Police kill six border raiders

G.O.C.'S VISIT

KENYA POLICE killed six of the Mobile raiders from Uganda after they crossed the border into a night attack at the border.

The Mobile raiders had been in the area for some time and had been causing a great deal of trouble to the local population. The police had been alerted to their presence and had been on the lookout for them.

The raiders were seen to be crossing the border at night and were immediately pursued by the police. A fierce battle ensued and the police were successful in killing six of the raiders.

The remaining raiders fled and the police were successful in recovering some of the loot. The incident has caused a great deal of concern among the local population and the government is taking steps to ensure the security of the border.

The G.O.C.'s visit was a routine one and was intended to inspect the work of the police and to discuss the measures to be taken to deal with the border raiding problem.

U.S. REJECTION OF NEHRU'S APPEAL

Nuclear weapon tests

President Eisenhower told the Prime Minister of India, Mr. Nehru, a cabinet member that the ending of nuclear tests should be a condition for the resumption of talks between the two countries.

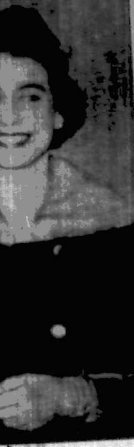

Mr. Nehru's appeal for a moratorium on nuclear tests was rejected by the United States. The United States government has long been opposed to nuclear tests and has been working to bring about a ban on such tests.

The United States government has been successful in bringing about a ban on nuclear tests in many parts of the world. It is hoped that the United States will be able to bring about a similar ban in the rest of the world.

Fully loaded with two tons of equipment and in an altitude of 7,000 feet, it is assisting the expedition with their vital supplies. As the going has not been tough, the UNIMOG has had the opportunity to show its great power and versatility. The six-cylinder, four-stroke engine of the UNIMOG "G" has proved its value in thousands of Mercedes-Benz passenger cars. The compression ratio of 6.5 : 1 was selected in view of the possibility of using reasonably priced fuel; the engine then renders an output of 35 H.P., S.A.E. The modern innovations all serve to increase the engine's reliability, resistance to wear and fuel and economy of operation. The fully synchronized transmission has six forward speeds; the first two gears are interlocked for cross-country operation; after the reverse driving lever has been engaged, they serve as reverse gears. Upon special request, the vehicle can be equipped with a two-speed auxiliary dropping gear and with front-end steering take-off shafts, and many other features.

NEW HOSPITAL SCHEME TO ASSIST FAMILIES

Nakuru making start

A NEW hospital insurance scheme, the first of its kind in Kenya, will help Nakuru and a wide area of the White Highlands, the town "national health center" to assist from January 1.

The scheme, which will be financed by the Government, will cover the hospitalization of the insured and their families, including operations, maternity services, hospitalization, and other services. The cost of payments will be met by the insured and their families, with the Government contributing to the cost of the hospital and the medical staff.

Daily allowances

Persons enrolled on the scheme will receive daily allowances for hospitalization, and for the cost of medical and nursing services. The allowances will be paid to the insured and their families, and will be sufficient to cover the cost of the hospital and the medical staff.

Group reductions

A 15 per cent reduction in the cost of hospitalization will be granted to members of the scheme who are members of a family. This reduction will be applied to the cost of the hospital and the medical staff.

Existing scheme

The new scheme will be in addition to the existing scheme of hospital insurance in Nakuru. The existing scheme will continue to operate, and the new scheme will be added to it.

Future plans

The Government is planning to extend the scheme to other parts of the country. It is also planning to improve the scheme by providing more services and by reducing the cost of hospitalization.

KENYA COMMERCE REACTIONS

Concern at expansion of S. & T. Department

COMBINED at the expansion of the Kenya Government's new Eastern and Transport Department, and the consequent implication of a fresh increase in State control over trade and industry in the Colony, was expressed by members of Nairobi Chamber of Commerce on Monday night.

The Chamber approved a resolution which expresses the "considerable apprehensions" entertained by the Government in setting up a department which would include staff which, it is felt, is heavy cost to the taxpayer, the traditional and legitimate functions of commerce. It was also considered that a department of this kind would be a hindrance to the development of the Colony.

It was stated that the expansion of the department would result in a loss of jobs to the private sector. The Chamber also expressed concern over the expansion of the State's role in the economy.

PROGRESSIVE FARMING IN NYANZA

PRaised BY MR. BLUNDELL

All-round improvement

CONSIDERABLE advances in agriculture and in the health of the agricultural population in Nyanza have been made over the past few years. The people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past. These were the main reasons for the improvement in the health of the population. The Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Blundell, who visited Nyanza recently, said that the progress made in the past few years was due to the fact that the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past. He said that the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past.

...the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past. He said that the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past.

Good results
The results of the work done in the past few years have been very good. The people of the area have been able to produce more food and more income. They have also been able to improve their health and their living conditions. This is due to the fact that they have been able to use modern methods of farming and to take advantage of the services of the Government.

...the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past. He said that the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past.

Control problem
The problem of controlling the population of Nyanza is a serious one. It is necessary to take steps to control the population in order to ensure that there is enough food and income for everyone. This can be done by encouraging people to work the land more intensively and by providing them with the services they need.

...the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past. He said that the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past.

Next advances
The next advances in agriculture and in the health of the agricultural population in Nyanza will be made by continuing to use modern methods of farming and by taking advantage of the services of the Government. It is necessary to continue to improve the health of the population and to ensure that there is enough food and income for everyone.

...the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past. He said that the people of the area were more modern in their outlook and more progressive in their methods of working the land than in the past.

U.S. Businesswomen look to the future of new headquarters

With an ever-increasing number of women in all parts of the world working at more and more varied and responsible jobs, those cities designed to look after the interests of business and professional women are growing in strength. The International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs now represents organizations in 100 countries. It is the largest of them through its United Business and Professional Women's Club, as yet in its infancy. It was started in 1902 and has since then had a number of meetings for the purpose of discussing the needs of business and professional women.

NATIONAL CENTRE

A 20-year-old organization, the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, established in 1913, with its headquarters in New York, is now planning to purchase the interests of a number of women in the United States in an effort to bring about a national center for the organization. The building, which is now being used as a headquarters in Washington, D. C., is being purchased by the organization in order to bring about a national center for the organization. The building, which is now being used as a headquarters in Washington, D. C., is being purchased by the organization in order to bring about a national center for the organization.

MARRIED WORKERS

There has been a marked increase in the number of married women workers in the United States. This is due to the fact that many women are now working outside the home in order to support their families. This is a significant trend in the labor market, and it is expected to continue in the future.

VICTORIAN AIR

The new headquarters of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs is now being established in Washington, D. C. This is a significant step towards the organization's goal of providing a national center for its members.

Youngsters taught to help aged

The idea of teaching young children to help the aged is being promoted in many schools. This is a noble and important initiative that aims to instill a sense of social responsibility and compassion in the younger generation.

JAPAN GIVES FASHION STIMULUS TO WEST

The kimono, which for centuries has been the exclusive asset of Japanese women, is emerging as a fashion stimulus to the Western world. The concept of the kimono, with its elegant lines and traditional patterns, is being adopted by Western designers and models. This is a significant trend in the fashion industry, and it is expected to continue in the future.

MODIFIED KIMONO

The modified kimono, which is a combination of the traditional kimono and Western fashion, is becoming increasingly popular. This is due to its versatility and its ability to blend traditional Japanese aesthetics with modern Western fashion.

MUCH SIMPLIFIED

The kimono is being simplified and adapted to the needs of the Western world. This is a significant step towards making the kimono more accessible and practical for Western women.

Garlanded bowls back in fashion

The use of garlanded bowls in fashion is making a comeback. This is a nostalgic trend that is appealing to many people who appreciate traditional Japanese aesthetics.

The modified dress designer of a famous French fashion house at work — 11-year-old Yves Saint Laurent, while apparently as nervous as the late Christian Dior once was, envisions a few months ago, sketches models on a blackboard.

TWO QUESTIONS ABOUT TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Letters to the Editor

N<sup>o</sup> reply appears to be forthcoming about the two questions in your column of 10th March.

It is a pity that the Editor of the Yearbook should have been so hasty in publishing the two questions in your column of 10th March. The questions were not only ungrammatical but also unanswerable. The first question was: "What is the difference between a technical school and a technical college?" The second question was: "What is the difference between a technical school and a technical college?"

PLANS FOR NEW NILE DAM

Uganda looks to 1970 power requirements

Uganda's Electricity Board has submitted proposals for a dam on the Nile...

The dam is to be built on the Nile river, about 100 miles from Khartoum...

The dam will generate electricity for the power needs of the country...

The dam will also provide irrigation facilities for the surrounding area...

The dam will be completed by 1970, when Uganda's power requirements are expected to rise...

The dam will be a major step towards the development of Uganda's power resources...

MADE BY PENGUIN DAIRIES LIMITED A KENYA CREAMERIES PRODUCT

ALTHOUGH astronomers can tell us very little about the "Star of Bethlehem", you can be certain of one thing ... it was no Sputnik, or any other kind of man-made satellite, that guided the three Wise Men to the lowly manger in Bethlehem two thousand years ago.

Yet at each Christmas in the ages since, its light has entered the hearts of all who have known its story.

Surely, we may trust that the spirit of the star, whose light has burned so brightly through the centuries, will lead us all to a better understanding and to fuller measures of compassion and generosity as friends, neighbours, business associates, employers and employees.
