Outraged international opinion over the practical type.

In any country," asks "The Times," prepared to defend the making of such arrangements? It is not clear how the Italian Government will be able to complete identical sessions in the near future. It is offered to a meeting place for action, not for negotiations.

Industrial Measures

Italy's "The Times" and the "Morning Post," the latter of which is generally anti-Italian, has been asked to Italy, make it clear that it should not suspend delay or prevent the acceptance of the Anglo-French initiative. These initiatives will have no success but to adopt drastic independent measures for the safety of the shipping, or as "The Times" proposes "to stop the ship despite the right of non-interference." It is suggested that every appropriate measure for the protection of their possessions from further such possible and otherwise outages.

While no specific information is available regarding the proposal which the British delegation propose to lay before the Conference, it is known that they will focus the attention, and upon urgency of the situation, and upon necessity of extending practical provisions, which might cover the meeting appropriate decisions.

Kenya—As a Whole
The present Governor of Kenya, Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, made very few speeches. When he did, they were very brief. At the moment His Excellency is spending most of his time in the country at the end of his first extended visit to the Coast. It has become a custom for Governors to spend part of the year there, because there is accommodation for a working holiday and a visit to the capital and presents a set of problems which are not met in the capital. It is not a holiday, but a working holiday, for roads, for telephones, for administrative activities, for the making of policy, are not possible to make in the capital. It is a working holiday, for the Governor has to see the country and the nature of its population and its resources. It is a working holiday, for the Governor has to see the country and the nature of its population and its resources. It is a working holiday, for the Governor has to see the country and the nature of its population and its resources.

On a hot Summer's day - step into the shade with A LONG COOL DRINK OF White Horse. Stay with WHITE HORSE as the days get hotter. Let the glass get taller; and use more ice, more soda. Add a half of lemon or lime if you like a tart taste. But always call for WHITE HORSE. WHITE HORSE is so soft to the palate, so smooth to the throat, for it is richly composed of excellent Scotch whiskies, carefully matured, then blended, married and agglomerated to the wood for a further ageing. To-morrow you'll be glad you said WHITE HORSE to-day. To lift your spirit without lifting your temperature, name your brand: WHITE HORSE, first for best weather thirst.

FARR-LOUIS FIGHT

A Credit to the Games

Schmeling 'Full of Grouses'

Welman Only Once in Danger

THE REPEATED RYE

["re-examine" commentator.]

Lenzberg, Aug. 29. (By wire from London.)

It seems there will never be an end to this boxing controversy which has been around in the past few months with the defeat of Broadbent, the world's heavyweight champion, by Joe Louis, after the former had failed to meet Schmeling for the title. Schmeling posted Louis for twelve rounds before boxing him, and then was matched with Broadbent, a threatened opponent of the latter fight eventually caused the champion to fix up for a contest with the American negro, and Louis won.

Into the scene then steps Tommy Farr, the Welshman, and "old" boxer. First of all he beats up Max Baer, and then Walter Neuf, and almost immediately goes to the world title against Louk.

America greeted the challenge of the Welshman with derision, but now she is recognizing herself in new history. After one of the greatest fights ever fought for the world heavyweight title, Tommy Farr, the British, lost on points.

The British Boxing Board of Control has declared that the Farr fight is just an obligation of the winner to meet Schmeling, the world champion, who unless Louis meets Schmeling within six months.

Schmeling Full of Grouses

Meanwhile, Schmeling, full of grouse, says he is no longer interested in a fight with Farr, which contest had already been arranged for by Louk's promoter. The German wants a return with Louis. If this comes off he had more than half of the States of America, has threatened to declare the world heavyweight championship by himself unless Louis meets Schmeling within six months.

The Repeated Rye

There is even a case for supposing that Farr would have won if he had not met with that interference in training and encouraged to lose to the man who is expected with his left hand instead of relying on his right, which with little of his American—possibly perhaps his own camp—possibly expected him to do. Farr had met with a "killer" right—the one which he is supposed to be using, but Louk's left was a bit too quick for him. If Farr could have kept on the lefts as well as he could the right he must have won, eye for eye.

The Taxpayers' Protection League

Constitution and Rules

CONSTITUTION.

1. The name of the organization is "The Taxpayers' Protection League".
2. The address is Stanley House, Weybridge Street, Nairobi.
3. The objects for which the organization is established are:
 - (a) To seek by any and every means to get Income Tax Legislation expunged from the law of Kenya Colony.
 - (b) In the meantime to render all possible assistance to any person or persons or body corporate or incorporation to mitigate the incidence of Income Tax; thus giving effect to the words of Lord Trenchard in the House of Lords case on the 7th May, 1816, of "Inland Revenue Commissioners v. Duke of Westminster":

"Every man is entitled if he can to order his affairs so that the tax attaching under the appropriate Acts is less than it otherwise would be. If he succeeds in reducing them so as to secure this result, then however oppressive the Commissioners of Inland Revenue or his fellow taxpayers may be to his industry, he cannot be compelled to pay an increased tax."
 - (c) To demonstrate by the publication and circulation of leaflets, pamphlets, advertisements or otherwise the impracticability of any equitable application of Income Tax in Kenya Colony compared as it is of inland taxes, and in particular to demonstrate the deleterious repercussions upon the farming and other community and also the lower skilled employee who, whilst not directly affected by the tax at present, is gravely injured indirectly in his property, position, and prospects by the existence and imposition of an Income Tax.
 - (d) To work in liaison with, become members of or affiliate with any other organization, society, or body of persons having the same or similar objects whether in Kenya or elsewhere.
 - (e) To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects or any of them.

NOTE.—Those desiring of joining the Taxpayers' Protection League are asked to complete the sub-joined form and post to the address specified hereon.

AN EXCELLENT DAY

Women's Work for the British Legion

WELL DONE

Although the Fete did not really begin until the afternoon, early morning last Saturday found scores of women hard at work preparing for it.

Behind the scenes in the refreshment room, the hostesses Mrs. Gladwell, who was in charge of this important section, with her helpers, Mrs. Hyland, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. P. Good, and Mrs. Stephens had been there since 8 a.m. converting a mountain of loaves into attractive tins of sandwiches. Meas of the harem had been boiled by Mrs. Gladwell herself. She had also made bowls of sandwiches, and Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Stephens had a whole tin trunk full of slab cake of every kind.

In one corner was a beautiful table, in another a two-tiered collection of ingredients for toasties. On a side table was a basket of toasties and neatly what remains were... At the end of the day the stall had supplied nearly 700 loaves, five hundred toasties, and fed over three hundred helpings.

At the Stall

The people at the produce stall, were up and doing early, as many housewives called in to do their weekly shopping. Some of them arrived before the produce had been unpacked. Mrs. C. H. Wainman was in March and Mrs. T. H. Fisher, Mrs. W. Ansell, and Mrs. D. V. Hunting juggling with their purchases. Mrs. Ansell made jams and jellies, pickles, and so on. These people, too, had been at work for weeks making goodie for the debilitation of the public.

Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Walker provided an endless variety of tempting cakes and sweets, some of which they had made themselves, and others had been collected from friends and supporters of the British Legion. Not a crumb of confection was left over at the end of the day.

Armies of Helpers

The same tale was repeated at other stalls. Mrs. Glavin and Mrs. Lawford made a labour of love of the arrangement of the beautiful flowers and plants sent in for sale. Lady Margaret (Zet) Elms was in charge. Miss K. Robinson, with a hundredfold tin Bunsen-burner over her head, stood round getting the cinema bands ready for the next film on Mrs. McKendrick, assisted by Mrs. Norron, set out the articles made by Donald Saddler. Mrs. E. C. Hawley prepared the secret bath, where jacks, presents and flowers were an open book. Mrs. Heath and Mrs. Fay prepared the tables and covered them with tea, Mrs. C. W. K. Foster got...

Men Still Prefer Naturally LIGHT BROWNS to DROWN BROWNS

The fun went on until midnight and the grounds after tea made a pretty scene with the car lights and bonnets and their glowing headlights. Many of the men also sang the very old barbers' songs. Mrs. G. W. Ansell and Mrs. Hill were there, too, and some of the women who had decorated their stands with flowers.

Another Record for Britain

Sir Malcolm Campbell's most successful run was made on Lake Maggiore on September 2, in his new super-speeder "Blue Bird" - also set another to those held by Britain. Of the fastest speed on land since the fastest speed was set by Sir Malcolm's credit. This was later set by Henry Bagshaw, who held the fastest record for some time, like the fastest record in the world. This is no longer possible, as it is impossible to imagine a car doing it, if he chose, to hold the record. The record was held by Sir Malcolm Campbell, who set it on the 15th of September, 1929, when he drove his "Blue Bird" over the water. THE LOWER COMPONENT OF THE MAYO COMPOSITE AIRCRAFT

"Main" photographed on flying trials at Rochester, prior to tests with "Mercury."

Two Aeroplanes in One

Invention to Facilitate Fast, Non-Stop Distance Flights

The tests of "Main", the lower component of the Mayo composite aircraft, have proved most successful so far up to the present time. "Mercury", the upper portion of this composite type aircraft, is now nearing completion in the Rochester yards of Messrs. Short Bros., and will be hatched shortly. Below is a description of the craft and details of its construction, features and its intended purpose.

The Mayo composite aeroplane seems to combine long range and large payload in one and the same aeroplane by means of a heavily loaded machine, carrying much more cargo than it could carry in the ordinary way. It will also carry a payload of at least 1,000 lb. of mail. Performance of this aeroplane may be estimated by an aeroplane having a maximum speed of only 1,200 maximum miles per hour, carrying a payload of 1,000 lb. of mail, and a maximum speed of 1,200 miles per hour.

The Terraplane Four Door Sedan

The third car to be tested in the present series of trials of used cars was a Terraplane Six, four-door sedan, 1935 model. It was driven 22,000 miles on the speedometer.

It was fitted with the single speeder engine - and the "electric hand" a type of progressive gear change using a normal, synchromesh gear box, but with a small finger-lever on the steering column by which changes of ratio are selected and, when required, put into operation electrically.

operation electrically, and the "depression" of the clutch pedal. Starting was easy and the engine idled without hunting or misfiring. With this particular type of gear change, steering, by means of a dash button, could only be accepted when the clutch pedal was fully depressed, this being to obviate any likelihood of starting up with the car in gear.

Good Pulling Power

Once again the engine pulled well at all speeds on top gear, accelerating away from 10 m.p.h. steadily and lightly up to the maximum attained, some 70 m.p.h. before road and traffic conditions necessitated slowing down. One rather interesting feature was that the maximum speed was attained in 15 seconds, but the maximum speed was attained in 15 seconds, but the maximum speed was attained in 15 seconds.

Suspension was of the typical Terraplane type which has proved to be really very effective for slow speed driving on bumpy roads.

potholed and corrugated surfaces it could well have been fitted with a 10 m.p.h. cruising and cornering without sideways it was excellent. It was useful compromise between the ultra-soft and the maximum suspension, and had stood up well to 22,000 miles of running.

Steering and Braking

Steering was perfect. Brakes were powerful and pulled the car up all square from any speed attained, between 60 and 20 m.p.h. The pressure applied, however, was appreciable in emergency stops that high speed, but extremely light at anything below 55 m.p.h.

Economy Silence, Power - CHEVROLET

Engineers have two ways of adding power to a car. One is to increase the size of the engine, so that it will use more fuel. The CHEVROLET way is to make the same quantity of fuel deliver the same power by increasing engine efficiency, causing the engine to get more energy out of every drop of petrol.

The "Main", is similar to, but greater in size than the Empire boats and four feet more in length. It is a trailer in form, and is towed away from the hull to leave space for the floats of the upper component, and the tail surfaces are augmented to allow for operation of the upper component. Above them due to the super-structure of the upper component, the floats are two feet apart, connected by a cross beam, to support the central keel of the upper component. Above the keel are two lower girders on either side to steady the floats. In the centre of the main girder system is the apparatus for attachment and release of the upper component. The main girder can take place the float in such a manner that release a hook; the floats are connected by a cross beam, to support the central keel of the upper component. Towards Increased Settlement

Despite the highly disappointing results of the year's work in implementing the decision to institute a settlement policy...

New ones of the greatest benefit are undoubtedly lack of capital and the lack of a market for the produce...

The most expensive commodities on the produce of land are normally wheat and maize...

There are other advantages to the settlement in that it brings land to the farmer...

There would be no doubt that the settlement is a step towards the solution of the problem...

RESPONSE

CATTLE JUDGING AT SHOWS

To the Agricultural Editor, U.A. Standard.

Sir,-In view of the resolution passed at the annual meeting of the members of the Kenya Agricultural Society...

A panel of five judges is appointed yearly, two of which are normally and are not eligible for re-election for one year.

Junior judges may be allowed to judge but have no part in the awarding of prizes...

In Kenya at present we have three senior judges appointed annually and one or two junior judges...

The Council of the Royal Agricultural and Horticultural Society of Kenya...

This would give the committee the right to select their own judges...

There is a great deal of rearing going on, I think, and I will say a few words on this subject...

'Wood-B' Golfers Competition

NIKKED POTRONS AT KIAMBO

(Nikked)

A most delightful golfing match was played on Sunday, last at Kiambo, involving members of the Boma Rural Nairobi and the Kiambu Club, as expert players on each side, and the Royal Nairobi Golf Club, who wish to win by one match, despite the absence of Mrs. Salinger and Mr. Harris, their crack players. Everybody who played in the match will be highly appreciative of the whole day, which Kiambo is at its best, and I always think it is the ideal scene for ladies golf.

I noticed a correspondent in this Press suggests that the professional clubs have not been thought of with regard to the proposed state of Hurlingham and Kiambo, that the proposed matches in Nairobi will be Hagen and Kirkwood vs Mr. Holden and Mr. Hooper, the amateur champion and the professional, and Mr. Salinger and Mr. Mitchell, the professional and amateur. It would be a pity if these matches were not played, as it would give an opportunity to amateurs to play against the professionals, and to see the difference between the two classes.

SHOULD 'SETTLERS' EXCLUDE THOSE EMPLOYED IN COMMERCE?

As every day time we will be in the minds of the Official-Settlers, cricket match, this season, which has so many traditions behind it. Following the practice of years ago, the match will be played on the ground of the Durin Club. Today, the Durin Club ground is probably the finest we have, and the match will be played on the ground of the Durin Club, and the match will be played on the ground of the Durin Club.
