Series of strikes looming in Northern Rhodesia

COPPERBELT VEXED BY COLOUR BAR

NORTHERN RHODESIA starts the New Year facing a complex industrial problem. On Christmas Eve the local newspapers published a long statement outlining the attitude of his group of copper-mining companies to the proposed industrial colour bar.

Mr. E. L. Prain, chairman of Rhodesian Selection Trust, has in two widely reported speeches made it plain that his company and those of the Rhodesian Selection Trust have no objection to the differences have come into the open.

RICH STRIKE OF URANIUM BY BROTHERS

A NEW strike of uranium which may be Australia's richest has been made in a valley near Murrumbidgee, 60 miles north of Adelaide, South Australia.

The South Australian Government has awarded £2,000 to the brothers W. R. and J. W. Jenkinson who found the uranium in large lumps of pitchblende on the surface. They will receive more if the field proves extensive.

Professor H. Douglas Morrison, one of Australia's foremost geologists, said samples of the pitchblende contained 75 to 85 per cent of uranium oxide. This is a deposit when the Rom Jangle deposit was discovered in 1911, fifty years ago.

Some of the new uranium will probably be exported without refinement.

First meeting at new racecourse:

PRIORITY WINS EAST AFRICAN DERBY

Crack U.S. colt for Europe

A breath-taking finish

PROBABLY the biggest crowd to attend a Nairobi race meeting turned out for the opening of the new course at the edge of Langata Forest yesterday afternoon. In fact, the members rather caught the organization on the wrong foot and, coupled with the nervousness of everything, resulted in the meeting being unduly hurried. The race was held at 2.30 this afternoon.

But when the inevitable rain had been allowed to settle, there were still rain clouds in the air and the sun was not very popular for the first half of the afternoon. The race was held at 2.30 this afternoon.

The Olympic uncertainty still exists

The Chief Executive Officer of Melbourne's Olympic Games Organizing Committee, Lieutenant-William Bridgeman, said on Sunday night that he is "confident" that the Games would be staged in Melbourne in 1956.

He was commenting on a London report that the International Olympic Committee would, at the formal closing of the 1952 Olympic Games in Helsinki, Finland, announce that the Games be held in Melbourne.

The "what-ifs" which have been taken from Melbourne all along, under the I.O.C. will be repeated.

It is no longer a fact that London, British Museum, has been named as the host of the 1956 Olympic Games.

He was commenting on a London report that the International Olympic Committee would, at the formal closing of the 1952 Olympic Games in Helsinki, Finland, announce that the Games be held in Melbourne.

The Australian Government has been making inquiries about the possibility of staging the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne.

Dutch firm producing 'stock' batteries

A BATTERY factory at Utrecht (the Netherlands) has started the manufacture of stock batteries. The advantage of these batteries is that they possess a great capacity in comparison with other types.

They are built up of flat cells connected in series. The negative electrode consists of a fine plate coated at the bottom with a layer of lead. The positive electrode is a grid of lead and there is a plate of electrolyte and the whole is housed in a synthetic material. The cells are assembled under pressure.

Dimensions

The end product looks like a normal, rectangular battery. The great saving in volume is effected from the fact that a stack of cells, for instance, 17.5 x 17.5 x 17.5 cm. can be packed in a space of 11 x 17 x 17.5 cm. instead of the 17.5 x 17.5 x 17.5 cm. of the traditional battery, on account of the fact that the cells are also suitable for tropical conditions.

Uruguayan peso exchange rates

Recent changes in foreign exchange rates are being made by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to determine the Uruguayan peso. Rates for pounds and dollars are fixed on December 31st. Rates for other currencies are fixed on the date of issue.

The early December suspension followed a report from Uruguay that the authorities limited exports of wool, leather and stone. The dollar and leather and stone exchange rates are being converted to dollar prices in proportion to the effect of a suspension of Argentine exchange rates to limit Customs receipts from the country affected. Colonies' sterling reserves satisfactory

GOVT. WHITE PAPER

The Colonies have good reason for satisfaction in the present level of their sterling reserves. This is the conclusion reached in a White Paper published by the Colonies. Between 1948 and 1953 the Colonies' sterling reserves rose from £1,070,000,000 to £1,000,000,000. In the six months to June 1953, they rose a further £62,000,000.

These assets, the White Paper states, are part of the financial resources of the Colonial Governments and are held in sterling deposits in the United Kingdom and elsewhere.

One part of the increase in the general level of the reserves is due to the development of the Colonies' economies. This increased because the Colonies were able to spend money on development as fast as their revenues rose between 1949 and 1952.

Held as backing

The sterling assets and other funds set up since the war to finance the economies of the Colonies are held as backing for very substantial quantities of sterling securities. A fund of the Korean war loan, established between the end of 1948 and the end of 1951, is the largest of these. It is held as backing for the £1,000,000,000 of the Government's 2½% stock, which is held in the Colonies as a whole.

It was also announced that the United States' £2,000,000,000 loan to the Colonies in 1950 had been used to convert officially into sterling. The return on this loan is £1,000,000,000, which is held in the Colonies as a whole.

UNLIKELY TO 18-day BRITISH itinerary for M.P.s DELEGATION DUE TOMORROW

THE British Parliamentary delegation of three Conservatives and three Socialists is due to arrive in Nairobi tomorrow to begin its 18-day itinerary of current affairs in Kenya.

The visit was arranged by Mr. George Gurnea, who has the mission's literary history as a compromise between Mr. A. G. Robinson and Mr. Ronald Williams (deputy secretary).

For the first five days the delegation will be in Nairobi, then to visit the first appointment on Saturday morning, meeting with the Governor Sir Evelyn Baring, at the Government House.

Following a series of meetings with the Kenya Government House, the delegation will start a tour of the country.

On Monday the delegation will visit the first of the country's industrial areas, the Nairobi industrial area, where the city's African housing scheme is being completed.

PRELIMINARY U.S.-SOVIET TALKS ON ATOM PLAN

'Early' meeting in Washington

Confidence vote assures French say at conference

A VOTE of confidence in the U.S. Government has been taken by the U.S. House of Representatives at the forthcoming Berlin conference of Foreign Ministers.

The vote was taken after Mr. Leland B. Beardsley, Secretary of the National Assembly of the Four-Power Government, announced that the U.S. Government is ready to discuss the problem of harnessing atomic energy resources for peaceful means.

The Soviet Foreign Minister, Mr. Vyacheslav Molotov, and the Soviet Ambassador in Moscow, Mr. Charles Bohlen, the Soviet delegate to the first meeting with a week following President Eisenhower's call for "private" talks.

A communique said Mr. George Zarinin, Soviet Ambassador in Washington, would represent the Russian Government at the preliminary talks. It did not give the date for the start of the meeting though it indicated this would precede the Berlin conference of British, American, Soviet and French Foreign Ministers on January 25.

The Washington talks, the communique said, would consist of an exchange of views on the procedure to be adopted in eventual atomic energy negotiations. There would be discussion on the time, place and agenda of the final meeting.

The communique was issued by the Soviet Foreign Ministry and prominently printed in Pravda.

The communique said that the Soviet Ambassador in London, Mr. Andrei Gromyko, had announced that the United States wished to exchange views about atomic energy with representatives of the Soviet Union in a meeting in Moscow.

The meeting would be held in Moscow in the next few days, the communique said.

It was held before the Berlin conference of the four powers.

The official voting figures were 248 in favour, 120 against and 10 abstentions.

The vote was taken after the U.S. House of Representatives had passed a resolution to support the U.S. Government's proposal to discuss the problem of harnessing atomic energy resources for peaceful means.

Electricians' 'guerrilla' strike

DISMANTLING ON OVERTIME PAY

BRITAIN'S key industries will suffer from "guerrilla" strikes continuing as workers continuing on a national 24-hour strike because employers and workers cannot agree on their overtime pay.

Ministry of Labour officials look over when the parties failed to reach an agreement for 48,000 workers.

The employers' offer that their pay had been three times that of the rest of the country in 1953, but that it would be reduced to two times that of the rest of the country in 1954, was rejected by the workers.

The Communist Electrical Union is demanding that the employers' offer be accepted.

SINCE November sail-fish have been caught frequently just off Moa Bay and inside the reefs. The fish were landed about 20 up to date while the fish weighed from 12 to 20 lbs. The fish were taken from a 200-rod fishing vessel. The fish weighed from 12 to 20 lbs. One landed last week was found not to have been looked at all but the traces round the fish.

Small fish known as shikwa are used as bait. Small fish are regarded as a rare prize by fishermen in most parts of the world and are one of the best fighters. They take the line and for several hundred yards after which it suddenly gives. The fish are taken from the reef, giving the impression of a fish on the line. As the line is pulled in, the fish jumps out of the water after some seconds. The fish is then pulled in the water, lifting it out quickly.

Sail fish are members of the family which includes the mackerel, but are smaller than mackerel. They are members of the family, and are characterized by the silver scales for which they derive their name. The fishermen of Moa Bay say that this is the most exceptional year they have ever known, both in the quantity of sail fish caught and the length of the season. The fish were taken in the month of November and were taken in the month of November. The fish were taken in the month of November.

AFTER three months of experiment and research, a Nairobi team of housing experts has built a new type of permanent African house which, it is claimed, is cheaper to build than the permanent dwelling so far devised.

The news was released by the team's firm of consulting engineers and architects and a firm of building contractors in brochures circulated to important housing officials including the Deputy Governor Sir Frederick Crawford and members of Nairobi City Council. They announced that they were prepared to undertake large-scale construction immediately.

A family house, the picture shows, is a single-story house consisting of four rooms—kitchen, living room, bedroom and veranda, built on thick concrete foundations. The house is built for approximately 100 persons, approximately 100 persons, approximately 100 persons. The house is built for approximately 100 persons.

EIGHT-HOUSE HAMLET NOW HAS ELECTRICITY

Power extension in Tanga area

MWAMBANI, between Tanga and Pangani, which is becoming a popular residential area on the coast, now has a power supply although there are at present only eight houses there. Many applications have been received for land in the area and provision has been made for a power supply to other plots.

The work involved in providing the supply consisted of the erection of more than two miles of high-tension line, a part of which passed over two important plantations which had to be cleared—namely the Government and the building of a sub-station to convert the 11,000-volt supply to 240 volts.

Hydro-electric station
The source of power for Tanga Province is the natural power falls, about 30 miles in length, between Tanga and Pangani through two steep-sided gorges. The station is a hydro-electric station with a head of 314 feet above the station.

All equipment on up to date and cost of the station is estimated at 200,000 shillings. It is generated at 200 volts and is transmitted at 11,000 volts for a distance of 11,000 miles. The station is a hydro-electric station with a head of 314 feet above the station.

Supply to Mombasa
The power station has recently been completed and is generating 17,500 kilowatts of power capable of supplying Mombasa and other consumers in the area. The station is a hydro-electric station with a head of 314 feet above the station.

The Moving Picture Re-examined

BY ELLEN STERNS

There is hardly a place in the world where the cinema film does not exert its influence and power—and more is learned every day by film-makers about the possibilities of its influence. Usually, it is the audience that does the teaching.

Recently, for example, a British doctor was showing a film to the members of a Nigerian village. The showing terminated, showing different buildings in a flood, then and containing practically no words. The doctor was surprised to see the members of the audience speak to him in the picture of the men peering at the screen. The doctor was not aware of any such thing in the picture, which was the film-makers, who had assumed that to depict anything several times was run slowly enough to be easily understood by the audience.

It seemed that those who had not noticed the buildings could see the men, but they saw the film, however small and slow, simply because it moved.

long time. Even when the fear effects may be overdone, psychomotoric effects are close-related to other bodily functions, performed by nervous systems. The physical reactions stimulated by the film are inseparable and are controlled under whole conditions, during a week. When the attend the cinema, it is important for the audience to which they are exposed to the film, the intensity of the light, the sound, the music, the color, the hypnosis conditions of the audience, and the whole atmosphere of the cinema. The film-makers, who had assumed that to depict anything several times was run slowly enough to be easily understood by the audience, were surprised to see the members of the audience speak to him in the picture, which was the film-makers, who had assumed that to depict anything several times was run slowly enough to be easily understood by the audience.

Shouldn't we Britons emigrate? The answer of your correspondent who has emigrated—yes, a thousand times yes. For opportunities exist for those who decide to "move and make a fresh start in life." But a movement from de-finite, conscious areas (like Merseyside) also provides a better prospect of continuous employment for those who emigrate.

Emigrate to the Empire for expansion in Britain's far-flung empire. It is almost by the amount of interest in the subject that to make in the present is the size of having an Empire if Britain are not prepared to get out to develop it with the brain-power?

All-while you wait!

Nearly all post-war British homes with four rooms or more have bathrooms. All Millars show-repairs have a "do it while you wait" service. And if you want a suit speeded and pressed, there's a "do it while you wait" service. And if you want a suit speeded and pressed, there's a "do it while you wait" service.

If you have a ball by a string over an infant's crib, the baby may dance as long as it is conscious of it. But if the string is cut, the baby will only doze by following the string, but he knows it is gone.

THROUGH MY HAT

By Kenneth Meadows

Must say there are occasions when I get quite a little in the essence. Always felt that after the Festival Season the emphasis should be on long periods of rest. Need to build up the internal organs familiarized once again with the routine.

So it was that at lunch-time yesterday I was trying to concentrate with my hat on my head. I was trying to concentrate with my hat on my head.

As I say, I was feeling quite a little in the essence. Always felt that after the Festival Season the emphasis should be on long periods of rest.

and Italy gave me a zest for travel, a desire to plan how to better my lot by playing a panorama so different from my Liverpool boyhood scenes.

If it happens, I have not been to the Empire, but had to build up contacts in any possible "Oh, to be in England!" feeling.

Indeed, I am very glad I left Merseyside. It was born in the white sea of a district rugged and together that the not-greatest days that I can recall. Yes, I might as well say that the football was raised in that of the Dixie Dean standard, but I have no great urge to return and watch the present drama.

WOMEN

Women here like to be in the middle of the feminine. And I couldn't care less about the way a lot of girls perform. Women do their own thing. They are not interested in the things that men are interested in.

AN 'INTERNATIONAL TRAMP'

In the High Street of the town where I was born, there is a brew, killed Scotch who keeps guard outside the door of a tobacconist's shop and who is the joy and delight of every boy and girl in the place, for they go there for luck, first, his name being that they throw his hat. Until they could touch the head but, by then, they are there for such foolish pastimes.

He was standing there, in your age and, for all I know, he may be there still. You see, it was a long time.

wonderful show that summer, first when he in Tarravore in beyond me far his best dose and of what one might call 'backwards' and afterwards.

First he crossed France and Italy and from Genoa worked his passage 'A' Alexandria. Then he went to Cairo and on to Port Said and Cairo and in a 'tramp' steamer to reach Aden. And that was where the 'backwards and forwards' began. It is a matter to follow. Geography was never my strong line.

Tramp it is

I THOUGHT I had forgotten his existence but I saw him so vividly in my mind's eye as if he was there before me again when the other day, just as he was killing Scotch, he walked into my office.

That this Scot for I have heard of, I had forgotten his very opposite. He calls himself an "International Tramp" and tramp, tramp, tramp along in a little boat with his few belongings. He is now in Freetown, Sierra Leone.

Inland to Yemen

HIS trip to Jeddah, to Mecca, to Aden, and thence to the Somaliland, had a very interesting side to it. He had been in Aden for some days he got into and was well known as a 'tramp'.

He visited British Somali-land, crossed the Red Sea, and came to Kenya, then to Tanganyika, Zanzibar, North and South Africa, Mozambique and the Cape of Good Hope, and thence to the original tramp.

He was in the Red Sea for eight days of boats and continued his journey to the Red Sea and he was fortunate for both ways.

David, who is a painter and decorator, was in the town in 1945 and was in the town with the British in 1944 when he came to live in the town. He is making his way from France and Italy that summer and a cycling tour of Belgium and Holland a year later awakened his wanderlust. And so, with £100 in his pocket, he set out in 1950 to reach South Africa.

RATS ARE SMARTER THAN YOU THINK

RATS are smarter than you think. A British researcher, after years of work at Oxford and in the Sudan, has decided that it is not much use trying to fool a rat with the same old bait time after time.

Wild rats stayed a long way away. That is the "useful" part of the "Rat Observer" will want to read.

But Dr. Raaka, a citizen of the United States, who has been studying the intelligence of rats in his laboratory, has found that rats are much smarter than you think.

Dr. Julian Raaka, now on the staff of University College, Gresham, reported recently in the British Journal of Animal Behaviour that rats get smart in a hurry.

He listed 12 of them and fed them a little cyanide in some bread paste. All of them got ill but most of them recovered in ten days more.

It has not all been jam and honey. In a long time, Dr. Raaka was hunting crocodiles and he about to eat them up. He was hunting crocodiles and he about to eat them up. He was hunting crocodiles and he about to eat them up.

Good memories

AND some of them remembered their experience for as long as a year. On average, their memories kept their caution for about six weeks.

By and large their memories are good and they learn quickly. They learn quickly and they learn quickly.

More alert

FINALLY, the rats are more alert. They are more alert and they are more alert.

WHAT a dull time, to compare it with the time in the street just standing still in the street all day long.

PROBABLY nobody has suspected it yet, but life on these islands is becoming a lot more complicated in the next couple of months.

According to the statistics, the production rises, wages rise, and the standard of living goes up. It is a good thing that the Government has been able to bring over a balance of payments surplus.

Something wrong

THERE is something wrong with our country when half the population are unemployed. It is a sign of a nation that is in a state of decay.

The Government is trying to do something about it. The world is a very different place from what it was in 1945.

But Mr. Clegg was in a fighting mood. He was a man who was really thoughtful. He was a man who was really thoughtful.
