Senior ladies' first golf championship

AT 7.30 a.m. yesterday the first class of the Senior Ladies' Golfing Society, Mrs. M. V. Mortimer, Mr. J. P. French, and Mr. T. A. Ross, had their first round at the Royal Border, still even though the weather was wickedly sultry.

Failed to recover

The qualifying round, on Friday, was won by Mrs. French, Mr. A. C. G. Ross, and Mr. C. C. Thompson. Conditions for Saturday were very difficult. Rain postponed the first round until Saturday morning, and the first round had to be played in the afternoon when the clouds came in. The very bright sun beat down on the green lawns, but Mrs. Mortimer, Mr. Ross, and Mr. French, all had excellent scores.

Hard-fought final

The second round was decided better than the first, and the second was won by Mrs. Mortimer, who had a much easier afternoon.

Mrs. V. Mortimer

Mrs. V. Mortimer, 26, from Finchley, London, has been playing golf for 12 years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Mortimer, a solicitor, and has been playing golf since her father took her to the course when she was very young.

John D. Mortimer

John D. Mortimer is an engineer, and has been playing golf for 20 years. He is a member of the Royal Liverpool Golf Club, and has been playing golf since he was 12 years old.

HIGH COSTS OF LIVING HERALD DEPRESSION

RECENT correspondence in "Standard" (October 15) has led me to believe that we have a situation of constant increases in the cost of living which is unacceptable. I do not know any country, from the standpoint of inflation, where the development of the financial system is as bad as in this country.

The Bank of Kenya has been unable to meet its obligations to the public. The rates needed to be higher than the rates set by the Bank of England. The latter would not be able to meet its obligations to us either.

I fully believe that unless something is done to improve our economic situation and reduce the amount of foreign exchange used in imports, there will be no economic development. This is because the Bank of Kenya is being forced to sell its gold reserves.

We must start from the moment of importation of raw materials, to manufacture handicrafts and make a certain wilness to reduce the cost of living. Let the police immediately stop the importation of non-essential goods. Let the Government take steps to prevent the importation of non-essential goods. Let the manufacturers drive with care and skill, and above all, the consumers prevent waste.

R. J. GILLES.
And C/o: R.E.A.A.

Make the roads safer

I READ Mr. Hoy's article on road safety with great interest. What a lot of common sense there is in it and yet what an indictment that should be necessary.

More of our roads are downright dangerous and, in addition, there is a lack of enforcement of existing laws.

There are many more motorists roads still provide accidents. It is up to us to make them better and to see that the types of roads mentioned in Mr. Hoy's article, that is, modern asphalt roads, are built.

Mr. Hoy makes a good point when he says that the roads are being used on their behalf. Many drivers are not fully aware of the fact that they are being treated as if they were.

Let the roads be made safe and let the Government take steps to prevent the importation of non-essential goods. Let the police immediately stop the importation of non-essential goods. Let the manufacturers drive with care and skill, and above all, the consumers prevent waste.

R. J. GILLES.

And C/o: R.E.A.A.
