ISRAEL SUBMITS PEACE PLAN TO U.S.

Intentions outlined on Middle East

MUTUAL CHANGES TO BORDER SUGGESTED

ISRAEL has given the United States an eight-point plan for bringing peace to the Middle East, it was announced in Washington. The proposal, which refers to the Israeli Government's position, were submitted in response to official inquiries by the U.S. Government in August.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles, was given the plan before he left the State capital meeting in Paris. After the Washington meeting, the Israeli representatives had opened fire on an Israeli plane in the north border incident in four days. The Israelis, according to Egyptian sources, had been launching the attack which led to the fighting between the two countries.

The first step in the plan is to suggest that the Israeli Government should be willing to discuss the possibility of mutual changes to the border between the two countries. The plan also suggests that the Israeli Government should be willing to discuss the possibility of mutual changes to the border between the two countries.

Laying the dust on India's policy

PRIME MINISTER EXPECTED TO REAFFIRM NEUTRALITY

From a British Correspondent
STEPS by the Indian Prime Minister, Mr. Nehru, to bring his policy of non-alignment back to its every-day level are expected soon now that the Prime Minister has returned to Moscow. It is believed that Mr. Nehru will clear his foreign policy of any allegations that it is leaning towards Communism. Charges to that effect were widely made after the speeches in India of Marshal Tito and other Communist leaders. The Prime Minister's return to Moscow is expected to be a confirmation of what is Mr. Nehru's policy: non-alignment. It is not a policy of neutrality but a policy of independence of action. It is not a policy of non-alignment but a policy of independence of action. It is not a policy of non-alignment but a policy of independence of action.

Don't take our word for it...

You don't have to take our word for it. Make a test—add more for yourself. OMO really does do everything. It cleans, it de-limes, it whitens, it polishes. It does any washing powder you think will make a good job of your white wash. Give it a fair test and compare the results. Then do a test wash with Engstrom BLUE OMO. Make it work really hard—use the hottest clothes you can find from OMO's gentle spinning motion. When you have finished loading, compare the whitens. You'll see that OMO does in fact give you a whiter wash than you ever thought possible. Wash your clothes on all-over scrub or stained. OMO gives you the whitest wash in the world.

MAKE THIS SIMPLE TEST YOURSELF!

X First of all do a wash with any other washing powder you like, and give it a thorough test.

OMO Then do a wash with OMO, the BLUE washing powder that really keeps its promise of whiteness.

BAMBOO CURTAIN HIDES CHINA'S GREAT EXPANSION

A PICTURE of widespread construction and industrial and agricultural activity on the Chinese mainland, in its sixth year under Communist control, is given in a report reaching Hongkong. The picture features China's new "Great Leap Forward" plan, which calls for new highways, radiating from every town, and the development of rail and steel industries and other major production centers. # SOUTHWARK SOUTHPAW WANTS A MELBOURNE TRIP

From the pin-tables to a place in the Olympic sun

By ERIC NICHOLS

WHEN Great Britain's boxing team for the 1956 Olympic Games is named, one man had better be in it: Southwark, the people of Southwark, London, will all know the reason why.

They will have a better in their number, 28-year-old Ray Francis, international light-middleweight, who you can see in the handiest sets of knuckles in the light of the world. In a few weeks, southpaw Ray from Southwark has great promise as a "big name" in amateur boxing.

Francis is a member of the "Big Name" of the world's boxing scene, the "Big Name" of the world's boxing scene, the "Big Name" of the world's boxing scene.

Of track and field, he knows the ropes. He knows the ropes. He knows the ropes. He knows the ropes. He knows the ropes. He knows the ropes.

Nanyuki won for Nyeri

NYERI R.F.C. beat Musyri by 13 pts. in all in their Saturday match at Nanyuki.

The match was played in the 11th minute by Nyeri's scrum-half, W. R. N. Tristram, who went over for a try. One of Nyeri's full-backs, Robert Gillette, full-back, scored the conversion attempt.

14 men only

The twelve-line, English Harborough, of Nyeri, had to leave the field with a knee injury. This made the strength of his last team weak, as the Nyeri team were only able to field 14 men.

Shortly after, Nyeri increased their lead after Black, right half, crossed the way for Pritchard to make the Glendale conversion.

Near the end of the match, the ball was kicked into the hands of Walker, who scored over the back of the Glendale scrum-half, brought the score to 13-0.

INDIA, who drew the first Test at Hyderabad and won the second at Bombay by an innings, fought back in the third Test at New Delhi. They had scored 216 for two wickets at lunch on the fourth day, but a blundering attack for a total of 100 wickets in the morning and all the interest went to the interval. India's loss of the Test was due to the fact that the Indian bowlers were not able to take any wickets in the first two days.

Two-division league suggested for county cricket

While ways and means are being desperately sought by leading County officials to raise the standard of football and international team, cricket might find the same way out. English's great national game is being threatened by the suggestion of a two-division league. This would mean that the top teams would play in one division and the bottom teams in another. Mr. Elizabeth wanted the word "amateur" cut from the rules of lawn tennis as being redundant. He also indicated that he would like to see the Wimbledon an open tournament. Mr. Elizabeth is not aware with other members of the Association. What this Kent official wanted was a more open tournament. ### RETURN TO THE TOP MAY BE BLACKPOOL PRESENT

Huddersfield-Sunderland clash could prove vital

CHRISTMAS brings good cheer. But not always for Britain's professional footballers. They are thinking more in terms of points than Christmas pay. With strict training regulations the only cheer they are likely to receive is three lots of winning bonuses from their holiday games if they're lucky, writes Eric Nicholls.

For Manchester United it may be a week-end of mixed fortune. With an away trip to Watford on Monday today and a home game against Arsenal on Tuesday, the Blues will be looking for a victory to give them a good start to Sunday's Christmas fixtures.

But they may have a heavy day as they face the League leaders.

Seaforders fortunate

Aston should be too strong for their own ground today and while United may have Christmas Eve, the Seaforders are expected to gain both points and a morale boost from their home game.

Both teams are expected to be at their best on Christmas Eve. The Seaforders have a long list of players who have been called up for the game. The team which played last week at home in their City jersey are expected to be at their best.

The match will be a hard one. The Seaforders have a long list of players who have been called up for the game. The team which played last week at home in their City jersey are expected to be at their best.

ADVENTURE INTO UNKNOWN ATOMIC AGE

The Queen urges a chain of reaction COLUMBUS OF THE MOON BORN ALREADY THEORY

Sunderingham broadcast of Christmas message

THE Queen's broadcast from the Royal Palace at Sandringham on Christmas Eve, was a stirring appeal for a chain of reaction to bring about the atomic age.

"I am sure that the world will be a better place in the year ahead if we are to make the world a better place for all people of the Commonwealth and Empire have their part to play in this voyage of discovery."

The Queen urged her people to set in motion a chain of reaction with the powers of light which would illuminate the message, the B.B.C. on Christmas morning took up the message, described the efforts of Commonwealth scientists to harness their knowledge to the service of the people and invited the world in collision, a chain of millions of light-years away to enter upon the path of discovery.

The leading Commonwealth scientist, Australian physicist, Dr. H. G. Rees, predicted that "the Columbus who travels to the moon has probably been born already."

Prof. A. C. Doolittle, the first professor of radio astronomy in the world, urged his research station at Mill Hill, Chelsea, where a giant radio telescope is being built, to pick up radio waves from a "space-ship" which would report from any part of the moon.

Dr. Rees also urged his colleagues to pick up radio waves from the moon, and to report back to the earth.

Introduction of a new crop to Kikuyuland

RICE'S PART IN RESETTLEMENT

RICE is an entirely new crop in the Kikuyu country of Kenya, it being cultivated on the extensive Mwaa Plain, south of Mount Kenya. It will play a vital part in the resettlement of thousands of Kikuyu families with no land of their own. Many of the Kikuyu who will be allocated plots on this big new rice-estate are coming out of Mau Mau work camps. Before they can get any of this land, however, the seeds of the landless Kikuyu must first be met.

Traditionally, the ambitious Mau Mau leader in British-ruled Kenya had the Mau Mau Plain, now nearly strangled at birth by the Mau Mau terrorists themselves.

Terrestrial detour
The Mau Mau men spent their activity in the Mau Mau District in the Mau Mau Plain. The natural Department started an experimental rice plot which was producing successful results. But the Mau Mau attack, and as it has struck at other sources of rice, is being replaced by a central leadership was successful in the rice plot experiment and all the valuable records destroyed.

Without any records on which to assess the results of the experiment, the experiment had to start two years before the experiment was started by the present Government and decided that rice would grow successfully on this Mau Mau Plain.

Seeding phase
The Mau Mau men had been in the Mau Mau Plain for some time, but they had not had any records on which to assess the results of the experiment. The Mau Mau men had been in the Mau Mau Plain for some time, but they had not had any records on which to assess the results of the experiment.

Rice will not be the only crop, however. It will be the major crop. Where possible, every settler will have land on the low-lying black soil to grow rice and possibly even sugar cane. The Mau Mau men had been in the Mau Mau Plain for some time, but they had not had any records on which to assess the results of the experiment.

Higher prices for Kenya beef producers

VIEW OF INCREASED COSTS SINCE 1952

Kenya beef producers are to receive higher prices for their beef since 1952, according to a report by the Ministry of Agriculture. The report states that the cost of production has increased significantly since 1952, and that the current prices are not sufficient to cover these costs. The Ministry has therefore decided to increase the prices of beef to a level that will allow producers to cover their costs and make a reasonable profit. The new prices will be effective from the beginning of the next season.

The local government is responsible for the provision of many services that are essential to the well-being of the community. Young people are the future of the country and it is important that they become involved in the work of the local government. This will help them to develop a sense of responsibility and to learn about the issues that affect their community. The local government is currently facing a number of challenges and it is essential that young people step forward to help address these challenges. There are many opportunities available for young people to get involved in local government work, and it is hoped that more will take advantage of these opportunities.

MALAYA ADVANCES ITS DATE FOR 'FREEDOM'

To ask for a broader Constitution

Malaya has advanced its date for independence and is now asking for a broader constitution. The date for independence was originally set for 1957, but has now been moved to 1958. This move is seen as a sign of progress and is welcomed by many in the region. However, there are concerns that the current constitution is not broad enough to meet the needs of the people. A broader constitution would give the people more say in the way the country is run and would help to ensure that the government is accountable to the people. The government is currently in discussions with the people's representatives about the possibility of a new constitution. It is hoped that a new, broader constitution will be adopted in the near future.
