Dissatisfaction With Course Of War

PANZER DIVISIONS SAID TO HAVE LEFT LIBYA

It is reported from London that General von Braunsbach, Chief of Staff of the German Army, has been removed from the direction of operations on the Eastern Front. This information was given by Moscow radio, which also states that the Commander of the German Army in Africa, General Rommel, has been recalled from

French Generals Visit Kampala

The Uganda Herald reports that in the district of that name, Kampala received a visit from General de Gaulle, Commander-in-Chief of the French and Commonwealth Forces in Africa. General de Gaulle, Chief of the Free French, and escorted by a large number of French soldiers and expressed the hope that France would rise again to take her rightful place.

Italy Not Optimistic

Italian newspaper reports again warning the people of Italy not to expect quick success in the Balkans. Signor Geyda, writing in the Italian newspaper, expresses the opinion that the bravest fighting is still to come. The Russians, it says, still possess enormous masses of material and big reserves of weapons.

Big New Call-Up In Britain

A new industrial call-up in Britain has been announced. It is reported that 40,000 men and women were announced today. In August and September women will be called up. The Ministry of Labour says that the dramatic action is necessary to meet the urgent need for increased man-power, both for the home and the front.

CHANNEL CONVOY ATTACKED

The Admiralty announces that last night a German U-boat attacked a convoy of 40 ships bound for the Mediterranean. The U-boat was sunk and its crew captured. The convoy was escorted by British destroyers and the attack was repulsed.

Soviet Information Bureau quotes the Frankfurt Zeitung as saying that the German U-boat fleet has captured a number of merchant ships. The German U-boat fleet is reported to have been completely destroyed in the North Sea. The German U-boat fleet is reported to have been completely destroyed in the North Sea.

SLAUGHTER ON GERMAN WARSHIPS

U.S. AND BRITAIN DECIDE TO TAKE MEASURES

Open Hint Of Action Against Singapore

ALTHOUGH there is as yet no official news of a meeting between the Japanese and the British and the United States Governments, it is clear that both these events are imminent. It has been reported in London for some time that a new agreement was concluded by the Japanese and the United States Governments. Congratulations For Bomber & Fighter Commands

HEAVY LOSSES, BUT 33 ENEMY PLANES DOWN

TODAY brings news of the biggest daylight attack by the Royal Air Force since the war began. It was part of a series of devastating attacks launched on the German warships Schernburg and Ozean and west on from Wednesday evening until yesterday afternoon. Five different types of bombers took part in seven direct hits were made on the Schernburg, with the loss of which the first ship is believed to have been destroyed. Preliminary reports indicate that the attacks were successful.

Women's Dress In Kenya
Perhaps we ought to keep out of this argument and leave it to "Dress Conscious", "Independent Typist" and other "Dress Conscious" of every kind, good and better, to go to it and let their dress issue to fatten. But we are concerned about the reputation of the women of Kenya. Not that we are so much concerned with the whole lot of it, but the whole lot of it in half a column, and not away with it.
The gist of the charge made against these women is that when they come into Nairobi from the wide open spaces they don't pay the Capital the compliment of putting on their best clothes. Alternatively that they have no best clothes at all.
That is also a secondary charge,
with which we have much sympathy born of understanding, that husbands and whoiswhos are taken to sundowners and milkshake gigs or humbly and decently with hair well brushed and suit and shoes in order, only to let down their skirts, bell-bottomed trousers and the streamlined sport models in shockingly short skirts. We are strongly tempted to take up the case of the men. A lot of nonsense is spoken and written,
and their sartorial freedom.
New generations are nurtured on the legend that father and uncle were able whenever they felt like wear the revealing old tweed coat they have had for twenty years and the cracked and shaggy pair of shoes they wore in the last war and brought through every September crisis since with springs and respect. Nothing of course as further from the truth. The old coat stained, storn, multi-colored by very profane, every jagged tear in the memory, was given long ago to the cook and the shamba boy goes to turn the sheep pens upside down and the house tidy in the Wives will have the house tidy in the morning.
What are the facts? What is the appearance, even of women, without the fashion? The probable is the frock that pretends it is both the clothes and the woman. It has always been especially ruinous to the human race, especially the mothers and sisters, that their lives are shaped not by their own merits but by the fashion of the times. An old Eastern proverb has it that in every bone there is marrow, and within every jacket there is a man. But we can say no more is certain that in some pairs of trousers there are men.

final to Great Britain and the Empire and has been the process of self-reliance which the war has done much to establish. We need have no regrets about the disappearance of some form of Japanese trading. The recent enquiry into the Japanese frauds at Mombasa proved beyond any doubt that less reputable Japanese houses were in league with dishonest merchants in East Africa in swindling these Territories in respect of the intricate details of their invoices were employed to defeat Customs examinations, and long before that became aware of a whole range of dishonest practices employed to place cheap Japanese goods on the market. Not the least of these was the blatant exploitation of British trade marks. Regrettably some East African business houses gave their aid and experience to the Japanese swindlers, and in the process of Britain and the Commonwealth.

Now we are able to wipe the slate clean, but it will not be accomplished without attendant problems. Japan has long attracted a lead in the production of cotton textiles, though many difficulties produced by the war, especially shipping shortages in the systems of preservation of foreign exchange, considerably retarded the Japanese advance. For instance, cotton textiles imported into Kenya and Uganda in 1939 were valued at £202,000, but fell last year to £248,000, representing a decrease from 72 per cent to 46 per cent. In the United Kingdom share of the textile trade in the same period improved from 12 per cent to 14 per cent. In 1938 the United Kingdom share of the textile trade in the same period improved from 12 per cent to 14 per cent. In 1938 the United Kingdom share of the textile trade in the same period improved from 12 per cent to 14 per cent.

It may fairly be assumed that while the British Empire and the United States of America will apply every kind of economic sanction to Japan as punishment for the latest act of aggression, there will be no desire to spread the war to the Far East. Whether the present delicate situation and matters still to be decided will depend entirely on Japan. Under the pressure of Berlin and the United States of America (and the completion) Japan is persuaded to use the new bases in Indo-China as points from which active operations are extended to British and American territories and interests in the Pacific, then it will be impossible to give any answer. Alternatively if Japan attempts on the Moscow model to attack the British base at present on Siberia, war will break will be inevitable. It is just possible that though Japan has accepted economic sanctions as the answer to her new policy of robbery without violence in the north, the full measure of that strategy may have been appreciated, and with his meaning being to be wide-spread in the United States of America of Japan's foreign trade the result may well be a partial reduction of the Japanese market by industry to the warlike aims of the new Government. Much will depend on the progress of the war in Russia when, at present, Germany is the best advocate of peace in the Far East since her military performance has not so far been such as to inspire unqualified confidence in her military efforts.

For the moment we must await the full application of the very considerable economic pressure that the United States and the British Empire can and will jointly apply. Automatically the East African Territories have adopted the general policy prepared in London and immediate steps have been taken, at least in Kenya (and presumably in the other Territories) to restrict the trade of Japan. Japan has been an important factor in the commercial life of East Africa for many years, and though it has recently decreased its volume. Nevertheless the abrupt termination will add still further to the deterioration of the economic conditions here brought about since a district which, properly administered, should be benefited to Great Britain and the Empire and has been the process of self-reliance which the war has done much to establish.

amount of £9,000, representing over eight per cent of the exports of Uganda, but in actual fact Japanese purchases of our domestic goods last year were only five per cent of the whole exported products of the two countries so that the distortion will not be so disturbing as would have been the case five years ago. But there is a matter of £430,000 at issue, and the greatest problem will be to find the money to pay for it. There is an increasingly important buyer and if we are to be a better customer for the produce of Magadi but in war conditions there are other outlets. Apart from these products, and occasionally quantities of wattle bark and extract, the only other goods bought from British East Africa. The application of an American embargo should also divert some of our purchases from the British Empire and such commodities as pyrethrum should be sold to us. We do not expect the Board of the growers here to accept that as justification, for a return to a need for an embargo. The nature and disposal of our exports to China also need examination, though we are not to increase recently in commodities which interest Japan.

Proposed New Form of War-Time Coffee Control

RETURN TO PRINCIPLE OF FREE MARKETING ADVOCATED

A GENERAL MEETING of the Coffee Plantation Owners' Association (the growers) Ltd was held in the office of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce on Friday morning under the chairmanship of Lieut-Col. W. E. Brierley.

It was particularly well-attended, over 50 members of the Association being present, while signed and stamped copies, all in favour of the resolution on the agenda, were received from an additional 100 members who were unable to be present.

The practical business was to receive the Presidential report on the work of the committee since the last general meeting in March, to consider and approve a proposed new scheme of Coffee Control, drawn up by the committee and to issue a number of resolutions.

In the course of his address, Lieut-Col. Brierley explained the reasons for the delay in putting forward the scheme of coffee control, due chiefly to the fact that they did not wish to hinder the work of the Commission of Enquiry, under Sir Charles Brierley.

He criticised strongly the Coffee Control's policy of forward sales which he described as a disastrous marketing practice. He contended that the cancellation by the Control of export contracts last season, and the resale of the coffee involved, had caused a loss to planters of some £125,000. This season the Association's committee had advised Government to deposit 10 per cent of the coffee which had to be sold to planters and forfeited if they failed to forward their contracts.

Various speakers in the debate, notably Mr. T. A. Wood, also touched upon this aspect of coffee production, emphasizing that the solution lay in preventing forward sales, and in allowing the grower to have direct access to the market. Mr. Wood also pointed out that the coffee industry had been a victim of the war-time price controls, and that the government should take steps to ensure that the coffee industry was not further disadvantaged.

C.C.S. WHICH BECAME A HOSPITAL

Year's Work Of S. African Medical Unit

(FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)
Nairobi, July 26
A South African Army Medical Unit, which has made spectacular progress, celebrated the anniversary of its arrival in Mombasa last night, in a Casualty Clearing Station which, during its first year, has increased by one hundred per cent in size and has grown from a Clearing Station in a well-equipped Base Hospital. The European staff is entirely South African and of the patients included, 72.5 per cent have been South Africans.

On July 25, 1947, the unit took over a well-equipped hospital from a field ambulance. Almost immediately a programme of rapid expansion began and was well advanced by the school. Every part of the establishment was present in the hospital. The school working became a hospital, and the hospital became a school. The unit's work has been transformed into efficient laboratory, dentistry rooms and an X-ray room. The operating theatre, which was a simple tent, has been replaced by a permanent structure.

The unit took on still more of the character of a hospital in January, when a Native service was added. This service has more than doubled itself. It staffs a number of wards from convalescent patients on the hospital. It has prepared a list of patients to be sent to other hospitals in Africa, and has treated eleven patients and eight African patients and eight South African patients. The unit has completely replaced the male orderlies who were sent to the hospital to care for the patients in the early days. The hospital staff is now a team of 100 non-commissioned officers and 100 native orderlies. The unit has also received a number of hundred European patients admitted to the hospital. The unit has a staff of 100 officers and 100 non-commissioned officers. The unit has a staff of 100 officers and 100 non-commissioned officers.

Insure Against the Milk-Robber

The normal milk-yield has dropped all round, but in some cases it is much more serious than in others. There must be a good reason—blood sucking lice are aggravating the ill-effects of winter.

These parasites reproduce at an enormous rate. They transfer themselves from one beast to another, drain their life-blood and cause unbearable irritation. Infested animals lose condition by the day, the milk-yield drops steadily, and working ones fall to give of their best.

If your animals are being attacked by lice, there is no time to lose—the cattle are suffering and you're being robbed. Dip all your cattle twice, at 10-14 days interval, in a reliable cattle dip to which Cooper's Lice Preparation has been added. This will eradicate all lice, yet the cost of Cooper's Lice Preparation for both dipping is only a few cents per head. Economical, effective and safe—ask any farmer who has tried it.

COOPER'S LICE PREPARATION

Sold by all good stores in one-gallon drums—sufficient for 1,000 gallons of dipping solution.

U. S. Sinks 17 Ships against Russia Says Blitzkrieg Has Failed

Mr. Hopkins' Stirling Declaration

KEEPING OPEN THE WORLD'S LIFELINE

BRITISH SUBMARINE'S SUCCESS

An agency correspondent abroad says the submarine depot ship Uganda was sunk by the attacking forces of one of Britain's newest submarine operations in the Mediterranean. In two patrolling this submarine sank 17 enemy vessels, including one transport ship.

An Admiralty communique published three weeks ago gave the news, but now the Commander of the submarine has described how he was patrolling the Aegean Sea the early morning when he sighted two troopships escorted by an eight-ton destroyer and a single aircraft. He said: "We fired torpedoes at each of these two ships and in about 4,000 yards, went down" shortly afterwards. The submarine came across a small craft flying the German flag and sank it. The submarine surfaced and sank her by gunfire.

The Commander of the ship was the first of a series of small craft carrying out the last of the convoy and in sinking. A day or two later the submarine ran into a party of three large German destroyers. He said: "We sank them one by one. They were carrying a motor and a motor launch which went up in a mighty burst of flame after the gunfire. We were compelled to force the last of the convoy and force the last troops of the ship to land. We saw the ship and the last of the convoy. The ship was killed. Another tried to kill one of my men by firing but he was killed."

General Amadeo Margoni, the Italian Commander who, it will be recalled, soon found himself "in the lurch" during the British drive through Yugoslavia, smiles his thanks at the sister as he leaves a military hospital. When taken prisoner he was in weak condition, but bravely nursing, restored him to health and he expressed his regret at having to leave the hospital.

London Raids Resumed

TEN BOMBS DROP IN ONE STREET

This morning's air communique says there was considerable air activity over South-East England and the London area last night, but not on a heavy scale.

In the London area there was a number of raids during the night. Except for a few raids on the outskirts last night was the first time that the German bombers have been over London since May 19. Aggressive messages say that it seemed more of a minimum raid than anything else, almost as if the Germans wanted to be able to tell their people that it was a reply to the Royal Air Force's raid on Berlin.

Of the three enemy aircraft destroyed, one crashed near the coast, while another was blown up by action from a night-fighter over the Thames Estuary.

The greatest damage was done in a London residential district where two transport lorries with fuel and a submarine and fuel oil in the same lorry were destroyed.

At least 100 houses and three women and three children were killed and their and one were killed and several people were injured.

Several more were also in a London area. The training of young British air men to begin shortly.

WOMEN'S DRESS IN KENYA

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard."
Sir—I am disappointed that "Dress and Beauty" through your columns, showed that Kenyan women are not interested in their own dress, but that they would accept of anything which their husbands or fathers would give them. I am sure that the women of Nairobi are not such, and I am sure that they are interested in their own dress. I hope, at least, that I am not the only one who is interested in the subject.

I was under the impression that women dress comfortably, and that if it was so, they would not be interested in their own dress. It is the duty of every woman to dress in a way which is becoming and attractive. I am sure that the women of Nairobi are not such, and I am sure that they are interested in their own dress.

YOUNG MEN

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard."
Sir—The young men of Kenya are not interested in their own dress, but that they would accept of anything which their fathers or husbands would give them.

I was under the impression that young men dress comfortably, and that if it was so, they would not be interested in their own dress. It is the duty of every young man to dress in a way which is becoming and attractive. I am sure that the young men of Nairobi are not such, and I am sure that they are interested in their own dress.

An Old Nazi Custom

It is now disclosed that in the Spring campaign, Nazi bombers, to convince the people of the loyalty of the barbarians of the Royal Air Force, bombed the town of London.

Although the British made only one raid on military objectives in the port, the Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics reports that the Royal Air Force has been successful in keeping records of raids also say that the British did not lose a single aircraft.

Among the British aviation force, some 100 bombers which crashed near London have been destroyed. The Royal Air Force.

Fraying Enemy's Nerves

It is now known that the enemy force of 17 ships in the attempt to attack Malta from the sea.

A communication from General Headquarters in Cairo this morning stated: 'Tobruk: The Australian command remained in position night after night for the previous night after ineffective face attacks.'

Air Force Ups And Downs - Literally!

Two South African Air Force pilots were prisoners of war, taken for a ride in an Italian plane in the Mediterranean recently.

Information has been received that during the evacuation of Crete, 150 British officers and men were taken to the island of Rhodes.

Full details of the incident have not yet been made known, but it is believed that the four men managed to get away from the island.

One of the most interesting incidents of the war is the capture of a British bomber which was shot down in the Mediterranean on their way to British territory.

INDIAN CASUALTIES Statement by Mr. Gandhi

Official figures of Indian casualties in the last eight months of the present war show that British troops (last to July 8) have been engaged in the total is 4,427. It comprises 1,281 missing and 3,146 killed. The casualties are described as excessive, low relative to a number of men engaged.

Mr. Gandhi, writing in an American magazine, stated: "We do not want but independence at the cost of British lives."

Excellent Bouts At Nairobi School

KEENNESS AND GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

Amateur boxing has, for the past few years, been in a far from flourishing condition in Kenya. Now, however, a revival is being made and this is being shown by the excellent bouts which are being held at the Nairobi School in this Colony which are now producing a number of amateur boxers of considerable promise. Many of these have had a good reputation in this respect.

Kenton College, too, I am told, has some boys who show the greatest promise of developing into masters of high class. Both the Nairobi and the K.C. Club members (Parliaments) are going strong under the tutelage of Capt. C. H. Pender, M.C. an ex-A.F. champion.

This is all to the good. It will do away with the sadistic traditions of the amateur ring and allow of full fair fights. Excellent teacher attributes that are inseparable from the sport—bravery, courage, fortitude and endurance; healthy respect for the other man; and an ability to hold one's own, most important, keep one's temper in moments of stress, with out loss of dignity.

Inter-House Rivalry

Last Wednesday the Nairobi Governor's School, Nairobi, had the semi-finals and finals of its inter-house boxing tournament. This was a five-days show in which the two houses, Hawker and Clive House, were pitted against each other. The Hawker boys had scored seven and four points respectively. As a result of Wednesday's evening Rhodes House scored two out with all points and Hawker scored three.

Two points were secured for Clive and one for a lost bout, provided the competitor was not disqualified. It will be seen from the results, however, that while Clive House competitors appeared in five of the seven fights they were twice defeated. Hawker House winning three fights and Clive three.

It was noticeable that the junior displayed really fine style. Crisp straight left hand and a good right hook marked many of their bouts. Personally, I have always held that footwork is as important as good boxing and it is pleasing to see that the younger boys are learning the methods from the start.

Defensive Work

Was well defended, worked in little to indicate a style which consists solely of smothering the opponent, but in opposition a complete disregard for the elementary rules of defence was more marked, leading to the absorption of unnecessary punishment. Being after all, "the art of defence," it is not surprising that the competitors included in no-to-be-missing which was often a little wild, but the outcome that comes from long experience cannot be expected from 14 and 16 year olds.

One very pleasing feature was the willingness of the boys to make a fight of it and the crash, straight forward nature of the bouts. There was no holding and dragging and, as should be the case with amateurs, the referee was not called in to interfere, nor had to administer more than the minimum of caution.

INTER-ARMY LEAGUE MATCHES

Nairobi August Meeting

Rhodesia Go To Top Of Table

There were two Inter-Army League Soccer matches on the Railway ground last night, resulting in a draw for Air Force and Rhodesia, and a victory for the latter on the home side in the League—Air Force 2-2 Rhodesia. The latter team had a first half Air Force victory, but in the second half the Rhodesians were out in force. The winner, Capt. G. M. Marshall, scored, and the Rhodesians were victorious.

The Rhodesians' victory was due to the fact that they were better organized than the Air Force, and they were able to score in the first half of the three.

Incidentally, I did not notice, either among members of Air Force, or among members of Rhodesia, any of the "top of the table" players who were absent without leave to return and were absent without leave to return and were absent without leave to return.

There were several changes in the Rhodesian side. Captain Marshall was absent without leave to return and was absent without leave to return.

The Rhinos of the Play

Evening soccer off Rhodesia, but the South Africans were the first to initiate an attack. Gwynne got the ball into the goal, but the Rhodesians were able to clear it. The ball was then cleared by Marshall but he was shot at from 20 yards out, but Marshall managed to save it.

In the next minute Dr. Waal came into the picture with a timely clearance from the Rhodesian inside forward. The ball was then cleared by Marshall and Lambert spotted down the wing and Marshall cleared it. The ball was then cleared by Marshall and Lambert spotted down the wing and Marshall cleared it.

After 20 minutes play South Africa were level with a fine save of forward play. Taking the ball well from his line, Lambert crossed to Herby. The centre-forward passed to the right and the ball was turned and brought the ball into the net. The ball was then cleared by Marshall and Lambert spotted down the wing and Marshall cleared it.

The second half started with a draw on the attack. Marshall, back with his halves and centre-forward, and the winger took the ball down to the center and crossed well. The opportunity was missed by the inside forward and the ball was cleared by Marshall and Lambert spotted down the wing and Marshall cleared it.

South Africa tried hard to score and Cooper and some of the Rhodesians were unable to do so. Marshall scored a corner, but the Rhodesians were unable to do so.

CLARKE III and Clarke IV are both good youngsters. The former is about eight years old and the latter about five. Both had a good start in the final, and Clarke IV was given over to the Rhodesians.

These two youngsters boxed with the Rhodesians, and the latter was the better of the two. Clarke III was a right hander and Clarke IV was a left hander. Both were well defended, worked in little to indicate a style which consists solely of smothering the opponent, but in opposition a complete disregard for the elementary rules of defence was more marked, leading to the absorption of unnecessary punishment.

Another Good Loss

Taylor had an easy win in the Class C division and in the other evening eight or nine years old. He was a right hander and was a good boxer. He was a right hander and was a good boxer.

The Boxing Team

The position in the Inter-Army League table, as a result of Wednesday's matches, is now particularly interesting. It is headed by Rhodesia, with two wins in hand, two points behind the Rhodesians, and a draw. The team stands as follows:

Rhodesia	E. W. D. L.	Goals
South Africa	2	5
South Africa	2	2
South Africa	2	2

Japanese Accurate in Some Opposition Reported

Insecure Nazi Domination GROWING TALE OF RESISTANCE TO OPPRESSION

July 30. Dr. Van Balenbeek, an official of a leading Dutch newspaper, has now arrived in London for his visit. This follows the arrest of Dr. C. J. van der Meer, a member of his party who was taken from his post in early June. Although a success and a triumph, nothing particularly interesting, they were removed in a concentration camp.

The arrest of Dr. Van Balenbeek has made a deep impression on the German and Dutch press. Despite Nazi censorship, and restrictions on news from the Netherlands, the Dutch people are beginning to feel that they are not alone in their struggle.

Many Germans evacuated from the Ruhr, presumably coming to London, mostly on the Riviera. A large number have been taken to the United States.

A Berlin dispatch announced that the German Government has decided to accept the terms of the German ultimatum in Belgium.

There are reports that the German Government has decided to accept the terms of the German ultimatum in Belgium.

U.S. OPINION
The growth of belief in the United States that Japan is not so much an enemy as a potential ally is being expressed by the following statement made by the American Ambassador in London, Mr. Joseph P. Kamp, in a speech at the American Legation in London on July 29. Mr. Kamp said that he had been told by a number of his friends in London that they were not so much enemies as potential allies.

British Measures
Mr. Eden told the House of Commons today that the effect of economic sanctions against Japan is being studied. He said that the Government is considering the possibility of imposing economic sanctions against Japan.

IN BRIEF
 A British cargo steamer loaded with food stuffs for Syria, has been sunk in the Mediterranean.
 Six thousand Italian prisoners handed at a South African port were in high spirits and were left by train they broke into song.
 Mr. Spender, the Australian Minister, has announced that a quarter of the militia will be called out for full-time service. He added that there would be no mobilization in an immediate future. (Reuter.)

I WOULD VOUCH FOR THE TRUTH OF THIS IN ANY COURT OF JUSTICE
 I am Now Feeling That Life Is Worth Living
 Anyone Who Is Feeling Worn Out Should Try Yeast-Vite
 Dear Sir, This is a unqualified testimonial and I would vouch for the truthfulness of same in any court of justice. I have always been one that is very sceptical about any patent medicine.
 I am 57 years of age, always been a good worker, but in the last few years I have had a tremendous lot of stomach trouble (dyspepsia) and I got to my bed at night. I decided to try "YEAST-VITE" and I can honestly state that everything you say about them is perfectly true. I am now feeling that life is worth living.
 I should have no hesitation in recommending them. I have now always a good appetite, lost that tired weary feeling, and can eat and digest anything you like. They undoubtedly act on the system with the best results. I strongly advise anyone who is run down to give them a fair trial.
 I have never written a testimonial in my life, but I thought it my duty to do so. You know how well I am doing. I am now feeling that life is worth living. I am not afraid of you as I am not a doctor. You are as liberty as a bird. I am now feeling that life is worth living.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL: NAIROBI AFRICAN HOUSING

Council's Policy Defended

"NO CAUSE TO FEEL ASHAMED"

Unemployed Native living in the Leighton House, Nairobi, who has been unable to obtain evidence of this, in order to get his name on the list of unemployed Africans in Nairobi, and who has been refused admission to the Council's housing scheme as the representative of the unemployed Africans in Nairobi, has expressed his surprise and indignation at the fact that the Council has already had just such an experience in the past and he urged them, when considering over-riding of African housing, not to overlook this question of unemployed Africans, which he believed to be one of the main reasons for the Council's policy.

Newspaper Vendors Numbers To Be Limited

Recent discussions by various Nairobi public bodies on the housing of the Nairobi vendors gave rise to the question—What must be done to reduce the number of vendors? It was suggested from a debate at Nairobi's meeting that the Nairobi Council should consider that there is another issue—Who is to be responsible for the housing of the vendors? The answer seems to be, by the Council. It was suggested that the Council should consider the housing of the vendors' issue—Who is to be responsible for the housing of the vendors? It was suggested that the Council should consider the housing of the vendors' issue—Who is to be responsible for the housing of the vendors?

The discussion arose when a report contained in this issue of the General Purpose Committee came up for consideration. It was pointed out by the Council that the instructions had been issued for the instruction of the printed report on the Housing of Africans in Nairobi, compiled by the Senior Medical Officer of Health (Dr. E. A. Martin) and the Municipal Native Affairs Officer (Mr. T. C. Colchester).

The discussion, although not strictly confined to the matter which was the subject of the report, was the distribution of the report—was it to be distributed to all members of the Council? It was suggested that it should be distributed to all members of the Council, but it was pointed out that it was not to be distributed to all members of the Council, but it was pointed out that it was not to be distributed to all members of the Council.

Unemployed Contempt
He added that he strongly hoped that the clergy would continue to take part in discussions of this nature and he stressed the view that all decent people will have nothing but the most contempt for those who write anonymous letters to a person because he takes work in such a position and expresses his views on the matter.

Unemployed Contempt
The Council's policy was defended by the Council's representative, who stated that the Council's policy was not to be based on the number of unemployed Africans, but on the number of unemployed Africans who were able to support themselves.

MR. R. G. FINCH A Young East African Journalist

The East African Standard's first African editor, Mr. R. G. Finch, died in Mombasa yesterday of a heart attack. He was 40 years of age. He had been in the Standard for three weeks ago when he was appointed to the post of first African editor. He became ill shortly after his arrival in Mombasa on July 27.

Mr. Finch was a young man of 40 years of age. He was a graduate of the University of London and had worked for several years in the East African Standard. He was a very capable and energetic journalist.

AFRICANS AND THE WAR
 To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
 Sir—I do not claim to possess any special knowledge of the subject, but I am sure that you will find much of interest in the following account of the part played by the African people in the war.

The Africans are so often mentioned in connection with the war, that it is almost impossible to find a page in the paper which does not mention them. It is a fact that the African people have been playing an important part in the war since the beginning of 1914.

The African people have been playing an important part in the war since the beginning of 1914. They have been fighting for their country and for their fellow Africans in every theatre of the war.

...and for intimate personal use, Doctor?"

 Many women suffer distressing and painful conditions of the skin which are not relieved by ordinary skin preparations. The reason is that they are using the wrong kind of skin preparation. The skin needs a special preparation that will not only cleanse and soothe it, but also help to restore its natural beauty. Dettol is the ideal skin preparation for all such conditions. It is gentle, effective, and safe for use on the face, neck, and hands. It is available in a variety of forms, including soap, lotion, and powder. It is the modern answer to all skin troubles.

DISCUSSION PIECE

"If everybody knew what everybody said and everybody, nobody would ever speak to anybody." —Francis Assheton MAURICE'S "THE ART OF LYING."

The little extract which I quote above... the basis of civilized life is... the wheels of society, and by protecting...

However, this spirit of mutual repetition and attempt at understanding is not only unprofitable... it is important to have those in positions of responsibility...

Now, before going any further, I should like to say... that on several occasions—particularly when writing of agricultural matters, I have been charged with writing on a subject I know nothing about. Quite obviously, if I am working in an office, one is not an expert on any subject...

Well, the latest is the labour problem. There is of course, in nothing very new, but it happens to have come to me from a number of recent correspondents... and I see that a general conference of the Executive Committee of the African Farmers' Association...

THE CHILDREN'S GAMES:

Boodle—the Bush-Baby

A STORY BY IRENE MARTIN

BOODLE was a Bush Baby, you think? They caught him a baby grass-hopper, and that was just as nice for him as if you'd been given an ice cream. After that, he was very sleepy, so they got a tiny basket, and he went fast asleep.

After a few days, he became quite tame, and even liked playing. He was very friendly, and he entered him so much in the beginning. Jasmine and Booodle were out one time, they sat down on the grass at the edge of the garden, when a big dog (I think his name was Bob) came bounding along for a game, but Booodle was frightened, and ran, and ran, as fast as his legs would go, until he reached the verandah of the house in the garden.

Now Booodle was quite young, and he was lost, very young, hungry. He was sitting in the garden, when a big dog (I think his name was Bob) came bounding along for a game, but Booodle was frightened, and ran, and ran, as fast as his legs would go, until he reached the verandah of the house in the garden.

There are some members of fruit flies and house flies, (two well-known to describe). We never think of them as pests, but they are to be kept down, for besides being pests, they are also carriers of disease. The house fly is a pest of the household and the fruit fly is a pest of the garden...

The Book Shelf

A JOKE, even an Aberdeen joke, can be a very useful thing. A young medical student at that city's university named Eric Lindlar made one at a meeting of the Union Debating Society...

It was a time or two after the last war when "The New Jerusalem" was a common phrase for the better world still to be dreamed, and the capital lay a much-to-be-looked-for village about when one of the speakers began to bore his hearers with some of his exactness. Lindlar interrupted.

Newspapers all over the country fell upon the jest, and the future of the book is assured. It is now available in paperback form for 10s. 6d.

Miss Ashbee's story does yet perhaps the war, and during its first months, she covered a larger area than the war and ending in the best of the other area in his book. The Dufraggi movement came into existence in the last year of the last war and in time to be killed in the next. There are a number of children who continue to exist in a novel of strong interest.

Mac Gaden also presents an English middle-class family, the "Barkley Estate" is by the English novelist Ivel Fisher (Hutchinson). He handles a larger area than the war and ending in the best of the other area in his book. The Dufraggi movement came into existence in the last year of the last war and in time to be killed in the next.

THE TALES THEY TELL...

So there are delightful sketches of people of many lands and colours not picked, but such types as come to mind. The author is a man of letters, a man of letters, a man of letters.

Not Alone. In a district full of shifts, a British officer was despatching a party of prisoners to finish a spot of road-making. An Italian man was driving the final shift.

Are You Sure? ANSWERS ARE ON PAGE ELEVEN. 1. The thief of (c) Figher, and (d) Sander. 2. A four-cylinder destroyer.

3. Shoppers in a shop are: Life-saving apparatus, deck chairs, life jackets, engines, and other things.

4. What explorer had an Australian island named after him? Captain James Cook.

5. Many names of South African Bishops, Catherine of Aragon, and other names.

6. The three who were brought to the court were: Sir John, Sir John, and Sir John.

7. In a pit which the smell of sulphur is so strong, the three who were brought to the court were: Sir John, Sir John, and Sir John.

8. The three who were brought to the court were: Sir John, Sir John, and Sir John.

9. A very distinguished East African force was engaged to report losses containing five hundred prisoners were taken.

THE CASUALTY

Two soldiers, grand chaps and sold every from the neck up, looked on sadly at "mopping up operations" in progress somewhere in Abyssinia. They were the unarmed stretcher-bearers, and they longed to do their bit.

After on a rock they spotted an "it," also abstracted in the spectacle of the taking of prisoners. The stretcher-bearers then chose. Creeping round behind the rock, one raised the stretcher and they gently clucked the prey. Neatly they slipped upon their "weasels," and they took their "casualty" upon it and travelled in triumph back to their base. Rumour has it that he did not need medical attention.

ON THE RUN

Extract from an Italian prisoner's letter to his wife, found when he was taken: "I have gone on running on far and now I am here in a trap."

A MOBILE GANTEEN

An untrained comrade of a wireless operator, a native Argentinian and his large Italian were separated from their main lot. Gallant determined the operator asked him to message to the radio. The message was sent. Up went the "white flag." Nine officers and men were ordered to give themselves up.

The operator was sorry he was busy, he said, and must finish his bit. But would give a message to every man who went back and he had a message for the Italian. The Italian argued: "No, no, no, no," the radio Italian replied.

The Argentinian was sent to bring a "small detachment" to take over and later the unit arrived to see over 100 prisoners seated in a tiny semicircle.

Before each man lay his kit, neatly piled with the hundred. The operator had Hastings Street column post as he handed round "two cups of tea."

"MANY PRISONERS WERE TAKEN." A very distinguished East African force was engaged to report losses containing five hundred prisoners were taken.

JAPAN AND A Trade Embargo

While at the moment it is not the British Empire and the United States of America who have every hand full of economic sanctions as punishment for the latest act of aggression, it will be in our desire to support the war to the War East. Whether the present delicate situation demands into contact will depend entirely on Japan. If, under the pressure of Berlin and Rome (both faced by increasing unpopularity) Japan is persuaded to use the new bases in Indonesia as points from which military threats are cast into African and interests in the Pacific, then, of course, there can be only one answer. Alternatively if Japan attempts, on the Mussolini model to stab Russia in the back by an attack on Siberia, war with Britain will be inevitable.

It is just possible that though Japan has expected economic sanctions at $70,000,000, the result may well be a partial withdrawal of the support given by industry to the warlike aims of the new Government. Mean while, the progress of the war in Russia where, at present Germany is the chief advocate of peace in the Far East since her military performance has not so far been such as to inspire unqualified confidence in her leading partners.

For the moment we must await the full application of the very considerable economic sanctions which the United States and the British Empire can and will jointly apply. Automatically the East African Territories have adopted the general policy proposed in London and immediate steps have been taken, at least in Kenya (and presumably in the other Territories as well) to immobilise Japanese trade and credit. The trade of Japan has been an important factor in the commercial life of the East African Territories and it has recently greatly decreased in volume. Nevertheless, the abrupt termination of it will still further to the distortion war conditions have brought about, a distortion which, properly employed, should be beneficial to Great Britain and the Empire and hasten the process of self-reliance which the war has done much to establish.

We need have no regrets about the disappearance of some forms of Japanese trading. The recent enquiry into the Customs tariffs at Mombasa proved beyond any doubt that less reputable Japanese houses were in league with dishonest merchants in East Africa in swindling the Territories in respect of Customs revenue. False invoices were employed to defraud Customs examinations. It is long before that became known, but it was well known to a whole range of disreputable practices employed in this business.

BLIND HOSPITALITY

No, Sir, the Black Out does not start for forty minutes. Captain Jackson and five other gentlemen come over with you from the class 7—very good, Sir—I'll not get drinks in the billiard room. You think they're staying late, Sir? Then I'll tell you to prepare yourselves. And a piano? Certainly, Sir. I might suggest the orange piano from the nursery, not the grand from the music room. No, Sir, no light showing through the blinds—I have taken every precaution. And I will also make a point of leaving out six bottles of Roche's Lime Juice to avoid any possibility of what is known in civilian life as hangovers. In times like the present, Sir, we must be prepared for any emergency. Goodbye, Sir. I'll be back about 10. No, Sir, I won't forget the Roche's, Goodbye, Sir.

There's nothing quite so black as Mrs. Jones talks. Ask for Roche's and enjoy the pure lime juice in its form.

Mr. Hopkins' Stirring Declaration

LAST night Mr. Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's personal envoy, in a broadcast to listeners in the B.B.C. home service, stressing the declaration of solidarity between the United States and the British Commonwealth in the struggle against Hitler and emphasized that President Roosevelt was at one with Mr. Churchill in his determination to break the ruthless power of Hitler.

Mr. Hopkins said that during the past few months, thousands of aeroplanes had been sent across the Atlantic America being transferred to British ocean-going ships, and that British factories had played their part in British factories.

Mr. Hopkins said he was returning to America to see President Roosevelt on what Britain wanted most.

JOINT ACTION BY U.S. AND BRITAIN Heavy Blow At Japanese Economy

The United States and the British Empire have been at the vanguard of the Japanese aggression in the Far East... These steps parallel those initiated in the United States and later in the United Kingdom...

The general effect of these new regulations is to freeze Japanese assets in Korea, but they will be understood, except a number of other points including provision for "unfreezing" such assets if certain proper and specified safeguards are complied with by firms concerned.

The immediate reaction in the United States was the freezing of all Japanese assets and a freezing order came into force on Saturday morning throughout the world.

China Not Surprised No surprise is felt in Chinese Government circles at the United States action in freezing Japanese credits in Japan.

THE main body of 40,000 Japanese troops to occupy Indo-China is expected to land at Hainan today and they will move into strategic points throughout the island.

The Japanese are throwing out fresh threats. The time has come when the Japanese are expected to make a move in the Pacific.

In Britain, however, it is believed that the Japanese move will be comparatively small due to the fact that the Japanese are now being closely watched.

This does not mean that they will be seized, but they cannot leave United States ports without permission. Forty-five Japanese ships bound for American ports are said to have headed off the Pacific coast.

In hand all troops are reported to be placed in a provisional alert state. Mr. Forrester, the United States Secretary of War, has ordered that all ships be placed in a state of readiness.
