Our staff with important non-constitutional equipment. As far as possible, we will continue to supply the East African States with the best equipment available.

In 1947 we have seen a change which adds greatly to our confidence in each other and in the future. We are confident that the East African States will continue to progress.

Basically the Colony is dependent on its agriculture. Through the assistance of the Government, the Colony is making a steady improvement in its agriculture. It is our hope that we can help the Colony to become a self-sufficient and progressive country.

These of this situation and the Government's policy to consider that the completion of the constitution of the Colony is a matter of great importance. It is our hope that we can help the Colony to become a self-sufficient and progressive country.

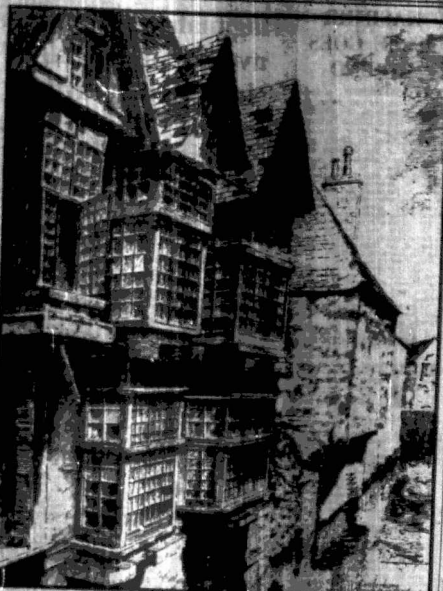

When we look to the future, we are confident that the East African States will continue to progress. We are confident that the East African States will continue to progress.

Cecil Rhodes's grave desecrated

GRAVE of Cecil Rhodes, one of the great statesmen of the British Empire, was desecrated by a group of young men in South Africa. The grave was found to be empty, and the remains were believed to have been moved to another location. The desecration was a significant act of defiance against the Rhodesian government.

Britain's New Year resolution—to catch 'spits and drones'

(By CHARLES S. GATTON)
THE "Hobby Times" featured a resolution for the New Year: to catch "spits and drones." This was a reference to the aircraft industry, which was a major sector of the British economy. The resolution was a call for the government to support the industry and to ensure that it was able to produce the aircraft needed for the Royal Air Force.

THE BIRTH OF A NATION
 This epic picture of the American Civil War, directed by Cecil De Mille, is the most magnificent production ever shown in East Africa. It tells the story of the rise of the South and the fall of the North, from the signing of the Declaration of Independence to the final battle of Appomattox. The film is a masterpiece of historical accuracy and dramatic power, featuring a cast of thousands and a budget of $7,000,000.

FLAMINGO
 BYRONA—Elizabeth Taylor stars in this beautiful story of a girl who falls in love with a man who is a member of a secret society. The film is a classic of the genre, with a strong cast and a compelling plot.

Church and bathing
 The Church of England has announced that it will allow its members to bathe in the sea. This is a significant change in the church's stance on public bathing, which has been a long-standing tradition in many parts of the world.

Race relationship
 The Government has announced that it will take steps to improve race relations in East Africa. This includes measures to promote equality and to address the needs of all communities.

AN INDIAN MANAGER
 A new film starring a prominent Indian actor, this picture tells the story of a man who rises from a humble background to become a successful businessman. The film is a classic of the genre, with a strong cast and a compelling plot.

'We can and must produce more rice'

Zanzibar's part in helping Britain

ZANZIBAR has had the honour of being named "the rice" in its part in helping Britain in the present situation, stated Sir Vincent Gantley, the British Resident at a recent meeting of Zanzibar Legislative Council and a report on the African Governors' Conference held in London.

It should also be noted that the rice crop in Zanzibar has increased in the past few years, but the Government has not been able to export it in any large quantities. This is due to the fact that the Government has not been able to get the rice to the market in any large quantities. This is due to the fact that the Government has not been able to get the rice to the market in any large quantities.

Agricultural Conference Experts discussed soil surveys and structure

A REPORT of the technical session of the Agricultural Conference held in Nairobi last July has been issued by the Government Printer, Kenya, as a reprint from the East African Agricultural Journal of October.

Details are given of the discussions which took place at each of the seven main sessions on subjects such as soil, fertilizers, irrigation, and the use of the land. The conference was held in Nairobi from July 2nd to 11th, 1934, and was attended by representatives of the Government, the Kenya Agricultural Association, and other interested parties.

A Study Group was formed on the subject of soil surveys. It is expected that this will be a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the soil in the various parts of Kenya. The group will be composed of representatives of the Government, the Kenya Agricultural Association, and other interested parties.

Suitable base

In the discussion on biological and physical conditions in tropical and sub-tropical countries, with reference to investigations on the amount of rainfall which is a factor in the growth of crops, Dr. A. H. Bunting, Chief Director of the United Africa Company, stated that the utilization of the rainfall in the various parts of Kenya is a subject of great interest to the Government. It is expected that this will be a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the rainfall in the various parts of Kenya.

BOB MARTIN SAYS
"A fit dog makes a finer companion"

WHEN YOUR DOG is a shagging champion of race a shaggy little fellow of any particular breed, he deserves the best you can give him. It is his duty to be a companion who will stand up to any and all dogs, and who will be a faithful friend to you. Bob Martin's is a dog that is a shaggy champion of race. He is a shaggy little fellow of any particular breed, and he is a faithful friend to you.

Unwise & dangerous

"While in London, I took the opportunity to see the Hon. Mr. Gantley, and to discuss the question of the export of rice from Zanzibar to Britain. It is my opinion that it is unwise and dangerous for the Government to export rice from Zanzibar to Britain. It is my opinion that it is unwise and dangerous for the Government to export rice from Zanzibar to Britain.

Permit validity

Mr. Gantley also stated that the validity of the permit for the export of rice from Zanzibar to Britain is a subject of great interest to the Government. It is expected that this will be a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the permit validity in the various parts of Kenya.

RISING PRICES

Many of our readers, especially those in the lower income group, are being troubled by the rising cost of living in this month there is evidence that the month is continuing one. It is not only the cost of living, but also the cost of doing business, that does not make it less of a burden to those in the lower income group.

Some of the increased prices are inevitable; they are due to the cost of production which is in turn a result of higher wages paid to workers, and the increased cost of raw materials.

Although there is an annual increase in the cost of living, most of the inflationary pressure has been removed from the price index. It is expected that the price index for 1963 will be less than the 1962 figure.

Price Control in this country is essential; it is the only way in which wages have ceased to rise at a rate which is higher than the rate of productivity. It is essential that the Government should be able to control the price of raw materials and of finished goods. It is also essential that the Government should be able to control the price of services.

The Government should be able to control the price of raw materials and of finished goods. It is also essential that the Government should be able to control the price of services.

'20 EMPTY HOUSES IN NAIROBI'

MR. J. F. G. TROUGHTON, the Director of Housing, has asked those answers to an ongoing question about Nairobi housing put by Mr. Brian (West) in Kenya Legislative Council yesterday.

"Government is not aware that there are 20 empty houses in Nairobi, possibly because it has not been able to verify the information. It is possible that some of the houses are in the process of being built, but it is not possible to say at this stage.

The Government is not aware that there are 20 empty houses in Nairobi, possibly because it has not been able to verify the information. It is possible that some of the houses are in the process of being built, but it is not possible to say at this stage.

British trade unions are troubled War on Communism is under consideration

By CHARLES E. GAYTOR

Senior Union Official Correspondent

BRITAIN'S Communist "warrior" in the trade-union movement has been considered as the General Secretary of the Trades Union Congress (TUC) will meet later this month and there appears to be a chance that the trade-union world will be divided into two camps.

The Council itself is not too far from Communist representation and the influence of the trade union movement in the Communist Party of Great Britain is still considerable. The TUC's General Secretary, however, is a Communist Party member and the party's influence in the trade union movement is still considerable. The TUC's General Secretary, however, is a Communist Party member and the party's influence in the trade union movement is still considerable.

It is a matter of fact that the TUC's General Secretary, however, is a Communist Party member and the party's influence in the trade union movement is still considerable.

Agricultural science: Fable of inexhaustible fertility is exploded

In this continuation of the report of the technical session of the Agricultural Conference held in Nairobi last July, the first part of which was published last week, concerned in particular the subject of intensive land production on the fertility of East African soils.

Dr. E. L. Stone, Director of Agricultural Science, in a paper on "The fertility of soils in East Africa" pointed out that the soil is a natural resource which is finite and that it is not inexhaustible. He stressed the need for a scientific approach to soil management and the need for a long-term view of soil fertility.

The report has been characterized by the fact that it is a study of the soil as a whole and not just of the individual elements of it. It is a study of the soil as a natural resource which is finite and that it is not inexhaustible. He stressed the need for a scientific approach to soil management and the need for a long-term view of soil fertility.

Too small a scale

The work done in soil science has been on a very small scale and it is necessary to expand it to a larger scale. The work done in soil science has been on a very small scale and it is necessary to expand it to a larger scale.

How to keep fit

1. Be regular in your habits. A well-adjusted life helps guard against illness.
2. Avoid too frequent hair rinses. They have a drying effect on the scalp.
3. Eat well and drink in moderation. An unbalanced diet, too much alcohol and cigarette smoking are all factors which tend to weaken the body.
4. Make time for a little exercise and recreation.
5. Take the "Fruit Salt". The world-famous "Fruit Salt" is a natural mineral salt which is essential to the body. It is a natural mineral salt which is essential to the body.

Notes from Linn SHARKS LIVER OIL INDUSTRY CLOSES

And that road is impossible again

At the end of the year, the industry was closed down. The reason for this was the high cost of production, which was due to the high price of fish and the high cost of processing. The industry was unable to compete with other sources of liver oil, and was forced to close down. The government has since taken steps to support the industry, but it remains uncertain whether it will be able to survive in the long run.

THE COUNTRY COMES TO TOWN

Plans are well advanced for a notable Exhibition

Demonstrations and films of all sides of farming: a hint on accommodation

PLANS are being made for the Kenya Royal Agricultural and Horticultural Society Exhibition, "Country Comes to Town" to be held in Nairobi on January 22, 23 and 24 and it is proposed to have a show that should not be confined to the industry and the agricultural community but should be open to the general public. At the coming meeting of the Executive Committee, held on January 10, the following resolutions were passed: That the Executive Committee should be authorized to make arrangements for the exhibition to be held in Nairobi on January 22, 23 and 24 and it is proposed to have a show that should not be confined to the industry and the agricultural community but should be open to the general public. At the coming meeting of the Executive Committee, held on January 10, the following resolutions were passed: That the Executive Committee should be authorized to make arrangements for the exhibition to be held in Nairobi on January 22, 23 and 24 and it is proposed to have a show that should not be confined to the industry and the agricultural community but should be open to the general public.

Quiz and guessing

Our subscribers will be interested to know that the following questions were asked at the meeting of the Executive Committee on January 10:

JERSEY RAMBLINGS IN AMERICA A COW FETCHED 21,000 DOLLARS

THE Jersey cow, probably the most valuable cow in the world, was sold for $21,000 at a public sale in America. The cow was named "The Jersey Queen" and was owned by a farmer in New Jersey. The sale was held in New York City and attracted a large number of buyers from all over the country. The cow was sold to a farmer in California and will be used for breeding purposes.

Boon to breeders

A new breed of sheep has been developed in New Zealand. The breed is called the "New Zealand Blue" and is known for its resistance to disease and its ability to thrive in a variety of climates. The breed was developed by a farmer in New Zealand and is now being bred in other parts of the world. The breed is considered to be a boon to breeders because of its many desirable characteristics.

Mounted events

The mounted events at the exhibition will include a variety of horse shows and competitions. These events will be held in the morning and afternoon sessions and will provide an opportunity for breeders to showcase their finest horses. The events will also provide an opportunity for the general public to see and appreciate the beauty and skill of these animals.

Cotton report

RAIN CAME TOO LATE IN UGANDA

Uganda's cotton crop is expected to be a disappointment because of the late rain. The crop was planted in October and has now reached the stage of maturity. However, the late rain has caused the cotton to be underdeveloped and the yield is expected to be lower than in previous years. The late rain has also caused the cotton to be more susceptible to disease and insect pests.

Weather forecasts

The weather forecast for the next few days is expected to be a mix of sun and rain. The temperature is expected to be in the mid-20s and the wind is expected to be light and variable. The forecast is based on the current weather conditions and the latest weather reports from the meteorological department.

Grading-up slowly

The grading-up of the country is proceeding slowly but steadily. The government has implemented a variety of measures to improve the infrastructure and the economy. These measures include the construction of roads, bridges, and schools, as well as the provision of agricultural and technical training. The government is also working to attract foreign investment and to promote the growth of the private sector.

An Electoral Problem

There are few instances in world constitutional history where the evolution of a new national organ has not been accompanied by a period of political uncertainty and confusion.

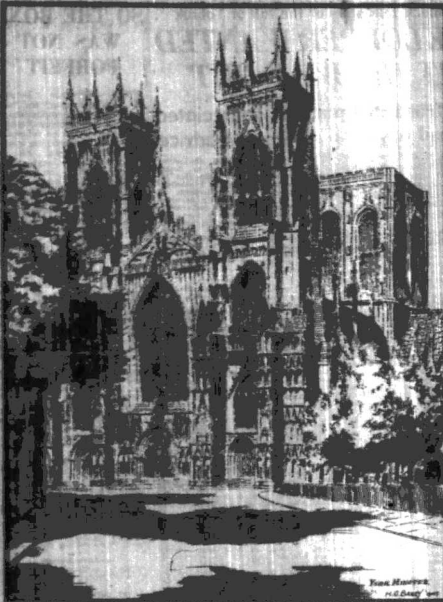

The same may be said to be true in the case of the Union of South Africa. The country has just passed through a period of political uncertainty and confusion. The new national organ has not yet been fully established, and the country is still in the throes of a political transition.

The Government has to face a number of difficult problems. The first of these is the question of the representation of the various racial groups in the new national organ. This is a problem of great importance, and one which will require a great deal of careful consideration.

The second problem is the question of the powers of the new national organ. It is essential that the organ should be able to perform its duties effectively, and for this purpose it must be granted certain powers.

The third problem is the question of the appointment of the members of the new national organ. This is a problem of great importance, and one which will require a great deal of careful consideration.

The Government must also take into account the interests of the various racial groups. It is essential that the new national organ should be able to represent all the people of the Union of South Africa equally.

York Minster: drawn by Harold G. Bailey

What 'The British way of life' means to the minority

Mr. Yess put forward an amendment to the effect that the Government should not attempt to restrict the freedom of immigration until the British way of life had become established in the country. He argued that it was not fair to require immigrants to conform to a standard of living which they had not themselves helped to create.

Mr. Paine replied that the Government's policy was not to restrict immigration until the British way of life had become established. He pointed out that the Government had already taken steps to improve the standard of living in the country, and that it was essential that immigrants should be able to find employment and housing.

African interest

Mr. Paine stated that the Government was interested in the views of the African community in the Union of South Africa. He mentioned that the Government had appointed a commission to inquire into the grievances of the African population, and that it was essential that the views of the African community should be taken into account.

Mr. Paine also mentioned that the Government was considering the possibility of extending the franchise to the African population. He stated that this was a matter of great importance, and one which would require a great deal of careful consideration.

Mr. Paine concluded his speech by stating that the Government was committed to the principles of justice and equality for all the people of the Union of South Africa. He stated that it was essential that the Government should continue to work for the improvement of the standard of living in the country, and that it should take into account the interests of all the people.

'Trusted servant' bent to Supreme Court for trial

DETROIT—A "trusted servant," a 53-year-old Italian clerk, has been bent to the Supreme Court for trial. The man, who was named as the defendant in a case involving the loss of a large sum of money, is believed to have been a trusted servant of the man whose money was lost.

Ready and waiting

On December 12, the members of the Executive Council of the Union of South Africa met in Johannesburg. The Council is responsible for the administration of the Union, and its members are elected by the various provinces. The Council met to discuss a number of important issues, including the question of the representation of the various racial groups in the new national organ.

No entry

The Union of South Africa has announced that it will not accept any more immigrants from countries which are not members of the British Commonwealth. This decision is believed to be a result of the Government's policy of restricting immigration until the British way of life has become established in the country.

Cash balance

The Government has announced that it has a cash balance of £10,000,000. This is a record for the Union of South Africa, and it is believed to be a result of the Government's policy of saving money. The Government has also announced that it will use this money to improve the standard of living in the country.

An examination

The Government has announced that it will hold an examination for the members of the new national organ. The examination will be held in Johannesburg, and it will consist of a number of questions relating to the history and geography of the Union of South Africa.

Tourist traffic

The Government has announced that it will increase the number of tourists who are allowed to visit the Union of South Africa. This is a result of the Government's policy of encouraging tourism, and it is believed that this will lead to an increase in the number of jobs and the standard of living in the country.

Bible Thought

HASTY feet sow losses'—This is the message of the Bible. It is a warning to all of us to be careful of the way we spend our money. If we are hasty, we will lose our money, and we will be poor. It is better to be slow and careful, so that we can keep our money and use it for good.

'HIGH TIME' GEDI RUINS WERE PROTECTED

KENYA Legislative Council has approved a resolution to protect the Gedi ruins. The ruins are a pre-colonial site of great historical interest, and it is essential that they should be protected from any harm that might be done to them. The Government has announced that it will take steps to ensure that the ruins are properly maintained and that any buildings which have been built on the site will be removed.

SELECT COMMITTEE REPORTS BACK— WITH A WARNING

Public-money demands 'must be economical'—efficiency inquiries are recommended

The report of the Select Committee appointed in December to inquire into the efficiency of the expenditure of the Government in 1935 was published in the Legislative Council on Tuesday. It is now for consideration in that body.

The estimates submitted in November, it will be remembered, were for £2,277,000 of revenue and £2,611,100 including the contribution to the High Commission of expenditure, leaving a surplus of £466,000.

The Select Committee was meeting up until a week ago and its conclusions were not final, subject to a final check of the accounts for 1935. The committee's report is a long and detailed one, and it is not possible to summarize it here. It is, however, a most interesting and valuable document, and it is well worth a study by all those who are concerned with the expenditure of the Government.

SIR DONALD CAMERON DIES IN LONDON

Sir Donald Charles Cameron, who was Governor of Tanganyika from 1925 to 1931, has died in London. He had been ill for some time and died of pneumonia.

Sir Donald, one of the great Civil Service, had a successful career in the Colonial Office. He was Governor of Tanganyika from 1925 to 1931, and was later appointed Governor of the West Indies. He died in London on January 10, 1936.

EAST AFRICA TO BOOST ITSELF

Inter-territorial travel association

EAST AFRICA is to have a Tourist Travel Association, covering all the territories of Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda and Zanzibar and with the object of promoting inter-territorial travel and the development of tourist services to and within East Africa.

The Association will be organized under the auspices of the East African High Commissioners in Nairobi at a conference under the chairmanship of the Governor of Kenya. The Association will be a voluntary organization, and will be financed by contributions from the territories and by the sale of travel tickets.

The Association will be a voluntary organization, and will be financed by contributions from the territories and by the sale of travel tickets.

A famous book

His book, 'My Campaign in East Africa', published in 1935, was a most interesting and valuable document, and it is well worth a study by all those who are concerned with the expenditure of the Government.

The expenses

It is estimated that the total cost of the East African High Commissioners' tour of the territories will be £10,000. This is a most interesting and valuable document, and it is well worth a study by all those who are concerned with the expenditure of the Government.

'Reminded of their responsibilities'

The whole is commensured by a warning to everyone concerned with spending money that they must be as economical as possible.

Government officers

The Government officers who are concerned with the expenditure of the Government are reminded of their responsibilities.

Your Book Reviewer says New Year arrivals bring a good baguery
Some outstanding novels and plain talking about the theatre

The New Year has begun with the arrival in the country of a great variety of good books, both fiction and non-fiction. These books are the result of the publishers' and authors' efforts during the past year, and they bring a good baguery to 1948.

The first book to be mentioned is "The Last Days of Pompeii" by H. G. Wells. This is a classic novel which has been read by millions of people. It is a story of the fall of the city of Pompeii, and it is a story of the power of nature over man.

Another book which is worth mentioning is "The War of the Worlds" by H. G. Wells. This is a classic novel which has been read by millions of people. It is a story of an invasion of the earth by Martians, and it is a story of the power of science over nature.

Most famous as which?

J. H. Pritchard, in his book "The War of the Worlds", has shown us the possibilities of a Martian invasion. He has shown us the possibilities of a world where the Martians are the dominant race, and where the earthlings are the inferior race.

It is a story of the power of science over nature, and it is a story of the power of imagination over reality. It is a story of the possibilities of the future, and it is a story of the possibilities of the present.

The second book to be mentioned is "The Last Days of Pompeii" by H. G. Wells. This is a classic novel which has been read by millions of people. It is a story of the fall of the city of Pompeii, and it is a story of the power of nature over man.

AMERICA EXPECTS MATERIAL SHORTAGES THROUGH 1943

PRICES HAVE JUMPED TO NEW HIGH LEVELS

SURVEYING the American economic scene, a correspondent states that material shortages will be the heaviest burden to be shouldered by the home front during 1942 and 1943. He says that the Government's production program will be most of most things next year if prices that there will not be enough to meet prospective demands.

The low material costs in 1941 were due to the fact that the Government had restricted the production of many commodities, and that the Government had also restricted the production of many commodities, and that the Government had also restricted the production of many commodities.

and was through late in the year. It is expected that the Government will be able to meet its demands for materials through 1942 and 1943, but that there will be a shortage of materials in 1944.

No coal shortage

Coal shortage are not expected in 1942 or 1943, but there will be a shortage of coal in 1944.
