A SISTER FOR PRINCE CHARLES

THE HAPPY FAMILY AT CLARENCE HOUSE

Here is a glimpse of the life of Princess Elizabeth now the happy mother of a sister to Prince Charles, by VICTORIA CHAPPELLE

PEOPLE still talk of the royal family as a happy family. Princess Elizabeth made on her 21st birthday a speech to the British Royal Family in 1947, who she dedicated her life to the service of the Commonwealth. It was then that the royal family gave place to the smiling young Princess Elizabeth and her husband and sturdy little son would be born from her new matrimony and peace ever if her face, when she gazes at her children, is not a picture of the past.

The joy of her family life is not shared by a single individual. It is shared by the whole of the royal family. It is shared by the whole of the Commonwealth. It is shared by the whole of the British people. It is shared by the whole of the Commonwealth.

Family figure
It is not that they forget the link between their family and the Commonwealth. It is not that they forget the link between their family and the Commonwealth. It is not that they forget the link between their family and the Commonwealth.

The Duke's career
For nearly 10 years after her marriage she was happy in that the Duke of Edinburgh had her support. For the past, although now the Duke of Edinburgh has had a private life, she has been a devoted mother and a devoted wife.

Wide-eyed interest
Bonds. Prince Charles was his father's eyes in a light coat of arms.

ENGLAND LOSES COMPTON IN TRAGIC FASHION

Critics dub J.K. knock 'Caribbean Cruel'

It may be the West Indians but total of 160. England had made 120 by the last wicket, and the last Test on that ground yesterday, and took their total to 232 1/2 wickets at close of play.

England's loss was a tragedy in many ways. It was the first time since 1881 that England had lost a Test match in the West Indies. It was also the first time since 1900 that England had lost a Test match in the West Indies. The loss was a severe blow to England's reputation as a cricketing nation.

England's batting was completely ineffective. The batsmen were out for a total of 160 runs, which was a very low score for a Test match. The bowling was equally poor. The bowlers were out for a total of 232 1/2 wickets, which was a very high score for a Test match.

The match was a tragedy in many ways. It was a tragedy for England, a tragedy for the West Indies, and a tragedy for cricket as a whole. It was a tragedy that will be remembered for many years to come.

SPORT NEWS IN BRIEF

Harris retains his World cycling title

ROY HARRIS of Britain, the world champion cyclist, retained his title by beating a field of 100 competitors in the 100-mile time trial on Monday. Harris, who is 31 years old, was the only British rider to finish in the top 10. He won the race in 12 hours, 15 minutes, and 10 seconds. The race was held in London, England.

Harris's victory was a surprise to many of his fans. He had not won a race since the 1954 Tour de France. He had also suffered from a knee injury in 1955. However, he has been training hard and has been in excellent form since then.

Harris's victory was a triumph for British cycling. It was the first time since 1954 that a British rider had won the 100-mile time trial. It was also the first time since 1954 that a British rider had won a world cycling title.

Further action on rates for air mail

DISAGREED with a statement from the Postmaster-General that the question of a revision of air mail rates from the 1950-51 period will not be considered at the present time, Mr. T. C. Morgan suggested at the 20th meeting of the National Chamber of Commerce that this question should be raised at the annual session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

Mr. Morgan had already brought to the attention of the National Chamber of Commerce when he made his speech on the subject of air mail rates and suggested that the question be raised at the annual session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

The suggestion for further action was supported by Mr. T. C. Morgan and Mr. J. H. Brown. The latter said that the question of air mail rates should be raised at the annual session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

The President, Mr. E. J. Anderson, said that the question of air mail rates should be raised at the annual session of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

THE NEW SEASON GETS UNDER WAY

Million football fans at opening games
The universal football and the local football games moved through to fill the stadium. At the last big day for England's army of football followers had arrived—the 1960-61 season was under way.

More than one million fans packed the stands and terraces at the 46 English football league club grounds on Saturday night, the new season of a rousing and...

The players were in the mood of the first day of the season. The players were in the mood of the first day of the season. The players were in the mood of the first day of the season. The players were in the mood of the first day of the season.

Spurs cramped
Newcastle United set off in the first of their home fixtures at the Tottenham Hotspur Division II stadium. The match was a narrow one, with Tottenham leading at half-time but Newcastle scoring a late goal to level the score.

Centre trouble
Preston North End, who had their new centre back in the shape of a new recruit, were in the middle of a struggle to get their defence sorted out.

A holiday in the Belgian Congo...

Here's an exciting way of spending your next best leave. The Overboard Grey Line Coach Tour of Uganda and the Congo gives you an ideal opportunity to become acquainted with the wonderful scenery and colour. It is the eighth season arranged in a tradition of American tourist agencies and is a most successful one.

...or a visit to the Nairobi National Park!

Apart from visitors to Nairobi, who stand on no account miss seeing the natural wonders of our easily-accessible game reserves, there are many inhabitants of the city who, somehow, have never "got round" to visiting this park where so much wild life abounds. Four miles from the centre of Nairobi you can enter the gates for an hour's rickshaws, an afternoon or a full day's tour in a chauffeur-driven limousine. It's easy! Give us a ring.

BRITAIN'S SWITCH TO DEFENCE WORK: JAP GOODS IN UNION

BRITAIN'S industrial manpower shifts to defence work are likely to be the only minor set-back for the rest of month. The Government has been holding informal discussions with industry but will not have even detailed discussions for a couple of months.

The Government wants harder work from existing workers rather than great enlargements or shifts of manpower. There is no question of conscription, labour or temporarily retraining old people and wives into industry.

Expansion of military establishments is not the only reason for the switch to defence work. The Government wants to get the military service of the country as a whole to a higher level of efficiency.

Both imports and exports are expected to be affected by the switch to defence work.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT IN UGANDA

This morning the factories of a hampering revelation through Uganda. The thought and clamour of heavy machinery ring in the air. The newly turned earth on the crumpled factory sites and the rising steel shafts are a visible evidence of the industrial revolution which has come to the East African Protectorate.

Standard of living before working over these great sites which the builders have just cut out of the ground. It is a significant sign of the problem of a population increasing at a rate of something like two per cent every year.

TANGANYIKA IS PLANNING TO GROW HER OWN FOOD

Efforts of the Tanganyika Department of Agriculture to develop a carefully planned agriculture to offset eventually the depletion of food production and consumption may be checked, and Tanganyika become a self-supporting territory for food, according to the Director of Agriculture, Mr. B. H. Biggs.

These are at present several years ahead of time, but even so, it is believed that the plan is well worth considering.

Mr. Biggs said that the plan is to grow such crops as wheat, maize, sorghum, and millet, and to raise such stock as cattle, sheep, and pigs, and to produce such articles as rubber, cotton, and sisal. The plan is to have a self-sufficient agricultural system, which will not only supply the needs of the population, but will also be a source of export earnings.

The plan is to have a self-sufficient agricultural system, which will not only supply the needs of the population, but will also be a source of export earnings.

What growing

When production is expanding the attention of the Department is directed towards the Southern Highlands and the use of fertilizers is being considered as a means of returning the soil to its original fertility.

Dry land cereals

Cereals research is being carried on at Dodoma, where the Department has a small station engaged on investigating the cultivation of grain crops on dry land.

Production of rubber

Mr. Biggs said that there was no doubt that the rubber industry is one of the most important of the country and that the Department is doing all in its power to assist the planters in their work.

This year's harvest

Mr. Biggs said that the harvest of this year was not so good as last year, but that the Department is doing all in its power to assist the planters in their work.

South African farmers ask for financial help

At the annual congress of the South African Eastern Province Agricultural Union in Port Elizabeth an executive resolution was adopted asking for the establishment of local cooperative agricultural credit societies financed by the South African Land Bank to encourage the adoption of modern farming policy.

The report of the executive committee of the union was read by Mr. J. C. van der Westhuizen, and the resolution was adopted by a large majority. The resolution was that the South African Land Bank should be asked to establish local cooperative agricultural credit societies in the Eastern Province, and that the Government should be asked to contribute towards the establishment of such societies.

The South African Land Bank was established in 1934, and its object is to provide financial help to farmers in the form of loans and advances. The bank is a Government institution, and its funds are derived from the Government Treasury and from the sale of Government securities.

Meat prices

The prices of meat have risen in the last few months, and this has caused a great deal of concern among consumers. The prices of beef, mutton, and pork have all risen, and this has caused a great deal of inconvenience to those who are dependent on meat for their food.

Unthinkable

It is unthinkable that the Government should allow the prices of meat to rise so high, and that it should do nothing to prevent this. It is the duty of the Government to keep the prices of essential commodities low, and to prevent any unjust increase in these prices.

Sisal case as well as tax

The Government has decided to increase the tax on sisal, and this has caused a great deal of concern among sisal growers. The tax on sisal is a very important source of revenue for the Government, and it is essential that it should be kept at a level which will allow sisal growers to continue to produce sisal.

“Thinkable”

It is thinkable that the Government should allow the prices of meat to rise so high, and that it should do nothing to prevent this. It is the duty of the Government to keep the prices of essential commodities low, and to prevent any unjust increase in these prices.

THIS IS HOW THE END CAME

During the last year of the First World War we had to fight our foreign enemies and no lines of communication—food, weapons, ammunition, and medical supplies—had to be led from Germany. We needed the greatest mobility not only for our own troops, but to avoid German attacks. We had in addition the reverse of the situation: the British had to send a large force to the front.

Soon, however, the worst became first of all the particular, and an increasing number of well-aimed German shells—of all sizes—began to bombard the front lines. The number of wounded and killed increased. The British had to be prepared to meet a German attack of a hundred times greater in size than that of the British.

But the trenching and the digging of the British were not sufficient. They were not to be surprised. One morning they were surprised. One morning they were surprised.

As seen through a German shell-hole.

GEN. VON LETTOW VORBICK concludes his account of The War in East Africa, 1914-18, of which he, as Commander of the German forces, finally surrendered to the British in Northern Rhodesia. In this first article he tells of his efforts to avoid the advancing British columns.

changed when our new miniature machine-guns were introduced. The mines landed on the enemy position from the first that they were very effective. We were very surprised when we learned that the British were using them.

Incident over
Of course we were pleased. As we had used up all the mines we were very surprised when we learned that the British were using them.
