HUNTING FOR BIG GAME IN THE DEEP WATERS OFF KENYA'S COAST

With the close of the fishing season at the Coast it is pleasant to look back on past successes and forward to new ventures in the deep. In this article, CHARLES SEYMOUR not only recalls the happy memories of a typical fishing trip but reviews the sport and the prizes... the marine, sailboat, motorboat and the glistering light breeze gently stirred the curtains of the house overlooking the sea. It brought with it the rise and fall of the surf; not harsh, nor strident, but persistent, steady as a heartbeat. In the sky the stars held their sway — but not for long. A pale streak slashed the horizon ever widening the gap between water and sky.

In the house the anglers stirred, the very little man — one day and the two visitors, newcomers to East African shores and eager to try their luck in its waters. There was soft talk and steaming coffee. They gave the fishing outfit a deceptively fragile look and cast strange shadows on Southern lanes, "toppers" and aerobically banks.

Down in the creek a finger of moonlight might have been and illuminated the fishing launch riding quietly at her bow. Her lamp never moved with the tide. "On board" there was activity too. The gear was active, almost it had to tempt the wary fish.

At present, great fishing to be done in Kenya's north coast. From Lamu to Malindi the coast is rich in fish. The fish are plentiful and the weather is generally excellent.

Although big game fishing off the Kenya coast is still in its infancy, there is little doubt that these waters can offer water sports and fishing of the highest quality.

MERU LAND BELTS PRESENTING MAJOR OBSTACLES TO STABLE FARMING

A farming revolution

SEVERE HAZARDS contribute to the success of Meru District as a "farming revolution" area. A major obstacle is the Meru District, next week to be well equipped with Dohle.

IN the Meru district, which covers an area of 3,000 square miles and provides a home for 250,000 Africans, there are a number of problems to be overcome and until these are mastered land consolidation and better farming cannot function properly.

Mount Kenya, with its varied peaks and dramatic forest. Many years ago when the tribes displaced from the Meru district as a result of the Mau Mau disturbances, they found it to be about 1,000 feet above sea level and advanced uphill towards the all-encircling mountain.

They used a high standard during the last 20 years that they found it to be about 1,000 feet above sea level.

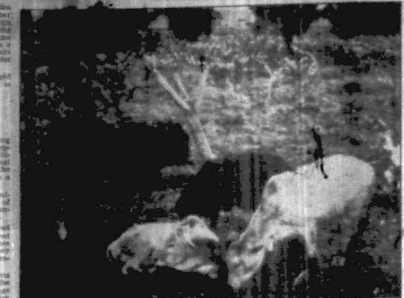

Individual land rights are not clearly defined. The fragments which remain from 1910 are now up to 1,000 feet over a distance of about 25 miles.

There are a number of other factors which are also a major obstacle to the success of the Meru district. These are: the Meru District, next week to be well equipped with Dohle.

Severe malaria in lower area

There are a number of different types of malaria which are prevalent in the Meru district. The most common is the one which is caused by the Anopheles gambiae mosquito. This is a very dangerous type of malaria and is often fatal.

The other types of malaria are caused by the Anopheles stephensi and Anopheles funestus mosquitoes. These are also very dangerous and can be fatal.

Part of the Meru District, which covers an area of 3,000 square miles and provides a home for 250,000 Africans. There are a number of problems to be overcome and until these are mastered land consolidation and better farming cannot function properly.

127 farms had 2,900 acres

127 farms had 2,900 acres. This is a significant achievement for the Meru district, as it shows that a large number of farms are now being established and are producing a significant amount of food.

Settlement plans carried out

The Meru district is a very fertile area, and it is important to settle the population in a way that will allow them to make the most of the land. The settlement plans are being carried out in a systematic way, and the results are very encouraging.

Training courses

Training courses are being held in the Meru district to help the farmers improve their skills and increase their yields. The courses are very popular and are being attended by a large number of farmers.

Up-grading helps African stock

Up-grading helps African stock. The up-grading process is helping to improve the quality of the African stock, and this is a significant achievement for the Meru district.

Rising population sets problem

Rising population sets problem. The population in the Meru district is increasing rapidly, and this is creating a number of problems for the government and the people.

Two Italians escape to danger in East Africa

By J. HUMPHRIES

There should be many people living in Kenya today who do not remember the time when there were Italian prisoners of war and latter "prisoners" of those days. More than ten years have passed but those who came from that period are still alive. I think, still in the most pleasant recollections of their life as well as being assisted by a reading of African Escape by Count Carlo Baldago.

He and another Italian of aristocratic stock, Baron Ferdinando Quaranta, were young officers who took part in the Ethiopian campaign and who, after saving the lives of many of the British and French troops, were taken prisoner by the British. They were taken to the Italian camp in the mountains of Ethiopia, where thousands of others were brought to Kopsa for internment.

Baldago's camp was at Lerdams and it was not long before the Italian scheme for escape was complete. With the aid of a map of Kenya, found in a book in the Colony. He and his companion were in the bush, and all preparations were complete.

He was to be a long tramp over the Kenya mountains. He had to go through the forest, and eventually, perhaps, to the coast. He had to go through the forest, and eventually, perhaps, to the coast. He had to go through the forest, and eventually, perhaps, to the coast.

A DIFFERENT TYPE OF MURDER PLOT

MICHAEL REDGRAVE makes one of the most bold, unobtrusive appearances in The Gravy, which centers to the Playhouse next week. Once again he gives a convincing portrayal, this time of a clever French lawyer who agrees to defend a deaf and blind man charged with the murder of his secretary.

The best lawyers in France have refused the case because they consider it hopeless to defend a man who is "obviously guilty." Kieron Moore has charged with murder on board a ship after having been found alone with the body—his hands stained with blood.

ROYAL
Kather Williams in her first non-swimwear role continues her tremendous success as a dramatic actress in The Unwounded Soldier.

EMPIRE
Two of the most popular new stars are featured in The Gravy. Michael Redgrave and Kieron Moore are the stars of the play.

WHO SAID THIS?

"I had my car. I could write the word 'motor' over the door of every cottage and upon the blushing cheek of every public man because I am convinced that for simplicity, convenience, safety, families can be secured equal advantages which otherwise would mean a loss of life."

And NOW is the time to insure, for every day of delay holds its hazards, one one of which may be fatal.

Women in Industry

COOL DAY'S WORK

By Ann Venchus

The employment of women in industry is not a new phenomenon. For a long time, women have been working in factories and in other industries. In fact, women have been working in industry since the beginning of time. In the early days, women worked in textile mills and in other industries. Today, women work in a wide variety of industries, from agriculture to science.

Seven years ago, the average woman in industry was paid 58 cents for every dollar paid to a man. Today, the average woman in industry is paid 75 cents for every dollar paid to a man. This shows that the pay gap between men and women in industry has narrowed significantly in the past seven years.

Smooth routine

Most women receive their mail in the morning. They check their mail, then get ready for work. They take a shower, get dressed, and then go to work. This is a smooth routine that most women follow.

Packing line

At the end of each week, women in industry are busy packing their belongings. They pack their clothes, their toiletries, and their other personal items. They then take their packed belongings home with them.

Trials uniforms

Many women in industry wear uniforms. These uniforms are often simple and practical. They are designed to be comfortable and easy to clean. Some women wear uniforms that are similar to those worn by men.

Something tasty to brighten up teatime

Teatime is a special time for many women in industry. They take a break from their work to enjoy a cup of tea and a snack. This is a time to relax and recharge their batteries.

TRAINING TAKES THREE MONTHS

For the first time since the Federal Industrial Training Act was passed, a woman is now required to take her own training. This means that women are now responsible for their own education and training in the workplace.

Working hours

Most women in industry work a standard 40-hour week. However, some women work longer hours, especially in manufacturing and other industries. The length of working hours can vary depending on the industry and the specific job.

Conch fare proves a fishing victory

All this is considered a triumph for the fishermen. The catch was so good that the fishermen were able to sell their catch at a high price. This was a real victory for the fishing industry.

A CONGRESS

The fishermen are now in Congress. They are fighting for their rights and for the interests of the fishing industry. They want to make sure that the fishing industry is protected and that the fishermen are able to continue their work.

THE PROOF

The fishermen have provided the proof. They have shown that they are capable of doing their work and that they are committed to their industry. This is a real testament to their hard work and dedication.

MUCH TO OFFER

The fishermen have much to offer. They have a wealth of experience and knowledge that can be shared with others. They are also committed to their community and to the well-being of their industry.

HELL STRIKE

The fishermen are on strike. They are protesting against the government's policies and their actions. They want to see change and they are willing to go to any length to achieve their goals.

SIPPING BAIT

The fishermen are sipping bait. They are using their skills and experience to catch their prey. This is a time of focus and concentration for the fishermen.

BOXERS CONCENTRATE TOO MUCH ON 'NOBLE ART'

By GENE HART

JOE BERNKIN is Britain's heavy-weight champion. He is the only fighter of a nation renowned on sports grounds, a nation that gave the world many sports—including tennis. Joe Bernkin is the man championed and despised in two months, two weeks by "Noble Art."

So he went the way of all British heavy-weight boxers. The way of Bruce Woodcock, captured by Joe Sakel, of Dan Corbett, managed by Nicky Marciano, of other boxers who all looked good until they came up against Americanization.

Sometimes, after each defeat, he has come the way of the American on British boxing. Joe Bernkin is a starting member.

Setting himself up as an expert, he says he is following a new way of training. He says he is following a new way of training.

What do you know about sport?

- A WEEKLY test of sports knowledge—
1. How far, approximately, does a referee run during the course of a football game? a) 15 miles; b) 10 miles; c) 5 miles; d) 12 miles.
 2. In the new W.C.C. program for County Cricket, the bowler must bowl a side between 50 and 60 balls.
 3. What are points in playing a billiard game? a) What are they? b) How many are there?
 4. What are the names of the five most famous tennis players in history? a) Who are they? b) Who were they? c) In what sport would they play?
 5. In what sport is a game of 15 points? a) What is it? b) How many points are there? c) In what sport is it played?
 6. What is the highest time ever recorded in the 100-yard race? a) 15.5 seconds; b) 16.5 seconds; c) 17.5 seconds; d) 18.5 seconds.
 7. What is the name given to the three main types of tennis? a) Wimbledon, Davis, and Wimbledon. b) Wimbledon, Davis, and Wimbledon.
 8. Who is the inventor of the T.G.P. or Weight-lifting? a) Who is he? b) Where was he born?

BOCKY MARSHALL

The American like to hear about the top level of the first few seconds they manage to hit. In British boxing, it is often at the end, when the loser is still the future referee.

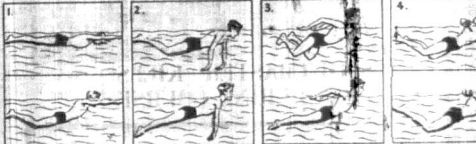

That is what happened to Woodcock when he lost to Sakel. He was not so much as he thought he was. He was not so much as he thought he was.

22.9-MILE SWIM IN 81 HOURS

Athlete Albertus, 43, started from the landing stage at Basset in the River Thames. Fifty-one hours and 23 minutes later he floated in at the dock at Brentford.

CONTRACTS in securities and stocks... are the common rule, a feature that African markets seem... have been bringing the world's money to London.

Thanks to the help of the Government, the money market is now a more active one than it was some years ago.

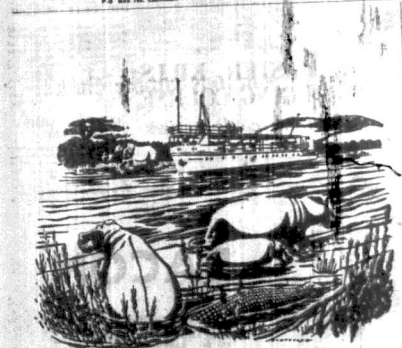

From elements in the Government's credit... a steady stream of new money will be put out. A steady stream will be put out for the Government's credit... from elements in the Government's credit...

IPSWICH WIN PROMOTION AFTER A FINE RECOVERY

Wales beat Czechs in World Cup

Wales beat Czechoslovakia in their World Cup (Group 4) preliminary match at Cardiff on Wednesday by one goal to nil after a heroic first half. This was the first meeting of Group 4, which also contains Eastern Germany.

Jack when a possible draw seemed likely, but he was stopped by the Czechs. The Czechs were allowed to have a free kick, but it was blocked by the Welsh. The Welsh were then able to score through a free kick by John Charles, who had been sent off earlier in the game. The Welsh were then able to score through a free kick by John Charles, who had been sent off earlier in the game.

Kilimanjaro farmers bombard clouds with balloons

The great black clouds that hang round the great peak of Kilimanjaro offer a promise of rain that is often unfulfilled and the men who farm the mountain slopes are now experimenting with balloons to encourage an unpredictable nature to bestow rain.

One of the first to use the balloons was Mr. Oswald Barrett, who farms 2,500 acres of land on Kilimanjaro. He has used balloons to encourage rain for several years and he says that he has seen a marked increase in the amount of rain that has fallen since he began to use balloons.

GOGGLING THROUGH AN UNDERWATER FANTASY IN THE BLUE LAGOON

By CHARLES BEYHOUR

JAN PRICHARD was looking for a fishing photograph. He knelt on the floor of his beach cottage and rummaged through a battered-looking case. A Press cutting caught my eye. It was headed "Key's 1st Under". He looked a little confused and looked me the paper. It read: "Mr. Ian Leslie Prichard, George Medal for Bravery, who organised operations into Mori Bay, has been awarded the Gold Medal for Bravery."

What a far cry from the cold, grim death of the forest, from danger and elaborately organised risk to the sunlit beauty of Blue Lagoon, an attractive spot on Kenya's North Coast and within a short drive of Mombasa, one of the Colony's most popular coastal resorts.

A snapshot was slipped to the back of the Press sitting. It showed a very full-bodied African in two-toned trunks swimming. They had, I learnt later, been made for me purposely. I explained that feature. Clearly such those of the young man who chuckled at my explanation. "The 'African' and the non-African men were, of course, Ian Prichard himself, the leader of the Kenyan and his French divers."

The two swam liberally from the depths. For Ian's job now is, among other aquatic ventures, showing visitors of the beauty of the waters of Blue Lagoon.

It is not easy to describe the beauty of the lagoon. Every colour of the spectrum is represented and every conceivable pose is taken in this so-called "underwater" world. In fact a large number of divers are seen and most vividly in the "underwater" world.

Remembering that as a diver, I myself had had a very good time, I was not surprised to find that Ian and his partner, James, were also very much interested in the swimming and the water sports. Ian and his partner, James, were also very much interested in the swimming and the water sports.

And his popularity to increase. Ian and his partner, James, were also very much interested in the swimming and the water sports. Ian and his partner, James, were also very much interested in the swimming and the water sports.

From nomadic nakedness to wealth

ADVANCING WITH THE ITESO

In the past three years, the Iteso, the second largest tribe in Uganda, has progressed from nomadic nakedness to the possession of wealth. Little up to now has been written about the Iteso, and J. G. Lawrence's 'The Iteso' is not only a valuable work of reference, but also an interesting and informative study of the Iteso people.

The Iteso people are a mixture of work and play. It is not intended as a study in literary technique, but rather a case of the reader playing a part in the creation of the work.

EARLY DAYS IN SPANISH COLONIES

The early days in the Spanish colonies were a time of great struggle and hardship. The Iteso people, who were once nomadic and naked, have now become a wealthy and civilized people.

EXPECTED THIS MONTH

Expected this month are several new titles from the East African Standard Ltd. These include 'The Iteso' by J. G. Lawrence, 'Early Days in Spanish Colonies' by Mrs. L. S. Brown, and 'Deeper Insight' by Mrs. L. S. Brown.

'CAROUSEL' ENCHANTS IN NEW FILM TECHNIQUE

RODGERS and Hammerstein's classic, 'Carousel', which Twentieth Century-Fox produced in its new CineScope 3-D photographic process and De Luce's colorful, court's to the Empire next week.

The producer, Henry Koster, has indicated 'Carousel'—which already has been anticipated as one of the truly great musical dramas through its pre-arranged run on the Broadway stage with all the promise of talent, money and experience.

He chose an incomparable group of singing artists by taking the participation into story by the original Broadway cast: Clifton Mathley, now Rochester; Josephine Baker, now in London; and the rest of the original Broadway cast.

In the original supporting roles are: Carmen Mitchell-Webster, Clarence Turner, of Metropolitan Opera; John H. Johnson, of the New York Herald Tribune; and the rest of the original Broadway cast.

Directed by Andrew Stone and produced by Martin Stone, the picture is a fascinating, absorbing, and utterly brilliant study of the life of a woman who has been abandoned by her husband.

In the role of the abandoned wife, Miss Day has an even more touching performance than that of the first Mrs. Knott. For Miss Day's Mrs. Knott is a woman who has been abandoned by her husband.

Embuz consolidating 1,000 acres a week

EMBUZ has consolidated two blocks of three sections, which are described as a "farming revolution" in the Embuz area, with a review of progress and the future prospects in the Embuz District.

STATEMENT schemes in the Embuz District, which began in 1926, were followed in 1928 with a successful consolidation scheme. Actual land consolidation was a big scale began in January this year, and today, the Embuz African team, the Department of Agriculture is consolidating at the rate of 1,000 acres a week. More than 10,000 acres are planned for demonstration and will be stepped up to 2,000 acres a week. The systems in the Embuz District differ from the Embuz District in that individuals have consolidated fragments of land, which are scattered all over the area, and are now being consolidated into one block. This is done by the state, and the state is now consolidating the land into one block. The state is now consolidating the land into one block. The state is now consolidating the land into one block.

Women in Industry

PUTTING THE LID ON PINEAPPLES

By JEAN VAUGHAN

...of a farming district a fruit raising factory has established employing African women in 1932 has been one of the most successful success in recent years, which they have been tried.

The factory, which is situated in the vicinity has 200 and 300 women at work, and it is considered better than any other factory in the district. The women are paid 10 shillings a week, and they are given a pension at the age of 45.

The African women are employed in the factory to make jam, and they are given a pension at the age of 45.

The African women are employed in the factory to make jam, and they are given a pension at the age of 45.

WEARS GLOVES

Her task in the factory is to select and pack the fruit into boxes. Like all the other women, she wears a white apron and a white cap, and she wears gloves to protect her hands from the fruit.

IN WAREHOUSE

At the end of the factory, the jam is packed into boxes and sent to the warehouse. The women are given a pension at the age of 45.

FREE OR NON-FREE WORLD: KENYA MUST DECIDE

Minister favours base

Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Njoro. He said ministers for people who opposed the establishment of a base in Kenya were "non-free world" men.

He said that the base was needed but it should be developed without every acre of land being utilized, and a base would bring into the country a number of results which did not exist in the country. It would stimulate local markets for agricultural products, create employment for thousands of people, and would help to develop the country.

BRITAIN EXPLODES HER FIRST HYDROGEN WEAPON

Bomb dropped from white Valiant jet

HIGH-LEVEL BURST

Britain has exploded her first hydrogen bomb.

The bomb was dropped from an R.A.F. Valiant bomber in the Central Pacific.

The Ministry of Supply announced that the explosion of a nuclear device in the current test had taken place in daylight on Wednesday in an altitude in the Central Pacific.

The Minister, Mr. Macmillan, told the House of Commons yesterday that the explosion had been planned.

It was reported in London yesterday that a form of hydrogen bomb has been developed by the atomic energy commission to collect samples of the radioactive fallout. Whirled helicopters may have been used to scatter the atoms.

Registers protest

The Valiant, sweeping Valiant which dropped the bomb was piloted by Wing Commander Kenneth Lumbard, DFC Squadron, and carried an all-British crew. The jet was newly painted white to reflect the flash and anti-fire shields on the cockpit windows. Details of the test of the bomb were not given, but it is believed that it might have been dropped from about 10,000 feet.

New Zealand surprised

The explosion of the first hydrogen bomb was a surprise to New Zealand. The Prime Minister, Mr. Gordon Coates, said that the New Zealand Government was surprised to learn that the test had taken place in daylight.

Britain registers protest

The British Government has registered its protest against the test of the first hydrogen bomb. The protest was registered with the United States Government.

Better labour best for some farms

It is a sad and surprising fact that in some parts of the country, the labour force is still in a state of semi-slavery. This is particularly true in the case of the sugar plantations where the workers are often treated as chattel.

The Government has been slow to take action to improve the conditions of these workers. It is time that the Government took steps to ensure that the labour force is better paid and treated more humanely.

E.A. history

I HAVE had some correspondence with the Hon. Mr. A. J. A. regarding the history of the East African Protectorate. It is interesting to note that the Protectorate was established in 1890 and has since then played a significant role in the development of the region.

The Protectorate was created to protect the interests of British subjects in the region and to promote trade and commerce. It has since then become an integral part of the East African community.

Salaries compared

It is interesting to compare the salaries of various officials in the East African Protectorate. The salaries of the various officials are as follows:

Chief Commissioner	£10,000
Deputy Commissioner	£5,000
District Commissioner	£3,000
Magistrate	£2,000
Police Officer	£1,000

Child welfare

It is a matter of concern that the welfare of children in the East African Protectorate is not being adequately protected. The Government should take steps to ensure that the children are properly cared for and educated.

The Government should establish more schools and day care centres to provide for the needs of the children. It should also take steps to ensure that the children are protected from exploitation and abuse.

Police thanked

I wish to thank the police for their assistance in the recent case. The police officers who were involved in the case were very helpful and efficient. Their actions were instrumental in bringing the case to a successful conclusion.

I am sure that the police will continue to provide excellent service to the community in the future.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Temperatures

The temperatures in the East African Protectorate are generally high during the summer months. This is due to the hot climate of the region. The temperatures can reach up to 40 degrees Celsius during the day.

The temperatures are generally lower during the night. This is due to the dry climate of the region. The temperatures can drop to as low as 10 degrees Celsius during the night.

Kenya's hotels

The hotels in Kenya are generally of a high standard. They provide excellent service and facilities to their guests. The hotels are well-maintained and offer a wide range of amenities.

The hotels in Kenya are a popular destination for tourists. They provide a comfortable and convenient place to stay during their visit to the country.

The Budget

The budget for the East African Protectorate is a matter of concern. The Government should take steps to ensure that the budget is balanced and that the funds are used wisely.

The Government should also take steps to ensure that the budget is transparent and that the public is kept informed of the government's financial affairs.

Uganda inquiry into coffee industry eyed

The Government of Uganda is considering an inquiry into the coffee industry. This is due to the fact that the coffee industry is a major source of revenue for the country and it is important to ensure that it is properly regulated.

The inquiry will look at the various aspects of the coffee industry, including the production, processing, and marketing of coffee. It will also look at the role of the Government in the industry and the impact of the industry on the economy.

FULL-COVER INSURANCE

FOR ILLNESS

Revolutionary hospital plan
There is a new hospital insurance scheme for the holders of Makuru Health. It is believed, will not only cover all or a large part of the hospital and medical expenses, but will also provide a generous benefit in the event of illness or hospitalization. The scheme will be operated by the Board and is planned to begin operation later in the year.

Medical coverage will be in the form of a cash benefit which will be available to the insured person when he is hospitalized for a period of 30 days or more. The benefit will be payable on a daily basis for the first 10 days of the hospital stay, and then on a weekly basis for the remainder of the period. The benefit will be payable for a maximum of 180 days in any one year.

The new scheme will be available to all holders of Makuru Health who are under the age of 65 at the time of the outbreak of the illness. It will be available to all holders of Makuru Health who are under the age of 65 at the time of the outbreak of the illness.

KENYA POLICE IN TRAINING TO MAINTAIN A FINE TRADITION

RECOVERERS HAINS contributes an article on the intensive training of Kenyan police which aims to produce men who will carry on a Kenya Police tradition already well established. Next week, HENRY HEUTER will report on the recently new training offered to men of the Kenya Regiment at Nakuru.

MUCH of the credit for the Kenya Police Force's increasing efficiency must go to the Colony's training school at Kiganjo, in the Nyeri District, where intensive training and rigid discipline help to produce a team spirit that is later carried to the smallest stations and outposts.

The Kenya Police Training School was opened in February 1946, when the old training of police personnel had been undertaken in unsatisfactory surroundings and on a limited scale at the depot.

Emphasis then was on the drill angle, and there had been limited instruction in practical work and other important subjects. Furthermore, because the men were often called on to perform a number of other duties.

FOR ALL RACES

Major of police, with a staff of 100, has been set up at the depot. The school is now open to all races, and all of its staff are of African descent. Mrs. Eaton-Brad has been successful in her efforts to make the Wapohi Valley a most interesting and exciting experience. The boat is a "Wapohi" and is managed by a crew of natives. When you drive from Nairobi to Thomson's Falls the road passes just below the opening of the Kalou and if you should pass there for a moment, you may think it is a "Wapohi". Just a collection of tin hats and a few chairs in the way. If you will pass of your seat and stand in the same place, a "Wapohi" will appear. There are many of them which have been built along the Wapohi Valley in the present day.

Five tales with a salty tang New light on naval history

By TREVOR BLOOM

THESE five stories by the author of the best-selling "The History of the British Royal Navy" are a new look at the history of the sea. They are written for the general reader, but they are also a valuable reference work for the specialist. The stories are: "The Ship of the Line", "The Battle of Trafalgar", "The Battle of Jutland", "The Battle of the Falklands", and "The Battle of the Atlantic".

UNDER

From a Navy of 100,000 men in 1815 to a fleet of 100 ships in 1915, the Royal Navy has seen a revolution in its equipment and organization. The stories in this book show how the Navy has adapted to the changing world of the sea.

REVIEW

These five tales with a salty tang are a new light on naval history. They are written for the general reader, but they are also a valuable reference work for the specialist.

Points from the FINDING WORK IN THE AFRICAN AND MISEFASS

There has been a considerable increase in the number of Africans who are unemployed and are seeking work.

Finding work

During the Government's visit to the African States, the Minister of Labour and Overseas Employment, Mr. Joseph Wilson, stated that the results of the survey conducted by the Department of Labour and Overseas Employment, which follows the process of administration.

It was then that he heard about an African farmer who voluntarily agreed to lease his 12-acre holding to a European farmer. The plan was to lease the land for a period of three years, and the farmer had agreed to provide a certain amount of labour.

Misfeasance

NOBODY can reasonably expect road works to be completed in the African States. What has happened, however, is that the Government have failed to do their duty in this respect.

During the change-over from a Governor to a Commissioner and back to a Governor, there has been a certain amount of misfeasance in the way in which the roads have been maintained.

The road works department has been unable to do its job properly. The roads are in a state of disrepair, and this has caused a great deal of trouble to the people.

The Government have failed to do their duty in this respect. They have allowed the roads to fall into a state of disrepair, and this has caused a great deal of trouble to the people.
