Take Aosta Strong Fortress Occupied By Our Troops Yesterday

R.I.A.F. HAS SUCCESSFUL WEEK-END Widespread Havoc in Greece

May 19.
Last night the Royal Air Force attacked Kof and did further damage to the important airfield building yards. The port of Zindus was also bombed.

The Air Ministry communique which gives the news states that the Coastal Command attacked the base at Chioring during the night. Not one of our aircraft is missing from the operation.

A Successful Week-end
The Royal Air Force has a very material week-end in Greece and the Middle East. In raids on enemy air bases and airfields, heavy light, heavy and medium bombers, escorted by fighters, were engaged in operations in Crete, Greece, Albania and the Aegean Sea.

The attacks by bomber aircraft were carried out by our fighters, which machine-gunned enemy air bases and airfields. At the aerodrome of Hissari, in Greece, twenty-two Junkers Ju 52 transport aircraft were destroyed.

MAY NOT BE END OF CAMPAIGN

It was announced in London this morning that the Duke of Aosta has accepted the British terms for the surrender of Amba Alagi in Abyssinia. Our forces will occupy the town today.

The official statement says that the Amba Alagi garrison is believed to consist of about 7,000 Italians and Colonial troops, the majority being Italian.

This news was followed by an admission in the Italian communique today that the Duke of Aosta had surrendered with his troops and the British forces will occupy the town today.

The occupation of Amba Alagi, it is pointed out, will be of the utmost importance. Not only was it very strongly defended by the Italians, but it controls the north and south communications in Abyssinia.

It is not known in London whether the Duke of Aosta, the Viceroy of Abyssinia, is still with his force in Abyssinia.

The British military authorities agreed to talk with a senior Italian officer provided he was speaking for the Duke.

A Commentary

In his news commentary today Abdir Aman Murray said "Clearly the position had become too hot for the Duke of Aosta in and around Amba Alagi and he has thrown in the towel. This will, no doubt, hasten the end of the two remaining points of contention in the Middle East and the Lakes, south of Addis Ababa. It is very desirable that we should end the whole Abyssinian show now because we have many new commitments on our hands elsewhere which are likely to grow in extent."

The opposite situations in that the two brothers—the Duke of Aosta and the Duke of Aosta—had themselves today when it was as rather funny. One, it being crowned King of Croatia while the other becomes a prisoner of war. That is by the way!

The Free French officer, quoted in the Cairo radio, reported the capture of the Italian garrison in the Middle East. The German report that the Italian garrison had been captured is refuted.

ANGLO-AMERICAN COLLABORATION

As is shown by some of the cables stories published today the American reaction to the Vichy Government has been prompt and significant. American statesmen realize, very fully the implications of the new Franco-German collaboration and the fact that it does provide for a cement of military alliance is a factor which is bound to create the most serious threat not only to the United States but to the whole of the American continent. The reference to joint action by the American Republics to guard against any danger from German-controlled French possessions in the Western Hemisphere, the meetings in the United States between naval representatives of some of the republics, the precautionary safety of French vessels laid up in American ports, and the increased activity against the unbecomingly Germanized France, are further evidence that America is preparing to take that drastic action of which President Roosevelt has spoken so strong a hint in his broadcast to the French people a few days ago. It is clear of course that British agents and London are working in the closest accord with this new and grave problem created by the latest agreement between the Government of Vichy and Germany. We are being fully informed of the latest developments in the Middle East.

Here, in Lamu, we read with the utmost interest the news of the prosecution of the Government for difficulties of the situation. The P.I. take has been very few and far between. The Government must not be taken to mean that no action will be taken to meet the situation. The contrary, the Price Inspectors have been to inspect and to regulate the wholesalers may be getting close to keep on the right track.

EMPIRE ATTITUDE TO WAR

Contrast Between Britain and Kenya

Nairobi Rotarians met on Friday when thirty-four members and a number of guests were present. Prior to the address, the President announced the receipt of a cheque for Shs. 400 from Gertrude Club, a donation towards the war work of the Club.
The Rotarians spoke on the subject "A New Attitude." He opened his address by referring to the new attitude fostered on people in Great Britain when the War started. Over the weekend of September 2 and 3, 1939, life in London changed completely, the temperature of the nation rose and had remained at a very high level. There was no time to think of the future, and generally speaking the attitude was one which of necessity arose out of the day-to-day mode of life. He stated that in that attitude might be found one of the reasons why the nation held up so well and was still standing up so well to the blitz.
Turning to Kenya, the speaker stated that he had been impressed by the fact that the temperament of the people was normal—perhaps a more "average" temperament than that in Great Britain. The War seemed to be dealt with at normal temperature.

Gain Confidence

He was particularly impressed by the calm assumption that the speaker was making to the effect that complete victory was certain. While individuals might question policy there was obviously no doubt of the conviction regarding ultimate success. The speaker then referred to the ready willingness of all his people to shoulder burdens and recorded his impression that many were taking more pleasure locally than in Great Britain and seemed to lack a certain vigour and nervous strain suffered by the people of Great Britain. He would not suppress the suggestion of the speaker that it was a good honour, and whether we saw, as a nation, he was hoping in the future as we had been in the past. Perhaps the characterisation of "good service" perhaps they would live through and emerge as victors in the future as we had been in the past.

To Be No Repetition

In conclusion, the speaker referred briefly to past war problems. He stated with a grand ideal, the interpretation of which differed in various democratic countries. It would be necessary to secure the freedom of the individual, but within a limiting framework, so that there could be no repetition of the present devastating happenings. Possibly complete would have to be laid on the duties of individuals Rotarian Canon Lewis, in returning thanks on behalf of the Club, stated that the potentialities of the British race came to the surface under stress and strain, and the spirit of confidence with which Major Wilkinson had been so impressed was typical throughout the Empire—a sincere trust in ultimate and complete victory.

Dar es Salaam Blackout Relaxed

A partial relaxation of the blackout regulations in Dar es Salaam was permitted on Thursday last in a Press communique issued by the Administration.
It stated—
Acting on advice received from the Commander-in-Chief, East Africa, Government has authorized a partial relaxation of the blackout conditions prevailing in Dar es Salaam.
Outside lights showing directly out to sea must remain completely obscured, but with this exception street lighting will be improved and outside lights at the cinema, hotels, etc., may be used again. The occupiers of houses along the sea front are now permitted to show any lighting provided that lights which shine directly out to sea are screened. In other words, reflected light viewed from the sea is permitted but not direct light.
As regards curtaining, revised Regulations mitigating the present restrictions to some extent are being considered and will appear in the Government Gazette on May 23.

On paper Turkey is not a strong country. She has a population of about 17,000,000 spread over an area of 410,000 sq. miles. At a general rate the population density is considered to be a rough index of the amount of resistance a nation can put up against aggression but this war has upset this old-fashioned idea.

Oil is the underlying reason for Germany's new "Drang nach Osten" but it should not be assumed that the drive is dictated entirely by an Axis shortage of fuel. The aim is rather to drive Turkey out of the Mediterranean by the seizure of oil bases in that sea.

Revulsion Of Feeling At Vichy Betrayal

GOOD PROGRESS IN IRAQ BY BRITISH

May 20. The latest reports from Syria give a picture of the conducting of operations from Damascus and a growing revulsion of feeling against the Vichy Government's aid to the Germans.

A French Agency message, complete states that the French commander of Damascus Air Base refused to allow German planes to land there. Other officers at the air base, however, were not so patriotic and were reported to have been brought in to command the base.

Vichy High Command, however, has insisted on the aid of the French Air Force, but this has been refused. An official statement on the subject from the British Government is as follows:

"The whole situation in Syria is becoming more and more increasingly influenced by the attitude of the Vichy Government, General Dentz, who takes his orders from Vichy, and who is in a quite ready to hand over any equipment or material that the Germans want. Whether this is his own wish or not we do not know."

Vichy has announced officially that it has agreed to allow the use of the first instalment of the 100,000 tons of wheat which it has agreed to release at once. This looks like the first instalment of the wheat which it has agreed to release in return for some 1,000,000 French francs, which are being sent to Vichy by the British Government.

It is also stated in the same statement that the British Government is prepared to supply the Vichy Government with wheat for the purpose of allowing it to export it to the United States.

"You may be pretty sure that Germany intends to release these 100,000 tons of wheat, whether they want to get something in return for it or not, and it is to be released as Germany's payment for the first advance of Vichy."

Everything done by Admiral Datan is against the wishes of the French people and the Vichy Government. Our troops are in sympathy. We have given Vichy Air Force pilots the opportunity of deserting and we have given them the opportunity of deserting and we have given them the opportunity of deserting.

SAY IT BY "AIRGRAPH"

May 20. A new air mail service for troops in the Middle East was inaugurated by General Archibald Wavell yesterday by means of which thousands of letters and parcels will be carried across the air.

Virtual End Of The Campaign In Abyssinia

May 20. The Duke of Aosta, Viceroy of Abyssinia, has ordered that the capture of Amba Alagi should be in his hands, but news of formal occupation has not yet reached London. [At the time of going to press no news of the capture had reached London.]

The Duke was to be accompanied by the Duke of Savoia and other senior staff officers.

The Cairo communiqué which reached the British Empire yesterday stated that the total number of prisoners to be taken at Amba Alagi is 7,000, together with considerable quantities of guns and other material.

The Italian people learned of the capture of Amba Alagi by the Duke of Savoia, who is a member of the Italian Royal Family, and who is a member of the Italian Royal Family.

CITIZENS BELIEVED LOST AT SEA

Ship Carrying Ambulance Unit Reported Sunk In South Atlantic

May 20. The United States Press gives a great prominence to the report and presumed loss of the 1,000-ton steamer Zamboni, believed to have been sunk in the South Atlantic with loss of the lives of a number of American citizens.

The vessel was carrying a complete list of the British-American Ambulance Corps, consisting of twenty "ambulance" vehicles, ten ambulances and full equipment for the use of the Free French Forces in the Middle East.

The Zamboni, an Egyptian ship, was chartered by the British-American Ambulance Corps in New York on March 20 to carry the ambulance unit to the Cape and Alexandria, and was due at Cape Town on April 23. Nothing has been heard of her since she touched Pernambuco on the voyage from New York.

It is understood that the Zamboni also carried many American and Canadian citizens, many of whom were bound for Bahaia, Congo and East Africa.

Information Experts in Conference

As will be seen from a brief notice in another column a conference of Information Officers and other Military and Civil Officers concerned with the East African situation is being held in Nairobi this week. The list of delegates is the Director of one; it includes the Director of the Publicity Section of the British Embassy, Cairo, the Information Officers of Southern and Northern Rhodesia, Nyasaland, Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Uganda, the Gold Coast, Aden and Kenya, representatives of the Occupied Enemy Territory Administration, and the Bureau of Information, Pretoria, and officers from Middle East and East Africa Force Headquarters. The Chief Secretary to the East African Governors' Conference will preside.

The agenda has not been made public and as the Press has received no invitation to be present it is presumed that the proceedings will be secret. This is understandable if the conference is to be held, as presumably it will, with the question of propaganda though even so we would suggest, with great respect, that since publicity is one of the principal functions of newspapers it might have been desirable for newspaper people to contribute some suggestions which would have been helpful. Certainly we think some of the mistakes especially of omission and commission which have marked the relationship between the East African Press and the official channels of information might have been avoided in the future if there was an opportunity of frank discussion such as presumably a conference of this kind could have provided.

Without desiring anything but good results from the conference we cannot help feeling that it is being held about a year too late, since it coincides with the final stages of the East African Campaign which, as a matter of fact, is naturally of first interest to the people of the East African territories.

ories. Had there been some exchange of views between such people as the meeting in Nairobi this week, many of the regrettable misunderstandings which have occurred might have been avoided altogether. The end of the fighting in East Africa will automatically solve many of these difficulties but it will not altogether erase the memory of controversies which with a little more willingness to see the point of view of the newspapers and a bigger attempt to discuss mutual problems in a spirit of frankness and helpfulness need never have arisen. Every considering person will realize that there must be certain restrictions governing the publication of war news but the complaint has been and continues to be that even within those limits not only the whole body of news but the whole body of news has not been published with official news. We have from time to time given glaring instances of the prior release in London and Cairo of news which concerning happenings on Kenya's own doorstep and of its tardy reproduction in Nairobi for many hours, sometimes days, after it has been published in other parts of the world. A little intelligent co-operation has been ensured at least simultaneous publication in London and Nairobi of events of vital and widespread interest to East Africa.

We do not suggest that this unhappy state of affairs has been the fault of individuals; but rather, the fault of the public organization as a whole to realize local needs and to cater for them satisfactorily. It seems a pity that the possibility of a remedy which might be afforded by the conference of information officers this week comes only when its need has almost expired.

Fortress Attacked From All Sides

[From Geneva, Under Special Correspondent with the East Africa Force]

WHEN the sun on May 15, 1942, was at its height, the air was still and unobscured by the smoke of the guns. The Duke of Aosta, despite the fact that the British had the top of the mountain last night, was seen to be on the peak—11,000 feet above the crown. In a moment the Italian bomber Major Tadini, who was accompanied by Messia's Albatross machine under the command of Major B. Mangano.

Two years ago Mangano, then Italian military attaché, was killed in action shortly before the Italian retreat through the Turchi Pass in the shade of Alma Alagi. He was the only Italian pilot to have been mentioned in the British despatches.

The Italians are again being led by the Italian Air Force. The Abyssinian War was a disaster for the Italian Air Force. The Italian Air Force was the only one to be mentioned in the British despatches.

INCOME TAX
 To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
 The Editor of your esteemed paper in the issue published on 27th April 1941, has published an article on the subject of the Income Tax for Kenya and Tanganyika. I believe that the Income Tax for Kenya was introduced in 1936, on that year's income tax had been paid in advance.

The Tanganyika Government introduced actual income tax for the first time in 1940, but, instead of taxing the tax on the income for the previous year, they taxed the tax on the income for the year in which it was paid. As they considered money immediately for revenue purposes, they first introduced the income tax in the form of Graduated Poll Tax levied in 1937, and then in the form of a graduated Poll Tax levied in 1938.

My own view is that the Government should not start off in this manner. It will probably be some little time before I see any sense in this letter, but I am very anxious to get the matter cleared up.

Yours etc,

Surrender

East Africans generally will endorse heartily the sentiments expressed in the congratulatory message sent by General Smuts to General Cunningham on the occasion of the surrender of the Italian Commander-in-Chief in Abyssinia, the Duke of Aosta which, as the Prime Minister of the Union says is a crowning victory, a just reward of brilliant leadership and a tribute to the quality of the officers and men taking part in the campaign to free Abyssinia.

will be able to look back upon it with justifiable pride. Every one realises of course that the Imperial forces were engaged in Abyssinia will have stern tasks facing them elsewhere and that the Abyssinian campaign is just a chapter, though a very splendid one, in a war which is far from ended. Even so we do hope that at the end of this chapter there will be some effort on the part of the East African Government to impress on their people, especially the Africans, the fact that the East African campaign has ended victoriously and that we set out to do in Abyssinia and adjoining countries has been accomplished skillfully and with complete success. Literate people do not need anything beyond the fact to point out the significance of the victory, but we do feel very strongly that some special means should be employed to make millions of Africans realise the fact that the Imperial forces were engaged in Abyssinia and adjoining countries has been accomplished skillfully and with complete success. YELLOW FEVER

Because of its importance to everyone in East Africa

Y.F. recently given from Nairobi by Dr. A. R. Paterson

Kenya's Director of Medical Services

The story of Yellow Fever is a fascinating one and its fascination is increased rather than lessened

by the sinister operation of the disease and knowledge of the desolation it has wrought to whole populations in the past

So far as Africa is concerned it was until comparatively recently associated almost entirely with the West Coast and people on this side of the continent were only faintly, if at all, interested in a malarial fever which they thought was too remote to affect them at all personally

Then with the advent of air travel across the continent from West to East the danger of the malarial infection might be spread by an infected person or by infected mosquitoes travelling in the planes, so careful steps were taken with regard to medical inspection to see that at every stage of the journey aircraft should be so treated that no mosquito from the West Coast could possibly survive

The Medical Department has made a good beginning by passing thousands of people at the Coast of the desirability of inoculation against Yellow Fever and this valuable

"Intelligent" public opinion on a matter which vitally affects the health and prosperity of our country is steadily progressing. Obviously it cannot achieve maximum results without the co-operation of the unofficial community and we commend particularly that part of the community which invites that co-operation from farmers and other employers of labour

Mr. Malcolm Macdonald, Chief Medical Officer for the Colony, stated yesterday that the Commission of Enquiry had been set up to examine the 20 Natives already examined by the Commission of Enquiry. Mr. Macdonald said that the Commission had been set up to examine the 20 Natives already

HINTS TO FARMERS: Part V

Distribution Of Water On The Farm

It is often surprising to find how little attention is given to the economic and most effective distribution of water on a farm in the early development. The new settler, preoccupied with the problem of the production of food for himself and his family for house and stock, but usually is forced to adopt measures which are intended to be temporary but which, unless too often, are destined to remain for long.

When the stream river, or stream, is the source of water, the farmer is likely to have a large area of land to irrigate. This is a problem of distribution of water on the farm. The farmer must consider the economic and most effective distribution of water on a farm in the early development.

A READER'S VIEW: ON

KENYA'S ROADS

The Hon. Mr. J. A. Campbell's introduction of the Kenya Roads Bill to the Kenya Legislative Assembly has prompted the writer to make the following comments on road construction and maintenance in Kenya.

The suggestion is based on the fact that the present road construction and maintenance in Kenya is not adequate for the needs of the country. The writer suggests that the government should take steps to improve the road network and maintenance.

There is ample evidence that much of the African soils are deficient in available phosphates. The phosphatic manuring of wheat is essential for high yields.

LAZY COMEDY

THINK the film you will want to see next week while you are waiting for "Crazy Little Comedy" starring the screen's most romantic couple, Myrna Loy and William Powell.

It is a grand, broad and handsome Melvyn Frank cast with a great cast on the road last night. The picture is a comedy, doing his marriage and revealing a type as a comedian. But actually, his wife, Myrna Loy, is the star of the picture. She is a wife who, before the war, was a famous actress. The picture is a comedy, but it is not a comedy. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy.

to which we are accustomed from the sentimental type of the "Myrna Loy" type of film. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy.

It is followed on Thursday, Friday and Saturday by "THUNDER BY THE CITY," an entertaining comedy with an excellent cast of well-known comedians and comedienne.

At the Playhouse is a film planned to be shown on the road. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy. It is a comedy, but it is not a comedy.

KENYA'S ROADS—(continued from p. 10)

to be deep at the centre. A water-level in a cherry fountain should be at least 100 feet higher than the level of the road surface. The work can be done by mechanical means, such as the use of a motor-driven, portable water pump.

Any difficulty in obtaining suitable road metal within reasonable distance of existing roads will have to be overcome by other means. The low-grade material so frequently used at present is composed of soft, silty material which is not suitable for road building.

to be built on a firm foundation. The road surface should be made of a material which is not too soft and which will not be eroded by the action of the sun and wind.

It is the duty of the engineer to see that the road is built on a firm foundation and that the road surface is made of a material which is not too soft and which will not be eroded by the action of the sun and wind.

Elimination or Strip Play

WHENEVER an aviator is forced to abandon his machine in mid-air and "bale out," he automatically qualifies for membership in the mythical brotherhood of the "Caterpillars."

Of course, "baling out" with a parachute is easier only after all other forms are exhausted. Most bridge players are familiar with the strip elimination play; it has furnished a theme for numerous articles. The play proper deals with "baling out" a certain suit or suits.

An example is then given in present form. The average bridge player says he has never heard any play more or less than a return which is disadvantageous to his side. The following list illustrates, rather simply, the extreme value of the strip elimination play, rather than the general emphasis made by the writer. It is an interesting play, which will be useful to you in any hand where the adverse cards are distributed in such a way that you can

With both clubs vulnerable South dealt this card: S: 10 6 5 4 3 2 A: K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 H: A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 C: A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

South led a diamond and North made a tempting response of two clubs. If he had two diamonds and the response were three, no trumps; a bad suit would be the result. South tried the diamonds and North continued for three in that suit. They were in the right count of good defence would follow. If he had a king of hearts which was won with the ace. When this proceeded to develop the play is that if either the ace of spades or king of clubs was on side, the contract would be fulfilled. Undoubtedly they had both those key cards, "baw" and the defender was two trumps and a club trick to set the contract.

South must have been appalled by the percentage in his favour. At no time, he entirely overlooked the fact that the contract was a club regardless of how the adverse cards fell. To take away the usual trump trumps would prove fatal. He must not have been entirely return to his own hand with a trump, put the last heart and re-assert South with another trump. Now clubs had trump success. As I West plays low, the ten is played from South and East is in trouble. A heart return gives defender a ruff and a diamond a high lead is into the king's open suit, made with the ace for a club contract. If West plays the ten is played from South and East is in trouble. A heart return gives defender a ruff and a diamond a high lead is into the king's open suit, made with the ace for a club contract.

On Problems: Situations giving scope for double dummy problems are few and far between. They are generally

Personal Speaking

... race meeting at Nakuru last week-end was a great success, and although there were not perhaps quite so many as at last month's meeting, which was augmented by the Easter visitors, the crowd was good and enthusiastic and smart. ## PYRETHRUM

To the Editor: "I.A. Standard" Sir—The Commission for the Control of Imports and Exports (Pyrethrum) has issued a notice on 15th May 1940 regarding the restriction of imports of pyrethrum...

Our Association therefore considers that any policy must be extensive and not restrictive. To our view, it is a memorandum of understanding between the Government and the industry...

It seems to me that any objective scheme which restricts the importation of pyrethrum must be based on a sound economic basis...

Our suggestions include the necessity for a system of control which is of commercial value. It is a fact that the Government has a single one of these features apply to the present scheme.

We further draw attention to the fact that the industry is a large one and that the Government has a single one of these features apply to the present scheme.

How, then, can we ensure that the industry is not unfairly treated? It is a fact that the Government has a single one of these features apply to the present scheme.

It is a fact that the Government has a single one of these features apply to the present scheme. It is a fact that the Government has a single one of these features apply to the present scheme.

We therefore press for a reconstruction of the Pyrethrum Board of Kenya and that that reconstruction should be on the basis of a fair and equitable basis.

Yours faithfully, L. KNAPMAN, Chairman.

To the Editor: "I.A. Standard" Sir—I have been reading your issue of 15th May and I am glad to see that you have been able to get the views of the industry on this matter.

It is a fact that the Government has a single one of these features apply to the present scheme. It is a fact that the Government has a single one of these features apply to the present scheme.

When war is over circumstances will be different and it will be necessary to consider the duty of the major part of the industry which is engaged in the production of pyrethrum.
