GOVERNMENT METHODS OF ACCOUNTANCY.

Criticism by Colonial Auditor.

DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING REPLIES TO QUERIES.

Accounting Efficiency of the Colony Impaired.

Following repeated requests by the Elected Members of the Legislative Council, the Government has agreed to the publication in future of the annual report of the Colonial Auditor. The report for the year 1927 was laid on the table of the House yesterday.

This report states that the accounts have generally been kept and rendered in a satisfactory manner, but a number of criticisms are made regarding the system and methods of rendering returns.

The chief criticism is that in regard to the difficulty experienced by the Auditor in getting replies to queries. The report states that numerous instances have occurred where ten or more reminders have failed to elicit a reply, and adds that the large number of queries and replies received by the Auditor has led to the impression that such queries may be put aside to deal with at a later date, and when convenient, will take some time to attend to.

A long list of outstanding queries dating back to the year 1923 is appended to the report, while the Auditor states that considerable progress has been made in the resolution of outstanding queries. He also states that the impression that such queries may be put aside to deal with at a later date, and when convenient, will take some time to attend to.

A SERIOUS SUGGESTION.

PREMIER LEAVES ON HIS HOLIDAY.

Enthusiastic Reception at Lismouth.

HIS NATIVE TOWN.

(BY WIRELESS.) Mr. MacDonald, the new Premier, started from London last night for his holiday in Lismouth which is a fishing village and a health resort just north of Edinburgh.

Everyday life at Lismouth was suspended. The whole town turned out to give a rousing welcome to the new Premier. Political opinions were forgotten in a general desire to honour the man who had risen to the highest office in the State yet retained his love for his native shore and kept it old friends alive.

An official reception was held outside the station. In a speech of welcome the Provost said: "May your name go down to posterity as a great Premier who made peace possible among the nations of each."

THE SOUTH AFRICAN ELECTIONS.

Early Returns of the Polling.

S. A. P. VICTORIES.

(THE SOUTH AFRICAN AGENCY.)

Cape Town, June 12. The general election to fill 148 seats in the South African Legislative Assembly are proceeding today. The result is doubtful, partly owing to the creation of 15 new constituencies and also the effects of the split in the Labour Party, one section which under Colonel Croxall remains allied to the General Heritage's Nationalist (Government) Party, while the other under Mr. Madley late Postmaster-General seceded therefrom. The South African Party led by General Smuts is the official opposition.

The state of the parties in the last Assembly was Nationalists 68, South African Party 54, Labour 17, and Independent 1. All nine candidates returned unopposed were followers of General Smuts.

The main political issue in the hands of the native population in which connection General Heritage has made radical proposals.

Minister Defeated.

The state of the parties at midnight were: South African Party 27, Nationalist Council 27, Labour (National Council) 17, Mr. T. Boydell, Minister for Labour has been defeated at Greyville, Durban.

Mr. Boydell was a Creweville Labour candidate, and was opposed by National Committee and S. A. P. candidate. Mr. Creweville, Minister of Finance, and leader of the Creweville section of the Labour Party, has been returned for Durban.

realised from a visit which, although hurried, would have a great effect upon the future of Kenya.

Sir Samuel Wilson.

Sir Samuel replying agreed that he had not had the time he would like to have had to thoroughly traverse Kenya and to find the first three days of next week, had a fair opportunity to gather impressions and find out there was a great future ahead of this country. He would like to have had the time to spend some months in the East Coast as he had in Sierra Leone, Gambia, the Gold Coast and so on. But this had been denied him and now he was hurrying back to make his report to the new Secretary of State for the Colonies. He Sir All's reference to the Coast. Personally he did not feel he had not met so hot as he might expect experience things, added Sir Samuel, said laughter.

One thing he would say. Looking round this wonderful Port of Mombasa he could not but be amazed at the immense developments ahead. As the country grew so fast, the port, the port of a country was always a good index of the growth of a country and here, in this splendid harbor which would be one of the greatest if not the greatest in all East Africa there were ample evidences of the growth and greatness of Kenya.

Dwelling on a personal note, Sir Samuel said he would like to take this opportunity of congratulating Sir All upon the signal honour conferred upon him by His Majesty. He had heard much of what Sir All had done for the Coast. And he was glad that the distinction Sir All had well merited.

Following a tea which served and greatly enjoyed. Sir All rose to welcome the guest of honour from such a distinguished member of the permanent Government staff at Home and looked forward to fruitful results. Unfortunately, Sir Samuel did not sufficient time to visit thoroughly one of the most interesting of all the places in East Africa—the Kenya Coast. Sir All, turning to Sir Samuel, sketched in humorous vein the alleged differences that had, for so long, existed between the Coast and the Hinterland. "But," exclaimed the Lwalil, said laughter, "the Coast has won. For, while we have never had to go to the Highlands to build houses to keep ourselves cool, the people of the Highlands have had to come to the coast to build houses to keep themselves warm."

Sir All expressed the view that in no part of Kenya was there so much more productive than that of the Coast. He, during his many years at the Coast had marked the improvements made by Government but much remained to be done in regard to communications. Sir All concluded by once again welcoming his distinguished guests and expressing the hope that excellent results would materialise from a visit which, although hurried, would have a great effect upon the future of Kenya.

Entertainment.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"Vaudeville," the film which is being shown at the Theatre Royal, has been proclaimed by London critics to be absolutely unique in its construction. It is the story of the small time aerial performers who suddenly obtain great fame and success, with disastrous results. The film is unique. There are several character actors on the film today, plays the leading role. He is supported by the beauty and art of Lya de Puilly. Some of the scenes of the aerial feats are amongst in their realism and skill, while the direction of the whole film is unique. There are stunts and games and tense watching drama, with the genius of Jennings dominating the whole film.

LYRICO HALL.

Really good "book-actor" faces with many nervous stunts and some clever comedy work all help to make "Alta Boy," which is being shown at the Lyrico Hall, a most amusing film. The action is rapid all through and an amusing situation follows another so quickly that interest is never allowed to flag. The story is that of a reporter called Monte Mide who is the hero of the newspaper office in which he works. The star reporter who is in love with the same girl decides to make a fool of him on April 1, and sends him to interview a man who has had the baby kidnapped, and is racing against the paper for their comments. The situations which arise while Monte is searching for his story, including some very amusing scenes in a hotel where he unobtrusively disposes of a bottle of biological liquor, provide Monte Banks with more scope for his undoubted talents than he has been the case in most of his previous pictures. The settings and photography are good, whilst the unanticipated happenings keep the spectators on the pin tip. The supporting cast include, Miss Carr, Virginia Bradford and Virginia Pearson.

It is suggested that Sir All meant to convey that the Imperial Government if they did appoint a High Commissioner that they should maintain a staff, include, where there was no level and sandy.

This concluded the formal proceedings. Sir All, Sir Samuel and party leaving the table and the guests seizing the opportunity to walk round the beautiful grounds preparatory to leaving. Several of the guests took the opportunity to have a few words with one or other of the eminent visitors.

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT.
 Mombasa, June 11.
 The beautiful grounds of the Hon. Sir All Bin Salim has been the scene of many charming and historic functions but the addition of one may except the visit of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, has such an interesting function taken place at the residence of Sir Samuel and Lady Wilson were entertained to the top of the 200 invitations had been issued and practically every prominent member of the European, Indian and Arab communities were present while among the distinguished guests, were the Hon Mr S. S. Saeed and Mr. Kumru, the President of the East African Indian National Congress.

Sir Samuel and Lady Wilson, accompanied by the Provincial Commissioner and other officials, arrived about 4.30 and took their place at the table reserved for them. With them sat down Mr Justice Sheridan and Mrs. Sheridan, Mr. Ballward, the Executive Director of the permanent Government staff at Home and looked forward to a fruitful results. Unfortunately, Sir Samuel had not sufficient time to visit thoroughly one of the most interesting of all the places in East Africa—the Kenya Coast. Sir All, turning to Sir Samuel, explained the Linnæus, and laughed. "The Coast has won. For while we have never had to go to the Highlands to build houses to keep themselves cool, the people of the Highlands have had to come to the coast to build houses to keep themselves warm."

The speaker concluded by thanking his host again for affording him such a splendid opportunity of meeting such a representative gathering of Mombasa people. Such opportunities as had been afforded him of visiting Kenya should be given to as many members of the Colonial Office as possible. The more they could come and see things for themselves, the better.

At the conclusion of Sir Samuel's remarks Sir All referred to the presence in their midst of a great and distinguished speaker. Mr. Saeedi who had been co-operating with Sir Samuel Wilson was with them that day.

Mr. Saeedi who was greeted with considerable applause briefly replied. He said he appreciated very much, indeed, being present there that day, and thanked Sir All for including him among the guests and giving him this excellent opportunity of meeting so many well-known people.

Mr. Kumru, on being invited by Sir All to speak, suggested that he might be permitted to paraphrase the message of Sir All's remarks on Kenya and the Coast. He might be allowed to REDUCED PRICES.

 Following a discussion at the recent Pig Industry Conference we have decided—
 (1) To reduce the price of prime quality Bacon 50c by 5 cents, making 50 cents per lb. dead weight from Saturday, May 15th next.
 (2) To reduce our price for Bacon by 15 cents per lb. from May 15th next.
 We are satisfied that Retailers will give corresponding advantage of these lower prices which are quoted as a maximum of concession.

KENYA LAND BANK BILL.

Report by the Select Committee.

MINORITY VIEWS BY CAPTAIN WARD.

Recommendations Regarding Control of the Organisation.

The report of the Select Committee appointed by Legislative Council to consider the provisions of the Bill to establish and to regulate the management and control of a Land and Agricultural Bank, was submitted to Council this week.

The report deals at some length with the suggested control of the Bank and have recommended a number of amendments to the original Bill. The chief amendment recommended is that of the appointment of a Secretary as the chief executive officer, in place of a Director, without a seat on the Board.

Captain H. F. Ward, one of the members of the Committee, did not sign the report, on the ground that he opposed the whole principle of the Bill. He submitted two memoranda setting out his views on the subject, which memoranda are published as an addendum to the report.

QUESTION OF CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES.

Many amendments to the Land and Agricultural Bank Bill appear in a report prepared by a Select Committee of the Kenya Legislative Council, appointed to consider the measure in detail. This report was laid on the table of the House this week.

Evidence was taken by the Committee from representatives of the three commercial banks in the Colony and from several business men while a memorandum was submitted by Mr. T. B. Harold, the Managing Director of the Land and Agricultural Bank of South Africa.

Government Control.

At the outset the Committee receives a suggestion made to it by one witness that the principle of the Land Bank should not be controlled entirely by Government should be abandoned in favour of a bank to be formed by the joint action of the commercial banking and co-operative societies and the Committee unanimously recommended that detailed study of the coordination of legislation in this regard should be given priority, dealing with co-operative societies.

Bank Control.

Another question which presents a considerable debate was that of the status of the Director of the Bank. It was held that the others that he should simply be an official of the Bank without a seat on the Board. The deletion of some of the functions of the Bank originally contemplated in the Bill and the desirability of securing without loss of efficiency an advanced stage of the development have led to the recommendation of the appointment of a secretary in place of a director as the chief executive officer of the Bank without a seat on the Board.

The Committee consider further that the Chairman of the Board should be appointed by the Government on such recommendation as the Governor may determine. The Committee also holds that in order to emphasize the independent status of the Land Bank his official should not ordinarily be subject to the appointments conditions of the Colonial Civil Service.

So far as the remuneration of officers in the public service who might be members of the Board is concerned, the report states that the Committee decided that they should be paid such fees as the Governor might, on the advice of the Board determine.

The Committee do not consider that the size of the Colony warrants the creation of the local boards suggested by the Bill. In South Africa, it is added, such local boards operate in respect of provisions and are not appointed for minor divisions.

The Committee considered various and conflicting views as to the desirability of Members of the Legislative Council being members of the Board but one of the opinions held is not a desirable definitely to exclude such persons by law. But they feel that such inclusions, inclusions who have been in prison, and directors, managers or members of the staff of any other banking or money-lending institution should be declared ineligible for membership of the Land Bank Board from the start.

Priority of Advances.

There was considerable criticism of the provisions of the Bill in regard to the priority of advances. It was held by some witnesses that the security of a good charge in favour of the Bank was "sufficient" to secure the priority of advances and contained an undertaking with the rights of existing securities. The Committee, however, resisted this in their opinion the use of such a security for such purposes for the purpose of financing and dipping assets to justify the provision of special facilities for recovery.

The majority of the Committee are of the opinion that the value of land upon which financing and advances are made is enhanced by such improvements. In order, however, to remove any misapprehension on this point, the Committee recommended that advances under certain classes of the Bill should be confined to the purpose of ordinary farming and agricultural purposes of the Farming and Cattle Raising Ordinances.
 Captain H. F. Ward, who was a member of the Committee, opposed the retention of the clause creating such charges as both illegal and immoral.

The Report of the Committee recommends the deletion of the clause which provides for the opening by the Bank of a Loan Redemption account. They feel that to require promissory advances to meet interest but contributions to a sinking fund would largely defeat one of the main objects of the Bank—that is to provide farmers with loans at as reasonable charges as possible. Moreover the provision of such a sinking fund would operate unfairly in that it would enable future borrowers to obtain loans at a lower rate of interest than would be possible prior to the redemption of the debt.

Discretionary Power.

The Report adds that Capt.
 Ward found himself unable to sign the Report. In a memorandum (published below) he attacks the whole principle of the Bill which, the Committee point out, was agreed to by the Legislative Council when the second reading was passed and therefore the signatures of the Report merely confirm themselves with saying that they do not agree with Capt.
 Ward.

In regard to Capt. Ward's second memorandum (also published below) they are of the opinion that certain of the statements regarding the wheat and maize industries cannot be substantiated. Broadly they are not supported by the progress of the industries as revealed by the Agri-

... body sufficiently trained and experienced in the Colony available to take up the position of manager of the Bank under these conditions: it is highly specialized work, and it would be necessary to appoint a trained and experienced man from outside whose salary would cost the Land Bank something from £2,500 per annum plus 10 per cent. The Secretary of the Legislative Council, in evidence before the Committee, said that in other respects, that department in the Colony being so young there is no stable base upon which land values can be assessed, and that present-day land values generally speaking are based on the return secured by working the land. That great difficulties are attending the working the land is required to reduce the working expenditure to a higher level and so on. It will be argued that it is in the best interests of production in the colony to leave, for the present, the land in the hands of the supply of capital available for loans and mortgages for general use. The reduction of working expenditure, and so on, dependent upon the rate of interest, will be reviewed and the results produced. (c) Thirdly, if the Land Bank is to be a success, it must be able to look upon the present position as a general tendency towards making the land in the hands of the private lender and distribute the present position in the hands of the private lender to look upon the present position as a general tendency towards making the land in the hands of the private lender and distribute the present position in the hands of the private lender.

Government for capital in many other directions. For example, the Government will be called upon to make considerable sacrifices in the matter of duties, charges, and fees waived or reduced, as a prelude for in the present Bill, while the expenditure may be increased, particularly to provide for the maintenance of the Bill.

Second Memorandum.
"Since the final sitting of this Committee, I have been able to complete a close examination of the position in regard to production in the Colony, based upon the 'Agricultural Census, 1926' issued by the Department of Agriculture. It is a matter of some and approximately correct, it is revealed that the total industry of the Colony is not so much as established a case in regard to the margin between the cost of production and the price received for the products. Whether it can be maintained at a margin at the moment of peace is conjecture. Any comparatively small alteration in the cost of production, either through tariffs or railway rates, might well be sufficient to wipe out either one or both of the industries named."

"As to other settlement proposals of Government are, as I understand, based primarily upon the Department of Industries and Mining (about which latter industry I have not had opportunity to see). The Land Bank is primarily designed, as I understand it, to assist close settlement, it would be, if any deductions are correct, an act of kindness on the part of Government, and of exceptional cruelty towards the intended class of settlers provided for under the present Bill. I would prefer to see the Government, in the matter of closer settlement, adhere to the policy of the present Bill, rather than to the proposal of the present Bill, which is a matter of some importance. I would prefer to see the Government, in the matter of closer settlement, adhere to the policy of the present Bill, rather than to the proposal of the present Bill, which is a matter of some importance."

GOVERNMENT METHODS OF ACCOUNTING.

would be a step in the wrong direction.

Control of Expenditure.

Expenditure is controlled not only on the lines laid down in Colonial Regulations but by a system of "allocation vouchers" being issued for each month unless funds have been provided by proper authority. On those cases that no money whatever may be spent without the Governor's warrant, and therefore no expenditure is incurred after the expenditure has been incurred should be limited to small and essential expenses revealed when the accounts are made up. Special warrants for a total of some £10,000 were submitted about the 31st of December, 1927, which appear to justify some equity by Government as to whether more has been incurred, and the warrant submitted at the proper time before payment was made.

In many cases of local government in Kenya, the prior sanction of the Colonial Treasurer is not required, and the sanction was applied for as a result of audit queries.

Irregularity and Fraud.

One of the most important duties of a primary institution is to audit queries and representations, was practically non-existent throughout the year. Two clerks, one of them a European, were discovered in audit, and the definition of fraud, due to serious cases in the custody of cash, is being made good by the officer responsible. It was reported on one of these cases it was in the opinion of the Government that there was too great a temptation to regard such irregularities as a substitute for, rather than as supplementary to, departmental supervision. An amount of £100,000 has been recovered as a result of audit queries during the year.

Arrival of Revenue.

The present returns are submitted on a satisfactory and in most cases represent a comparison with the "budget" estimates rather than a statement of actual receipts, which should be accompanied by details.

In the case of the Land Registration Court on 31st December, 1927, an amount of £12,183,920 has been outstanding, with the result that the Government has been obliged to induce holders to take up their titles with payments of fees, but no further progress can be brought to bear upon such holders. As the fee is voluntary, it is not possible to estimate the amount in question, but it is reported as a serious source of revenue.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that the District Officers are in a position to obtain a clear view of the collection of fines. One of the most serious sources of revenue is on stamps, which £2,000 has also been paid. This is a satisfactory decrease on last year's figure of £11,000.

Collection of Revenue.

Some two years ago a card index system was instituted to keep a record of all revenue liable to be collected. It has been brought to the notice of Government that this system is quite ineffective owing to the lack of proper supervision and the difficulty of keeping record of taxpayers who move from one district to another. It was agreed during the year, at a meeting between the Treasurer and the Auditor, that the cards should be kept for the whole country, but nothing appears to have been done to give effect to this proposal.

The proposal for a check at headquarters by both Treasury and Audit, of revenue collected at outstations has not yet materialised, due to the complexity of the system. It is reported that the Treasury and Audit departments are carrying out a detailed check on receipts by sub-stations as a result of audit queries.

Revenue Accounts.

Examination of stores in all Government departments throughout the year has been carried out methodically with the exception of the Department of Public Works and Engineering. An examination of the accounts of the Department of Accounting is most interesting, and the Government has been obliged to make a statement of the Department's Financial Report.

The discrepancy between ledger balances and balances ascertained by the subject of numerous queries and answers.

Financial Government Estates.

Detailed Statement of Receipts—It was suggested that the sub-head, Furniture for the Buildings, £20,000, under Public Works Extraordinary, should be divided into the following: (a) Furniture for Government Houses, Schools, and Government Houses, £10,000; (b) Furniture for other new houses and buildings. This was agreed to, but, as seen on page 22 of the Treasurer's Financial Report, no such division has been made. The actual amounts of expenditure on the following: (i) Furniture for Government Houses, Nairobi, and other new houses and buildings, £2,500,000; (ii) Furniture for other new houses and buildings, £2,500,000.

Loans and Expenditure.

It was brought to the notice of the Government, in connection with the accounts for 1926, that of the same date in the balance sheet that year, amounting to £2,000,000, less than £100,000 (less than 10 per cent.) represented realisable assets, the balance being unsecured loans which would be converted into loan securities when the loan was raised; while of the liabilities £1,277,000 had to be met whether the loan was raised or not, the remaining items being loan funds furnished (1) debt by the Treasury to the Railway, £1,000,000, and the surplus of £277,000. An examination of the Statement of Assets and Liabilities on the 31st December, 1927, reveals a very similar position; but the feature will disappear during 1928, both instalments of the loan having been seasonally raised (£2,000,000 in November and £2,000,000 in May).

Unallocated Stores on hand (200,000) has been credited by £10,000. This is mainly due to the loan programme in hand, and the consequent necessity of maintaining larger stocks.

Loan Expenditure.

In view of the size and complexity of the loan programme, it was suggested by the Department during the year that the statement of loan expenditure required by Colonial Regulations No. 200 (2) should be prepared in a form which would show the work on which loan funds had been spent, and the amount of the loan which was repaid. This statement was prepared as suggested, and the following is a summary of the results of the Treasurer's Financial Report.

The Treasurer's Report.

On the 31st December, 1927, in support of the accounts of previous years the only one of an amount of £1,000,000 in October, 1927, to the Treasurer's report. This was in support of full salaries for some three months prior to the commencement of the year of Colonial Regulations No. 200, which has not yet been included, and the contribution to the expenditure in the Account for the year 1927-28. The only one issued on the 7th July 1928.

Irregularities were reported to the effect of the District Officer, King of Africa, and the loss of stores amounting to £20,000, have been written off. The amount of the loss of stores is £20,000, and the amount of the loss of stores is £20,000.

A number amount of £10,000 has been recovered from the Treasurer's report.

Unsecured Loans.—Less than £100,000 was stated on the balance sheet in 1926, and the balance sheet in 1927, representing realisable assets, the balance being unsecured loans which would be converted into loan securities when the loan was raised; while of the liabilities £1,277,000 had to be met whether the loan was raised or not, the remaining items being loan funds furnished (1) debt by the Treasury to the Railway, £1,000,000, and the surplus of £277,000. An examination of the Statement of Assets and Liabilities on the 31st December, 1927, reveals a very similar position; but the feature will disappear during 1928, both instalments of the loan having been seasonally raised (£2,000,000 in November and £2,000,000 in May).

Unallocated Stores on hand (200,000) has been credited by £10,000. This is mainly due to the loan programme in hand, and the consequent necessity of maintaining larger stocks.

Loan Expenditure.

In view of the size and complexity of the loan programme, it was suggested by the Department during the year that the statement

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1929.

The Auditor's Report.
The official report on the audit of the public accounts of Kenya for the year 1927 was laid on the table of the Legislative Council yesterday and a promise was given by Government that the Report will be made public every year in future. The circumstances which gave rise to the demand this year for publication of the Auditor's Report will be well known to the public. This demand has been fully justified by the document although not altogether in the direction probably expected. The Auditor finds himself in the position of being able to inform the Director and Colonial Audit that throughout the year the work of the Department has been hampered and the accounting officer of the Colony impaired by the difficulty of getting replies to ordinary correspondence within reasonable time, and by a complete disregard of the Colonial Regulation which calls for prompt attention to audit queries. The strongly worded comment on the extraordinary delays which have occurred culminates in the statement that the large number of cases in which Auditor has had to supply new copies of queries "justifies the suggestion that any query which is difficult or embarrassing to answer is deliberately destroyed. That serious charge against the financial methods of the Colony is one that demands an answer. Its general character colours the whole of the report, and it revolves the whole range of the Service from the Excellency the Governor to the most junior head of a Department. The Auditor's Report casts a serious reflection on the Treasurer of Kenya and is from his Department that the country is entitled to expect an explanation. The Treasurer is the link between the Auditor and the heads of departments; he has at his command special powers under Colonial Regulations to enable him to enforce all requirements and he has never hesitated to ask regularly for increases in the Treasury Staff. We are now told that he has made a very strong effort to remedy the state of affairs—an admission that the position was unsound—but the "prevailing impression" still is that audit queries can be postponed until a convenient time, and mood. The creditable exceptions are, the Posts and Telegraphs and the Customs Departments. Since the date of the Report the P.W.D. staff has been improved on the accountability side but this big spending department does not come out well in the revelation of financial slackness. The fact that nearly 41,000 of improperly spent money was uncovered during 1927 as a result of audit queries, added to the other criticisms made by the Auditor will cause the public to be heartily glad that their Elected Members so thoroughly fought for publication of this document. Publication will strengthen the hands of the Auditor and he will have the full support of public opinion in his determination to seek clearance by the Kenya Government of proper financial principles in its handling of public money. In too many directions the Returns are not submitted when due; excesses are paid before the authority is obtained; purchases are made without prior sanction; the several Reports, defalcations by Civil Servants are not discovered until the Auditor finds them out; Revenue is in arrears; systematic disregard is shown in the search for incorrect accounts are not applied; outstanding revenue is left unbooked; and in other directions there are grounds for justification of the suggestion that audit inspections are regarded by some Departments as a substitute for, rather than a supplement to, departmental supervision." It is within the knowledge of the public, and it must be within the knowledge of the Government, that His Excellency the Governor of the Colony, Sir Edward Ormsby, was implicated by rumours which spread throughout the Colony. The explanation of an outstanding query in regard to his salary and the statement that the responsibility for answering that query rests, not here, but with the Colonial Office, will do much to dispel the unfounded statements which have been circulated, but the Auditor's comment in the failure of Government to adopt the suggestion for a proper allocation of money voted for finishing Government Houses provides an explanation of other criticisms which have come to our ears. We fail completely to understand why Government made a mystery of the Report, and why its publication was delayed solely by their refusal to publish the document. The worse the Report the more reason for its frank disclosure. The revelation of the slackness in financial methods of accountancy is grave enough and requires answer, but there is nothing sufficiently serious to warrant the grave impression created by the country by the implications of that refusal but there is quite enough to make the country sit up and think.

Fixation of Meter.
The matter of the fixation of a meter for Eastor was referred to the last session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce which was held at Mombasa. During yesterday's sitting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, Tanganyika Branch, Eastor on the Sunday following the second Saturday in April, all the Governments and the Federation of Chambers had been duly advised and acknowledged, and had been reserved.

THE LIBERAL BALANCE OF POWER.

How Mr. Lloyd George Intends to Use It.

A WARNING TO THE MINISTRY.

First Signs of Socialism, and its Career Ends.

Mr. Lloyd George, was unanimously elected Parliamentary Leader of the Liberal Party at a meeting at the National Liberal Club.

During the course of an address to the Members of Parliament he indicated the attitude of the Party towards the Government, emphasizing that the final word on all controversial issues rested with the Liberals.

He said that their course of action should be guided by national considerations, and their power should be used in a policy, frictions or party spirit. He stated, however, that the majority of the voters in the country had voted against Socialism and warned the Government that the very hour that the Ministry decides to become a Socialist administration, its career ends.

He appealed for solidarity in the Party in all its actions and indicated that in regard to the unemployment problem and foreign policy the Government would receive Liberal support.

THE PARTY'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Parliament. It is vital that we should act together. If we decide to abstain from voting and there are many occasions when it will be desirable to take part in a division as the issue may not be fairly stated to meet our own ends. In any case, it is important that we should obtain agreement. Mr. Lloyd George's address to the House of Commons will interest the Liberal members of the Ministry, and the coming declaration of the Ministry shall be a test of the Liberal policy, but we must declare the mandate of Government and the Ministry to pursue the Liberal policy. The very hour that the Ministry decides to become a Socialist administration, its career ends.

Foreign Affairs. Speaking at the Liberal and discontinue the Government's policy of maintaining relations with Russia.

Mr. Lloyd George said that the Government's policy of maintaining relations with Russia is a policy of appeasement, and that the Liberal Party should demand a more vigorous policy.

RUSSIAN TROOPS INVADE CHINA.

Reprisals for Recent Raids on Soviet Consulates.

MANCHURIAN WAR LORD READY.

INFORMED HEADQUARTERS THAT HE IS CAPABLE OF HOLDING THE FRONTIER.

Following the recent raids on Russian Consulates in Manchuria by order of the Nanking Government, Russian troops have crossed the frontier into Mongolia as a reprisal.

The Nanking Government is still seeking to use diplomatic channels, but at the same time, the Manchurian War Lord has stated that he is able to protect the border, and has 800,000 fully equipped men ready.

CHINESE PREPARATIONS. Russian forces are reported to be invading Mongolia as a reprisal for the recent Chinese raids on the Soviet Consulates in Manchuria.

The Manchurian War Lord Chang-Hsiao-Liang, son of the late Marshal Chang-Tso-Lin, has christened the Nanking Government advance guards as reported from Hailhar in Outer Mongolia, backed by Russian troops on the frontier.

The Nanking Government has received information from Connelia in Russia stating that Chinese Consulates have been surrounded by armed forces.

PROBLEM No. 1010.
"H" in the Country. Specially composed by Dr. J. S. Armstrong. (Original in the "E. A. Standard.") Black 4.

White 12.
White mates in two moves.
All the different mates are required to be given in order to obtain full marks on this problem which the composer has dedicated to the Chess Editor.

THE "INTERNATIONAL" TRIAL MATCH.

ISSUES were 4 FOURS.
An excellent number turned out on Saturday last to play in the trial match, preliminary to the annual Cup Match which will take place on Saturday 2nd August. Twelve boards were played, and some very interesting games were fought. The Indians lost the two, so the Europeans had the White pieces on the odd-numbered boards. The European Champion, Captain G. Tanner, engaged Barakat Ali, who is one of the strongest Indian players, on first board. Their game was the last to end, taking more than 50 hours, and Tanner lost. He had good drawing chances. Knight against Bishop in a sticky Pawn ending, but lost through an oversight which cost him the critical Pawn on which his chances hung.

On board No. 3, P. D. Patel lost a Rook quite early in his game with S. Manick and scores could not recover. This was one of the first games decided. Being an important piece down, the Indian could not show his power.
On board No. 2, Davidson Jr. put up a splendid fight against the very dangerous Kishorlal, and entered the final stage of the game with a winning advantage of two was their old favourite. The result is that they are not so liable to be driven into minor positions in the opening of the game. The Gambal players, hand sisters like Kataler, Spencer Palmer and Davidson, can now rush their men up and seize the best positions like they used to!

The teams in these friendly matches are not arranged in order of strength as in a Cup Match. Players of less experience have the opportunity of meeting stronger opponents. At the European team, Boston, Curlian, Menkin, Nepes, Spencer Palmer and Tanner, made a score of 4½ points out of 6, but all the others lost because the Indian team opposing us is of very strong strength, and their last is not nearly so weak as ours.

After the fray, the Indian team entertained their guests to an excellent little supper over which we fought our battles over again and listened to the merry speeches of the team captains. Mr. Amin and Spencer Palmer, which were briefly President, Mr. Ali Bux, who showed great satisfaction at the result of the match. Indian 7½, Europeans 4½, and the latter the match having covered the Press Cup in August.

SOLUTION Problem No. 1008 "H" in the journey. By P. B. Milner-Barry from the B.C.M. The problem is clearly the work of a player rather than a problem specialist, it has a natural setting and there is nothing sensational about the play. The key is ideal, 1. R-c2 B1 must go somewhere out of the Bishop's path, but a2 is a most unlikely place.

1. B-c2 P. P. Queens, etc. 2. B If B-15 or B-g8. 2. B-c2

C If B-15 2. BxR, etc. D If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. E If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. F If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. G If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. H If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. I If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. J If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. K If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. L If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. M If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. N If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. O If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. P If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. Q If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. R If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. S If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. T If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. U If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. V If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. W If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. X If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. Y If B-15 2. B-g8, etc. Z If B-15 2. B-g8, etc.

It caused more casualties than we have yet had but C. E. Ashman claimed 1. R-c4 ch. (defeated by Barb). "Tardava," favour 1. R-c4 (defeated by B-15 and it is an unproven 2. R-c4, hoping to mate at a4, because Black opens a gate by playing 2. F-d4 15. There are six other casualties amongst the variations. W. McDonald ("NB"), D. V. Wainwright, "Bogie," "Sango," T. L. Priestnall, and "Caphalana" all omit variation "D." The last two omit also variation "B." Priestnall gives a miss, but "Caphalana" incorrectly claims 2. F-d4 as White's reply to 1. F-15. It is clearly beaten by 2. P-d4! Only 16 out of all our competitors scored full marks.

COMMENTS
"Caphalana": A perfectly lovely problem. The mates are excellent and the whole thing reminds one of finely executed military manoeuvres.
"Tardava": "H" hindering hindling, brightens highly hedonic blisfully.
"Drem": I think I've settled it's little hash!
W. McDonald: Somewhat easier than previous three-movers but there are no variations here. (Yes, very nice, one of them caught you for the first time in the history of the Chess Club.)
P. L. Viner: 1. R-c4 very nearly caught me. (Post, Sir-Ch. Ed.)
D. V. Wainwright: Evidently one of Bismarck's. Poor old Black never knows whether the Bishop is going to break to his left or right, and when he tries to use his pad he gets a straight one from the Bishop. It is the hardest we have had yet.
W. A. Way: A clearance key; the actual key-square, being decided by the isochronous variation 1. B. It is a very good 7. B-c4 stops the threat nastily, and forces the second Rook sacrifice. (Yes, that is the "D" variation which six solves entirely overlooked.—Ch. Ed.)
G. Tanner: A pleasing little problem with a spectacular key. But for the easiest you have given us, the only difficulty being to decide where to park the Rook.
S. Manick: An instructive study quite like an end-game.
Much interesting matter. Problems and related comments from faraway solvers, have to be held over for lack of space.

THE "BAD" CHEQUE PROBLEM
Associated Chambers Put Forward a Scheme.
FORM FOR SIGNATURE

The Associated Chambers of Commerce have decided to introduce a form for signature for use in the case of people who are not known when they tender cheques, as it is hoped that in this way it may be found possible to reduce the number of bad cheques which are passed.

The Executive of the Association drew up a form as the result of a resolution passed at the last ladies' meeting. Any person paying by cheque may be asked to sign one of these forms which states that they have sufficient funds in the Bank to meet requirements. The Executive are of the opinion that the Banks should be requested to advise cheque as well as payees when cheques are returned B.D.

Mr. A. O. Tumbali (Vice-President) asked the Associated Chambers of Commerce committee to support the recommendations of the Executive. They had consulted a number of people before coming to their decision and business men were asked to take cheques from people they did not know. If one of the suggested forms had been signed and the cheque was returned B.D. the case became a criminal one practically at once. This it was hoped would help to reduce the number of B.D. cheques.

It is also believed that the Banks could help enormously. It was a common practice for a man who wished to pass B.D. cheques to leave a few shillings in the Bank and then to go elsewhere and pass a number of cheques. Under the existing scheme of the I.P.C. if a man said that he thought he had enough money in the bank to cover the cheques that would probably be accepted. The Bank's notification to a drawer could be regarded as evidence.

It is suggested that the Association should write to the three Banks asking them to notify the drawers as well as the payees.

Scheme Worth a Try

Mr. G. A. Iyam (Hon. Treasurer) announced the motion although he said he was not very sanguine as to the results. Nevertheless he would like to see it tried. He thought it would be

DEFINITION OF INCREASED CONTRIBUTIONS.

In reporting the action taken upon resolutions passed at the February session of the Association of Chambers of Commerce the Secretary at Thursday's sitting of the Association stated that the attention of the Kenya Government had been drawn to the matter of the E. A. Trade and Inflation Bonus. With regard to the resolution urging for an increase in the contribution made by Tanganyika, the Tanganyika Government had been informed of the matter.

A reply had been received from the Tanganyika Government stating that the question of increasing the contribution was receiving their attention.

It was proposed by Major Pereira (Mombasa), seconded by Mr. Dargam (Nairobi), and carried unanimously, that the matter should be laid over until the next session of the Association.

necessary to go a good deal further than they were suggesting to get some of the people who tried to pass B.D. cheques, and quoted an experience which he himself had had.

Mr. T. A. Wood (Nairobi) said that there was one good point about the suggestion. If a form was handed to a stranger to sign and he demurred there would be an indication given. It was often necessary to accept cheques as people could not carry large sums of money, and there were too many native thieves.

Mr. Tumbali's resolution was carried unanimously.

DRIVER'S FATIGUE.

SCOPE FOR IMPROVEMENT WITH REGARD TO SEATING FOR CONTROLS.

USERS FAVOURING THE "BESIDE ENGINE" POSITION.

Of late years the drivers of industrial machines, both goods-carrying and passenger types, have received a great deal more consideration on the hands of body-builders than in the past. With their driving seats now often completely or almost completely enclosed, they have protection from the sun's rays comparable with that afforded to the drivers of private cars. But there is still scope for improvement in many respects. The arrangement of the driving seat relative to the controls, particularly, though not only, in public passenger vehicles.

The gear lever, for instance, is often too far away or awkwardly placed, and the constant use of it that is essential is conducive to unnecessary fatigue, which results from the slowness of the driver and consequently upon his skill and judgment. The steering wheel and the clutch and brake pedals, too, are often in positions rendering them awkward if not difficult to operate with precision, which again induces fatigue earlier in a spell of duty than should be the case. Fatigue is to be avoided as far as possible in the interests of all concerned, because a tired driver can hardly fail to be a bad driver, for the time being.

Seats for Quick and Brakes.
It is questionable, however, whether it is necessary to go as far in reducing driving fatigue as have the makers of a new bus chassis recently introduced in America, which is provided with a servo device, actuated by compressed air, to operate the clutch. The latter is a component that can be and often is made operable with ease by direct pedal operation; it is only a matter of design and leverage. On the other hand, a servo device is highly desirable for brake operation; it is standard now on many bus and coach chassis, and, in my opinion, there is almost equal need for it on heavy goods carriers, especially those that are used mainly in town services.

Braking is one of the most tiring processes of driving heavy vehicles, and it is just as important that the driver of a lorry should not suffer undue fatigue as the bus or coach driver. Steering is, of course, another tiring operation with heavy vehicles, and it is satisfactory to note that the cam type of steering gear is being increasingly standardised by industrial motor as well as in heavy-duty car manufacturers. It is easier to operate than worm gearing, can be used with increased leverage without drawback, and does not develop backlash so quickly.

The Forward Driving Position.
The "beside engine" position for the driving seat and controls of industrial chassis is obviously tiring in favour among users. Originally it was viewed with disfavor by operating engineers as distinct from the managers of transport departments, for although it enabled the latter to get more room body space without increased overall length, the operating engineers experienced added difficulties when engine repairs and adjustments were called for, owing to the relative inaccessibility of many parts. Of late, however, many engines have been designed expressly for the forward driving position, which infers that all the components needing periodical attention (pump, sparking plugs, carburetor, valves, water pump, etc.) are located on the accessible side of the engine, and are accessible by the mere raising of the bonnet on that side, or by the removal of an easily detachable access panel of the body or cab.

Further "refinements" in this connection are the quickly detachable cap of the Albon forward-drive model, which can be lifted intact when an engine overhaul is needed, and the Loers and Pagefield "dismountable" engine, the latter being fitted to the chassis in a way as to allow it to be drawn forward on to a wheeled "hobby" or framework after a few bolts have been removed. But, above all other factors, the vastly increased reliability of modern engines has justified the forward drive.

New Special Purpose Chassis.
A distinct novelty in design is evident in a new type of chassis to carry 2 1/2 ton loads which has just been introduced by the Four-Wheel Drive Lorry Co. The object of the design is to provide a vehicle that can be manoeuvred in confined spaces where loading facilities necessitate a small turning circle. In this case the vehicle as a whole can be turned in a circle of no more than 17 feet diameter, and yet the body space is sufficient to provide ample accommodation for many classes of use.

The driver's seat and engine are located over a small rear wheel, the latter serving for steering, but the drive is taken through the front wheels, which are under the body. The radiator is at the extreme rear end. A possible advantage is that the driver's view of the road ahead must pass over the body and its load, and as it is impracticable to mount his seat in a very elevated position the height of the body and load must be restricted. But for heavy and compact goods and for services in and about docks and such places this chassis should have a distinct sphere of usefulness.—"The Glasgow Herald."

Stray Thoughts of a Pilgrim.

The "East African Standard" has arranged for this article under the heading of "Stray Thoughts of a Pilgrim." The following is the first part of the ordinary life of a pilgrim in a study and helpful way leaving it to those who are clear thinkers such as in the minds of his readers.

XIII. A NEW LIFE OF JESUS OF NAZARETH

Whether the tide of religion is really at a low ebb to-day, as we see often told, or not, I am sure we do not doubt that Jesus Christ himself holds the field as a dominating figure and is challenging the attention of people in every corner of the world. We have now Indians, Japanese, and even Moslems are most enthralled by the Gospel story, even though they have not the slightest desire to become Christians.

And in Europe the life of Jesus has been presented to us in recent years from a surprising number of different points of view. Papist, Catholic, Socialist, Jew, and the wonderful study of the carpenter and preacher sent by God to be the Saviour of the world. An English literary, Mr. Middleton Murry has drawn a vivid human portrait of our Lord. An able historian, inevitably one-sided but with much valuable local and historical colour, has come from the pen of Dr. Klaus-Gobler. The "socialist" life of Christ" by a Canadian Pastor, Dr. Peterson Smith, has been appreciated over and over again. And now the most distinguished religious thinker that the English speaking world possesses, Dr. Charles Gore, has joined the ranks and set into our hands, as he describes his purpose in writing it, "a fairly long and complete image of Jesus, as he lived and taught, expressed in modern terms and on a critical basis." It is an admirable and well-proportioned work, from the point of view of a trained scholar, with his background of wide knowledge, and it forms one of the volumes of the Home University Library of Modern Impressions of it have already been made in two months. It is clear that it is being widely read, and it is to be warmly recommended to all who wish to know the Jesus who was, rather than the Jesus who is only half-known.

One-Sided Teaching. Beginning with a very useful chapter on the historical background, Dr. Gore tells the story of Christ's life as he finds it in the Gospels, without embellishment, telling it from the early days of the popular mission in Galilee, through the growing opposition of the Jewish religious leaders which forced Jesus to concentrate on the training of an inner circle of disciples to carry on his work afterwards, up to the climax of the crucifixion. It shows how inadequate and one-sided many modern theories and presentations of the person and teaching of Christ have been, and in a final chapter describes how the faith of the Apostles and the Church afterwards in Jesus as the Son of God was based on their conviction that He had risen from the dead and ascended to glory. Perhaps the most impressive sections of this thought-compelling little book are those in which the writer, with a prophet's insight, expounds the teaching of the Master. Great emphasis is laid on the message of the Kingdom, that social message of brotherhood and righteousness which the modern world needs.

Human Nature. As an illustration of Dr. Gore's purpose in helping us to see how our Lord's life applies to us today we may consider the passage dealing with His crucifixion. "In the Apocalypse the city where Jesus was crucified is identified mystically with Sodom and Egypt, which means that it is the worldly city wherever that appears. That is the truth. Men being what they were and are, the crucifixion of Jesus, when it occurred, had a certain inevitability. Christian Europe has often imagined that the Jews who crucified Jesus to be crucified were abnormally wicked people. But that is not so. He had challenged the Pharisees to change their fundamental ideas and methods in matters of religion; and when his high ecclesiastical benediction was ready to accept this challenge from a "mere layman" No one who watches human life on the large scale in history has denied that the motives which determined the crucifixion of Jesus are not common human motives, and that in truth the city where Jesus was crucified "is the worldly world all over."

THEATRE ROYAL.
"Seven Keys to Baldpate," the screen adaptation of George M. Cohan's successful play, being shown at the Theatre Royal for the latter part of this week. The story is of a young author who having nearly defaulted in the completion of a novel on account of having spent the whole of a holiday sending radio messages to his fiancée, the publisher's daughter, determines to try and write a book in ten days. For this purpose he writes to Baldpate, Inc. to expose to find out whether he really does find provides a great deal of amusement. Having been given the only key in existence which will permit of entrance to the line in field, he is during the course of the twenty-four hours he has quite an exciting time. Douglas Maclean takes full advantage of the opportunities given him to extract the maximum amount of fun out of the part of the author and he is well supported by a good cast. There are no probabilities in the story, such as that a large publishing firm would have all their machines left side up after having failed to complete one novel—nevertheless the story is amusing and provides an excellent evening's entertainment. The usual news bulletins are included.

MAY OUP MATCH.
A May Cup match between Y.M.C.A. and Railway was played on the former's ground on Wednesday and resulted in a victory for Y.M.C.A. The Railway won the toss and the match was played on the Railway Avenue goal. After a few minutes' mid-field play the Railway goalkeeper half sent Bird away from the goal who shot from almost off the goal line to bring the cautious down to save. Railway were showing the better football their passing being good, but the Y.M.C.A. were all well and serious and they would do well to have seen better play. After a quarter of an hour play Bird sent in a beautiful shot causing the Y.M.C.A. goalkeeper to fall over. Directly off the corner kick the Railway goalkeeper broke away and after a fine pass to Cull who had only the goal to beat sent in a hard shot which hit the cross-bar and rebounded into play. However, Bird had luck did not discourage them and they were soon down again in the Railway goal mouth. A fine pass by Cull to Bolts saw the last named make no mistake and scored with a good shot. Nothing very striking happened up to the half time and Y.M.C.A. secured their lead.

Second Half.
The second half opened with the Railway pressing and they ought to have scored, but the Railway forwards were all out of top of one another and fumbled the ball. A few seconds later the Y.M.C.A. made a good forward movement which resulted in a goal. Cull again was responsible. After having run down the field he passed to the inside left who made no mistake. The Y.M.C.A. were playing much better now and were pressing and after another effort to score, Cullen on the point, scoring was charged in the back and a penalty was awarded. Little took the kick and scored. The Railway at this stage were feeling sorry for themselves and could not do anything. Briest got possession and after a good run half the length of the field passed to Walker who banged the ball into the net. About a quarter of an hour after the resumption Dr. was again left with an open goal, but instead of scoring for the Y.M.C.A. scored for the Neanderthals. A minute or two after Briest was seen to advantage and scored an individual effort and in a beautiful shot which Trabel saved splendidly. Trabel again made a splendid save from Briest shortly after, sitting over the bar a hard shot. There was nothing further after this of any importance and the Y.M.C.A. ran out deserving winners 3-1.

NEW LAND POWERS FOR THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Right to Create "Communal Reserves of Crown Land"

ELECTED MEMBERS OPPOSE PRINCIPLE.

Government Measure Criticised in the Legislative Council.

Despite the objections of the Elected Members, the Legislative Council on the strength of the Government's majority vote adopted a measure on Thursday which places in the hands of the Governor and his Executive Council important new powers of disposal of Crown land.

The Bill which was brought in to deal with a compromise offered the Arabs and natives consists of a small area, at the coast was utilised by Government as an opportunity of introducing the principle of giving the Governor-in-Council the power to establish "communal reserves" merely by a notice in the "Gazette".

The Elected Members discovered the importance of the principle when the Bill had entered the committee stage and all their efforts were unsuccessful in diverting Government from its purpose.

A COAST COMPROMISE.

Important new powers were conferred upon the Governor in Council on Thursday by an apparently innocuous Little Bill amending the Crown Lands Ordinance. The amending Bill arose out of claims put forward by certain Arabs to communal rights with the natives over 20,000 acres of land in the Coast area of which about 20,000 acres were included in the South Nyaika Reserve. Government investigated the claim and arrived at a compromise. The Arabs agreed to abandon their claims to the whole of 20,000 acres providing they were given equal rights with the natives over the 20,000 acres included in the Nyaika Reserve. The Secretary of State has no objection to the arrangement so long as safeguards equivalent to those relating to Native Reserves were provided for the area to be composed partly of native and partly of Arab. Government considered that the proper way to provide such safeguards was to amend the law so as to allow of areas called "communal reserves" (comprised of natives and Arabs) being established on the same footing as native reserves. They also took opportunity to make provision for the establishment of Arab reserves as it was thought that such areas might be required in the future.

The second reading was moved by the Acting Commissioner for Local Government, Lands and Settlement (Mr. W. J. Logan), who explained its purpose. The Attorney General seconded the motion. A Mistake. The Hon. Conway Harvey (The Lake) declared that he did not feel in the least embarrassed about the measure. He foresaw nothing but difficulty in the case of communal ownership of a native reserve. They had not been told whether any degree of affinity existed between the native and the Arabs and he altogether questioned the wisdom of classing Arabs as natives and of putting them into reserves at all. He quoted from the 1926 report of the Native Affairs Department a statement regarding the Arabs to the effect that those who had had land recently set aside for them and old had no enthusiasm for any form of work, and that their future was a problem.

Opposition. Continuing he said that if that was so then it was very great mistake to dedicate any appreciable area of land to a class of people to whom that description could be applied by the Government. He thought the Council should have more definite information as to the exact position in regard to the Native Land Trust Bill which came very definitely into the picture presented by any measure such as that under consideration. Until he was satisfied that something was being done in accordance with the wishes of the House in the matter he would most certainly oppose the second reading. He could not contemplate with equanimity two completely different people having equal rights over a given area of land.

Captain the Hon. E. Vaughan Kenessly (West Kenya) said the principle involved in the Bill was one which should be opposed by Elected Members because it excluded from the control of the Government the whole of an increasing area of land. He visualised the possibility of the grant of land to people such as Somalis—in fact such a suggestion had been made already that a small reserve should be created in Kenya—a suggestion which was vigorously countered by the Unofficial Members. The Senior Commissioner for the Coast (Mr. Montgomery) said that the Arabs, concerned, prior to the introduction of the Native Land Trust Ordinance considered themselves natives, and they had always lived with the three tribes in the area under consideration. The land would not be taken out of the hands of Government at all and the bill would save a lot of trouble in surveying and in the case of litigation.

The Hon. J. O'Shea (Harambee South) said it seemed to him to be a case which might be met by the appointment of a Select Committee to go into the matter, but His Excellency the Acting Governor thought the principle of the Bill could be dealt with by committee of the whole House.

Mr. O'Shea, unless some indication is given by Your Excellency that the Bill be referred to Select Committee Members on this side of the House are likely to vote against the principle.

A Quiet Move.

Captain the Hon. H. E. Schwartz said there were two objections to the Bill. It had been introduced to give legislative sanction to an arrangement made by the Provincial Commissioner of the Coast but afterwards had been taken to put in something quite quietly, namely provision that the Governor could declare any part of Crown land to be an Arab reserve, the sole reason being that it was thought it might be necessary in the future to have an Arab reserve. He would be prepared to support that part of the Bill which did not deal with Arab reserves, but not that part which gave power to the Governor in Council. No single argument had been produced in favour of such a suggestion.

Official Explanation.

The Acting Commissioner for Local Government, Lands and Settlement: Perhaps I may say at once that the inclusion in the Bill of power to create an Arab reserve was merely made to facilitate action in that respect, but in view of the objection taken by Honorable Members I suggest that no harm will be done in deleting that provision from this particular Bill. So far as the rest of the Bill—the creation of communal reserves—is concerned, I do trust that opposition to that will not be pressed in view of the fact that the area in question is situated within the boundaries of a native reserve. There will be no difference in actual practice, but a slight difference in status.

Mr. Logan also explained that the 4,000 acre of Crown land concerned had been alienated for many years but was released through an exchange in 1926. An application for the area had been made by the Ramani Sugar Company and as there appeared to be little likelihood that the compromise would not be approved the company entered into occupation and were developing that land, but until the compromise was approved they could not get their title and their operations were therefore being impeded.

Mr. O'Shea, in view of the explanation given by the Commissioner for a Select Committee and the motion for a second reading was approved.

Improper Powers.

In the afternoon, during the committee stage the member of Government in charge of the Bill deleted all reference to "Arab reserves."

Mr. O'Shea asked whether this deletion made any difference to the interpretation of the remaining phrase in the Bill, "Communal reserves," to which His Excellency replied that there was no intention of amending that part.

Mr. O'Shea: If there is a proposal to make a communal reserve, say between Somalis and natives, would that need another amending Ordinance. His Excellency: Yes. Mr. Conway Harvey objected to the third clause of the Bill which gives the Governor in Council power to declare that any area of Crown land whether surveyed or not shall be established as a "communal reserve." He said it was very improper that powers of this sort should be included in the Bill and more improper still that such enormous power should be vested in the Governor in Council. He had raised the question of the Native Land Trust Bill in this connection but no notice-lary reply had been made by the Government. That Bill made certain provisions for safeguarding interests of the natives in the matter of land, but it gave certain European and other interests safeguarded by the measure. This clause to which he objected was giving away a great deal and nothing whatever was being given in return and it should be very seriously considered before Elected Members proceed to the frittering away of the Colony's assets in this manner.

Colony's Assets.

The Attorney General pointed out to the previous speaker that the Governor in Council already had power under the Crown Lands Ordinance to declare any area of Crown land to be a native reserve and if there was any frittering away of assets, that had been sanctioned by the Council. All that the Present Bill did was to give the Governor in Council the additional power to create communal reserves.

Mr. Conway Harvey said that these assets of the Colony should continue to be controlled by the taxpayers as a whole and not by the Governor in Council.

Captain Kenessly and objected to the Bill. The Hon. Poyas Cobb (Rift Valley) failed mainly to see how the Bill could be brought into line with the accepted land policy of the Colony.

The Attorney General expressed the view that the objections now being made should have been raised on the second reading when the principle of giving power to the Governor in Council to create communal reserves had been accepted by the Unofficial Members. Mr. Poyas Cobb said his understanding was that the member in charge of the Bill had agreed to withdraw that.

His Excellency pointed out that the only agreement had been to include within the boundaries of the "Arab reserve."

The third reading of the Bill was carried by the vote of 45 to 14. The Elected Members voting against.

although their representatives had no evidence of the intention to set up a firm, considered. He could give the assurance that the Government was only too anxious to give time for full details to come up for a Select Committee all the details would be thrashed out. Whether the Government would be sent to another Committee, he did not know. He understood that the recommendations of the Committee, through the Bill had been framed were now being typed and he believed the Director of Public Works hoped to lay them on the table of the Council that day. Mr. F. H. Clarke (Mombasa) said there was no doubt that the low export rates were not beneficial. But he asked whether some of the large profits which had been made by the railway would not be used for the reduction of the first three classes and thereby the railway be enabled to compete more successfully with road transport. He was sure that the contractor did get the benefit of the lower charge.

Mr. Bargman (Nairobi) referred to the difficulties of moving coffee in a dangerous state and said that at the present time wet coffee was being sent in all the way to the coast by lorry on account of the delay, which might cause serious loss. The same speaker also referred to the omnibus service between Nairobi and Fort Hall necessary to enable him to travel to his office on the 21st of 21st. He suggested that the Government should be spending up the railway.

Mr. M. Train (Mombasa) (Colonel Franklin) asked how the Government proposed to deal with the problem of the railway. Mr. C. Morley White (Arusha) asked whether General Rhodes could express an opinion regarding the taking over by the Government of the line of the Tanga-Moshi Railway in the Northern Province of Tanganyika, owing to existing methods. He felt they were not getting a square deal.

Mr. F. Atkinson (Eastern Province) suggested that a responsible railway contractor should be invited over the line and examine the conditions and make an adequate report. He emphasized that on the line from Arusha it was necessary to transfer it to Mombasa.

Mr. G. A. Tyson (Nairobi, Treasurer) referred to the matter of free storage for export. He said it was extremely difficult to hold when goods would get to the coast and it was delayed in that way they were being by the people.

Mr. Bargman said the matter had been discussed by a sub-committee of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce and had considered it and produced a memorandum on the subject. The committee of the Chamber was of the opinion that it was suggested that if the Government was not to be extended then some guarantee should be given by the railway of the time it would take goods to get to the coast.

The matter had since been discussed by the Port Advisory Board. Mr. Gibson had suggested that until the railway was a more dependable mode of varying periods and either the Railway should be speeded up or the free storage period should be extended.

Mr. Atkinson (Eastern Province) said that the Government was not so far as Nairobi was concerned. There was promised to be a report for export cargo to get from Uganda to the coast.

Mr. Gibson (Mombasa) reported that the Government was not so far as Nairobi was concerned. There was promised to be a report for export cargo to get from Uganda to the coast.

The speaker also referred to the Congo Traffic which had recently been diverted from Kilindi and was now going via Port Sudan.

Mr. Uganda (Eastern Province) made reference to the Government's intention to refer to the carriage of goods at owner's risk with the Government's insurance at Kilindi on cargo which had been split in transit. The rate for goods from the coast to Uganda, and the clearing and forwarding of shipments at the coast.

General Rhodes in reply said that the Government was not so far as Nairobi was concerned. There was promised to be a report for export cargo to get from Uganda to the coast.

The President (Mr. R. S. Campbell) said that General Rhodes had been very good in his remarks. He was sure that the time they had spent had done more good than would have been accomplished by a letter's writing.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Acting General Manager.

KENYA HOSPITALITY FOR SCIENTISTS.

£2,800 Voted by the Legislature.

A CRITICISM.

Elected Member Disapproves "Sentimental Advertisement."

The Legislative Council has voted £2,800 to meet the cost of the entertainment of a large party of world-famous scientists who are expected to visit the Colony after their attendance at the meeting of the British Association in Cape Town. It was described by one Elected Member as a sentimental advertisement.

The motion proposing the inclusion of this sum in the first supplementary estimates for the year was introduced by the Director of Agriculture. The Council of the steps which have already been taken for the reception and entertainment of the visitors. He stated that the delegates were expected to visit the Colony in two parties, arriving about the end of August. Estimated costs of the expenditure the Director of Agriculture would amount to £1,200.

He added that the Railway had granted a concession of half fares for the double journey. Government agents of the railway fares, also the cost of motor transport, while the rest were in the country. Motor transport was estimated at £750. The Government mentioned that the delegates should be the guests of Government while in Nairobi but that while they were away from the Capital they should pay their own expenses. The estimate in respect of the sum of £800 to meet such charges as accommodation with meals postage etc. £200 was set aside for use in connection with the hire of halls for lectures etc. contingencies.

The Director of Agriculture declared that the country should be honoured in being entertained in the vicinity of so renowned an Association and in being visited by scientists as distinguished as these. The Colonial Secretary accepted the motion. The Hon. Vaughan Kenney (West Kenya) announced his intention of opposing the motion. He indicated it was difficult to oppose because such opposition was a challenge to hospitality, but he thought they were taking a disproportionate view of their responsibilities towards their visitors. The Colony had visitors who stayed a few days or a few weeks and they had others who stayed for longer periods doing a tour of view on behalf of the country. No doubt the visit of the distinguished scientists would be regarded as an excellent advertisement for the country but he added: "We have facilities such as we should most welcome to advertise ourselves."

Captain Kenney referred to the such visitors as the officers of the King's African Rifles engaged in performing a service to the country. They were excellently housed. (In the other hand there had been references to the provision of inns with separate lined rooms, but visitors such as the officers, the K.A.R. who stayed on duty for a long time in the Colony were quartered separately in Government lined rooms in the Northern Frontier Province. Even in Nairobi the housing conditions were deplorable.

Capt. Kenney also made reference to the fact that he had heard no mention of any entomologist in the party, an entomologist being the type of visitor who would be most welcomed. In conclusion the Member for West Kenya declared that he was the first duty of the Council was to the people of this country. The people of Kenya were naturally honours themselves by the suggestion that they should entertain the distinguished visitors and there were responsibilities of a more substantial character that should first be met before indulging in this sentimental advertisement.

Captain the Hon. H. H. Schwartz (Nairobi South) appealed to the Member for West Kenya not to vote against the motion. He pointed out that the invitation should be no dissentious voice in regard to it. "He thought, however, that before any invitations were issued on behalf of the Colony the Elected Members should be given an opportunity of considering whether they should be issued and whether the financial condition of the country warranted the expenditure. The Governor now open to the Colony was to extend a welcome to the visitors and to offer hospitality in no signally spirit.

The Director of Agriculture joined with Capt. Schwartz in expressing the hope that there would be no dissentious voice. He stated that the opportunity of entertaining the British Association would be a great advantage, whereas the cost would be small. He pointed out that as the housing of the K.A.R. would remain Capt. Kenney would not be an entomologist was distinguished a person. Capt. Marshall, chief of the Imperial Bureau of Entomology was visiting the country.

Captain Kenney enquired whether the Council might have an assurance from Government that in future such a procedure as that recommended by Capt. Schwartz would be followed. His Excellency the Acting Conveyancing Duties.

CONSIDERED TO BE EXCESSIVE.

The question of the stamp duties payable on conveyances was referred to at Thursday's sitting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce in Nairobi when the following resolution was carried unanimously:—

That this Association is of the opinion that the Stamp Duties charged by Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika are excessive and that they be reduced to one per cent. This was proposed by Major Perkins (Meru) and seconded by Mr. A. D. Jones (Uganda). The President explained that the duties in Tanganyika had now been revised to come into line with those in force in Kenya. He was reduced in Tanganyika to 2 per cent, whilst that payable on mortgages was now 1 per cent.

Opium Traffic.

BRINGING KENYA LAW UP TO DATE.

The Kenya Legislative Council discussed on Thursday the provisions of the Bill to amend the Opium Act. The Bill was introduced by the Attorney-General. The second reading of the Bill was agreed to by the Council. The Bill was intended to bring the law in Kenya into line with that which was now being adopted throughout the civilized world and provided means for keeping track of opiate from the point of disposal.

Only one question was asked— Captain the Hon. E. Vaughan Kenney enquiring whether the Italian and Belgian neighbours of Kenya were taking similar steps. He was informed that so far as Dr. Patterson was aware Italy and Belgium were signatories to the Convention. The Bill was read a second time.

The Peatly.

In the afternoon during the Committee stage, the Hon. T. J. O'Shea (Plateau North) drew attention to the fact that the maximum penalty was a high one being a thousand pounds fine or ten years' imprisonment. He said he would like to know whether in the opinion of Government so high a maximum was necessary.

His Excellency the Acting Governor said that cases of this type were generally difficult to detect and when discovered should be adequately punished. The Attorney-General reminded Mr. O'Shea that he had mentioned the maximum penalty. The Member for Plateau South said that the inclusion of such very high penalties would lead people to think that crime of this kind in the Colony had reached such a stage that the high penalty was justified, whereas he understood there was in fact very little crime of this kind. The Attorney-General said at any moment occasion might arise to deal drastically with an offence against the Ordinance. He did not know the value of cocaine but he knew that a small quantity was worth a great deal of money where the traffic existed and unless the penalty was high it might be possible for people to commit offences of the law, to pay the penalty and still to make a very handsome profit. In every country penalties for this offence were high. The Bill was reported to Council, read a third time and passed.

Championship Tournament at Eldoret. Alterations to Course and Club House.

GRANT RAY and ALAN GIBSON JORY FAVOURITES FOR FINAL.

A Thousand to One Shot!

A subdued air of excitement pervaded Eldoret golf circles on Thursday. The eve of the Plateau Championship was the stirring note, and a sense of the importance of the occasion was manifest generally by the haste which usually attends such occasions.

First Round Results. The results in the first round were as follows:— Howland (Kilale) bye. McKay (Kilale) beat-over Nyden (Upanda) scratched. Williams (Eldoret) walk-over. Wright (Eldoret) scratched. Morgan (Kilale) walk-over. Roberts (Kilale) beat Neath (Kilale) 3 and 2.

A Hard and Dry Course. So far in the course was concerned, there was little to caviat it. Even the rain of a week ago had not served to dampen it. Dry and hard it undoubtedly was, but there was a resiliency about the course which made up for any faults in that respect.

Tennis at Parklands. REMINERAL FOR MOLLAN CUP.

Partikans team having qualified for the Semi-Final of Memorial Tennis Cup competition will meet a Nyeri team at Parklands to-day and to-morrow. Play will commence each day about 4 p.m.

Club Annals. The links presented a busy scene on Thursday evening, the eve of the championship play. Few of the actual players had been seen to be found getting in a last round to the clubhouse by the time of the morning.

Club Annals (Continued). The invited competitors' chances were the more reduced, as the trend of the season was expected to be somewhat of a toss-up, and Gibson found a ready-made and strongly enough, each aimed in the same direction.

Club Annals (Continued). Both the favourites have been playing sterling golf of late, and looking like a tremendous handicap could find their progress stopping only one of the present surprises in the nature of a home to the East road, and that was the meeting of Grant Ray and Duncan in the forenoon of Friday.

Club Annals (Continued). The curious circumstances which attended the eve of the tournament and which have not the previous week of optimism. Knill, a local player with a twenty-four handicap, played in the entry, and his chances could be gauged from the fact that a fellow member, had £2,000 to £2 that he would not be reduced with more optimism than that, perhaps, the wagger was accepted, but the chance of the day were the more clearly indicated in the auction, where the demand was little and lacking in keenness. Nevertheless, the acceptance of the wagger but served to bear out the general optimism.

Club Annals (Continued). The uncertainty of the draw is one of the most attractive features as one never knows with whom one will be partnered, but ill-supported pairs are the exception. The entry form will be on the Notice Board—made a point of putting your names down soon and if you have not yet had your name added, get in your cards and let the handicapping committee have them.

Club Annals (Continued). While on the subject of handicaps there are one or two members who seem unable to complete their cards of 18 holes and whose names come before the committee at meeting after meeting. Sixteen cards are required from men and three cards from women for the committee course fairly allocate handicaps unless these are handed in. No members can enter for a club competition without a handicap card with the necessary signature and 'Wood' be competitions coming on, a special effort should be made to get one allocated.

Club Annals (Continued). Members will be glad to hear that the Committee has decided to re-book the 10th and 11th holes. At present they both lack character and are featureless and uninteresting. Personally I and little interest in digging myself out of a bunker but the Committee seems to think so and I am prepared to try. A complete scheme is also under consideration for alterations and additions to the bunkering of the course. 11 members have any suggestions they will be welcomed.

Club Annals (Continued). A deputation has been arranged at the request of the Nyeri team to meet the Nyeri team on July 21. We are anticipating a team from Nyeri in June 21 and looking forward to the match with interest for the time and that members will be interested to hear of the result.

Club Annals (Continued). Mr. Hand Overly has been asked by the Committee to put in hand certain alterations with a view to making the new clubhouse more attractive and comfortable. One of the partitions separating this from the veranda is to be removed and the walls and ceiling of the lounge will be painted to match the main veranda. This is to be the beginning of a larger scheme to be undertaken here which will result in the bar being removed to the other end and the present bar with the whole of the men's lounge being opened out.

CLOSER UN: THE COMMERCIAL PLAN.

CENTRAL AUTHORITY AND FEDERAL COUNCIL.

Immediate Transfer of Stated Essential Services.

JOINT DEPARTMENTS WITH ONE CHIEF.

First Stage Already Past; Real Closer Union Advocated from Start.

Commercial opinion in East Africa has come to a final decision upon the character of the Closer Union scheme it is prepared to accept.

The half-yearly session of the Association of East African Chambers of Commerce held in Nairobi last week discussed the Hilton Young Report on Saturday and lengthy cables outlining their decisions have been sent to the Federal Union to reach him at Port Said.

The commercial community's Closer Union proposals may be summarized as follows:

Firstly, the abolition of essential services, with one departmental head for each service.

Secondly, the abolition of the present separate legislative bodies in each territory.

Thirdly, the abolition of the present separate executive powers in each territory.

Fourthly, the abolition of the present separate commercial representation in any revised legislature for the three territories.

Increased Commercial Representation.

The Hilton Young Report provided the Association of Chambers of Commerce with the chief topics of debate on Saturday.

Mr. A. C. Tansill said there was serious preliminary work which had to be done in view of certain circumstances which had to be taken into account.

Mr. M. J. M. (Nairobi) said he was in complete agreement with Mr. Tansill's view.

It is a result of these discussions that the Federal Authority must have executive powers in each territory.

It is suggested that the Prime Minister and the Ambassador will be together for about three hours.

Uplands News!

REDUCED PRICES. Following a discussion at the recent Pig Industry Conference we have decided— (1) To reduce the price of prime quality Bacon Pig by 5 cents, making 50 cents per lb. dead weight as from Saturday, May 18th next. (2) To reduce our price for Bacon by 15 cents per lb. and Hams and Gammons by 25 cents per lb. as from May 18th next. We are satisfied that Retailers will give Consumers the advantage of these lower prices which are quoted to ensure a maximum of consumption. (Signed) British Colonial Provision Co., Ltd. LAYING OUT OF SMALL GARDENS.

I hope to go into the subject of landscape gardening more extensively in future articles to be published in this column. Your neighbours' outcrops can be successfully arranged off by planting a 15 ft. hedge along the boundary. In many cases this is sufficient to screen off the house at night. But Apple, Espaliered Plum, or any other similar hedge will only last for one year unless it is kept in a state of perpetual growth by cutting it down to the ground every year.

should be spaced out so that they spread, and form good specimens. Nothing is more strongly than a tree growing all to stem. They should be arranged in a row, and green. If flowering, so that the colours do not clash. Keep them well watered and the background and other trees to have a fine open lawn between them and the house. Some of you may like a shade tree over the house. I do not see how this is possible, but if circumstances demand, see that it is a light shade, such as the English Elm, or the Silver Birch. Myself, I prefer the Ash, or the Beech.

In this country the great drawback to possessing a beautiful garden all the year round is the long drought, and to a large number, watering is out of the question. If the garden is to look pleasing to the eye all the year round, you must study the landscape, and just as much as possible, not more than the plants which are most drought resistant. I suggest design your garden in this article, but I will endeavour to give you the preliminary principles which I hope will enable you to design your own.

After having created your surroundings, the next item is the garden. Remember, the view from your verandah is the one you want to look at the best all the year round. This is a very hard thing to do in this country, but still it can be helped to a large extent. Do not strain the eye with flower beds. From experience I find a few flowering shrubs and a lawn properly kept are difficult to surpass for all the year round effect. There are a large number of flowering shrubs, which are equally large range of colour. See that the lawn is not too large, keep it cut and the edges neatly trimmed. A selected rose bush here and there adds to the effect.

Inter-Territorial Roads.

TANGANYIKA GOVERNMENT HAS MATTER IN HAND. The necessity for good inter-Territorial roadways was stressed at the February session of the Association of Chambers of Commerce which was held in Mombasa.

When the same subject was referred to on Thursday at the Nairobi session the Secretary stated that the Tanganyika Government, who had been sent a copy of the previous resolution, had replied that the desirability of good road communication between the territories was fully recognized by them. The question of the best alignment was now under consideration by the Tanganyika Government.

The Secretary also reported that the new alignment from Nyong to Kajjajo had now been completed by the Kenya Government. Referring to the road policy of the Tanganyika Government the Secretary explained that the attention of the Tanganyika Government had been drawn to the resolution on the subject and an acknowledgment had been received. Mr. C. Moseley White (Arusha) said that the construction and alignment of the road connecting the Central Railway with Arusha was actually in progress that day. Mr. Bagen (Nairobi) proposed and Major Perkins (Moshi) seconded that the Executive should keep the matter before them and that it should come up for discussion at the next session. This was carried unanimously.

LAND ALIENATION IN TANGANYIKA.

Discussion by the Associated Chambers.

A PROPOSAL.

A division of opinion between Tanganyika and Kenya delegates marked one of the debates at the recent session of the Association of East African Chambers of Commerce in Nairobi. The point in question was the method of land alienation in Tanganyika.

Mr. G. Bloom, representing the Arusha Chamber, moved:

That in the opinion of the Arusha Chamber of Commerce the present method of land alienation in Tanganyika Territory and disposal by auction is detrimental to European settlement and that in view of the fact that it is proposed by the Tanganyika Government to appoint a Commissioner of Lands who will investigate the matter, this Association is of the opinion that it is necessary to fortify the hands of this Commissioner by the appointment of district boards of unofficial members.

"We have fought this question by every possible means in our power," remarked Mr. Bloom in presenting his resolution. He explained that under the present system of auctioning land, the type of men they wanted, found themselves ousted by speculators who could run up an annual rental at auctions to a figure which others could not give. They also wanted to see the creation of unofficial bodies to assist Government in the selection of land for alienation.

The resolution was seconded by Major Perkins (Mabi) who explained the difficulties which were encountered by intending settlers who, after selecting an area of land, made application to Government for a lease. The land was then put up to public auction and others could come along and offer the higher figure for it. He thought there should be some system whereby young men, intending settlers in Tanganyika, could place their credentials on the table before Government and obtain a lease of land.

Another View.

Mr. George Tyson, Nairobi, questioned whether they should take objection to the system of auctioning land. It would be very difficult to find a system which could be better than sale by public auction. Any other alternative system, he was afraid, would be liable to abuse.

Colonel Turner mentioned that, according to a Tanganyika newspaper, the Tanganyika Government had recently decided that any area set apart for alienation, should be cut up by Government before being opened. He thought that that might overcome a good deal of the objection raised by the Tanganyika delegates.

Mr. T. A. Wood supported Mr. Tyson. He did not think the Kenya delegates ought to join in advocating a change from a system which they did not wish to have altered in their own country.

Subsequently Mr. C. Morohy White (Arusha) proposed, and Major Perkins (Mabi) seconded, the following resolution—

If it is a fact that the Tanganyika Government has decided to cut up areas which are alienated for European settlement into farms, prior to such areas being opened, this Association is of opinion that unofficial members of District Boards should be invited to co-operate with the Government officers who may be appointed to carry on the divisions of such areas.

The resolution was adopted unanimously without discussion.

PROGRESS OF WAR ON LOCUSTS.

Farmers Being Enrolled to Help.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

The following report on the locusts position was issued by the Deputy Director of Agriculture on Friday.

Flying swarms—An old swarm is moving between Kijabe and the top of the Encampment.

Hopper Areas.

Massa Reserve. Work on a large scale is proceeding between Kijabe and the Tanganyika border and from Mount Margaret in the direction of Magadi. Contact spraying and brum baiting are both proving very effective. Fresh hatching is still in progress.

Kero Province—West Suk. The organization of the District is complete and operations are proceeding. The area for each officer is small and complete destruction is anticipated.

Northern Tunkata. Hopper destruction proceeding rapidly. Operations have reached Lake Ukulindi at a point seventy miles North of Lodwar. As there are large herds of cattle a great distance away which cannot be reached except on foot and as there is no water, a portion will not be destroyed. The same situation exists in Karungu where the herd cannot be on any scale.

Southern Turkana—West proceeding.

Berango—Hopper destruction proceeding in every district. It is proposed to make a District officer to attend farmers for a month to clear up Karungu and Nyemba an early clearance of this area will permit of more officers moving into the Kero Valley and the Kuku Province.

Kuku Province. Destruction of the Karungu of the Native reserve is well advanced. Small hopper bands on Estates near Taka, Bauri, Ngogi and elsewhere have been destroyed.

Elephants—Gigli Naruwa. Work has commenced at three points, contact spraying of newly hatched hoppers has been carried out with good effect.

Laking plain within Gigli Township, near Ekuru Station and on Shery's farms. As there is no work has as yet been undertaken, the staff going all busily employed on private land at present.

Owing to the fact that the hopper destruction campaign may be said only now to have commenced against the hatching swarms, the main layings, it is too early to indicate what success is being achieved towards a clearance of the infestation. That will be come more readily ascertained when the hatching swarms and staff is able to report areas as clear.

Whenever possible it is perhaps simpler to use the brum bait than to spray, but as soon as possible, but not so wet that it cannot be distributed evenly or loosely.

Commercial Laws.

NEED FOR UNIFICATION IN EAST AFRICA.

A resolution dealing with the unification of commercial law was introduced to the Association of Chambers of Commerce on Thursday by the Nairobi Chamber and was supported by Mr. A. C. Tannahill (Vice President).

Mr. Tannahill said that (in matters was put forward to determine from the other Territories how they felt regarding the unification of commercial law. He suggested that it should be an instruction to the Executive to prepare a memorandum, if possible for the next session, showing the differences which occurred in the various commercial laws. Even at that early stage of the session there had been mentioned instances such as the Stamp Ordinance, the Registration of Business Names Ordinance and the Trade Marks Ordinance where the laws were not unified.

Mr. H. Burgman (Nairobi) seconded the suggestion which was carried.

CENTRAL AUTHORITY AND FEDERAL COUNCIL.

improve the position of the commercial community even at this late stage. It then went to a redistribution of seats the commercial community must be represented. Nairobi had two representatives; Mombasa, one; and yet it would have been surprised at a recent election that the Rift Valley returned the Member with only 160 votes polled—they had the same representation as Mombasa. When the time comes for deciding the arrangement of new constituencies there must be provision made for Nairobi and Mombasa to have representation in keeping with the interests they represent.

Mr. Tyson said he felt that Sir Samuel should telegraph to the Secretary for asking into consideration the necessity for adequate representation of the commercial community.

The President (Mr. R. S. Campbell) said that certain representatives of the commercial bodies, including himself, had been invited to be present at certain discussions. He himself was not able to be present, and as the subject had not met to discuss the subject he would not have had a mandate from them in any case.

Nevertheless Sir Samuel Wilson had asked him to send a copy of the debate on this subject to him, so he felt sure that there was no fear of anything being done until he had studied the result of their deliberations. Sir Samuel Wilson had emphasized the importance of the debates of the Association of Chambers of Commerce as which representatives of the three territories were present.

Co-ordination.

The President asked whether delegates were in agreement that certain essential services should be co-ordinated, and a unanimous vote in favour of the suggestion resulted. He then called for expressions of opinion as to which of the services should be so co-ordinated.

Mr. A. D. Jones (Uganda) said that in Uganda they were in favour of the co-ordination of the Customs, Postal, Railway and Legal Departments, and considered that it would be all to the good if they were combined.

The Secretary (Mr. R. W. Playfair) read a list of the services which had been combined in the Memorandum prepared by the Executive and placed before the Hilton Young Commission. It was suggested that those were the services which at that time they thought should be co-ordinated, including such as: Customs, Law and civil procedure; transport and communications (including social communications); Police, Telegraph, and Telephone; Mining; Veterinary; Agriculture; Forests; Medical and Health; Medical, Agriculture and Veterinary Research.

Dispensed Services.

Mr. A. D. Jones said he did not think Uganda would approve of the inclusion of all of these.

The President reminded the last speaker that the list had been put forward by the Executive at which Uganda had been represented.

Mr. Tannhill said he was diffident as to whether Delmon should also be included. Personally he did not see why it should not be included, but he would like to hear the views of other members.

Mr. C. Mowbray White (Arusha) said he knew the feeling of his Chamber regarding the inclusion of Veterinary. That effected Tanganyika was a much-needed service for the territories was bound up with Agriculture, and he considered the co-ordination of Agriculture was one of the most important. There was also the question of Veterinary, and the possibilities of the dairy industry. There was the vital question of information on which there was no definite policy here. There was the Medical question which affected the health of all. Including the commercial community. Education was also very important. If they agreed with Clear Unani they must consider all the services affected by the three territories.

Private Discussions.

Mr. Tyson suggested that the simplest way of dealing with the matter of which services should be co-ordinated would be to find out what went on at the discussion which had already been held. He imagined that a memorandum of what had been prepared and if they could obtain a copy of that, they might see a great deal of time.

The President agreed with Mr. Tyson but said that he understood the discussions were entirely private and of a strictly confidential nature.

Mr. Jones said that from that day's newspaper he saw that the Central Council had been indefinitely postponed. They in Uganda, had thought that was to be formal and he could only think that the postponement was due to Sir Samuel Wilson's deliberations with the Governors of the three territories.

Colonel Tucker said that he had only come to listen. To the subjects of the Association. The discussions with Sir Samuel Wilson were of such a confidential nature that even if the Association had been put in possession of the memorandum it might have prejudicial Sir Samuel Wilson's plan. Nervous illness he was willing to state that the only services which had been discussed were: Railways, Customs, Posts and Telegraphs. He hoped that the Association would press for the co-ordination of the law and the Legal Department.

Mr. Tannhill thought one of the most essential things was the co-ordination of the law. He hoped that the Association would press for the co-ordination of the law and the Legal Department.

Agriculture.

Mr. Bargman thought that the Association would not be going far enough if they only dealt with five of the services. For instance, he said that the whole of the three territories was bound up with Agriculture, and he considered the co-ordination of Agriculture was one of the most important. There was also the question of Veterinary, and the possibilities of the dairy industry. There was the vital question of information on which there was no definite policy here.

Mr. Tyson emphasized that they knew what had happened at the discussions with Sir Samuel Wilson their deliberations would be of more value. A copy of the memorandum of the discussions would form a basis for their debate.

Mr. Tannhill said that he had spoken to Sir Jacob Barth on the subject and had written to him about it. In his letter he had explained that they tried to keep political issues out of their debates but he requested that the Executive should be supplied with any information of the latest position in order to facilitate their discussions. He suggested that it might help matters forward if they were able to endorse certain recommendations which had already been made. This Executive had replied that he had consulted Sir Samuel Wilson on the matter and that he had said that although he had already been made, further discussions had embraced the Railway and Post, Posts and Telegraphs. He could not say what Sir Samuel would say on the matter, but he thought Mr. Tyson referred more to the memorandum of the discussions with the Honoured Member and Executive of the Commission rather than the memorandum to be prepared by Sir Samuel Wilson. He would give any more information on the subject.

An East African View.

Mr. M. Tudor Compton (Nairobi) said that the Association must take up the East African standpoint so far as the commercial community was concerned rather than the attitude taken up in the local discussions in Nairobi. They had heard what Colonel Tucker had said and he thought it would clarify things if they added so that whatever the commercial community wanted, and then decided whether they thought the High Commissioner should have a Federal Council or an Advisory Committee.

Colonel Tucker said that his presence was becoming increasingly embarrassing! Apart from everything else he believed that a document discussed by Kenya people only might prejudice the deliberations of a body representing the three territories. He could not conceive how they could get authority to obtain such a document within the time at their disposal. It had been suggested, he added, that he was primarily a producer but he wanted to state that in his capacity as representative of Nairobi he had the upon point of view uppermost in his mind.

The President then proposed the following resolution which was adopted unanimously:

That the Association reaffirm its desire for the earliest co-ordination of essential services in the three territories of Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika Territory under one Departmental head for each service.

Common Interests.

The Association then proceeded to discuss those essential ser-VICES which might be transferred to a co-ordinating authority. A suggestion that agriculture should be included in the list was given rise to some discussion which became rather heated. The President pointed out that to him it seemed incredible that Uganda would be prepared to hand over the police, central administration and general departments to the other territory, in which they had specialised, until years of co-ordination.

The Honoured Member, Kampala, agreed that such a suggestion would meet with all stout protest on the following resolutions proposed by Mr. F. H. Clarke, Mombasa:

"That the following essential services—railways, ports, communications, posts, telegraphs and telephones, customs, law, central research, law and civil procedure should be immediately transferred to central control."

Mr. Clarke then proposed "That the Central Authority, when established, shall in co-operation with the local governments co-ordinate and coordinate services can probably be co-ordinated or combined."

The President, Mr. R. S. Campbell, Mombasa, said the Commission should advise what recommendations should be made with regard to the Central Authority in regard to the method of function and whether its powers should be executive or otherwise.

First Stage Over.

Mr. A. C. Tannhill, Nairobi, said that if they were to follow the Report, there were two stages, the preliminary stage being that of the High Commissioner who should make enquiries and report on this report shall be reviewed by His Majesty's Government.

"What is this?" Mr. Tannhill said. It is another Commission. Considering he stated that the preliminary stage referred to in the report had been covered to all intents and purposes by the visit and investigations of Sir Samuel Wilson, and that he had no necessity for the appointment of a Commission to make a further report. All I have been covered to all intents and purposes by the visit and investigations of Sir Samuel Wilson, and that he had no necessity for the appointment of a Commission to make a further report.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN ELECTIONS.

Nationalists Returned to Power.

Clear Majority Over All Parties.

Part with Labour Members No Longer Necessary.

The latest results to hand of the South African general election indicate that the Nationalist Party has been returned to power with increased strength. In the last House of Assembly, some of the seats were held by members of all parties, but were supported by the Labour Party.

In this election they have gained a sufficient number of seats to be able to carry on the administration of the country without the aid of any coalition. Owing to the split in its ranks, the Labour Party has suffered a number of reverses, some of which according to reports have been captured by the S.A.P., who although in a minority in the House have increased representation.

LABOUR SUFFERS REVERSES.

(STANDARD CORRESPONDENT.)

Mariensburg, June 14.

The latest election returns show that the working Nationalist Party will have a Government of 57 from 77 to 80. There are 10 seats still to come in and these are expected to be mostly Nationalist.

Russian Invasion of China.

REPORT NOT BELIEVED IN COMPLETE QUARANTINE.

(STANDARD SPECIAL AGENT.)

Peking, June 14.

The report of the Soviet invasion of Mongolia is not credited by foreign consuls. Manchuria is silent on the question, and Chinese sources in Peking have no information.

Teking, June 14.

There are no reports in regard to Russian military activity in Mongolia and Manchuria.

Shanghai, June 14.

The report of the Soviet invasion of Mongolia is discounted by the fact that the Soviet has long dominated Outer Mongolia.

The Yakuza.

NEW MEMBERS RECALIBRATED BY THE BAR.

(BY WIRELESS.)

Bugby, June 14.

The advent of the totalisator on Bugby race courses will bring with it a new scheme which will mean that those who attend meetings without carrying large sums of money. The Big Banks have signed with the Racecourse Betting Control Board to issue "to their customers, books of tickets" of admissions varying from 2s to £200 which can be handed to the totalisator clerk instead of cash. Winnings of such tickets will be automatically credited to the banking account of the owner.

Colonial Appointments.

(BY WIRELESS.)

Bugby, June 14.

Mr. MacDonnell, Vice-Chairman of the Overseas Settlements Board, has been selected for the appointment of Administrator of the Territory of Christmas Island and New Lewis Islands, to succeed Colonel St. Johnston who has been appointed to the position.

THE PROPOSED CENTRAL ROADS & TRAFFIC BOARD.

Electoral Members Consider of the Personnel.

THEir EARLY APPOINTMENT.

Several Members have taken an interest in the proposed Central Roads & Traffic Board, and have been considering the question of the personnel to be appointed to it. It is understood that the Board will be appointed to the office of the Minister of Transport, and will be responsible for the management of the roads and traffic in the Union.

The Hon. C. M. van der Merwe (The Hon. C. M. van der Merwe) has proposed that the Board should be composed of representatives of the various interest groups, including the motor industry, the transport industry, and the general public.

Reparations.

CONFERENCES POSSIBLE IN LONDON.

(BY WIRELESS.)

Mr. Arthur Henderson, in a recent interview indicated that Germany would only be able to pay reparations if it was understood that the Bill of 1921 was cancelled. He has suggested that a conference be held in London to discuss the reparations question. The British Government has expressed its willingness to study carefully the report of experts engaged by the Young plan and to ascertain the views of the other Governments concerned.

Views of the British Government.

It is probable that the exchange of views between the two Governments will take place as a Conference especially called for the purpose, and in the course of conversations preliminary at Madrid where they are delegates to the League Council meeting. Mr. Brand and Herr Stresemann discussed the project and suggested that his meeting might conveniently take place at the end of July or early August.

Into the land of unknown quest, has ventured many a man of high rank who despite the restrictions of "pomp" have seen great lakes, mountains and snow-capped peaks. And again and again they have returned to tell the world of their own land. The only man who has done this in a more complete manner than any other is Ross. His story is told in "On the Ross" which has been published in a special edition of the "Standard". It is a story of adventure and discovery, and is one of the most interesting and valuable of the many books which have been published in the last few years.

SOCIAL SIDE OF THE ASSOCIATED SESSION.

Delegates Entertained by Nairobi Chamber.

DINNER SPEECHES.

Mutual Interests of Producers and Merchants

Putting aside for a time the business of an important agenda, the delegates to the annual session of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of East Africa met at dinner in the New Stanley Hotel on Friday as the guests of the Nairobi Chamber. Mr. W. Tyson, President of the Nairobi Chamber presided and in his address to the delegates there were present some heads of Government Departments and representatives of the Elected Members and of the Convention of Associations.

Following the loyal toast, the Chairman proposed the Association of Chambers of Commerce of East Africa. A little less than ten years ago, said Mr. Tyson, it occurred to a number of non-territorial minded men in the country, who were members of various Chambers of Commerce that closer union between Kenya and the other East African territories would not be but of considerable benefit in so far as commerce was concerned. The idea, emanating largely from Colonel Franklin, received the blessing of the Governor, Sir Edward Northey, and the then President of the old Chamber of Commerce, Mr. P. H. Clarke who became the Association's first president. Since then the Association had tackled many thorny and had achieved some striking success. It had for ever disposed of the notion that there could be any successful attempt to describe the producer and the consumer, of production and commerce.

Mr. Tyson went on to refer to the time when he himself was President of the Association and of the way in which he had always been impressed by the evident desire of all delegates to appreciate the point of view of others. Over and over again the manifestation of this spirit of give-and-take had enabled the Association to surmount what at first seemed for insurmountable difficulties.

In coupling with the toast the toast would not be complete without reference to the excellent work performed on its behalf by His Majesty's Trade Commissioner, Mr. Charles Frank and his deputy, Mr. Charles Kinnear.

Over Union.

Mr. B. S. Campbell in the course of his reply said he was proud to be the Association's President, an office which he regarded as the highest to which a commercial man in East Africa could aspire. He continued to review the subjects of yesterday and today have been, in regard to tomorrow as fraught with an importance both in policy and action which has never appeared on our agenda—policy and action which will not be confined to the territories in which we reside but which will be taken into consideration by distinguished people outside one of whom has so recently left our shores. He said because Sir Samuel Wilson expressly desired me to communicate to him the results of our deliberations on the subject of the proposed Union, we all to take the big and long view, making our minor differences a determination to consolidate the pioneer work already done and giving a readiness to co-operate with all those other forces which are now moving to establish of the just of the world one great British African state. To view that I believe I can only firmly believe that the opportunity afforded us to-night of meeting under similar circumstances must, so to speak, all the wheels towards the accomplishment of a spirit of unanimity to-morrow morning which I regard of such permanent importance. (Hear, hear.)

In the Beginning.

Mr. P. H. Clarke, who made the first reply of Colonel Franklin as the real originator of the Association, which was now regarded as the most important official body in East Africa whose functions frequently sought the Government and Government departments' chiefs. The Association was really the outcome of valuable work done many years ago by the late Mr. Tyson, a former member of the Nairobi Chamber.

Mr. Jones of Uganda said one of the things that the Association could do for Kenya was to get together and discuss the various points of view which would give rise to such attention as anything more closely affecting Kenya.

Mr. Wain, Commissioner of Customs, congratulated the committee members and the Association on the very great progress they had made within the last few years, a progress which, as an honorary member of the Association he and followed with a great deal of interest. He said that it was of very great importance from the official point of view that there should be some body to which senior officials could go for advice. This body for closer union not only between commercial interests in the territories but for closer union between the unofficial and the official elements, which, he thought was equally important.

Major Perkins paid a tribute to the help which the Nairobi Chamber had received since entering the Association and Mr. White one of the delegates from Arusha, the youngest member of the Association, spoke in a similar strain. Following the toast of the President and members of the Nairobi Chamber, proposed by Mr. P. H. Clarke, the Chairman, having replied, asked Mr. Zwaga Coker, a representative of the Convention of Associations, to speak.

A Single End.

Mr. Cobb said he would like to put forward for their consideration an idea which had been cherished by many farmers for a long time—that there should be between the farming and trading elements of the country a closer touch and a better understanding on all matters affecting the Colony. They were all in the country for a single end. The commercial community was rendering increasingly valuable services to the producers and because of that it was inevitable that their interests should unite at a great many points.

Mr. Cobb's statement "I believe the stumbling block has been that unhappy word, 'politics.' I don't think really you can suggest that farmers are likely to be politicians (Laughing). He suggested that you forget the word, 'politics' and use the word, 'economics' and then at our common interests are apparent."

I would ask you to look back along the history of the last 30 years and that way if we do merit the blame which is sometimes cast upon us. We came here to farm. We came here to escape the complications of life in a crowded civilized country where politics do exist. What did we find? We found that for the period prior to the war we had to spend most of our time in fighting for the right to live in this country—fighting with a hostile Government that didn't want us. In such a state of affairs we were bound to take hand in the public questions of the day. Then came the War which threw this country into communion with others, into confederation. Then, after that, the great crisis forced on us from without. It was impossible to sit with folded hands and let things merely take their course. If we had done that, there would have been no such gathering as there is here to-night. We had literally to fight for our very existence and to keep the grip of our civilization on this country.

Now the horizon is remarkably clear of clouds. Between your territories the ancient divisions disappear. I hope the thorny question of federation is on its way to settlement. I hope that the common sense that will appeal to everybody will triumph. The charge has been laid to us that we have sought to secure peace of mind for ourselves and that we are fighting and finally say that has not been the case. We have not been fighting for Kenya, but for the establishment and the future growth of white civilization in East Africa (Hear, hear). If we have had to seek this, that and the other for Kenya, it has been because through the mere accident of this Colony having started before Tanganyika, for example, we happen to be a greater territory of white civilization. I believe I am right in saying that there is no one in this country who does not recognize that the time may come when the two territories of Tanganyika may be the predominant partner in the Dominion of East Africa. And when that time comes, Mr. Dominion will have to move along with us, that is the Colonies of Kenya.

An Appeal.

"And because now the horizon is clear of political clouds I would make an earnest appeal to the Chambers of Commerce to consider whether it may not be possible once more to establish the very close relations that have existed for some years between the Chambers and the Convention of Associations. The Convention has had to meet and many political storms imported from without; but I believe now it is embarked definitely on a policy which is purely economic. If that is so I hope that you will join and help us to make the economics of East Africa a success. We cannot get on without you and I believe that we can help you as well, because after all the sole source of wealth of East Africa is here and we must both do our parts and if that is so, can we not meet more often and discuss the problems common to us both more frequently? It is in that hope that I think the success of the future lies." (Applause.)

Overseas Mails.

COMPLAINTS OF DELAY FROM UGANDA.

Reference was made to the alleged delay in overseas mails for Uganda at Friday's sitting of the Association of Chambers of Commerce, Nairobi. Mr. T. Arnotton (East Province) on behalf of the Uganda delegates proposed the following resolution—

That overseas mails for

MEMBERSHIP ON LAND RANK BILL.

Strong Objection to a Clause.

MORTGAGE FUNDS.

In the Legislative Council on Friday, Captain the Hon. H. E. Roberts (Nairobi North) gave notice of the following motion: "That this Council is not prepared to assent to the clause in the Report of the Select Committee on the Land and Agricultural Bank."

The Association of Chambers of Commerce of Eastern Africa has passed a resolution strongly objecting to the same clause. In the absence of delegates attending the session now on progress in Nairobi the Kenya delegates who pointed out that the clause would permit a borrower to obtain advances from the bank making a priority to an existing first mortgage. It was inconsistent with common law and practice, continued Mr. Tyson, and they should strongly urge for its speedy removal. Unless that were done, considerable harm would be done to the Colony as funds for the purpose of mortgage were likely to be seriously curtailed at a time when they were most urgently necessary.

Mr. Tyson's explanation on the point offered the strongest possible objection to Clause 45 in the proposed Land Bank Bill. (The clause referred to is 45 in the Bill and in the report of the Select Committee, as numbered "H.")

Effect on Mortgage.

In presenting his resolution, Mr. Tyson said the policy of this Government is to encourage investment in first mortgage, and if they were going to be invited to borrow money from the proposed bank, they would have priority and affect the security of first mortgages, and the result would be disastrous.

Mr. T. A. Wood seconded the resolution. He said that of one thing he was a temporary member of the committee which dealt with this Bill and all along he took the strongest objection to this clause. It opens as rather a shock to him to find that the clause had been included in the draft. He also knew that the legal gentlemen, who were invited to give their advice and assistance to the Select Committee, opposed the clause. He could not understand why it had been retained in view of the opposition it met with. It was a most absurd position. If left there it is going to frighten away a section of the community whose assistance is most urgently required at this stage in this new, developing country. Wood.

Replying to a question by Mr. Bargman, Mr. Tyson stated that at opportunity was given some time ago to the commercial community to call any views or interests to be all their views before the Select Committee.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Uganda should not unnecessarily be detained at the Coast at present, but that the Post and Railway authorities should co-operate, and make full use of the facilities at their disposal and that the Executive should keep this in mind and report progress at the next session. The resolution was adopted by Mr. J. Bargman (Nairobi) and carried unanimously.

SOCIAL SIDE OF THE ASSOCIATED SESSION.

Delegates Entertained by Nairobi Chamber.

DINNER SPEECHES.

Mutual Interests of Producers and Merchants

Putting aside for a time the business of an important agenda, the delegates to the annual session of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of East Africa met at dinner in the New Stanley Hotel on Friday as the guests of the Nairobi Chamber, Mr. W. Tyson, President.

Chamber presided and in addition to the delegates there were present some heads of Government Departments and representatives of the Elected Members and of the Convention of Associations.

Following the loyal toast, the Chairman proposed the Association of Chambers of Commerce of East Africa. A little less than ten years ago, said Mr. Tyson, it occurred to a number of commercially minded men in the country who were members of various Chambers of Commerce that closer union between Kenya and the other East African territories could not but be of considerable benefit in so far as commerce was concerned. The idea, emanated largely from Colonel Franklin, received the assent of the then Governor, Sir Edward Northey, and was put into operation by an old Chamber of Commerce member, Mr. P. H. Clarke who became the Association's first president. Since then the Association had tackled many difficulties and also solved some serious economic questions. It had for ever dispelled of the fiction that there could ever be any successful attempt to describe the producer and the consumer or production and commerce.

Mr. Tyson went on to refer to the dinner when he himself was President of the Association and in the way in which he had always been impressed by the evident desire of all delegates to appreciate the point of view of others. Over and over again the manifestation of this spirit of give-and-take had enabled the Association to surmount what at first seemed formidable difficulties.

In coupling with the toast the name of Mr. Campbell, the President of the Association, the Chairman paid a tribute to his leadership and said the Association was proud of its officers and Executive for the tremendous amount of work they accomplished, most of it done after the season had dispersed.

Concluding Mr. Tyson said the toast would not be complete without reference to the excellent work performed on its behalf by His Majesty's Trade Commissioner, Colonel Franklin and his deputy, Mr. Charles Kemp.

Chief Union.

Mr. E. B. Campbell in the course of his reply said he was proud to be the Association's President, an office which he regarded as the highest to which a commercial man in East Africa could aspire. He continued: "Serious as the subjects of yesterday and today have been, I regard tomorrow as fraught with an importance both in policy and action which transcends anything which has ever appeared on our agenda—policy and action which will not merely influence the territories in which we reside but which will be taken into consideration by the distinguished people outside, one of whom has so recently been of us here. I say this because Sir Samuel Wilson expressly desired me to communicate to him the results of our deliberations on the Chief Union Report. It behooves us all to take the big and long view. We cannot afford to differ in a determination to consolidate the pioneer work already done and shew a readiness to co-operate with all those other forces which do not mean to surrender in this part of the world one great, British African state. To give less achievement to a spirit of unanimity to-morrow morning which I regard as such paramount importance. (Cheers.)"

In the Beginning.

Mr. P. H. Clarke, who made the first reply spoke of Colonel Franklin as the real originator of the Association which was now regarded as the most important official body in East Africa whose work was frequently sought by the Government and Government departments chiefly. The Association was really the outcome of valuable work done many years ago by Mr. Anderson, father of a member of the Nairobi Chamber.

Mr. J. Ogunna said one of the objects of the Association was that Uganda delegates should come to Kenya knowing that they would be treated with political discussions but realising on the contrary that the Uganda point of view would receive just as much attention as anything more closely following Kenya.

Mr. Walsh, Commissioner of Customs, congratulated the constant Chambers and the Association on the very great progress they had made within the last few years, a progress which, as an honorary member of several of the Chambers and of the Association, he followed with a great deal of interest. He had always believed that it was of very great importance from the official point of view that there should be responsible bodies to deal with political and commercial interests in the territories but for closer union between the unofficial and the official elements, which, he thought was equally important.

Major Fortna paid a tribute to the help which the Nairobi Chamber had received in carrying out the Association and Mr. White one of the delegates from Arusha, the youngest member of the Association, spoke in a similar strain.

Following the toast of the President, members of the Nairobi Chamber, proposed by Mr. P. H. Clarke, the Chairman, having replied, asked Mr. Powys Colby, as a representative of the Convention of Associations, to speak.

RECORDING THE HISTORY ON LAND BANK BILL.

Strong Objection to a Clause.

MORTGAGE FUNDING.

In the Legislative Council on Friday, Captain the Hon. E. E. Prichard (Madang Bora) gave notice of the following motion:—That this Council is not prepared to approve section 11 of the Report of the Select Committee on the Land and Agricultural Bank.

The Association of Chambers of Commerce of East Africa has passed a resolution, strongly objecting to the same clause.

The Minister in attending to the motion of delegates attending the session now in progress in Nairobi, Mr. George Tyson, who pointed out that this clause would grant a borrower to obtain advances from the Land Bank taking as security to an existing mortgage. It was inconsistent with common law and practice; continued Mr. Tyson, and they should strongly urge for its speedy removal. Unless that were done, unworkable mortgages would be done and the funds for the purpose of mortgage were likely to be seriously curtailed as a time when they were most urgently needed.

Mr. Tyson's resolution, the strongest possible objection to Clause 11 of the Bill, and in the report of the Select Committee, is numbered (11). (The clause referred to is 45 in the Bill and, in the report of the Select Committee, is numbered (11).)

Effect on Mortgage.

In presenting his resolution, Mr. Tyson said the policy of this country was to attract capital, and if they were going to provide by the Land Bank Bill, it would be to borrow money from the proposed Land Bank which would have to be charged with the security of first mortgages, the resultant danger would be obvious.

Mr. T. Wood seconded the resolution. He said that at one stage he was a temporary member of the Select Committee which dealt with this bill and all along he took the strongest objection to this clause. It came as some sort of shock to him to find that the clause had been included in the draft. He also knew that the legal gentlemen who were invited to give their advice and assistance to the Select Committee opposed the clause. He could not understand why it had been retained in view of the objections it met with. It was a most absurd position. "If left a section of the community whose assistance is most urgently required in this stage in this new developing country," added Mr. Wood.

Replying to a question by Mr. Bergman, Mr. Tyson stated that time ago to the commercial community as well as others in order to lay their views before the Select Committee.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Overseas Mails.

COMPLAINTS OF DELAY FROM UGANDA.

Reference was made to the alleged delay in overseas mails for Uganda at Friday's sitting of the Association of Chambers of Commerce in Nairobi.

Mr. T. Aronson (Eastern Province) in behalf of the East African Chamber proposed the following resolution:—

That overseas mails for

Uganda should not unnecessarily be detained at the Coast as at present, but that the Post and Railway authorities should co-operate and make full use of the facilities at their disposal and that the Executive should keep this in mind and report progress at the next session.

The motion was seconded by Mr. H. Bergman (Nairobi) and carried unanimously.

and passed through a deep slit in the reverse.

A purpose of narrow, their popularity shows no sign of waning. Almost every day-dress has its small, which is of two or three strongly contrasting colors when the dress is self-toned. High collars on fashionable short silk coats were long worn, and which is too big bows in front.

Club-dresses of black satin with softly hanging panels of white have many admirers. Another well-liked novelty is a plain woolen skirt of Scotch plaid, uncreased at the lower edge, accompanied by a suitably trimmed, tailored coat.

Flowers for wear with tailor-made dresses are made of fine straw.

with "eyes" of colored silk. The maturation in Fashion's favored choice, and is repeated in chiffon, in velvet, in straw, and in suede.

The very newest dress jewellery is made of wood, encrusted with silver, ivory, and gold. Dress jewellery is only worn, however, when there is absolutely no other decoration. The prevalent fashions of chiffon, for instance, obviously need no jewellery touch. Plain gorgette or chiffon gowns, on the other hand, call for its ornamental aid.

Evening gowns are much longer than day dresses, and a favorite neckline is the square-cut. Alternatively, there is the deep point behind and the rather high effect in front. Invariably, floating panels and draperies lend grace to the skirts, and there is a refreshing absence of hard lines about the neck and shoulders.

Half black silk straw and half white, this side being chosen in such an extremely becoming manner. The straw has the main part of the trim forms a fascinating frame for the face and hair. A model worth copying!

Obtain mixed with net in used for evening gowns of black, white, blue, and other colors.

THE COOK'S CORNER

Orange Tartlets.

Lines come small varieties, pane with good short pastry. Select two firm, green oranges; peel them as thinly as possible and chop the pulp finely. Cream three ounces of butter with three ounces of castor sugar; beat in, separately, the yolks of three eggs; add two tablespoonfuls of the juice of the oranges and the chopped rind, together with vanilla essence to flavour. Whip the whites of the eggs until frothy, and fold them lightly into the other ingredients. Divide the mixture into the twelve cases and bake for fifteen or twenty minutes in a moderate oven. When three-parts cooled, dredge the tartlets with castor sugar.

A Dinner-Time Savoury.

Hard-boil two or three eggs; shell them and chop them finely. Slice three good-sized ripe tomatoes, chop the pulp and add to the egg. Mix well, adding pepper and salt to taste. Melt a little spoonful of butter in a pan, put in the egg mixture and stir for a few minutes until thoroughly heated through. Make small rounds of hot buttered toast, pile the mixture upon them and serve at once.

The elegant's home frock may well be expressed in rich chestnut-brown, maroon, like the model sketched here. It is a useful little garment, simply trimmed with deep cuffs of chestnut and beige spot organza and a panel on each down one side of the bodice.

Dresses are divided into two distinct categories for day wear. There is the practical "sports" type, including short and so on; and there is the fluffy, smart house dress of bouffant printed, crepe or muslinette de soie. Though greatly in evidence at the beginning of the season, the latter is now less favored. Outstanding points to be noted in the prevailing dress silhouette include the definitely brightened and possibly waisted, the lightly defined, swathed hips, and the preponderance of large bows. There are "plaid" according to the dictates of the Parisians, who refuse to "have too much of anything" anywhere, fashion or no fashion! If the big bow is wrongly placed, she insists on its elimination, being determined to keep the line of her dress as comfortable as a featherbed.

Soft trousers are much to the fore both for coats and tailored dresses, and look, with waistbands of white satinette, are quite a "crash." White pique reap-ears in blue bands on blue and black crepe, as well as on black wool crepe. Trousers worn under the new seven-eighths black coats. The newest contrivance has a bright scarf-draped round the throat, the

The evening ensemble here is beautifully illustrated in a softly draped gown of ivory chiffon and an ivory chiffon coat patterned with a floral design in blue, red and gold; both given and coat are entirely devoid of trimming.

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL. Police Defeat Y.M.C.A. in Hard Contest.

LOZERS GO DOWN FIGHTING. (By "Kodak.") Y.M.C.A. and Police (Cup) match on the ground of the former club before a large crowd of spectators.

PROBABLE STARTERS. (By "Scrum") The head ground and the wear and tear of the season had a marked effect on the Rugby championship match between G.V. and Muthiga on Saturday.

Muthiga were without five of their regular players and Service were also short of some of their men, the result being that the match degenerated into a series of rushes by the forwards on both sides with few three quarter movements.

ABOUT STAKES. The following are the probable starters on the Ascot on Wednesday 7 furlongs.

Delius (Perryman), Duff (Perryman), Knight in the Goal (Beard), Synkovy (Wragg), Kanga (Wragg), Wainona Gift (Dick), Ganga Parada (Dixon), Fingle Bridge (—), Fendulbury (Richards), Bob (Leop), John Silver (Richard), Boman (Coope), Yeomanston (S. Donoghue), Golden Chalice (Fox), Harford (Sodky) for the Ascot Stakes to be run at Ascot on Wednesday 7 furlongs.

Good! It's British! ELEY SAFETY CARTRIDGE. Don't use inferior cartridges in your gun. USE ELEY OR KYNOC.

IF the name Eley or Kynoch is stamped on the side of a cartridge you may be sure that it will flash all that a cartridge is expected to do. It will kill its bird, be comfortable in use, and easily and will not damage your gun.
