885, and was modified by M. W. Nichols in 1903.

The terrace made by the Soil Conservation Service in Kenya is somewhat like to the Nichols terrace and is a drainage-type terrace. The Nichols terrace is a broad drain with a broad semi-circular bank and a narrow channel from the earth removed from the channel.

Terraces break up a field into a series of watery ways, and are in fact a series of ditches. The runoff water is gathered in the ditch and flows off the foot of so as not to do the soil a direct water attack. This prevents soil erosion. THE CHURCH AND THE NEW ORDER

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1943

It is a commonplace thought and expression among every class of society today that things will never be the same again. Those who lived through the shock of the war know better how difficult it was to be that the happiness and peace of the years before 1914 would not return. History has shown us that the melancholy words of the late Sir Edward Grey, "Britain is a nation of optimists, looking upon the darkness which descended upon us on August 4, 1914, as the dawn of a new era, and that the lamps were going out all over Europe and would not be lit again in our time. But if all for which we are fighting on this occasion has any meaning for us, the lamps of civilization will again be lit, and if there is any wisdom left to us, they will surely burn with a brighter and more brilliant glow than before."

That at least is the hope which buoy us up, and it is the main reason why we are fighting. It is what peace is intended to mean, what the Four Big Powers of the Atlantic Ocean envisage, and what such great social reforms as the Beveridge plan are proposing to help us to achieve.

It is the great task of the Church to see that the responsibilities of all denominations are not to be sought merely in telling the people from the pulpit what is needed and what they ought to do. When a group of people are engaged in an attempt during the coal strike of 1928 to bring the owners and the workers together, the Prime Minister, Mr. (now Lord) Baldwin, who had just been asked how the Bishops would like him to see the revision of the Altar Book, said that the signs that through the peace-making suffering in this war and the world-wide suffering in the peace-making, have been broken down, the broadening process will continue. It is a primary function of the Church to give those best qualified to deal with the emergency, and it is a primary function of the Church to give those best qualified to deal with the emergency, and it is a primary function of the Church to give those best qualified to deal with the emergency.

educating public opinion on the need for change and keeping constantly before the public the vision of what change should mean in the daily lives and relationships.

As time moves on and the Church must cease to be regarded as an organization to be taken for granted, it will have to find solutions of problems that will affect the world, or as a place to which some can withdraw from the confusion of the present world. There are great changes in the air, and it has been said from pulpits, press and platform is to have any meaning for the nation, and the Christian Church must boldly seek out and create the opportunities to be a hand, with the State and the People, in the practical solution of the labour involved. To know what is to be done, and even to say it, is not enough; to do it in unity with the rest is to go far along the road to achievement.

upon the Government and the Board explained to the people the importance of providing in the Railway's programme a special and responsible contribution. In the form of a special aid, the Board would like to see the Railway's programme effect by using part of the accumulated reserves. If necessary, to place on the land the materials required for increased agricultural production and maintenance of soil fertility at a cost which would be met by the Government. In this problem of providing economic transport for the low-cost production of food, it is clear that there is another factor of vital importance to the practical contribution to the solution of the present urgent food problem, either by the State or the Transport Department. No doubt that the Government, now limited in their productive contribution by continuing their full share of the common task.

A QUESTION OF APPROACH

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1943

All the East African Territories are engaged at the present time in a struggle with the urgent problem of finding enough food to maintain the health of their population, and of making the best of the supplies available. It is not easy to see how this can be done. It is not easy to see how this can be done. It is not easy to see how this can be done.

SOCIAL SECURITY—IN EAST AFRICA

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1943

There seems to us to be no doubt that among the post-war problems which East Africa will be called upon to consider, if not to solve, are the problems of social security. In the modern phrase "Social Security." For all practical purposes the phrase means a "safety net" for the common man—that is to say the man who is not a member of the ruling class and environment upon which life and the fate of his parents has a lowly position in what is called society. The common man in the lower part of the social ladder is the man in the great majority. He has been more or less content for many years with his state. He has not been very articulate, or very active, or very ambitious. He has been very content and amiable in his own way.

But two world wars have shaken him out of his placidity. What is just as important is that those who have the responsibility of governing the common man and ruling and directing his affairs have realized that the "old" applies situation, the "old" applies situation, the "old" applies situation.

It is very common to see a cough cure advertised. But how can you tell which is the best? The answer is simple. Look for the name of the inventor, Dr. J. J. Whisky. He is a well-known name in the world of medicine. His cough cure is the best. It is the best. It is the best.

Does Your Production Programme Include Potatoes?

If so you will wish to obtain as high a yield per acre as possible, and a McCormick Deering Potato Planter is the best insurance that your seed will get the right start.

M.Cornick-Deering planters deposit the seed with an accuracy that is not possible except by machine methods, and certainly cannot be expected from native hand labour.

We have a few planters still available. Better obtain yours today. Next week may be too late.

ROAD BASE TERRACING: Failures and the Causes

DURING the past two years, officers of the Soil Conservation Service have had the opportunity of inspecting terraces laid out and constructed by farmers in many parts of the country.

Maintenance is largely a matter of correct planning and the use of appropriate cultural methods in the fields. These matters will be dealt with in later articles.

LAYOUT OF SCHEME

Terraces have often been made to drain well over a maximum of 200 ft. which should be allowed to drain to a lower terrace.

Other points to be considered in the layout of the run-off water has been the possibility of rock slides, sheet of heavy soil eroding, blasting, sheet water by cut through, the water discharged from the terraces at these points.

The general principle of carrying water from one terrace down and discharging it to a lower slope is to prevent the water from running back into the field if not properly discharge ditches are necessary.

SPACING

The spacing of terraces is often the most important factor in the design of the terrace scheme.

The maximum quantity of water likely to run off any area may be expressed roughly by the formula: Q=CIA.

Frame of water-gauging capacity in terrace channels made on 10% slope, between a 2 and 12 ft. run-off slope.

Grading: Sloping channel and bank to grade almost invariably neglected. The object is to let the water run down the bank and not to build up low spots.

SOLAI FARMERS' MEETING:

Momentous questions were discussed at a well attended meeting of the Solai Farmers' Association held on February 13th.

RHEUMATISM

Many people, who are in pain caused by the body through the kidneys, have been cured by the use of this medicine.

CHLOROPHYLL

Mr. Nicholson wondered if the Chlorophyll was a good medicine for the treatment of rheumatism.

TERRACES AND TERRACING

The majority of farmers have failed to realize that it is necessary to make a study of soil conditions.

PIG FEEDING

POTATOES seldom figure in the modern scale of ration laid down for pigs, mainly because, except in certain districts, they are rarely available in sufficient quantities.

The feeding value of ordinary potatoes, sweet potatoes, and other tubers in this country, where they are raised, is not generally appreciated.

Another factor which is of great importance in the commercial reduction of production costs where potatoes are fed.

It is quite safe for potatoes (cool) to substitute roughly half the usual quantity of the ration for pigs.

One must be able to keep one's eyes open for the possibility of disease or rot in tubers merely tends to render the whole ration quite unpalatable.

It is especially left for 'later on' with the necessary consequences if a heavy rain intervenes.

SHAPE OF BANK

Two narrow and deep banks resulting on the lower side though possibly construction to be made more closely, may be that the bank will be very difficult to maintain.

Next Week: The role of a new series by Sir Colin Hunter on 'Cattle Nutrition'.

DISTRICT FARMING NOTES

NORTH KENYA

It is concluded with a complete failure of the district, although the eastern side of the district, the fall was considerably less than elsewhere.

THE WEEK'S LETTERS.

FOOD SUPPLIES

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"

—Sir, A few weeks ago I heard a report from an advertisement that there were no more of certain foodstuffs to be given in the East African territories. I or others understand, only course of action to be taken, however. I wonder why the Government has considered that it is not a necessary duty to attempt to meet the needs of these African peoples, who are now so far away from their normal life, and that they should be left to their own devices, as the Government has done in the past, as the result of the change of diet since the outbreak of the war.

(M) I am always obtaining mail orders through an order form which is sent to me in order to avoid long correspondence being sent to the Government, and the fact that the Government is producing for its starvation of those in the territories before the receipt of the permit.

Yours etc,
Nairobi,
February 20, 1943.

FOOD SUPPLIES

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"

—Sir, May I through the medium of your paper draw attention to a committee a comparative estimate of the cost of living for children before the outbreak of the war, but in the great difficulty in obtaining most of the foodstuffs, and the fact that a child, milk, eggs, chicken, cheese, all have been increased in price and cost, and that the Government has been unable to supply in any form of subsidy, and it is not only the children who are suffering, but the mothers who are being deprived of the normal life of their children, and they are unable to supply in any form of subsidy, and it is not only the children who are suffering, but the mothers who are being deprived of the normal life of their children, and they are unable to supply in any form of subsidy.

Yours etc,
Nairobi,
February 19, 1943.

FOOD SUPPLIES

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"

—Sir, May I suggest to the worried mothers of Nairobi, that they should get up and have one or more of their children to be employed in some of the Government work in the territories. This would be a very beneficial occupation, and it is not only the children who are suffering, but the mothers who are being deprived of the normal life of their children, and they are unable to supply in any form of subsidy.

Yours etc,

—Sir, May I suggest to the worried mothers of Nairobi, that they should get up and have one or more of their children to be employed in some of the Government work in the territories. This would be a very beneficial occupation, and it is not only the children who are suffering, but the mothers who are being deprived of the normal life of their children, and they are unable to supply in any form of subsidy.

Diet in Digestive Disorders

—You can't live up a stick stomach. Your body can be nourished even though solid food may be difficult to eat. In those cases where the stomach is weak, the food may lodge, cause pain and discomfort.

The problem has always been to find a food that soothes the inflamed stomach walls and provides all the nourishment needed for recovery. Doctors and nurses agree that Horlicks is such a food. It places no strain upon the digestion, but provides all the body-building elements that the weakened system needs. Convalescence is shortened, new strength and energy pour into the veins with every cupful of Horlicks.

Horlicks is a complete balanced food in a very palatable form. It has been found to be remarkably success in the most severe cases of dyspepsia. Get Horlicks to-day from your next store on chemist.

ATTENTION OF FARMERS

Have you finished your wheat harvest? If so, we suggest you check over your Harvester Threshers or Grain Binder NOW. Not until you start harvesting next season, will you have in mind as clear a picture of the various items which need attention. Possibly the platform repaired in a hurry, that still didn't work quite right, or the canvas that needs re-sewing, or that cracked cutting that canvas that needs re-stitching. It is at this time, before such details are forgotten, that the machine should be brought in from the field, cleaned, and carefully inspected.
If your machine is to give efficient and carefree service when put to work again next season, it will need to be carefully gone over for repair and adjustment, and well protected against deterioration from rust, warping, and decay. Necessary repairs and adjustments observed in the field and those discovered at this time should not be written down. With this aid of such a record you can easily order any necessary parts and you will have a constant reminder of whatever else is still to be done before the machine can be considered ready for use again.

Contour Cultivation

by COLIN MAHER,
S.C.S., Department of Agriculture

WHERE land is of high value and only a proportion of the area of a farm is cultivable, it will be necessary to make the best of a bad job and plough and maintain terraces as can be managed best. "Where there's a will, there's a way."

If a farm is an expanse of 120 acres, 10 per cent, or 12 acres, it is necessary to make the most of the available land. The farmer should be protected by the Government, but it is not to be expected that the Government will do this for him. ## GRAVING OF PIGS

AND THE 'WHYS' AND 'WHEREFORS' from the Stockmen's Association of Kenya

THERE was a time, but long ago, when any old thing would do. In those days, the producer must, if he is to receive the maximum price for his products, cater for the prevailing public taste—the pig with beef, mutton or pig meat. Since then, the order of the day, consequently the demand for the small joints of meat, and bacon, unfortunately, with a small percentage of fat. The butcher and the bacon maker, therefore, with their livelihood only by offering the public exactly what is wanted, are in a position to be very particular in their selection. It is in this position that the producer must cater for the prevailing public taste—the pig with beef, mutton or pig meat.

PIG FEEDS

IN the recently published Commission on Pig Production, the Agricultural Production Committee and Settlements Board stated that, in regard to alternative feed, for maize and other starchy foods in short supply, a number of experiments have been done, and one being used in the form of concentrates, and one being used in the form of concentrates, and one being used in the form of concentrates.

DOWN THE STRAND

By way of being a wag, once stopped a pompous stranger in the Strand with the bland enquiry: "Excuse me, Sir, but may I ask, are you anybody in particular?"

It is this, my friends, a thought here for all of us. Even today and things are not always what they seem. Take the case of lime juice for example. There are many conscientious lippy clappers themselves "lime juice" which over the years has come to the fore.

That's why some men insist on Rose's Lime Juice. They know that Rose's ones they're right. And they know the reason why. Rose's Lime Juice is the pure natural juice of the lime. There is nothing artificial or chemical about it — it is the real thing.

Now you can see why Rose's has such a natural thirst-quenching name. That's why it makes the best long drinks, the smoothest cocktails and the most palatable tonics. Ask for Rose's every time — it's the shortest way of trying the genuine juice of the lime.

Drastic Action To Eke Out Food Supplies

NAIROBI population has not yet been reduced to the point where the food shortage which is being experienced in the city through the medium of the African rationing system.

In the course of the rationing of food supplies, it has been found that the most serious shortage is in the case of the staple food, maize. It is estimated that the present supply of maize is only sufficient to last for about three months.

It is therefore necessary to take drastic action to reduce the population of the city to a level which will enable the available supplies to last for a longer period.

- To encourage the remaining Africans to engage in productive occupations which will help to increase the food supply.
- To provide relief for the most needy cases.

No one without a job will receive additional rations, and those who are engaged in unproductive occupations will have their rations reduced. It is estimated that about 100,000 Africans will be required to maintain the present level of food supplies.

The Government has also decided to take the following steps:

- To encourage the remaining Africans to engage in productive occupations which will help to increase the food supply.
- To provide relief for the most needy cases.

In addition, there will be given such a permit to those who have a definite and obtainable job in the city. The Commissioner of Police will be responsible for the issue of these permits. It is estimated that about 100,000 Africans will be required to maintain the present level of food supplies.

Have you finished your wheat harvest? If so, we suggest you check over your Harvester Thresher or Grain Binder NOW. Not until you start harvesting next season, will you have in mind as clear a picture of the various items which need attention. Possibly the platform repair in a hurry, that still didn't work quite right after the change that needs re-tying, or that cracked cutting that needs to be welded or it's necessary replaced. It is at this time, before each detail of your record you can easily order any necessary parts and you will have a constant reminder of whatever else is still to be done before the machine can be considered ready for use again.

If your machine is in good efficient and carefree service when you go to work again next season, it will need to be carefully gone over for repair and adjustment, and well protected against deterioration from rust, wearing, and decay. Necessary repairs and adjustments observed in the field and those discovered at this time should then be written down. With this aid of such a record you can easily order any necessary parts and you will have a constant reminder of whatever else is still to be done before the machine can be considered ready for use again.

Meadow Strips, Terrace Outlets and Drainage Ways

THE Soil Conservation Service has had no greater success than in that of endeavoring to secure the cooperation of Kenya farmers in making provision for the safe disposal of terrace runoff waters.

In the past years little regard has been paid to the disposal of terrace runoff waters. In fact the terrace outlets have often been built in positions or depths to lead the water down steeply from the terrace, with the inevitable damage through landslides in the terrace.

The need for protection of channels or drainage ways is generally appreciated. Adequate matters about the disposal of terrace runoff waters are not so generally appreciated. It is not until the terrace runoff waters are concentrated by terrace outlets, that the farmer is faced with the problem of their disposal.

The simplest way of disposing of terrace runoff water is to discharge it directly into the natural drainage channel. This method is simple and cheap, but it is not always the best. It is not until the terrace runoff waters are concentrated by terrace outlets, that the farmer is faced with the problem of their disposal.

The disposal of terrace runoff water is a problem which is faced by many farmers. It is not until the terrace runoff waters are concentrated by terrace outlets, that the farmer is faced with the problem of their disposal.
