SHAKES IN KENYA

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir.—In reply to Mr. D. A. Douglas-Phillips's letter in your issue of May 15th stating that there are four districts in the Colony, Government officials in the Colony, at any rate in this district, in the opinion of the Government, are not in the world for the purpose of making a profit. As the South African Chamber of Commerce has stated, the Government has a right. The fact remains that the Government has a right to make a profit. It is a very simple matter to see that the Government has a right to make a profit. It is a very simple matter to see that the Government has a right to make a profit.

RAILWAY BRIDGE BOMBED IN NORTH CHINA

SERIOUS SEQUEL TO JAPANESE REINFORCEMENT

Chinese Fears

TO BE MADE PRETEXT FOR DIRECT ACTION IN AREA?

THREAT has been a serious sequel to Japanese troop reinforcements in North China.

Despite the utmost Chinese precautions to prevent anti-Japanese demonstrations, a railway bridge between Tientsin and Tanghsu has been bombed, holding up the line.

The Japanese have launched a vigorous investigation and blamed the Chinese railway officials as Tanghsu and Tientsin, under the direction of the Japanese military authorities.

Chinese authorities are suspicious regarding the incident, and fear that it may be made a pretext for direct action in North China.

Japanese Blame Students

Students in North China are protesting the Japanese attack and fear that the Japanese will use the incident as a pretext for direct action in North China.

CHILD LEADS RESPONSE TO THE CHILDREN'S CALL

PRACTICAL HELP BY RAILWAY AND NAIROBI FIRM

THE Appeal of the Children is being heard. The first response is encouraging.

Not with the beginning of the month, when pockets are lined with sympathy, no doubt there will be many who will remember the last night of the Holiday Fund and in their generosity, help the good work of the Holiday Fund.

The first advertisement received by the "East African Standard" was a notice of a young girl's name, who had been orphaned by the death of her father.

One business firm, Messrs. A. H. Wardle and Company, have also given early evidence of practical help. They have offered to supply lists of clothing and sundries, and to make good any deficiencies.

The Railway Administration is again giving considerable assistance to the Committee in train fares, luggage rates, etc.

It is in the line of contributions.

Mr. J. Boyes, of the firm of Messrs. J. Boyes and Co., has also given a contribution of £100.

THICK FOG DELAYS "QUEEN MARY"

CAPTAIN AND FIVE OTHERS ON NIGHT WATCH

Stowaway Found

EXPECTED TO BECOME CELEBRITY WHEN HE REACHES AMERICA

AFTER a second day's run of 700 miles, the Cunard White Star liner "Queen Mary" entered thick mist on Saturday night and had to slow to half speed.

Early yesterday morning the fog thickened. Visibility was practically nil, and six men, including the captain, Mr. Edgar Britton, were on the look-out.

On Friday a stowaway was discovered on board. He is an unemployed Londoner and he is working his passage as a kitchen hand.

American expert has to become a celebrity on his arrival.

The "Queen Mary" is now making 10 knots, owing to the fog.

BRITAIN AND ITALY

To the Editor "R.A. Standard," Sir.—It is entirely in keeping with the best traditions of the British press that you should allow "the case for Italy," the freedom of presentation you have allowed it, but after some months of this liberality one is compelled to ask—is it to be an exercise of your tolerance toward a people who under the stress of political hysteria, are themselves at present violently intolerant? Let Fascism be as intolerant as it may be in Italy—this is a matter for the Italian Government and the Italian Consul in a British city. It shows the same sort of intolerance to a British citizen if it is time we began to ask ourselves questions. The facts are as follows: A few days after the Italian Army entered Addis Ababa, I received a letter from the Royal Italian Consul at Nairobi enquiring whether I was the sender of a congratulatory telegram he had received. It particularly asked that I should reply. I replied most politely saying that I was not the sender of the telegram in question, that for some months the military conquest of Abyssinia was a matter for congratulation. I expected that their desire for territorial expansion had caused a great civilized people like the Italians to violate ruthlessly treaties into which they had freely entered, and that from a sense of shame, Signor Mussolini I should in future have to think of his name as a menace to the peace of the world. Your haste back sends a letter from the Royal Italian Consul thanking me for my "insolent opinions."

Now, I was not unprepared for a little provocation on the part of the Consul...

To the Editor "R.A. Standard," Sir.—I beg you to let me say a little of space to reply to the article of my letter which you kindly have published as an article on the "Italo-Italian Question." I have had including the name of the man of personage, who has been quoted in the House of Commons if it had been given, which is a question in the House of Commons if it had been given, which is a question in the House of Commons if it had been given...

The reply to the first part is that practically all the parties to the war, for those statements have been published by the man from Berlin...

Italy Dominated by the War Spirit

STRIKING ARTICLE IN A LONDON NEWSPAPER

Anti-British Campaign

"DEFAET OF ENGLAND THE ONE THING REALLY ENJOYABLE"

THE effect of the Italian victory in Abyssinia on world affairs and particularly on Anglo-Italian relations is described in an arresting article written by the Rome Correspondent of the "Morning Post."

The writer declares that the fall powers of the Italian State are being directed towards two main objects—(1) consolidation and exploitation of Italian acquisitions in Africa, and (2) preparative and organization for a war in Europe.

The Italian people, especially the young people (he says) are being trained to consider that the defeat of Britain would be the one thing really enjoyable.

Bitter Feeling in Rome

It is in the "Morning Post" that the writer declares that the fall powers of the Italian State are being directed towards two main objects—(1) consolidation and exploitation of Italian acquisitions in Africa, and (2) preparative and organization for a war in Europe.

Italy has the most magnificent position in the world. It is a peninsula which is surrounded by the sea on three sides. It is a country which is rich in resources and in population. It is a country which is the center of the Mediterranean world.

EAST AFRICA AT THE EMPIRE EXHIBITION

INFORMATIVE ADDRESS BY THE OFFICER-IN-CHARGE

WORK WHICH IT IS HOPEW LEAD TO INCREASE TRADE

An interesting address on the Empire Exhibition, which will be staged during the last four months of this year at Johannesburg, was given at the Nairobi Railway Club on Friday by Mr. C. Kenneth Archer, who is now in charge of the East African Pavilion and who recently visited the exhibition ground.

The speaker first gave a general description of the Exhibition plans and then dealt in detail with the African Pavilion, which, he said, would occupy what was probably the best site on the ground.

Dominating Site
In comparison with the British Empire Exhibition of this year at London, the East African Pavilion at Johannesburg is a comparatively small affair, but it is a well-planned and well-located one.

The speaker first gave a general description of the Exhibition plans and then dealt in detail with the African Pavilion, which, he said, would occupy what was probably the best site on the ground.

Helping the Children

THE Children's Holiday Fund moved forward substantially again yesterday.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Byrne, both of whom are on their way to Dar es Salaam, have promptly associated their names with the appeal and their example will stimulate the generosity of the many other residents in Kenya who have taken so keen an interest in this Fund in the past.

Contributions will be welcomed, no matter how small, and they will all be acknowledged in the columns of the "East African Standard."

The time at the disposal of the Colony is really very limited. It is hoped to send children to the seaside in later than the end of July.

It is the first list of contributions:

KING GEORGE V MEMORIAL

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard,"—If I am not a fool, I suggest that the committee of King George V. Memorial should pay the lasting homage of the King-Empire, and continue the beloved memory of a good and noble King by raising a fine monument as a national.

My suggestion is that the committee should be asked to collect for a "King George V. Memorial Fund" which would consist of a postage stamp from every State in the Commonwealth. The amount of the stamp should be set up in a central office, not the Post Office. In addition, a King George Memorial Hall and Museum should be built in Nairobi and Mombasa. I hope our committee will not fall on deaf ears.

Yours etc,
T. M. A. BATHER,
Tampora,
May 26, 1936.

GERMATION

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard,"—It is a new country, the Kenya, and in a position of advantage in that we can benefit through germination, and in the future and success of this continent. One way in which germination could be made more of is in reference to the death of our dead. The bodies of our dead should be buried in a dignified and scientific manner, and the bodies should be buried in a dignified and scientific manner. All this convention should be done with a view to the health and welfare of the people, and the bodies should be buried in a dignified and scientific manner.

Yours etc,
HUGH COLLEY,
Hon. Secretary,
R.A. Burial Committee,

Final of American Zone

AUSTRALIANS WIN TWO MATCHES

STENOGRAPHY ASSOCIATION
Philadelphia, May 31.

The final of the American Davis Cup tennis tournament, between Australia and the United States, was held at the University Club in Philadelphia on Monday evening.

Quinn's strategy was to hit the back of the ball first, then the forehand, and then the back again. He was successful in this, and the Australian's backhand for the rest of the game. In the final set, Quinn made through the ball drive in his own service, finally won the match.

It's an old Spanish Costume

Inspired by the 1928 'Carmen'—inspired by the colorful costumes of Spanish matadors—Butterick presents to you the Bolero Belt. It is completely devastating, made of black or navy crepe with a frothy blouse in dainty apron.

Butterick Says: "A REDINGOTE 'ROUND THE CLOCK'"

We think that the redingote is probably the single smartest and most practical fashion of Spring. And this is the smartest redingote we've seen! The stand-up collar buttoned at the neck and the buttoned flap pockets are very cute and handy. The sleeves have the new shoulder height. The dress beneath has brief sleeves, a bow-tie at the neck, and double inverted pleats in center front.

It's the line of the jacket which makes this costume not so becoming. Particularly if you hope to have a little longer than you would have them—blatly!—you will find that this jacket fits you in just the right spot. We suggest a point with a dark background (characteristic for the dress) and a little fabric for the pocket.

A large range of BUTTERICK PAPER PATTERNS always in stock in various sizes.

PRICES: from Shs. 1/25 to Shs. 5/- each.

Never in the history of the Society have there been so many entries of the cattle and sheep, for example, and all the original plans of the organizers had to be hastily revised as entries came pouring in, to reach a final figure just short of 200. The previous record for Nakuru Show was 99 head of cattle.

Almost twice as many entries have been received in the dog classes as was at first expected, and there is still all the available space; and dairy produce entries were never so high.

The Secretary of the Society, Mr. Mervyn F. Hill, told the 'East African Standard' that the success of the show was assured. There was no doubt that it would be an outstandingly successful, and this he regarded as a sign of the times.

£45 CHALLENGE TO KENYA'S BACHELORS

"Put Them On Their Mettle"

THE 'East African Standard' was greatly encouraged yesterday in the endeavour to place the Cause of the Children by the receipt of the following letter.

Sir, I suggest that there is one section of the community that should be particularly generous in supporting the Children's Holiday Fund. I refer to the Bachelors.

Will you open a Subsidiary Fund confined solely to contributions from Bachelors? Put us on our mettle and see what we can do! I shall be very glad if you will use the enclosed cheque for the £45 to start a fund of this nature.

For my own preference I take refuge in anonymity and subscribe myself.

Yours etc., A CRUSTY OLD BACHELOR.

If the bachelors of Kenya want to form a section of the Children's Fund for themselves, the 'East African Standard' will be happy to accommodate them. The only convincing argument would be the receipt of large numbers of generous cheques like that accompanying the foregoing letter.

Before the end of the first week the Fund should pass the first £50 mark.

ABOLITION PROPOSAL CRITICIZED

To the Editor "E.A. Standard,"—When studying a report of the Coffee Planting Society, I found that their proposal to have a Government monopoly in the coffee industry is a very sound financial proposition. The Government would be able to pay a little less for coffee than the private trader, but it would be able to pay a little more for coffee than the private trader. It is a very sound financial proposition.
