While Foreign Ministers hope... U.S. generals speak their minds BIG WEAPONS IS SMALL WARS

Nato forces would use atomic bombs

As the Foreign Ministers of Britain, France and West Germany were holding American TV audiences of their papers for the maintenance of peace, the views of U.S. generals on the need for atomic weapons in "small wars" were released to Washington.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Supreme Allied Commander, had a preliminary to a Congressional sub-committee hearing on the view that his forces would use nuclear weapons to deter, or if necessary, to win, a significant situation in Europe.

The same committee of the House of Representatives Appropriations Subcommittee, headed by Rep. J. P. Wicker, chairman of the U.S. Air Force Strategic Air Command, has been working on the development of a certain type of small war.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, who has been in command of the Strategic Air Command since 1953, has been in the news for his views on the use of atomic bombs in "small wars".

Priceless shoes in city shop

By MELISSA

It was the first time I had ever seen a handkerchief being used as a shopping bag. I had seen handkerchiefs used as handkerchiefs, but I had never seen them used as shopping bags. I was in a shoe store in Georgetown, Guyana.

The handkerchiefs, which had a small pocket in the corner, were being used to hold the shoes. The shoes were being sold for a very low price, and the handkerchiefs were being sold for a very low price.

A special feature of these shoes is the decorative pattern on the side, which is made of a special material. The shoes are being sold for a very low price, and the handkerchiefs are being sold for a very low price.

A SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY WITH PAINFUL ENDING

By LEDA FARRAR

QUE rich wedding anniversary was approaching and the most married couples of the town were being invited to the occasion to add a little color to our conventional life.

The Mountains of the Moon, perhaps, in the distance, would be a very nice background for such an occasion.

Mr. Smith, however, would not do that. He would rather have a simple affair at home.

The Mrs. Smith, however, would not do that. She would rather have a grand affair at home.

The wedding was held at home, and it was a very simple affair.

South Africa's Budget

2d. off beer: Income tax reduced: Tax-free interest on post-war credits

BRITAIN'S SPENDING-SPREE: BUDGET

£295m. relief in election year

WOMPEN a plot of beer, a reduction of 2d. and 5d. in the lower rates of income tax, the standard 2 1/2 per cent tax-free interest on post-war credits, the introduction of two years for the same of repayment, are the features of a popular imagination in Britain.

In what was held to be the Government's last major Budget, the Chancellor of the Exchequer last night in a crowded and expectant House of Commons said he was giving away £295 million in tax relief, but he said he was not worried. This is the spending-spree Budget. The Chancellor estimated that expenditure for 1947-48 will be £2,310 million, or the equivalent of last year. Shortage will be met by a further 10 per cent increase in the year ahead, with considerable additional credits over an amount.

Concern at unemployment

The Government's concern over the level of unemployment was seen in his statement that, although it might be expected that most other industrial countries, such as the U.S.A., would be able to absorb their surplus production capacity, the Government was anxious to drive every person into productive employment. The national equipment and manpower was the estimate of the Government's production.

Income tax 2d. off

The standard rate of 40 per cent will be reduced to 38 per cent from 1948. The lower rates of 20 per cent and 10 per cent will be reduced to 18 per cent and 8 per cent respectively.

Purchase tax relief

The Government has announced a 10 per cent reduction in the rate of purchase tax on a wide range of goods, including household appliances, furniture, and other consumer goods.

Post-war credits

The Government has announced a 2 1/2 per cent tax-free interest on post-war credits, which will be available for a period of two years.

Beer duty

The Government has announced a 2d. reduction in the duty on beer, which will take effect from 1948.

Unemployment

The Government has announced a 5d. reduction in the lower rates of income tax, which will take effect from 1948.

Government spending

The Government has announced a 10 per cent increase in the year ahead, with considerable additional credits over an amount.

THE MEN BEHIND THE MEN BEHIND THE MACHINES

Today K.C.C. open get another highly technical, ultra-modern plant — a further step towards the improved supply of fresh dairy produce to the people of Kenya. Much has been said in the past about the new dairy. What of K.C.C. today? What is K.C.C. today? To most people K.C.C. is the dairy business, the label on a Tropicool or pound of butter, the specific strength of a tanning case. Behind these familiar symbols, yet an organization that is the veritable heart of Kenya's economy — Kenya Co-operative Creameries Ltd. (K.C.C.) is a force to be reckoned with. It has grown with the country and helped it to grow. The members of K.C.C. are the farmers of Kenya — over 2,500 experienced dairy producers with farms ranging from border to border. Up on the Athi Plains, in the foothills of the Rift, District, Ngong'ol, Nakuru, Laikipia, and the Nairobi area — throughout the Kenya Highlands and plains you will find the dairy farms of K.C.C. members. These are the men who produce for you daily milk, cheese, cream, butter and cream.

Today Kenya Co-operative Creameries Ltd. is a flourishing concern with creameries, factories and depots throughout Kenya. Of Kenya's Dairy Producers some 80% are K.C.C. members. Production is high. On the home market, K.C.C. dairy products are of a standard second to none and are increasingly enjoyed by the people of all East Africa. Abroad, K.C.C. products are to be found throughout the African continent and in the British Isles. It is a highly competitive world market, Kenya more than holds its own against such active producers as Australia, New Zealand and Denmark.

Mr. Dempster — present Chairman of the Company — speaking of K.C.C. progress in his speech at the 1956 A.G.M. summed up well when he said "we have to thank the loyalty and co-operation of our members and the considerable strides they have made in the quality of their cattle and the management of their herds."

ROADS OF 100 annual losses to city: Delegation may meet Minister

Councillor criticises 'smash and grab' policy

REDUCTIONS in road rates to finance revenue for the Greater London Council are being proposed to effect a saving of about £2,000,000 a year. The Council also has a budget of £20,000,000 a year—requiring an additional 200,000 cars per year.

Protesting at the council's monthly meeting against the Government's action, the chairman of the Finance Committee, COUN. C. G. GREYER, described it as a "complete and unadvised smash and grab" at the revenue of local authorities. The decision to raise the grant changes appeared to have been taken without consulting any local authority, he added.

The council accepted COUN. GREYER's resolution that a delegation should be appointed to call on the Minister for Local Government with a request that a meeting be arranged with the Government to discuss the proposed measures.

Treatment 'callous'

The Mayor, Ald. Mrs. Neatham-Clark, and the deputy chairman of the Finance Committee, Ald. H. BROWN, both criticized the reduced grant proposed. Ald. BROWN stated that it was "no other period in the council's history had it been treated so callously". The Mayor said she felt the Council's confidence in the Government had been completely destroyed.

Pointing out that there was no suggestion that the Government was "trading the rich to pay the poor", COUN. GREYER said the meeting that was proposed by the Government stood to gain an additional £20,000,000 a year in extra traffic licence revenue.

He warned that the reductions would completely nullify the effect of the grant changes and that the previous year's level would bring a large sum of cash into the council's hands, and that the city's capital would be increased to £100 million.

He also pointed out that the Government was failing to provide for the needs of the city's poor, and that the Council's income was being reduced by the Government's action.

'Easier line' may follow Adenauer

It is not a secret of the German Government's policy towards the British Government that it is prepared to follow an "easier line" than it has done in the past.

The German Government's policy towards the British Government has been to follow an "easier line" than it has done in the past. This is particularly evident in the case of the British Government's proposal to reduce the grant to the Greater London Council.

The German Government has expressed its sympathy for the British Government's position, and has offered to provide financial assistance to the Greater London Council.

REPORT ON IMPROVED SITUATION

The report on the improved situation in the Greater London Council is a landmark document. It sets out the council's policy for the future, and provides a detailed account of the council's activities over the past year.

New, far-reaching design developments on the VESPA 150

- ★ The new Vespa 150 (just arrived in Kenya) includes several technical refinements constituting a signal improvement in motor-cycle design.
- ★ A new type of coil-spring in direct communication with the transmission chamber reduces fuel consumption in all gear ratios.
- ★ A new design of piston rings improves sealing, while improving starting characteristics in all climates.
- ★ Torque at low running has been substantially increased, giving a very flexible "light" engine response that has been further refined.

The technically minded enthusiast will not fail to appreciate these advances embodied in the new specification of the Vespa 150

40th Anniversary of Aerial Post Office

First European air line to introduce medium jetliners

S. E. 210 'CARAVELLE'

Early pilot honoured

Francis Gaillard, the first pilot to fly a plane from Paris to London, is being honoured on the 40th anniversary of his flight. He was the first to fly a plane from Paris to London in 1919, and his flight was a landmark in the history of aviation.

THE BOSSQUET STORY

The day of the take-off, the day we met, clear and cold. The formation had just been assigned and already the first jetliners were sitting by the propellers of the big transport works, from where James Bossquet had just departed a few months earlier, they were awaiting a transport's border design. The transport's load was 1,000 lbs with a range of 500 miles.

Navigation

Provisions were with one exception on the day of the take-off. The strong ground made it necessary for me to navigate by the stars.

WORLD RECORD

In 1931 and 1932 Bossquet, with Maurice Bonin on board and flying a Blériot III, set a new world record, flying 5,075 miles and 4 1/2 hours to a closed circuit.

FIRST CAPTAIN ON BOARD AN AIRLINE AIRCRAFT

It was from Toulouse that on 16th February 1919 Bossquet piloted the first passenger-carrying aircraft. He was the first to fly a plane from Paris to London, and his flight was a landmark in the history of aviation.

Emergency Landing

On the 15th August in the same type of aircraft and accompanied by two passengers, Pilot-Lieutenant Charles and his observer, he flew to the first emergency landing in the history of aviation.

A Forman Gallois of the Airline

Paris-London marks its 100th anniversary. The first passenger-carrying flight was made on 16th February 1919.

Speculation on new Cunard ships: Allowance in design for NUCLEAR REACTORS FOR U.S. INDIAN bomber pilots admits guilt

British move to keep ahead of competitors

The two new liners which are to replace the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth on the Atlantic run may eventually be nuclear-powered.

Plans have already been put with the Scottish firm John Brown and Co., Clydebank, who built the Queen Elizabeth 2, on the construction of the two ships and shipping experts are speculating on what the cost will be.

When the Queen Elizabeth 2 and the British ship Queen Elizabeth 2 were built, the British shipyard was the only one in the world to build a ship to replace it. It was built in the form of a nuclear reactor, which was not made in any other shipyard. They are said to be smaller than their predecessors, although modern water-cooled nuclear reactors are thought to be able to carry more passengers.

Government still likely

Government think that the new reactors, which will take 10 to 15 years to build, will still be in conventional form, but that the designers will allow for a reactor to be installed, at least in the case of the Queen Elizabeth 2, at a later date.

The cost of the new ships would be about $100 million, but the cost of the reactors would be about $25 million. The British Government is expected to take the form of a subsidy, which would cover the cost of the reactors. In recent years British industry has been heavily subsidized, but the British Government is expected to take the form of a subsidy, which would cover the cost of the reactors.

Council's 'grave concern'

The British Council, which is the British Government's main body for promoting British interests abroad, has expressed its "grave concern" over the proposed construction of nuclear reactors on the Queen Elizabeth 2.

Recession in U.S. not over

RUSSIAN ACCLUSES AMERICA

A prominent Moscow newspaper has accused the United States of being the cause of the present economic depression in Russia. The paper, 'Pravda', in a recent issue, stated that the United States had imposed a trade embargo on Russia, which had caused the Russian economy to collapse. It further stated that the United States had also imposed a blockade on the Russian coast, which had prevented the Russian ships from receiving supplies. The paper concluded that the United States was the cause of the Russian economic crisis and that the Russian people were suffering as a result.
