COMMONS LINES UP FOR BATTLE

Amendments to Finance Bill

OPPOSITION CHALLENGES BUT DEFEAT OF LABOUR UNLIKELY

THE British Government said the Opposition will muster all its forces for a parliamentary clash on the committee stage of the Finance Bill which opens tomorrow.

More than 100 amendments have been tabled to the bill and divisions may take place in the five days of the committee stage. The Opposition will make five major challenges on various aspects of the finance proposals.

An amendment to the purchase tax and the income tax provisions of the bill is the order paper for tomorrow to the battle will be joined immediately.

The Opposition will be strengthened by the arrival of the former Conservative Member for the constituency of East Bedford, whose eligibility for election has been questioned by Mr. Churchill's election to take the office of Prime Minister.

Mr. Churchill's official notes to delay further.

Mr. MacLennan's eligibility to sit in the Commons was also in doubt because of an Act of 1901 which disqualified Irish clergymen from being Members of Parliament. The question is whether the Act's provisions are affected by the split of the Irish churches from the British Empire.

Mr. MacLennan is expected to appear at the House of Commons on Monday. It will be well to ascertain if he will be able to appear on Monday.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF AFRICAN HOUSING

A memorandum on Nairobi position

DETAILED memoranda prepared by some of the principal officers of the City Engineer (Mr. H. R. Reynolds), the Treasurer (Mr. A. V. Kern), the Medical Officer of Health (Dr. G. O. Thomas) and the African Affairs Officer (Mr. G. Wood) on the separate aspects of the African housing problem were last week forwarded by the Nairobi City Council to the Member for Nairobi and Mr. E. A. Taylor, who is assisting the Member in the preparation of a report dealing specifically with the housing problem.

The Council has not yet passed any resolution on the subject. It is understood that the report will be discussed at a meeting of the Council on the 15th inst.

Mr. Wood has stated that the report will be prepared in the form of a memorandum to be presented to the Council. It is understood that the report will be prepared in the form of a memorandum to be presented to the Council. It is understood that the report will be prepared in the form of a memorandum to be presented to the Council.

Two schools of thought

There have been important discussions between the members of the Council, giving rise to two schools of thought on the subject. The first school of thought is in favour of the construction of a large number of small, simple, one-room dwellings. The second school of thought is in favour of the construction of a smaller number of larger, more comfortable dwellings.

Can be deferred

The problem of housing in Nairobi is not a new one. It has been discussed for many years. The question of whether it can be deferred until a later date is a matter of debate. Some believe that it can be deferred, while others believe that it must be dealt with immediately.

Methods of finance

Various methods of financing the housing program have been discussed. These include the use of government funds, private enterprise, and a combination of both. The most common method is the use of government funds.

Population figures

The population of Nairobi has increased significantly in recent years. This has led to a corresponding increase in the demand for housing. The current population is estimated to be around 100,000.

Building costs

The cost of building housing in Nairobi is a major concern. High land prices and the cost of materials have led to a significant increase in building costs. This has made it difficult to build affordable housing.

Table showing population densities in existing African locations in Nairobi

Location	Population	Area (acres)	Density (per acre)
Central	2,200	2.2	1,000
East	1,500	1.5	1,000
West	1,500	1.5	1,000

£600 IN FIVE MINUTES MADE THE TARGET CERTAIN

NEARLY £600 was subscribed in less than five minutes at a public subscription for the new £20,000 secondary school site at Old Crook on Saturday. The original target of £1,000, by the end of the day only about £600 had been raised. The subscription was organized by the Nairobi Education Committee.

Traffic chief on the new parking rules

CRITICISM of the proposed new parking regulations for Nairobi has been voiced by the Traffic Chief, Superintendent R. W. Hoyle. He believes that the regulations are too strict and will cause inconvenience to the public.

Police chief

Mr. Hoyle pointed out that the regulations are too strict and will cause inconvenience to the public. He believes that the regulations are too strict and will cause inconvenience to the public. He believes that the regulations are too strict and will cause inconvenience to the public.

Police check

As a result of a police check on the roads, it was found that many drivers were not following the new parking regulations. The police are taking steps to enforce the regulations more strictly.

Barbecue

The other day a barbecue was held at the school site. It was a success and raised a significant amount of money for the school. The event was attended by many people from the community.

Kenya Police promotions

The Kenya Police have announced a list of promotions. Several officers have been promoted to higher ranks. The promotions are based on merit and performance.

FEWER ENTRIES AT THIS YEAR'S FLOWER SHOW

But exhibit quality as high as ever

ALTHOUGH there have been fewer exhibitors at this year's flower show, the quality of the exhibits is as high as ever. The show is being held at the City Hall and will run for several days.

There was a knock of English flowers in the collection, but the quality was high. The exhibitors have put a lot of effort into their displays and the show is expected to be a success.

The exhibition was held at the City Hall and was attended by many people. The exhibits were of a high standard and the show was a success. The exhibitors were pleased with the response and the quality of the exhibits.

Most meritorious

Mr. Sharp's entry of 15 varieties of flowers was judged to be the most meritorious. It was a well-planned and attractive display that showcased a wide variety of flower types.

Prize winners

The prize winners of the flower show have been announced. Several exhibitors have won awards for their high-quality displays. The winners will receive certificates and prizes for their efforts.

Additional cups

Additional cups have been awarded to exhibitors who displayed a high standard of quality. The cups are a recognition of their hard work and dedication to their craft.

A MACINTOSH AND BROILY ASCOT

Mr. J.V. Rank wins the Royal Hunt Cup

Typically British contrast to the brilliant and prewar splendour of the opening day, the meeting was a macintosh and umbrella affair with grey skies and a drizzle, instead of bright sunshine and summery frocks. As the only stick of colour was in the saddle, a sea of mud-brown, multi-coloured umbrellas that were the colour of the rain, gave the scene a fantastic and grotesque scale.

Favourites fail

The five favourites to start the Royal Ascot were defeated in the first two races. Mr. Rank's five-year-old son of Hypocrite, Hypocrite, who was the big event of the day, the seven furlong Royal Hunt Cup.

Practise, practise and practise!

It's practice that makes perfect in golf strokes

Why are the Americans so good? If I had a pound for every time I have been asked that question I would be a wealthy man. My answer is that I am not at all sure that the average American player is very good. He is probably no better than the average handicapper player over here. But the simple reason why their top line players and amateurs shoot such phenomenal figures from time to time is that they WORK at their game far harder than we do and they PRACTISE, PRACTISE, PRACTISE.

I know that a great many of our good players spend a great deal of time on the practice ground. For instance, the American looks at Dick Clark, who has graduated from a British amateur field. At St. Andrews he was the first quarter of the day, which was not what he wanted. He had a great deal of practice in the morning, but he was not a good player. He was a good player, but he was not a good player. He was a good player, but he was not a good player.

Nothing unusual

And that sort of thing is not unusual. It is a matter of fact that the American player who is a good player is a good player. He is a good player, but he is not a good player. He is a good player, but he is not a good player.

Employ a boy

It is a matter of fact that the American player who is a good player is a good player. He is a good player, but he is not a good player. He is a good player, but he is not a good player.

RINDERPEST: 'THE MAJOR WAR ON MANY FRONTS'

In the latter part of the last century, a terrible animal disease, rinderpest, which had come from Asia, swept westward through the continent of Africa.

In this fourth article, based on a lecture to the Royal Geographical Society in London, Dr. E. B. WORTHINGTON discusses the relationship between domestic cattle and wild life in rinderpest eradication and summarises development projects generally.

Domestic domestic cattle and wild life in the rinderpest area are being separated by the movement of the rinderpest virus to the north, south, east and west of the continent of Africa.

Eradication
The rinderpest virus is a highly contagious disease which has been known to exist in the continent of Africa since the beginning of the century.

It is the greater deviations from the norm which are characteristic of the rinderpest virus.

The first rinderpest virus was introduced into the continent of Africa from the East Indies in 1831.

Ignorance
The first rinderpest virus was introduced into the continent of Africa from the East Indies in 1831.

The first rinderpest virus was introduced into the continent of Africa from the East Indies in 1831.

Research
In addition to these important aspects of the rinderpest virus, the rinderpest virus is being studied in the laboratory.

Production Conference: Farming debts to be investigated

LAST week's Production Conference in Nairobi supported the return of the National Reserve should be made by an extension of the Solar branch railway line into the Reserve.

The investigation would have sufficient to carry on the work. The Department of Public Works, Mr. J. K. Ruvira, said that the Government is not in a position to take any further steps to help the farmer. He pointed out that the Government has been unable to do anything to help the farmer since the war. He said that the Government has been unable to do anything to help the farmer since the war. He said that the Government has been unable to do anything to help the farmer since the war.

A big sum

The big sum was £265,000, of which £150,000 would be used for the purchase of land. The Government has been unable to do anything to help the farmer since the war. He said that the Government has been unable to do anything to help the farmer since the war.

SQUATTER MAIZE: MAXIMUM PRICE SHOULD BE FIXED

EXPLAINING proposed maize grading rules, the memorandum committee of the Production Conference told the Nairobi Convention that there had been a feeling that grading rules should be fixed to protect the consumer.

Fashion smiles at last on larger figures

This week, in her London letter, ELSA M. SANDERS tells of a London dress designer who brings new hope to women with larger figures.

Miss Peggy Bladen

Talking about women wearing gowns, Elsa Sanders writes in her London letter, "I am glad to say that the designers who are now in the limelight will never wear their skirts so high as the designers of the 1940s. Film designers' awards at the London League Theatre are now a silver-halved for the sake of the larger figures."

False modesty puts damper on praise

Of evidence, one might be tempted to say that we all crave them, but we all crave them, but we all crave them, but we all crave them.

They who do not often take a warranted amount of praise, though it is well deserved, are those who are too modest to accept it.

Every woman longs for those compliments that are given to her, but she is often too modest to accept them.
