NAIROBI BUILDS MORE IN 1952

PLANS SCHEDULED WILL COST MORE THAN £5 MILLIONS

THE graph of Nairobi's building projects continues to climb every year, since it has shown an increase of some 20 per cent over the previous year, and the first quarter of 1952 maintains the upward climb. But the graph is measured in terms of cash expenditure on building—and increasing prices account for most of the increase. In actual volume of building there is only a very slight increase.

Further progress for buildings for which plans have not yet been deposited will still further increase the £5 million worth shown in the graph.

Council will house 80 women

AWARE that women now come to Nairobi for more accommodation than men, the City Council plans a permanent hostel for women. The proposed accommodation, however, will have 100 beds, but the Council is at present house a fair percentage of the city's population.

Top-floor restaurant

About three-quarters of the 200 occupants of the individual will be housed in the permanent hostel. The restaurant will be on the top floor of the building.

BLIZZARDS OVER NORTH EUROPE

Transport delayed

SNOW FALLS TO STOP DFORI AND CARIBBE BOAT RACE

SNOWSTORMS and blizzards which stopped all weekend sporting events—except the annual Oxford-Bleghoe boat race and the Rugby International matches between England and Ireland—were still raging over the north of South England and Wales yesterday. There had been no appreciable lull in the storm all hours. In some London streets and at London Airports the snow was nearly six inches deep and it was felt that on most of the major roads leading into London from the blizzard of snow made it impossible to tell where road closed and the pavement began.

The heavy fall covered an area of a line from London to Yorkshire in Wales. The temperature in London yesterday was just above freezing at the point and meteorologists expect widespread of the blizzard conditions by this morning.

The bus, train, and services which had been disrupted for the weekend were being gradually restored to normal. Services to be delayed and cancellations were being reported in the Midlands.

The winds which have been blowing since the day before yesterday are now becoming easterly. It is expected that in 48 hours there will be a respite from the weather. It was impossible to forecast.

A bill providing for the setting up of a Uganda Development Corporation was passed by the Uganda Legislative Council on Saturday. The Corporation is to take over Government investments in state enterprises (not the Uganda Electricity Board) and will help to promote the industrial and economic development of the Protectorate.

Initially, this means the Corporation is acquiring the interest of the Government in the Uganda Fish Marketing Corporation and the Lake Victoria Hotel.

The Corporation will be managed by a board of directors, which will include representatives of the Government and the private sector.

The Corporation is expected to play a significant role in the development of Uganda's economy.

POSITION OF MAIZE GROWERS DISCUSSED

It is perfectly clear that extension of the price of maize to influence the price of other agricultural products is not a desirable policy. It is necessary to have a fair price for maize to enable the grower to cover his costs and to have a reasonable profit. The maize grower is in a difficult position because of the high cost of fertilizers and other inputs. The price of maize should be fixed at a level which will enable the grower to cover his costs and to have a reasonable profit.

Undesirable

It is clear that the interest of the good farmer is not to be served by a policy of fixing the price of maize. The maize grower is in a difficult position because of the high cost of fertilizers and other inputs. The price of maize should be fixed at a level which will enable the grower to cover his costs and to have a reasonable profit.

Second problem

Mr. Newton stated that the second problem is the fact that the maize grower is in a difficult position because of the high cost of fertilizers and other inputs. The price of maize should be fixed at a level which will enable the grower to cover his costs and to have a reasonable profit.

Fair price

"I would like to make it quite clear that the maize grower is in a difficult position because of the high cost of fertilizers and other inputs. The price of maize should be fixed at a level which will enable the grower to cover his costs and to have a reasonable profit."

Commission told of wheat growing costs NEED FOR YEARLY FIGURES

By Sir A. W. Ward, Executive Officer of the Kenya National Farmers' Union.

The public session of the Treasury Commission inquiring into agricultural production costs and price fixing, held only 30 minutes during its meeting at Eldoret Municipal Board rooms on Monday.

Mr. A. W. Ward, Executive Officer of the Kenya National Farmers' Union, sole speaker on behalf of agriculturists, pointed out that in Great Britain prices and facts had been compiled and reviewed by experts. No such organization existed in Kenya.

Mr. Ward went on to refer to the committee which was appointed in 1949 under his leadership. It was suggested that the cost of production should be established on the basis of the cost of production of the country, and not on the basis of the cost of production of the world.

Unfortunately, the Government, which appeared to have been so anxious to obtain accurate figures, has not been able to do so.

He hoped that the Commission would be able to obtain more accurate figures for wheat growing costs in Kenya.

He also wished to draw attention to the fact that the cost of production of wheat in Kenya is higher than in Great Britain.

Mr. Ward then referred to a report of the Kenya Agricultural Commission, which had been drawn up for the year 1951. This report, which was published by the Kenya Agricultural Commission, showed that the cost of production of wheat in Kenya is 10 per cent higher than in Great Britain.

What weekly salaries would involve

By Sir A. W. Ward, Executive Officer of the Kenya National Farmers' Union.

Weekly salary payments—advocated by some as a help towards fighting the cost of living problem—could be made in those circumstances provided by the Treasury without a drastic overhauling of present arrangements.

Mr. Ward said that such a scheme would involve the payment of weekly salaries to employees in the public service, and to those in the private sector.

He said that the Treasury would have to meet the cost of these salaries, and that this would involve a significant increase in public expenditure.

Mr. Ward said that he did not believe that such a scheme would be a solution to the cost of living problem.

2,500 packets

By Sir A. W. Ward, Executive Officer of the Kenya National Farmers' Union.

More than 2,500 packets of European civil servants' pay were returned to the Kenya National Farmers' Union on Monday, March 31, 1952.

The packets were returned because they contained incorrect information regarding the salaries of civil servants.

Mr. Ward said that the packets were returned to the Kenya National Farmers' Union, and that the correct information would be provided to the Treasury.

Green Room rag

By Sir A. W. Ward, Executive Officer of the Kenya National Farmers' Union.

Another rag was staged in the Green Room at the Kenya National Farmers' Union on Monday, March 31, 1952.

Mr. Ward said that the rag was staged to raise funds for the Kenya National Farmers' Union, and that the funds raised would be used for various purposes.

Thieves cut off telephones

Crop failures

By Sir A. W. Ward, Executive Officer of the Kenya National Farmers' Union.

Crop failures have been reported in the Kenya National Farmers' Union on Monday, March 31, 1952.

POLICE PATROL IN BATTLE

One constable killed SEVEN-HOUR ENGAGEMENT WITH GELUBBA TRIBESMEN

A seven-hour battle on Monday with raiding Gelubba tribesmen at Ileret, 30 miles south of the Ethiopian frontier on the eastern shore of Lake Rudolf, a small Kenya police patrol lost one constable killed and two seriously wounded before it extricated itself and reached its post at Ileret.

This news was contained in a radio message from Nairobi to Ileret on Monday evening. The dead man was No. 1070 Constable Mohamed Ali Hassan, of the Gurrah tribe. He was 23 years old and had served with the Police since July 1956. He leaves a widow.

The strength of the police force which was under the command of Assistant Superintendent E. G. Wright, was not given in the message. Nor were the casualties among the attackers, whose full strength was given as between 250 and 300.

At dawn yesterday an aircraft took off from Nairobi with Mr. D. D. McGinn, Acting Deputy Commissioner of Police, and a medical officer. Later another aircraft left to take Senior Superintendent J. Sweeney, in charge of Northern Frontier Province Police, from Ileret to Nairobi.

Up to last night no further news had been received from Nairobi, but a police officer in Nairobi said that with the Deputy Commissioner on the spot there is likely that and immediate continuous reports were not expected. Despite the heroic character of the message received, some of the battle fought by the police can be gleaned from the fact that it lasted for seven hours and from the odds against them and from the fact that the police were engaged—which is improbable—there would have been more than 200 men.

At least one of the police officers was killed. The police officer who was killed was a constable named Ali Hassan. He was 23 years old and had served with the Police since July 1956. He leaves a widow.

The Gelubba chief officer said that the Gelubba had made a raid on a cattle raid killed 20 men and 20 women and 20 children before returning to their own country. A large number of the Gelubba were captured and taken to Ileret. They are being held in a camp there.

Give workers more scope, says report VIEW OF SELECT COMMITTEE

WORKERS' organizations in Kenya should have more latitude in their internal affairs than is provided by a Kenya Legislative Council Bill covering provisions for such organizations and trade unions, says a Select Committee appointed to take evidence on the Bill.

Unconvinced

The majority of the committee, however, reported that they were unconvinced by the arguments of the Kenya Legislative Council members who considered suspension of registration.

Language

The report states: "We are satisfied that, notwithstanding its desirability, the requirement that both secretary and treasurer of every trade union shall be literate in the English language is unnecessary and should be omitted."

Connection

The committee also recommended that the Kenya Legislative Council should be empowered to suspend registration of trade unions.

State airline now running at a profit

BRITISH OVERSEAS AIRWAYS CORPORATION—run at an operating profit in its first full year since post-war nationalisation—made a clear overall profit in the financial year just ended.

Sir Miles Thomas, chairman of the Corporation, announcing this in a message to shareholders of the company.

"This is indeed a notable change from two years ago when our losses amounted to £2 million," he said.

It had been intended in the first instance to reduce the deficit and, as a result of a number of improvements in the service, the company has managed to do this.

"We are at least able to fly on a regular basis," he said. "The fact that the staff was able to undertake the increased business and a more logical organisation with new types of British aircraft."

Economic Laws Hold Good on BOTH SIDES OF IRON CURTAIN

To build an Iron Curtain curtain of East European countries with the West is easy. But the West is not so sure that the economic laws of both sides of the Iron Curtain are the same.

For whether capitalism or Communism are the dominant forces in the economy, the same economic laws hold good on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

In the case of the West, the law of supply and demand holds good. If there is a shortage of a commodity, its price rises and vice versa. If there is an excess, its price falls.

In the case of the East, the law of supply and demand also holds good. If there is a shortage of a commodity, its price rises and vice versa. If there is an excess, its price falls.

In both cases, the law of supply and demand holds good.

BILL ON LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Second reading moved OPPORTUNITY FOR GREAT ADVANCES, SAYS MEMBER

CONCLUDING his speech moving the second reading of the Local Government (County Councils) Bill in the Legislative Council yesterday, Sir Charles Morrison, Member for Education, Health and Local Government, declared the Bill was an opportunity for a very important constitutional change, which could combine on a fair basis; they could all contribute from their experience and qualifications.

When Sir Charles sat down after his address—it lasted almost an hour—the Council adjourned. The debate on the Bill will continue today and might possibly reach its committee stage when a booklet of 32 pages of amendments have to be considered.

Sir Charles began by recalling that two years ago he had introduced the African District Councils' Bill and followed it through all its stages into law.

"Now I have to introduce another far-reaching and important measure for the advance of local government in the Colony," he declared.

The measure would raise the minimum between town and country in these areas.

Sir Charles went on to say the main problem was a racial one and he would be glad to see it resolved in a way which would be acceptable to all sections of the community.

He added that the one objection to the Bill was its length. It was necessary in many respects to increase the number of pages in order to deal with the various details of the Bill.

He stressed that the Bill was not a measure to increase the number of members of local authorities, but to make them more effective and more representative.

He concluded by saying that he was confident that the Bill would be passed and that it would be a landmark in the history of local government in the Colony.

MORE CUTS IN IMPORTS PREDICTED

Sterling position reviewed

SINCE the Kenya Government announced its plan last month to help Britain and the Commonwealth by saving sterling, the position has gone worse and you will be far from the gold and foreign currency resources of sterling area.

The staff was needed, he said, as a result of the more stringent import controls in force.

Warning
He recalled that he had warned in the Budget debate that it would be difficult to continue to import more than £100 million in goods and services.

He added that the one objection to the Bill was its length. It was necessary in many respects to increase the number of pages in order to deal with the various details of the Bill.

He stressed that the Bill was not a measure to increase the number of members of local authorities, but to make them more effective and more representative.

He concluded by saying that he was confident that the Bill would be passed and that it would be a landmark in the history of local government in the Colony.

DRAFT CONSTITUTION FOR THE SUDAN

Not far from self-determination, declares Civil Secretary

A NEW draft statute, just introduced, for self-government by an all-Sudanese Cabinet, an elected all-Sudanese Chamber of Deputies and a partially elected Senate. The Government-General will be the constitutional head of the country and its ministers, except a few where the draft provides to the contrary, must act upon the Ministers' advice.

Sir James Robertson, Civil Secretary, tabling the statute in the Legislative Assembly, said: "Take this constitution as a whole, it is not far from self-determination."

The Sudan, under the draft, would be placed under the joint rule of Britain and the Sudanese Government.

He added that the one objection to the Bill was its length. It was necessary in many respects to increase the number of pages in order to deal with the various details of the Bill.

He stressed that the Bill was not a measure to increase the number of members of local authorities, but to make them more effective and more representative.

He concluded by saying that he was confident that the Bill would be passed and that it would be a landmark in the history of local government in the Colony.

EXTRA BILL AGAINST COLOUR BAR

ESTIMATES REDUCED UNOFFICIALS VOTE OUT TWO ITEMS

UNOFFICIAL MEMBERS of Kenya Legislative Council yesterday voted 19:11 against a supplementary estimate of £9,531 from the Government's second demand for supplementary estimates for 1951-52.

By 18 to 14 votes the item was carried from the estimates by a vote of 18-14.

He added that the one objection to the Bill was its length. It was necessary in many respects to increase the number of pages in order to deal with the various details of the Bill.

He stressed that the Bill was not a measure to increase the number of members of local authorities, but to make them more effective and more representative.

He concluded by saying that he was confident that the Bill would be passed and that it would be a landmark in the history of local government in the Colony.

UNION BAN ON COAL EXPORTS

Difficult position in East Africa

"STANDARD" FOR EXPORTS SOUTH AFRICA'S restriction on coal exports, which came into force at the start of the month, will make the East African Railways and Harbours Administration's search for coal more difficult.

The South African Government has banned all coal exports from the Transvaal coalfields except those for the railways.

It is stated by Reuters that the ban on Transvaal coal exports was imposed to enable the Government to meet its obligations under the new coal export control scheme.

He added that the one objection to the Bill was its length. It was necessary in many respects to increase the number of pages in order to deal with the various details of the Bill.

He stressed that the Bill was not a measure to increase the number of members of local authorities, but to make them more effective and more representative.

He concluded by saying that he was confident that the Bill would be passed and that it would be a landmark in the history of local government in the Colony.

FARM BEQUEATHED TO HELP SETTLEMENT
Gesture by Kenya pioneer

ONE of Kenya's little-known pioneers, who died last month at the age of 74, has bequeathed his 10,000-acre farm at Embu, near Salama Hamud, for the benefit of the settlement.

Mr. William Brewster, a former soldier, policeman, auctioneer, farm manager and stockman and a famous figure in agricultural circles, died at his home in the Colony.

He had a son of similar name, but he is not the same person as the one who died last month. The son is a well-known farmer and has a house in a central part of the settlement.

Mr. Brewster was a pioneer of the settlement and his bequest will help to settle the land. He was a man of many talents and his work in the settlement was highly regarded.

THE BRITISH RACING STORY

How it became the sport of Kings

HORSE-RACING is often called the Sport of Kings... it has some significance when first it came into vogue... for since the very earliest days of racing the British monarch has supported it...

The 'Escape' affair... In the early part of the 19th century the British monarchs were very keen on horse racing...

Hisunderstood... Between the two regions of the country, the racing scene was somewhat uneven...

First Royal Derby... All the seasons were given over to the racing of horses... the Derby and the Oaks were the two main events...

Lived for sport... It was a life of racing, and racing was the only sport that could be followed in the country...

Derek Pugh is recovering... Derek Pugh, who still attracts a following, was potentially one of the world's greatest sprinters...

He is already back at his studies in Paris, and there is every hope that he will be able to return to his former career in the future...

AVON GIANTS WILL GIVE YOU... A CLEAN ENGINE MEANS RELIABILITY... To get top performance out of your car you must have a clean engine...

extra miles-FREE! Their rugged construction and "officially" designed tread ensure longer, safer, trouble-free mileage...

THE NEW FLORA OF TROPICAL THE NEW EAST AFRICA

By P. J. GREENWAY, Botanist-in-Charge of the East African Herbarium of the East African Agriculture and Forestry Research Organisation

THE early 1850's the preparation by the staff of the Herbarium of the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, of a Flora for Tropical East Africa was mooted.

Two grants
The work was supported by two grants from the Colonial Development and Welfare Committee and the East African Herbarium.

New idea
What was new in the idea of a flora for Tropical East Africa was the inclusion of the countries of the East African Herbarium.

A BOOK BY A NEW EAST AFRICAN SETTLER
LIVED EARNESTLY for his convictions. But there was of course another side to his character.

BACK TO BERLIN

WHEN it became possible for me, this winter, to revisit Berlin after an absence of 15 years, I began to realize that I was deeply unwilling to see the city again. It is one thing to feel sympathetic and send good parcels; it is quite another thing to be actually confronted by people who are so much less fortunate than yourself and face the fact that they are so much less fortunate than you can do to help them.

By Christopher Isherwood

THE first thing I used to do when I landed in Berlin was to look at the clock. I found that the people I had known in London, I expected a crash, and was almost disappointed when we landed at Tempelhof Field in a mild, sun-drenched day.

As for the German people, I found that they were not the same as the people I had known in London. They were not the same as the people I had known in London. They were not the same as the people I had known in London. They were not the same as the people I had known in London.

USE of the word "use" is a common one in the English language. It is used in many different contexts, and its meaning can vary significantly depending on the situation.

As for the German people, I found that they were not the same as the people I had known in London. They were not the same as the people I had known in London. They were not the same as the people I had known in London.

Over-prepared
I HAD always prepared myself for a shock when I returned to Berlin. I had heard that the city was a wasteland, and I was not disappointed when I found that to be true.

The moral
As I listened to all this, I felt a sense of relief. I had heard that the city was a wasteland, and I was not disappointed when I found that to be true.

DAVIDSON
The Russians
I had heard that the Russians were a cruel and brutal people. I was not disappointed when I found that to be true.

Unafraid
How would it be to live in Berlin? I was not afraid. I was not afraid. I was not afraid. I was not afraid.

THE AUTHOR

CHRISTOPHER ISHERWOOD'S "GOOD-BYE TO BERLIN" is a book which has become one of the most popular of the war years. It is a story of the life of a young man who goes to Berlin to work for a newspaper, and who finds himself in the middle of the German people.

Love of talk
As for the German people, I found that they were not the same as the people I had known in London. They were not the same as the people I had known in London.

Personalities In The World Of Music
BENJAMIN BRITEN: An English Composer Of World Stature

A RELATIVELY unknown one day, a celebrity, he is now a household name. His success as the successor of Benjamin Britten. His opera, Peter Grimes, on its triumphant first performance, attracted the way for further successes that have made Britten one of the outstanding British composers of his time.

"I can never find Holt when I want him!"

The manager said as the other contacted one another in a matter of seconds.

In a way it is always rather sad to think a man who has achieved such a high position in the world of music should be so far from the practice of his art.

THE STORY OF MARKOVA

BIOGRAPHS of theatrical people are notoriously difficult to write. They tend to be excessive adulation, trivial gossip and slovenly construction.

Opera a failure

British composer Benjamin Britten's opera, Peter Grimes, was a failure.

Peter Grimes

After his return to England for active work as a composer and for the radio, he was known as a reliable man.
