The Edible Canna

By L. A. ELMER, Assistant Agricultural Officer.

OWING to the drought, a far larger number of farmers are becoming interested in the cultivation of Edible Canna. This plant was first introduced into Kenya about fifteen years ago from Rhodeasia and Queensland, but it has not previously been considered to any great extent owing to the following reasons:

1. The difficulty of getting cuttings.
  2. The severe fluctuations in the price of the crop which have discouraged the farmer.
  3. The fact that a good soil is necessary for the plant to flourish and the land is usually unsuitable for the crop.
  4. There has been no market for the tubers except to stock.
- ADVANTAGES
- There are certain great advantages in this crop which should be carefully considered by every farmer. The plant is easy to grow and can be planted in 2 years after the first year. It is a very hardy plant and can be grown in any soil. It is a very profitable crop and can be grown in any soil. It is a very profitable crop and can be grown in any soil.

An analysis of fresh canna tubers grown at the Scott Agricultural Laboratory is as follows:

The nutritive ratio of the above is 1:1.5. For comparison the N.R. of the following crops are given:

Potato: 1.45
Cassava: 1.45
Canna: 1.45

GROWING EDIBLE CANNAS

The Edible Canna will flourish in any soil, but it is best to grow it in a rich soil. It is a very hardy plant and can be grown in any soil. It is a very profitable crop and can be grown in any soil.

Dressing of Flax Seed

FLAX growers will doubtless be anxious regarding the new seed dressing plant which has recently arrived in Kenya. The machine is a very simple one and is operated by hand. It is a very profitable crop and can be grown in any soil.

Kenya Tsetse: Statement by Col. Stanley

Unfortunately owing to manufacturing and shipping delays the machinery arrived in Kenya only 2 or 3 weeks ago, although orders had been placed as far back as June, 1941.

Again, owing to the necessity of having shipping orders for the framework which would normally accompany the tsetse machine, it has had to be despatched to the coast by sea.

Col. McClelland, the Flax Officer, has done his utmost to accelerate the work of construction and repair of the machinery. It is expected that the machinery will be ready for use by the end of the month.

ANALYSIS OF TUBERS

An analysis of fresh canna tubers grown at the Scott Agricultural Laboratory is as follows:

Water	Crude Protein	Fat	Carbohydrates, N-Free	Crude Ash
%	%	%	%	%
85.85	1.15	.03	11.41	.50 .80

DISTRICT FARMING NOTES

Soitik

Soitik is one of the few green plants in the Colony which the rain is far below the average for this time of year. The crop is a very hardy plant and can be grown in any soil. It is a very profitable crop and can be grown in any soil.

Soil Erosion Survey in S. Africa

One of the world's leading authorities on soil conservation is being asked by Union farmers to conduct a country-wide survey. It is Dr. Walker C. Lowdermilk, a former Rhodes scholar and son-in-law of the United States Soil Conservation Service.

Rubber Production Committee

His Excellency the Governor has appointed a Rubber Production Committee for the review of the rubber production in Kenya and to advise the Government on the subject.

Highlights In America "INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION IN EAST AFRICA"

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT)
The most important domestic news of the past week was, of course, the election of Roosevelt as President.

On the other hand, however, the economic news of the week was the announcement that the United States will spend at least $12 million dollars in the next few months to help the East African countries...
