PEOPLE YOU MAY KNOW IN KENYA

ON THE operating-table for an emergency appendectomy, during this month, a few days' convalescence and back at work within the week—this was the note in rather a typical of the attitude to life of Mr. A. T. Talbot, Principal of the Kenyan Institute of Education at Nairobi.

Talbot, who is on the permanent instructional staff of the Kenyan Institute of Education, was in Nairobi during the week in which the Kenyan Government was formed. He is a member of the Kenyan Council of Education, and is also a member of the Kenyan Council of Education. REVISITING Kenya after an absence of seven years, Mr. Talbot has found that the country has changed a great deal. He is a member of the Kenyan Council of Education, and is also a member of the Kenyan Council of Education.

Richard Denman finds snags in new Bill Knotty problems face British Commission 'to chase monopoly'

PEOPLE of the same trade seldom meet together, even for conspiracy against the public. So wrote Adam Smith in the eighteenth century. Without being quite so emphatic about the limitations of the free market, Parliament has debated a Bill to introduce means of ensuring that the production of goods and services is not controlled by a few monopolies. The Monopoly Bill provides for a permanent Commission, with the task of looking into the affairs of monopolies. The Commission may do so only at the request of the Board of Trade—the area being covered by the Bill is not yet defined. It may also investigate those persons who are in possession of a monopoly of the supply of a specific article in a particular area of the United Kingdom—whenever that may occur.

Test queries That the Commission may look into the affairs of monopolies is not a new idea. It is a principle which has been applied for some time. It is a principle which has been applied for some time. It is a principle which has been applied for some time.

Change of heart Another objection to the operation of a national board of inquiry is that it would be too costly. The Government's plan is to establish a permanent Commission. The Commission may do so only at the request of the Board of Trade—the area being covered by the Bill is not yet defined. It may also investigate those persons who are in possession of a monopoly of the supply of a specific article in a particular area of the United Kingdom—whenever that may occur.

Diehards The Bill would also change the way in which the Government would be able to control the supply of goods. It is a principle which has been applied for some time. It is a principle which has been applied for some time.

'Farmers' Parliament' gets down to some of the big problems

Union expert suggests a sound basis for livestock industry

HOW TO CONTROL INFERTILITY

THE need for farmers to do something themselves to prevent infertility diseases from creeping into their herds was emphasized in the conference by Dr. J. Anderson, Veterinary Research Officer at the Research Experimental Station.

One of the most serious was the venereal type of infection which spreads from one animal to another to show the extent of the disease. Dr. Anderson stressed the need for his own examination of both males and females in the country as a whole must be considerably greater than the figure indicated.

DISEASE CONTROL IS ESSENTIAL

A TALK on stock improvement by Mr. D. F. Faulkner, Deputy Director of Veterinary Services, which embodied many of the views of Professor Bushong, Professor of Animal Husbandry at the British African Veterinary Research Institute at Onderstepoort, was of great interest to farmers at the annual conference in Bloemfontein.

Professor Bushong recently made a tour of the country to inspect the work of the various provincial livestock production boards and to discuss the possibilities of co-operation of the various stock-owning organizations.

Machinery Pool critics withdraw

A RESOLUTION by the Bantu National Congress, which demanded the withdrawal of the Government from the machinery pool, was withdrawn after a meeting of the pool's critics.

The resolution was passed at a meeting of the pool's critics held in Johannesburg on the 11th inst. The meeting was held in the premises of the pool's critics, which are situated in the Johannesburg suburb of Parktown.

Considerable losses

Over the 1948-49 period, an 45 per cent fall of a total of 3,000,000 lbs (or 60,000 tons) was completely lost to the country's livestock industry.

The losses were caused by a very severe drought in the Transvaal, for apart from the period of rain in the Transvaal, there was a loss of income from pasture fall in both regions and certain areas.

The drought was severe in certain areas, and the loss of income from pasture fall in both regions and certain areas.

Good climate

Although Professor Bushong was invited to lecture to the African Livestock Union, he was unable to do so because of a severe cold.

He was, however, able to attend a meeting of the union's executive committee in Johannesburg on the 11th inst. He was able to discuss the possibilities of co-operation of the various stock-owning organizations.

Three reasons

The reasons for the loss of income from the livestock industry are threefold: (1) the loss of income from pasture fall; (2) the loss of income from the sale of livestock; and (3) the loss of income from the sale of livestock.

The loss of income from pasture fall is caused by a severe drought in the Transvaal, for apart from the period of rain in the Transvaal, there was a loss of income from pasture fall in both regions and certain areas.

... about handing over Empire STERLING AREA DANGERS NOT AS GREAT AS THAT

By EDWARD DEWAN

PEOPLE here have been suspecting lately that the Americans would take control of the sterling area—handing them the Empire as a prize. Many others have the same idea. But although some news has given the impression that the Americans have some intention of doing so, it is not true. The danger is not as great as that which some people seem too little about to see.

It is true that the Americans have been making for some time a new "sterling area". This is a new "sterling area" which would include the United States, Canada, Mexico, and the Caribbean. This new "sterling area" would be a separate entity from the old sterling area. It would be a new "sterling area" which would be a separate entity from the old sterling area.

It isn't easy

Today the sterling area consists of the United Kingdom, Ireland, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Congo, the Gold Coast, Sierra Leone, Liberia, the Gambia, Guinea, and Senegal. It is a large area, and it is not easy to control.

Scottish Chronicle

Oh to be in Scotland now that May is here

Standard Edinburgh Correspondent

THIS is a time of year when the Scottish people are reminded of the City Charter, and feels that the latter ought to have a place of honour second only to that of the Lord Provost himself at all public functions.

Solway ports

It is a good time to be in the Solway ports. The weather is just what is needed for a holiday. The water is just what is needed for a holiday.

For little ships

Can something of this trade be done in the Solway ports? The answer is yes. The Solway ports are a good place for little ships.
