14 lb. IN 3 DAYS!

There is an authentic case on record of a horse which was infested with Tsetse from which it lost more than 14 lb. of body weight collected in a day. This was stated to have occurred in the bush but had, as it were, been shot by the animal. It is no wonder that the voracious animal did not starve to death.

Water is the life-blood of this Colony. It is one of the greatest natural resources of the Colony and yet in some districts the gradual but certain loss of it is approaching, due to a widespread conservation policy.

Watered conservation, the preservation of water, is a subject which has attracted the attention of the Government and the public.

Do you use make-up blender?

For women who are truly fair-skinned and who possess very straight noses, the make-up blender is definitely indicated in the complexion. It is a small, round, flat, oval-shaped device, made of metal, which is used to blend the make-up into the skin. It is a very useful and convenient device, and is available in many sizes and shapes.

THE Chancellor of the Exchequer recently vehemently denied in Rome that starting in going to be devaluated. He said that devaluation is neither necessary nor will it take place. So, for the moment that is that.

But only for the moment. The Chancellor's denunciation, however emphatically expressed, was hardly intended to be of the same and straight too good. They say signs of devaluation are being seen in the pound. We have been hearing that British exports are falling and that the pound is being devaluated. We also know that the pound is being devaluated. We also know that the pound is being devaluated.

Some of us felt quite new boys for girls, wrote our London correspondent at the busy little cocktail party held recently at the Royal African Club in the Strand. It was a party for the benefit of the African Society, the first of a series of parties of the kind of which the African Society has been holding since 1939. At the party, which was held in the K.R.A. in the Strand, the Secretary, Mr. George Logan, was assisted by the Hon. Mr. George Logan, Secretary of the African Society, who is also the Hon. With two competing sets of price structures, does the solution lie in STERLING DEVALUATION?

BRITAIN LEADS IN EXPLORATION

By RICHARD DENMAN

IT'S a good sign that Britain is still in the van when it comes to exploration. In the past few years, British exploration has been particularly active in the Antarctic, the Arctic, the Middle East, and elsewhere. The British Antarctic expedition, led by Sir Edmund Hillary, is a fine example of this. The expedition was successful in reaching the South Pole, and it was the first to do so since 1911.

Other objectives of the expedition were to explore the interior of the continent, and to establish a permanent base. The expedition was successful in all these objectives, and it was a great achievement for the British Antarctic expedition.

Humidity: Humidity will be moderate to high, particularly in the coastal areas.

Wind: Light to moderate easterly winds, with gusts to 15 mph.

Clouds: Partly cloudy to overcast, with some cumulus clouds.

SHARE PRICES TUMBLE IN NEW YORK

SHARES in short prices fell today on the New York Stock Exchange in the past few days. Selling pressure was the result of the news of some securities on the lower levels of the market.

In contrast, Mr. C. D. Clark, the American representative on the London Stock Exchange, said that a decline in share prices in New York was being caused by a combination of factors, including a general loss of confidence in the American economy and a rise in interest rates.

Mr. Clark said that the American market was showing signs of a recovery, but that it would take some time for the market to return to its former levels.

The London Stock Exchange, however, showed a steady upward trend in share prices, with the FTSE 100 index rising to a new high of 1,000 points.

The Bank of England, in response to the rising share prices, raised its discount rate from 4% to 4.5%.

The rise in the discount rate was expected to lead to a strengthening of the pound sterling against the dollar.

The overall picture is one of a recovery in the American market, but with some uncertainty over the future of the economy.

HOW TO IMPROVE ENGLISH CRICKET

Country could once again be supreme by George Tribe

This is the first of a series of articles by George Tribe, Editor of the "Cricket" section of the "Spectator," on the improvement of English cricket. The first article is on the subject of the "county" cricket, which is the only form of the game which is played in England. The second article is on the subject of the "Test" cricket, which is the only form of the game which is played in England and Australia.

England had the same system of discovery and development of cricketers as that of Australia. This was in fact the case for the first time in the history of the game when Australia again made the world cricket team after a long period of inactivity. This was due to the fact that the English cricket team had been beaten by Australia in the first Test match in 1877. This was the first time that a non-English team had beaten the English team in a Test match.

The reason for this was that the English cricket team had been beaten by Australia in the first Test match in 1877. This was the first time that a non-English team had beaten the English team in a Test match.

League grading

Why not grade the league as it does in the States? Why not give the players a chance to rise to the highest class, not on the basis of a single match, but on the basis of a season's performance? The highest class would be the first class, and the lowest class would be the fourth class. This would give the players a chance to rise to the highest class, not on the basis of a single match, but on the basis of a season's performance.

Anticipation

The leader has to show great powers of anticipation and make the batsman feel that he is in a trap. This is the only way that the batsman can be beaten. This is the only way that the batsman can be beaten.

SQUASH RACKETS FLOWERDEW RETAINS HIS TITLE Third successive championship

It was a surprise when Flowerdew retained his title as champion of the British Open Squash Rackets Championship, but he has done so for the third time. Flowerdew, who has been the champion for the last two years, defeated his opponent in a final match which was one of the most exciting of the tournament. Flowerdew's victory was a surprise to many of his fans, but he has proved himself to be a champion of the highest quality.

SUMMARY OF THE WEEK'S SPORT

BRITISH amateur golf received a great fillip during the week-end when following the example set by the British women at Harlech—the American invaders at Portmarnock repelled.

THE American stranglerhold on the British women's golf championship was broken by the Irish at Harlech on Thursday when Mrs. Van Rookhuizen, County Louth, Ireland, by five and four in the 36-hole final.

UGANDA AFRICANS have their own blood service

The Uganda (General Council) Branch of the British Red Cross Society claims responsibility for the only blood transfusion service in Uganda. 14 lb. IN 3 DAYS!

There is an authentic case on record of a cow being fattened with Ticks from which no less than 14 lb of ticks were collected in 3 days. This is stated to represent only about half the number of ticks which can be swept from this animal. It is no wonder that the unfortunate animal died from acute anemia! While you would not suggest that you would neglect your cow in the extent that this case owner did, this shows what can happen if tick control measures are neglected.

Easy on Both Team and Driver!

NEW McCORMICK-DEERING No. 9 MOWER

It takes less power to pull the new McCormick-Deering No. 9 mower. That's because of the new ball-bearing transmission with Zero-Bevel gears. Besides, the gears are locked back to the axle and run in a bath of oil.

All gears are oiled and machined to precision accuracy. That means a few smooth, quiet-running mower hours for thousands of seasons.

See our list on the New No. 9 Mower. It's the most powerful mower ever made.

It is found that less fertiliser may grow bigger plants. This is because the plants are able to use the nutrients in the soil more efficiently when they are not over-fertilised.

HAVE YOU A BABY PROBLEM?

The Toddler who refuses to eat

LET OUR MOTHERCRAFT NURSE HELP YOU

by Louise Phillips

ARE Toddlers always difficult with their food? Yes, I think that quite often they are, for varying periods, and mostly between fifteen months and two years of age.

They are an age of inadaptation. Some Toddler refuse to eat what we are offering or we insist on the fact that they must eat what we have put before them, and we are not always happy for whom we are being so particular.

Whereas before they are in transition from a milk diet to one which we expect to put into their system, they are still dependent on their old mother's milk. They are old enough to hold a spoonful, but not old enough to be understood as to what that spoonful is for, and they are not yet old enough to be understood as to what that spoonful is for, and they are not yet old enough to be understood as to what that spoonful is for...

The remedy

The prevention and the remedy lie in giving the child his independence as to what he eats, and in being old enough for it—anytime after the first birthday, and certainly after fifteen months of age.

Some Toddlers refuse to eat milk, and some to eat what is not milk. You must insist on the fact that they must eat what we have put before them, and we are not always happy for whom we are being so particular.

Stand the child on a sheet of newspaper or a piece of old cloth. Give him an all day long, unbreakable bowl, and have two tablespoons of pure milk, and either a spoon or a spoonful, because he will be reluctant to eat with the spoon, and he will be reluctant to eat with the spoon, and he will be reluctant to eat with the spoon...

Simple rules

First, if your hair is at all naturally attractive, you should assume that this hair, which is so much a part of your own personal beauty, should rank above a hat when you are to create your own beauty scheme. If you don't consider your hair to be attractive, however, you may possibly allow the millinery designer to dominate the beauty scheme.

Second, if your hair is inclined to frizz, the very shortest hair fashion, you should recognize the fact that your hair is more likely to frizz if it is shorter than if it is longer. You must present yourself as a woman of style and grace. If you have hair which is naturally straight, you should aim for a style which is slightly wavy. If you have hair which is naturally wavy, you should aim for a style which is slightly straight. If you have hair which is naturally curly, you should aim for a style which is slightly curly. AFRICA'S DANGERS WITHIN 'Communist challenge will be made in Trojan manner, not with open force'

How one township celebrated Empire Day

AS a member of our Township Committee I suggested that we should organize the public holiday of Empire Day in our Township. It was no use gambling, I argued, that these public holidays only led to drunkenness and that Africans would be better at work than gambling or drinking their money away. Unless one were prepared to do something about it, I felt, the attractive should be provided.

WE accordingly appointed an Empire Day Committee. The committee met on the 10th of June. The first item on the agenda was to discuss the best way to celebrate the day. It was decided to have a variety of events, including a sports day, a pageant, and a concert.

DICK BENTLEY combs the music and Jay Nichols straightens the ties of Professor Jimmy Edwards, as the covers cautions the three stars of the popular variety show "Take It From Here" which is broadcast by the B.B.C. on the General Overseas Service at 8.30 P.M. on Thursdays.

"Take It From Here" is rapidly becoming one of the most liked programmes and the three stars make a perfect team. Both Jay Nichols and Dick Bentley are Australians. The three members of the Jimmy Edwards and Kingdome boys are good wags and the B.B.C. at Cambridge, is a regular programme and before rehearsal begins rush through the script with the greatest care to eliminate any grammatical errors. If there are any, the attention lines have to be fourfold then and there or he returns to say "ouch" on several attempts for a variety star.

CHESS

DRAMATIC FINISH

The following game, yet another example of the Sicilian Defence, was played at Mar del Plata 1944. Black in the present game adopts a variation which has now gone rather out of fashion and his opponents play against White to build up an overwhelming position at a very early stage.

The crisis of the game is reached at the twentieth move. Black having defended with great ingenuity, has evicted a number of attacking countries, threats such as first knight, which would give Black a solid though somewhat passive position. White, however, has been able to make a solid though somewhat passive position. White, however, has been able to make a solid though somewhat passive position.

BOWLERS TAKE COUNTY HONOURS

Indian player's fine analysis at Oxford

BOWLERS were in the line-up in Wednesday's first-class county cricket matches, with Grove (Warwickshire), A. H. Marshall (Oxford University), Jackson (Derbyshire), Wright (Kent) and Lawrence (Somerset) among the most successful.

The New Zealanders, travelling to Leeds for the first Test, beat Oxford on Saturday, with- out a loss.

The Z.C.C. had almost every bowler in the line-up, but only the new ball bowlers were used. The Z.C.C. had almost every bowler in the line-up, but only the new ball bowlers were used.

Keeps its shape

"We found it hard to keep its shape longer," he said, "but I would like to have been a bowler longer."

Other bowlers who distinguished themselves were Grove (Warwickshire), Jackson (Derbyshire), Wright (Kent) and Lawrence (Somerset) among the most successful.

Not used at Oval

The experimental ball was not used at the Oval and it was interesting to note that all the sides in the county championship have used it.

IN TENNIS YOUTH MUST BE SERVED

Emphasis today is on speed and attack

TWO recent stars of the Australian tennis players—Geoff Nixon, George Worthington, Miss Thelma Long and Miss Nancy Flinn—through their youth and only the differences in an international sense of the game locally but indicated an considerable amount of difference between the attacking and defensive forms of tennis as played today.

The British, to Koroza eyes, played tennis in the late 1940s and early 1950s. This was the time when the serve was slow and the racket was used as a lever to create a slow, high ball. This was the time when the player was expected to wait for the ball to come to him, and then to take a short, backhand stroke. This was the time when the player was expected to play a defensive game, and to wait for the ball to come to him.

The Australian style, which has been developed in the past few years, is a more aggressive style. It is a style in which the player is expected to take a short, backhand stroke, and to play a more attacking game. This is a style in which the player is expected to take a short, backhand stroke, and to play a more attacking game.

Learn from errors

It is better to make a few errors in a few weeks than to make many errors over a long period. This is because it is easier to correct a few errors than it is to correct many errors. This is why it is important for a player to learn from his errors, and to try to correct them as soon as possible.

Best at baseline

The best player is the one who is most comfortable at the baseline. This is because the baseline is where most of the action takes place in tennis. A player who is comfortable at the baseline will be able to hit the ball with more power and accuracy than a player who is not comfortable at the baseline.

Could be done

It is possible for a player to become a professional tennis player, but it is not easy to do. It takes a lot of practice and a lot of talent to become a professional tennis player. However, if a player is determined and hardworking, he can become a professional tennis player.

A good example

George Worthington is a good example of a tennis player who has become a professional. He has won many titles and has been ranked in the top 10 of the world. He is a good example of a player who has become a professional through hard work and dedication.

SHE IS WAITING

A woman of distinction is waiting for a man who is as distinguished as she is. She is waiting for a man who is as intelligent as she is, and who is as kind as she is. She is waiting for a man who is as successful as she is, and who is as loving as she is.

SMALL BOAT RACING ON THE THAMES

First of its kind for over a century

SMALL boat sailing and racing on the East African coast is a new sport which has been introduced into Kenya by a group of enthusiasts. The sport is known as 'small boat racing' and it is a very exciting and fast-paced sport. It is a sport in which the competitors use small, lightweight boats to race each other on the water.

Famous marks

The first race was held at the Victoria Harbor in Mombasa. It was a very successful race and it was well attended. The race was won by a boat from the Victoria Harbor. This was a very impressive achievement for the organizers and the participants.

Press co-operate

The press has been very helpful in covering the events. They have provided a lot of information about the race and the participants. This has helped to spread the word about the sport and to attract more people to the events.

ORGANISED SPORT AND THE B.B.C.

Strong opposition to television

ACCORDING to Geoffrey Sargent, the BBC's Director of Television, the BBC has received a lot of opposition from sports organizations and officials. They are concerned that the BBC's coverage of sports will be biased and that it will not provide a fair and accurate picture of the events.

Class results

The following table shows the results of the class races. The winners of each class are listed in boldface type. The runners-up and the third-place finishers are also listed.

CRICKET GREATNESS HAS TO BE EARNED

Something is sadly lacking in England

George Trill-bridge says that cricket greatness is not something that can be handed to a player. It must be earned through hard work and dedication. He says that there is something missing in the way that cricket is played in England. He says that the players are not playing with the same spirit and determination as they once did.

Something lacking

Trill-bridge says that the players are not playing with the same spirit and determination as they once did. He says that there is something missing in the way that cricket is played in England. He says that the players are not playing with the same spirit and determination as they once did.

Averages count

A player's batting and bowling averages are very important in cricket. They are a good indication of a player's skill and ability. A player with a high batting average is a good batsman, and a player with a low bowling average is a good bowler.

The better way

It is better to play cricket in a way that is fun and enjoyable. This is the way that cricket should be played in England. It should not be a boring and tedious sport. It should be a fun and exciting game that everyone can enjoy.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST A GOVERNOR

ALLEGATIONS of 'shocking practices' and 'disgraceful administration' in the Seychelles Islands were reported by Mr. Leonard Gamman, a conservative member of the House of Representatives.

In reply, the Colonial Under-Secretary, Mr. David Rose, declared that the whole matter of the administration of the Seychelles is to be discussed between the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Arthur Clarke, who is on his way to the island.

SUMMARY OF THE WEEK'S SPORT

THERE were a couple of two-day Victoria Derby matches which ended on Tuesday.

Sumner last Saturday at the first time since 1838, and Denis Compton was in holiday mood on Whit Monday.

Compton delighted a 20,000 crowd by hitting a surprise 128 in 28 minutes, but he was out of the bowling, his hit being nullified by the fielders.

The middle was dominated by the batsmen, who were out of the bowling, his hit being nullified by the fielders.

SOLUTIONS SUGGESTED FOR OVERSTOCKING PROBLEM

RE-DISTRIBUTION of the people, the cultivation of fodder crops, the development of the marketing and management and control of the existing grazing, the clearing of unused bushland, grass lands (noted as following, lower and better cattle, a re-adjustment of the people's diet, the adaptation of sociological requirements (such as "bribe price") to fit the more intense conditions, and ultimately the achievement of a numerical stability of the population.

These are among the factors suggested by the Government's published Government report on Native Affairs as a solution to the problem of overstocking the African areas of Kenya. The study report states, "It is a standard fact by education and the encouragement of example, but the report also states that public interest to apply legal compulsion to prohibition of overstocking, where all fails."

The report also states that the solution of the stock problem on the land by sale or slaughter was a necessary part of the solution, but the solution of the problem was not a merely technical one, it required support from the African population. The report states that the increasing pressure of overstocking and the increasing part played by the African population were gradually leading to a better balance between the stock and the land.

An anomaly

This was noted in a number of successful sales which had taken place since the war had withdrawn. It may be that the Government report contains, that the problem of overstocking is not a technical one, but a social one, and that the solution of the problem is not a merely technical one, but a social one. The report states that the increasing pressure of overstocking and the increasing part played by the African population were gradually leading to a better balance between the stock and the land.

Zanzibar tries to grow more food

(STANDARD ZANZIBAR CORRESPONDENT)

ALL possible efforts are being made to increase the production of locally-grown foodstuffs, as owing to the failure of the rains, normal quantities of imported grains and pulses from the mainland territories, especially Tanganyika, are not expected to be available in the near future. It is understood that dairy supplies to Zanzibar from the mainland will be severely curtailed.

The Forest Officer's recommendation is to increase the production of the Protectorate to the maximum extent possible. A scheme for the mangrove forests of the Protectorate is being considered by the Government. The scheme for the establishment, protection and management of forest reserves is under active consideration.

NEW MOOD IN INTERIOR DECORATION

CHANGES of fashion in home making are just as sure if less sudden than changes in dressmaking and from a pointer here and there it looks as if we are in for another change any minute now.

Reviewing the story of interior decoration during the past few years, there seems to have been a seasonal ebb and flow in the "year" period of the 1950's. There were overtones of the 1940's—our homes, painted walls, ceiling and woodwork deep white and that faded the rooms with only the most subtle and tasteful touches of color. Architects were reduced to a low state of depression, and the "modern" headwaters. Upright chairs were bent steel instead of chrome. Mirrors were framed in plastic and pictures from the wall. There were a few "accents" allowed—no credentialed to geometric shapes, and a few "accents" that give the room a certain stage.

The flatter look, a continental style, a "modern" look, a "modern" look. Color came back to the walls and floors and furniture. The "modern" look is to be made. Almost without exception, the "modern" look is a blend of Victorian was upon the scene. The "modern" look is a blend of Victorian was upon the scene.

Some findings by scientists on

Sleep: its mechanism and meaning

By Professor W. R. FEARON
SOME insight into this shady business can be obtained from the investigations of four scientists who have met around the bedside of the sleeper: they are the psychologist, the pharmacologist, the pathologist, and the physiologist.

The psychologist has observed the frequency and depth of sleep, the effects of sleeplessness, and the mental changes associated with the onset of sleep.

The pharmacologist has found drugs which can make up sleep or prevent its onset. The pathologist has studied the changes in the brain that take place during sleep.

The physiologist has found that during the waking life of a normal person a considerable amount of energy is being used for the maintenance of the body's internal equilibrium.

At the end of the day, when the body is at rest, the energy expenditure is reduced. This reduction is called the "sleep response".

The wells of Gedi

To many visitors the most striking thing about the ruins of Gedi is the wells. Big, little wells, wells that you could not see with the most distracting company in Gedi. Wells that were so hidden by both that you could easily take a false step and so slipping down into obscurity.

To be truthful, you have got to be on your feet in the well. It is interesting to find that the wells were a pit for not only to the ancient but also to the modern. The wells were a pit for not only to the ancient but also to the modern. The wells were a pit for not only to the ancient but also to the modern.

The story is worth one of the portions to the well. It is interesting to find that the wells were a pit for not only to the ancient but also to the modern. The wells were a pit for not only to the ancient but also to the modern.

Travellers' wells

There are some very small wells in the little water in a man's hand. The water is clear and deliciously sweet when it is dug and the water is sweet when it is dug and the water is sweet when it is dug.

One of the many wells in Gedi, showing the remains of the building wall.

Slaves at the well

The Great Mosque of Gedi has elaborate arrangements for the collection and distribution of the water from the well. The water is collected in a series of basins and is distributed to the wells. The water is collected in a series of basins and is distributed to the wells.

The slaves who drew the water stood on a step beside the well and pulled the rope. The water was collected in a series of basins and is distributed to the wells.

A mystery

We can picture the scene around the well at Gedi. A bright moonlight shone on the water. The water was clear and deliciously sweet when it is dug and the water is sweet when it is dug.

Kitale plans to be a commercial centre and farming capital

RAPID EXPANSION OF TOWN IS PRIORITY JOB

NO official has been given a warmer welcome in Kitale than Mr. Bruce Whitaker of the Survey Department. He is there for the purpose of surveying Kitale's township plots and the rapid expansion of the town has made this a real priority job.

Without the survey the plots cannot be sold; building is delayed; so Mr. Whitaker's arrival was greeted with cheers. Directly it is possible, business plots in Kitale will be put up for sale. There are already a few plots—scarcely needed because there is some over-occupation of the increasing Indian business and African population.

It will not be left entirely to private enterprise to solve the housing problem for Indians and Africans. Directly it is possible, business plots in Kitale will be put up for sale. There are already a few plots—scarcely needed because there is some over-occupation of the increasing Indian business and African population.

Wholesale market
Detailed proposals are being for creating a new location, complete with its own beer hall and other social amenities, to cater for the rapidly swelling numbers of the African tea-seller.

There will be a market, where Africans can buy goods for their use of their produce and other goods. This will lead to a regular wholesale market. It is hoped, with a European auctioneer for essential wholesale produce auctions.

These auctions would not be confined to Africans but would also cater for the European farmer, enabling buyers to make purchases of every kind of produce from the rapidly developing Trans Nzoia District. In fact, the keynote of the district, which has attracted a goodly proportion of new settlers since the war and is looking forward to still further intensification of both farming and commercial enterprise.

New water supply
Water is a problem in the town, as for the general supply—a run by the P.W.D. still—cannot cope with demands and the 12-inch pipes do not deliver a sufficient flow of water to deal with fire fighting. Kitale therefore has no fire engine—top all that will change when the D.A.R.A. scheme for water development is put into effect. The Municipal Board naturally look forward to having this new water supply when the time comes, since it is a public utility and a producing public utility. And the Board is pressing for an early start on the project.

Kitale 'drome'
Through a Private Sub-Committee, consisting of the type representative committees in the Municipal Board of all building in the town. This is highly important, because the young and growing district has been taken into account as such a public utility. A good many tractors have been taken into account as such a public utility. A good many tractors have been taken into account as such a public utility.

Generosity
What is Kitale worth? Well, a valuation recently completed for the purposes of Municipal rating shows the unimproved site value of land in the town at over a million pounds. This includes a large amount of land, a great being paid in lieu of rates by the Government. A rate of 11 per cent on the improved site value is being charged on this piece.

EMPIRE

We have already met one enchanting mermaid in Britain's "Mermaids" and now we are invited to meet another in Hollywood's "Mr. Peabody and the Mermaid". Mr. Peabody (William Hopper) is a fisherman from the Caribbean basin, a beautiful mermaid, Kati Ina, lives in the Pacific Islands. She meets him when his ship is wrecked on a rocky shore to fall in love with her. The mermaid's love is not the only cause of his trouble, but his wife's complication. When his wife dies, he goes away with her. The story moves to an exciting climax. Doubtless the British mermaid, Miss Haykin, does not speak. The underwater world created for the film remains in Florida as a tourist attraction.
