Big rise in Kenya's exports to Britain

DECIMAL SYSTEM ATTACKED

BRITISH businessmen and the general public have only two criticisms of the decimal currency system. The Government plans to introduce it in 1971, according to a survey among both groups showed.

Many more men than women are in favour of the change to a unit of 100 cents.

The other criticism of the decimal system is that the Government should re-introduce the pound sterling as a unit of account.

The chairman of the Economic Development Commission, Mr. C. A. Lewis, said that the Government is to be asked to meet a larger proportion of the changeover cost to industry.

The total cost of the switch is estimated at £200,000,000. The business equipment industry, however, has no objection to the changeover.

Mr. Lewis said that the survey, which was conducted by the Economic Development Commission, showed that the Government is to be asked to meet a larger proportion of the changeover cost to industry.

The total cost of the switch is estimated at £200,000,000. The business equipment industry, however, has no objection to the changeover.

KENYA'S exports to Britain increased in value by £266,000 during January, compared with the corresponding month last year, when they were valued at £1,175,000.

Exports of tea, coffee, sisal and sisal products, rubber, hides and skins, and other agricultural products, were valued at £1,175,000 in January last year.

M.P. wants action against Somalia radio incitement

IN recent weeks radio broadcasts from Somalia have stopped on the campaign against Kenya and made increasing calls for violence in North-West Province. Yesterday an appeal was made by the M.P. for Wale North, Mr. A. S. Khalil, for action to be taken by the Organisation for African Unity against Somalia.

The Somalia would continue fighting as long as there was even one small tribe in the North-Eastern Province who long they are not to be "sharpened their spears and arrows and fight to the last".

He called on Ken to help the tribes and shop-owners who had been fighting in Kenya. He said the Kenya Government had been "sharpening their spears and arrows and fight to the last".

AFRICAN PLAY AT MOSHI

MOSHI has the distinction of staging the first all-African musical play seen in the region at the Plaza Cinema, Moshi, recently. This musical event drew a large audience who, obviously, enjoyed the show. The play, titled 'Moshi', was written and directed by G.E. Mwangi. It is a play about the life of a young man in Moshi, Kenya, who is torn between his traditional African roots and the modern world. The play features a strong African flavor and is a significant contribution to the local theatrical scene.

'Ninjas' take over as children's TV bores

'NINJAS' and yodanis, cowboys and even space-men for Australian children. The latest craze, which has disenchanted adults to the point of practical war, is the 'Ninjas' series. This series has taken the children's television world by storm, offering a mix of action, adventure, and fantasy. The characters are highly relatable and the plots are engaging, making it a popular choice for young viewers. However, some adults are concerned about the violence and the glorification of the 'Ninjas' lifestyle.

TOP RATING FOR TORLAND

TORLAND's latest win in the Jockey Club Stakes left many people gasping. For it is becoming difficult to find words to express his ability. Winning as he did in a race of the finest ex-courses ever in Kenya, he has perhaps more fortune in being heavily treated at the weights than he has had two years ago. This is due, as I have said before, to his change in spring dates. He was at first a two-year-old, but now returns to a race and a week later and with a reputation that the stars and the public are outstanding. His performance was a start-ling thing to see a bit out of his mind but for the moment, he has decided to stay in Kenya. I think the public will be glad to see him stay in Kenya. He has a good chance of winning the 100 yards Olympic style marathon.

Freddie's odds extended following defeat

FREDDIE remained favourite for the Grand National at Monday night's London Victoria Club callover despite his defeat on Saturday. His odds were extended, however, from last week's 11/2 to 17/2. Freddie's last winning time was 1:04.50. He has also been beaten in the morning up 11 points, from 9/2 to 20/1. The new second favourite is Bonanza, who was 11/2 at Monday night's London Victoria Club callover. Freddie's odds were extended, however, from last week's 11/2 to 17/2. CONFERENCE ON AS PLANNED

Venue changed from State House

It was confirmed yesterday that the Kani Delegates' Conference will take place this weekend, as planned—but it will be held at Harare, Rhodesia, and not at the State House as previously announced. This was made clear in a statement by the party secretary-general, Mr. Mbiya. The clarification followed reports that 49 M.P.s had sent a memorandum to President Kenyatta asking him to postpone the Kani national conference, and alleging that the conference had been called in an "unconstitutional and improper manner".

Members of the Kani National Assembly, including Cabinet Ministers and Members of Parliament, yesterday signed a petition to President Kenyatta pleading full support for the holding of a Kani national conference.

At a press conference in Parliament Building, the speaker of the Parliamentary group, Mr. Njiru, said the allegations were unfounded and supported the arrangements made for the holding of the conference, that the Kani delegates and the proper consultations had been carried out before the date of the conference.

Mr. Njiru accused those seeking for the postponement of the conference as being a "policy clique whose main intention is to sow hatred and confusion in the minds of the people".

He said he had received a letter from the Harare House of Representatives on March 23, 1962, in which the speaker of the House, Mr. Kenyatta, had asked the Kani delegates to meet at Harare. Mr. Njiru said that the Kani delegates had agreed to meet at Harare, and that the Kani delegates had agreed to meet at Harare, and that the Kani delegates had agreed to meet at Harare.

London prices showing little action

CLOSE ON THE RAND

THE market was quiet and prices generally moved sideways. Steels were fractions lower on small orders and lack of demand. The acetate were also affected, but doubts over the industry's future and compensation terms largely prompted by Press comment. Collyfins, United and London, the biggest recent gainers, were a fair bit higher.

Police Commission could create 13 House seats

In 13 new constituencies could be created for Kenya's House of Representatives as the result of recommendations made by the National Commission after it has toured the country and considered oral evidence from various districts.

The Speakers of the House of Representatives, Mr. T. M. Chokwe and the Chairman of Humphrey Slade, who are respectively chairman and vice-chairman of the commission, announced yesterday the commission was undertaking the investigations before deciding on possible constitutional changes.

Mr. Chokwe said the Commission had already received 400 written memoranda from all parts of the country the people who had submitted them to have any further arguments they wanted to make.

"During our tour we have received evidence from administrative officers, M.P.s, party officials and other people who have already submitted memoranda."

MAXIMUM OF 13
"The Commission will not entertain any new memoranda and is not going to consider the iterations of either the provincial or the district boundaries. Our business is only to consider whether to alter existing constituency boundaries (for the House of Representatives) or whether certain areas need extra representation."

Mr. Chokwe revealed that the Republican Constitution had provided for a constituency of 100,000 voters, but that could increase the total of House of Representatives to 117 to a maximum of 130.

Mr. Slade added that the task which he and his colleagues had at first set for themselves was to study the oral evidence and the written memoranda submitted to the commission and to decide whether to extend the size for the review.

He also pointed out that the commission was composed of representatives of all major communities in Kenya and that it was a representative body. He explained that as a member of the commission he had to be a person who was not a member of any political party and who was not a member of any religious community.

Mr. Chokwe said that the commission was made up of 11 members, including the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chairman of the House of Representatives, the Chairman of the Kenya National Council, the Chairman of the Kenya National Assembly, the Chairman of the Kenya National Parliament, the Chairman of the Kenya National Council of Education, the Chairman of the Kenya National Council of Science and Technology, the Chairman of the Kenya National Council of Arts and Culture, the Chairman of the Kenya National Council of Sports and Recreation, the Chairman of the Kenya National Council of Labour, and the Chairman of the Kenya National Council of Women.

KANU RE-ELECTS PRESIDENT KENYATTA

Challenge on formation of new party

MR. JOHO KENYATTA was unanimously re-elected President of Kanu yesterday, amid scenes of jubilation and the cheering of more than 500 delegates from all parts of Kenya to the party conference which concluded its three days' sittings at Limuru.

In a post-election address, President Kenyatta warned dissident elements that Kenya was determined to be independent, would crush any attempted coups and would not allow a few individuals who were on the pay-rolls of foreign Powers to confuse the people. Amid cheers, he said a process of weeding out such people had begun and the Government and Kanu were strong enough to deal with them.

Mr. Odinga walks out

Mr. Kenyatta was the only candidate for the party presidency, proposed by the Minister for Home Affairs, Mr. Meki, and accepted by the Minister for Commerce, Industry and Co-operation, Mr. Mwangi.

FORMATION MAY BE DIVIDED WARNS MR. ODINGA

WARNING that President Kenyatta might lead Kenya into law by setting the formation of a new party, Mr. Odinga warned at the Kanu party conference that the formation of a new party would mean the end of the party's unity.

Mr. Odinga said he was not a member of the party and was not taking part in the conference with other members. He said he had written to the party leadership to advise them that the formation of a new party would mean the end of the party's unity.

THE KENYA AFRICAN UNION (K.A.U.) has announced that it will accept the terms of a new constitution with the proviso that it will be subject to a referendum.

An announcement, President Kenyatta was made yesterday by the K.A.U. Executive Committee. The committee, which was formed by the K.A.U. Executive Committee, has decided to accept the new constitution, but only if it is subject to a referendum.

Wesley

Wesley, the former Kadi leader, has announced that he will accept the terms of a new constitution with the proviso that it will be subject to a referendum.

Wesley, who was a prominent leader of the K.A.U., has decided to accept the new constitution, but only if it is subject to a referendum.

GOD-SEND

A former Kenyan politician has announced that he will accept the terms of a new constitution with the proviso that it will be subject to a referendum.

The politician, who was a prominent leader of the K.A.U., has decided to accept the new constitution, but only if it is subject to a referendum.

Challenge to dissidents

Because Mr. Mboya is a Minister and working like a beaver, much of the organizational work will fall to the Assistant Secretary-General, Mr. Matiano, and to the two in charge of Organizing and Assistant Organizing Secretary, Mr. Mungoo and Mr. Gachaga, respectively. Mr. John Keny, one of the pro-constitution story tellers, having failed to find a place. The National Treasurer's duties will be enhanced in the need for re-organizing the party's finances, so a heavy responsibility falls on Mr. Otieno, who succeeds Mr. Mungoo.

Maintaining that agreement to the party's constitution were unacceptable, Mr. Odiga pleaded for postponement and delivered a lecture warning against the danger of dividing Kenya. However, it was the clear wish of the majority to go on with the conference - there was democracy working - and pass the amendments as well. This coincided with his admission that Mr. Odiga left after the presidential election.

THE

The British Cabinet has announced that it will accept the terms of a new constitution with the proviso that it will be subject to a referendum.

The British Cabinet, which was formed by the K.A.U. Executive Committee, has decided to accept the new constitution, but only if it is subject to a referendum.

Naturally,

Naturally, there is wide speculation about what he will do next and also, what others may decide to do. Though dropped from the party leadership, Mr. Odiga remains Kenya No. 2 as Vice-President. He is the centre of a number of dissident politicians, though they are some not aligned to his group.

President Kenyatta is mindful of the possibility, indeed probably, of an anti-constitution party emerging in the near future. He more so has challenged opponents to cease themselves, if they think they are sufficiently powerful. He stands on his ground with the claim that his Government, based on Kenya as the ruling party, is stable and strong enough to deal with all contingencies whether they rely on constitutional or, heaven forbid, by other means. The Government's record can withstand the attacks by critics who merely bandy empty slogans around, trying to batter a defenceless and the very poor which they have no plans to relieve.

TOURED PROVINCES

To calm the people and allay rumors, the new Governor toured all the provinces, met with the chiefs, who were the backbone of local administration, and discussed the position of the new Government.

The Governor's tour was a success. He met with the chiefs and discussed the position of the new Government. He also met with the people and allayed rumors.

Should another party appear,

Should another party appear, and portents were given in last night's presidential announcement of the formation of the Kenya African Union claiming support from elements of Kenya branches, it will be incumbent for any of its leaders who may be Ministers to resign from the Government, which can then close its ranks and, like Kaniu, will be stronger for doing so.

NEED TO PROTECT INDEPENDENCE

Unity the way to defeat foreign meddling

AFRICA had to guard against the independence movement, underlined by the late President Kwame Nkrumah. "The many people or countries try to work in the way of our independence," he told the leaders and Ministers of the National Conference at Harare in Harare, Zimbabwe. President Nkrumah said, "We live in a world that is not free. We need to be free and to stand firm in our convictions if independence is to survive."

Mr. Nkrumah began by saying the meeting was most important and significant as it brought together for the first time all those responsible for the party throughout the continent. He expressed this could not have happened before. He said he did not think too much of the past. They had to move forward and face the future together.

He said he had hoped the meeting would be a platform for the African people from outside Africa to express their views on the continent. THE TRUTH ABOUT RETREADS No. 1

NEW TYRES FOR OLD

Originally, retreads were eyed with suspicion by both the tyre manufacturer and the motorist. It is not so today. Skilled retread experts such as Car and General produce a tyre which is as good as new. In many cases a C & G retread will give a higher mileage than the original tyre—a fact which has been substantiated by the many customers' reports on our files. The modern tyre manufacturer realises these facts and accepts them—to the extent that today's tyres are designed for retreading. Take advantage of modern tyre technology and save yourself a packet of money. But don't take risks. Use the know-how of the experts—C & G.

LUO'S FOUR WIN THE F.A. CUP

Luo Union triumphed at Nairobi in a brilliant half-century win in Kenya's F.A. Cup competition on the 1962-63 final at the Mombasa Stadium. Luo won a capacity crowd yesterday.

Nairobi dominate Remington final

Nairobi retained the Remington Cup when they beat Kakamega 4-1 in the final of the competition at the High Standard grounds in the central business district. Nairobi and Mombasa, Kakamega fielded a very weak team and Nairobi were far superior throughout the match.

Kakamega had some good chances in the first ten minutes but their finishing was poor. They took the lead after 15 minutes through Oduor who scored the net with a good shot.

They should have scored again but the referee later ruled that the Nairobi goal was off.

Nairobi equalised after 18 minutes when Yengo was set through by Chege, and in the 25th minute later Yengo scored 25-31 when he got a good pass from Chege.

Very dangerous
Nairobi now came more into their own and were playing some fine football. Chege and Yengo were particularly dangerous, but there was no more scoring in the first half.

After the interval Nairobi came close to increasing their lead when Chege and Yengo missed an earlier chance when they were straight at the goalkeeper from seven yards.

Kakamega were still trying to get their Nairobi goal but their stringing Nairobi defence was too strong for them.

Nairobi's third goal came after 55 minutes when Chege scored on a mistake by Kakamega.

ARE ALL BATTERIES ALIKE ?

Not quite. They look the same, but that's where the similarity ends. Underneath the covers of the Hitachi UM-1(H), for example, are six steel-like shields which completely seal off the battery from the outside. This makes it 100 per cent leakproof and gives it a much longer life. Look for the name Hitachi and buy with confidence.

RECENTLY, I have seen a lot of people of East Africa who seem to learn two words—two words which will go down in history books and do a deep impression on good people.

The two words were uttered by a young man of East Africa who returned from the United States. He explained to reporters that he had been in the United States for a long time and that he had seen a lot of people who were very different from the people of East Africa. He said that he had seen a lot of people who were very different from the people of East Africa. He said that he had seen a lot of people who were very different from the people of East Africa.

Warrants served
 Letters were served with warrants on John Gurnea at Paderborn, Germany, and on the attempt to extradite them to Uganda.

The two British subjects were later served on them to appear before the court. They were accompanied by their lawyers.

Justice Gurnea said that he was unable to find any legal basis for the arrest of the two British subjects. He ordered their release and also ordered the Government to pay costs.

NEW ZEALAND LEAD IN TEST

ON a day when mediocrity was the theme, New Zealand gained a lead of 179 runs with four second innings wickets left in the final Test against England at Auckland yesterday. England, 181 for four at the close on Saturday in reply to New Zealand's first innings total of 260, collapsed dramatically and were all out for 222.

Today is the last day. New Zealand lost both opening batsmen before a 20-run second time, they batted a second time, and at the close they were 189 for six wickets.

There were long periods of inactivity after the early breaks, which started when the England captain, Mike Smith, was out with only eight runs added to his Saturday score of 16.

Berry Knight, 203, had a smart, bright spell and hit 11 of the wickets. Then, however, he was out in the 10th over, after a man short in the absence of a John Edrich, who had his first innings 74 runs behind.

INCEP by Dr. NIKUMAH and President Chavua Tond, the Casablanca Powers are indulging in dangerous behaviour in the West. What possible right has the President of Ghana (which under the new regime has the title) to go up and down the Ghana, threatening to invade the territory of the two big powers, the of Mr. Yabon Tolegh, a "very nationalistic" revolution of the Ghanaian people.

Mr. Tolegh, a Ghanaian trade union leader who is also the All-African Trade Union Federation, claims the President of Ghana, despite a statement issued in Casablanca saying the Federation would remain neutral in the with force. The Ghana T.U.C., led by Mr. Bestman, says the overthrow of "despotic" Chavua is the desire and popular wish of the Ghanaian workers. So it just will not work for the T.U.C. to align supporters of Dr. Nikumah to protest that that the Western neo-colonialists.

However, regarding a military rising may be because it cuts across constitutional practice. This coup was the culmination of a bitter struggle among people oppression had been driven underground and who had no constitutional means open to express their dissatisfaction.

President Sekou Toure's hysterical outburst led to the ultimate of political instability in making Dr.
Nikumah President of Guinea, though he does not appear to have registered the appointment by an act of God. In a martial frenzy, he threatened to invade Guinea to restore the rule of law and the the facilities of some medieval depot, but he does not propose to march himself all those weary miles from Guinea to Ghana. If he could master a ferry, which route would they take? Across the Ivory Coast, or could sail to a spithead, across Upper Volta? Both these countries are sovereign States and have recognised the new Ghana.

Ideal with feet of Red clay

The head of the Federal Nigerian Military Government, Gen. Irons, has announced that he will not the result of another military coup, has warned those feeling dissatisfied with the present situation would be created if African States interfere in Ghana's internal affairs, violating the principles of both the U.N. and O.A.U. charters.

Not so long ago, Dr. Nikumah was fulminating against Rhodesia, demanding armed intervention to people Mr. Smith's rebel régime and he went into partnership with Algeria in a military mission to Malawi to explore the possibilities. Now he is broadcasting subversive Ghanaian propaganda, saying the combined Ghanaian armed forces are powerless and harmless.
What does he think would have happened to such "powerless and harmless" units which contained the well equipped Rhodesian army?

Perhaps he does not care about the fate of the ordinary soldiers sacrificed on his orders to make a Rhodesian holiday. Or perhaps he had a deliberate plan of subterfuge. One of the Ghanaian generals has dissented in the regular army was a factor in the coup, dissent which he explained both as a private army and wanted to detach the regular to Rhodesia so that his podest army could gain full power in their absence.

Dr. Nikumah was one of the foremost of African nationalists, a pioneer among freedom fighters for the African cause. Whatever his faults — and nothing accords the elements of a military mission to Malawi for his role in the campaign for independence from colonial rule.

Over upon time, he was called "Saviour of his people; but here was an old living feet of clay and the clay was Red. His independence was rapped, his character subverted and his purposes twisted by insidious Communist influences. The tragedy of Dr. Nikumah was that, that, falling under Communist tutelage, he ignored the welfare of the ordinary people he was elected to lead and protect. What is the evidence? Some is published in this page, supported by pictures, not from any Western source but from the Ghanaian Times and Daily Graphic, newspapers owned and staffed by Africans. They should know the truth about Ghana rather better than any European, living in Kenya or elsewhere in Africa, whose impartiality may lean to the East rather than the West.
