Russians protest UGANDA PLANS TO PUT THE NILE IN HARNESS

RUSSIAN protest against the Uganda Government's plan to harness the Nile river has been expressed in a letter to the British Foreign Office. The letter states that the plan would cause serious damage to the interests of the Soviet Union.

Two dams... The plan to harness the Nile river involves the construction of two dams. The first dam is to be built at Lake Nasser and the second dam is to be built at Lake Tana.

Bigger scheme... Even the problem of the fish has been taken into account. The project involves the construction of a dam which would create a large reservoir.

Low cost... The project is being carried out at a low cost. The Government has decided to finance the project through the sale of bonds.

Government is at odds with the Lords over 'citizen' and 'subject'

LATEST issue of disagreement between the British Government and the House of Lords is the word 'citizen'. The Government has proposed that the word 'citizen' should be used to describe all those who are entitled to vote in the United Kingdom.

Real meaning... The Bill is to give the almost new status of 'citizen' to all those who are entitled to vote in the United Kingdom. The Government has proposed that the word 'citizen' should be used to describe all those who are entitled to vote in the United Kingdom.

'Obnoxious'... Britain could not afford to allow the word 'obnoxious' to be used to describe any British citizen. The Government has proposed that the word 'obnoxious' should be used to describe any British citizen who is engaged in activities which are considered to be against the interests of the United Kingdom.

Contract bridge VERSATILITY NEEDED

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON
It is usually wrong policy to play a hand in the expectation that suits will spread in the most probable or normal way. That if, in the course of the play, you discover that the cards are located to favor adversity, your plan may need revision. For example:

CHESS

Attacking tactics in a planned strategy

By B. BARTON-SECRET
In no country in the world has so much of the public imagination as in Soviet Russia. Workers' tournaments are held which attract thousands of competitors and produce several standard which is only slightly less than 1000. Chess is taught in the schools and colleges and, on numerous occasions, the leading players of the world meet in 1000 simultaneous exhibitions against teams of Russian schoolboys.

Barton-Secret himself has devoted much of his spare time to the teaching of promising young pupils and one youngster in particular has led to make a name for himself in chess history.

Tomasso, named still at school, was given the title of Grandmaster of Chess by the International Chess Federation in 1944, and he is now in the 1000 simultaneous exhibitions against teams of Russian schoolboys. He is now in the 1000 simultaneous exhibitions against teams of Russian schoolboys.

MARKETING CONDITIONS IN THE U.K.

World short of good coffees, but grocers well stocked

As this is expected to be Britain's recovery year, the Secretary of the Coffee Council, London, has been asked to keep planters informed of developments in regard to the world of coffee in general in the United Kingdom and elsewhere. Bearing in mind, of course, that most, and no exception, since the outbreak of the war, the Ministry of Food controls the market, which is not today. It is a small quantity of coffee, a definite benefit to the planters. In the case of American's recent visit to the United Kingdom, the coffee is still in the low cost category, and is 14s. a cwt. as against 12s. 6d. for the best quality. DANGEROUS PLANT DISEASE MUST BE KEPT OUT OF KENYA

Why is there a general prohibition on the importation into East Africa of all herbaceous plants? What plants are included in this category? These are the questions often asked by people who have either imported plants for their own use, or who have not applied for the importation licence in advance.

The answer to the first question is that the Ministry of Food in Kenya is a dangerous, widely spread, and highly contagious disease which has been known to exist in East Africa since 1910.

SHORTAGES HAMPER SPLENDID HARVEST

A RECORD maize crop is expected in the Orange Free State this year, and farmers are beginning to harvest in earnest. They are, however, being hampered by shortages of farm machinery and labour.

'RIGHT' TIME TO REGULATE AIR ROUTES TO BERLIN'

Ally's talks proposal turned down, Soviet experts reveal ideas to 'increase air safety'

Jottings from Zanzibar

FOR the first time the Sultan of Zanzibar broadcast his Muhammad message to his people. This was the first broadcast of its kind from any of the East African States. There will also be readings from the Koran and religious talks during the month.

M.A.R. Harbun, one of the most prominent members of the Zanzibar Muslim League, has been elected to the Zanzibar Council. He is the only Muslim member of the Council.

At the end of the month the Sultan of Zanzibar will visit the East African States. This will be his first visit since he became Sultan in 1935.

The Zanzibar Muslim League has been elected to the Zanzibar Council. This is a significant step towards the representation of Muslims in the Government.

TAKING A GRIP ON RESOURCES

Tanganyika to create two Boards

TWO OF THE most important new Bills prepared by the Government of Tanganyika for many years are published in the first part of the Tanganyika Gazette. The Bills are designed to provide for the conservation and improvement of the country's natural resources—soil and water, animal, bird and fish life, trees, grasses and other vegetable products.

Members, powers
It is under the provisions of the Bill that the members of the Board will be appointed by the Government. The Bill also provides for the powers and duties of the Board.

The Bill will be a step towards the better management of the country's resources. It is expected that the Board will be able to take effective measures to conserve and improve the resources.

THIRD TEST DISAPPOINTS BUT ALSO DISPELS THE 'INVINCIBILITY' MYTH

A draw in the third Test, the conventional view is that the Aussies will regard their defeat in the first two Tests as a severe setback. Australia to retain the Ashes.

It was a draw in the third Test, the conventional view is that the Aussies will regard their defeat in the first two Tests as a severe setback. Australia to retain the Ashes.

The Aussies' batting was not so good as it was in the first two Tests. They were bowled out for 100 in the first innings and 120 in the second. This was a far cry from the 350 and 450 that they had put up in the first two Tests.

Do's and don'ts for the house

Too many accidents happen in the kitchen. To avoid this, it is important to follow certain rules. Do not rush, do not drink, and do not use the stove carelessly. Also, keep the kitchen clean and free of clutter.

Hardest thing in the house

Many a man has been frustrated in the attempt to undertake to bring up his children. The hardest part is not the discipline, but the love and understanding that must be shown.

The philosophy of being beautiful

A woman's beauty depends on her character. A beautiful woman is not one who is merely attractive to the eye, but one who is kind, intelligent, and confident. Beauty is a reflection of the soul.

IT WASN'T THE BABES WHO CRIBBED AT CHRISTENING

CHRISTENING the youngest is an occasion when the most likely interruption is a wail from the cot. But two christenings in Britain have been not so very different occasions—one because the father was an avowed Communist and atheist, the other because the mother had an inadequate knowledge of the vows to be taken on behalf of her infant.

'Hypocritical'

But when the party arrived and the ceremony had begun, he was asked to undertake to bring up his daughter in the Christian faith. He refused, saying that he was an atheist.

She's adamant

The bishop, Dr. Channon, of Exeter, has been asked to perform a christening. The mother is adamant that she does not want her child to be brought up in a religious faith.

Farwell party

A farewell party in honour of Mr. G. H. Lawrence was held at the club. It was a very successful affair, and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

"The Heart of the Matter" is the author's two "best-sellers" in the English language. The "Companionship" had set the highest record for sales in the history of this country and...

'Farming was first, still is'

FIRST President of the newly-formed National Farmers' Union of Kenya, Mr. Will Rogers of Rongai, was an interested visitor to the July meeting of the N.F.U. Council in London.

Welcoming him, the Deputy President, Mr. E. H. Gardner, referred to Mr. Rogers as a pioneer of Kenya, and said that it was his own hope that the N.F.U. would be able to help him in his country, where his family were well-known farmers.

Mr. Rogers spoke of the close link which existed between the two countries, and said that he would like to see the N.F.U. help him in his country, where his family were well-known farmers.

Land of tomorrow

It is not only the land of tomorrow that is being developed, but also the land of today. The N.F.U. is working to improve the land of today, so that it can be a better land for the future.

What goes on behind 'that iron curtain'

THE expression that may be applied to the whole of Russia is "that iron curtain" which has been drawn across Europe since the outbreak of the war.

It is behind this curtain of mystery that the Russian people are living their lives. They are not free to express their opinions or to move about as they please. They are not free to choose their own leaders or to elect their own representatives.

It is behind this curtain that the Russian people are suffering from the effects of the war. They are not free to work in the factories or to trade in the markets. They are not free to buy the goods they need for their daily lives.

It is behind this curtain that the Russian people are being treated as slaves. They are not free to work for their own benefit or to improve their own lives. They are not free to choose their own leaders or to elect their own representatives.

A HUNDRED and forty feet below surface level, and not more than 350 yards from where the traffic rushes by on a silent, snow-white road, I waded under chiseled arches towards the water, which was glimmering in the moon-day and dust-dewy twilight above the silting mud as the air was very cool and still indeed.

The shallow sloping end of these present dunes, or ridges, is a plain of fine, silty sand, about the level of the water, which has been deposited in four feet, and on the other side of a low wall, the water is about a foot above the level of the dunes, and is covered by a long shade of blue-green water. A continuous approach of water, from the water table, is seen, carrying the rain water to a level of water table, and the water table is seen to be at a level of water table, and the water table is seen to be at a level of water table.

This note, the East African Standard London, five miles north of Mombasa, the main road and supplied by water from the Karakoram. The water is a clear, silty sand, and is covered by a long shade of blue-green water. A continuous approach of water, from the water table, is seen, carrying the rain water to a level of water table, and the water table is seen to be at a level of water table.

Looking into the diatomite mine

As I have seen in the diatomite mine, I found that the diatomite is a very fine, silty sand, and is covered by a long shade of blue-green water. A continuous approach of water, from the water table, is seen, carrying the rain water to a level of water table, and the water table is seen to be at a level of water table.

IN MEMORY OF OFFICERS WHO DIED

A WAR Memorial conceived with imagination is to be erected in the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst, in memory of officers of the British Army who died in the second world war.

It is estimated that the cost of the memorial will be about £10,000, and it is hoped to be completed by the end of 1945. The memorial will be a large, imposing structure, and will be a fitting tribute to the officers who have sacrificed their lives for their country.
