EGYPT FACING A CRISIS

Cotton crop not yet sold GOVERNMENT SETS UP EMERGENCY COMMITTEE

EGYPT is facing a serious crisis. With cotton not yet sold for the season, the government has set up a committee to deal with the situation. Arthur Clegg, in Cairo for the Egyptian News Service, reports that Egyptian companies are failing—and are in no sign of the great slide stopping.

The value of the Egyptian pound abroad is dropping point by point and already the committee has announced emergency measures to hold on to every pound sterling possible.

The allowance of £2000 allowed out of the country for conversion into sterling has been reduced to £100.

This new adding machine—the electrically operated FACTA is been constructed to make life easier for you who must normally spend a good deal of precious time making complicated mental and written calculations.

Every time you press a key on the FACTA, your calculation is visibly recorded, automatically, quickly and silently.

The FACTA adds number to number with the + key, which automatically clears for the next addition. At the same time the result is shown on the paper roll at the top. Subtraction is done easily with the - key after you have set both numbers on the machine.

U. S. Election scene up-to-date

THERE are two important factors in the help to political scene which is the primary paradox of peaceful elections in an unpeaceful world.

One is the adaptability of the country's political system to the requirements of political life. The other is the adaptability of the country's political system to the requirements of political life. The other is the adaptability of the country's political system to the requirements of political life.

TENNIS ON THE CENTRE COURT

Capacity crowd sees American girls

By the Sports Editor
A CAPACITY crowd, most of whom straggled to the court in good time for the first match, jammed every inch of space around Nairobi's Centre Court Saturday for the first tennis matches in which the American girls, Miss Doris Hart and Miss Shirley Fry, took part.
The tennis was an appreciative audience among whom few could cavil at the level offered. On occasion the tennis was brilliant and it was rarely always certain that Miss Hart, needless to say, was the principal attraction and her almost flawless stroke production showed not the slightest diminution in quality and ease.

Both girls had occasional breaks in the early morning, appeared to feel the heat of a brassy afternoon, but were covered over by a mid-afternoon shower which did not dampen their spirits. Miss Hart's game was a good one, but the quality of the tennis was not at the level of the Metropolitan Tennis Club, which is the organizers of the Centre Court tennis.

Honours shared

The singles matches, were of two sets each and honours were equally shared. The first match, between Miss Hart and Miss Shirley Fry, was a good one, but the quality of the tennis was not at the level of the Metropolitan Tennis Club, which is the organizers of the Centre Court tennis.

Grace and style

The girls played with grace and style. The match between Miss Hart and Miss Shirley Fry was a good one, but the quality of the tennis was not at the level of the Metropolitan Tennis Club, which is the organizers of the Centre Court tennis.

Feeling strain

After Miss Hart and Miss Shirley Fry, the tennis was not at the level of the Metropolitan Tennis Club, which is the organizers of the Centre Court tennis.

THOUSANDS LOSE THEIR HOMES

Flood havoc in America MISSOURI WAVE STILL MENACES TOWNS ON ITS COURSE

WITH attention diverted from Korea, Europe and the Presidential elections to the great floods in the Midwest last week, Americans spent an anxious week in the turbulent Missouri ravaged on its 4,000-mile swollen course to the sea, leaving a trail of havoc.

Little loss of life is reported, though 100,000 are said to be homeless.

A 30-foot crest of water which swept through Omaha (Nebraska) on Thursday reached the Nebraska City following the fact that so far the damage has been minimal.

Kansas City today.

Though the crest was of a record height and exceeded the flood stage to effect it feverish night and day activities engaged to raise the bulkworks and the worst was averted.

As the four great rivers swept on at their abnormal heights whole towns were evacuated of both people and livestock and to such measures, taken in time, are attributable the fact that so far the damage has been minimal.

At the weekend, troops were sent on flood duty in the Eastern Iowa's Mississippi Valley as the waters here down on the towns of Muscatine, Wapella and Grandview. The Missouri, though dropping from its highest point of 115 feet, still engulfed vast areas in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, on Sunday.

At Wadena (Minnesota), threatened by the Mississippi, Red Cross fighters placed huge plastic sheets on the roofs of dykes to check swag. They hoped to keep water out of the town of 2,000 people.

Hamburg, a town of 2,000 inhabitants in southwestern Iowa, was at one time half under water. The Missouri, which flows from the Missouri River, was at one time 100 feet higher than normal. The water was 100 feet higher than normal. The water was 100 feet higher than normal.

VIETMINH LOSSES IN INDO-CHINA

Rebel offensive unlikely

THE French Union Commander in Indo-China believes there is very little chance of the Vietminh rebels mounting an offensive in the near future because of their heavy losses in the last few months, a French Army spokesman has said in Saigon.

But the Vietminh also said that the number of Vietminh units recruited but not attached to the regular Vietminh Army.

Twenty thousand regular Vietminh troops remain in the Tonkin Delta, he added. Of these, about 4,000 of the 7thth Division are in the northern part and 4,000 of the 20th and 30th Divisions in the southern part.

At least the same number, probably more, in regional forces militarily recruited but not attached to the regular Vietminh Army.

Wiped out

The spokesman said the 3rd, 4th and 5th Divisions of the Vietminh were wiped out in the middle of their own offensives.

This year all the great rivers of the Indo-China basin are in flood. The Vietminh are in a bad way, he said. They are in a bad way, he said. They are in a bad way, he said.

CALL FOR UNION OF EMPLOYERS

Suggestion by sisal growers

ED BY Mr. R. Bennett, from the Coast, members of the Kenya Sisal Growers' Association told their Control Board in Nairobi yesterday that they wanted an employers' union.

Behind the plea lay the hope that such a union in the sisal industry would give the lead to other industries to form similar unions.

Mr. Bennett brought up the question of the Association's annual meeting. He wanted more cooperation among employers in the industry.

More difficult

Labour was becoming more difficult to manage, he said. He was not sure if it was possible to get a union of employers.

RICE-GROWING SCHEMES
IN TANGANYIKA

Minister of State is confident

When just a few years ago the House of Commons had a short debate on Colonial rice production, Members heard the Minister of State for the Colonies, Mr. A. T. On the Rufiji River which is partially mechanized cultivation is in operation, he said the yield from 7,400 acres ploughed in 1950-51 was very satisfactory—4,000 tons of rice. It is expected that in time it will be hoped that 25,000 acres could be cultivated in that district alone.

He fully mechanized operation in Kilimanjaro was being conducted in Dar es Salaam. So far about 6,000 acres had been covered and it was expected that a large-scale mechanized operation would be in progress by June.

He mentioned the fact that the local Government was taking a direct interest in the rice schemes. It was an important part of the Government's policy in the area of investment in the rice schemes in Tanganyika.

SHIRLEY FRY TURNS TABLES

Wins single against Miss Doris Hart

The tennis on the Centre Court of the Nairobi Club on Sunday was even better than Saturday's matches and drew as big a crowd. Once again, despite threats of rain, the weather was fine throughout.

The old tradition, "Play singles for extra money" was again borne out for the doubles matches were by far the most strenuous afternoon for their singles. They played a doublets with Mrs. Keyser women and were on court all day, for nearly four and a half hours, but they were playing.

The 1961 tennis match between Shirley Fry and Miss Doris Hart was a very close one. Fry, who was the defending champion, was defeated by Hart in a very close match. Fry's second set was won by a very narrow margin, but Hart's performance was excellent. Fry's victory over Hart was a very important one for her, as it was her first win over Hart in a singles match.

Miss Mrs. Keyser and Mrs. M. K. M. were the only singles players who were well supported.

SIR REGINALD ROBINS, East Africa's Commissioner for Transport, told the Central Legislative Assembly yesterday that, if his administration had to raise the £25,750,000 loan need for foreseeable development of railways and harbours from the International Bank, annual interest payable on the loan might be £6,000,000.

The Bill, authorizing the raising of the loan, passed through its second reading and committee stage without opposition or comment.

Amendments were made to enable all or part of the loan to be raised from the International Bank instead of the London market.

Declarations were made by representatives of the Bank who took place in the middle of the afternoon.

It was also declared that representatives of the Bank would meet the High Commission and the East African Governments regarding the possibility of raising the loan from the International Bank.

It was also stated that a loan from the Bank would mean that the Government would be able to raise any necessary money.

Negotiations

Further the fact into law now is emphasized, did not mean they were intended to meet the needs of the country. It meant the Government would be able to raise the money needed to meet the needs of the country.

The effect of climate on temperament

THOUGH it can sometimes be argued that the political temperament of East Africa may have good reason to be thankful for its climate. So thinks Mr. Geoffrey Mansfield, who in a broadcast from London said:

"Tropical Africa is a subtle, fascinating, complex land. No other part of the world has so many different types of climate. It is a land of contrasts. It is a land of extremes. It is a land of contrasts and extremes."

It is said that many of the best artists in East Africa are to be found in the more temperate regions of the continent. This is due to the fact that these regions provide a more favourable environment for artistic expression.

LONDON TALKS ON FEDERATION

Boycott by eight delegates

AFRICANS FROM NYASALAND, NORTHERN RHODESIA ABSENT

EIGHT Africans invited by the British Government to attend the London conference on the proposed Central African Federation have boycotted the meetings, which began yesterday. They are from Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

They say they have no mandate to attend the conference as things stand. They came to London to find out if the British Government was really going to press the federation in face of African opposition.

So far they say no complaint has been made on behalf of the British Government, although they have expressed their views in talks with Mr. Oliver Lyttelton, the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

They say they had hoped to see their people to inform them of the situation in the federation with Southern Rhodesia.

They also say they were disappointed that the British Government had not asked them to attend the talks, which would have been a great help to them.

As they had rejected the offer of a mandate to attend the conference, they could not participate in discussions on modifications to the original London report of officials submitted by the four Governments.

They were accompanied by the fact that the conference had been arranged in a private way by the British Government, which was not a representative of the African people.

Mr. Alan Lennox-Boyd, Minister of State for the Colonies, said the Government regretted the absence of the Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesian Africans from the conference, but said the Government had an opportunity to hear their views.

He said the conference would make some modifications to the original report, but that they would be forwarded to all three territories.

Mr. Lennox-Boyd said that the Government would be glad to hear the views of the African people, but that they would be forwarded to all three territories.

35 MILLION WATCH ATOMIC EXPLOSION

THIRTY-FIVE MILLION people throughout the United States on Tuesday sat tensely before their television sets to witness the first television broadcast of what was probably the most powerful atomic bomb ever exploded in the United States—a white spot among a series of waving lines.

It was something of an anticlimax after the repeated admissions of the assassin to "blow stand by for the first actual blast of an atom bomb ever. However, some minutes later the bomb was exploded in the Nevada desert.

Finance and Commerce THE POLICIES OF MR. R. A. BUTLER ARE BEGINNING TO WORK

By SYDNEY S. GAMPELL

WITH good luck and good management the world market position can be held to desirable though needed correction of last year's inflationary spiral. Nobody would dispute that the slump is as light as that best ever known in developments, possibly the shake-up in Indian markets have been positively welcome by responsible authorities.

It is the general direction of the world market which is the matter of concern. Chamberlain's policy of working the world's resources is working. The Government's policy of working the world's resources is working.

An African correspondent reads this week in a letter to the editor an excellent criticism of the conditions at the Government dispensary in Nairobi. Most people who have had occasion to consult this institution will agree with the condemnation. It is not only the methods but the staffing which is the cause of the trouble. In fact, as stated, it is not only the staffing, but the methods and the equipment, for men and children, both present serious problems. After making all allowances, the fact still remains that there is much that requires improvement.

WEATHER FORECAST

The most important feature of the tropic chart at the present time is the strong ridge over Eastern Africa south of the Equator, and it is difficult to foresee with any certainty what the future course of this system will be. It seems more probable, however, that with the continued eastward movement of the main anticyclone, the ridge will weaken, and in accordance with the anticyclone's boundary of the north and south will be restored.

The possibility of a ridge in the Tropics of Africa and the Indian Ocean, as the anticyclone approaches the East African coast, with the maximum high pressure over the Indian Ocean, is not so certain. It is possible that a low pressure system, which has been associated with the anticyclone, may be followed by the development of a low pressure system of a low pressure system of a low pressure system.

REGIONAL FORECASTS

KENYA

COASTAL AREA. - Long trough of low pressure over the Indian Ocean, with a maximum high pressure over the East African coast, is likely to be followed by the development of a low pressure system of a low pressure system of a low pressure system.

INTERIOR AREA. - A high pressure system over the East African continent, with a maximum high pressure over the East African continent, is likely to be followed by the development of a low pressure system of a low pressure system of a low pressure system.

TANGANYIKA

COASTAL AREA. - Long trough of low pressure over the Indian Ocean, with a maximum high pressure over the East African coast, is likely to be followed by the development of a low pressure system of a low pressure system of a low pressure system.

Uneven distribution of textiles

THOUGH there was more clothing available for the 1956 season as a whole in 1956 than before, the increase in inequality in distribution has been more than offset by the uneven distribution of textiles.

A detailed picture of an even textile consumption similar to that of food is given in a report issued by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (F.A.O.) following a survey of some 30 countries. The survey is a report issued by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (F.A.O.) following a survey of some 30 countries. THE BRITISH RACING STORY

Little change in training methods

IN all aspects of British racing which I have reviewed in so far in this series, evolution and change have been conspicuously recurring factors. But these elements are, I think, most noticeable in a study of trainers and their methods.

The relative lack of change in method is not to the discredit of the profession; rather it is an illustration of the fact that during what is called the "golden age" of the sport, racing has remained relatively unchanged.

Won seven Derbys

IN the second half of the 19th century was dominated by John Porter and the Devonian. Porter won seven Derbys and six Leicesters, and finished his career with 119 winners. Porter was followed by John Gurnea, who won five Derbys and six Leicesters, and finished his career with 110 winners.

Top twelve times

IN the 19th century was dominated by John Porter and the Devonian. Porter won seven Derbys and six Leicesters, and finished his career with 119 winners. Porter was followed by John Gurnea, who won five Derbys and six Leicesters, and finished his career with 110 winners.

SERVICE 'ace'

A Newiston graduate of the British Army, Mr. John Gurnea, was a very successful soldier, having won the Victoria Cross for gallantry in the field.

Squash, golf and hockey at Kampala

THE annual sports festival held at Kampala last Friday and Saturday was a success in every respect.

Hard to win profit

IT was more difficult than ever to get a profit out of the racing business in the first half of the century.

A very stiff day

ALL the races were very close and the day was a very stiff one. The favorite was defeated in several of the races.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK

RON BLACKMAN

THAT Reading maintained such a strong challenge to Plymouth in the Third Division (South) promotion race for so long may be attributed to the fact that on their books they have Ron Blackman, tall ten centimetre forward and top goal-scorer in his league. Even up to tonight ago, Ronnie kept the Reading promotion hopes alive to the last with a brilliant goal.

Is no fairy tale

BUT his is no fairy-tale success. He has had to suffer many setbacks in his career, but he has never given up.

He is no fairy tale

He is no fairy-tale success. He has had to suffer many setbacks in his career, but he has never given up.

THE 'EASTER' IN RETROSPECT

Slow play presents big problem

IT is agreed on all sides that the standard of play in this year's Easter Tournament was better than ever before. There were some wonderful finishes, particularly on the second nine holes.

The best couple

CONSIDERABLE praise is due to the two best couples in the tournament. They were the McInnes and the McInnes.

A moot point

WITH the steadily improving standard of play, it is not surprising that the number of four-players are still interested in the putting which has become a moot point.

Gold at Nyeri

SOME good gold was struck at Nyeri in the first week of the month. The gold is of a very high quality.

Was outstanding

THE most outstanding individual performance was that of Mr. M. Adams, who came down to the mountain to play a round of golf on the 19th of the month.

Eden basks in the glory of a bright reputation

ANTHONY EDEN basks in the glory of a bright reputation. At the moment his standing with the public could hardly be higher, and some of the political pundits who the Conservatives would have even dared to say that they would have a bigger majority with him instead of Winston Churchill as leader.

As the House of Commons and the House of Lords are now in session, it is interesting to note that the Foreign Office has had a number of requests for copies of the speech which Mr. Eden made in the House of Commons on April 23rd.

Mr. Eden's speech was a masterpiece of statesmanship and statesmanship without egotism. It was a masterpiece of statesmanship without egotism. It was a masterpiece of statesmanship without egotism.

Marshall Plan

It is interesting to note that the Marshall Plan has been criticized in the way the world was during the extraordinary middle years of British foreign affairs. The plan is being headed under the guidance of the Foreign Office - despite the energetic and astute support of Anthony Eden.

Television

A friend has written to me asking for copies of the British Broadcasting Corporation's programme on the Marshall Plan. The programme is a very good one, and it is interesting to note that the programme is a very good one, and it is interesting to note that the programme is a very good one.

TRANS NZOIA ARTS AND CRAFTS EXHIBITION

The standard of amateur works exhibited at the fourth annual exhibition of the Trans-Nzoia Arts and Crafts Society was uniformly high and compared more favourably with previous years.

Some 100 exhibits displayed in the Trans-Nzoia District Council building last Friday and Saturday and the reduced number - 70 or 80 less than last year - enabled the organizers to exhibit them in more than one place.

The work of Miss E. A. Bennett, who has been a member of the Society for many years, was particularly noteworthy. Her work was a masterpiece of statesmanship and statesmanship without egotism.

Settlers hear councillors' views

Winston Churchill's fourth year of the Second World War witnessed the passing of the Naivasha County Councils Bill at the annual meeting of the Naivasha Settlers Association held under the leadership of Mr. A. W. Hoffert.

He said that the Naivasha County Councils Bill was the first of its kind in the world and that it was a landmark in the history of the Naivasha County Councils.

THE STORY OF THE RHINE WEDDINGS

Europe's largest trade route

On May 21, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands will open the new Amsterdam-Rhine Canal, which will give a new mouth to the River Rhine, linking Europe with the seven seas.

The new canal—from the Rhine at Tiel to the North Sea at IJmuiden—will change the whole of the European waterways system. This article on the Rhine and H.M. traffic from an economic point of view is written by Dr. H. M. van Bueren.

connect the Rhine river with the French Rhone, the Dutch, German, and Austrian, and Czechoslovakian Danube rivers. The new Rhine is a natural link between Europe and the North Sea.

Both goods are used chiefly for the production of steel. This journey, the goods are carried without extra cost. Rhine navigation is an important factor in the European shipping goods for which the river is the main artery. The new canal, too, goods are used chiefly for the production of steel.

General cargo is a different matter altogether. Although with its large number of smaller boats, the Rhine carries a large tonnage of general cargo. A direct connection between the great cargo harbours and stevedores departing on the Rhine, the Mediterranean, English, and the Far East is the canal. This is the main reason why there is such a large tonnage of general cargo in the Rhine basin. In the open sea, the cargo is carried in large ships, but in the Rhine basin, it is carried in smaller boats.

Night navigation

FROM THE RHINE basin, the night navigation is a very important factor in the European shipping goods. The night navigation is a very important factor in the European shipping goods.

Sold sailing

NOTE the fact, the Rhine river is a very important factor in the European shipping goods. The night navigation is a very important factor in the European shipping goods.

THE THINGS THEY SAY...

...being quotations from B.B.C. talks

I was in Victoria, British Columbia, in the spring and just when the berries were starting to sing. One little one had a very fascinating whistle, but the top note was about half a tone flat and, as we were walking along the road, I heard a whistle and I saw a bird and I thought it was a whistling bird. I saw it again in the same place in the same way. I saw it again in the same place in the same way. I saw it again in the same place in the same way.

Better than ever

AUSTRIA, Switzerland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, and the Balkans. The Rhine river is a very important factor in the European shipping goods.

TASTES IN THIS

"I have been settled down in a quiet life. With a tucked tail down the front of a chair, I sit and read. My favourite authors are the poets, the novelists, and the dramatists. I am a great reader and I am a great lover of the theatre. I am a great lover of the theatre. I am a great lover of the theatre.

PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

"For most people, the pursuit of happiness is a very important factor in the European shipping goods. The night navigation is a very important factor in the European shipping goods.
