SPECULATION ON H-BOMB TESTS

Concern in New Zealand

LEADERS of the two main parties fighting candidates at reports that the United States might seek to test hydrogen bombs in the Antarctic about 2,000 miles from New Zealand. The reports speculated that an American explorer of expeditions, the one to leave on December 5 might seek a landing ground near Little America in the Ross Dependency area which New Zealand has administered since 1922.

Speaking at Auckland, the Socialist Opposition leader, Mr. Walter Nash, revealed that the Federal Party, led by Mr. J. M. Wilson, was also concerned with the possibility of a test in the Pacific. Mr. Wilson said that the Federal Party was planning to send a party to the area to conduct a test. Mr. Nash said that the Federal Party was planning to send a party to the area to conduct a test.

Always building a greater East Africa

The history of East Africa began with the building of the railways and harbours, and the country developed as the railroad crossed. Today, despite difficulties and uncertainties, the Railways and Harbours are undertaking every new and important project. They are building for the future because they are confident that greatness and prosperity lie ahead for East Africa.

A LONG JOURNEY BECOMES PLEASANT OCCASION BY THE NEW 1st CLASS COACH

Passengers on East African Railways can now enjoy a standard of day and night travel comfort previously unknown in the territories. The new 1st class coaches, coming into public service on November 12th, take advantage of the latest advances in design and the most modern materials to give every practical aid to comfort. They make a long journey a pleasant relaxation instead of an irksome necessity.

These coaches are some of the three thousand new vehicles bringing new standards of rail travel and goods transit to East Africa. Soon 268 new passenger coaches and 2,893 goods vehicles will have modernised the system's rolling stock; and provided another example of the way East African Railways are meeting the needs of the present and providing for the needs of the future.

Kipsigis farmers buy first tractor

PROSPECT OF INCREASED CROPS AND GREATER PROFITS

Kipsigis farmers of the Madoera area have bought their first tractor—drawn plough to operate on the Kipsigis Reserve in the three months since the annual tractor week was last organized. The tractor was bought by the Kipsigis Farmers' Association from their own funds, although the Government has also contributed towards the purchase. The fact that the tractor was bought by the Kipsigis Farmers' Association is a good sign, for it shows that the farmers are beginning to realize the advantages of modern farming methods. The tractor will be used for ploughing and harrowing, and will also be used for transport. The Kipsigis Farmers' Association is a voluntary organization, and its members are all farmers. The association was formed in 1945, and has since then been working to improve the standard of living of its members. The tractor is a valuable asset, and will help to increase the productivity of the Kipsigis Reserve. It will also help to reduce the cost of farming, and will enable the farmers to produce more food for themselves and for their families. The Kipsigis Farmers' Association is a proud owner of the tractor, and it is a credit to the association that it has been able to purchase it from its own funds. The tractor is a symbol of progress, and it is a sign that the Kipsigis Reserve is becoming more modern and more prosperous.

THE CAMERAMAN GOES TO BRITAIN'S ZOOS

HARDLY a week passes when Britain's zoos do not provide a story and, of course, a picture, for the zoos are a cameraman's paradise.

Quite often they are amusing like the one on top left in which the baby Indian elephant, Lakshmi, of the London Zoo, strikes a lighthearted pose with the tyre which is her favourite plaything.

Or what of the baby giraffe? "That is not the way to use a chair at all," Josephine, on the left, seems to be saying to Congo, her comrade.

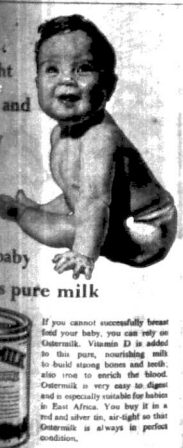

The pressing lion cub, whose father was a killer, are held up tight, by Christine Roberts, a girl keeper at Dudley Zoo in Worcestershire. They are male and female twins and were the first to be born of the two mums the year.

Chris, the London Zoo's baby giraffe, should have a special appeal for us. She was born at the zoo in Masai, a herding-tribe of the Kenya species. Chris is only the second London-born giraffe to survive in 36 years.

Aurora, the polar bear, seen bottom right, has quite a history. When she arrived from America in September she was disappointed in its expedition. She was a gift of Trade-refund an import licence. Later, when it had been proved that Aurora was a bona fide gift, the Board objected.

And what of Misha, the London Zoo polar bear? He didn't mean to fall asleep but he was thinking of his and that and along came the Sunday man to haul him into this state of blissful repose.

The baby South American kang seen below with its mother, is quite an unusual fellow for he was born at sea. And the captain of the ship named him Thorpe after the vessel in which he was born.

By J. W. Taylor

FROM his home at Highgate, London, a 51-year-old widower, with two and two daughters, daily journeys to his office by trolley bus to be spotted by the official car in which he is entitled to work at the enormous task of estimating that the more than four thousand million pounds of the taxpayers' money annually spent by Government departments is disposed of in accordance with the routine of the House of Commons.

PROFESSOR URGES 'Let's Not Be Beastly To The Planetids'

MEN should approach planetoids with caution, Professor Fred Whipple has urged. They are the "dirty snowballs" that are the cause of meteor showers. He says that we should not be "beastly" to them, but rather try to understand them.

U.S. attitude

Disapproval of the British attitude toward the planetoids is expressed by the U.S. Government. The State Department has issued a statement expressing its disapproval of the British attitude toward the planetoids.

The Ragnan's Point Of View

DO you remember the second-time man, England's last so-called "two women" in East Africa who died last week, and the matter of the British Empire.

But the régime of British rule in Africa has just been "repealed" by the British Government.

In a B.B.C. broadcast he told them: "First, before we do anything else, we must get the matter of the British Empire straightened out. We must get the matter of the British Empire straightened out. We must get the matter of the British Empire straightened out."

Greeks Plan 'Tourist City' At Lake Marathon

PLANS for the creation of a "Tourist City" at the Lake of Marathon, near Athens, have been submitted to the Greek Ministry of Trade by a group of Greek businessmen headed by Mr. John V. Vassiliou. The city would have, in addition to modern hotels, its own means of transport, sports grounds and other amenities likely to attract tourists.

It would cover an area of 60,000 tourists a year, worth of about £2,000,000, part of which would be covered by tourists.

The Site

THE site chosen could hardly be more beautiful. It lies in the plain of Marathon, 30 miles from Athens. The site is a beautiful plain, surrounded by mountains, with the sea in the distance. The water is clear and the air is fresh. The site is also very convenient for transport, being only 30 miles from Athens.

At many other strategical points, the site is equally beautiful. It is a beautiful plain, surrounded by mountains, with the sea in the distance. The water is clear and the air is fresh. The site is also very convenient for transport, being only 30 miles from Athens.

The Roads

GREAT efforts are being made to, to solve the problem of road transport.

THROUGH MY HAT

By Kenneth Meadows

THE busy world that we live in is a very strange one. It is a world of constant change and of constant progress. It is a world where the old is being replaced by the new, and where the future is being created by the present.

For, surely, there must be some sense in all this. There must be some purpose in all this. There must be some meaning in all this. There must be some reason in all this.

I should have been very big. I should have been very big. I should have been very big. I should have been very big.

The Secret Of Scotch Whisky

By HANNAH MACKENZIE

In the world of whisky Scotch is the most famous. Scotch whisky is not only the most popular but also the most refined. It is the only whisky that has been distilled in Scotland. The secret of Scotch whisky lies in the water and the peat. The water is soft and pure, and the peat gives it its characteristic flavor. The whisky is aged in oak casks for many years, which gives it its smooth and mellow taste. The result is a whisky that is both delicious and healthy.

DIANA FLICK'S Story For The Children Binny-Bunny pays with a promise

MRS. BUNNY sent Binny a letter with a large sack full because he said he was going to the school. Binny had only one thing to say when he saw the sack. "What's in it?" he asked. "It's a promise," said Mrs. Bunny. "It's a promise that you'll be a good boy."

Binny was happy to see his mother. He had been told that she was a witch. But now he knew she was his mother. He was happy to see her. He was happy to see her.

Movable Steel Island Helps Underwater Oil Search

JUST a short time ago a 1,200-ton movable island of steel, with many features unique in the world, was lowered into the sea. It is the first of a series of drilling for oil at sea set up in the Persian Gulf at a cost of around £500,000. It was completed in just over nine months. The island was fabricated at the Harrogate steel works in Yorkshire and was shipped to Dubai in Qatar where erection work was done. The platform is a movable island of steel that has been built in London from the steel plates which were used in the construction of the island. It is a large structure, 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, and is supported by a central column. It is designed to be lowered into the sea and to be moved to various positions. EVIDENCE ON FINDING OF 'LEAKY' ARTICLES

Articles marked with the name "Leaky" were alleged to have been found in a cave on the slopes of Mount Kenya at the time of the trial. A copy of the articles was given in the lower court at Nyeri on Wednesday when the trial first began.

It was jointly charged with two other men and a woman on two counts of unlawful possession of a revolver and possession of a licence of arms. The charges were brought by the Crown Prosecutors, Messrs J. M. Macleod and W. H. M. Macleod. These three men and the woman were charged with possession of the articles. And Now The North Pole Is On The World's Air Routes

FOR the first time in history air travelers are to fly regularly over the North Pole for on November 19, Scandinavian Airlines System will open their polar route starting from Copenhagen flying via Sweden, Norway, Greenland and ending in Canada and returning via the West Coast of America—a flying time of 27 hours and ten minutes, including stops.

It means that, with the existing routes to Copenhagen, the passenger will be able to fly from the Kaiser over the red sea to the Far East of the world in 42 days. The Danish Government has long contemplated such long international routes but has not been able to build in Copenhagen.

Shorter journey

On the flight from London to Copenhagen the passenger will be able to shorten his journey to 27 hours and ten minutes, including stops.

The reason for the flight is to be made in the present time. It is a result of the fact that the Danish Government has long contemplated such long international routes but has not been able to build in Copenhagen.

and opening of the route is an advance of 20,000 people and half their way to the airport. Hundreds of planes will fly to Copenhagen to meet the passengers. The flight will be a record for the world's air routes.

The Danish Government has long contemplated such long international routes but has not been able to build in Copenhagen.

HANDLING CHARGES TO BE RAISED

Revenue necessary for increasing costs

East African Railways and Harbours Administration has announced that the heavy charges, which have been in force since 1953, will be increased. This decision was announced by Mr. A. K. Karby, in a foreword to the annual report for 1954.

The effect of raising costs completely cancelled the revenue for 1954, which amounted to £18,000. This was due to the fact that the revenue for 1954 was £18,000, which was exactly the same as the revenue for 1953.

Many reasons could be found for the increase in costs. The main reason is the increase in the cost of fuel, which has risen by 50 per cent. This has led to an increase in the cost of electricity, which has risen by 25 per cent. There has also been an increase in the cost of maintenance, which has risen by 10 per cent.

1951 London cab makes debut in Nairobi

An old London taxi cab, which was used by the East African Railways and Harbours Administration, has been seen in Nairobi for the first time. The cab was brought to Nairobi by the East African Railways and Harbours Administration, and is now being used for transport.

The cab is a 1951 model, and is a very comfortable and reliable vehicle. It is being used for transport of passengers, and is being well received by the public.

Speakers declared that the policy constituted unfair trading practices, and that it was harmful to the farmers of the other countries who were not receiving the same subsidies.

The Rev. John K. Coombs, Secretary of the African Council of the General Assembly, expressed his work among the Bantus in South Africa as a missionary. He said that the Bantus in South Africa were suffering from frustration at the Assembly of the Church of Edinburgh.

ART EXHIBITION HAS THREE DAYS TO GO

ONLY three more days remain in which to visit the latest Fine Arts Exhibition, opening the wide avenue to art throughout East Africa — a fact evidenced in the widespread praise from which many of the 120 entries were received — we have taken into a miniature art gallery.

The finished characterization of a Somali boy painted in oils and seen top left is by Bruno di Brega while, top right, is a painting in tempera by Robin Anderson entitled "The Strangest Valley". The young and well-known artist has done many different media expertly and this picture captures the spirit of a Kenya landscape.

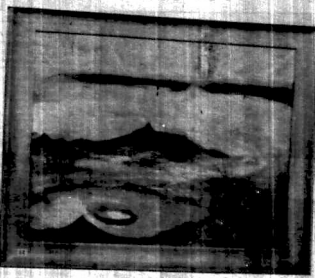

Left to right, along the bottom of the page are, first, an interesting composition in water colour by Mr. J. Kwana of a group of native girls. Then we have Mrs. E. Inoué's oil painting called "Franziska" in which soft glowing colours and contrast in textures are well portrayed.

Third is a vivid and striking portrait in oils of Mrs. Alex. Hunter by Mrs. Joyce Butler, of Nairobi.

The fourth painting — the second from the brush of Bruno di Brega — is called "Gullow Waters", an oil which shows masterly treatment of a vast expanse of water.

The last painting in our "gallery" here is "Hambro Court Palace" by Mrs. Helga Saunders, executed in ink and wash. The solidity of the building and the suggestion of detail combine to make a most attractive composition. The List of all the art of the defunct detailed studies by Lane-Corporal M. Jackson, a member of the Society, who sent in several entries.

SHELL WOOD PRESERVATIVES

NO. 58 & 35

For The Protection of Timber.

Shell preservative past contains protection against BOREAS, TERMITES (white ants) and ROT (fungal diseases).

The wood penetrates in corners of a timber of any thickness, and also seeps through in the case of 20/20 in several minutes.

The treated wood is completely protected from insect attacks, and sufficient penetration is obtained in the timber.

The Advantages of Shell Wood Preservatives:

Great absorption and retention.

The new active ingredients are dissolved in mineral oils of a high penetrating power. After the application of the oil the preservative remains in the wood giving permanent protection.

No leaching.

Shell preservatives are virtually insoluble in water and consequently cannot leach out in rain or other water.

No staining or other effects.

Oil does not affect the shape of the timber and no change occurs during or after the treatment and after the evaporation of the oil the timber can be ready painted.
