The Mainly-For-Women Page PEOPLE ARE MARRYING YOUNGER IN AMERICA

SIDONIE M. GRUENBERG, well-known
American writer, examines the current trend in the United States for people to marry earlier than they did 60 years ago.

I WENT to a wedding recently that was like many weddings in the United States these days. The groom was a graduate student, the bride a college junior, and both were going back to the university after their honeymoon.

The occasion was unusual in one respect. The bride had just married in her junior year and had gone to her degree — but only by her senior year marriage. Her father and her mother had known her when she was married. They expected her to get her degree.

The occasion was unusual in another respect. The bride had just married in her junior year and had gone to her degree — but only by her senior year marriage. Her father and her mother had known her when she was married. They expected her to get her degree.

...doubtedly changed some old ideas of thinking. The 1917 census was long ago. The 1930 census was a record of 125,000,000 people.

...We are young people getting into early marriage and family life. The 1917 census was long ago. The 1930 census was a record of 125,000,000 people.

Great changes

That wedding dramatized a big change in the marriage generation. Not so long ago girls were expected from early on to get married. Now girls are expected to get married in their late 20's or early 30's. In 1930, the median age for marriage was 21.1 years, the same period the median age for girls had dropped from 12 to about 20, and the descent was in great haste.

'Subsidised'

UNDER those circumstances, one has to recognize that some of the traditional objections to early marriage are no longer valid.

...The modern girl is not so much a victim of her parents as she was in the past. She is more a partner in the family. She is more a partner in the family. She is more a partner in the family.

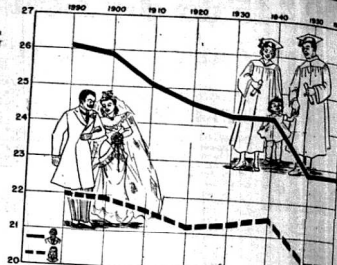

HOW PARISIAN'S DRESS THEIR CHILDREN

CHILDREN the old say, should be dressed in the best. Parisians think that they should be individually styled.

...The Parisian mother is not so much a victim of her parents as she was in the past. She is more a partner in the family. She is more a partner in the family.

The reason

WHEN the babies come, they are dressed in the best. The Parisian mother is not so much a victim of her parents as she was in the past. She is more a partner in the family. She is more a partner in the family.

This chart, based on official figures, illustrates the trend in marriage rates in the United States from 1900 to 1938. The rate shows a general upward trend, with a significant increase after 1920.

...The rate shows a general upward trend, with a significant increase after 1920. This is due to various factors, including the economic conditions and the changing attitudes towards marriage.

Why wait?

This young people begin their marriage in their early 20's. The Parisian mother is not so much a victim of her parents as she was in the past. She is more a partner in the family. She is more a partner in the family.

The future

For the younger generation, the future is bright. The Parisian mother is not so much a victim of her parents as she was in the past. She is more a partner in the family. She is more a partner in the family.

What's new?

What's new in the world of fashion? The Parisian mother is not so much a victim of her parents as she was in the past. She is more a partner in the family. She is more a partner in the family.

Champion British hurdler's comments on athletic boom

BY THE SPORTS EDITOR

THE tremendous increase in the popularity of British Athletics, as evidenced by the success of the 1956 Olympic Games, is a virtual sporting boom. Athletics, which was relatively few and far between in the past, has today become a major sport. Today the world over, this has changed and the growth in Athletics is particularly noteworthy — and astonishing.

Many athletes from Britain and the United States had a virtual monopoly in track events. The especially a short and stout body, hindered was given a "performance position". Now it can attract a crowd that rivals almost any sport in the country.

Change in 40 years
This growth can best be appreciated by, for example, those who can recall the 1916 Olympic Games—then a secondary attraction at the 1914 British Exhibition at the now White City, Shepherd's Bush—and the 1946 Olympiad also in London, forty years on.

Consequently, it was with more than usual interest that I hurdle champion and record holder Jack Parker, when he passed through Nairobi earlier this month.

This 28-year-old athlete was with his wife on his way to take up a six-month's appointment with a firm of exporting civil engineers in the East of Africa. He has been seriously injured in a fall while working on the high railway for about seven years and had just completed his most successful season.

International times
All his time — in numerous international meetings, World Championships, Empire Games, Commonwealth Games, British Empire Games, and the 1956 Olympic Games — has been spent in the company of other athletes from all over the world. He has been a member of the British team at the 1954 Commonwealth Games in Vancouver, and at the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne.

Outstanding Briton
Outstanding over his career, Jack Parker has won a total of 100 international titles. He has been a member of the British team at the 1954 Commonwealth Games in Vancouver, and at the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne.

Time for relaxation
The time for relaxation is now. Jack Parker has won a total of 100 international titles. He has been a member of the British team at the 1954 Commonwealth Games in Vancouver, and at the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne.

Jack Parker, British record holder for the 120 yards hurdles, was captured last month in Alex Barker's photograph. Here British hurdler Champion Mark Pevsley is providing the "final hurdle" of their "series" for the Press. Parker, who passed through Nairobi recently on route for Harare.

TO LESSEN RISKS OF MOTOR RACING

CRITICS, after a lapse of several decades, are asking: Has motor racing, high-speed sport of the 20th century, got out of hand? writes Dennis Hart from London. Disasters put an end to the great city-to-city road races of the early years of the century, the sole survivor of which today is Italy's famous Mille Miglia. But two serious disasters, at Le Mans and Dundrod, have again raised important issues.

In the middle of last month a serious crash on the Dundrod circuit, in the course of the 100-mile Dundrod 100, resulted in the death of two drivers and a third was killed as a result of a second crash. Three months earlier 42 spectators were killed when a car almost literally exploded on an enclosure. The Le Mans disaster led to a wholesale cancellation of Continental meetings, including several Grand Prix.

Much already done
Much has, in the interim, been done to ensure the safety of spectators; now the safety of drivers is being studied. It is to receive further attention in the near future. Britain is taking active steps at this month's meeting in Paris of the International Automobile Association, the highest governing body in Britain, and to give greater safety on track and in the streets.

Many suggestions have already been made, including the "regulation" of cars for sports car events with widely varying

Some of the birds caught during the recent bird catching expedition in the East African State of Kenya were found to be of a new species.

Underground danger In these circumstances it would be thought that a wide range of particular attention to the Mau Mau movement would be necessary. The Opposition has been particularly active in this regard, and it is to be hoped that the Government will take steps to deal with the situation.

Farm success In the past few months, there has been a marked improvement in the general situation of the Kenyan farming community. This is due to a combination of factors, including a rise in the price of agricultural products and a decrease in the cost of production.

'Gravest folly' Did the Government seriously believe that the Mau Mau movement was a "gravest folly"? The Government's policy of repression has done little to bring about a cessation of the movement, and it is to be hoped that the Government will take steps to deal with the situation.

Hardship point There was no doubt that the Mau Mau movement was a "hardship point" for the Kenyan people. The Government's policy of repression has done little to bring about a cessation of the movement, and it is to be hoped that the Government will take steps to deal with the situation.

DISGUISED OFFICER SHOT DEAD BY PATROL

Famagusta put under curfew after bomb outrages

FAMAGUSTA was put under curfew after an R.A.F. officer had been shot while on patrol and a bomb hurled at a police station in Cyprus.

The officer, P/O Alan W. D. Bellingham, aged 19, and three Africans who were with him on an operation in disguise, were killed on Thursday in an accidental clash with another patrol in the North Kinnago area.

It was officially stated yesterday that a court of inquiry has been convened by the Commissioner of Police, Mr. C. C. Callaghan.

Mr. Bellingham was a Field Intelligence Officer working with the Special Branch of the Kenya Police and based at North Kinnago police station. He was leading a reconnaissance party of four Africans, including surrendered ex-Mau Mau, in search of a gang believed to be hiding in the Kiiri Gorge, a few miles from Old Mago on the North Kinnago.

The presence of a "gang" near the Kiiri Gorge was reported to the rear guard of the Kenya Service Unit (K.S.U.) at Van Herberg's farm. Led by an N.C.O. the K.S.U. party sought out the "gang" and attacked it. Mr. Bellingham and three Africans were killed instantly.

The incident occurred during follow-up operations against a gang of terrorists who had been active on the farm, on the North Kinnago, on Tuesday night.

It is believed that the farm party led by Chief Mitchell was the main party of a gang for which Mr. Bellingham was recruited, killed and buried on the farm.

Woody as a 'transit' estate

NAIROBI City Council has passed a resolution to acquire the Woody estate at Woodley, near the Ngara Road, which was defined yesterday.

The Mayor, A. J. Sorensen, said the East African Development Corporation had offered to sell the estate, but the Council was not prepared to buy because it was "definitely going to remain a transit estate." The Council would not acquire the estate unless it was a residential estate where people can stay until they have found a permanent home.

The Mayor said the Council would be happy if there was a residential estate on the site.

Uncertainty as Saarlanders prepare to vote

Wheat yield highest at Nyeri

DECISION ON COUNTRY'S FUTURE

UNCERTAINTY reigns in the Saar this weekend over the outcome of tomorrow's plebiscite in which the French and Western Germany are offering the Saarlanders a choice to settle the wearying Franco-German border. It is generally believed that the vote will be cast in favour of joining the statute, which would merge the Saar with Germany. The French announce yesterday that there would be no such plebiscite if the vote is rejected. This is taken to mean that the Saar will remain under French control if the vote is not cast in favour of the statute. VALUE OF EXTERNAL TRADE

The Federal Minister for Finance and Industries has announced that the value of external trade of Kenya for the first nine months of 1955 is estimated to be £10,000,000.

The Minister stated that the trade of Kenya has shown a steady increase since the start of the year, and that this is due to the expansion of trade relations with the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth countries.

He also mentioned that the Government is taking steps to further develop the trade of Kenya, and to attract more foreign investment into the country.

Farmland to goldfield in ten years

Big Union development

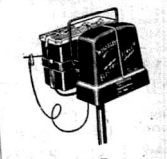

Dividends from one of South Africa's biggest mining undertakings—the new Free State goldfields—will be used to develop the 12 mines opened in this region. This marked a historic point in the development of these goldfields, where ten years ago there was little more than quiet farms and a few scattered huts.

The development of the Free State goldfields is being financed by the Government, which has granted a loan of £10,000,000 to the Free State Goldfields Development Corporation.

The Corporation is now in the process of developing the mines, and it is expected that the first gold will be produced within six years.

The mines are situated in the Free State province, which is one of the poorest of the four South African provinces. The development of the mines is expected to create thousands of jobs, and to bring a new era of prosperity to the region.

No fresh selling on market

The London Stock Market was flat today, with no fresh selling on the market. The market was characterized by a steady decline in prices, and a lack of interest in new issues.

The main reason for the lack of fresh selling is the uncertainty surrounding the future of the economy. Investors are reluctant to commit their funds to new issues, as they are concerned about the possibility of a recession.

However, there is still a strong demand for established securities, and the market is expected to remain active in the coming months.

Planned maximum

The annual plan of the State for 1955-56 is expected to increase to £200,000,000. This is a significant increase from the previous year, and is due to the expansion of the public sector.

The Government is planning to increase its spending on infrastructure, education, and health care. This is part of its long-term strategy to develop the economy and improve the standard of living.

The increase in spending is expected to be financed by a combination of government savings and borrowing. The Government is confident that it can manage the increased expenditure without causing inflation.

INTERNATIONAL DEMANDS WILL HIT DIV. I SIDES

INTERNATIONAL: Wales could win today at Cardiff

THE second of the season's home international soccer matches will be played at Ninian Park, Cardiff, this afternoon and Wales, writes Eric Nicholls, could beat what looks like a copycat derby.

For example, a few sportsmen and women to the common denominator is that they are all international players.

Against today's internationalists have for months past been prominent with considerable success in the Youth International with the 1954 Cup. Yet, they have not been able to win any of their matches.

England's great need is to become a power in the world of football.

Haynes is ignored

Yet the national press does not seem to be interested in the fact that the Welsh national team is being built up in the country, and that the Welsh national team is being built up in the country, and that the Welsh national team is being built up in the country.

Bristol has cream of the fixtures at Ashton Gate

CAUTION must be the keynote of any attempt to look at this week's League football, writes Archie Quick. The international at Cardiff will affect twelve Division I and two Division II sides in England and Wales. For instance, they supply three men to the Arsenal, Birmingham City, Cardiff City and Manchester City sides, respectively, while the Welsh international will affect the Arsenal, Birmingham City, Cardiff City and Manchester City sides, respectively, while the Welsh international will affect the Arsenal, Birmingham City, Cardiff City and Manchester City sides, respectively.

WALES BREAK ENGLAND'S 17-YEAR SOCCER HOODOO

Star-struck forward-line dominated by Welsh halves

Africa will meet Scots in final

AFRICA defeated the Rest in the semi-final of the Maxwell-Bready Cup at the Services Sports Ground on Saturday, 24, after leading 2-0 half-time and will meet Scotland in the final.

WALES, playing with tremendous fervor, on Saturday beat England in an international football match for the first time since 1924, with a well deserved 2-1 victory at Avenue Park, Cardiff, the Welsh victory was mainly due to their dominating half-backs.

Goals by the wingers Derek Griffith and Alan Jones were repeatedly broken up by the England forward-line and kept their own attack in check.

Not a classic performance was put on by the teams, though at one period, when Charles Morgan, whose brilliant display by heading the ball was the cause of the goal, was being watched by Jack Rye who was leading.

The game will not go down as a classic. It was rather a staid affair.

The referee, Douglas Murray, was of the opinion that the game was a draw.

Blackpool had over Division I lead to Sunderland

SUNDERLAND are riding high at the top of the English League Division I. A 2-1 victory over struggling Bolton made the Trotters leaders and they are eight points ahead of their closest rivals, Blackpool, minus their England right-winger Stanley Matthews who was sent down to Division II.

The Trotters are leading the league with 40 points, while Blackpool has 38 points and Sunderland 36 points.

Manchester City, who are in 12th place, are five points behind Blackpool and are in a relegation struggle.

Blackpool had a 2-1 victory over Sunderland at the top of the league on Saturday.

GENEVA STRATEGY REVIEWED BY WEST

Recognition of Mr. Diem as Vietnam Head of State

WEST returns from a Government-sponsored referendum in South Vietnam in favour of electing Mr. Diem as Head of State and the results are being reviewed by the West. Mr. Ngo Dinh Diem, Prime Minister of the French Government, had the Government's approval of the referendum. Mr. Diem has been elected as Head of State and the results have been announced. Mr. Diem has already been recognized by the French Government as the Head of State of Vietnam.

Israeli Premier Seeks Protection Guarantee

AT THE "Big Four" conference which opens in Geneva on Thursday was discussed by the Foreign Ministers of the United States and France. The Ministers, Mr. Dulles and Mr. Pinay, had a formal agenda including European security, the disarmament and the development of West-East efforts to ease tensions and break down the Iron Curtain. They also discussed the highly dangerous Middle East situation caused by the Communist arm shipments to Egypt and the blow to Western diplomacy dealt by the Arab League's rejection of the proposed "European Statute" at the weekend.

As they met, the Israeli Premier, Moshe Sharet, was holding discussions in the capital with the country's most senior ambassadors from the Arab League which is acknowledged to be the worst since the Arab League's War of 1948. His dramatic flight to Rome from Tel Aviv has brought to a head the rocky implications of the Communist move. Mr. Sharet is to meet the Western leaders and tell them that the Arab League has not been broken up and that the Arab League will not seek arm and aid and does not really, declaring at the same time that his country will not accept any arms and aid until it has a guarantee of protection. He will state that Israel now looks to the West for protection.

Daring flying dive onto bed of jagged glass fails to damage GOODYEAR TUBELESS TYRE

Here's a real hair raiser! A world-famous stunt driver takes a high dive off a ramp. Then he comes down with a smashing crash onto a bed of broken bottles. (The lower insert shows you, close up, how rough that landing area really was.) What happened? There was no puncture... no blowout. The stunt driver rode safely away.

There's the kind of protection you need out on the highway... the kind you get with the All-New Tubeless Super-Cushion.

1. Puncture Protection - - This great new Tubeless Tyre offers puncture protection of a kind previously unknown. Goodyear's new tyre building method, which bonds every part of the tyre in one complete unit, provides the most efficient air container ever built.
2. Blowout Protection - - - The tough body and special rubber compounds enable the tyre to resist blowouts due to bruises or small cuts and thus provide an enormously increased measure of safety.
3. Better Performance - - - In addition, this amazing tyre assures a quieter, softer ride, plus more mileage than you have ever experienced before.

4. The Best Proof - - - All leading motor-car manufacturers in America and England are fitting tubeless tyres as standard equipment on their cars today. This overwhelming endorsement by the car makers themselves is proof of their superiority over conventional tyres. Why not bring your own car up-to-date with these Goodyear Tubeless Super-Cushion Tyres. They cost no more than ordinary tyres and tubes.

CRITICAL PHASE FOR WORLD CAR TRADE

Foreign competition never keener SUPPLY RACING DEMAND

WITH world car production threatening to exceed demand, for the first time since the war, the 40th British Motor show, which opened at Earls Court on October 19, marks a critical phase in the history of the industry.

Never before has sales competition been so keen for so rich a market and Britain—although still the world's leading exporter of cars—has been giving this year startling evidence of increasing German, United States and Italian competition.

Before the show opened, it was expected that 11,000,000 cars—2,000 more than last year—would give their passport to the 300 cars from seven nations, including 21 German, three Italian and one Czechoslovakian models.

As a contrast to other post-war years, when the show's salesmen could not commit themselves to delivery in period of years, and avoided rather than sought orders, hosts have been on their stands from opening time getting down very seriously to the job of selling their wares.

Germany and France are class contestants for the show, and the smaller French Citroën will have narrowly over the sleek British Rover.

Italy, however, is a doubtful prospect, although the sleek Fiat, although providing a local market, is trying to get into many West European markets.

Unconquered contender for the 'tag of the year'—unofficially, the Rover Show are the 1.6-litre, 100 m.p.h. Jaguar XK150 and the somewhat of the Paris motor show, the Silver Phantom Citroën (above).

CONSERVATIVE OVER TURE

From Europe, also one sees a variety of engines adapted to other uses. Air-cooled engines are being used on the Volkswagen, the Peugeot, the Rover and the new Citroën. Two-stroke engines include the J.A.V., the J.A.P. and the J.A.P. and although the latter is still very much in the lead, the J.A.P. is also being used on the new 1,500 cc post-war car.

The Volkswagen and the new Citroën, two of the best-selling cars in the world, are both air-cooled car engines. The Fiat 1900, one of the first cars at the show, has a car engine and has a long waiting list for its car in every country except the United States.

Britain has no pre-arranged stand at the motor show, but the British Motor Industry is generally orthodox—four-cylinder engines, four-speed synchromesh gearbox. A few have six-cylinder engines and better still have a full gearbox combination.

The new Jaguar generally offers a more radical departure from tradition, the price being the main attraction of the new car. The Jaguar is a six-cylinder engine and is traditional.

'Overdrive' fitted on 30 models: Popular aid to fuel economy

ONE of the striking features of the show is the great increase in the popularity of the overdrive. Thirty last year, giving a clear indication of the sales appeal of the "extra gear," which saves petrol and engine wear.

In British and American designs, however, speed is given equal importance with economy. This is instanced by the new Armstrong Siddeley which turns the scale at 100 m.p.h. on 25 cvt. due to the use of aluminium—a well-known light alloy in the aircraft industry.

THE INVITATION OF THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE ACCEPTED

Remember this invitation? We put it into our advertisement in February 1954, when we had just introduced our new additive I.C.A. into Shell.

Many thousands of people accepted it. Those thousands of people are convinced that Shell with I.C.A. is the most completely satisfactory motor spirit they have ever used.

If you are not one of the thousands, we give you the invitation again: Try the two-tankful test. On your second tankful you will notice definitely smoother running & fuller power.

light bodies, in the 4th a more powerful, more spacious saloon, a particular aptitude for road and traffic work.

This 4th-class saloon from the Fiat 600 is the most compact folded in form a body with the most room than any other in its class. The 600's engine has a bore of 41 mm and the capacity becomes 1,000 cc, which is safety within the 1,000 cc category for sporting owners.

The driver of the 600 faces a two-coped steering wheel with horn rings through which the right is visible. This consists of a steering wheel with a horn ring like a sun above a bottom forward by five rectangular instrument faces — all pressure, warning, petrol, engine, indicator, and direction indicator.

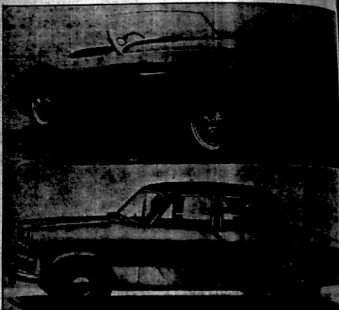

Customary switches flank the steering column, but the ignition switch is on the right-hand side. The gear lever, the handbrake, and the direction indicator switch are on the left-hand side. For the present, the 600 will make up a small percentage only of Peugeot production. The manufacturer says that with a daily vehicle output of 500 at the Sochaux factory and 500 at the Le Mans factory, they are waiting list, they need more production.

However, as the Peugeot 600 has become evident around the world, it is expected to move generally, many specialists say, and the 600 that the Peugeot agents.

"Elegant convertible" is a description which has been applied to the new Renault model for 1957. The 700, which is fitted with a 1,000 cc engine, has been fitted with a 1,000 cc engine, a lower gear of the dashboard to protect the engine from the event of a collision.

Starter innovation
A new dashboard has been fitted, with instruments, "clutch" in front of the driver, and the two starting controls, a choke and starter button, have been placed in front of the driver. The 700 is fitted with a 1,000 cc engine and the incorporation of the starter in the 700 is a new feature.

Increased by the inclusion of two more vehicles, the Peugeot 700 — sold by B.O.S. — consists of the 2-litre engine.

Another car which is expected to be introduced in the near future is the Hillman best with quality and performance — that establishing O.H.V. engine — and distinguished new colour-scheme. Make a Hillman the answer on the road! This car you should be driving, 6 months earlier in numerous saloons. For full information consult your local dealer.

There are 20 varieties, including Macaroni, Spaghetti, Vermicelli and the full range of pasta and soup noodles. All hygienically packed and production and sales are carefully supervised or additive. Production and sales are carefully supervised to ensure that the product comes to the housewife ready to eat, but please tests do not reveal any form of deterioration or infestation.

Of course, the whole purpose of manufacturing a local product is to place a commodity on the local market which is at least as good as the imported variety, but which costs less, and at the recommended retail price of the 2/- per lb. in Malacca is a most satisfactory policy is fully justified.

One small tip recommended by The Housewife in cooking Anonka Macaroni, etc., follows the directions printed on the cartons (see language including Swahili), do not open the seal, and stir occasionally while in the pot, particularly in the early stages while coming to the boil.

There is nothing better, or cheaper, or more nutritious, than Anonka Macaroni - ask for it by name.

From all good grocers, but if you have any difficulty contact the Anglo-Asian Corporation, Ltd., the local distributors, at the Marine Road, Singapore, who will arrange for your regular supply to have supplied.

A SUGGESTION FOR JUNIOR OLYMPICS

BRITISH sporting circles have given a mixed reception to a suggestion by Miss Elaine Burton, Labour M.P. for Coventry South, for a Junior Olympic Games for boys and girls (under 17) from the 15 member countries of the Council of Europe. Such an event, held at Strasbourg, would be a first of its kind.

Miss Burton was an outstanding athlete in her youth, being a member of the British team at the 1932 and 1936 Olympic Games. She would like to see such an event inaugurated next year - the Olympic year.

On a minor scale
It is not an intention to provide a separate Games of girls, but to have a mixed event of boys and girls.
