KENYA'S LACK OF PROGRESS IN AFRICAN DREAM

As there are no African members of the governing Council or the House of Assembly in the Kenya Cultural Centre, the Kenya National Theatre, I should like to express my disappointment in order to express African aspirations. I believe the proposal that the National Theatre should have the new resident director, Mr. J. M. J. Jones, who has been appointed as the first African director in Africa since the late 1940s, is a step in the right direction. The new director, Mr. J. M. J. Jones, who has been appointed as the first African director in Africa since the late 1940s, is a step in the right direction.

Letters to the Editor

Choosing a national flag

I VERY much enjoyed your feature which dealt with the choice of a national flag for Kenya. I am sure that the choice of a national flag for Kenya is a matter of great importance to the people of Kenya.

I think there are two main factors to be considered in the choice of a national flag for Kenya. The first is the flag's symbolism, and the second is the flag's practicality. The flag should be a symbol of the unity and progress of the people of Kenya, and it should be a flag that is easy to use and maintain.

The unfortunate situation of the National Theatre is a matter of great concern to the people of Kenya. The National Theatre is a symbol of the cultural aspirations of the people of Kenya, and it is a matter of great importance that it should be a theatre that is truly African in its spirit and in its content.

The African, however, has not yet been fully represented in the National Theatre. The National Theatre is a symbol of the cultural aspirations of the people of Kenya, and it is a matter of great importance that it should be a theatre that is truly African in its spirit and in its content.

On the eve of our first anniversary we are pleased to announce the opening of our new branch in VICTORIA STREET almost on the corner of Travin Road

GILT-EDGED SHARES GAINING

Hopes of Bank Rate cut

GILT-EDGED securities have further advanced since the London Stock Exchange yesterday on renewed buying and falling speculation of a rate cut in the near future. The British Stock rate cut, however, is not expected to be a selective demand and copper shares will not be the main beneficiaries.

Oil shares reacted after a firm start and closed on a balance. Rubbers and tea both closed on a balance.

STOCK OWNERS WILLIAMSON, London, yesterday said that the M3 movement, but not the M2 movement, is recommended by the committee. Also in the M3 movement of the year of 1948 which is £175,000,000, the M2 movement is £175,000,000.

GOVERNMENT BACKS POLICE RISE

Motion seeks pay in line with duties

FROM remarks made by Government speakers in the Legislative Council yesterday it is obvious that considerable thought has been given to the pay and terms of service of the Kenya Police.

Economics and land the main points

KANU's long-awaited election manifesto for independence and freedom was issued officially to the "East African Standard" yesterday, which will be formally released today. The main points in the development and agricultural policy, the economic reconstruction of Kenya will be one of Kanu's main aims. It will require that the means of production, distribution and exchange are under the best obtainable system. Assurances are given that both public and private enterprise, local or overseas, have a place in the Colony's development.

Land appropriation

"Roettlement shall not, at any rate, be at the cost of the high standard of agriculture already attained and to be continued," the manifesto said. "There may be necessary for appropriation of land from those who own large square miles, but there shall be compensation for property on the land in the case of such appropriation. Independence can be achieved by a united movement of which Kanu should be the vanguard. It is not yet too late to unite, for a progressive nation will be founded. Disunity will be an impediment for progress."

TREASURY BIDS AMERICAN FORD TAKEOVER BID

THE British Treasury has given the Ford Motor Company of Detroit permission to take over the complete ownership of its British subsidiary.

Treasury approval was required under exchange control regulations. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Selwyn Lloyd, told the House of Commons he had decided he would not be justified in withholding consent.

The permit company, which was established in 1947, has nearly 50 per cent of its subsidiary's share, has made a £1,000,000 bid for the subsidiary.

Mr. Lloyd said it was for the shareholders concerned to decide whether to accept the bid.
