BOOKS: Birds come an easy first, but bees & fishes are not far behind

An excursion into a naturalist's absorbing realm

ONE very striking feature of the post-war publishing world has been the marked increase in popular books dealing with all branches of natural history.

It is packed full not only with observations about birds, but also on general and local bird life.

The author's observations really come to life in the work of the East Coast and the illustrations by the artist and writer, which are very high standard.

The author was commissioned by the Ministry of Nature Reserves to collect specimens of birds in the country of Kenya.

From birds to insects, the author's work is a most popular one in these days of general interest in the natural world.

It is a book which should be a delight to parents, and a help to children in their studies.

The book is written in a simple, clear, and concise style, and is a most valuable addition to the shelves of all those who are interested in the natural world.

WEATHERLEY-SHILCOCK

The Cathedral of the Highlands, Nairobi, was decorated with flowers of every color when Mr. M. D. E. Weatherley and Miss Mary Shilcock were married on May 29.

The bride wore a dress designed by Mr. M. D. E. Weatherley of Nairobi, and the groom wore a suit designed by Mr. M. D. E. Weatherley of Nairobi. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Canon M. D. E. Weatherley.

OLD STANDBY NOW SEASON'S SURPRISE

This tendency this year in the United States to wear dressy clothes is paralleled with the old-fashioned, long-sleeved frock of the pre-New Look era.

The event seemed inevitable. For example, the tendency to make more use of the softer, rounded neckline and draped sleeves of the new-fashioned frock.

And so it goes. The new frock is a surprise. The event seemed inevitable. For example, the tendency to make more use of the softer, rounded neckline and draped sleeves of the new-fashioned frock.

BOOKS: Fame after 20 years of neglect

AN APPRECIATION OF ELIZABETH GOUDGE

WHAT makes a book popular? Why do some books flourish almost overnight, in the ranks of the best sellers, whilst others, equally good and containing all the ingredients that constitute popularity, pass quietly by the reader's notice?

Almost unknown quantities to the great majority of the reading public... Elizabeth Goudge's "The House of Green" is a book that has become known to the reading public... "My own intention was very much to do a kind of 'The Green'... Elizabeth Goudge's 'The House of Green' contained that one element which had been so lacking in her earlier books."

Two attributes will suffice to illustrate the element of luck. One was the subject of the book, the other was the reviewer. The House of Green, published in the London Book Review, (London), was reviewed by the Daily Mail, which is a fact and a very important one.

Some extraordinary marketing devices have been employed in "The House of Green" to attract the attention of the public. The book is available in a special edition... "The House of Green" was reviewed by the Daily Mail, which is a fact and a very important one.

Now after nearly twenty years, the reputation of "The House of Green" has grown... "The House of Green" is a book that has become known to the reading public... Elizabeth Goudge's "The House of Green" contained that one element which had been so lacking in her earlier books."

SILK FROM THE OSTRICH

A FACTORY which will employ 200 hands for the manufacture of ostrich feathers for a recent project was established in Port Elizabeth or Oudtshoorn as a result of successful experiments which have been conducted in Australia.

Mr. M. Smith, in possession of a patent for the production of silk from ostrich feathers, has been spending a considerable sum of money in the investigation of the possibilities of this material.

He is having the Ostrich Feathers Silk Co. established in Port Elizabeth, and the factory will be under the management of Mr. Smith, who is also the manager of the Ostrich Feathers Co. in Australia.

It is stated that the new silk will be the finest material ever produced in any of the world's manufacturing centres. It is said to be stronger than any other silk, and is very durable and is also very easy to dye.

First impressions

Do you impress strangers favorably or unfavorably? Do they stop to themselves while they talk to you "what a pleasant looking person you are" or "they make a good impression."

Young Beverly Tyler, M.G.M. star thinks that if you look directly at your interrogator, you usually and think of what you are saying rather than how you look, and let him or her be the one to look away, you stand a good chance of creating a favorable impression.

A professional camera will do the job perfectly: that is the basic principle of all right of you - or pretend to get all the snap out.

Most women who act like their own hair, but there is no possibility of convincing their make-up artist that they are not wearing a wig.

There are generally no specially made-up hair styles for the camera, but the hair should be styled so that it will stay in place and not be blown away by the camera's fan.

Any one of these is to be preferred to the hair which is blown away by the camera's fan.

Have three appliances of which you make use: a hairbrush, a hair cream, and a hair oil.

AROUND NAKURU - Homestead becomes a popular roadhouse

NAKURU younger generation turned up in force to the formal opening of "Pioneer House" a new roadhouse-homestead four miles from Nakuru on the main road to Nairobi, last Saturday evening. Care had been taken to make the premises, Mrs. C. Cooper, good look as the new enterprise and to name it the Garter. Bland Nyaraka.

Those who remember the homestead of Pioneer Farm in the days when it was owned by "Pioneer" O'Connell had it hard to recognize the place now. For over two years a handsome residence of Mrs. O'Connell was being built on the site. The new building is a handsome two-story structure with a veranda overlooking the main road. It is a fine example of modern architecture and is well equipped for the reception of guests. The house is owned by Mrs. C. Cooper, who has taken over the management of the premises.

My NEURITIS? You'd be surprised!

The real cause of neuritis is the lack of the essential vitamins B1, B2, B6, B12, and C. These vitamins are found in the liver, kidneys, and other organs. A deficiency of these vitamins can lead to neuritis, which is a painful condition of the nerves.

Where will the 5,000 Poles, who remain in Africa, go?

It is now six years since the Poles, after their experience of deportation to Siberia and their long journey through Persia and Karachi, began to arrive in Africa. The total numbers of those who have remained in Africa are about 5,000. It is curious that the regular camp revolutionists in Africa, who were expected to be the main group of administrators next seen by the London Movement, are now in the hands of the Poles.

During the month of June 1947, the population of the Poles in Africa was about 5,000. The regular camp revolutionists in Africa, who were expected to be the main group of administrators next seen by the London Movement, are now in the hands of the Poles.

Not being solved
THOSE who are looking for a solution to the African problem are disappointed. The regular camp revolutionists in Africa, who were expected to be the main group of administrators next seen by the London Movement, are now in the hands of the Poles.

They returned
FOR the rest, the future is a blank page. The regular camp revolutionists in Africa, who were expected to be the main group of administrators next seen by the London Movement, are now in the hands of the Poles.

The regular camp revolutionists in Africa, who were expected to be the main group of administrators next seen by the London Movement, are now in the hands of the Poles.

Free family groups
WHAT can we do for those who are looking for a solution to the African problem? The regular camp revolutionists in Africa, who were expected to be the main group of administrators next seen by the London Movement, are now in the hands of the Poles.

"Good equipment makes a good farmer better"

Major problem of western civilisation

ONE of the major problems confronting Western Civilisation is the fact that it is based on a system of representative self-interest, but it is in danger of being overtaken by the system of self-interest in America, in that the population increase is not threatening life.

An index, based on the net reproductive rate, compiled by a Geneva school of thought, has shown that the world population is increasing at a rate which is not only increasing but is also increasing at an increasing rate.

A Bumper harvest follows good rains

THE excellent and well-distributed rains of the past few weeks have enabled South African farmers to reap bumper crops.

Maize, which is expected to reach the record of 25,000 set up last year, is now being harvested in bumper crops.

Wheat production is estimated to reach 1,000,000 tons, a record for the country.

The health cuts step in extraction of local white lignite are expected to reach 100,000 tons.

Zanzibar experiments with manures

Quicker result at less expense

MICROPLOTS, each two feet by two feet in size, are being used by the Zanzibar Department of Agriculture to determine the effect of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, and other elements on maize, rice, and sorghum.

Although it is not practical that the amount of material used in the microplots be reduced to the needs of crops, the use of microplots is a valuable method for determining the effect of manure on crops.

Results

MICROPLOTS of phosphate and potash have been used in the past year to test the effect of these elements on crops.

Phosphate, which is applied at a rate of 100 lbs. per acre, has been found to be the most effective fertilizer for maize.

Potash, which is applied at a rate of 100 lbs. per acre, has been found to be the most effective fertilizer for rice.

Similarity... These results have a bearing on the question of fertilizer use in the tropics.
