England's Lead on First Innings.

AUSTRALIANS AVOID HAVING TO FOLLOW ON.

Visitors' Gallant Fight.

TEAM STILL WEAKENED BY ILLNESS OF PLAYERS.

Australia, faced with a huge total from England built up over the first and second days at Old Trafford, were the third Test match with England is in progress, made a gallant effort to avoid a follow on yesterday.

It is unfortunate that illness, while not depleting the Australian ranks in actuality, nevertheless, has been such as to weaken their batting to an abnormal extent. Chipperfield, their brilliant all-rounder, had to leave a sick bed in order to bat, while Bradman was anything but his normal self.

There seems little doubt that the present test of strength will end in a draw. Despite the fact that the wicket showed definite signs of wearing, it retained all its keenness, and afforded neither the batsmen, nor the visitors' attack much assistance.

Good Bowling by Hopwood.

Standard Correspondent and Reporter's article about the cricket match, mentioning the performance of Hopwood and the illness of Bradman.

Australians Resume.

These were 50,000 people present when Brown and McCabe came out to receive the Australian flag from the hands of the English captain.

Criticism of Bowling.

Just before lunch there was a certain amount of criticism of Verity against his bowling on Saturday, but this was soon abandoned.

Suspected Sabotage in Germany.

MYSTERIOUS CRASHES OF TWO AEROPLANES.

Both at Same Spot.

MACHINE GUNS POSTED ON AERODROME AND GROUND STAFF ARRESTED.

Disasters to two German aeroplanes, both of which crashed at the same spot near Lake Constance, are believed to have been caused by sabotage. It is believed that an internal machine exploded in the first machine, tearing away the wing. The second plane crashed while flying over the scene of the first accident.

Seven Lives Lost.

The same aerodrome crashed while flying over the scene of the accident and the pilot and crew passengers were killed. All persons responsible for the machine before they left the aerodrome were arrested and machines were posted on the aerodrome which is strongly guarded by troops in anticipation of further trouble.

What has it to do with shoes?

Shoes, like buildings need good foundations. Observe they quickly sag and lose their original shape. The foundation of every K Shoe is the insole, cut in one piece from specially selected tough leathery material. It takes all the stress and strain of walking and enables the shoe to keep smart and shapely after months of hard wear. That is why Maxwell Brady & Co. recommend K Shoes so strongly. LISTEN TO THE WORLD!

Only those who have handled the new 1934 Kilohyne can appreciate its wonderful capabilities. Unlike any other "All Wave" receivers, the Kilohyne is not an ordinary set adapted afterwards for short-wave work, but an instrument designed for efficient short-wave reception as a first consideration and adapted later for the higher wavelengths. The features of the design are ease of operation, an excellent slow-motion open vision tuning control, freedom from objectionable body capacitance on the shortest waves, no spots in any waveband, and smooth and definite reaction everywhere. Ideal for reception of the British Empire station programmes.

• A TEST REVIEW of this outstanding Receiver appears in the June issue of the "Wireless Magazine".

We definitely guarantee that a receiver built from an authentic Kilohyne kit of parts to be greatly superior in performance and quality of parts, to any other kit receiver on the market in Kenya. We sell this kit on performance and not on price.

NOTES FOR WIRELESS FANS

The Ohms Law

THE circuits in a receiver may be divided up into those carrying alternating current (A.C.) and those carrying direct current (D.C.). Examples of the latter are the H.T., and often the filament circuit, and of the former the various circuits and the I.F. amplifying circuits. The law governing the flow of D.C. is simple and generally fairly well understood, the volume (amperes) being controlled by the pressure (volts) and the resistance (ohms) which are present but there are certain points about this useful relationship which are not always appreciated, even by those who are anxious to gain some knowledge of the interior economy of their sets, and who like to experiment in a solid way.

Although in the first place, the relationship mentioned, involving an analogy of water flowing through a pipe, seems merely a piece of common sense, it is by no means obvious from it that the volume of the flow of a current is the product of the resistance and the current. This becomes clear from simple transposition of the formula $C \text{ (amps) equals } V \text{ (volts) divided by } R \text{ (ohms)}$. This is one of the three formulae of Ohms Law, the practical applications of which are mentioned in many ordinary problems of radio work.

It is, however, imperative to preserve the correct units and it must be borne in mind that as the currents flowing in receiver circuits are generally very small they are more often than not expressed in milliamperes a milliamper being a thousandth part of an ampere. The same thing applies to the resistances which are often of the order of millions of ohms but are usually valued at so many megohms, megohm being one million ohms. Great care should therefore be taken to reduce milliamperes or microamps to amperes and megohms and fractional megohms to ohms before any attempt is made to apply the formula.

Among the most useful practical applications of the law may be mentioned the determination of the value of resistors which have lost their markings and for estimating the amount of resistance which should be introduced to drop the voltage from a common source to the correct value for each individual valve.

Beyond the fact that the power (in watts) consumed in a circuit is the product of the current and the voltage and that resistors may be capable of dissipating in the form of heat a wattage numerically equal to the square of the current flowing through them multiplied by their resistance there is not much more need here to be said about the D.C. current in a receiver. In any case they are not nearly so common as their A.C. counterparts.

As long as the flow of a current in one direction only, even if it should increase or decrease periodically or stop and start as inter-dictated, it may be considered as a direct current. An alternating current is one which reverses its direction of flow periodically and its behaviour is entirely different. Such a current increases to a maximum, falls gradually to zero, reverses its direction, rises to a maximum and again falls to zero to reverse its direction and repeat the process. The number of times this process or cycle is repeated in one second determines the frequency of the current.

A coil of thick wire, in of low ohm resistance, does not impede the flow of direct current; it may if the frequency is high form a severe inductive or an alternating current. A break in a direct current circuit stops the flow of current altogether; in the case of alternating currents, of high frequency it may have protective effects. The reason for these seemingly extraordinary antics of alternating current lies in terms of inductance and capacity introduced into the circuit, two terms which need further explanation but will for the moment be left.

Notes of the Week.

WHILE the French and German 25 metre stations have provided very consistent signals during the week previous, it appears to differ very considerably on the relative merits of the two Zone 4 Empire transmitters. With a sensitive receiver, that is one equally capable of receiving 25 metre stations as to those above there seems little doubt that the 19.9 metre transmitter is the better of the two; on the other hand unless such a receiver is available the 19.9 metre station may not be sufficient. In the afternoon P.H.I. continues to send out extremely powerful signals and the programme matter is generally speaking most pleasing.

THE best way of coping with the extraordinary variation in signal strengths experienced in short wave work exemplified in Kenya by the occasional tremendous signal strength of the local station as compared with others is the fitting of automatic volume control, but this, particularly to un-country listeners, is a constant of position and hardly feasible. The more common method is to detune slightly to prevent overloading of the valves and the introduction of distortion which is crude but effective. It should however be emphasized, that unless the detuning is considerable it is likely to introduce a defect its object by introducing a peculiar distortion of its own and the point should be watched. Develop the most practical and effective method of coping with the trouble is to limit the in to the coil of the first valve by some resistance, a 100 ohm resistor, a very small capacity such as that provided by a twisted piece of insulated film in the aerial down.

THE fact that a battery must be provided for most modern loud speaking sets with many listeners who simultaneously want good reproduction and a tastefully furnished room. The large the battery the better reproduction, but the worst is which unless some form of diaphragm is adopted. Such ideas as cutting holes in tables have been used but are not very practical while the scheme of placing the speaker in the ceiling, though good, is not so easy to sound. A speaker of the best scheme? It may come across in utilization of a lock case which may easily be installed for the job without being split either in appearance or utility. This form of battery has an outstanding advantage, but no alterations beyond the removal of a few bolts need be made to the existing scheme of fitting or dislocation. Furthermore when filled with books it is acoustically speaking an advantage, but one which is simply large enough to fulfil requirements as regards size and spacing between shelves.

I have just had a letter from a friend in England with whom I used to do a certain amount of experimental work when conditions there were not quite what they are today. In telling me of broadcast conditions in his part of the world he mentions that 20 or 30 stations from all over Europe are now available with first class quality and so to speak. If he conceives an aversion to our programme he simply goes on to the next and the next he has a much better selection than he has in his own country. The hand though there is still room, a great deal of room in fact, for improvement in the strength and quality of our reception. I am not so sure as all that that if we were provided with as many short-wave transmissions it would be any particular advantage. If in four or five years' time we are all sending out different programmes, one which is pleasing to the individual listener cannot be found there must be something wrong. With the number of transmissions which are now fairly well heard I think we should be content and our efforts, such as listening out, such should be directed to improving them. We have an extraordinarily good English news service and we should be also pick our musical entertainment if we are so minded from foreign stations.

MOUTH safe?

See all "cleaned" teeth are thereby made free from decay. A course of tooth brushing improves the tooth enamel and prevents the formation of tartar.
 The tooth enamel is the strongest tissue in the body and is the only tissue that does not regenerate.
 It is therefore essential to keep it in the best possible condition. The only way to do this is to brush the teeth thoroughly with a good tooth paste. The only tooth paste that is safe for the mouth is Gibb's. It is the only tooth paste that is safe for the mouth.

Kenya's Plight.
THE BURDEN OF LOW PRICE LEVELS.

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard," Sir—It is becoming increasingly obvious to the farming community that Kenya is in a parlous state, and that falling prices and drastic action are necessary to avert a crisis. Our overseas expenses, that is Governmental salaries, customs duties, railway and shipping rates, loan charges, overdraft and mortgage interest, are more than doubled owing to the fall in prices of our exports, and this burden which has multiplied beyond our capacity to support must soon bring us to a crash.

It can be shown that the prices of a solid increase in the prices of our exports is very unlikely to happen. Our money is convertible. In the meantime, the producing classes, that is settlers and Natives, on whom our economic system is primarily based, are falling ever and lower standards of living. The majority of our population are engaged in cash cropping, and are unable to produce enough to support their families. The Natives are being driven to the land chiefly due to the pressure of economic causes and are causing a grave anxiety to the Government, but owing to our stupid system of Customs duties for the export of our produce, the value of the produce paid to them is not very great. It can be shown that the price of our exports is not very great, and that the price of our imports is very high. This is due to the fact that our prices are not very high, and that our prices are not very high.

Our money is convertible. In the meantime, the producing classes, that is settlers and Natives, on whom our economic system is primarily based, are falling ever and lower standards of living. brought to balance as far as possible the loss of Customs duties. The unbalanced budget for 24 years or two until things improved would be no greater in amount as the deficit, as it can be, is not out of order.

The programme outlined above would appear to share the burden of responsibility equally over all those who are active or have financial interest in Kenya and it is hard to see what the Government can do to improve that would save us.

Our rulers may think the situation shows very far away from our outlined views, but the credit for the position but we shall all be relieved if some authority will show us where we are, and where we are going, particularly all the reasons for our present position. Now, why should the Government be so far from the mark?

PENSIONS.
 To the Editor, "E. A. Standard," Sir—I wish to draw your attention to a question of precedent in the Government's proposals for the future. It is not understood in the present. The Hon. C. F. Dunlop (O.B.E.) is now Chief Secretary of Northern Rhodesia. Our correspondence had the position of Secretary for Native Affairs in Tanganyika and was completed twelve years ago in that year. He then was made Chief Secretary of Northern Rhodesia, but since April 1922 his pension was paid from Tanganyika amounting to £208.4.4.

This seemed a strange thing to the Members of the Legislative Council in Dar es Salaam, and that a person should be drawing a pension for his employment and that he should be drawing a pension for his employment and that he should be drawing a pension for his employment.

Yours etc.,
 P. J. SINCLAIR.
 Moshi, Tanganyika,

[Payment of pensions for past service to a serving officer is not unusual. The officer who has obtained a pension from the Government can enjoy the use of it as soon as he leaves the Territory for another. Mr. Dundas from April 1922 has been paid an annual pension of £441.15 by the Kenya Government in respect of past service in the Colony. The interesting fact is that after retiring time expired, an officer should be given a high appointment at the expense of younger men in the service.—ED. E.A.S.]

BRITISH ISRAEL NOTES.
 Lecture at Nakuru.

On Friday 26th July Mr. Spencer gave a lecture at Nakuru at the Stag's Head Hotel at 8 p.m. upon the present world situation entitled "The British Empire and Current Events". He will endeavour to put the British Empire in perspective of these things in plain language, and will welcome questions both at the close of the meeting and at other times which may be arranged during the week-end.

The Key of David.
 Speaking of the then distant future, it was foretold by St. John (Rev. 3:7) that at the sixth hour of the Christian era, "Philadelphians" be the "Key of David" would be used. This was to be the key to the Second Advent. Now, why should the prophet forewarn that someone would still be on the earth at the time of David? The promised stabilising power of such a House would prove itself in the time of the foretold tangle position. In other words, the "Key of David" will solve the problem for the world.

We know the British Royal Family are the actual lineal descendants who are preserving that line in strict accordance with very positive and detailed promises which cannot be broken. It is the House of "David" in another sense, namely, the key to the understanding of the position. This corresponds to a curious observation by a Native who visited us some years ago in his own country. He said "The wise shall understand about the disturbing things which are going on in the Earth, so that we may not be unably gloomy during these troublous times. In fact, our Saviour said "Lift up your heads" when we see coming to pass the things He told us to watch for, as they herald His Return to establish peace on Earth, and bring in the promised Golden Age of the Millennium. When He shall take the Throne of His father David, and reign over the House of Israel for ever. This is only another way of saying, as is often said, He will rule the whole Earth for "Israel" will already be leading all the other nations back to God when the Messiah arrives in Person to take up the Throne of St. James quotes the Prophet Amos as saying "After this I will return and will build again the tabernacle of David which shall fall down; that the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the races who are added of mankind for records be entirely bound up with the fortunes of the House of David.

THE THIRTIETH TEST DRAWN.

Unexciting Finish at Old Trafford.

ENGLAND'S UNENTERPRISING BATTING.

Wyatt's Surprising Declaration.

HOME COUNTRY'S CHANCES MARRED BY WEAK FIELDING.

The third Test match between England and Australia concluded at Old Trafford, Manchester, on Tuesday, and ended in a somewhat tame draw. To a large extent this was due to weakness in the field on the part of the Englishmen, who, in the previous games, had shown the same failure.

Australia has been far from a lucky side at Manchester, where illness undoubtedly proved a sore trial to them. Swales have been taken from every angle, in case of diphtheria. While it has proved negative in all the cases except two, Chipperfield and Kippax, they are being kept under observation pending the results of further swabs being taken.

Whichever the result of the fourth Test, the final match will have to be played to a finish, and a win for each country would be a great triumph for the English. The Manchester Test has been far from convincing, and one feels that much can yet be done for the English side.

Australians' Illness.

Standard Correspondent and Reuter's.

Manchester, July 10. The third Test match between England and Australia concluded at Old Trafford, Manchester, today (Tuesday), and ended in a somewhat tame draw. As a result the Australians did not receive the credit they deserved for the way they played. It was at the same time, however, that the English batsmen were very weak, and it was due to this weakness in the field which cost England the match, and the victory generally agreed to be the case.

England fought gallantly to avoid the follow-on. Chipperfield, despite the fact that he was very sick man, battled nobly to avoid the follow-on. When he first came to the wicket he could hardly raise his bat, but imbued with the spirit which he manifested throughout the match, in spite of illness, he batted very ably, and it was due to a fine stand between him and O'Brien, that the batsmen were not dismissed. Albeit, the tourists had more than their share of fortune. Hammond and Hendren were both out at fault in the field. Hopwood should have run more assertively. His bad return spoiled matters.

England was another scorching from the point of view of fielding. At Old Trafford, the batsmen were not dismissed. Albeit, the tourists had more than their share of fortune. Hammond and Hendren were both out at fault in the field. Hopwood should have run more assertively. His bad return spoiled matters.

Wyatt declared at tea with the home total at 128 without a wicket having been taken. The English captain's action in declaring at 4.15 was rather surprising. Another batsman had attempted to force the rate of scoring, nor had they been any chance whatsoever of going for the attack. Now a risk was taken, and to gather 128 occurred merely and a half hour. Walters hit three 4's, and Sutcliffe one 6, and three 4's.

GERMAN CRUISERS AT PORTSMOUTH.

First Visit to British Port Since the War.

A RETURN CALL.

[By Wireless.]
Rugby, July 11. The German cruiser "Koenigsberg" and "Leipzig" reached Portsmouth this morning on a four days' visit, the first that any German warships have paid to a British naval port since the war. The customary salutes were exchanged—British Official Wireless Service.

"This visit is in return to that paid to Kiel for a week in July, 1929, by the British cruisers Dorsetshire and Norfolk, under the command of Rear-Admiral (now Vice-Admiral) E. A. Astley-Bush, ton.

On several occasions since the war German vessels have visited British ports abroad. The first of the post-war visit was the "Emden," touched at several during her world cruise in 1929-30, including Aden, Bombay, Seychelles, Auckland and Wellington.

In August, 1931, accompanied by the "Polaris," she visited Tromsø, Captain A. L. Jackson, she visited Oso Island, the scene of the action in which the former "Emden" was destroyed in 1914. As it was too rough to land a boat at the time she dropped anchor there.

In 1931, the "Karlshorn" in the course of a world cruise visited Bombay, Zanzibar, and Capetown; and in 1933 the "Kohlen" was sent to Alexandria, Madras, and in Australia. The "Koenigsberg" and "Leipzig" completed in 1929, 1931, are of 6,000 tons, 32 knots and carry nine 5.9in. and four 3.4in. anti-aircraft guns, with 12 torpedoes tubes. They carry from 500 to 540 officers and men each.

Berlin, July 10. It is disclosed that Herr Papen was summoned yesterday evening to the secret police headquarters and was subjected to a long examination. The Vice-Chancellor's home is again guarded by a sentry.

HITLER'S CLAIM.

Saved Country from Civil War.

[By Wireless.]
Paris, July 10. A claim that he had saved Germany from the ravages of civil war was made by Herr Hitler during the course of an interview.

FUTURE OF BRITAIN'S AIR FORCE.

Commons Statement Proposed.

[By Wireless.]
London, July 10. In the House of Commons today Mr. Stanley Baldwin announced that a statement had been made before the adjournment of the Commons for the recess in regard to the position of the Royal Air Force. This statement was in answer to a question as to whether any supplementary estimates would be presented before the adjournment for an increase in the Air Force.

RIOTS AT ROTTERDAM.

Police Fired Upon From Windows.

[By Wireless.]
Rotterdam, July 11. Residents in the Crowsky quarter opened fire on the police from windows to-night and the police replied, an old woman had been killed. There are large forces of mounted police, military and police in the district whose inhabitants have been forbidden to leave their houses. Delivery of food, mail and newspapers have also been forbidden. Searchlights are playing in the streets.

BISHOP OF LONDON.

Completion of Fifty Years in the Church.

[By Wireless.]
Rugby, July 11. The Bishop of London, on completion of 50 years in the Church has been presented with a volume containing the names of 2,300 men who were present at the consecration of the Bishop on the 12th of July, 1884. A woman barrister and the Secretary of the Independent Socialist Party have been arrested for sedition.

FRENCH DESCRIPTION OF BRITISH ATTITUDE.

The London Negotiations.

DESIRE FOR STRICT FULFILMENT OF EXISTING PLEDGES.

It is stated that during the conversations in London between the British and French delegations which have now concluded, Britain gave no pledges, but clearly stressed the desire for strict fulfillment of existing pledges.

A Paris newspaper sums up the British attitude towards French aspirations as being one of "inert and passive benevolence."

Eastern Europe Situation.

[By Wireless.]
London, July 10. At the conclusion of the two days' talks at the Foreign Office between British and French Foreign Ministers, a communiqué has been issued which states that the questions discussed included the two Governments clearly to appreciate their respective standpoints.

"TANGANYIKA WITHOUT PREJUDICE"

With the same confidence he proceeds to the kitchen and the latter, condensing the practice of buying imported luxuries; points to the better possibility of living up to a life standard when His Lordships give away every Civil Service salary; witnesses the lessons of the depression; and ends up with a laudable statement, to the effect that a Government servant can live even in town for £22 a month, including postage and stationery, and a few papers from home.

His address is concluded by this knowledgeable guide, who finds time to champion the sanity of the settler route and to name the problems of Government, officers for their work and warning pensioners that the time is coming when they will either have to stay in the country or be satisfied with a reduced pension elsewhere.

Settlers, gold diggers and merchants, who are in the habit of the great improvement in relations between Government and settler is pleasantly noted; hints on land acquisition and the costs of proffered; and in the same chapter, an officer passes on to the story of the settler route and to a talk of trade and commercial credit.

In a chapter devoted to townships he notes the progress (where he stays) as the capital of the East African continent, and, however, that it is time people thought less about the effects of education.

The author has a good word for the work of missions and believes that a good African means a good Christian, but while he praises the progress of the needs of white children, one of the most serious blows on the reputation of Tanganyika.

The Native.
The Native has a chapter to himself. The author's views may be gathered from his assertion that the finest postal for the European is to regard the African as a child in the process of growth, as a type of arrested development.

Of the future of the Native he writes: "The future of the Native is a matter of great importance, and three good barriers to any real advancement are: the lack of formal education and the need for security of land. In the Christian religion he sees the means of the change of heart to defeat witchcraft and superstition, and he assigns the responsibility for the education of her black race."

His views are presented in a simple and vigorous style, and are unimpaired by his own coloration or unconvincing.

"Tanganyika Without Prejudice" is a well-illustrated, the East African Standard Stationery Stores, Nairobi. The published price is Shs. 5/2.

MR. GOWARDHAN LAL HONOURED.
Excellent Work on Railways.

An enjoyable tea party was held in the spacious compound of the Arya Samaj, Nairobi, on Saturday afternoon in honor of Mr. Gowardhan Lal, who was recently awarded the M.B.E. in recognition of the services rendered by him to the Kenya and Uganda Railway Administration.

The party was arranged by Mr. D. D. Pari and friends, and was attended by over 250 guests, many of whom had the honor of the M.B.E. award.

Among those present were the Hon. A. E. Hamp, Acting General Manager of the Kenya and Uganda Railways and Harbours, and Mrs. Hamp, and many of the heads of departments in the railway. Leading members of the Asian community also attended.

After refreshments had been served Mr. Pari welcomed the guests and congratulated Mr. Gowardhan Lal on the honour conferred upon him. He recalled that since his arrival in the Colony in 1912 Mr. Gowardhan Lal had reached the highest grade available to an Asian in the railway service.

Mr. Gowardhan Lal, he said, enjoyed the respect of all. Apart from his satisfactory work in the railway, his activities in the social and educational fields had been manifold.

Mr. Hamp also spoke, mentioning that Mr. Gowardhan Lal had recently been responsible for the revision of the staff regulations, and had, on more than one occasion, made valuable suggestions which had led to economies in the working of the railways.

In a few well-chosen words Mr. Gowardhan Lal returned thanks to the speakers for their tributes to him; to the organizers of the function; and to the people present.

WAYS OF WATU WA MUUNGU.

particular passage of a Bible. It comes to me as in a dream when I am asleep in my bed at night.

"One night last year the voice gave me the following text in the 7th Psalm:—
"God, judge the righteous and God is angry with the wicked every day."
"If he turn not, he will bring his sword; he has bent his bow, and made it ready."
"He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death: he hath ordained his arrows against the persecutors."
"On that occasion I saw a vision of a man in my bed. He seemed to be a European and I dreamed in a tongue which I do not know." I woke up but as I was so he vanished from the bed; though the door was securely closed.

Poisoned Arrows.
The same night I was drawn again; this time my bed was in kiki clothes and I could not see the face clearly. I was told by him that he had taken an arrow from the hut and started working at something. I was making an arrow when he was talking to me. When he had finished he took me into the forest and showed me a tree and told me how to make the poison. I was then and he vanished with the arrow. I found myself lying in bed in my bed. Before I woke up I heard a voice saying "make what you have shown me."

In the morning I remembered how to make poison for arrows. You cut a branch from a small tree called "minko" (in Kikuyu) and cut it into small pieces and the fragments into an earthenware pot with a little water and boil for about six hours. By that time most of the water has boiled away and the juice of the wood is mixed with what is left forming a black paste which can be smeared when used on the arrow.

Unanswered Prayers.
"From that time, although I had never done so before, I made arrows. I do not know the purpose for which they are intended but I had been told to make them so I had to do so. I have made a great number, some poisoned and some not, and I put them in a sack to keep. In due course I should doubtless have been told what to do with them. I have kept the meaning of this work in prayer but receive no reply, although I am sure I should have known it was true."

There were not more than a few more, only the voice as night grew passing and the light of the road. I pray in the evenings and on Sundays those of us who have the same sort of dream meet together. We talk about what we have seen and heard, but we do not ourselves while doing so, but I do not.

"No outsider attend our meetings and we have no teachers."

To-night's Films.
Empire Theatre.
This evening, the management of the Empire Theatre, keeping abreast with the times, are showing us the following: English films, "Evergreen," coincident with the London exhibition, is to be described in the words of the London correspondent of the "East African Standard": "He says:— "Evergreen" is an elaborate musical comedy-entertainment based on the stage show in which Miss Mathews appeared. As the young actress who inaugurates her mother's career in order to become famous also scores a new triumph. The film has been constructed to exploit all her talents and give her the best screen part she has had. Particularly delightful are the scenes in which she dances, Betty Balfour makes a most successful return to the screen in "Evergreen," and important parts are taken by Ronald Harwood and Harry Matlow. The film as a whole is the most ambitious musical picture ever produced in this country. Victor Saville directed most efficiently."

To this one may add that it will do very many people great pleasure to renew acquaintance with Miss Mathews, an acquaintance begun in that very excellent film, "Good House," which she made last year. The film will bring back many of our old friends, among them being Miss Mathews in the role of Jessie Hornet. The film is being shown until Saturday evening.

Capitol Theatre.
Despair, erise and pathos are the notes of "Payment Deferred" in which Charles Laughton plays a magnificent character part. He is a bank clerk, living in a modest suburban home with a modest suburban wife and charming daughter. He is a good husband, an affectionate father, and a deferential worker, until despair drives him to a murder which is his too easy. His wife and daughter have with his nerves, and how his wife discovers what has happened give him little scope for his best acting. Wealth changes the character of the family, and Charles Laughton, from being a devoted husband, succumbs to crime not only in a French million, but his wife discovers his infidelity, and poisons herself, leaving him penniless. Payment is being deferred, and Laughton is superb for her murder. It is a grim story, but the character actor is not man on the screen to best Charles Laughton, and in this film he has a wider range of characterization than he had in "The Private Life of Henry VIII." It is a picture that is well worth seeing.

Princes Theatre.
Who killed Harry Travers? In the film "Methuselah" no less than four people confess to the crime. Harry Travers is an actor who plays a fair number of roles. He is found shot in his flat one night, and immediately his leading lady and her fiancé give themselves up to the police. These come the leading lady's younger sister, who has had a foolish flirtation with the actor. Finally the programme of the play of the theatre, who has been in love with him, is found dead with a written confession in her hand. The audience knows all the way through who it was and why, but the suspense is in wondering how the culprit can escape conviction. Camilla Horn who takes the leading part opposite Milton Mander sets well, and the part of her younger sister is played by Marguerite Allen. Two small humorous parts are taken by Harry Travers. Some have hated so often in Barrie's plays on the London stage; and Margaret Yarde as two girls who are neighbours who spend their time in looking out of their windows at the actor's flat, and are horrified at the "coincidences" that they see there. "Methuselah" is a well acted, clearly produced picture.

TILLEY Vapour Lamps.
Burn Ordinary Paraffin.
BRITISH MADE THROUGHOUT, they will stand plenty of rough usage and the mantle do not jar off. The Tilley Lamp is not a wick lamp with a mantle and is therefore unaffected by draughts. You can take it out of doors if necessary, when it will still go on burning brightly.

After the day's toil your evening comfort largely depends on your lighting. You must have powerful lamps, but at the same time they must be easy to operate and thoroughly dependable.

THE TILLEY LAMPS fulfil these conditions. They burn ordinary paraffin without smoke or smell and yield a splendid white light of 300 c.p. at the small cost of four cents per hour.

TABLET COFFEE PRODUCTION.

capital outlay will be satisfactory, both from the monetary point of view, and also from the point of view of the Producer by way of increased demand for Kenya coffee. It has been estimated that the initial orders Messrs. Hazlen Bros and Lindsay, Ltd. who have been granted the sole British rights for the manufacture and distribution of Tablet Coffee, have been estimated to be placed in duplicate plant and machinery. Messrs. A. J. Perry and Sons, Ltd., and Messrs. Dalrymple Confectionery, Ltd., who have undertaken the manufacture of Tablet Coffee on behalf of Messrs. Hazlen Bros and Lindsay, Ltd., have placed initial orders for over five million tablets, which are to be placed on the market on September 1 next.

A Powerful Group.

"We are indeed fortunate to have interested such a powerful and influential group of distributors and obtained their cooperation in this venture. Their financial resources are considerable and their combined distributive organization covers the whole of the British Isles. They are in a position to place Tablet Coffee with such firms as The International Tea Co., Wm. Morris and Marks, and Spencers, each with their own enormous sales, therefore, the prospects here are of a large scale as justified by the recognition given to this retail trade.

"So much for the direct effect on sales of Kenya coffee, which may be expected. Indirectly, the effect cannot be measured with accuracy, but the inclusion of the world's Kenya Coffee on every tablet sold is bound to be every tablet sold in the industry in Kenya. This is the notice of a very large public and will be a great help to the newspaper publicity could possibly do."

"The Tablets will be sold under the trade name of a brand name under a brand name. The tablets are made to a specified blend used by hotels, restaurants and shipping companies, and will be sold in this trade will provide large openings for Kenya coffee and will be a great help to the industry. The Board's representative in close touch with the marketing of Tablet Coffee, influence can be brought to bear to promote still further the inclusion of Kenya coffee in all such blends."

Foreign Rights.

"With regard to the Foreign Rights, Sunk's Patents, Ltd., have a 50 per cent. interest in these, of which the Board receive nearly one-third, or 18 per cent. The Patents, besides being widely covered throughout the Colonies, have been protected in the following countries: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Finland, Germany, Holland, India, South Africa, Sweden, United States, America, and Yugoslavia. In negotiating the sale of these Foreign Rights the principle has been laid down that the purchasers must undertake the manufacture and distribution of the tablets and that these two functions can in no circumstances be divided. The purchase price will be made up of a lump sum down, calculated on the basis of the purchase obtaining 5 per cent. of the existing coffee trade of the country concerned over a period of five years, together with a royalty of one (half penny) per lb. on the sale of all Tablet Coffee in the particular country. A number of enquiries have been received in regard to the purchase of the Foreign Rights and it is hoped to hear of these satisfactorily in the near future.

"The combined effect on the industry of the Board's association with the explanation and development of tablet coffee will, it is hoped, be beneficial, both financially and from the important point of view of propaganda."

PLANT PROTECTION IN EAST AFRICA.

A permit may be issued allowing planting material that has arrived from the outside of a permit to enter the country, provided that all conditions that would normally be applied with regard to such consignments, have been complied with. In all cases of doubt instructions should be sought from headquarters by the means of the response of the importer.

Need for Uniformity.

"We need to call attention to the need for uniformity in plant importation rules or regulations, which are now so varied and conflicting, and so far as a continent with the permissive relaxation suggested in the foregoing paragraph, in the instructions to inspectors of the ports. We suggest that consultation between Directors of Agriculture should take place with the view when the form of the regulations has been decided, and in the event of any changes being subsequently considered necessary."

"We recommend that as a general principle ports of entry should be limited to four as a possible limit and that at the earliest practicable moment the ports selected should be provided with quarantine facilities."

"We feel it necessary to recognize the added risk of the importation of pests and diseases through tele-transportation, which is done with greater rapidity, facilitating survival, and of the landing grounds being centrally placed. As a consequence special care needs to be taken to ensure control at the airports office."

"We recommend that all plants material entering through the Port of Mombasa destined for plants in Kenya, Uganda and the Province of Tanganyika Territory should be dealt with by a single inspection service provided jointly by the three Governments concerned."

Plant Exchange.

"We found in discussion that of present inter-territorial movement of plants material takes place practically without restriction except that Tanganyika Territory should not receive material from Kenya, including all living plants. It was suggested that a joint discussion between all committees and a conference to recommend to the consideration of Directors of Agriculture the principle that for such movements permits should be applied for as under the regulations governing the importation of plants and seeds from abroad."

"We entirely endorse the opinion of the technical committee to the effect that no examination could be an adequate safeguard against the entry of certain important pests and diseases."

"At the same time we desire to place on record that we appreciate the fact that Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika Territory are working within a Customs Union and that it is desirable, after making adequate provision for the safety of economic crops to impose as few handicaps as possible in connection with the internal movement of plants between these territories."

"We recommend, therefore, that while permits should normally be refused if a major pest or disease is involved, permits should in general be allowed when a pest or disease feared is already present in the importing area concerned and no determined effort is being made to control it."

Sale of Fertilizers.
"In the course of our discussion on plant protection it came to notice that none of the territories represented possessed any legislation regulating the sale of fertilizers, insecticides, insecticides and fungicides. Inquiries were made to us where chemicals were sold in such quantities as to be considered to be sold under a guarantee and in consequence had not had the desired effect."

"We are of the opinion that it is highly desirable for goods of this kind to be sold under a guarantee in the interests both of the general public and of the Departments of Agriculture."

WORLD CRISIS NO EASIER.

den of interest which is weighing down the producer and the cost of living to a point which has become unimportant. It is a fact that prices have fallen to their present low level.

To settle one end for all what is to be done with this mass of debt, would appear to be the main problem of the world, yet no nation dared to take the step without which progress is impossible. The history of finance for the last two decades will make recovery of the situation clear, but things have a habit of righting themselves, when men shrink from facing realities. Finally it has at last been recognized that the sooner the debt factor is made to pay the sooner will the situation be of improving itself, or be removed and the nations may recover unhampered by world claims.

Germany.

Meanwhile, the situation in Germany has rapidly developed into default on the external debt, and difficulties are encountered in the collection of trade debts in foreign currencies. The gold reserves of this country is now negligible, at 2.3 per cent. Completed rules, which are little understood abroad, are being applied to the issue of various classes of "marks". To all intents and purposes the mark has ceased to be the measure of monetary value, but the Government recently resists devaluation. The situation is so grave that it has given great concern to all who have trading connections with Germany, and disposition of buying has caused a fall in the world price of various raw materials.

All France, Holland and Belgium are suffering through the depreciation of the dollar and the opening up of the market, but they resist devaluation for fear of trade revival, and a subsequent rise in the cost of living, although their nations are suffering severely from the loss of trade to this competition with depreciated currencies. A trust must be called to this competition in devaluation, for money will be returned to a man, and saving and capital will come to be accumulated.

To sum up, writing off war debts, liquidation of concerns which are below the low water mark, reduction of taxes and the opening up of the channels of trade, are all essential preliminaries before a healthy trade revival can become world wide, thus paving the way to a much more stable and secure currency, which is being prematurely advocated by moneyed interests."

THE STUDY OF RACE IMPROVEMENT.

(laughter and hear hear)—because I happen to know that producers of cinema pictures would rather burn a million dollar film than assume it won't appeal to the lowest Kenya intelligences, and they actually symbolize for themselves the lowest European intelligence as a person called Bridget, a poor half-witted slaver that gets all the advertisement bills in the right place and faithfully believes that next week's picture is always a better picture than the picture of the century. I am told by one of the highest Kenyan officials that the Uganda nation is actually lower than that. (Laughter and applause.)

Dr. Gordon again pleaded that research should proceed from the bottom, and not merely from the top, or he put it, there should be research as well as lower research. His strongly recommended his audience to read "The African Note" by Prof. Gordon with its urgent appeal for research."

Kenya Giraffe Dies At Whipsnade.

London, July 7. (By Standard Correspondent.) One of the two young giraffe which arrived from Kenya at Whipsnade only ten days ago, died. A post mortem examination showed that he died from the effects of an injury to the neck.

The surviving giraffe—a female—has settled down satisfactorily. Although the Zoo has in the meantime Park (London) a young male, which arrived at the same time as the Whipsnade pair, it is not, apparently, proposed to send this giraffe to join his lonely relative at Whipsnade this season.

The giraffe were intended to be the "piece de resistance" in the Zoological park this summer, and a special house, headed by electricity, has been designed and built for them. They were taken to England by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stanton.

I asked Mr. G. M. Vevens, Superintendent of the Reserve of Park Zoo, about the cause of death of the young giraffe at Whipsnade. He writes to me as follows:

"The young male giraffe, which was sent to Whipsnade, died from an injury of the neck three days after arrival. It is thought that the injury may have been caused by the other giraffe, which came over with it and which was in the same house."

Whatever Radio Set you own—whatever price you paid for it and however good you think it is—you are going to find a new thrill in Radio when you handle the new All-Wave-All-World Skyscraper that can only be compared to the very best of broadcasting.

You turn a knob that brings into action an entirely new short wave circuit, and instantly you will find yourself on some threshold of illimitable distance. That little ripple on the silent background—being it up, bring it nearer. Now here comes six thousand miles across land and sea, speaking delicate tones, and you are listening to Paris, Rome, Berlin, Holland, or wherever you will. What wonder is this thing that does not fade? Distance is annihilated! The short wave Stations of America are brought in like powerful European. Australia—South Africa—experimenters and explorers in all parts of the world—these will be constantly within your reach, giving you an interest in Radio that you have never been able to find before. TRADITION

The formula of our business "Unfailing Satisfaction to the customer."

We know full well that sound quality and prompt delivery only will satisfy our customers.

Sometimes our customers are not very reasonable, but at least they have their work done on time, at least they have value for money and at least we offer the best possible service.

That is why we get the business. Next year we celebrate the quarter century of our foundation. 25 years ago our tradition had its birth and for 25 years this firm has gone steadily in the fulfilment of that tradition.

Improved Finances of Colonies.
SECRETARY OF STATE PANTS GLOWING PICTURE.
Tale of Balanced Budget.
 BROUGHT ABOUT BY ECONOMIES AND INCREASED TAXATION.

Kenya was quoted by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Sir P. Cunliffe-Lister, during the debate on the colonial estimates in the House of Commons, as being among the Colonies which were enjoying enhanced financial conditions.
 Colonies which a few years ago were drawing largely on reserve funds, he stated, were now producing balanced budgets. Other territories had also brought about a big improvement in their finances.
 This encouraging state of affairs he attributed to economies, increased taxation, benefits resulting from imperial preferences, and more efficient production and marketing.
 On the subject of mining in Kenya, he declared that it might prove, from the native point of view, one of the most beneficial developments that had ever taken place here.

Kenya's Mining Industry.
 (REPRODUCED BY THE AGENT.)
 London, July 12.
 A glowing picture of improved financial conditions in Kenya was given by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Sir P. Cunliffe-Lister, during the debate on the colonial estimates in the House of Commons.
 He instanced Uganda, Zanzibar, Tanganyika, the Gold Coast, Mauritius, Gibraltar, the Gilbert Islands, Cyprus and Kenya as being among the Colonies which a few years ago were drawing largely on reserves, but which were now producing balanced budgets.
 Other territories, he stated, such as Nigeria, Northern Rhodesia and Malaya, had also improved their finances equally creditably.
 The improvement was brought about by economies in new taxation, benefits resulting from imperial preferences, and more efficient production and marketing. He described the successful efforts to introduce alternative crops where it had formerly been the practice to rely on a single crop.

 Referring to mining in Kenya, he declared that it might prove, from the native point of view, one of the most beneficial developments that had ever taken place here.

LIBERAL PARTY AND AIR DEFENCES.
Policy Explained by Sir Herbert Samuel.
DISARMAMENT MUST BE GENERAL.

[BY WIRELESS.]
 Rugby, July 12.
 The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Herbert Samuel, will make a statement regarding the armaments situation and to the recent conversations in London with the French Foreign Minister, M. Barthou, in the course of which the subject was discussed this morning by the Liberal Leader, Sir Herbert Samuel, when the House of Commons went into Committee on Supply on the Foreign Office vote.
 Sir Herbert Samuel, who asked for a formal Government statement on the present situation in regard to disarmament with particular reference to the Government's policy on air defences, said the Liberal Party recognised fully and definitely that there was to be disarmament, but that it must be general disarmament. Nor had the Liberal Party ever adopted a policy of one-sided disarmament.
 Party in the air was defined as meaning equality in air armaments with the armaments of those within striking distance. The only way strong power could be striking distance were France and Germany. With regard to the armaments of those within striking distance, he said that the Government were not in favour of any one-sided disarmament. He said that the Government were not in favour of any one-sided disarmament. He said that the Government were not in favour of any one-sided disarmament.

NAZI MOVEMENT ILLEGAL.
Official Attitude in S.W.A.
Subversive to Good Order.
Hitler "Youth" Leader to be Deported.

SEQUEL TO DISCOVERY OF DOCUMENTS.
 (REPRODUCED BY THE AGENT.)
 Windhoek, July 12.
 Captain Von Lohmeyer, leader of the Hitler "Youth" movement in South West Africa and the Union of South Africa, has been ordered to leave the country and the movement has been declared illegal.
 This action has been taken under the Criminal Law (Amendment) Ordinance recently promulgated by the Union Government and follows the discovery by and the police, at Naidood's quarters, of documents alleged to prove that the Hitler "Youth" movement is militaristic and subversive to good order.
KING'S CUP AIR RACE.
Thick Mist Delays Start of First Heat.

[BY WIRELESS.]
 Rugby, July 12.
 The thick mist with rain over part of the course caused one of the half hour delays in the start of the King's Cup Air Race today.
 There are 42 competitors who are divided into two heats, four competitors in each heat, qualify for the second round.
 Great interest is taken in this handicap event which is the most important of the kind in the year and many of the leading British pilots, including several well-known designers of aircraft, are participating.
 When the start had begun today was still poor and the sun was soon lost to sight in the low lying clouds.—British Official Wireless Service.

GOLD PRODUCTION IN KENYA.
Output for Half Year.
Twenty-five per cent. Increase.

During the first six months of 1933, the total gold output of Kenya was 5,973 ounces. For the corresponding period this year, the total output was 7,967 ounces, or an increase of approximately 33 per cent.
June Figures.
 The figures for June are—286 Bahrains Althaval, as against 216 ounces last year, or 31 per cent. increase, compared with 607 ounces in 1933. Blueberry—1,087 ounces, this year and 1,000 ounces in 1933. The total for the month was thus 1,087 ounces from althaval and reef.

THE WATER SHORTAGE IN BRITAIN.
Meeting of Emergency Conference.
 [BY WIRELESS.]
 Rugby, July 13.
 A statement issued regarding the meeting of the Water Supply Emergency Conference held by the Ministry of Health, says that further information received from the engineers in charge of nearly 100 large water undertakings shows that in some of these it is serious trouble being experienced or likely to arise.
 Reports received from 440 companies in towns and urban districts show a population and exceeding 2,000,000 all in 414 of these there is no serious shortage at present, or in prospect. On 190 rural councils 170 report no serious shortage. In 100 rural councils 170 report no serious shortage. In 100 rural councils 170 report no serious shortage.

A NEW BRITISH STEEL.
Joint Production at Sheffield.
Important Development.
STRONG NON-CORROSIVE METAL.

[BY WIRELESS.]
 Rugby, July 12.
 Important interests in the British iron and steel industry have reached an arrangement to manufacture jointly a new non-corrosive steel in which strength, endurance and very attractive appearance are combined. The metal, known as "Stabrite," and its first production in Sheffield was regarded as one of the most important steel developments of modern times.
 A new company called the British Iron and Steel Corporation Limited, is being formed by Messrs. Thomas Firth and Sons, Ltd., Messrs. John Brown and Sons, Ltd., and the English Steel Corporation to produce "Stabrite" and stainless steel.—British Official Wireless Service.

Defence of Hitler's Methods.
GENERAL GOERING ON STORM TROOP REVOLT.
Warning Against Legal Criticism.
ADDRESS TO PUBLIC PROSECUTORS AND STATE ATTORNEYS.

In a speech at a special meeting of public prosecutors and state attorneys, General Goering, Prime Minister of Prussia vigorously defended Hitler's strong measures during the recent Storm Troop revolt.
 He emphasised that Hitler was determined to create absolute order in the Nazi State, and uttered a warning against legal criticism of the action taken by the Government to suppress the outbreak.
 Demanding unconditional support for Hitler, he declared that he personally would back officials who did their duty and dealt ruthlessly with those who did not.

Government Acted in Justice.
 (REPRODUCED BY THE AGENT.)
 Berlin, July 13.
 "A demand for unconditional support for Hitler was a warning against legal criticism of the German Government's recent actions," was made by General Goering in a speech at a special gathering of Public Prosecutors and State Attorneys.
 He emphasised that Hitler was determined to create absolute order in the Nazi State. It was the task of his hours to defend the State in every way against all attacks.
 "Justice and the leaders" will see one and the same thing," he said. "This is the justice you must demand."
 "They must keep clean at all times," he said, "and not be ashamed to be seen without respect to persons—a law provided and a lawbreaker and the State demanded."

KATE DON STANDS HIS TRIAL.
Maulaughter Charge at Douglas.
 (REPRODUCED BY THE AGENT.)
 London, July 12.
 The trial of Kate Don, the famous racing motorist, on a charge of manslaughter, has begun before the Second District Judge, Mr. R. D. Frost, at Douglas, Isle of Man.
 The charge of manslaughter follows on the death on May 29 of Kate Don's mechanic, Francis Taylor, who was fatally injured as a result of a collision between a racing car driven by Kate Don and a motor cycle on the course at Douglas. Mr. Don stated that the steering gear of his car failed to respond as he was passing the other car.

NAKURU MOTOR SMASH VICTIM.
Condition Still Critical.
 Information was received in town yesterday concerning the injuries sustained by Mr. A. B. Hurfield, of Nairobi, in the fatal motor accident near Nakuru on Tuesday evening.
 Apart from having several ribs and collar bone broken, Mr. Hurfield suffered severe head and hand wounds, while the apex of his left lung was seriously injured. He is also suffering from what should be internal injuries as yet unknown.
 His condition is still critical. It is to be hoped that he will be able to recall anything connected with the smash.

THE PRIME MINISTER.
Departure on Canadian Holiday.
 [BY WIRELESS.]
 Rugby, July 13.
 When the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, left Belfast shortly before midnight last night in the liner "Thames" for Edinburgh, he was heartily cheered by thousands of people who had gathered to see him off.—British Official Wireless Service.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.
E. Hosp. Duration: Your letter with correct solution to "II" received, and the points included in to-day's list.

Masallani, Mwana: Thank for both telegrams announcing your successful encounter with "K". Your keen interest, greatly appreciated, so is your generous donation of 10/- which will be acknowledged in the next Prize Fund List. Why don't you send the variations of 3-movers? They bring lots of points, the key only 4. A thirteenth of the rules is being posted to you but they are valueless unless read. They are very easily understood and we are bound to thank ourselves. Sorry we are so certain a people that we can not break the rules we make.

Sant Singh: Your correct solution to No. 1509 (not in Competition) received too late for insertion last week. We congratulate you upon your absolutely flawless work up to date. The clear way you write out your results shows complete understanding of the conditions.

E. Sundu: Bad luck not getting your correction to solve key to "II" posted within your time limit. Only the stalemate in one variation prevents it being.

Keynote to "I".
I. K-f5. With very intricate and puzzling variations which will be duly discussed. In reply to various thoughtlessly minded enquirers this "I" is spelled with an "H". "The other do partner please" for schatology. The late Professor Fiske wrote a paper on Chess in Hades. "I" is not authoritative, for he was at that time on the side of the Styx. We have not heard further from him. He

W. R. M. Fowler: A beautiful problem with a ridiculous looking key.

A. Malik: A very clever piece of work, illustrating good manoeuvres with Queen supported by the Bishop.

Sant Singh: Although very troublesome it brings 8 points the highest figure so far.

G. Tanner: This ... appeared earlier to me than any of the appears to be neglecting his correspondence.

RESULTS OF "I".
This problem, No. 1558, was as follows:
Black Four.

White Five.
White mates in three moves.
The Key is 1. K-f2.
If 1...P-Kt1, 2. Q-f2, etc.
If 1...L-K4, 2. B-c3, etc.
If 1...K-d2, 2. R-f4, etc.
If 1...K-e2, 2. K-c3, etc.

Composed by Geoffrey Heathcote, 8 points (4 for key plus 4 for variations).
A very artistic device; the key strategically makes provision against stalemate, otherwise the try 1. K-f2, etc. would solve it, but Black plays 1...K-e2, and stalemates himself. If White tries to mate in three, This trap catches E. Sundu who discovered his mistake too late. The sacrifice looks absurd, but the Knight is well placed at f2.
Notice the delightful freedom the key gives the Black King and of White's four castles, these three are "quiet," that means not checking.

Solvers' Comments.
K. E. Cecile: Took me 15 minutes.
How rapid! That shows the value of your recent races with Bostock in improving your chess speed. Ch. Ed. I.

"E. Y. S.": "I" made me jump, but only with joy, for I hit on the key in 10 minutes. I always begin on the most absurd looking moves.

previous three-movers, the mate though neat are not hard to find, and one could cite to the strength of 2. Q-f2 if P-f3 can be tempted aside to capture Kf2.

"Bogie" is the only commentator to mention the stalemate; some may not have even noticed the try K-f5. Ten minutes would scarcely be enough!

TILLEY Vapour Lamps.

Burn Ordinary Paraffin.

BRITISH MADE THROUGHOUT, they will stand plenty of rough usage and the mantles do not jar off. The Tilley Lamp is not a wick lamp with a mantle and it is therefore unaffected by draughts. You can take it out of doors if necessary, when it will still go on burning brightly.

After the day's toil your evening comfort largely depends on your lighting. You must have powerful lamps, but at the same time they must be easy to operate and thoroughly dependable.

THE TILLEY LAMPS fulfil these conditions. They burn ordinary paraffin without smoke or smell and yield a splendid white light of 300 c.p. at the small cost of four cents per hour.

THE EAST AFRICAN KILLING.
G. SANDBEACH BAKER.
July 7, 1924.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir—As Mr. Colter admits in his reply to my previous letter the position as regards the world's currencies in 1914 was that they were stable while commodities fluctuated in value according to supply and demand. After the war many countries found production but almost relatively to their neighbors and those in which roads had gone highest cost.

PACIFIC IN KENYA?
To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir—Mention is made in a year's issue of 11th instance of another disturbing element, to be introduced into the peaceful Colony of ours? I refer to the "Pacific movement," a movement known in Great Britain as Mosley's Blackshirts.

The East of Enroll, it is reported, has been commissioned to convert this Colony to the Black-shirt policy. This policy, the slogan of which is "British first, Dominion second, Foreigners nowhere," is gaining ground among a certain section of young people at home and is already preparing for some bloodshed.

Sir Oswald Mosley, the originator of this movement in Great Britain, refers to the Parliamentary system as being antiquated and out of date, "consisting, as he says, of the same old parties, the same old men, and the same old spirit who have again and again betrayed us." He has not yet gone the length of saying that this system of Government must be swept out of the way by a Hitler and Duffell, although this is indirectly implied.

The United Nations Conference in Paris is, in the meantime, to be destroyed, but these Societies must not be used to advance the careers of political adventurers, forgetting that Sir Oswald himself is one of the most notorious political adventurers of modern times.

Now the point of this letter is: Will Government permit this apple of discord to be planted in this territory?
Yours etc.,
DUNCAN BEATON.

THE WEATHER.

Rainfall Returns for the Week.
The following is the B.E.A. Meteorological Service weather report for the week ending July 10, 1924, at certain stations in the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya and other E. African territories.

Mr. Galton-Pearce writes as follows: Except for various thunderstorms in the Highlands of Kenya varying greatly in intensity and small isolated storms in Uganda and the rest of East Africa has had practically no rain during this week, and one can definitely say that the cold weather conditions have now set in.

In Kenya the wettest place this week was Eldoret with about five inches of rain followed by Mukuru and Kericho with 3 1/2 inches. Rumuruti with 2 1/2 inches and Sogoi and Kipkaren with 1 1/2 inches. During the last fortnight Rumuruti has had nearly 4 inches of rain which is perfectly marvellous as they have been suffering from the severest drought possible ever since the end of last year. All roads are in good condition, except the Lamuria, Kiara, South and Kiara road and our old friend 10 miles on the Malakus road. The Mombasa road is in an excellent condition and the same can be said of the main trunk road from Nairobi to Kampala, and Nairobi to Meru.

In Tanganyika very little rain has fallen during the week. But that the country round Lindaba looks exceedingly good. It is just now and the trout fishing excellent. There is an exception, the coast road from Tangi to Dar es Salaam and Korogwe to Handeni to Turana and Mtwara. The rest of the road grows is still not possible to traffic. The rest of the roads are in good to fair condition. In Uganda there have been a few storms but the whole of the country is dry and roads are excellent. I hear that the harvest of the Peaks of the Mountains of the Moon has now lifted and that most beautiful views can be seen from Fort Portal.

The following is the state of country made as per telegraphic information just received—

LAKIPIA CRITICISMS.

Thomson's Falls Finds
Escape Difficult.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

Thomson's Falls, a strong body of opinion in the Lakipia-Thomson's Falls area that Local Self-government is a waste and delusion so far as economy is concerned and that, in fact, and experience, it is not economical.

The question was raised at a recent Executive meeting by Miss Lenford, who asked the meeting (held under the auspices of the Lakipia Farmers' Association) to consider and define their attitude on the question of Local Self-government. At Thomson's Falls they had been trying for a considerable period, to bring the different sections of the district into line, to enable the Falls, the railhead, to be used as the centre of the districts for all purposes. There had been some difficulty in regard to the South West ward, sometimes known as the Nakuru ward, but that had now been overcome to a great extent, by returning the ward to the district, to which it originally belonged for all purposes, except road administration. He would welcome information, to enable them to clarify the position for the whole district.

Mr. Welby, the Provincial Commissioner, gave his opinion that District Councils had proved an unequalled success and that Government was inclined to rely more and more on their expressed opinions. One of the great advantages that presented was that the members of the Councils were selected by election.

The P.W.D.

Meera Bamber, Cotter Wright, Dyles, and Sykes, joined in the discussion. Captain Cotter expressing the opinion that local self-government did not tend to economy of administration within the district, or even in the country generally. There was a tendency for each member to strive for every cent he could get all but to his own particular ward, and, secondly, although a tremendous amount of work was now performed by District Councils which in the past had been done by the P.W.D. he challenged anyone to produce evidence of the reduction of any personnel of that department. If the staff became redundant in one area, they were moved to another one, and vice-versa.

Mr. Welby questioned that statement, as in the East Valley staff had been dispensed with. (Capt. Cotter: "The Expenditure Advisory Committee found when going into the question of costs of the Public Works Department that, in fact, no reductions had been made but only a move of staff.")

A "One-Way Road."

Mr. A. Dyles was of the opinion that local self-government was a one-way road, where it was ordered, it was necessary to keep straight on; there was no turning back if they found the road did not suit them. If it were so good, why did Government object, my friend, any area to come out of it, once they had entered? If he were correctly informed, that was the position regarding the S.W. Thomson's Falls area. They had been taken in but could not get out.

Mr. Welby agreed that it would be difficult, once they elected to accept Local Self-government, to get out of it without showing good cause, but not impossible. He did not think that the S.W. area of Thomson's Falls had been informed that they could not retire from Local Government.

Captain L. Sykes admitted that was exactly what had happened. The area in which he lived had found itself, years ago, included in the Nakuru District, without the wishes of the people concerned being consulted. Their natural centre was at Thomson's Falls, and they had expressed their desire for effect to be given to their view by a vote at a public meeting of the District when the voting was 52 for the Falls at a centre, and two against. Years ago, when the application was made for the construction of the Thomson's Falls branch line, at an interview in

PIONEERS IN MALARIA RESEARCH.

Sir Ronald Ross and Sir P. Manson.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

London, July 3.

The Earl of Athlone, Chancellor of the University of London, spoke of the magnitude of the malaria problem when he unveiled a bust of the late Sir Ronald Ross and a tablet to the memory of Sir Patrick Manson at a reception at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. The Earl of Athlone said that they did honour to the memory of Manson because, after his labours overseas alone and his equipment, he had the vision and the courage to inspire and mould teaching and research in tropical medicine, and to lay the foundations of a fully equipped centre of education. Ross was in turn inspired by the father of modern tropical medicine, and through toil and sacrifice, and strain brought to mankind a wonderful and precious gift.

The Governor's camp at Nakuru the late Sir Robert Gordon, with a map spread before him, had observed: "I cannot see why the line should not take off from Nakuru." He (Captain Sykes) had replied: "If you come to the door of the tent, Sir, you will see." They stepped to the opening, and before them was the 8,000 feet high Gilgil escarpment and no need for further discussion on that point. It was the same story. He (the speaker) agreed with other speakers that they could not ignore the demand complete control of their own affairs (and no one present said suggested that they did not want that complete control) if they were asked or hindered to accept the first instalment offered. Summing up the discussion, the Chairman announced that the matter would be entered on the next agenda for full discussion and decision.

The Hon. Gilbert Colville sought information as to the views of the district on further steps in the organisation of the dairy industry and a very full but indecisive discussion ensued.

The days of the Mauretania as an Atlantic liner are numbered, but the great ship, which held the Blue Ribband for 21 years, may still have a few more years of service. There is an interesting possibility that she may be converted into a cabin ship in the Atlantic trade. In that event she would be the fastest cabin ship in the world—an undeniable attraction to ocean tourists.

SALE OF FIRST CLASS COFFEE ESTATE.
Duly instructed by the owner for sale by Public Auction (subject to being bought by private treaty in the alternative) at our premises, WHITEWAY CHAMBERS, SIXTH AVENUE, NAIROBI.

on FRIDAY, August 3rd at 11 a.m.

- THE WELL-KNOWN -

BALAGALU GI ESTATE

(Formerly the Property of the LATE MR. ARTHUR BAILLIE). This most attractive Estate (L.O. No. 472) of original No. 4278/4 is situated in the Solar area of the Nairobi Administrative District, 15 miles from Nairobi Township, and is regarded as being one of the best farms in this desirable district.

The total area is approximately 707 acres and mostly comprises deep chocolate loam and is particularly well suited for the cultivation of Coffee, which has thrived exceedingly and has borne high yields. Improvements include 80 acres of coffee of which 65 acres are fully bearing and 15 acres recently planted. Past year average 12 tons of sun-dried coffee. There is a further area of 215 acres cultivated in grass excellent pastures. There is also a large area of 110 acres only have so far this season been planted to Maize. Crops of up to 15 bags per acre have been reaped from this land. There is a commodious and well constructed stone house of 6 rooms, K.P.B. bath, with electric light, also a 3 roomed cottage.

A splendidly equipped Coffee factory capable of dealing with a large crop exists on the property. There is also a good cattle shed. The Estate is replete with all the necessary tools, implements and farm furniture (Pictures and personal effects excepted).

The Estate is situated only 61 miles from Milken's Biding and a splendid all-weather main road connects it with Nairobi. The average rainfall is given at 45" and the Altitude 6200 feet.

This is in all respects an ideal property and one which offers a very substantial and immediate return on the capital invested.

Orders to view the Estate and further particulars may be obtained upon application being made to Mr. R. E. G. Russell, Advocate, P.O. Box 149, Nairobi or to the Auctioneers.
