NEW PROPOSALS FOR CZECH SETTLEMENT

Canton Idea May Be Mooted Again

AT AN IMPORTANT MEETING OF MINISTERS IN PRAGUE ON THURSDAY, UNDER THE PRESIDENCY OF DR. BENEŠ, THE PRESIDENT, NOT ONLY THE GENERAL POLITICAL SITUATION WAS DISCUSSED BUT ALSO, THERE IS REASON TO BELIEVE, THE MILITARY SITUATION WAS EXAMINED.

Security correspondents were informed that no extraordinary measures were contemplated, nor any of an immediate character. It is believed, however, that the ministerial meeting formed a new basis for negotiations which it is hoped will be acceptable to the Germans. The nature of the new offer is not disclosed, but authorities declare that the official outlook is somewhat more optimistic.

Just prior to that the cabinet idea—division of the Republic into a score of districts on the Swiss pattern—may be revived. It was shelved after discussions in 1927.

CAPE AIRWOMAN PLANS NEW FLIGHT

In South Africa, with its astonishingly rich fishing grounds and vast length of coastline, the fishery itself was entirely inadequate, and in India, where fisheries research had been going on for many years, the Government had been handicapped by a "deplorable" administration. The result was that some previous attempts at modernization had been abandoned, and it was only after the war that the Government was able to begin the acquisition of the fundamental knowledge that is essential to future progress.

'SUPREME HEROISM' IN FIRE

R. A. F. Officer, His Baby And Nurse Die

THE "SUPREME" (Continued from page 1) As the flames roared up the stairs of the fire at Weston, Buckinghamshire, last Thursday, the flying squad that was in the house at the time of the fire, the nurse and her baby, and the R. A. F. Officer, his baby and nurse, were all killed.

The "Supreme Heroism" of the R. A. F. Officer, his baby and nurse, was the result of a fire which broke out in the house in which they were living at Weston, Buckinghamshire, on Thursday, August 13th. The fire, which was caused by a gas stove, spread rapidly and the R. A. F. Officer, his baby and nurse, were all killed.

Frederick Crowley in a statement to the Press, said that when he arrived the whole front of the house was a mass of flames. He climbed up to the bathroom and then jumped out to land on the terrace window. He climbed up and pulled the curtain aside. The smoke was too much for him, and he had to get back. Then he tried again with a third climb over the fire. He got to the top, but the fire was too hot for him and he had to come down again.

After the fire, the R. A. F. Officer, his baby and nurse, were all killed. The R. A. F. Officer, his baby and nurse, were all killed. The R. A. F. Officer, his baby and nurse, were all killed.

Sir John Simon On Policy of British Government

Kellogg Pact Anniversary

New York, August 28. Yesterday was the tenth anniversary of the signing of the Kellogg Pact...

"FOR POSITIVE PEACE"

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S POLICY TOWARDS THE PROBLEM OF GERMANY AND CZECHOSLOVAKIA HAS NOT CHANGED IN ANY WAY SINCE THE STATEMENT MADE BY MR. CHAMBERLAIN IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS LAST MARCH WHEN HE STRESSED THE WIDESPREAD CONSEQUENCES OF ANY HOSTILITIES AND SAID THAT COUNTRIES NOT BOUND BY ANY LEGAL OBLIGATIONS MIGHT BECOME INVOLVED BY THE PRESSURE OF EVENTS.

This was made clear in a speech by Sir John Simon, the Chancellor of the Exchequer at Lincoln on Saturday. "That declaration still stands," said Sir John. "It holds good today. There is nothing to add to it and there is nothing to vary of its conditions."

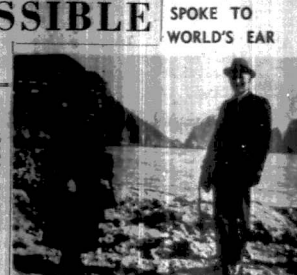

"You will have read, I dare say, in the newspapers the other day, that striking speeches made by the United States Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull and his, away in America lays stress on the widespread reactions of war and on the necessity of substituting the method of friendly co-operation. What Mr. Cordell Hull said the other day and what President Roosevelt said, I think two days afterwards—I think these things must awaken responsive echoes in many British hearts."

The speech by the Chancellor of the Exchequer at the National Government demonstration at Lincoln yesterday was almost entirely devoted to foreign affairs. At the end of a general exposition of the "present Government's foreign policy, Sir John Simon turned to the particular case of Czechoslovakia, which he said was very much in the public mind at the moment. He recalled that British opinion had been fully and accurately defined in the Prime Minister's speech in the House of Commons on March 28. Sir John added—"That declaration holds today. It is still nothing to add to or vary of its conditions."

Relations of War The Chancellor went on to emphasize that a solution to the controversy in Czechoslovakia would require contributions from all countries. "The Government had requested that there was a real problem in Czechoslovakia, involving the rights of the Czechs and Slovaks, which could give, goodwill on all sides to the distribution of a conflict which involved, and involved countries, which had taken sides the consequences had to bear this fact in mind."

American Speeches The Chancellor said that they must all have read the striking speech made by the Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull last week on the necessity for substituting for one of force of the Kellogg Pact...

World-wide attention was paid to the speech made on Saturday by the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon. The speech was broadcast in the English language and was read in the House of Commons on Saturday.

"PROFITTEERING"
IN NEW YORK

It should be given that Britain would lend more aid to Czechoslovakia or France in the event of German aggressive action against the former country. Local obligations were not alone involved and if war broke out it would be unlikely to be confined to those who had assumed such obligations. "An immenseable pressure of facts might well prove more powerful than a formal pronouncement and it is that event it would be well within the bounds of probability that other countries besides those which were parties to the original dispute would be involved. This is especially true in the case of two countries like Great Britain and France, with long associations of friendship with interests closely intertwined, devoted to the same ideals of democratic liberty, and determined to uphold them."

Britain has clearly demonstrated the fact that her foreign policy is as Sir John Simon described it "a mixture of a reasonable interpretation to be put on several speeches made by prominent statesmen at different parts of the world during the past week. They constitute in the aggregate a significant warning that aggression will not be tolerated and that any attempt on the part of the Nazis to continue aggressive moves into armed action against Czechoslovakia will be treated as a direct challenge to the honour of the British Empire. The warning is very timely. Following what seemed to be improved prospects for a peaceful solution to the European problem of Czechoslovakia came further outbreaks in the German Press and provocative and misleading statements issued on behalf of the Sudeten Germans. These taken in conjunction with Germany's recent revision of her preparations have naturally increased the feeling of insecurity and uneasiness in other countries. Certainly such actions do not comport well with the repeated assurances of German leaders that Germany is peacefully inclined and that the policy of her Government is guided by the desirability of bringing all war in Europe. While other Powers are expected to do everything possible to bring about just settlement of the Czechoslovakian difficulties, the continued German Press continues its campaign of hatred and calumny against the Czechoslovakian Government, and no sooner does there seem to be a prospect of the Government in Prague and the Sudeten negotiating some kind of practical arrangement than the negotiations are prejudiced by a renewed outbreak of German propaganda emanating from Berlin. It is because of the difficulties created by such a state of affairs and the realisation of the serious danger which a policy of the kind advocated in the United Kingdom, Canada, South Africa, France and Britain, statesmen have spoken plainly and emphatically in such a way indeed that Germany cannot be ignorant of the clear hints behind the carefully chosen phrases.

In a speech of the purpose of the Government has been advertised beforehand, the British Ambassador to the Entente, on Saturday night reiterated Britain's reference to the situation in Czechoslovakia. He made it clear that the Government had changed since the very first official speech made by the Prime Minister in his House of Commons on March 23. It was recalled that on that occasion Neville Chamberlain's statement on the German situation in the House of Commons had been a profound and a far-reaching one, and that the Government had fully considered whether the United Kingdom in view of its obligations to the League of Nations and Locarno should not have taken more active steps in serving peace in Europe as a whole. It was pointed out that a new and specific commitment in respect of Czechoslovakia was not made in circumstances as solemn that the Prime Minister stated that he had no prior undertaking

SITE FOR STATE OF LORD DELAMARE

Municipal Council's New Suggestions

The Town Planning Committee of the Nairobi Municipal Council has just under consideration a letter from Lord Francis Burt suggesting the removal of the Delamare Memorial from its present site to the site of the Delamare Memorial at the junction of Lord Delamare (3) the space at the junction of Delamere Avenue and Elliot Street (2) the cross roads at the junction of Delamere Avenue and Kirk Road.

It was pointed out at a meeting of the Town Planning Committee that the site suggested by Lord Burt was approved by Government and the Municipal Council in 1928. The Council then agreed to the Memorial Committee's proposal to the Memorial Committee that it might consider the possibility of being sited upon which the statue could be viewed by the widest possible advantage than upon other sites. "NO ONE MAY ROB US OF 'VICTORY'" SAYS FRANCO

Dr. Jose Masaryk, Czech Minister in London.

At their special meeting yesterday it is reported that the British cabinet will discuss the General Franco's reply to the Franco-Intervention Commission's plan for the withdrawal of foreigners from Spain.

The Daily Telegraph says: "The British cabinet is to discuss this plan in the light of the fact that it would mean that we should be releasing the threat to peace in Central Europe. There can be no amicable agreement about British participation in the solution of the German situation, and at a given moment, peace in Europe may be broken. We could not discontinue our aid to the 'Yankee' Government."

The Daily Mail says: "The task for diplomacy now is to ensure that the British Government is not drawn into a position where it would be unable to do so."

quest, went on witness. He said that about 8 o'clock Dr. Wynne arrived. Deceased died at 8.30.

Cross-examined Atkinson was put to back the statement he had made to the effect that he had seen the body in his room.

Dr. Wynne Medical Officer at the hospital, made a number of examinations in the head. He testified a photograph produced by the prosecution, produced by the defence, was identical. He examined the photograph and was satisfied that it was the same as the one in the room. He also examined several other photographs and was satisfied that they were the same as the one in the room.

Re-examined Wynne was asked a question as to whether he was a doctor in the ward. (Two revolvers were shown to witness, but he identified the larger one).

Cross-examined: He denied any movement of the limbs of deceased when he examined him.

Mr. Kaplan: He was completely satisfied that he could not see the revolver unless it was in the room. It was possible someone had been in the room for three days before deceased was killed.

It was possible that the finger from which accused was identified was there that day.

Dr. Wynne: He was sure that the finger was there that day.

Mr. Kaplan: Around the time accused was being taken to the hospital, the body was in the room. He was sure that the finger was there that day.

Dr. Wynne: He was sure that the finger was there that day.

The bullet passed through the left temple containing the matter of the brain. Severance of the motor tract would result in complete paralysis of the right side of the body.

Dr. Wynne said that in nearly every case concussion would result from a bullet travelling through the brain.

If the head of deceased had not supported in any way, the interval between the firing of the bullet and the death would have been very brief.

If there had been any firing automatically on the part of the deceased, witness could not say there was any firing.

It would be fired from the position where the bullet would be in the head.

Dr. G. H. Thomas Assistant Pathologist, stated that on the morning of July 24 he performed a post-mortem on deceased's body.

He was sure that the bullet had been fired from the left side of the head.

WILL CZECH PRESIDENT MEET HERR HENLEN?

First Reports Of Vital Conference Unfounded

BRITISH UNANIMITY

WILL PRESIDENT BENEŠ OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA, MEET THE SWEDEN LEADER, HERR KONRAD HENLEN IT WAS EXPECTED YESTERDAY MORNING THAT SUCH A MEETING, AT WHICH THE MOST VITAL DISCUSSION WOULD TAKE PLACE, WOULD BE HELD DURING THE DAY, BUT LATER IT WAS OFFICIALLY STATED THAT NO MEETING HAD BEEN ARRANGED THAT DAY.

It is believed that the meeting was suggested by President Benes by Lord Runciman, who was the President on Monday night. If it takes place, the President will probably lay before Herr Henlen the latest proposals of the Government, which were first considered in a Cabinet meeting yesterday. They are said to be the Czechs' last word.

In London yesterday was seen the rare event of a non-member of the Cabinet's attending a Cabinet meeting. He was Sir Nevill Henderson, the British Ambassador in Berlin. The meeting lasted for almost three hours, and at the end of it the President announced that the Ministers had all approved the action already taken by Britain, and the proposals for her future policy.

London, August 30. All members of the British Cabinet who are available in London met at Number 10, Downing Street this morning. The British Ambassador in Berlin, Sir Nevill Henderson, was also present and the meeting lasted for two and a quarter hours. An very rare occasion has occurred in the history of the Cabinet, since a Cabinet meeting.

At the end of the meeting it was stated that the Ministers had expressed their entire agreement with the action already taken by the policy to be pursued in future. No further question was raised, though they will remain with each other. The American Ambassador, Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy, who has been in London since his arrival in the city, was present at the interview.

Public Interest
The Prime Minister is leaving London tonight for Harrogate, where he will likely be in the Minister of Agriculture in the King. His interest was displayed in the meeting of his cabinet, which was attended by the very few ministers authorized in the presence of the Prime Minister on the subject of the meeting, which took place in St. James Park and was attended.

In Paris, the French Cabinet of Ministers, which was formed in the morning, approved a statement submitted by the Foreign Minister, which was approved by the Foreign Minister on the subject of the meeting, which took place in St. James Park and was attended.

German Press Reaction
The German press reaction to the meeting of the British Cabinet was one of surprise and interest. The German newspapers have been full of reports of the meeting, and have expressed their surprise at the fact that the British Government had taken such a firm line.

Up to the meeting, correspondents in Prague and other cities had been reporting that the meeting was taking place, but it was later found that it was a hoax. It was later found that it was a hoax. It was later found that it was a hoax.

COLOUR TO MONOPOLISE THE SCREEN?

London, August 29. ("STANDARD" Correspondent)
Within two years the black-and-white film may be in complete all the silent picture.
The film of the peninsula which falls in a more novel, of vigorous appearance, with a film in it, and made which, if substantiated, should strike home the last nail in the coffin of black and white. "Mr. Hart" ("Hart" takes under this process has been shown to a special audience of night-entertainers. It includes the first film-entertainment ever made in Britain.
Colour Costs Money
The progress of colour photography which has been in experiment for more than 30 years, has been hindered up to now by the cost in which it involves film production. On the net, special batteries of lights, four times more expensive than those for black and white, have been required. Developing the film has been split into three stages making a lengthy business. Further, every frame has been possible without brilliant light because the colour film has been "darker" than the black and white.
Some Showmen?
It is now claimed that these obstacles have been overcome. Outside the film can be taken up an average of 15 minutes a day. In the studio, no more light is required than is used for black and white camera work. The film is developed in a special bath which is colour immediately. The film is then developed in a special bath which is colour immediately. The film is then developed in a special bath which is colour immediately.

There is no alternative to it if the owner is to be saved disappointment. It is because of the great care that Exide have always taken that their batteries rank first among good batteries.

REFUGES

To the Editor, "E. A. Standard"—May we congratulate Mr. H. M. Harris on the letter of August 12 in the British Standard which is a brilliant example of his wit and his other correspondence? It is a pity that the Editor does not seem to be ready to give a welcome to the articles of Mr. Harris and "Almas", but as a writer, who writes these articles has rightly turned to his own line of work.

At the time of the African Hall meeting which one of your correspondents refers to, the House of Commons made the map of Africa that foreign ships should give the right to navigate in British waters.

The Imperial Government has not yet decided upon the map of Africa that foreign ships should give the right to navigate in British waters. It is a pity that the Editor does not seem to be ready to give a welcome to the articles of Mr. Harris and "Almas", but as a writer, who writes these articles has rightly turned to his own line of work.

I am sure that the Kenyan Government will continue to improve the lot of its African subjects and I am sure that the Kenyan Government will continue to improve the lot of its African subjects.

British's Lack Of Forests

URGENT PLEA FOR MORE TREES

By "Forestry Commissioner"

The Forestry Commission, which has been the leading programme for the past few years, is now on October 1. Although the Commission has been successful in its efforts to increase the area of British woodland, it is a fact that the country is still a net importer of timber.

The Commission is convinced that the only way to meet the demand for timber is to increase the area of British woodland. It is therefore making an urgent plea for more trees.

Preservation Of British Wild Life

By "Forestry Commissioner"

London, August 10.—The Secretary of the Forestry Commission, Mr. H. H. Bell, has issued a statement regarding the preservation of British wild life.

He said that the Commission is convinced that the only way to meet the demand for timber is to increase the area of British woodland. It is therefore making an urgent plea for more trees.

DODGE AND CHRYSLER - PLYMOUTH USED CAR BARGAINS

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION IS OF CONSIDERABLE INTEREST TO MOTORISTS

It is not very often that we have a number of used Dodge and Chrysler cars in stock, but owing to a recent increase in our new car sales for these makes a few Dodge and Chrysler-Plymouth cars, with only one owner over a period of twelve months, are passing through our hands. The condition of these cars is for all practical purposes equal to that of a new car, not one of them having done more than 12,000 miles and some having done as little as 7,000. Each car has been thoroughly checked and when recold will carry a new car guarantee. Here is an opportunity rarely offered to the public—an opportunity of purchasing a practically new 1927 Dodge or Chrysler-Plymouth model at used car prices under our guaranteed conditions. Come along to our showrooms for a thorough inspection of these bargain cars.

NEXT CZECH MOVE DEPENDS ON HERR HITLER

Sudeten Leader Expected To Visit Fuehrer

OPINION IN PRAGUE

BOTH IN LONDON AND IN PRAGUE IT IS FELT THAT THE COURSE OF EVENTS IN THE GERMAN-SUDETEN SITUATION DEPENDS ON THE ACTION OF GERMANY. CZECH OBSERVERS PUT IT MORE PLAINLY, AND ASSERT THAT HERR HITLER, THE SUDETEN GERMAN LEADER, WILL VISIT THE FUERHER SOON, WHILE THE OFFICIAL BRITISH COMMENT SPEAKS OF THE IMPORTANCE OF "PRESSURE FROM OUTSIDE."

Instead of the expected meeting between the Czech President, Dr. Benes, and Herr Henlein on Tuesday there is a meeting between the President and two of the Parliamentary leaders of the Sudeten party, who are reputed to be "moderates," and this is interpreted as a more hopeful omen.

The United States State Department has a European correspondent who is quoted as saying that the Czech Government is anxious to see the situation in the Sudeten region cleared up as soon as possible.

The British Government is very likely to have a further statement from the Foreign Office in the course of the week. It is believed that the Czech Government is anxious to see the situation in the Sudeten region cleared up as soon as possible.

"WHEN WAR IS OVER IN CHINA"

Japan's Plan For Triple "Economic Block"

THE JAPANESE WAR MINISTER LOOKED AHEAD TO THE END OF THE WAR IN CHINA, IN A STATEMENT TO THE PRESS ON TUESDAY, WHAT JAPAN INTENDED TO DO. HE SAID, WAS TO "STABILISE" THE FAR EAST BY ESTABLISHING A CENTRAL CHINESE GOVERNMENT AND FORMING AN ECONOMIC BLOCK OF JAPAN, CHINA AND MANCHUKUO.

Meanwhile, Japan is again advised by the Chinese of using poison gas in the war. The Chinese Legation in London asserts that 30 gas shells were fired in one attack north-west of Shanghai.

When the war is over Japan is expected to establish a Central Chinese Government by changing the existing provincial regimes to Japanese and Manchurian. The Japanese Legation in London is reported to be in possession of a list of names of persons who would be in a position to take over the government in the event of a Japanese victory.
