Security gloom as TV comes to Kenya

Standard Staff Reporter
Nairobi
The arrival of television in Kenya has brought a new dimension to the security situation in the country. The presence of a large number of technicians and their families in Nairobi has led to a concentration of potential targets in one area. This has resulted in a number of security measures being taken, including the deployment of additional police forces and the installation of more sophisticated surveillance equipment. The government is also conducting extensive security checks on the technicians and their families to ensure that no espionage or sabotage is being carried out.

'TAKE CARE' ADVICE TO FARMERS

Minister of Agriculture
Nairobi
The Minister of Agriculture has issued a warning to farmers to be vigilant against the activities of the Mau Mau in their areas. He has advised farmers to take care of their crops and livestock, and to report any suspicious activities to the authorities. The Minister has also urged farmers to work together to protect their communities and to support the government's efforts to maintain law and order in the country.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

We rely quite to remember with pride the role of the Mau Mau in the struggle for East Africa. We are proud to have been part of this struggle, and we are proud to have achieved our independence. We are now looking forward to a bright future for our country, and we are determined to work together to build a better life for all our people.

AMIS FOUND

Several dozen small quantities of arms and ammunition were found in the Mau Mau forest near Nairobi. The arms were believed to have been hidden by Mau Mau fighters, and their discovery is seen as a sign of the weakening of the Mau Mau movement. The government has announced that it will continue to search for more arms and ammunition, and that it will take appropriate action against anyone who is found to be hiding or using such weapons.

'Ead rivalry'

The rivalry between the two main political parties in Kenya has intensified. The Kenya African National Union (KANU) and the Kenya African People's Party (KAPU) are both vying for the support of the electorate. The KANU has accused the KAPU of being a front organization for the Mau Mau, and the KAPU has accused the KANU of being a front organization for the British. The new detention law in Kenya has not caused much controversy in East Africa. In fact, many people in the region have expressed support for the law, as they believe it is necessary to maintain law and order in the country. The law has been widely reported in the press, and it has been discussed in many public forums. However, there has been little criticism of the law, and few people have raised their eyebrows over it.

DUKE STAYS IN KAMPALA Jinja visit recalls a Churchillian 'vision'

From ERIC BAILES, Standard Chief Reporter
The Duke of Edinburgh's "moment of vision" when he visited Jinja 70 years ago and suggested that the waters of the Nile should be dammed and passed through turbines, was recalled by the Duke yesterday when he visited the town.

During a visit to the Town Hall, the Duke said Jinja was a town and both his wife and he had been "filled with excitement" at the notion of seeing the source of the Nile. The town was historically well known as the place to which Speke eventually struggled in his search for the river's source.

As Sir Winston Churchill had been the first to see the source of the Nile as an industrial source, the Duke's visit was a reminder of the industrial revolution in the world.

Activity improves on Nairobi Stock Exchange

ONLY three days trading has been possible on the Nairobi Stock Exchange this week owing to the long holiday week-end, but during this period there was a noticeable improvement in activity showing a rise of the leading issues.

Prices, however, remained depressed on the same levels as those of last week, providing a generally firm underpinning to the market. Shareholders' interest in the African Securities Exchange has improved since 8/15 but so far the demand, which was over 25 units better on 8/15, has fallen to 10 units on 8/18 and 8/19.

Today, of course, everyone knows that the railway did follow and that Kampala, near the site of Mutema's palace, is a beautiful, well ordered city and the seat of the Government of Uganda. However, the railway does not go everywhere, and East Africans today care more and more on motor transport. Shell has action with over 800 outlets in the most comprehensive East Africa. In October, 1862 the Standard Bank was incorporated in London with a policy aimed at providing a comprehensive banking service in Africa through a wide-spread network of Branches. The Bank's early activities were concentrated in the Southern part of Africa which had passed through a transition of pioneer stage to a money economy. The founders recognized that the potential of the continent was almost limitless, but if this potential was to be realised forward-looking view is as much a part of the Standard Bank's policy today as it was 100 years ago.

In 1910 the Directors of the Standard Bank, once again looking to the future, decided to extend the Bank's activities to East Africa. Branches were opened during that year at Mombasa and Nairobi, followed by two more Branches at Kampala and Eldoret in 1911 and 1912 respectively. Despite the disruption of business and trade difficulties brought about by World War I, eight further Branches were opened in the East African Territories and Zanzibar during the years 1916-1918.

As a steady expansion of the Standard Bank's branch system took place during the period between the two World Wars, the Bank's increased representation was in the forefront of the continued economic development of the four Territories. In its centenary year, the Standard Bank has a network of 74 Branches and Agencies throughout East Africa. In addition, twelve mobile agencies are continually in the field to service about 150 country centres, many of which are far removed from normal banking facilities.

The Standard Bank has its Head Office and three Branches in London, one in New York and one in Hamburg. It maintains over 900 Branches and Agencies throughout the Continent of Africa. Close contacts are maintained with the Standard Bank with its Agents and Correspondents throughout the world. The Bank is therefore able to offer a fully comprehensive service on credit intelligence and commercial information matters. These facilities are open to all and the Bank's Managers and staff will be pleased to advise on these subjects on request.

BLACK STAR ON PARADE

Top W. Africa soccer side meets Kenya

GHANA'S Black Star national soccer side arrived in Nairobi yesterday from their victory in the Uganda Uruku Cup and, briefly seeing the sights in the Kenya capital, they immediately went for a training session in readiness for today's game against Kenya at Doornbosham Road (4.45).

Black Star, widely travelled and greatly successful, have victories to their credit over England's Blackpool (5-1), Vienna (3-0) and assembled the soccer world last month by drawing 3-3 with the great Heat Uruku Cup with a 4-1 victory.

This week they were the Uruku Cup winners over the host side in the final. Earlier they had drawn with the London International League side 2-2 although it was a last-minute winning goal which saved them from defeat.

FEW HIT CELEBRATIONS

Real Interest

A candidate for the position of Mayor of New York City is expected to be elected in the coming year. The race is expected to be a close one, with several candidates vying for the top spot.

Modish styles

For the coming season, modish styles are expected to be in vogue. Designers are predicting a return to classic, elegant looks. The use of bold colors and dramatic silhouettes is also expected to be popular.

new D7E

most versatile and productive in its class

Announcing the new D7E bulldozer and weight up 180, new power shift transmission, new undercarriage. These major advances plus many other new features make the D7E the most productive in its class.

POWER SHIFT - Single lever control lets you shift up or down instantly under load. Exclusive torque divider combines auto-rail, load matching of a torque converter with ease and efficiency of direct drive. Or choice of any standard mesh, direct drive transmission with long lived Cat oil clutch.

HEAVY DUTY UNDERCARRIAGE - Almost a ton more iron has been added to vital wear areas. A foot more track on the ground (see rubber track in standard) plus 4" water gauge and rolling equalizer bar provide greater stability. Rollers and idlers are lifetime lubricated.

OTHER FEATURES - 140 HP Cat Diesel with improved turbocharging gives 18% more power at same rpm. Power-boosted controls cut fatigue. Quick-dig hydraulics, bigger blades increase production.

COMMUNIST

This page has been sent for insertion to the editors of 'Izvestia', 'Pravda' and the principal newspapers of other Communist countries, as well as to leading newspapers throughout the non-Communist world.

PEACE OR WAR?

That is the question each man asks his neighbor. Every nation awaits the answer.

In a divided world both nations armed with weapons capable of total devastation, the theory of the great struggle as well as the hope to small, too many and too foolish, to achieve anything except disaster.

Many honest Communists know it. How few are the non-Communist world will know it.

"Our appeal is to every sincere Communist and Marxist to Russia, revolutionary adventure of all time, whereby the most profound of human nature — to stand with thoroughly, definitely and self on a national scale and nations are killed in their mad, historic search to violence and destruction.

It will mean change for all. Changed economic conditions though essential, do not change for all. Changed economic conditions, though essential, do not change for all. Changed economic conditions, though essential, do not change for all. Changed economic conditions, though essential, do not change for all.

The many Communists, as Mr. Khrushchev has pointed out, are too selfish to make their Communist work in their hands. In the many non-Communist, still far from being united to live for anything except their own country, still far from being united to live for anything except their own country.

Years ago Frank Buchman, initiator of Moral Re-Armament, is necessary for all Communist work. It is necessary for all Communist work. It is necessary for all Communist work. It is necessary for all Communist work.

The problem is not Communism. It is character. The problem is not Communism. It is character. The problem is not Communism. It is character.

Hasn't Buchman the root of the modern world? No concept of this, he has the root of the modern world? No concept of this, he has the root of the modern world? No concept of this, he has the root of the modern world?

This revolution of Moral Re-Armament already has brought about in its nation. It is in its final phase of total expansion throughout the world.

The Total Revolution

In South Africa revolutionary students of Jim Mathebe, a student leader, who Vice-President Nixon was elected, have changed. To change the system, they have changed. To change the system, they have changed. To change the system, they have changed.

GAME WATCHING IN COMFORT AT KILAGUNI LODGE

By: MASTFAIR MATHESON Interview: S. K. GAJRE

If you wake up early in the morning at Kilaguni Lodge and pull yourself to find a large elephant blocking the view only a few yards away, you are in luck. In fact this is quite common at Kilaguni (about 20 miles from Mito-Arbit) and only a few minutes drive from Nairobi.

The National Parks Lodge with its extensive, air-conditioned, full hotel service is provided, including a swimming pool, tennis court, and a bar. All sorts of game are available in the park. All sorts of game are available in the park. All sorts of game are available in the park.

Kenya backward in schools agriculture NEED FOR SPECIALISED TEACHING BY EXPERTS

Kenya is one of the poorest of about 100 countries in the Government's World Bank list. It is also one of the few countries in the world where the majority of the population is engaged in agriculture. However, the country is backward in its agricultural education. The Ministry of Education has been unable to provide the necessary training for the large number of students who are entering the agricultural sector. This is due to a lack of specialized teachers and a curriculum that is not relevant to the needs of the country. The government must invest in agricultural education to improve the productivity of its farmers and to ensure a secure food supply for its growing population.

MAIZE yields
A high potential area like the Rift Valley has begun to be developed. Land which is currently used for extensive cultivation of tree and other crops is being used to produce steadily increasing quantities of maize. This is a significant achievement for the country, as maize is a staple food crop. The increase in maize production is due to the use of modern agricultural techniques and the availability of fertilizers. This will help to improve the nutrition of the Kenyan population and to increase the country's food security.

FOOD for staff
It is not surprising, therefore, that the government is investing in agricultural education to improve the productivity of its farmers and to ensure a secure food supply for its growing population. This is a crucial step towards achieving economic development and social stability in Kenya. The government must continue to support agricultural education and to provide the necessary resources for the training of agricultural students. This will ensure that the country has a skilled and productive agricultural workforce that can meet the needs of its people and its economy.

Extra allowance
The West African countries are beginning to give their agricultural extension workers an extra allowance. This is a positive step towards recognizing the importance of agricultural extension in rural development. The extra allowance will help to attract and retain qualified staff in the agricultural sector, which is essential for improving the productivity of farmers and for ensuring a secure food supply for the population. This is a model that Kenya should emulate.

THREE OBSTACLES IN THE WAY OF KENYA'S UHURU

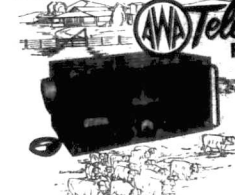

MANY OF us have been told that the three main obstacles to Kenya's independence are the Mau Mau, the British Government and the African people. This is a gross oversimplification of the situation. The real obstacles are the Mau Mau, the British Government and the African people.

COMMUNIST MONEY

COMMUNIST MONEY is being used in Kenya to finance the Mau Mau rebellion. The money is being used to buy arms, ammunition, and other supplies for the rebels. This is a serious threat to the stability of the country.

MARKET COURT

Show surprise

Britain still leads the world in the production of sports cars. One of the present models is the new 1.2-litre Triumph Spitfire 4, which is the carburettor version of the Triumph Herald 1200 power unit. Known for its reliability it is big volume of orders from America and Europe.

COMMON MARKET A SPUR TO U.K. CAR FIRMS

A GLEETING SHOW—some of the best for years. That is the motorist's verdict on the London Motor Show at Earl's Court. After last year's bumper harvest of new models it was expected that this year's Show would be a pause and rest affair. But there are more than 50 models new to Earl's Court, many of them making their public debut. Add the variety of the motorist's choice of new models for 1958. New models for 1958 have been in progress for some time. The new models to be shown at the Show are: the new 1.2-litre Triumph Spitfire 4, which is the carburettor version of the Triumph Herald 1200 power unit. Known for its reliability it is big volume of orders from America and Europe.

THE INTERNATIONAL MOTOR SHOW AT EARL'S COURT, IS OPENED IN THE FIVE-PART SUPPLEMENT HAS PRODUCED A BRITISH MANUFACTURERS PREPARING FOR COMPETITION WITH THEIR COMMON MARKET RIVALS.

At a show highlight is the Jaguar-bodied Daimler 115 m.p.h. model incorporating the well-proved Daimler 60 m.p.h. unit in their 50-50 sports car.

Neck-and-neck
Among the small family saloons, the new Ford Corsira and the MG 1100 are to be joining neck-and-neck in the premium stakes, closely followed by the new Renault 1100.

The Hillman Super-Max and the same group's Singer Vagon show last-minute improvement in 1958 including disc brakes at the front, better seating and the extremely low ground clearance.

The Vauxhall Viva and Opel Corsa show the older models which gave the neck-and-neck status last year. However, they are missing out on the new engine units now just a variety of new 1100cc and brought low-cost, 85-90cc.

But a newcomer is the small 1100 2-door sports model, with a British 1700 c.c. engine developing 90 b.h.p. and British styling influences.

Lights retract

Another, but smaller, newcomer in this field is the 1100cc Ford-engined Lotus Elan, which this famous racing firm reckon is one of the best 2-door sports cars they have produced. Among its many interesting features are retractable headlights.

Another eye-of-show surprise was the decision of the British Motor Corporation to give all their 1100 cc engine and a new 1100 cc price increase. The models affected are the Austin A60, Austin Healey Sprite, MG Midget and Morris Minor.

Trends at the Show are for easier maintenance, better braking (including greater use of disc brakes), more interior room and clearance and low "flap" outlines. For the ordinary motorist, the 1963 models spell even better value, less driving fatigue and fewer servicing requirements.

Earls Court vista

'Jagler' hybrid

The new special version of the Fiat 2300, which offers improved accommodation and even more luxurious interior and exterior finish, follows will soon be on show in the Italian showrooms of Daimler Ltd. The mechanical part of the car is identical with that of the standard saloon but the wheelbase is extended by 31 inches to make possible a particularly spacious rear passenger compartment. Available in six different versions, the standard 2300 is being well in East Africa and other four-car models are on their way out - almost sure to be replaced in next year's East African version of the three-litre model which gets a top speed of 110 m.p.h. and a 0-100 time of 12.5 seconds. The 'Jagler' has a 2.3-litre engine which will enable the car to maintain 50 m.p.h. at 1000 r.p.m. and give it a top speed of 110 m.p.h. and a 0-100 time of 12.5 seconds.
