Scots play semi-finals of the League Cup competition

The sides meeting at Fratton Park today, in the sixth of the Division I games, will doubtless be the envy of many Soccer managers all round the world. They will be the only two sides to have been drawn together in the League Cup competition. The two sides are the Scottish and the English champions of last season.

The Scottish side is the Glasgow Rangers, who were drawn against the English champions, the Tottenham Hotspurs.

The match is expected to be one of the most exciting of the season. The Scottish side has a strong attack and a solid defence. The English side is also a strong team and is expected to put up a good fight.

Royal Show finale in party mood

Schools level in contest for young farmers

LIMURU Girls School tied with the Duke of York School to win the Young Farmers' Judging Competition, in all sections of which the judges noticed increased keenness and knowledge.

More confidence

"Although none of the crops show the cattle in exactly the same order as the number of them given marks. The good in stating the reasons for the choice of each crop was an improvement in this respect over last year's contest. The impression that the judges had was that the contestants were more confident than in previous years."

Boys try to catch fish and lassoo crocodile

Scoutmasters in the High Commission pavilion had to keep a close eye on schoolboys when the show, the Governor General Sir Philip Barrow, who is chairman of the organization, was told when he toured the grounds.

Monkey recruited

The monkey which was used in the show was recruited from the East African Wildlife Society. The monkey had been trained by a group of boys from the school who had been working on the monkey for some time.

Police inspector killed

A European police officer, Insp. J. H. Higgins, died in a Nairobi hospital after suffering from a heart ailment. He had been in hospital for some time.

Asians' right to assist in governing Kenya denied

ALTHOUGH Asians had done a tremendous amount of good for Kenya, especially in trade and commerce, and had no right to demand a seat on the Kenya Council, the Coast Member for the Kenya Legislative Council, Mr. J. V. Cooke, Elected Member for the Coast, told a meeting in the Denial Memorial Hall, Nairobi, more than 500.

"What right have the Asians to the franchise of the Legislative Council?" he asked. "I never heard the Council say that they should have a seat in governing this country."

Although he was not an Asian, Mr. Cooke said he would support an Indian as Minister for the Interior.

Indian critic
He said the meeting had voted and the Asians were never asked to give their views on the subject. He said that the Government should have a seat in governing this country.

BABY'S DIMPLE... And All That

By DOREEN MAGAHY

THE contemplation of a beautiful baby by its mother will, we are told, help to ensure a beautiful nature for the unborn generation. Or is it the physical attributes which are affected? Probably both.

I know a girl once who was nearly two months at Gestation, with occasional visits to Law classes through in, and she finally found her eyes if she remembered anything at all on the subject. I never saw the child.

Well, in the first place, unless you are a doctor, you cannot tell the sex of a baby. It is not until the baby is born that you can tell the sex. It is not until the baby is born that you can tell the sex.

IT MAY HELP YOU...
To remove old stains on floors, mix equal parts of lime and washing soda with water to a creamy consistency. Paint roughly on floor with large brush and leave overnight. Next water and scrub with soap and water and stain will disappear.

Low Temperature Welding has many advantages over other forms. Because of the Low Temperature, stress and distortion are avoided, a faster and better bond is obtained at a lower cost and the bond is obtained at a temperature well below the base melting point. THE ROYAL TECHNICAL COLLEGE
OF EAST AFRICA

Building for the future --

The new Royal Technical College of East Africa shows itself to be one of the finest contemporary buildings in East Africa. Fitted with the most modern equipment, it is designed to accommodate, initially, 300 students of all races and will provide a real contribution to the future progress and development of East Africa.

As Main Contractors for the Building, we feel justly proud that, once again, our motto has been so amply demonstrated.

TAYLOR WOODROW (East Africa) LTD
BUILDING AND CIVIL ENGINEERING CONTRACTORS

THE ROYAL TECHNICAL COLLEGE IS ONLY A BEGINNING

Plan Is For A Series Of Colleges

A PLAN for the development of the Royal Technical College, envisaging the building of not one, but a series of colleges each in its own sphere, and the construction of a large area of Nairobi into a cultural centre for East Africa, will be considered by the Governing Council of the College.

Described as comprehensive, and one which will take many years to complete, the plan is believed to be the only long-term answer to a demand for higher educational facilities which has already revealed the inadequacy of the present college buildings—five months before they are due to be opened.

The funds

COMMENTING on the proposed development, the Privy Council of the College, Sir George H. B. Mackenzie, said, "There are indications that the College quickly than even the most sanguine expected, and this is very certainly not to consider passing officials to be the matter of raising funds for the building of extensions.

"The plan has been conceived by the terms of the Charter of W. P. D. Mackenzie, and the Head of the Faculty of Architecture, Sir George H. B. Mackenzie, approved in principle by the Council of Finance Committee. The approval is also given by the Governing Council, Finance Committee, and the implementation will be carried out through government channels.

Much admired

WORK on the present educational block is almost complete. The building is a considerable educational and cultural asset to East Africa. Its main function, will be to level and the main professional facilities. Many overseas visitors have already admired the quality of its architectural features.

Mr. J. Bentley, the P.W.D. architect, directed early work on another block in 1950, and it was then erected for the shape, detail, colour and arrangement of the building.

From the beginning, Mr. Webb set out to create modern, modern, economic and efficient with a cultural background. Planning was fairly started by the general contract for the college, Messrs.

After more than two years work, costing in the region of £310,000, the main building of the Royal Technical College, Nairobi, has now been completed and will be opened in March, 1956. Here, HENRY J. REUTER describes a building which, he says, will undoubtedly become a great asset to East Africa—educationally, culturally and architecturally.

These two pictures show the east-of-Africa and the west of the College.

Typical windows, in November months of juggling with wooden structure began in May, 1953, electric light bulbs to discover its shape was obtained after two hours had to omit strong sun.

The main block

IN the main building there is a block of 10 classrooms, physics, applied science, applied electrical engineering, engineering drawing office and an administrative office.

Facilities of architecture and surveying and town planning, a library, a restaurant, a canteen, a reception unit, a display case and a teaching staff are also included in the main block.

Each laboratory has its own preparation room for the use of filters, all the lecture theatres are designed for good acoustics and they are so equipped with windows to make the maximum use of light and air, bringing in a view of the main block.

'LIBRARY' OF BUILDING MATERIALS

SPACE is being allocated in the main Royal Technical College building for a building centre, unique in East Africa, which it is hoped will eventually become a comprehensive 'library' of the world's most modern building materials and techniques, for the use of professional men, as well as students.

Similar centres now functioning in London and Scotland have met with great success. Materials which have already arrived from manufacturers in several countries are being catalogued, and later they will be distributed to the students and professional men.

The centre will be properly staffed, and it is anticipated that the service it supplies will have a wide application in building techniques and design in East Africa.

Mr. G. W. Pollard, who is Head of the College Architecture and Art Department, believes that such institutions will use in other countries comparatively unknown.

...and it is evident from the centre of the site to avoid noise from the railway track.

...to meet the needs of a modern college it has been necessary to pay great attention to detail. Electricity supply comes in four different voltages and it is essential that the installation are of considerable size to avoid overloading with experiments.

Own gas works

IN addition to electricity, the college will be supplied with gas from its own works, which will cover the lack of the present Government Gas Board supply. The gas works will differ from those in Britain although much smaller, and will be completely controlled by a stone wall.

The modern plant will be built for the use of industrial and domestic purposes. It will also be used in the kitchen and in the laboratory.

Still going up is the reinforced concrete frame for the Fire-resistant

QUALITY of reinforced concrete, there are double walls between classrooms to reduce noise, and the stone walls will be finished with a special surface, enabling a normal view to be had of the outside world. The hall, work of a world renowned consultant.

Provision has been made for extension both upwards and downwards, and the Council of the college has already decided to change its name to give an indication of wider scope than the 'college'.

It is proposed extensions are approved, the establishment will probably become a great asset to East Africa, especially culturally and architecturally.

ACCOTILES

THE LOW COST Floor with the LUXURY LOOK

Tough, hard-wearing Accotile flooring is ideal for the heavy traffic of office or public building. Past colours and an easy-to-clean surface ensure a permanently pleasing appearance. Accotile in a choice of 22 tints in various colours is quickly laid with the minimum of inconvenience.

MOST FLOORS OF THE ROYAL TECHNICAL COLLEGE ARE ACCOTILE FLOORS

You can also see ACCOTILES at the National Theatre, New Stanley House, General Post Office and many other buildings and houses in Nairobi and East Africa, because Whatever the site, commercial or domestic, ACCOTILE provides a distinctive floor designed in colour harmony with the surroundings and furnishing. It offers unlimited scope for individual facts and is the most flexible floor in its scope for design.

HOMES FOR THE STAFF AND THE STUDENTS

At a rate rivaling that of the growth of the new Royal Technical College, there has appeared in the Protectorate Elizabeth Highway area of Nairobi the nucleus of a model housing estate which is destined to become one of the most attractive in the city.

The first stage of a long-sighted scheme to provide wide-scale accommodation for the College material staff is now well advanced, providing and low number of two-bedroom rooms.

Work will begin shortly on the next stage.

Architects Messrs. Homburg, Northern and Partners, have designed all the flats for an upwards extension of two floors, back extension not to exceed 10 ft to provide lift-shafts, the installation of which the College has been obliged to finance. The design includes reinforced concrete and steel reinforcement, including roof cladding, hidden from view by an ornamental screen for every flat.

Transport Was A Problem

Transport has been one of the greatest problems experienced in building the flats. The College has secured a letter of introduction from a local transport company which has provided a fleet of motor vehicles to transport staff and students to the flats. The letter stated that the vehicles would be used for the purpose of conveying all the staff and students to the flats. The company also provided a fleet of motor vehicles to transport staff and students to the flats.

More striking will be the layout for students which is being taken shape at short intervals. On Hospital Hill overlooking the Services Sports Ground, blocks of accommodation of 100 more flats are being planned.

The blocks will be divided into groups of four and each group will have a quadrangle with two sitting halls. Now at the construction stage, the first of these blocks has

Plans were, and on the top floor there is a special flat for the warden, and a flat for the warden's wife. The top floor contains a kitchen, a living room, a dining room, a bathroom, and a bedroom. The flat is built on a concrete base and has a flat roof. The building is surrounded by trees and other structures.

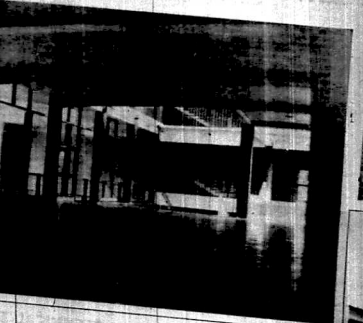

In this block will be one of the most beautiful rooms in Kenya. It is built on a concrete base and has a flat roof. The building is surrounded by trees and other structures.

In designing all these blocks, the architect has made full use of the space gained by providing wide accommodation for the staff and students of the College.

THE TREE WAS SAVED

THE TREE was saved growing on the proposed site of the new building. The house was retained in that the tree might be spared. Similar to an ancient tree in the Kenyan as a tree in Kenya. It rarely grows at a high altitude and only two others are known to be growing in Kenya — both in the Arterium.

SUMMING UP OF BRITISH ISLES S.A. TOUR

Lessons were learned and taught in tough itinerary

By the Sports Editor

The visit of the British Isles Rugby touring team, which played the opening match last week on the new R.F.C. ground, was quite the most outstanding sporting event in this Colony. Never before, in a series of memorable events during recent years, has a field game been represented by an all-international team, and the interest of such high caliber and the enthusiasm aroused by their visit was manifest in the size of the crowd.

Before the British "Lions" left for home, the honorary manager, Mr. J. E. Sigurd, gave an interview to the East African Standard on the South African aspects of the tour.

Mr. Sigurd said that the tour had been held with the Press but he would prefer to say very little about the tour, which he said was a very successful one.

He said that the tour was a very successful one, and that the British team had played very well, and that the Rhodesia team had played very well, and that the tour was a very successful one.

South Africa tops U.N. Committee's agenda

RACE CONFLICT DISCUSSION

SOUTH AFRICA'S racial conflict will be the first question to be considered by the present session of the United Nations General Assembly. Special Political Committee of the United Nations will be considered second and the treatment of Indonesia will be discussed third.

The committee decided to delay until the end of the session the question of the admission of new members to the world organization. It will consider the report of a special committee set up to try to find a way out of the deadlock.

Dr. Benjamin P. Truman, the South African member of the committee, said the Political Committee should first express the hope that the United Nations would make the solution of this problem easier.

'Package deal'
Before leaving for Moscow, he visited Mr. Molotov, the Soviet Foreign Minister, and Dr. De la Motte, Canadian ambassador. A "package deal" under which it would be possible to discuss the South African problem and the admission of new members, even difficult ones, would be possible, he said. He is expected to return to the United States on Monday.

The Friendship Committee, which is to be set up to study the situation, will be headed by the Government of Portugal. It will have to report to the United Nations on the situation in South Africa.

Among five requests for hearings on the South African situation, three are from French Colonies, one from Italian Somaliland and one from French Tunisia.
