FOOD SUPPLIES

The Kenya and Uganda Civil Defence and Supply Council has decided to discuss at its latest meeting—the control of imported foodstuffs. With the increasing difficulty of shipping and the consequent shortening of import supplies, the steadily growing requirements of the Military Authorities, and the additional needs of such centres as Lombasa, brought to prominence by the development of the war in the Far East, this question has become a most important one. There need be no shortage in so far as the produce of East Africa is concerned, but it is proper discrimination of the authorities, having complete price control on the staple necessities of life, to make their supply particularly those, such as rice, imported for special use, and the increasing cost of certain commodities. They are difficult to obtain, and the increasing cost of them will become still more difficult if the East African Standard still more difficult, which the Indian community recall, and which have not been replaced by their own indigenous products. There was information to show that the shortage of some of these staple commodities was being remedied in a system of blackmarket by black market operators.

Invariably all these difficulties are involving everybody who is engaged in any type of system of checks and counter-checks and the business community whose business it is to give services to the community are becoming still more involved. Already the innumerable small traders and petty grocers who are being exasperated by the public have been exceedingly patient and well-disciplined. All they ask is that the government intervention in personal freedom should be confined to as simple as possible and there should be closest cooperation between all concerned. That information furnished for one important can be used as far as possible to meet the needs of another. Certain commodities recently received from Price Regulations the latest proposed restrictions in foodstuffs will be a jolt to harassed shopkeepers.

Where it is not for the fact that in East Africa there are no rural communities, the simplest procedure would be to introduce rationing. But it is considered that a rationing system would not work in Kenya. It is considered that a rationing scheme is to ensure that everybody has the opportunity to obtain goods in short supply and if the East African Governments cannot do this, it would be better to concentrate on the rationing system without trying to enforce its application on them to see not only that wholesalers and retailers get their share, but also above all, the ultimate consumer is able to buy his fair share. It is the intention of the consumer in the all control of official statements of rationing.

Control of foodstuffs should be confined to the staple of the black market but it is also of importance. It is suggested to frequently, to spread existing stocks as evenly as possible. It is suggested to have a saving shipping, that the public should be encouraged to buy in bulk and sell in small quantities. It is suggested that the public should be encouraged to buy in bulk and sell in small quantities. It is suggested that the public should be encouraged to buy in bulk and sell in small quantities.

Stopping Illegal Food Traffic

MOVE TO ENSURE A SQUARE DEAL FOR EVERYONE

(See EAST AFRICAN STANDARD SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)

EVERY effort to stop a stop to an illegal traffic in short-supplied commodities and other commodities essential to the community, is to be made by the Government.

It is realized that there are tremendous difficulties in the way of conserving a just balance between supply and demand in needy commodities, but the Government hopes largely to eliminate existing inequalities by means of legal machinery and public cooperation.

According to the authority, the Government has had a long and hard struggle to bring about a more equitable distribution of goods, and it is now in a position to make a more effective appeal to the public to cooperate in this effort.

It is the policy of the Government to ensure that all commodities are available to all sections of the community on a basis of equality.

TRADERS AND LAWYERS

The East African Tradetraders Association has called a public meeting this afternoon, at 2.30 p.m., to discuss the new Price Control Regulations recently promulgated. Among the larger concerns of the traders are the regulations which are criticized mainly on the grounds that they place further excessive responsibilities on businesses which are already seriously harassed by the mountainous pile of wartime regulations and orders.

Criticism is sharper among retailers and small traders. The President of the East African Indian Merchants' Association, for instance, declared at a meeting of the Federation of Indian Chambers that the "draconian measures of the provisions will succeed in jeopardizing all commerce. In practice, the course, they will not jeopardize the whole of the commercial life of the colony, but they will be very important in approaching the crisis. The regulations are to be of great value, the criticism must be made in a constructive way, for the regulations are to be of great value, the criticism must be made in a constructive way.

PRICE CONTROL, PUBLIC

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
 Sir: We wish to bring to your attention the fact that the price control system in this country is not working as well as it should. There are many instances where prices are being raised without any justification. This is a serious problem and it needs to be solved.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
 Sir: I am writing to you regarding the price control system. I have noticed that many goods are being sold at inflated prices. This is not fair to the consumer and it is causing a lot of hardship. I hope you will take action to stop this.

Japan's Fleet Battered Off Midway Island

REVERSE WHICH MAY DETERMINE PACIFIC WAR

A news of the Battle of Midway Island shows that six months to the day after the bombing of Pearl Harbor the Japanese have met not a major disaster.

In this action, which has been termed a decisive victory by the United States, the Japanese fleet was routed. The Japanese fleet, which included six aircraft carriers, was destroyed. The United States, on the other hand, lost only one aircraft carrier, the USS Yorktown.

The only United States casualty so far reported in this action, it is said on an aircraft carrier and the loss of some planes. Casualties by the Japanese were 2,000 killed.

In a communique received from the Navy in Tokyo, Admiral Nimitz called it a complete victory by the United States. He stated that the Japanese fleet was "completely destroyed" and that the United States fleet was "entirely unscathed."

Admiral Nimitz stated: "Vengeance will not be complete until Japanese sea power has been reduced to impotence. We have made substantial progress in that direction and perhaps the time has come when we can be forgiven if we claim that we are now midway to the complete destruction of their fleet."

Admiral Nimitz stated that he was also in receipt of the following information:

Two or three aircraft carriers destroyed with all their aircraft. One or two aircraft carriers damaged. Two battleship damaged—two heavily. Three transports damaged. It is added that some of these ships were badly damaged.

EVER FEEL RUN DOWN AND DON'T KNOW WHY?

Run down, slack, no energy? There's something fantastic, but common-sense? Get rid of pain in the back and solve in the legs! All signs of constipation.

Do you ever feel perfectly "normal"? Well, no signs of people who, nevertheless, are unwell? Have you ever noticed "cracks" in the legs? Blotches upon the complexion? So on and so forth. If it isn't poison, better get into the bathroom, soap your viscera.

A prescription widely recommended by doctors for light Kruschen tablets. Doctors do not prescribe such medicine on habit-forming drugs. And they declare intestinal weakness and constipation are their condition because the analysis is an easy health. They know what they are prescribing. And their medical knowledge tells them that Kruschen's healthy and completely safe for the condition to be relieved. There is nothing to lose, and nothing to be known about constipation and the mind. PRICE CONTROL

Strong Criticism Of The New Regulations

STRONG criticism of the new Kenya Price Control Regulations which are to come into force on July 1, were voiced at a lengthy attended meeting of traders and industrial community at the Plymouth Theatre, Nairobi, on Tuesday.

The meeting was called by the Kenya Traders Association, and was attended by representatives of the Government, the Kenya Chamber of Commerce, the Kenya Industrial Association, and the Kenya Agricultural Association.

The Kenya Chamber of Commerce, which was represented by its President, Mr. J. H. Thorneycroft, expressed strong criticism of the new regulations. He stated that the regulations were "unjust and unworkable" and that they would "do more harm than good."
