Racial co-operation Kenya's 'only hope'

MRS. SHAW'S NOTE OF CAUTION

Kenya's only hope for the future lay in the success of the coalition Government, Mrs. A. K. Shaw, Member for Nyandarua, said in a public meeting in Kisumu. The portents were dark, she said, but there was no question of the fact that European hand-picked public planner than with public opinion.

Many points, and she had herself flooded in from all over the Colony, would like to see cooperation between the two races, and to labour, she said, that the Government has no option because it is essential that racial safety should be secured, she had outlined her motion in debatable terms.

Mrs. Shaw said she had been the Government majority in the House was to complete legislation to have a referendum on an Opposition tabled by public opinion able to get a further spur on the Government. At present the Opposition, she was weakened by sectional interests and racial antagonism.

Taxation burden

The limit had been reached in direct taxation in certain ways to be introduced into the bill. The burden of taxation was not distributed evenly between the class of taxpayer and another. It will come as a great disappointment to Kenya that the Government has made it clear that it does not mean to accept the recommendations of the Commission on taxation, but to carry out the country's own policy.

"The Report should not be rejected only on these grounds. The Government should accept as many of the recommendations as possible and replace the loss of revenue by some other means which are more equitable to taxpayers."

Lophole discovered

Mrs. Shaw then referred to the motion, in which she had been elected as a representative of the county on a comprehensive Government scheme.

The double trustee at Nakuru had done a lophole in the present system and the need for photographs as well as established limits was not established. It was proved how necessary it was for boundaries to be safeguarded from encroaching unwillingly. Thus, farmers, rivers and more than 100 acres of most of the land built on a very fine system of boundaries. This would result in the Government of the Kenya. The Government should be pulled leaders of the country with a view to the fact that she stated that that was in

U.S. SHORTAGE OF SCIENTISTS OF classrooms

IN the training of engineers and scientists the United States is rapidly falling behind the Soviet Union, according to the chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Mr. Lewis Strauss, addressing the Edison Research Institute in West Orange, New Jersey, Mr. Strauss said. "This is the cold war of classrooms. In five years our lead in the training of scientists and engineers may be wiped out and in ten years we could be hopelessly outstripped."

Importers at Tanga blamed for hold-up

An important cause of congestion at Tanga port—although certainly not the sole cause—is the fact that importers are not clearing their goods as quickly as they should. This was stated by the President of Tanga Chamber of Commerce, Mr. E. R. Bishop, when he told members that no great progress had been made in finding ways of improving the situation.

Surcharge warning
 He said delay in clearing was sometimes unavoidable, but it is not correct to say that many of the importers do not clear their goods as quickly as they should. He urged importers to clear their goods as quickly as possible, and to let the port remain as free as possible, although he knew full well that this is a serious and long-term problem.

MEET THE 'BOOKMOBILE' LADY'

WHEN Edna Ritchie drives up to a rural school in Perry County, Kentucky, in the United States, the festive moment of the week has arrived. For Miss Ritchie is the 'bookmobile lady', and her truck, well stocked with books, is a source of never-ending delight to the children of that remote mountainous region.

Each week during the school year she provides her travelling library, filling it with new reading materials drawn from the complete library in the little town of Ary, and starts on her 100-mile round. Finding streams, following rough mountain roads and coping with rain storms and floods are part of the job of this librarian of the hills.

Major project

HER weekly major project is a ten-day trip to visit 12 primary schools. Taking her food, which she eats under the trees, and a tool kit for any emergency auto repairs she may need to make Miss Ritchie covers 100 miles each day and spends the night in a farm family. The remainder of the week she devotes to shorter trips and the odd job of the library.

"In the three years that have taken her book truck

I have come into contact with thousands of children, all eager and excited to see me because I bring them fresh books," Miss Ritchie said. Some of the schools she visits are tiny, one-room buildings with only one teacher; most are two-teacher schools and some have a staff of three teachers.

Bigger job

MISS RITCHIE's biggest job is to help the children find books appropriate to their age and reading tastes. Stories, fairy tales, novellas are always of interest and magazines are becoming increasingly popular, especially those that tell the early life of great heroes, statesmen. She also advises her teachers, about suitable stories to read to the young children and carries a few volumes for the adults of the region.

Her books and friendly advice are not the only reasons for Miss Ritchie's popularity. Part of her equipment on each trip is a suitcase on which she plays and sings with the children the songs of the country. Many of these favorites are old English ballads that have lived on in the Kentucky mountains since the days of the earliest settlers. The bookmobile which

Miss Ritchie takes to the mountains is one of two prepared by Homeoparc Organization, a community center in the small town of Ary, Homeoparc. Established 25 years ago and endowed by a philanthropist, it contains, in addition to the reading room, a woodworking shop that serves the mountain area, a library and a school building.

The library at Homeoparc, which started but a small way, has now grown to more than 12,000 volumes. The bookmobile service, which covers three counties, is said to be the first ever operated in Kentucky. Recently the State government, in cooperation with Homeoparc and commercial groups, has financed a comprehensive travelling library which covers the remotest regions of every county in the State.

"It would be hard to estimate the value of the bookmobile service in the children's lives," Miss Ritchie said. "But one work that the choice like being able to spend time with the children." A social science student type of woman, Miss Ritchie enjoys the many pleasures she has made possible for the children. She has no work and the choice like being able to spend time with the children.

PARTY CO-OPERATION URGED FOR GENERAL GOOD

Varying views at Kitale

Kitale, Nov. 23.—The Independence Party and the African Country Party to settle their differences and work together for the good of the Colony. This was the view of the F.P.P. Association at Kitale. The views of the F.P.P. and the African Country Party were set forth by Maj. B. P. Roberts, Col. H. R. Jackson and Mr. C. Niwira, respectively.

The appeal came from Maj. B. P. Roberts, who said many Europeans learned the U.C.P. policy from the U.C.P. government of Europeans by members of other parties.

Secure stability
The first speaker, Col. Jackson, said the African was emerging from the dark past which it was time he had more say in the government of the country. He said British Government was likely to best over the country to any one complete power to any one community.

Slow advance
It was not the right time for any form of agreement in view of the present situation. He said that the U.C.P. must be able to carry out its policy. He said that the U.C.P. must be able to carry out its policy.

Association point
Mr. Niwira said that the African should form an East African Federation. He said that it should have three main pillars—industry, agriculture and commerce.

Election issue
The speaker said the party should be the force of political change. He said that the party should be the force of political change.

Fair trial need

The Kenya Government has agreed to accept the proposal to set up 15 health centres in the Western Highlands of the World Health Organisation that it should give financial assistance to the Government to the value of $100,000 (approximately £28,500).

Newest Soviet Warships Provide No Shocks

BRITISH naval experts after their first close-up of the Soviet Navy in the form of the squadron of two modern cruisers and four destroyers which visited Portsmouth in October, are busy comparing their impressions.

Not far advanced in radar Admiral Alexander Golovko's flagship, the Sverdlov, and her sister ship, the Gorki, are a bit old-fashioned in design, but the new destroyers are very modern.

Another major surprise was the towering bulk of the ships as they came in sight from the sea. The Sverdlov is 250 feet high.

British scientists sail for Antarctic in whaler

REPORTS ON TRUSTEE AREAS Further call for more information

THE Trusteeship Committee of the U.N. General Assembly has called again on the Trusteeship Council to give information concerning time limits and arrangements for the granting of self-government or independence to the Trust Territories.

Mr. C. H. Giffen, U.K. Representative, Indonesia and Mr. C. H. Giffen, U.K. Representative, Indonesia and Mr. C. H. Giffen, U.K. Representative, Indonesia, have urged the Trusteeship Council to give information concerning time limits and arrangements for the granting of self-government or independence to the Trust Territories.

CALL TO RADIO AMATEURS

A Team of British scientists—the advance party of the Royal Society's Antarctic expedition—has sailed from Southampton in the Odeon Thetis, commanded by Totan. Their job is to prepare for scientific observations to be made during the 1955-56 season.

Three-Power naval truce renewed

British, Chile and Argentine naval forces have renewed for another year a truce in the Antarctic. The number of warships there has been reduced to three. Under the renewed truce, first signed in 1944, the three nations undertake not to send naval units to the continent during the 1955 to 1956 Antarctic season.

Both Argentina and Chile claim sections of the British Antarctic. Falkland Islands Dependencies, British Antarctic Territory, each have eight bases there, and the Argentine claims 12. The three countries had agreed to meet in London last year to discuss mutual understanding and to effect the "friendly relations" between them.

STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE OF U.S. POLAR BASES Control of Cape Horn area needed

On his way to join ships of the American Antarctic expedition in New Zealand, Rear-Adm. Richard Byrd, the American Polar explorer, said in Washington that new bases being established in the Antarctic by a United States naval expedition could have a high strategic value.

If the Panama Canal should be further enlarged by the U.S. Navy to go by way of the tip of South America, the edge of the Antarctic is only 300 miles away. We would have control of that area or at least a strategic value.

The bases which the navy was to establish would probably result in the beginning of a permanent establishment of up to 500 people would be stationed there.

Commander Robin Hartmann, who led the American Antarctic expedition, said in New Zealand that it was almost certain that the U.S. Navy would establish a base in the South Pole area which would explore the possibility of establishing a landing field and a permanent station.

The Soviet Antarctic expedition will explore a triangle bounded by Queen Mary Land, Wilkes Land and the continent of Antarctica. The expedition is the first of an international Geographical year.

The small (540 tons), but sturdy, Norwegian whaling ship Thetis, when sailed on Tuesday with the Royal Society's Antarctic expedition, had a 100-ton cargo of equipment. It is headed for the Antarctic station in the Weddell Sea area.

The expedition is headed by Rear-Adm. Richard Byrd, the American Polar explorer, who is in command of the expedition. The expedition is the first of an international Geographical year.

Kampala car hooting 'excuse for bad driving'

KAMPALA MUNICIPAL COUNCIL is to ask the Government to introduce legislation which would permit local authorities to ban the use of car hooters in certain parts of the town. Many members thought Kampala should become a "silent" town, but others believed that to abolish the hooter would cause more accidents.

Mr. A. E. Bower said that some drivers seemed to think that if they were hooting, they were "excused" for bad driving. He said that if they were hooting, they were "excused" for bad driving.

Cocos isles taken over by Australia

AUSTRALIA has formally taken over the administration of the Cocos Islands, a privately owned "kingdom" in the south of Singapore.

The Cocos group is a small island group in the Indian Ocean, 1,100 miles from the nearest mainland. The islands were taken over by Australia in 1953.

Agreement for the transfer of the islands from the owner to the Australian Government was reached by British and Australian officials in London last month.

KENYA IN NEED OF MORE ENGINEERS

Highest standard demanded

ENGINEERING work in East Africa calls for a high individual standard of ability and often needs greater care in the selection of the older and more advanced countries. This view was expressed by the Administrator of East Africa, Sir A. M. Bruce Hutt, when he spoke at the annual meeting of the East African Association of Engineers in Nairobi on Friday night.

Mr. Hutt said that East Africa was suffering from the handicap that would be inherited by the impression that the standards of professional engineering were not high and that living conditions were rough and even dangerous.

Train our own

The need for engineers in East Africa was not a new one, but Sir A. M. Bruce Hutt said that the time had come when we could do it for ourselves. He said that the only alternative is to train our own, and that is exactly what the Royal Technical College has been doing for some time.

Good roads vital

Mr. Hutt said that the college aimed to obtain external recognition with some British universities, but that degree could be obtained as well as professional qualifications.

The first step

Mr. Hutt thought there might be some truth in the criticism that East Africa was run by amateurs. Many people believed that the territories were run by amateurs and that the standards of good training were low.

Flogging of prisoners described at inquiry

By the Commissioner of Prisons

Members of the House of Representatives at the inquiry into the flogging of prisoners at the Central Prison in Nairobi on Friday night were told that the flogging was a punishment for the disturbance.

Rough talks

Inside the prison, a group of prisoners and men in civilian clothes were having a rough time. The flogging was described as a punishment for the disturbance.

VILLAGERS WARNED OF HEAVY BOMBING

Security forces and Communist terrorists in Malaya were yesterday locked in their biggest battle for nearly a year. A fierce battle raged in Kuala Lumpur said a major battle was fought between troops and a large concentration of terrorists in the Jeloh and Kuala Belit districts of central Malaya.

Heavy armed jungle squads of police and troops were rushed to the area as reinforcements. Villagers were warned that there will be heavy bombing and shelling from two days ago and fresh as well as troops are being sent to the area.

Further details are being withheld for security reasons. Briefs have been imposed on two papers in the area to prevent villagers wandering in the area to see the fighting. The fighting is in the district of Kuala Lumpur.

RING THE BELL WITH YOUR NEXT CAR

The glitter of chrome, the glint of gadgets, the flash of a fine facade, can be terribly tempting; but the intelligent motorist looks beyond. The New Austins have that smooth look of quiet efficiency, and have been designed with a strong sense of value which inclines more towards the practical. Power unit, chassis, suspension, comfort have been built in the true Austin tradition of dependability.

The roominess and comfort of the Austin A40 and A50 Cambridge Saloons have brought luxurious light car travel to many East African motorists. The main choice between the two is their power unit. The A40 Cambridge family saloon is powered by a 1200 c.c. unit, and the A50 has a 1200 c.c. unit. Both models are available. The A40 family saloon in Nairobi costs £282 10/- and the A50 has £275. Austin Cambridges are remarkable for their amazingly economical performance, without larger brakes, new gear-change mechanism and special high-efficiency steering excel and real driving pleasure.

SIR ERNEST ON 'HOPE' REALISED

PROGRESS in the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland in the past two years had strengthened the confidence already held in the territories that formed the new State, says Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, chairman of Rhodesian Anglo-American, Ltd., on his annual report.

Sir Ernest says: "The basic reasons for the confidence are: (a) the strength of the economy; (b) the progress of development; (c) the stability of the Government; and (d) the progress of social and cultural development."

The report states that the Federation's economy is strong and healthy, and that the Government has taken steps to improve the standards of living and to create more employment opportunities. It also mentions the progress of social and cultural development, including the building of schools and hospitals, and the improvement of transport facilities.

GERMAN ECONOMISTS CRITICISE RESERVES INFLATION

By SYDNEY CAMPBELL

MANY German economists criticise the policies which have inflated Germany's foreign exchange reserves as bitterly as British economists criticise the policy which has depleted Britain's.

This inflation is, however, supposed inflation - Germany may be able to do it on the breaking pace of recent years. After dire warnings of how Germany's reserves are about to be depleted by rearmament and import liberalization, it will no doubt be found that they have gone up by another few hundred million marks. That production has come far, ever since one started making it on the day of the German currency reform in June 1948.

But the British policy which Germany may stop causing Germany to go on, it is suggested, is the right way to handle the foreign exchange reserves. The British policy of holding reserves in foreign currencies, rather than in gold, is, it is argued, the only one that can be maintained in the long run. It is the only one that does not require the export of gold and does not require the export of goods.

NAKURU PROTEST OVER $8,500 'UTILITY' SCHOOL

Europeans oppose lowering of building standards

NAKURU—A group of Europeans in Nakuru are dissatisfied with the erection of a utility-type day school to house the children of the town and have appointed a committee to try to ensure that building standards are not lowered. A resolution regarding the school was carried by 86 votes to all with few exceptions at a public meeting in the Town Hall last Monday night.

The resolution, put forward by a sub-committee of the Nakuru Chamber of Commerce, expressed grave concern over the decision of the Government to lower the standard of building, rejected an explanation that finances were not available and suggested that if insufficient money had not been allocated to education a review of national expenditure should be carried out to ensure that proper educational facilities were available for European children.

Members voted Mr. W. R. Forbes (President of the Chamber of Commerce), the Mayor (Comm. C. Kramer), Mr. R. W. Palmer, Mr. A. Storor, Mr. L. E. Long and Mr. D. Thayer.

Councillor's 'snip' order

The new school, the building of which has been stopped by the Municipal Council because of its failure to conform to requirements, is estimated to cost £85,000. It is estimated that the cost to the use of corrugated iron roofing is £10,000. The school is to be built on a plot of 100 ft by 100 ft instead of wood block flooring and impudently a public P.W.D. accommodation.

The medical officer had agreed to lowering the ceiling height from 10 ft. to 8 ft. 6 in. and had suggested that a roof trough, with sufficient ventilation, should be provided to combat the heat. The school was not to be built on a plot of 100 ft by 100 ft. It was decided that the school should be built on a plot of 100 ft by 100 ft. It was decided that the school should be built on a plot of 100 ft by 100 ft.

£17,000 D.C.'s office

Mr. Pukler said that to send children to "this collection of buildings" was unreasonable. There was no reason why Kenya people should accept a lower standard of education than that of the United Kingdom.

More protection of wild life being considered

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Lennox-Boyd, is considering whether it is necessary to increase the number of reserves in Kenya. It is suggested that a reserve be set aside in the area of the Nakuru National Park.

Flood photographs

The Government has received a number of photographs showing the extent of the flooding in the Nakuru area. It is suggested that a reserve be set aside in the area of the Nakuru National Park.

Reminder of Aberdare restriction on fishing

REMARKS—The Government is reminding anglers that the restriction on fishing in the Aberdare District is still in force. The restriction is intended to protect the fish stocks in the area.

How Hurricanes Are Formed: Columbus Was Scared By Them

PEOPLE in the West Indies, slowly recovering from the devastating losses delivered by Hurricane "Janet" to the various islands, have been told in a talk by Mr Angus Craigie, Director of the British Caribbean Meteorological Service that Christopher Columbus, the great explorer who discovered the New World, was terrified at the sight of a hurricane in 1492. It is said that Columbus was sailing from the West Indies in July, 1492, when he encountered a hurricane which he named "San Martín". The hurricane was so violent that it blew the ship off course and drove it northward over the Caribbean islands and the Azores. Columbus was so terrified that he turned back to the south. This was the first hurricane to be recorded in the West Indies. It was named "San Martín" because it was so violent that it blew the ship off course and drove it northward over the Caribbean islands and the Azores. But whether hurricanes, typhoons or cyclones, all are characteristic in symptoms: a low pressure area, a clockwise wind, a heavy rain, a storm surge of 10 or more feet above normal. They are all tropical cyclones which form over the warm waters of the Indian Ocean, the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans. Australia and New Zealand are also affected by these storms. SUPPORT FOR LOAN SCHEME

Leading societies on colonial motion

NAIROBI CITY COUNCIL has decided to support a motion to establish a loan scheme for the benefit of the colony. The motion was passed by a majority of 12 to 4.

The motion was introduced by Mr. J. M. Brindley, Director of the Kenya Land Development Corporation. He said that the scheme was designed to help the colony to develop its land resources.

Visit to museum

Seven tenants have already visited the museum at Nairobi. The museum is a collection of historical and scientific objects, including a collection of birds and a collection of minerals.

The museum is located in the grounds of the Government House. It was opened in 1954, and has since been visited by many people.

Market rent resolution delayed

The Government has delayed the implementation of a resolution to increase market rents. The resolution was passed by the Government in 1954, but has not yet been implemented.

The reason for the delay is that the Government is still negotiating with the tenants' union. The tenants' union is opposed to the resolution, and has threatened to take industrial action.

Africa in danger from Communism and Islam

VIEW OF LUTHERAN LEADERS

COMMUNIST indoctrination of African students abroad is a serious danger to the continent, according to Lutheran leaders in Kenya. The leaders are concerned that the students will return to their home countries and spread the ideology.

The Lutheran leaders are also concerned about the spread of Islam in Africa. They believe that Islam is a threat to the Christian faith, and that it will lead to the destruction of the continent.

Opticians form association

A new association of opticians has been formed in Kenya. The association is called the Kenya Opticians Association, and it was formed to represent the interests of opticians in the country.

The association has a number of members, and it is expected that it will play an important role in the development of the optician profession in Kenya.
