USE OF LIVES TO BARGAIN 'IMMORAL'

FOR the Stanleyville insurgents to use the lives of White civilians as a bargaining point was "desecrating and the implementation of the threat, even now, as the Minister of Education, Mr. Ali M. Maud, said at a meeting of the Privy Council in London yesterday.

Mr. Maud was speaking at a meeting of the Privy Council, which is held in London by the British Government to discuss the affairs of the Colonies. He was speaking in reply to a question from the Earl of Salisbury, Minister of Education in the Government of the United Kingdom.

While the question he was asked was in regard to the situation in the Congo, Mr. Maud made it clear that he was referring to the use of lives as a bargaining point, rather than to the use of lives as a bargaining point in the Congo.

Motor union will try to negotiate

ATTEMPTS are to be made to negotiate with the motor industry and avoid the possibility of a strike, Mr. Maud said at a meeting of the Privy Council in London yesterday.

Mr. Maud was speaking at a meeting of the Privy Council, which is held in London by the British Government to discuss the affairs of the Colonies. He was speaking in reply to a question from the Earl of Salisbury, Minister of Education in the Government of the United Kingdom.

While the question he was asked was in regard to the situation in the Congo, Mr. Maud made it clear that he was referring to the use of lives as a bargaining point, rather than to the use of lives as a bargaining point in the Congo.

C.D. CARS INCIDENTS DENIED

SEVEN people were charged with offences relating to the C.D. cars, but the Ministry of Transport has denied the incidents.

The Ministry of Transport has announced that it has received reports from the public that several C.D. cars had been used in a manner which was contrary to the regulations.

However, the Ministry has stated that it has no record of any such incidents, and that the reports are unfounded.

Forces go off the air

It was not until late in the afternoon that the British forces in the Congo were able to go off the air.

The British forces in the Congo have been in contact with the Stanleyville insurgents since the beginning of the month. However, the insurgents have been unable to establish a radio link with the British forces.

The British forces have been unable to establish a radio link with the Stanleyville insurgents because the insurgents have been unable to establish a radio link with the British forces.

Stanleyville rebels crush near runway

A Belgian-Chartered DC4 aircraft crashed on take-off at Stanleyville airport and conflicting reports put the death toll at variously between seven and 36, with no firm indication of how many were on board the plane.

Officials of the Belgian International Air Transport Service, which ran the crashed plane, said they were not sure if it was hit by rebel gunfire or if it crashed by accident.

People returning from Stanleyville on an earlier flight said they saw hundreds of rebels massed in dense bush at the far end of the runway and Camp Air Force planes were firing on the plane and on the ground.

An airline company official said the crew and all 30 passengers of the estimated 40 Congolese passengers were killed. A U.S. Air Force source told reporters that only Belgian people were on the plane and that seven — four Belgian and three Congolese — were killed.

Airliner turns back

CONTEMPT CONVICTIONS ARE WASHED

The High Court of Madras today dismissed the contempt convictions against a woman who had been fined for publishing an article in a newspaper.

Lockhart-Smith had appeared in the High Court for the contempt conviction against her. She was represented by Mr. A. C. Jeyarajoo, who argued that the article which she had published in the 'Newspaper' was not a defamatory statement.

This involved an appeal against the order of the High Court on August 13, 1950, which had sentenced her to a fine of Rs. 100 for contempt of court.

All the members of the High Court, including the Chief Justice, dismissed the contempt conviction against her. The Chief Justice said: "The contempt conviction against her was based on a finding that she had published a defamatory statement. This finding was based on the evidence adduced at the trial. The evidence was not sufficient to establish that she had published a defamatory statement. Therefore, the contempt conviction against her is set aside."

BOTTLING WORKERS STRIKE

Members of the Union and the workers of the bottling industry in Madras have gone on strike. The strike is being called by the Union to protest against the proposed changes in the terms and conditions of service of the workers.

Madras

Dealing with the submission of Mr. A. C. Jeyarajoo, on behalf of Lockhart-Smith, at the appeal, the judge said: "Contestant's main ground for appeal is that the finding that she had published a defamatory statement is not supported by the evidence. I have no doubt that the finding is not supported by the evidence. Therefore, the contempt conviction against her is set aside."

NEW £5,000 SWEET FACTORY OPEN Building complete in only five months

Quality English products now made in Nairobi

A NEW chapter in the history of the House of Manji Ltd opens with the start of production at the company's latest project — the manufacture of English quality sweets under the name and style of the National Food Corporation. Altogether the company is investing £154,000 in the new project.

The building represents the culmination of many months of preparation and planning by all members of the company, but in particular by a Manji, who has worked unflinchingly for 17 years with the company.

Sweets have been produced in East Africa for some time, but the high quality ranges have always been imported. The intention of the House of Manji is to ensure quality sweets and toffees at a price well below that of the imported variety.

QUICK ACTION AFTER SIGNING

The sweets and toffees are being made under license from two British manufacturers, G. Parkinson, of Dobson, and Paul Toffen, of Southey.

The agreements with the two firms were concluded by Mr. Manji some months ago and within a short time the signing work was begun on the factory site, which is opposite the House of Manji's Baring Biscuit Factory in Nairobi's Industrial Area.

Once the ground was cleared and levelled, construction of the building took shape. Today the modern machinery available, manufactured in different types of sweets and toffees, which are sent all over East Africa. They are available in Nairobi's largest department store and in the small village shops — all in different parts and at different prices.

Examples of the products are sent to all members of the family to give a quick trial.

CURRENCY SAVED

Mr. Manji commenced production of all sweets and toffees to give a quick trial to all members of the family. He is now producing the same products as those of the House of Manji.

It is a great credit to the manufacturer that such well-known brands of English confectionery are produced in Kenya, but it is a credit to the industry increasing exports of manufactured goods.

SIX BROTHERS PUT FAITH IN COUNTRY

THE success story of the House of Manji is a tale of progress, courage and foresight of six brothers headed by the eldest, the managing director of the company, Mr. Madhavji Manji.

The company was started in 1914. The first product was Baring Biscuits, keeping pace with the growth of the great East Africa during this period.

It was not long before the company had a second factory in the form of the Baring Biscuit Factory in Nairobi. It was here that the company first produced its own products.

On December 15, 1952, the company started to launch their own company and the foundation stone of their new factory was laid in Nairobi.

The foundation stone was laid by the company's managing director, Mr. Madhavji Manji, and the ceremony was attended by many of the company's staff.

The factory is situated in Nairobi's Industrial Area and is a fine example of modern architecture.

THE KIND OF SIGHT THAT CHILDREN DREAM OF...

VISIONS to the House of Manji's new sweet factory are immediately impressed by lay-out, hygiene, spaciousness and quantity. Holding off the machines every hour of the day, thousands of sweets and toffees in many shapes and sizes, all adding up to a child's dream.

There are some mouth-watering details:

Hours of machines such turning out sweets or toffees at the rate of 1000 pieces per month.

All the sweets and toffees are individually wrapped in cellophane or waxed paper and are individually wrapped in cellophane or waxed paper.

An important feature for the factory is that the machines are designed to give sweets and toffees and make them a low maintenance.

The factory is a fine example of modern architecture and is a credit to the industry.

New food to fight hunger

In the new year the National Food Corporation will be embarking on its second major enterprise — the production of a new type of food which will be sold in Nairobi.

The new food, which has the appearance of small pieces of chocolate, contains all the nutrients and will be sold in Nairobi.

The new food is a fine example of modern architecture and is a credit to the industry.

PALM TOFFEES—A FIRM FAVOURITE FOR 80 YEARS

PALM TOFFEES, the oldest of the brand names now being manufactured in Nairobi by the National Food Corporation, is an old-established British favourite. The company was founded in 1867 by Mr. N. B. Walters, a relatively new product, expanded and prospered and Mr. Walters brought his four eldest sons to work with him.

In 1922 a new factory was built on the west side of London which was considerably larger than the previous one. The new factory was a real triumph for the company, and it was in 1923 that the company was re-named National Food Corporation. In 1924 the Holland Group and the production was shared between them and Southport. The Palm company is now controlled by Mr. Michael Walters, a member of the founder's family from the Liverpool factory, although production is still shared between them and Southport.

Hobbies exhibited wide range of interests

This 4th Rotary Hobbies Exhibition was opened at the Charles Hall, in the Gloucester Club of the

by ANN MARSHALL

The hall was packed with examples of hobbies of every description, and the number of visitors was so large that the exhibition was held in the open air. The exhibits were arranged in a most attractive manner, and the following are a few of the more interesting ones.

Among the exhibits were a number of fine models of ships, and a large collection of stamps. There were also many examples of handiwork, and a number of fine pieces of furniture.

The exhibition was a most successful one, and it is hoped that it will be held again in the future.

THE WORLD LEADER

Sales of Rothmans are many times greater than those of any other King Size Virginia.
 There must be a reason why.

It's simply this:

Rothmans extra length finer filter and the best tobacco money can buy, give you that cooler, smoother,
 more satisfying taste.
 Try them yourself and you'll agree: Rothmans
 King Size really satisfies.

Rothmans King Size is better because the extra length travels the smoke further, makes it cooler, gives extra flavour and satisfaction.

Rothmans world-wide research has produced a finer filter... pure, clean smoke plus that smoking pleasure.

Rothmans King Size
 contains only the finest,
 most costly Virginia tobacco... the best tobacco money can buy!

AVOCADO RELISH

Another example of the avocado's versatility is proved in this recipe.

AVOCADO ICE CREAM
 Ingredients:
 1 ripe avocado
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 cup orange juice
 1 cup milk
 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup cream

Method:
 Mash the avocado and measure it in a cup. Put in an electric mixer. Add the rest of the ingredients and blend for 2 minutes.

Put the mixture into a freezing tray. When the ice cream has hardened, remove the sides from the blender and beat thoroughly. Return to the freezing compartment until firm. Remove containers and serve with fruit.

MISS KEZIAH MUNGAI

Miss Keziah Mungai
 has just left school and has already set her sights on an interesting career and takes part in many school activities.

She joined East African Airways in October and is training to become a sales clerk.

Missing tickets to prospective passengers involve many problems and calculations, and this week Miss Mungai is attending a course at the East African Airways Commercial Training Centre where she will be taught the theory of fare construction and air ticket laws.

At the end of this course
 she will return to the airline's passenger counter.

Miss Mungai started work with British Airways as a general clerk, working calculating machines, but after six months on this job she decided to take a course which has her full interest and is meeting people and dealing with them.

Trust will operate by check-off

Government would soon announce the details of a Kenya Trust in which all workers would be required to invest by way of check-off system, the Minister for Commerce and Dr. Kioko, said in the House yesterday.

The money would be used in accelerating industrial development. "I believe very strongly that through such a trust we can accumulate in Kenya a considerable sum of money which can be used to accelerate the industrial development of our country," the Minister said.

The Minister, who was replying to the debate in the House on the annual reading of the Foreign Investments Protection Bill, said he was disappointed with the terms of some of the proposals for creating a Kenya Investment Trust. He said that the Government was however, considering workers' funds to be set up on similar lines to the Tanzania money which he said would be used to help Kenya realize the need to contribute to the trust. The scheme would be used in building houses and other

One who warns those who make trouble in Kenya

One who warned those who make trouble in Kenya — would be given 24 hours, on the way out, to pack his things, and then to meet a meeting in his constituency in Nakuru.

He said that he had got tough with newspapers. Some outside papers had tried to make trouble by saying that the Prime Minister was very old and had failed to bring peace to Kenya.

NO BAZES IN KISUMU

There were also allegations that the Minister for Home Affairs, Mr. Odongo, was building training houses for Kikuyu.

The Minister said only one house — in Nairobi.

He said the new coming into the country, radio was fully controlled by the Government and would not stir up trouble, Mr. Odongo said.

Condemning racialist aggression in the Congo, the Minister said they had led from the front door and returned through the back door.

Mr. Odongo urged Asian traders to remain in Kenya — and he had a right to say so. He said he was not a politician but a businessman. He said he was not a politician but a businessman. He said he was not a politician but a businessman.

UNLESS Kenya had a sufficient supply of trained manpower, plans to develop the country would not be implemented, the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Dr. Kioko, said yesterday.

Dr. Kioko said yesterday when he spoke at the opening of the Nairobi Primary School. A country's system of education had a determining influence on the rate of its social and economic progress.
