

OLD COGNAC INTO JOSEPHINE BOTTLES

Compare it to it in a sample glass. The price and the beauty make for one, but the Character is in it. Look to see original, the Canadian V.I.O.G. Signature and the New York, in the distinctive Josephine bottle.

Mr. Mumbumi doubts American motives

THREE African nations — Ethiopia, Kenya and Uganda — have referred to events in the Congo at the U.N. General Assembly debate on world affairs. Kenya's Minister of State, Mr. Mumbumi, said that hostilities killed by rebels in Stanleyville would probably still have been alive had it not been for the American-Belgian paratroop drop last month.

"It almost seemed," he said, "as if the United States was not as much concerned with the lives of the hostages as with the fall of Stanleyville."

He said the United States had ignored a warning that the military intervention would endanger the talks with the rebels. More than 50 Whites and many more Africans were killed.

Faith reaffirmed in U.N.

Mr. Mumbumi reaffirmed the United Nations and the O.A.U. faith which was vital for peace and security in the world.

Kenya's foreign policy was that of "positive non-alignment." To pursue this policy we reserve the right to take our own independent stand on the many of the international issues which face the world today. It is not the business of other powers, whether Eastern or Western."

U.N. members, Malawi said "The time for total rejection of Africa was still living under foreign forms of human oppression in South Africa, Rhodesia, Angola and Mozambique, French Somaliland and Spanish Sahara."

The rejection is based on their brutal laws which have stripped off their fundamental rights and freedoms," Mr. Mumbumi said.

COUNCIL TO DEBATE SITUATION

THE United Nations Security Council meets today to debate the Congo situation at the request of the 20 States which have protested against the recent American-Belgian intervention. It was announced yesterday.

In London, the British Government has requested the Organisation for African Unity to hold a meeting in a settlement of the Congo problem. The Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Thomson, has said that the government supports this proposal as "essentially a problem that must be solved by the African continent."

Poured in

Uganda's Foreign Minister, Mr. S. N. Okada, refused to join the U.N. to support the Congo situation. Mr. Okada was in the past three years ambassador to the U.N. He said "I would like to see an end to the violence and to restore the existence of stability and non-alignment, no matter in what form."

Hundreds die in Vietnam fighting

PROTESTERS Kaunda of Zambia and Mr. Abdel Aziz Bouetifika, the Algerian Foreign Minister, had taken part in the U.N. debate on the Congo situation. Mr. Kaunda was met on his arrival by Governor Hiale Selassie. Mr. Bouetifika was reported to have had a message for the Emperor.

VIET CONG guerrillas fought Government forces in three different areas of South Vietnam yesterday

The Acting Foreign Minister, Mr. Richard Nixon, has said that the U.N. has called for an end to the violence and to restore the existence of stability and non-alignment, no matter in what form.

Pass Bill by appeal by Minister in Senate

Kenya's Minister for Home Affairs, Mr. Odinga, announced to Senators in a move today the Government's intention to appeal to the Senate to pass the Kenyan Bill on the subject of the National Security. Mr. Odinga, who was accompanied by Mr. Mwaniki, Deputy Minister for Home Affairs, and Mr. Oduho, Minister for Education, told the Senate that the bill was a "simple and straightforward" measure designed to provide for the internal security of Kenya, and to provide for the internal security of Kenya, and to provide for the internal security of Kenya.

Mr. Odinga said the bill was a "simple and straightforward" measure designed to provide for the internal security of Kenya, and to provide for the internal security of Kenya, and to provide for the internal security of Kenya.

Good response to National Fund appeal

The Kenya National Fund has received a good response to its appeal for the construction of a road from the Government House to the National Stadium, Mr. Humphrey Kisumu, in charge of the fund, said today. He said the fund had received a total of KSh. 100,000 towards the appeal.

Musical goes on again

The Nairobi City Players' production of Oklahoma! at the National Theatre went on as scheduled last night with Peter Enokingo as the leading role, which she took over as short notice when Anne Janes was taken ill. Monday night's performance had to be cancelled while hurried rehearsals were held.

The chairman of the City Players, Mr. Leonard Lewicki, said that Miss Janes was seen as she was permitted to leave the theatre.

Not understood that Mr. Odinga stressed that the bill was a "simple and straightforward" measure designed to provide for the internal security of Kenya, and to provide for the internal security of Kenya, and to provide for the internal security of Kenya.

SINGER + Friden

Reg'd. T. M. SINGER CO.

Two famous names join to bring you modern business machines for your Organization

• ADDING MACHINE

This is the Friden Adding Machine now available through Singer. It has such outstanding features as a "natural way" 10-key keyboard designed to fit the human hand, exclusive built-in check dial, which shows every entry BEFORE it is added or printed, automatic credit balance, automatic step-over of numbers to be multiplied for speedy multiplication, and many others.

• CALCULATOR

This is the Friden fully automatic Calculator. With the famous Friden "touch-one-key" simplicity of operation, just enter the factors, touch one key, and read the answer. Dish clear automatically, the calculator shifts, and the answer appears. DECIMALLY CORRECT. Features like these enable it to perform more figures work automatically than any other calculating machine ever developed.

• FLEXOWRITER

This is the Flexowriter* automatic writing machine by Friden. Using punched paper tape or cards, it produces documents automatically and without errors at 100 words a minute. As an automatic typewriter, it also punches a paper tape which can be processed by the machine itself or by associated equipment, thus eliminating the constant manual preparation of documents that wastes time and runs up operating costs.

Kampala makes rear reflectors compulsory

KAMPALA
REFLECTORS
COMPULSORY

UNDER new traffic regulations, every motorist in Kampala will be required to have two rectangular reflectors on the rear of his car. This was announced at a Press conference in Kampala by the Minister of Works and Communications, Mr. W. W. Kalema.

The measure has been introduced to combat the rising toll of road deaths. There were many cases of road accidents in the country, but the bulk were caused by unlighted commercial vehicles parked at roadside during the night, Mr. Kalema said.

The number of deaths in 1962 and 1963 was 228, 273 and 300 respectively. The number of injuries in the respective years was 4,252, 4,267 and 4,245.

For the first half of 1964, the number of deaths and injuries was 228 and 2,020 respectively. Mr. Kalema said that the number of deaths and injuries had increased since the introduction of the new traffic regulations. He said that the number of deaths and injuries had increased since the introduction of the new traffic regulations.

Fin birds from new feathers

PARROTS do just suffer from falling feathers? It's your plumage far from perfect and does your head brain carry an inferiority complex? If you wake up in the morning and find more feathers on the floor than on your don't worry — a Manchester man has found the perfect cure for balding birds.

The solution is very simple. A trade secret but during the past 12 months he has refined the slightly acid solution of all five species. The solution is very simple. A trade secret but during the past 12 months he has refined the slightly acid solution of all five species.

Call to shut dirty hotels
 Uganda and fifty African hotels should be closed until they have been brought up to modern standards, says the Director and Hotel Workers Union, Mr. B. O. Oduro.

The union said that hotels in Uganda are in a state of decay and that they are a disgrace to the country. It called for the government to take action to improve the standards of the hotels.

Dear Patron,
 My name is Joseph but all my friends call me Yosi so when you meet me please call me Yosi.

I am the manager of the Bonanza Restaurant, Koinange Street. The restaurant is exclusively designed to give a cool, friendly atmosphere. Besides being the manager, I am the Maître de Salle, and am qualified to advise you on wines. In fact I can cater for all your requirements (and will be very happy to do so).

My kitchen is run by an Italian Maître de Cuisine. Among the many various dishes I can offer you are Italian and Continental specialties, and of course many different Grills, Kebabs and Shellfish prepared entirely on our charcoal grill.

I have an excellent Italian band for your entertainment every Saturday night, from 8 to 11 p.m. every day, coffee and tea in the mornings and afternoons, lunch and dinners.

Yours,
 Yosi.

Newcomer in women's final

AFTER a shaky start on the opening day, Kenya players made some recovery when the Kenya open table tennis championships were continued at the Railway Club Institute, Nairobi.

The first of the women's events was the women's singles. Kenya's new arrival, Miss Mary, a newcomer from the United States, was a great find for the Kenyan players. She was the only player who was able to beat the Kenyan players in the first round. She was the only player who was able to beat the Kenyan players in the first round.

The President of the Federal Republic of West Germany

Dr.

HEINRICH

YOUR Excellency: For the proclamation of the Republic of Kenya and your introduction as its first President I convey to Your Excellency cordial congratulations of the German people and of myself.

With close interest, the Federal Republic of Germany has followed the development of Kenya, which today, on her first anniversary of independence and with her transformation into a republic, has entered a new stage. Germany and Kenya are in accordance that "all people must have the right of freedom and the choice of their own political, economic and social system", as it was stated by the Heads of State and Government at the Cairo Conference of Non-Aligned Nations. This conviction is the basis for the sympathy with which Germany follows and appreciates Kenya's efforts in building the nation, her endeavor to consolidate the family of African nations and her significant cooperation in solving vital international problems. The results so far achieved justify the confidence that in her second year of independence Kenya will also master the manifold tasks.

At the anniversary of independence I send you my personal and the German people's amicable greetings to which I add my best wishes for your new office as President.

The Foreign Minister of France

M. HABIB-DELONCLE

ON the occasion of the proclamation of the Republic, I am happy to send my most sincere congratulations to the authorities and people of Kenya, and to impress upon them again the deep appreciation felt by the French Government for the development of cooperation between the countries, especially in the cultural and economic fields. The French Government, which has guided a great number of African States to independence, will endeavor, on its part, to strengthen the friendly relations which it already maintains with Kenya, which the French Government is convinced will play an increasingly important part on the African scene.

The Prime Minister of Canada
Mr. LESTER
PEARSON

ON behalf of the people of Canada
I cordially congratulate you on the people of Kenya a reaffirmation of Canada's in the historic context of the new Republic of Kenya. The Canadian people the friendship and co-operation of believe members of the Government forward on a strengthening of these ties.
I should like to add my warm as the first President of the Republic to wish you all success in the future.

The President of the Republic of Korea

Mr. PARK CHUNG
HEE

ON the occasion of the anniversary of independence of Kenya and the inauguration of the new Republic of Kenya, I wish to convey to the people of Kenya and to their able President, Mr. Kenyatta, my warmest congratulations. The people of this land, who have observed with great interest the people of Korea have observed with great interest and kept in mind a year of spectacular achievement made by the people of Kenya in their independence and their profound aspirations for, and contribution towards world peace and justice. It is a firm wish of the Korean people to further strengthen the existing friendship and develop closer cooperation between the people of the two nations.

I also wish to extend to His Excellency, President James Kenyatta, on behalf of the people and Government of the Republic of Korea, my very best wishes for his continued good health as well as for the welfare and prosperity of the Republic of Korea.

The Foreign Minister of Poland

Mr. ADAM RAPACKI

I HAVE the great honor to express my sincere congratulations to the heroic Kenyan people on their first President, Mr. James Kenyatta, on the occasion of the first independence anniversary and on the day of the proclamation of the Republic of Kenya.

The Polish nation takes great pleasure in celebrating the tremendous progress and successes in all fields of life of the Kenyan nation in such a short period of independent existence.

The Polish People's Republic wishes the Republic of Kenya on its birthday and conveys the warmest greetings and very best wishes.
I shall be future bring peace, prosperity and happiness to the people and Republic of Kenya.

The Prime Minister of Israel
Mr. LEVI ESHKOL

I AM glad of this opportunity to convey, through the columns of this special issue, the best wishes and sincere congratulations from the Government and the people of Israel, and from the people of Israel, on the historic day of the proclamation of the Republic of Kenya.

We, in Israel, adorned with constant sympathy and admiration the resolute progress of Kenya, under a dedicated leadership, towards achievement. In the short course of time since her achievement of sovereignty, all its well-wishers have been deeply impressed by its imaginative and practical co-operation with all peace-loving nations. Israel is proud of her modest share in this vital undertaking of international partnership.

There is little doubt that this first Republic Day will be the prelude to sustained development along the path to peace and prosperity which independently Kenya is so successfully charting. In that spirit of Kenya we are, in the name of the people and for Israel for the people of the Republic and for its dedicated leadership, and President, Mr. Kenyatta, distinguished achievement and President, Mr. Kenyatta, in the name of the Government and the people of Israel, I salute them wholeheartedly on the great occasion.

The Foreign Minister of Japan

Mr. ETSUSABURO
SHIINA

IT is a pleasure for me, on behalf of the Government and people of Japan, to extend sincere congratulations to the Government and people of Kenya on the occasion of her becoming a republic.
The Japanese people welcome Kenya's attainment of republic status one year after achieving independence and express their hope for further strengthening of the relations between our two nations. I fully believe this expectation is being realized to the mutual benefit of both peoples.

This year, in recognition of the importance of Kenya-Japan relations and of the great progress you have made in establishing a major nation in Africa, Mr. Katsumi Okazaki, my eminent predecessor in the office of Foreign Minister, will attend your Republic Celebrations as the Special Envoy of the Government of Japan.

The cooperative ties between our two nations have undergone a remarkable expansion in many fields of enterprise, especially on technical and economic levels.
From this is emerging a greater sense of mutual understanding, which most certainly is contributing to the peace and prosperity of Asia and Africa alike. Now, in the spirit of friendship and international good will,
I offer best wishes for continued success in the months and years ahead.

His Imperial Majesty
THE EMPEROR OF ETHIOPIA
HAILE
SELASSIE I

As a good neighbor and a close friend, Ethiopia looks at Kenya's first anniversary with profound expressions of sympathy and her road towards progress and prosperity.

As has always been, it is Ethiopia's firm belief that people everywhere should be granted the right of self-rule. Consequently, Ethiopia warmly attains of independence by peoples everywhere.

Our close friend Prime Minister, Mr. Kenyatta, his Government. May the Almighty God lead Kenya on the road of progress and prosperity.

The Head of the Italian Government

SIGNOR ALDO MORO

IT is with particularly great pleasure that I convey, also in the name of the Government of Italy, my heartfelt best wishes to the Republic of Kenya, on the first anniversary of accession to full independence, separate, stable free constitutional settlement.

I am certain that the Republic of Kenya will continue to give its actual contribution towards the development of the great African continent and the peaceful evolution of international relations at the same time a growing prosperity to its citizens.

I am equally convinced that the relations Italy and Kenya, which already have a strong flow, will become more and more active, acquiring further the cooperation already existing in fields of common interest.

Just one year ago . . .

. . . the Gailey & Roberts Group of Companies offered their congratulations on the occasion of Kenya becoming a sovereign state. Now, on the anniversary of independence, we send greetings and good wishes to the Government and people of Kenya on this first historic day of their new Republic.

£140,000 BRITISH COUNCIL AID

The British Council on Tuesday announced that it had secured a grant of £140,000 from the East African States for the current financial year. Four-fifths of the grant will be used to support educational projects in the developing countries. The remainder will be used for the Council's educational work in the United Kingdom.

The grant is the largest ever received by the Council from the East African States. It will be used to support a wide range of educational projects, including the provision of scholarships for students from the East African States to study in the United Kingdom, and the provision of educational materials and equipment for schools and colleges in the East African States.

Teaching English

However, the greatest need is for the teaching of English, and this is reflected in the country's educational system. The Government is now planning to spend £100 million on the teaching of English in the next five years. This will be done by training more teachers and by providing more teaching materials and equipment.

The British Council is also helping to support the teaching of English in the East African States. It is providing scholarships for students to study in the United Kingdom, and it is providing educational materials and equipment for schools and colleges.

THREE FOR SUGAR TREATY

RHODESIA, SWAZILAND AND INDIA ARE TO ACCEDE TO THE COMMONWEALTH SUGAR AGREEMENT

The British Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Peart, announced today that Rhodesia, Swaziland and India are to accede to the Commonwealth Sugar Agreement. This agreement, which was signed in London in 1957, provides for the supply of sugar to the Commonwealth countries at a fixed price.

Mr. Peart said that the accession of Rhodesia, Swaziland and India to the agreement would be a significant step towards the development of the sugar industry in these countries. He also said that the accession would be a benefit to the Commonwealth as a whole.

Changes proposed

Britain had made proposals for changes for the future. These and other proposals would be further discussed early next year.

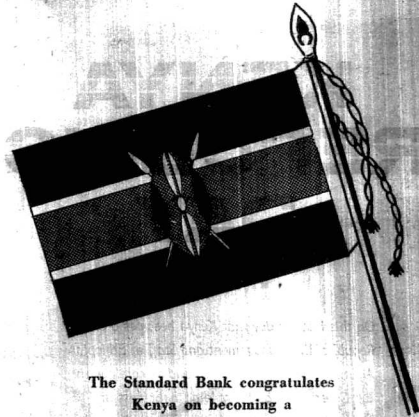

The British Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Peart, said that the proposals would be a benefit to the Commonwealth as a whole. He also said that the proposals would be a benefit to the sugar industry in these countries.

The Prime Minister of Britain

Mr. HAROLD WILSON

On behalf of the British Government, I send to you and your colleagues our good wishes for the happiness and prosperity of the people of the Republic of Kenya, and our cordial greetings to you as Kenya's first President.

The President of the Indian Republic

Dr. SARVAPALLI RADHAKRISHNAN

On the occasion of the inauguration of the Republic of Kenya, I am happy to convey to Your Excellency and through you to the Government and the people of Kenya, the warm congratulations of the Government and the people of India, to which I add my own together with our best wishes for Your Excellency's health and happiness and for the prosperity of the Republic.

The President of the United States

LYNDON B. JOHNSON

It is with great pleasure that I wanted to join you and the people of Kenya in celebrating this notable occasion. Not many days Kenya became a free nation, and you are now celebrating its first anniversary of independence.

On behalf of the Government and people of the United States of America I send you my personal warm wishes for continued good health as you lead your country under the new title of President. For Kenya we hold great hopes in all fields. I assure you once again we stand ready to continue our support for mutually beneficial economic, technical and educational programmes which will help to achieve your country's goals.

The leaders of Chinese People's Republic

Mr. Chou En-lai Premier of the State Council
Mr. Liu Shao-chi Chairman of the People's Republic

On the occasion of the proclamation of the Republic of Kenya and Your Excellency's assumption of the high office of the First President of the Republic, we wish to extend warm congratulations to Your Excellency, and through you to the Republic of Kenya and the Kenyan people.

May Your Excellency and the Kenyan people achieve new successes in the cause of safeguarding national independence and developing national economy and culture. May the relations of friendship and co-operation between China and Kenya be consolidated and developed with each passing day.

Making Africa's Constitution

A SIGNIFICANT STEP FORWARD

By T. J. MBOYA writing as the Minister for Justice and Constitutional Affairs

The Ministry of Justice is pleased to announce the publication of the new Constitution of Kenya. This is a significant step forward in the process of creating a new and better legal system for the Republic of Kenya. The new Constitution is a landmark document which will govern the life of the country for many years to come. It is a product of the wisdom and foresight of the people of Kenya, and it is a testament to their courage and determination to build a better future for themselves and for their children. The new Constitution is a comprehensive document which covers all aspects of the government, from the executive to the judiciary. It is a document which is both progressive and practical, and it is a document which is designed to meet the needs of the people of Kenya. The new Constitution is a document which is a source of pride and inspiration for all Kenyans, and it is a document which is a symbol of the new dawn of freedom and independence for the Republic of Kenya.

Health for people makes a happy nation

SERVICES BEING BUILT UP STEADILY

It is not just wealth and prosperity to be given an opportunity to live in this social system and the very elements of a happy life which is the primary objective as the history of our beloved country.

By 1952 there was a system of Government hospitals and more doctors and a nursing service, every basic clinic and in some of the rural areas, and there was a dispensary.

By 1952 there were 24 hospitals and the staff attached to them consisted of 17 doctors, nine dentists, 100 nurses and about 1,000 trained African health workers.

By 1962 there were 51 hospitals, 100 dentists, 1,000 nurses and 10,000 health workers.

 They have concentrated on preventive medicine. At the present time there are 27 Provincial and 42 Catholic mission hospitals, 27 health centres and 1,100 health posts out of a total of 1,500 health posts. There are in the lowest setup was in 1952 when the number of health posts was 1,100 which were recommended for the important services which they rendered should be recognized and that every effort should be made to ensure that their contribution is preserved and developed.

Pioneer work
 Our Medical Department was set up as early as in 1910 with a staff of 19 doctors, four assistant surgeons, eight nursing sisters and 20 compounders and dental staff. In 1911, the revenue expenditure amounted to £100,000. The development since then has been rapid. The following figures — "all staff of over 1,000, 100 dentists, 1,000 nurses and 10,000 health workers and total recurrent expenditure of about £270,000."

In the early days the main objective of the Medical Department was to look after the health of Government servants and their families. It is quite clear from the annual reports that as far as their requests are concerned, they also need for the general population.

Nevertheless, prior to 1952 there were no general hospitals in the African continent and in 1952 there were only one in this area. In that year, however, the Government health services improvements to the Government health services arrangements were made. It was the establishment of medical units based on hospitals and staffed by trained men and women of all races. From these units have grown the health services as they exist today.

They are being invited by arranging technical courses for secondary schools and by appointing technical staff to various posts in the public sector.

It is most important that technical education continue to be maintained. Whatever English medium teaching is introduced in order to achieve this, it is planned to have advisory organizations in every region which will work closely with the central Government. It is planned to have advisory centres and to give teachers. Also, an effort is being made to set up technical schools in all branches of the primary and secondary education.

DR. J. G. KIANO outlines the Ministry of Commerce and Industry's policy of economic growth

YEARS leave their mark in history, but 1964 has been an exceptionally notable year.

That it will be long remembered as Kenya's first year of independence, during which Mzee Jomo Kenyatta's Government achieved a reorientation of confidence in the economic as well as in all other fields of activity in the country. As a result, a spectacular boost was provided in 1964 for industrialisation as well as for the expansion of commercial activity.

Since 1963 is due to the Government's wise policies, determination, hard work and faith in our leader has enabled the Government to take steps to rectify the economic imbalances which were inherited as a legacy of the past.

Great activity which not mentioned, however, in the year 1964 has been a reversion of the country's total trade during the first six months of the year rose by 114 per cent over the same period of the previous year, and this is good indication of our greater industrial and commercial activity. Imports increased to K25,500,000, an increase of 11 per cent, during those six months.

From an, there was a lot of import substitution, the result of which there were some 100,000 units of locally manufactured products. Exports at K22,000,000 during the first six months of 1964 showed an increase of 112 per cent over the same period in 1963, and exports at K23,500,000 also surpassed a steady upward trend.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS IN COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY SINCE UHURU

Dr. Kiano addressing those on national meeting on country. Because he is in Kenya, he finds he has to make frequent use of his voice.

These figures show Kenya with a wealth of resources which in 1964 for the first time exceeded the value of K25,500,000, an increase of 114 per cent over the same period of the previous year. However, that advance balance of trade is one which our wise leaders have to be vigilant in the year to come, lest it be lost.

One of several trade contracts of export of it is to boost the needs of our growing population and our rising standards of living. We depend largely on the farm support of a contemporary world, locally, and in the immediate past, our progress in the commerce and industry of our country.

A comprehensive audit is an essential ingredient of an essential industrial and commercial economy, but it has to be allied to sound finance and enlightened policies of government. In the view of this, the Ministry of Commerce and Industry has recently formed a committee to study the economic situation in which the whole country is endeavouring to have a share.

only in providing a resurgence of the economy but also the stimulus necessary to maintain that resurgence. The Industrial Development Corporation, recently re-named the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation, incorporated out an extensive survey of small-scale business in Kenya. The results of these surveys have been used to plan the small industries in the country. It has also planned to trade centres and trading areas and has, therefore, made a beginning in the spreading of economic development to all parts of the country.

New industries Small-scale and cottage industries are also helping the farmer to supplement his income as well as to diversify his income level of living, which is the scourge of all the underdeveloped nations of the world.

Several industries have been established in Kenya during the past few years. These include the textile factories at Thika and the vegetable canning factory at Mombasa. In addition to several other small and medium sized industries. The development of industrial areas is a Triple attack The Government has announced a three-pronged attack on the economy. (A) By providing a general increase in the minimum wage to keep workers motivated. (B) By dealing with the problem of external payment of the balance of trade. (C) By trying to improve the general standard of living of the people.

FORWARD KENYA!
The Mehta Group of Industries wholeheartedly congratulates the President, Government and people of Kenya on this important anniversary.

which also marks the birth of the Republic.

Stability brings economic upsurge in economy

LOOKING back over the historic 12 months since independence, I am intensely impressed and gratified by the economic progress that a free Kenya has made. We have made a good beginning to our task of developing a democratic African socialist country and of overcoming the difficulties which have beset our country since the end of the colonial era.

By JAMES S. GICHURU WICHIURU as the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning

As we look back over the historic 12 months since independence, I am intensely impressed and gratified by the economic progress that a free Kenya has made. We have made a good beginning to our task of developing a democratic African socialist country and of overcoming the difficulties which have beset our country since the end of the colonial era.

In 1964, production of coffee, sisal and tea is rising at a rapid rate and, overall, the value of agricultural production is expected to rise from £120,000,000 in 1963 to £150,000,000 in 1964. The production of most crops has been maintained and, in some cases, there are notable increases.

'Ups and downs'

As we all know, the reports on the production of the main agricultural crops are most encouraging. The value of agricultural production has advanced largely through the expansion of the area under cultivation and the increase in yields per acre.

Kenya beer wins award

A KENYA beer, Allsopp's Pilsener Lager, has been awarded a Gold Medal in a recent competition in Brussels in which larger beers from many brewers in all parts of the world were entered.

This is the second international award to be won by Allsopp's East Africa Ltd. In March last year they won a Bronze Medal in the World Beer Olympiad.

Earlier this year Kenya's Finance Minister signed the membership charter of the World Bank. He is flanked by the Hon. Mr. J. M. Njoroge, Minister for Foreign Affairs, and the Hon. Mr. J. M. Njoroge, Minister for Foreign Affairs.

Rising incomes

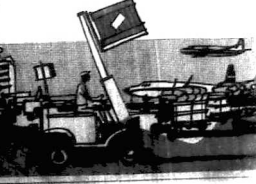

The effect of this will be to raise the average annual income per family to nearly £200. Of course, we would like to do more than this, but there are major obstacles which must be overcome. The main obstacle is the shortage of skilled manpower, which makes more difficult the expansion of the economy. It is also necessary to improve the quality of education and training of the workforce.

EXPORTS MUST CONTINUE TO INCREASE

By BRUCE MCKENZIE writing as the Minister for Agriculture and Animal Industry

At the national parliament which for a few weeks ago Mr. Kenyon made a speech based on the proposition that agriculture was the foundation of Kenya's economy, he pointed out that the Government had to meet the agricultural demand, great efforts were being made by the Government to the benefit of the main pillar of its speech.

First it is vital to the country to argue that you do not have to be a capitalist as agriculture is a business but it is also an industry that can give employment in the working class in a very important way. We are not trying to do that. We are trying to do that. We are trying to do that.

Fourth, The Government have to be clear that the main pillar of its speech is to be a capitalist as agriculture is a business but it is also an industry that can give employment in the working class in a very important way.

Big responsibility
Agriculture is the backbone of Kenya's economy. Eighty-nine per cent of the country's exports are agricultural products. This makes the Government's responsibility towards it a very heavy one. It is vital that the Government should continue to give the greatest care to the industry.

The world's markets for agricultural products are very highly competitive and we must be prepared to meet them on a similar footing. In order to do this, the Government is trying to do this.

I am glad to be able to advise that with the help of the Government's assistance, the agricultural industry has made a great deal of progress. This is a very important step towards the development of the country.

It is not as if we are not doing anything. We are doing a great deal of things. We are doing a great deal of things. We are doing a great deal of things.

It is not as if we are not doing anything. We are doing a great deal of things. We are doing a great deal of things. We are doing a great deal of things.

The Government has a very important role to play in the development of the agricultural industry. It is not as if we are not doing anything. We are doing a great deal of things. We are doing a great deal of things. We are doing a great deal of things.

How Kenya's settlement schemes are faring

By J. B. ABUGUA, Public Relations Officer to the Ministry of Lands and Settlement

DURING the first year of independence, the land-settlement and rehabilitation programmes have continued to be the main features in the Ministry of Lands and Settlement activities.

In the first year of independence, the Government has bought for settlement and during the year about 21,000 acres are to be bought...

One of the most important sections of the Ministry is that dealing with housing. The housing programme is the most widely spread in the country...

These figures do not include 14,000 acres which have been bought for the assisted owners...

Number doubled
In the Central Region, subdivided settlement will be commenced during the 1963-64 financial year...

It is hoped that the new House of Representatives will be able to give effect to the programme...

They have been reasonably well. These cooperatives are vital to the survival of the scheme...

Loans for water
The Ministry has had to have many requests for settlement schemes...

On several terms, there is much to suggest that the settlement schemes in the East Valley and Western Regions...

One of the most important developments in the settlement schemes is the introduction of the co-operative societies...

MOBIL OIL EAST AFRICA LIMITED

The political, social and economic changes taking place in Kenya present a special challenge to the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration.

The pattern of postal, telephone and telegraph communications must be changed to meet the requirements of the republic, and at the same time new staff must be assimilated into the organization at all levels.

Postal and telecommunication development plans and training programmes have been designed to meet this challenge and to ensure that the Administration plays its part in shaping the future.

The realisation of full African unity is dependent to an important degree upon the establishment of a comprehensive communications network within the continent, whilst the growing significance of Africa in world affairs calls for the provision of high-grade inter-continental communications.

The East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration has the responsibility of ensuring that the international postal, telephone and telegraph services needed to further unity and the development of trade and industry are made available and that in shaping the future of the communications system full advantage is taken of technical progress.

Food for thought

After its session on the conservation of natural resources, the Government is now turning its attention to the problem of food. The Minister of Agriculture, Mr. J. M. Njiru, has announced that the Government will be introducing a bill to amend the Food Act, 1952, to provide for the control of foodstuffs and to ensure that the supply of food is adequate for the needs of the population.

The Minister also stated that the Government is aware of the need to increase food production and is taking steps to improve agricultural methods and to provide better services to farmers.

Vote realisation
The Government of Kenya, after realising the value of the national resources, has decided to introduce a bill to amend the Income Tax Act, 1952, to provide for the realisation of votes.

The Minister of Finance, Mr. J. M. Njiru, has announced that the Government is aware of the need to increase the revenue of the Government and is taking steps to improve the tax system.

Support needed
The Government has announced that it is seeking support from the public for the development of the country. The Minister of Finance, Mr. J. M. Njiru, has stated that the Government is aware of the need to increase the revenue of the Government and is taking steps to improve the tax system.

E. N. Mbatia discusses on the progress of the Ministry of Labour and Social Services

Ensuring independence

WORK FORCE FOR 35,000 EMPLOYED

ONE of the most pressing problems facing the new Kenya Government was that of chronic unemployment. It was realized that the only viable solution lay in the expansion of Government-owned long-term development plan, but it was also appreciated that immediate action was necessary to provide a breathing space which would allow Government to set its major plans straight.

To this end, Government initiated the Tripartite Agreement for some 40,000 people. This agreement, between Government, employers and workers, was signed in February 1964 and, especially, required employers to increase the number of their employees by five per cent within six months, agreed to a wage standstill to avoid strike action.

The first of February, the Ministry of Labour and Social Services had set up 10 sub-committees to deal with the needs of employment exchanges and within the next two months some 20,000 persons were classified and registered for employment. Since then the service has been classified in most developed countries. As shown by the candidates, it has become available from employees.

Thus, in the first two months, 25,000 persons were placed in jobs through the Employment Service. This figure has reached 35,000 and it is expected that the remaining 1,000 jobs will be ready to be taken up by the end of the year.

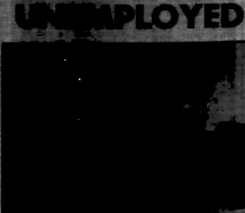

Stronger service

Under the development plan, Government has envisaged that the Employment Service to be strengthened in order to:

- (1) Provide an improved service to the employment exchanges to meet the rising level of education found among workmen;
- (2) Enable the efficient carrying out of Government measures for the proper utilization of manpower;
- (3) Improve the employment market information service available to Government;
- (4) Provide vocational guidance to children and young people.

Progress has been made in all these spheres. The most striking example of this effectiveness is the Employment Service as a pioneer development in its contribution to the success of the Tripartite Agreement.

As part of its contribution towards attracting the investment and the prime objective of industrialization.

Minister of Labour and Social Services, Mr. E. N. Mbatia, speaking at a public meeting in Nairobi.

ing the youth of Kenya for employment. The Government has inaugurated the National Service Commission, one of the most dynamic development agencies established in this country. The experience of other countries, as studied in this respect, the Kenya scheme is not a copy of any other youth service but a carefully designed one.

It is not possible to use regular employed labour. When the service, the fees are levied, and Government will receive full medical cover and free education for the first 12 months of the service, every month for the next 12 months. The initial phase of the plan, including the setting-up of the first units of the service, has been completed with considerable success and there is every reason to believe that optimism in the months to come.

In the field of adult education, the Government has introduced a number of measures for the establishment of an Adult Education Board, which will cover all aspects of adult education in Kenya and will bring together the various agencies at present concerned with this subject.

With the establishment of the board, it should be possible to plan adult education in a comprehensive manner and eliminate the present uncoordinated efforts which are economic in the present uncoordinated efforts for all persons who have been formally employed in the public service. It is the Ministry's intention to achieve literacy if they have the will and desire to do so.

Community Development staff of the Ministry, in association with the Kenya Literature Bureau, are endeavoring to launch a local literary campaign designed to give every person the opportunity to learn to read and write.

While education is being decided that a National Library Service for Kenya should be instituted (prior to this date a service had been organized by the East African Literature Bureau). Legislation has been put forward by the Ministry which will set up a statutory National Library Board to represent the interests of the whole country.

Among other things, the new board will select, purchase and maintain stocks of books for libraries which become additional members of the board's maintenance catalogue, establish a central pool of specialist reading material and train librarians.

Special emphasis has been placed on the training of social workers by the National Council of Social Services. The Council of Social Services has been set up to coordinate and supervise the training of social workers in Kenya. Arrangements are being made to create a special training course for Government and non-Government social workers who require training.

The growth of the scheme is being monitored by the Government. It is hoped that the scheme will show rapid expansion and to even more rapid expansion in the near future. Training Courses are being established as a multi-purpose training centre for the local population in industrial schemes.

Social security

In its preoccupation with the need to provide its citizens the best possible social services, the Government has announced a proposal for the establishment of a contributory National Insurance, Government-owned Industrial Injuries and National Insurance, Government-owned Industrial Injuries and National Insurance, Government-owned Industrial Injuries and National Insurance.

At the beginning of September, Mr. Turner returned to Kenya to assist in setting up the National Provident Fund. Since his arrival, a Tripartite Working Party has been set up to discuss the details of the proposed scheme. The party has a view to introducing a scheme which is best fitted to the current needs of Kenya. Good progress is being made and it is confidently expected that a proposal will be able to issue a white paper before long. It is proposed to be able to issue a white paper before long.

Meanwhile, the established machinery of the Ministry in the field of labour and factory inspection, industrial relations, trade union, workers' compensation, community development, etc. continues in fact, the work of the trade union organization has been greatly facilitated by the gift of 21,000 worth of machinery from the British Government.

Currently, negotiations are in progress with the British Ministry of Overseas Development to provide additional equipment and partially re-house the Trade Union Development Centre which should add to its efficiency.

Kenya's agricultural development from the viewpoint of the farmer and outside the country's basic challenges

UNCERTAINTY IN KENYA MUST BE ENDED IF WE ARE TO BE FED

AFTER a year of the depression, we need well advanced plans for the agricultural industry as a whole. The future depends upon it. The industry has its traditional core and hence the government should be able to analyse from long-range forecasts what should be done to provide the agricultural sector with the necessary resources to meet the needs of the country.

It is a fact that the agricultural industry is a large sector of the economy and its development is essential for the country's economic growth.

The government should be able to analyse from long-range forecasts what should be done to provide the agricultural sector with the necessary resources to meet the needs of the country.

7,000 young Kenyans joining fight against the three enemies

By ENID DE SILVA

By August next year, more than 100 young Kenyans will have joined the National Service programme. These youths will be trained in the fight against the three enemies of Kenya: ignorance, poverty and disease.

The Minister for Labour and Social Services is pleased to announce that the National Youth Service is now in full operation. The programme is designed to train young Kenyans in the skills and attitudes necessary for the development of the country.

Overseas help

The Government is pleased to announce that it has received a grant of $100,000 from the United Nations to assist in the development of the country's infrastructure. This grant will be used to finance the construction of roads, bridges, and other public works.

The Government is also pleased to announce that it has received a grant of $50,000 from the World Bank to assist in the development of the country's economy. This grant will be used to finance the construction of a new factory and the purchase of machinery.

The new Kenya keep the peace and guard against external aggression

It is the job of the Ministry of Internal Security and Defence which until Republic Day was the Ministry of the Interior, to see that peace and order are maintained within Kenya's borders and to preserve the national integrity of the country against any external threat.

The Kenya Police and the local militia known as the Kenya Home Guard, are the mainstay of the security forces. Since independence, the Kenya Home Guard has been expanded to a number of battalions and is now a well-trained and equipped force.

What is better
Wet-Shaving or Dry-Shaving?

It is difficult to give an answer to this question, because the number of shaving sets, the type of razor, the type of shaving cream, the type of after-shave lotion, the type of shaving brush, etc., vary so widely that it is impossible to compare them. However, it is possible to compare the results of wet-shaving and dry-shaving.

The Luo girl dances with a very popular song on Friday night. She is seen in the photograph on the right and in the caption (above).

The Luo drummers are always a popular attraction and at the Friday-night celebrations in Jambhuri Park they fully entered into the spirit of the occasion as the top picture shows. Above is a group of dancers rarely seen in Nairobi. Arabs from the Coast Region, Taitoo dancers from the Luo areas of Western Kenya put on one of the most colourful performances and they are seen on the left.

The hearing in of President Kenyatta was followed by more tribal dancing at Jambhuri Park. Right: Maasi women perform in the scene to the rhythmic notes produced by the young horn blower (above).

To stop and finish the crew's best, untrained athletes have used to just more of your skill, try complete the best. With a large, well-timed, stream the two men's heads of hot water to a bag of tension. But when you finish the skin with the same, the skin will not be possible and natural. It is a good idea to use the skin, which is very thick with tension, high frequency and thick for something to a film, it will turn all.

FINAL

S.V.I.G. are Kenya's first knock-out cricket champions. They beat Nairobi Club in a hard fought final yesterday by six wickets.

A big crowd watched the match because of the wet conditions but the K.R.I.C. players, East Middle decided to put their Club to test after winning the cup.

After 45 minutes batting had finished and the Nairobi Club had been dismissed as a result of the rain.

At the start of the match, the Nairobi Club had a lead of 15 runs but the S.V.I.G. bowlers took the wickets and the Nairobi Club was dismissed.

Getting into ASA's new views Freedom of City

ALL WILL ENJOY EQUAL RIGHTS

NON-AFRICAN citizens of Kenya need have no fear of discrimination, the Vice-President, Sir Robert Robinson, said today in a speech at the opening of a public meeting.

The distinction was similar to that contained in Mr. Kenyatta's speech a year ago, when he became the first Prime Minister of an independent Kenya.

Welcoming representatives of the Victoria Army units at the ceremony, the Vice-President, Ad. Rubin, said the freedom was a right granted in parity with that of the people of British India.

"In the words of our revolution, we confer upon the Kenya Army the right, privilege and distinction of marching through the streets of the city with bayoneted rifles, battle-broads, medals and soldiers flying the flag."

LEAF IN COUNTRY'S SOULS

"It is a right granted in parity... as a sign that we, the people of Kenya, share faith in our country's soldiers, in their peaceful intention towards us and their determination to defend us from Kenya's enemies."

Ad. Rubin said the freedom implied that the people of Nairobi had the confidence that if the city was threatened the Kenya Army, under the leadership of Mr. Kenyatta as President and Commander-in-Chief, would defend them and do all times meet them to go about their lives in peace.

It was a ceremony at which the Mayor, Alderman members and officers of the capital city gathered, along with Kenya Army representatives which had the honor in the presence of Sir Robert Robinson as Vice-President and Commander-in-Chief, would defend them and do all times meet them to go about their lives in peace.

DUTY TO LAWS

Nairobi, Kenya, today placed the responsibility to obey the laws of the country on the Kenya Army, under the leadership of Mr. Kenyatta as President and Commander-in-Chief, would defend them and do all times meet them to go about their lives in peace.

It was a ceremony at which the Mayor, Alderman members and officers of the capital city gathered, along with Kenya Army representatives which had the honor in the presence of Sir Robert Robinson as Vice-President and Commander-in-Chief, would defend them and do all times meet them to go about their lives in peace.

Assembly tribute to Kenya's leader

Kenya's Republic still in infancy

The Uganda National Assembly today paid tribute to Kenya's leader, Mr. Jomo Kenyatta, in a resolution passed during the celebration of the country's independence.

The resolution, moved by Mr. A. N. Kibuka (K.P.), stated that Kenya's Republic was still in its infancy and that the Ugandan people looked to Kenya as a model for their own country.

The resolution also praised Mr. Kenyatta for his leadership and for the role he had played in the development of Kenya.

The Mayor of Nairobi, Ad. Charles Rubin, leads one of the marches in the celebration of the Kenya Army's freedom to march through the streets of the city with bayoneted rifles, battle-broads, medals and soldiers flying the flag.

ACCESSION TO PRESIDENCY CLARIFIED

Mr. Kenyatta's accession to the Presidency was clarified today by the Prime Minister, Mr. Robert Robinson, in a speech to the House of Representatives.

Mr. Robinson stated that Mr. Kenyatta's accession to the Presidency was a result of the provisions of the Kenya Independence Act, which provided for the election of a President by the people of Kenya.

He explained that Mr. Kenyatta had been elected as President by a majority of the voters in the general election held in December 1962.

Mr. Robinson also mentioned that Mr. Kenyatta had accepted the office of President and had taken the oath of office on January 12, 1963.

Highest honour

Mr. Kenyatta was today conferred with the highest honour of the country, the Order of Kenya, by the President, Mr. Robert Robinson.

The Order of Kenya is a national award which is given to individuals who have made significant contributions to the development of the country.

Mr. Kenyatta was the first person to be awarded this honor since its establishment in 1962.

Federation query

Mr. Kenyatta said today that he was not in favor of a federation with Uganda.

He stated that Kenya was a sovereign state and that it should remain independent. He said that a federation would be detrimental to the interests of Kenya.

Mr. Kenyatta also mentioned that he had discussed the issue of federation with the Ugandan leadership and that they had agreed to remain separate states.

New ranching society

A new ranching society has been formed in Kenya, with Mr. J. M. Njiru as its president.

The society is aimed at promoting the interests of ranchers in Kenya and at providing them with a platform for discussion and action.

The members of the society include Mr. Njiru, Mr. J. M. Njiru, and several other prominent ranchers in the country.

Oil-tanker still drifting in ocean

The oil tanker Univers was still drifting in the Indian Ocean today, after being struck by a cyclone.

The tanker was last seen on January 10, and it is believed to be carrying a large amount of oil. It is feared that the oil could spill into the ocean and cause environmental damage.

Search parties are still looking for the tanker and for any survivors who may be on board.

Statehood in U.K. on land likely soon

It is believed that a bill to grant statehood to the British Overseas Territories will be introduced in the House of Commons in the near future.

The bill would give the territories the same status as the United Kingdom, and it would allow them to send members to the House of Commons.

The territories included in the bill are Bermuda, the Cayman Islands, the Falkland Islands, Gibraltar, and the Virgin Islands.

The bill is expected to be passed by the House of Commons in the next few weeks.

UGANDA ATTACK ON TV SET-UP

Kenya's television service is being attacked by Uganda, which has accused Kenya of interfering with its broadcasts.

Uganda has said that Kenya's television service is interfering with its own service, and that it is causing damage to its equipment.

Kenya has denied the accusation and has said that its television service is operating within its own territory.

The dispute has caused tension between the two countries, and it is expected to be resolved in the near future.

increase in value

The value of the Kenya Shilling has increased significantly since its introduction in 1963.

The shilling is now worth more than twice as much as it was when it was first introduced. This is due to the success of Kenya's economy and to the stability of its government.

The increase in value has benefited many Kenyans, particularly those who own property or businesses.

NINTH SMALLPOX CASE SUSPECTED

A ninth case of smallpox is suspected in Kenya, with a patient in Nairobi showing symptoms.

The patient is a young man who has been hospitalized in a hospital in Nairobi. He has a fever, a rash, and other symptoms characteristic of smallpox.

Health officials are investigating the case and are trying to identify the source of the infection. They are also taking steps to prevent the disease from spreading.
