AFRICAN GUIDES' FIRST RALLY

(By Evelyn Harris)

For the first time in the history of Kenya, African Guides held a grand "World Saturday" August 1, on the grounds of the Ladies' Club, Nairobi. The first full Government School Children had been invited to join in various "Guides' Institutes" and African Scouts from Fort Hall and European Guides from Nairobi and Kisumu, together with the Guides of the Kenya Mounted Rifles and Mrs. McCrae from Pietermaritzburg.

The festival was a grand spectacle, drawing a large number of the "United Nations" from the United Kingdom and the United States, with its grand total on a bright and sunny day. The children were dressed in their own uniforms, green and yellow, and the girls wore their traditional white dresses, while others wore "hats" to match their colors.

From the march on to the ground to the ideas of the Rally, the programme was a grand success. The day was spent in the playground, to the accompaniment of music, singing, and dancing. The programme was planned by the Kenya Guides' Association, and the day was a grand success.

The day was a grand success, and the children were very happy. The programme was planned by the Kenya Guides' Association, and the day was a grand success.

A Weekend Sermon: NICKNAMES

There is a multitude of nicknames. A name which is a nickname—conferred in jest, or contempt, or admiration, or approval, or respect, or suitable that it is used by the majority of people. For example, the most known of these is "Nicknames." It is a name which is given to a person, and which is used by the majority of people. It is a name which is given to a person, and which is used by the majority of people.

FROM experienced professional it is considered that the best form for a standard fire is a long fire, the long side parallel to the line of prevailing wind. This is because the fire will burn more evenly, and the heat will be more uniform. The latter method of building a fire is not so good as the former, and it is not so easy to control the direction of the wind in the time it takes to build a fire of long shape.

Methods Of Protection Of Crops From Flying Swarms Of Locusts

The efficacy of any method of protecting crops from flying locusts appears to depend chiefly on the condition of the locusts. While at times it is possible to move them by almost any means, yet on other occasions no measures are possible except to keep them off crops. The chief means adopted are smoke-screens and human activity. Boys beating and waving flags in some cases are effective in disturbing locusts, and it appears generally that the most effective, and particularly the waving of black flags, is more effective than noise, though good results are reported from the use of shrill sounds such as whistles.

Smoke screens may be similarly effective if properly constructed. A large area from an accompanying stream. A number of white small screens in a highly exposed area may be used to prevent them from reaching the crops, but will not result in a highly satisfactory method of protection. The most satisfactory method of protection is to use a large amount of smoke, which may be obtained by burning a large quantity of kerosene, or by using a large quantity of kerosene, or by using a large quantity of kerosene, or by using a large quantity of kerosene.

It is considered that the best form for a standard fire is a long fire, the long side parallel to the line of prevailing wind. This is because the fire will burn more evenly, and the heat will be more uniform. The latter method of building a fire is not so good as the former, and it is not so easy to control the direction of the wind in the time it takes to build a fire of long shape.

Personally Speaking...

THESE days most of our social life seems to be tied up with a few friends or acquaintances. At the moment, in spite of the fact that the girls trotting off after work in very attractive frocks (and a friend who has just come back from London within the past few months said he hadn't realised how smart women were out here in the circumstances)—to drink, say at the Club and to go dancing—may be at the Club which seems to be packing them in more than somewhat, and the programme, too.

Meanwhile, there's something new in view for the dancing enthusiasts, with a series of performances. Arrangements are well in hand for the "National and District Ball" to be held in the "Victoria and Albert" Hotel, London, on Saturday, September 10th, at 8.30 p.m. The programme is being compiled by the "National and District Ball" Committee, which is to be run on the lines of that well-known ball, the "Championnat".

The "National and District Ball" is a ball of half-hour dancing on the same lines as the "Championnat", with a new twist in the form of the "Championnat" style, giving to the dancers a new type of dance which is being called "Ballroom". He is being advised by the "National and District Ball" Committee, which is to be run on the lines of that well-known ball, the "Championnat".

COOK-COOK OUT!

NOWADAYS a number of wives get their husbands' ratings while the latter are sitting at home, or sometimes outside their door, when some patients with a view to being first in the queue for a corned-beef lunch contact their husbands, but it will not be so easy to do as it seems.

It is a pity that this corned beef and hash is not made up into small portions, so that it can be served to a large number of people. It is a pity that the corned beef and hash is not made up into small portions, so that it can be served to a large number of people.

"Patience"

THE first performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience" was given in London at the Old Vic Theatre, London, on Saturday, August 10th. It was a most successful performance, and the cast was well received.

The principal parts are played by Miss Doreen Keefe as Patience, Miss Joan Plowright as Mrs. Popham, and Miss Doreen Keefe as Patience.

He Met the Queen

NOT so very long ago I heard that A.B. Barry, who has just been in London, had met the Queen and the King at a concert at the Albert Hall. Barry was shown into the Royal Box by the Queen's valet, and he was introduced to the Queen and the King.

Barry then said that he had met the Queen and the King, and that they were very kind to him. He also said that he had met the Queen's valet, and that he was very pleased to meet him.

CANADA'S WAR TRANSITION

Canada has been referred to as the "Granary of the Empire" and armories of the Allied Nations, while still maintaining its place as one of the greatest producers of foodstuffs of all kinds for the armies in the field and for Great Britain.

POCKET CARTOON

As a result of the war the production of wheat and other food products in the Dominion has always produced a surplus, in excess of its requirements for the Dominion. The surplus is stored in granaries and shipped to the United States and other countries, where it is sold for the benefit of the Dominion.

LABOUR SHORTAGE: A farmer's main hobby for security is his food. It is a necessity for a farmer to have a surplus of food to store in granaries, but the present labour shortage is making this difficult. The farmer is having to use his own labour for his own food, and this is making it difficult for him to produce a surplus for the Dominion.

POST-WAR DEVELOPMENT IN NYASALAND
Amalgamation With The Rhodesias Discussed

As it Kenya there is Nyasaland, the only difference at the moment is that the Nyasaland Convention is an active body.

The 44th Session of the Convention has just been held in London. The President being Mr. G. G. S. G. Hadow of the Cape Province. The Association, among the Associations represented at the Convention, the Nyasaland Chamber of Commerce, the Nyasaland Agricultural Producers' Association, and the Nyasaland Council of Women.

The principal purpose of the Session was consideration of reports by sub-committees on post-war development. These committees were set up at the last Session and their job was to make a study of the situation from three aspects of post-war problems: (1) political; (2) economic; and (3) social. Officials members of the sub-committees were closely associated with the members of the Convention and formed part of them.

The sub-committee on economic development considered the following subjects: (1) the development of agriculture; (2) the Government which should be supported by strong unified representation; (3) appointments to Legislative Councils to be elected; (4) transfer of the capital from Zomba to Harare; (5) the development of the railway; and (6) the development of the road network.

The sub-committee on political development considered the following subjects: (1) the development of the constitution; (2) the development of the Government; (3) the development of the Legislative Council; and (4) the development of the Executive Council.

By a number of years the Trustees expressed the opinion that the standard of living was lower than in the other territories. The British produce three British pounds per acre, while the Rhodesias produce about three pounds per acre. The Rhodesias produce about three pounds per acre.

It was also pointed out that the Rhodesias produce about three pounds per acre, while the Nyasaland produce about one pound per acre.

The principal purpose of the Session was consideration of reports by sub-committees on post-war development. Methods And Aims Of Native Administration In The Reserves

No. 1 THE BROADEST LINES

(Written by K. GANDAR DOWER at the request of the Government of Kenya)

It is a very difficult task to attempt to describe in a few paragraphs the objects and methods of the Administration of the Kenyan native lands, which is exactly what is required in the Kenya public service.

A man selected by the government and sent by the government, but usually enjoys a considerable local following. The Government would probably prefer to have the system in some extent controlled by the Kenya public service.

Quality of Development A principle which is adhered to in the development of the reserves is that of local control. In the Kenya public service, this is known as the "local control" principle.

PEARS HAS BEEN CALLED TO MORE URGENT TASKS* THAN BEAUTY CARE

Just now you can't get Pearl Soap because the United Nations need certain of the ingredients that are used in the manufacture of Pearl. After the war, however, Pearl will be back again to resume its care of your complexion.

AN EXAMPLE OF THE WAR EFFORT OF THE UNITED NATIONS:

In July 1943 there was good reason to believe that British factories were turning out more munitions than any other country in the world in proportion to the population.

struggle to keep one's place in hand and amidst.
 We must be well prepared to take them. Moresby is not everything but money will be needed to make effective any plans there. The appeal which has been launched by the British Legion, and to which the British Empire Government of Kenya has his blessing last year, is an effective means of helping to ensure that when the problems arise there will be no lack of men who possess the knowledge and understanding ready and able to help. For the British Empire Government and Watten, unconcerned about race or color, are making a study of the experience. For many years here in East Africa it has been possible to find a man of the kind he heard and difficult. It is opportunities between the last war and this one have narrowed and his resources were slender. When this year is over—and indeed before that time—comes those opportunities and responsibilities which will have multiplied exceedingly and far beyond the needs of the Empire Government with as little as previously.
 So the Legion has turned to the African people for help. But this is no ordinary appeal. It is an appeal to a man of a serious reminder that though the British Legion may be the world's largest organization, its responsibility rests finally upon the shoulders of all of us to see that there is the willingness to do justly and generously by those who have been and are being freed themselves in distress and peace. So let us see to it with-out delay that we play our full part now.
