The TURNING POINT in CONVALESCENCE

When the crisis in illness is past, complete recovery may still be a long way off. The turning point for the patient comes when the patient begins to fill out and pick up again from day to day. A decisive factor in that recovery is good food.

Land and Water Preservation On (General) Rules, 1943.

It will have been noticed that new Rules under the Land and Water Preservation Ordinance were published recently under Government Notice No. 289 and that these Rules are a considerable improvement on the previous Rules published in 1940 which they replace. Although published, these Rules are not actually in force until the Local Authorities, e.g. District Councils, etc. have had an opportunity of considering them and raising any objections they may wish to make to them. Such objections should be made in writing in a specified time and will then be submitted to Executive Council who will consider them and will then apply the Rules. If it is necessary to such an extent the country as one thought amended if necessary, such amendments can be made.

All the original 1940 Rules were somewhat negative and characterised by a 'don't do this' or 'do not do that' type of clause. It is now possible to do things on a positive basis. The reason for this was that at the time these Rules were made it was necessary to provide for a 'don't do this' or 'do not do that' type of clause. It is now possible to do things on a positive basis. The reason for this was that at the time these Rules were made it was necessary to provide for a 'don't do this' or 'do not do that' type of clause.

It will be noted that Rule 1 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule. This is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 1 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 1 is a new one designed to control the watering of crops. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 1 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 2 is the same as the previous Rule with one important addition, that the Director may, when he deems it necessary, order that the distance from a stream which cultivation or the clearing of vegetation may not be less than a specified distance. This is a new provision in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 2 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 3 deals with mechanical powers that may have to be taken for the control of erosion or terracing. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 3 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 4 is connected with the provisions in the previous Rules designed to ensure that the owner of the land should make such arrangements as are necessary to prevent the erosion of the land. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 4 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 5 is connected with the provisions in the previous Rules designed to ensure that the owner of the land should make such arrangements as are necessary to prevent the erosion of the land. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 5 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 6 is connected with the provisions in the previous Rules designed to ensure that the owner of the land should make such arrangements as are necessary to prevent the erosion of the land. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 6 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

farmer does not carry out such of the principles embodied in these Rules themselves and will not receive the notice under the Ordinance in order that they may be enforced. There are now no such provisions in the Ordinance. The Department in order to prevent this from happening to any farmer in any circumstances it is necessary to issue a notice under the Ordinance in order that they may be enforced. There are now no such provisions in the Ordinance.

It is also noted that the Rules provide that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule. This is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 1 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 17 provides for a power to issue orders for the control of erosion or terracing. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 17 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 18 provides for a power to issue orders for the control of erosion or terracing. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 18 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 19 provides for a power to issue orders for the control of erosion or terracing. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 19 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 20 provides for a power to issue orders for the control of erosion or terracing. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 20 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Rule 21 provides for a power to issue orders for the control of erosion or terracing. It is a new concept in the Rules and it is hoped that it will be a stepping-stone to a more positive basis of legislation. It will be noted that Rule 21 provides that it shall be lawful for any person to do any of the things mentioned in that Rule.

Kitale Bull Scheme: Artificial Insemination

(From our Kitale Correspondent) EXPERIENCE of the last few years has shown that certain of the dairy herds (for example, Frothingham and Graham's) are not entirely suited to many parts of the Western Trans-Nairobi district. Therefore the farmer and the Veterinary Department arranged together for the introduction of a Bull Scheme to raise the standard of the local stock by artificial insemination by high grade bulls.

THE MAKING OF COMPOST

MANY farmers know all too well that the soil on their farms is becoming poorer and poorer. The reason for this is that the soil is being exhausted by the removal of the crops and the removal of the manure which is used as fertilizer.

50,000 British Women in Land Army

As the 40th anniversary of the war, the Women's Land Army in Great Britain has been active for 30 years. Many of these young women, working each valuable farm week doing its soil were recruited from the towns, having been sent to do agriculture, tailoring, bookbinding, typists, and so on before the war.

THREE GOOD PLAYS AT ELDORET

["STARS" CONSIDERED] Eldoret. The Riverside Theatre Company has presented a triple bill at the R.A.F. auditorium on Friday, June 18.

The first named to be the "Playwright" artist and is a typical example of the modern day artist, as a playwright.

The Seventh March is a play which requires the proper atmosphere. The players present men, all that remains of the crew of an Arctic explorer trapped in the ice.

The play was produced by Roy Perry. The atmosphere was completely realized and the reactions of the men to their forces continued and striving to keep up their hopes of rescue were well portrayed by the players.

WINDMILLS NEED SAILS SHEEP NEED COOPER'S

Sails form a vital part of the windmill. And on many a farm the annual dipping with Cooper's has become an equally inseparable part of sheep farming.

Cooper's Sheep Dipping Powder is the key to healthier sheep and better wool. It eradicates parasites on the sheep skin and wool. Its use results in a bigger and better clip of high-quality wool. And to-day this means more than ever. Your business does not now depend on a fluctuating market, but on an experienced vetter's appraisal.

ATTENTION of FARMERS

Have you checked over your grain harvesting machine? Whether you use a harvester thresher or grain binder, NOW is the time to go over it carefully and make sure that all worn or broken parts are repaired or replaced, and that all nuts are tight, and no bolts are missing.

Due to increasing shipping difficulties it must be realized that those who wait until the last minute to order the part you require is not available. If you act now to have one made, but this requires time—therefore, DON'T DELAY, and don't forget the platform and elevator canvases when checking your machine.

Control of Insect Pests of Vegetables

The control of vegetable insects is of more importance than the control of the war, because so many more people are growing vegetables, and it is more difficult because of the shortage of some of the common insecticides.

Some of the common insect pests of garden produce will be mentioned with control measures which have proved satisfactory and for which the ingredients should be obtainable in Nairobi at the present time.

CUTworms. The larvae of several species of moths (larvae) are common pests which feed on cabbage, many other vegetables, on chains and other plants. They are controlled by the use of poison baits, such as the bait does not need to come into contact with the plant there is no objection to the use of a bait containing arsenic in both of cabbage and other vegetables. Small snails of the forms of cutworms are also common pests of garden produce to be available. The bait which has been found satisfactory in this country is: bran 25 lbs, Paris green 1 lb, chaff 50 lbs, water about 2 gallons enough to make a damp but not soggy mass. This is spread over infested plants in the evening at the rate of about 50 lb. per acre. If bran is not obtainable, chaff or other readily available material may be used. The control of locusts on cabbage is probably the most serious pest probably because the cater leaves are largely removed. As any cater leaves that they may be held by leaf-miner larvae. One or more cater leaves should be removed. The cater leaves should be able to plant to "beat" any cater leaf.

DIAMOND back moth (Plutella maculipennis) larva (Aphididae) and other leaf eaters of the leaf eating insect are normally controlled with arsenic on food plants, though often arsenic and other plant extracts are more effective. The diamond back moth is a common pest of cabbage. It is controlled by the use of arsenic on food plants, though often arsenic and other plant extracts are more effective. The diamond back moth is a common pest of cabbage. It is controlled by the use of arsenic on food plants, though often arsenic and other plant extracts are more effective.

BEAN fly (Aphis fabae). This insect is occasionally an extremely damaging pest of small beans. It is controlled by the use of arsenic on food plants, though often arsenic and other plant extracts are more effective.

WHEN other insecticides are difficult to obtain, it should be remembered that the use of arsenic is an excellent way of making a number of plants more resistant to insect attack. The use of arsenic is an excellent way of making a number of plants more resistant to insect attack.

NEGLECT IS DANGEROUS

Your eyes are exposed to many dangers. The glare of the sun out of doors, stuffy and smoky atmospheres inside, long hours in artificial light—all these give rise to severe eye strain. The strain itself is laden with very particles of dirt and millions of germs. Naturally your eyes will suffer if you do not give them proper care. Treatment with Opres Eye Lotion will protect them from dangerous strain and keep them fit.

Nowadays the growing demand of vital war traffic means that Opres is not so plentiful as before, but you should still find all possible care of your eyes. Do not, however, work your eyes to your hurt. 14 in. is a safe distance. Rest your eyes occasionally. Get plenty of fresh air and whenever possible bathe your eyes with Opres Eye Lotion. If you have the slightest doubt regarding your vision consult a Doctor or Qualified Practitioner immediately.

Remarkable Effectiveness of Mobile Propaganda Unit

WHAT an astounding feat East Africa's propaganda "Recruiting Party" has accomplished! If the use of the term "recruiting party" is too crude, we advise you to "forget it," and to refer to it as the "Service Propaganda Unit." It is a different thing entirely, a more effective, more strenuous and more interesting in its aims and objectives. It has to perform, particularly that of interesting the tribesmen of East Africa's territories in the United Kingdom.

It is to name the "East Africa Centre of Mobile Propaganda" and its technique is highly specialized and its methods are of the most modern wherever it goes in keeping with the latest developments of the Service.

Its effects are enhanced by the fact that the propaganda unit is not only taking the African to the "front" but also bringing the "front" to the African. It is not only taking the African to the "front" but also bringing the "front" to the African. It is not only taking the African to the "front" but also bringing the "front" to the African.
