'URGENT TASK' IN KENYA

Stepping-up the European population

The paramount need for increased African immigration to Kenya was stressed by Mr. W. B. Haslewood...

Mr. Haslewood had pointed out that Kenya could never be properly developed unless everyone worked...

The speaker thought that possibly the Government would not be able to do this...

TODAY IS TESTING DAY FOR THE NEW PRICES

Vegetables go 'under the counter'

TODAY, Nairobi's market day, may see the critical test of the new controlled prices of vegetables...

Already yesterday there had been a 'rush' for the vegetables. The market was flooded with produce...

One source stated that the market was flooded with produce. The prices were very low...

KING GUSTAV OF SWEDEN DIES

World's oldest monarch; 92
CROWN PRINCE BECOMES RULER AT THE AGE OF 67

Stockholm, Sweden's reignmaker monarch and the oldest in the world, died at his palace at Drottningholm, near Stockholm, yesterday. Although the king's condition had been steadily failing since he was 80, his death was unexpectedly sudden. King Gustav, who reigned for 46 years, died at the age of 92. His son, Crown Prince Adolph, who at the age of 67 now succeeds him, did not arrive at the palace until 11:30 p.m. He was with the king at the time of his death. The king had been in bed since the evening before. He had no coronation. The king was succeeded by the crown prince at the age of 67. He had no coronation. The king was succeeded by the crown prince at the age of 67. He had no coronation.

Riviera sunshine

The King was reported as "tired and weak" when he returned to his palace in Stockholm, where he had a holiday at his summer residence at Falun in Central Sweden. It is held that in recent months the king had increased his work, and that he had been overworked. King Gustav, said the coronation, was troubled by extreme breathlessness.

Extremely tired

It was said that the king was extremely tired when he died. He had been in bed since the evening before. He had no coronation. The king was succeeded by the crown prince at the age of 67. He had no coronation.

POTATO BLACK MARKET NOT LIKELY TO LAST

Traders say position will right itself

POTATOES, which went "under the counter" in Nairobi market on Friday with an introduction of price control and were "for regular customers only" came out into the open again on Saturday and went straight into a black market.

It was said that the position will right itself. Traders say that the black market will not last. The price of potatoes is expected to fall. The market is expected to be cleared by the end of the week.

RECORD PRICE FOR UGANDA COTTON

22 million more for growers

BASIS OF 45 CENTS PER POUND IS 12 ABOVE GUARANTEE.

Uganda Government announced yesterday that cotton growers are to receive 22 cents per pound above the price guaranteed at the beginning of the growing season. The new price is based on 45 cents per pound for B. 2 up to the margin area.

A Government statement said that in recognition of the long period of negotiations between the representatives of the Uganda Marketing Board, the United Kingdom Raw Cotton Committee and the Government of India for the sale of a portion of the Uganda cotton crop, the results of which have already been announced, prices for good raw cotton are to be increased by 22 cents above the minimum guarantee price per pound for variety B. 2 and declared optional for variety A. 1.

BUS FIRMS REACH AGREEMENT

Avoiding wasteful competition

UNECONOMICAL and wasteful competition between two Kenya road operators ended yesterday after the Transport Licensing Board sitting in Nairobi, notified an agreement between them.

The agreement, reached by the Transport Licensing Company and the Kenya Road Transport Services, Ltd., has been described as the first of its kind in the country.

The agreement is for a period of five years, and provides for the avoidance of wasteful competition and wasteful expenditure on the part of the two parties who negotiated with one another.

THE FARMER LOOKS AHEAD

By SIR WILLIAM GAVIN
Chief Representative to the Ministry of Agriculture, 1938-47

THREE or four generations ago, there were few people in the British Isles living from the open country. Few could not find in walk about the country a man who would take the state of their crop, the loss of the crop, the weather, the weather, but the last generation has seen a change. The farmer has become a man of letters, a man of letters, a man of letters. He has seen a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life. He has seen a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life.

With all the talk to the present and the future, the farmer has seen a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life. He has seen a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life. He has seen a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life, a change in the way of life.

Harvest disaster

It is at this time of year that the farmer looks back on the year that has passed. He looks back on the year that has passed, he looks back on the year that has passed. He looks back on the year that has passed, he looks back on the year that has passed. He looks back on the year that has passed, he looks back on the year that has passed.

C.D.C. believes in future of Ramie

NEW research indicates that ramie can be grown in British Honduras, North Borneo and other British Colonies as a result of the introduction of the Corporation for the Colonies. The Corporation for the Colonies, the Corporation for the Colonies, the Corporation for the Colonies.

No going back

There will always be some in the country who will go back to the way of life of the past. There will always be some in the country who will go back to the way of life of the past. There will always be some in the country who will go back to the way of life of the past.

Points of progress

The rate of progress has favored the growth of all real costs, and the rate of progress has favored the growth of all real costs, and the rate of progress has favored the growth of all real costs.

PEEP THROUGH THE IRON CURTAIN REVEALED—A TARTAN

At the way from Tientsin to Tientsin my wife and I have been looking along the Iron Curtain which divides Russia from the West. This week, on our way back from Peking, we decided to see if we could get a better view.

THE HONOURABLE FITZROY MACLEAN, M.P., continuing his diary which he has on an outpost on the Turkish frontier and get a brief glimpse through the Iron Curtain.

of the Iron Curtain had passed on to the West. It was for a long time the only way to see the East. It was for a long time the only way to see the East.

Our own views are not shared by the Russians. They are not so sure of their own strength as we are. They are not so sure of their own strength as we are.

FEW OUTSTANDING BOOKS THIS YEAR

With a few obvious exceptions the present publishing season has been somewhat lacking in really outstanding books. The autumn of 1942 was excellent and last year was even better. Perhaps the most important and Christmas the present year's offerings will be made good.
