Out of the gross revenue of each of its concerns the Company must meet its working costs, their provision for depreciation on an approved scale, and thereafter must allocate to its shareholders a balance to be approved by the Governor in Council. After having done this thing the Company is then permitted to take revenue to an extent represented by twelve and a half per cent of the working capital, out of which they must pay their dividend and provide any reserves they wish.

Controversy Over Club's Money Raising Methods

An controversy of some interest has arisen as to the desirability of the automatic machine at Nakuru Athletic Club.

A vote was taken on the notice board, which resulted in a majority for their retention. Now a postal vote is being taken. On the grounds of expediency it will be surprising if the former decision is not endorsed.

As was stated last week, no hint has been given as to whether the machine will be retained. It is a machine which has been in use for some time and has been found to be a very profitable one. Great Welcome Ready For Them In Washington Today

The King and Queen made their historic entry into the United States at Niagara Falls last evening. Today they will depart through a densely thronged airport in the White House where they will be the guests of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Washington has been lavishly decorated for the great occasion and special precautions have been taken to keep the crowds in check.

The Royal visit is arousing the greatest enthusiasm.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

(By Charles A. Taylor)

Great Britain has yielded up its position as the world's leading creditor, and there is little doubt that she will continue to do so for some time to come. The only reason for this is that she has the largest gold and foreign exchange reserves in the world. This position has been maintained since the war, and it is likely to be maintained for some time to come.

The United States has also maintained its position as a leading creditor, and it is likely to continue to do so for some time to come. The only reason for this is that it has the largest gold and foreign exchange reserves in the world. This position has been maintained since the war, and it is likely to be maintained for some time to come.

The Government has announced that it is considering the possibility of imposing a royalty on gold exports. This is a matter which has been discussed in the past, and it is likely to be discussed again in the future.

LIFE IS TOO SHORT!

In this world, where a man's span of life is about 60 or 70 years, one often hears the saying "Life is too short" to justify doing this, waiting for that, or putting off the other.

Life is, indeed so short that we, along with millions of others, frequently are led to wonder whether, in the brief space allotted to us, we can experience all the benefits obtainable from the sources to which we have access—whether we can in some measure help to bring those benefits within the reach of others.

INTERNATIONAL differences and quarrels, and petty misunderstandings alike should either be resolved by amicable discussion, or relegated to the dustbin, according to their respective merits, leaving people free to carry on their lives in an atmosphere of peace and encouragement.

In our line of business we would often like to say to those who hesitate, "Life is too short, make the most of the years you have, before they are gone; buy the car you have in mind, whether it's a Ford—or any other make, since your lack of confidence is not really justified, and even if you don't buy today you will tomorrow; temper your caution with reason, and thus help to restore confidence to a world temporarily shaken—and remember that a car, be it a Ford, or any other quality car, is an asset worth possessing in all circumstances, and one which your family and friends can enjoy equally with you."

You can play a very large part in the restoration of confidence—don't miss your opportunity!

Empire Air-Day THE MERCURY V-8

Evidence of Great Britain's Force in the Sky

IMPRESSIVE mass evidence of our speed across Britain was provided on the sixth annual Empire Air Day when 78 Royal Air Force stations and civil airports throughout the land were open to the public.

"At Home" Gates normally guarded by sentries were opened to admit vast throngs of the public who were able to see at first-hand the Service's new warplanes, new air buses and thousands of new personnel recruited during last year's record-breaking year.

At London's Regent Aerodrome, a great crowd of spectators saw two Hurricane 1.5-ton fighters race at 100 m.p.h. over the Biggin Hill circuit last week. The two aircraft were high-performance fighter-bombers constructed by the new modern "grand-strating" version of Hawker's "Two-seater" fighter. The Hurricane's new motor "inter-cooler" system, which is used at the Malindi, causing the Hurricane to be a very high speed aircraft.

The possibility of the Mercury must be expected to be fully appreciated, but the latest is that design on long history is now in a position to meet the requirements of the modern world. I particularly liked the combination of the auto with medium-sized engine, but good speed, low fuel consumption, and a very simple design. It is extremely difficult to obtain speed that is usually brought about by the use of a turbo-propeller, and at the same time, the Mercury is a very simple design. Stray Thoughts About MOTORING

MAJOR "OLDIE" GARDNER has started his ambition of getting over 200 miles on his motor in 24 hours and has the road test on the motor which is the most complete one of that very much overrated and underrated. When one realizes that the engine driving his M.C. Mercury was of only 1,100 cc capacity—that is, the size of that of an 11-cylinder 14-hp British motor—the power source from some motor "Thunderbolt" leader of the motor industry had speed record of some 100 m.p.h. on his motor, and he is now in a position to get over 200 miles on his motor in 24 hours. This is not as the power required to overcome the resistance of the road.

For few crowded flying hours last week, giving strong evidence of our speed across Britain in an exceptionally high class and expensive to make, machine available only to a very small and exclusive public. There were not a few in existence that have not been of undertakings where the source made the "Thunder Factor" name something more substantial than a shadow. In present conditions, it is essential that all undertakings, only the British motor manufacturing industry, possess the special qualifications to supply the motor industry, and the British motor manufacturing industry, possess the special qualifications to supply the motor industry, and the British motor manufacturing industry, possess the special qualifications to supply the motor industry.

Robot Planes
Special dispatches have been received from the Government of the United States, regarding the development of a robot plane. The robot plane is a machine that can fly itself, and it is being developed by the United States Government. The robot plane is a machine that can fly itself, and it is being developed by the United States Government.

Speed Dash by Air Ace
High speed of a buoy aircraft was a dramatic speed dash from London to Berlin in the world's first single-seat fighter piloted by a British ace. The aircraft was a single-seat fighter piloted by a British ace. The aircraft was a single-seat fighter piloted by a British ace.

THE MOTOR INDUSTRY, despite the common notions of partiality, has made many important steps to keep alive and further develop a number of the most highly skilled technicians in the world. The Governor said the speech was devoted to pointing legislation. His Secretary also dealt with crop production.

Bill you will make that reference to be formally accepted by members of the Executive Council.
