subjected to that definition. If they show satisfied effect, the new legislation the speaker said it was very reasonable that they should have fairly far-reaching powers. He said that would like to point out that there has been a great deal of change in the wording of the provisions as compared with the existing legislation.

Major Cavendish-Blenlock referred to the fact that the medical officers could "order all the expense of the employer's work for a contract of insurance necessary." The wording of the old ordinance it stated the medical officer could order that if it did not seem necessary to insure against the new writing, and the speaker said the doctor could go as far as to order it changed and require to put himself in the position of the employer.

Another bit of alteration was that the old ordinance the Government could make rules but they had to be submitted to the Legislative Council at the next session. The procedure gave members an opportunity of expressing their views with regard to the bills. No similar provision had been in the new ordinance and the speaker submitted that it should be included.

"I hear" from the Electoral Commission he asked that the debate on the second reading of the Bill should be adjourned to a later date so that it would be a great pity for Government to refuse to order it changed and require to put himself in the position of the employer.

In One of Them

When he reached the chamber of the House of Representatives, Mr. Willan quoted the address— "It shall be the duty of the Government to take all reasonable steps to ascertain whether the alien has been convicted of any offence which would lead to his being deported to his own country, and if so, to cause him to be deported." This had been necessary in a result of a case which had come before the court in which it was held that the Government was not justified in detaining an alien unless it was proved that he was a danger to the public.

Cotton Mills Become Barracks

The likelihood of general Sino-Japanese hostilities is met by competent observers here in view of Japan's emergency appropriation of one hundred million yen, which is likely to be increased by another three hundred million, the simultaneous arrival of Japanese reinforcements to North China and the mobilization of 100,000 reservists in Japan.

The Japanese Consulates are closing and Japanese services are evacuating from various parts of China, while Japanese commercial houses in China have been advised by the Japanese authorities to wind up business.

The Japanese cotton mills at Shanghai and Tsingtau have been converted into barracks for Japanese troops. Japanese residents who have not been evacuated are being organized into special service corps.

PRAYER CURES CLAIMED

"Paralysed Woman Walks"

[STANDARD'S CORRESPONDENT.]

London, July 21.

ASTONISHING claims of healing by prayer were made at the Methodist conference at Brighton by the Rev. L. de D. Weather...

He said that the results at the City Temple had been "just amazing."

A young woman lying in hospital was told that her disease was incurable, that there was no hope...

They prayed for him on a number of Sunday evenings. He was now back at work.

A young, expectant mother was described in both cases. The doctors said that she would never be able to see her legs or successfully deliver the child.

Prayer resulted in the woman walking in the weeks again within two or three hours. Her baby was safely born.

A young nurse with a temperature of 106 and unable to sleep was prayed for. A drop to normal in her temperature followed.

Patients Did Not Know

She did not know that the prayers were being said. He could give twelve instances in the last six months of cases of healing where the people did not know that prayers were being offered for them.

One letter from a woman asked: "Can you tell me why it is that being blind, and having been given up as hopelessly blind, at 7:30 last Sunday evening it was just as though a blind went up and I saw and have continued to see?"

The conference adopted a recommendation of the committee of spiritual healing that an experiment should be made to discover to what extent, if any, help could be given by religious ministrations and psychology ministers working in co-operation.

It was passed upon ministers and local preachers that there was a tremendous healing ministry which they must make use of because of this modern industry of science.

ROADS IN THOMSON'S FALLS AREA

Torrential Rains Cause Considerable Havoc

[STANDARD'S CORRESPONDENT.]

Thomson's Falls, July 26.

Road conditions in the district have deteriorated rapidly of late. Rain has fallen heavily and the existing culverts, designed to pass surface drainage under the bridge...

On Saturday last, Harry's Hotel was sheltering and comforting two parties which had been rescued from sections of the bridge road...

The causeway near the Nank bridge south of the Falls, is proving its chief capacity in the way of a settler approaching the causeway pulled in establishment for, instead of the familiar outline of a causeway, there appeared only a scum, dark lake. Prudence suggested a halt...

Emergency Action Urged

The laboring methods of the dry season however, will no longer satisfy local residents and emergency action together with the expenditure of accumulated savings...

LONDON COFFEE AUCTIONS

Kenya Offerings Remain Unsold

The Coffee Board has received the following market cable advice...

Kenya Coffee: "A" grade 115 bags offered; "B" grade 41 bags offered; "C" grade 20 bags offered; all of which remained unsold.

It is difficult to avoid this chaos and the hope is expressed that the local authority will assist local aid to fill in the hole immediately with some concrete.

In view of the calls upon the organized road gangs at the moment it is considered that if their services are to be wanted for travel in the district will become either impossible, or extremely difficult.

There is also a considerable body of opinion that considers that the cuts made during the period of financial stringency, particularly in connection with road grants, should be restored.

FLOODED RIVERS IN THE GILGIL AREA

Veteran's Narrow Escape When Bridge Collapses

[STANDARD'S CORRESPONDENT.]

Gilgil, July 24.

Following a spell of dry weather the Club Valley has experienced some heavy thunderstorms. The Little Gilgil Brook, which falls as quickly as a river, was carrying 10 feet of water on Wednesday last...

No fishing at the Pool will be possible until the bridge has been rebuilt. The Duffer's Pool region, above the confluence of the Tulaga and Okolomdo, was flooded during the past week, but later the Duffer's Pool, was demarcated.

Incidental rain in the Upper Gilgil area have caused the Okolomdo to be in flood for some time past. There was at one time a good bridge over the Okolomdo...

Mr. Frank Watkins, who is in his 80th year, recently had an extraordinary narrow escape from disaster when the fishing bridge over the Little Gilgil Brook, leading to his house, was carried away by flood water.

WAR IN SPAIN

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard."
 Sir—The letter by "A. Christian" under the heading "War in Spain" appearing in your issue of July 20 asks for impartial judgment as to whether the National Government or the Spanish Government is the aggressor. I have approached your readers to note that justice is done by hearing both sides of the case. Perhaps you, Sir, with your usual generosity in printing news from all correspondents, will be able to do this for the "Christian."
 Attention is drawn by what has happened in the National Government in Spain, but it should be remembered that the great majority of the Spanish people have been unconcerned by long months of cruel, systematic and deliberate persecution and suffering. The National Government has been a struggle to save the lives of the innocent and the will of the law.

In 1917 Spain made a gallant bid for freedom when the anti-clerical Government was elected in power with a majority of over 2 to 1. Under this Government all in the spirit of years of world depression, the national income rose very considerably while that of most other nations decreased. The Church no doubt had lost some of its material possessions which in the opinion of the "Christian" would be a source of national wealth. The National Government was very considerate in its disposal of these possessions, leaving approximately 70 million pounds of revenue for all civil purposes including education. To religion, however, the Church Party received an 11,000 million pound increase in the same year. However, returned the Republican Constitution with 800 members representing 144 to 100 members. More than one General Franco, who is the claim of the present Government to represent the Spanish people? Surely "Christian" has wandered far from the facts.

Spain why does she show such partiality to Franco Mussolini's estimate of the issue and the material aspect of your readers? Has any country ever produced a more serious and well-organized force of men? Has any country ever produced a more serious and well-organized force of men? Has any country ever produced a more serious and well-organized force of men?

KISUMU—FIRE AND WATER
 To the Editor, "E. A. Standard."
 Sir—I read the article by the Hon. Mr. Conway Hartley in the Legislative Council of Kenya on the fighting position with drainage and the fighting position with drainage and the fighting position with drainage.

From the Government reply it appears that the Government does not wish to undertake the construction of a drainage scheme this year. It will be recalled that two years ago the Government in the main street of Kisumu were covered and that all sorts of dirty water, etc., from the Civil Native Hospital and residential areas pass through these drains but no provision has been made to flush the drains with water. Consequently they grow rank a foul stench. It is an exaggeration to state that politicians have to use temporary handkerchiefs made when passing on the east side of the main street passage.

The local authorities realize all these facts, but the only thing to do is to wash the face of the street with water which will prevent your readers from knowing that one water supply is overflowing at night. Surely a way out is necessary in the interest of the people and the general public that the Government should take steps to improve the drainage system. The Government should take steps to improve the drainage system. The Government should take steps to improve the drainage system.

TOO MANY LAWS: A SUPERSEDER OF SUPERADJACT
 To the Editor, "E. A. Standard."
 Sir—Having read your issue of July 28, I cannot but be struck by the number of laws which have been brought before a Magistrate. The same is true in two parts of that same issue, the one by the Hon. Mr. Conway Hartley on the subject of the drainage system and the other by the Hon. Mr. Conway Hartley on the subject of the drainage system.

 Don't let "TIRED SKIN" age your face with tiny wrinkles

A woman's youthful and lovely complexion may age suddenly. "Tired Skin" is the cause of the effect of harsh, hot sunbaths and the wind-blown grime of the street. You can prevent this by using Glycerin-scented Knight's Castile. Besides being deeply cleansing, its lather is mildly soothing—keeps the beauty glands healthy and prevents the skin from becoming dry and cracked. Knight's Castile is just what you need in the country to keep your complexion appealingly fresh.

RACE FOR THE AMERICA'S CUP Defender Again Beats Challenger Endavour's Lamentable Performance

ENGLISH EXPERT'S VIEWS [Specialist writes for 'The Age'] Newport, Aug. 2. Mr. Harold Vandell's defeat for the America's Cup on the second day when Ranger beat Mr. T. O. M. Sappah's challenger, Endavour II.

The course was a triangular one over thirty miles. The first two days were fought with a steady onshore breeze which was light and airy. Endavour II, carrying a five-stay sail and a large main, was the favorite to win. Ranger was the challenger. The race was a close one. Ranger was leading when the wind shifted. Endavour II was a star of a mile. Ranger was leading when the wind shifted. Endavour II was a star of a mile. Ranger was leading when the wind shifted.

Mr. Olin Stephens, Ranger's coxswain, took the wheel on the homeward stretch. Endavour was out of sight in the haze. The commentator broadcasting a description of the race, contented themselves with saying, forth with, that Ranger's walkway victory was won by 11 minutes. It is the heaviest defeat ever for the challenger, Valkyrie by 12 minutes 20 seconds in 1924. Ranger's time was 3 hours 41 minutes 33 seconds, and Endavour's 4 hours and 5 seconds. It is now probable that the next win will take place on Thursday.

"A Lamentable Performance" Mr. Scott Hughes, the English expert, at the finish of the race, described the Endavour's performance as "lamentable."

Third Race Postponed Mr. Sappah has exercised his right with regard to a postponement of the race. Various reasons were given for the postponement. Mr. Sappah said there was a possibility that he had picked up a cold. It is also understood that it is now probable that the next win will take place on Thursday.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

The lad has left Liam for Mombasa on April 4. He has returned. No doubt he will be very glad to see his father. Even that possibility is a cause of "Hallelujah" which is the cry of the people of the town and the road. The lad has returned. The road people are under such a spell of excitement that it is considered unlikely that the road will be possible for another month or so. Almost as had one of the people of the road between Mombasa and Mombasa, but it is thought that these may be possible in about three weeks time. What the road need now are about three more trucks. We have had quite enough rain for the crops, so now high time that the roads be given a change. With the reopening of the Mombasa road will come the first of the weekly motor mail service, taking two days for the through trip. True that our country is not so good as it used to be, but only in the one direction, i.e., with the prevailing monsoon. Against this monsoon they may take a week or more, so that we shall be the gainers by the new service.

Made by Dow

As any man is well a man to all concerned when the runner service is suspended as the lakes of East Africa. Every other direction with the added advantage of the rain-affected conditions. While on the subject it may be added by the media of the authorities that they are going to take advantage of any dry days found for Lamu runners. The road equipment is supposed to have left Mombasa this morning. A good sign in the matter for which we have to thank the Department.

ment is that of the institution of a public telephone at Mombasa. It may appear a trifling matter, but the Department is still considering the matter. is that of the installation of a public telephone at Nakuru. It may appear a little unorthodox to someone that the application for this instrument arrived before 1910, but it is gratifying to have proof that the public has not been overlooked in the meantime.

Better Postal Receipts

It is also good news to us that the Department is still considering the matter of the installation of wireless at Nakuru. The post office has been asked to send from Nakuru a local post office from the station in 1930 were approximately 10 per cent greater than were those for 1929.

Other sources of revenue were also better. The sales of stamps were up 20 per cent for the same period, and wireless fund receipts were up 25 per cent.

At last he has had some of the pleasures of the modern world. He has now received his telephone and is very happy.

Program of Kenya Education
REPORT ON 1963

Considerable improvement in the training of African teachers an increase in the number of Indian and African children attending schools, and reports of good discipline in the various schools are three of the main features of the 1963 annual report of the Kenya Education Department.

There are, however, several areas needing attention. Native education still presents many difficulties and the provision of adequate housing for the growing number of African teachers is one of the most urgent. It is also necessary to continue to improve the standard of native schools, which, although they include many very modern standards, are "fundamentally of a low standard."

After a historical survey of education in Kenya, the report states that the progress of the education system is such that it is recommended that the progress of African education should be accelerated. It may be remembered that in the year 1953 the Government was advised to improve the standard of native schools, which, although they include many very modern standards, are "fundamentally of a low standard."

The Ministry of Education has taken steps to improve the standard of native schools, which, although they include many very modern standards, are "fundamentally of a low standard."

Kenya Rugby Meeting Concludes
Overseas 393 Points Match Sheet

The total number of natives at schools has now reached 100,000 of which 70,000 are in primary schools, and 30,000 are in secondary schools. The progress against allowing girls to enter secondary schools is also a notable achievement. At present only 10,000 girls are in secondary schools, but this is expected to increase to 20,000 by 1965.

The Kenya Rugby Meeting, which opened on Saturday, 22nd March, and closed on Sunday, 24th March, has concluded with a total of 393 points scored by the overseas teams.

TERRIBLE EFFECTS OF GAS IN WAR

Characteristics of the Main Types

MUSTARD GAS

Knowledge and Foresight the Best Protection

This is the second in a series of short articles on gas, published in conjunction with the current information classes.

[FROM A COMMEMORATIVE.]

The various types of gases which are called today are many; those gases which were used in the Great War. This is no criterion that in an emergency other gases would not be used with, you does it mean that the knowledge in chemical warfare is not ceased. Unfortunately it still continues. The classification of these gases from here, however, one which will embrace any gas, which are classified by their effects on the human body and save you gas would automatically fall under one of the headings...

Choking Gases

The first class of gases in the "Blister" class. There are two main members of this class and a brief survey of one will show the true characteristics of the class.

The principal Blister Gas is Mustard Gas referred to as H.S. It is a white, heavy oil of a fairly sweet smell of mustard or garlic. It is a highly toxic, highly irritative, and is very persistent gas and it is only recognizable by the smell after decomposition of the colour it develops the same of soap.

As a gas contained by Mustard Gas may be dangerous to breathe, or even for minutes unless treated. Food will not do any good when the gas comes out or it will wash it away. If it is placed in a sheltered place, away from the sun, rain and wind, it will continue to remain effective and be persistent for a considerable time.

One part of Mustard Gas vapor in ten million, in the air for one hour is usually producing Fever of Penetration

It will penetrate most substances with the exception of glass, smooth bright metal plates and thin glass plates. Rubber will hold it out for a considerable time until the rubber becomes so saturated that it will penetrate through and leather. The liquid will penetrate ordinary men's clothing in ten minutes, the top of boots in 15 minutes, the soles of boots in an hour.

Mustard gas on the skin does not produce any immediate irritation, but after about two hours redness appears and in 12 to 24 hours blisters appear. Blisters caused by vapours of liquid are immediately fatal. The vapour penetrates and attacks the skin in much the same way as the liquid (Continued in next column)

Help Kidneys

Don't Take Drastic Drugs

Don't take drastic drugs, such as cathartics, purgatives, or other medicines, which are often sold as "kidney pills" or "kidney cures". These drugs are often very harmful to the kidneys and can cause permanent damage. Instead, use a mild, natural remedy like Gidoomal & Sons' Kidney Pills, which are gentle and effective.

Affects Food

Food which is affected by the gas and eaten will cause internal injury. It is difficult to see—particularly on a tarman road, and on the roofs and buildings. It is difficult to get rid of and not get it down at the time it has been affected. Contamination is not removable any and injury may be received by touching any article which has come in contact with the gas some time previously.

Asthma Germs Killed in 3 Minutes

Chlorine dioxide, a powerful germicide, is used to kill asthma germs. It is a colorless, odorless gas that can be inhaled and acts quickly to destroy the bacteria that cause asthma. It is safe and effective, and can be used in the home or in public places.

FOOD SUPPLY THREAT

11,000 Strikers Bring 6,000 Police into Action

Philadelphia, August 5. (Associated Press.)

A strike of eleven thousand longshoremen and warehousemen in Philadelphia today threatened the city's food supply.

The Mayor, Mr. David Wilson, has proclaimed himself a virtual dictator under the state in the public emergency, and has taken control of the police force and ordered a mass parade of six thousand special police to prevent violence.

Up to the present there have been 21 arrests following the declaration of a strike, the burning of a store and the burning of a building.

Following the Mayor's action the Union leaders have declared the strike official.

BIG PLANS FOR SISAL

Kenya and London Want 37,000 Acres

NEAR TAVETA

Grouping Scheme for Three Big Estates

Notice is given in the current issue of the "Official Gazette" of an application by the Zivani Sisal Estate Ltd. for the direct alienation to them of 37,000 acres of land at Taveta, and behind the application is the plan of development of huge areas for the production of sisal.

The company, in which Major E. S. Crisp, Sir John Rowland and Major Conrad Walsh hold the major interests, already has an acre of 20,000 acres in the same area which is being developed on modern lines with sisal plantations. Of the 37,000 acres now applied for 10,000 acres adjoin the present area and run down to the railway line near Salaita Hill. The other 27,000 acres of the area are applied for on the other side of the Railway and is being sought by the Zivani company on behalf of big London interests, who propose to form a separate company for the purpose of sisal development. This area of 27,000 acres runs from Salaita to Lake Jipe.

It will be seen that with the railway line running through it the whole area is a complete one-making, economical use of machinery, operative and labour in all three estates.

An acre of the estate with which the work is being advanced is being planted with 1,000 acres of sisal on the present ground property has been cleared since the year and the planting programme for this area is 8,000 acres before the end of the year.

And when additional machinery on order arrives, within the next two months, the company will have a plant capable of dealing with over 3,000 acres a month.

America Revisited After Forty Years

It makes me how much I missed a writer in it, for both knowing and communicative friends.—CLARENCE

Being the first of two articles by Dr. CYRIL ALINGTON, D.D., on the changes since the end of the last century.

THESE are a lamentably large class of travelers who have taken to a country where they have their own language, their own literature, their own religion, their own customs, and their own prejudices, and have spent their lives in the most remote parts of the world. They are the "missionaries" of the last century, and their work is now being revisited by Dr. Cyril Alington, D.D., in two articles which are published in this paper.

Dr. Alington is a distinguished scholar and writer, and his articles are of great interest and value. In his first article, he discusses the changes in the world since the end of the last century, and in his second article, he discusses the changes in the United States since the end of the last century.

Dr. Alington's articles are written in a clear and concise style, and they are well illustrated with photographs. The photographs show the changes in the world and the United States since the end of the last century, and they are of great interest and value.

Dr. Alington.

American cities with their spacious parks and boulevards which fit a European visitor with admiring envy. Massachusetts Avenue in Washington, commercial, and sometimes frank threatening, but they all convey a sense of the immensity and the dignity of the problem. I have no notes of any regulation with what strictness the regulations are carried out. But I am left with two, possibly conflicting impressions: the first that a very large number of Americans use their streets as a permanent garage, and the second that the revenue from fines for improper parking must go far towards balancing the city budgets.

I should not like to leave the subject of impurements without saying a tribute to the excellent drivers. For the former virtue I was prepared, I knew that in America, as in England (and perhaps with greater excuse), bad drivers had been spent on road-making.

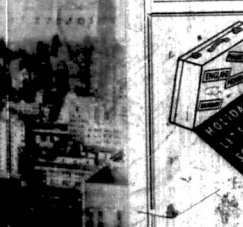

I can only say that the country I see has recovered good value for its money, and that I particularly admired the wisdom with which small towns are being avoided and the danger to life thereby reduced. We are accustomed to think that human life is held cheap in the United States, and for that reason I was the more delighted to find that the average driver is so considerate. No doubt I may have been exceptionally fortunate, but though I was driven for long distances at considerable speed I saw no example of bad and reckless driving nor any disposition to disregard the rules of the road, or the various local regulations.

The other revolutionary change which I noticed comes from the increased use of the telephone. It had, of course, begun to be used by me last visit, and was in use in England too. But I do not remember that I had then encountered it there, so will a comparatively new invention I remember to find in use as a big merchant with whom I stayed outside Philadelphia complaining that it was beginning to destroy all initiative in his subordinates, who tended to consult him about every little detail now that they knew him to be available; and the use for social purposes was still a comparatively new thing here. The chief object of interest was the squandered Bill, and the case for the abolition of the latter was the more distressed, especially those relative to native export. It is pleasing to hear the Chief Veterinary Officer expressing, however tardily, his sympathy. It is pleasing to hear the view expressed in the Daniel Hall report of eight or nine years ago. But one cannot help commenting on the fact that the recommendation for this ordinance went Home to the Colonial Office at the end of 1898 and it is only now, in the middle of 1927 that the Act is being debated in the Legislative Council. An administrative achievement if one gives little account of it.

THE SWEETS OF SUBSIDY.
As Colonial agriculture is largely dependent on that of Great Britain, it is interesting to read the report of the Committee on Agriculture. The development of labor for 1926 has declined by over thirty thousand, and the average of wheat and beans are also less than in the previous year. The development of African producers may render considerable more in 1927, the 'national' estimate for Sugar that is forty-one thousand more greater than for 1925. This is, of course, a very slightly diminished industry. It is the idea of its success that it can ever be important. It is the idea of its success that it can ever be important. It is the idea of its success that it can ever be important.

RUNNING COMMENTARIES.
The Rugby Union in England has been seriously considering refusal to allow running commentaries of the most important games to be given over the air. Everyone will hope they will do nothing of the kind, especially those who live overseas. The financial aspect of Rugby every year, has, however regrettable, to be considered, but it is more than doubtful if the abolition of running commentaries would improve the game. That is not the way in which progress works. When a new invention is made, it seldom deters anything which cannot completely supersede it. The cinema, for example, has not destroyed the drama. The talk longer than it would have been before the advent of the picture platform. It is true that the third touring company may have suffered, but it has been superseded by a better form of entertainment. I do not believe that the good and best of anything will be done by the abolition of anything which cannot completely supersede it.

one can fall to be struck by the number of instances about "parking" which plagues American Streets. They are sometimes impossible, sometimes purely commercial, and sometimes frank threatening, but they all convey a sense of the immensity and the dignity of the problem. I have no notes of any regulation with what strictness the regulations are carried out. But I am left with two, possibly conflicting impressions: the first that a very large number of Americans use their streets as a permanent garage, and the second that the revenue from fines for improper parking must go far towards balancing the city budgets.

"And that's the end of that!" you say, "I'm glad to hear it." But there is no reason why we should be so glad.

You're a trying period, trying for the woman herself and trying for those around her. She is nervous, tries easily which makes her even more nervous. No wonder she is irritable.

THINK FOR YOURSELF

We are struggling to keep our figures, our clothes, our houses and ourselves an up-to-date or possible part of the speed the world is racing on.

Now is it? Is it worth while to push every knob on every lever and snare every last possibility of that set of corners where the most critical last possible possibility is?

Perfectly in such times as this, all very well in the busy Victorian age, but today it is too-much-to-do. Unless you want to be a lonely Chatterbox and let the world go by.
