WASTE WANT Small Savings In Everyday Life Help The War Effort

E. A. W. L. CAMPAIGN

It is not so hard to realize the importance of saving as an essential part of our national war effort. The East African Standard is launching a campaign to help you do this. As a result of this campaign, I have been able to save last year from the waste I had accumulated.

The Executive Committee of the E. A. W. L. Campaign has decided to have a "Waste Week" in the month of April. It is hoped that this will help to bring about a more economical use of our resources.

A Weekend Sermon THE GOSPEL OF FORGIVENESS

There is something about the fact that Christ died for our sins on the cross and many other things which we have mentioned in our great past history. What does forgiveness mean? It is not to be able to forgive the guilt of a great wrong, but to be able to forgive from many points of view, it is a great virtue. The fact that Christ died for our sins on the cross is a great fact. It is the fact that Christ died for our sins on the cross is a great fact. It is the fact that Christ died for our sins on the cross is a great fact.

The pictures on this page show something of the East African Pioneers in the Middle East Forces. The Rev. P. A. Urwin, Chaplain to the Force, has just visited these East African natives at their work and has sent us a vivid account of what he saw.

Mr. Urwin went to the Pioneer Corps Base Depot and saw new arrivals being equipped with battle-dress, steel helmets, heavy blankets and overcoats. It is still cold in the Western Desert and the troops need these thick clothes especially those who come from the low altitudes. At first, they were bewildered by the endless stretches of sand and complete absence of vegetation, and they were amazed at the size of the cactus trees most of all. They could not understand why it never managed to die from drought, but remained low in the sky even in the middle of the day. They soon learnt, however, that this phenomenon was no excuse for being late on parade.

The Egyptian campaign also provided difficulties, and at first many of our men fell victim to intelligent but unscrupulous locals, but it was not long before the fact that "Pioneer" was no more a skillful ruse, but became well-known throughout the camp.

The climate had some surprises in store for them also. Shortly after their arrival a frost was greeted by one of Egypt's more unpleasant sandstorms. The recruits were completely defeated by this and their discomfort afforded the "old hands" considerable amusement.

The Pioneer Corps is working and fighting at the side of men of many races, there are men from the British Isles, from Australia and New Zealand, from France and Poland, from India and South Africa. These men speak many tongues, but they are learning a new word—the friendly "Jumbo" men greeting "Jumbo." They call the men "Jumbo men" those East African greeting "Jumbo" for the good name of the East African "Jumbo man" whooping a lot for the good name of the East African Native.

Some of the Pioneers have been doing guard duties and have released regular British troops for other purposes. Some of them have been loading ships in what Mr. Urwin calls "a bombed, battered and too big bridge the engine blew up in his retreat and filling up the holes on the bridge made as the R.A.F. smashed their retreating columns. Others still have been unloading bombs and storing them in caves, and at work level have been unloading bombs and storing them in caves, and at work level African medical officers who have come with the men are doing splendid work—both doctors and nurses speak highly of the quiet, courteous and efficient way in which they do their work. Mr. Urwin writes: "Some of the men forward have been under shell fire and a fair amount of bombing, one of their officers, who took the first attachment forward by sea, writes a better fashion in all his army experience. At As and falling bombs are frightening what they last. Like good soldiers they get down whilst it is on and the Africans they fill the camp with laughter and chatter as soon as they escape."

Recently the G.O.C. in Chief, General Sir William Platt, K.C.B., D.S.O., sent a personal message to the Pioneer Corps. The message was that though the soldiers were in a far land, their General had not forgotten them. He hoped that they were in good health and in good heart, and that the journey across the sea had been successful. He wished all ranks a good luck and may the German army be crushed utterly.

at the most economical speed

There is a direct relation between speed and fuel consumption. The most economical cruising speed is about 30 miles per hour. At this speed a gallon of petrol will take you as far as a gallon and a half at 60 m.p.h.—that is to say, an extra five gallons for a week-end run of 200 miles in the average car.

Gen. S. S. On the Eve of Peace

Wednesday, in the female. General S. S. reviewed his policy in the Ministry of Defence of the Department of the Interior, which was designed to meet the added needs of Japan. It was also a part of the plan to increase the size of the army in the Union, under the name of a "General Staff." There was a further division, not fully equipped, which could be used in the event of a general mobilization. The Union was to be divided into three zones. The members of the Union were to be trained in the use of arms, and could be comparatively short notice to be converted into a fighting unit.

THE EAST-WALLAH MIND

It is a very interesting fact that the East Wallahs are not only a very intelligent race, but also a very patriotic one. They are very loyal to their country and are very proud of their race. They are also very hardworking and are very capable of doing any kind of work. They are also very brave and are very willing to sacrifice for their country. MONEY FIGHT

The money fight is a very interesting one. It is a fight between the Government and the people. The Government is trying to control the money supply, but the people are trying to get more money. This is a very difficult situation and it is a very interesting one.

BLIND IDEAL

It is hard to think of something to write about as the story goes against the wind and against the odds. The blind man, through the triplets of desire that blind him, when he had closed her eyes, each drop turned into a shining diamond and she rose over his head they form a rainbow.

It is a story of a man who has lost his sight and who is trying to find his way through a world that is full of darkness. He is a man who has a great deal of courage and a great deal of love. He is a man who is trying to find his way through a world that is full of darkness. He is a man who has a great deal of courage and a great deal of love.

Striking Contrast With Last War Conditions

Greater control could be made than in the last war. The medical staff of our forces in East Africa were fortunate to have had no serious outbreaks of disease. Although the casualties were high, the medical staff were able to carry out their duties in the most efficient manner. The contrast in the last war is shown in the fact that the medical staff were able to maintain a high standard of health and efficiency. How far has the Russian offensive been successful? The H. H. "Boston" mentioned an American correspondent's statement that Moscow the other day, "is resting on the heels now, waiting for the Russian offensive to be successful."

The Russian offensive has been successful in that it has broken through the German line in the East. The Russian army has advanced to the east of the German line, and has captured a large number of German prisoners and tanks. The Russian army has also captured a large number of German aircraft and other military equipment.
