DISTRICT IN FIGHT TO SAVE MATERNITY HOME

A SAMROI Hospital Association has been formed in Boroni, Garissa District with the aim of running the former St. George's Maternity Home which closed last month, and prevent it from being turned into a night club.

The decision to form the association was taken at a meeting of the executive committee of the Kenya Branch branch, which was held last week at the offices of the Assistant Minister for Works, Mr. Eric Bennett, said the Home had done excellent work for expectant mothers in the constituency and adjoining areas.

Mr. Bennett stated during the Maternity Home last month and was a great help to the women who were in the Home. As the hospital was such a good one, it was decided to set up a committee to look into the building and see if it could be put to use in some other way.

Mr. Bennett said that although he had been asked by the District Development Commission to be used to assist the National Training Corporation, the Maternity Home was a better alternative. The Home had done excellent work for expectant mothers in the constituency and adjoining areas.

They have suggested that a group be set up to look into the possibility of using the Home for other purposes. The association was still waiting for the reply from the National Training Corporation. Mr. Bennett said that the Home had done excellent work for expectant mothers in the constituency and adjoining areas.

VIOLENCE ERUPTS IN ADEN Labour heads for split in Six debate

High Commissioner may be replaced

Shelling and grenade attacks were made yesterday on British troops in the Aden area - gripped by its 11th general strike of the year - but there were no casualties, a military spokesman reported.

The first incident was an attack on a British-manned checkpoint in Little Aden, about 25 miles south of Aden. An hour later a grenade was thrown at a British security patrol vehicle in Ma'alla Town. Ten minutes later a small arms fire in Crater Town came under similar arms fire.

While the anti-British demonstrations went on in the Aden area, Sir Richard Turnbull, the new High Commissioner for Aden, was expected to be replaced soon by Sir Richard Wood, former British Minister without Portfolio, who is on a special mission to investigate developments in the troubled South Arabian Federation.

MOI IN KENYA TALKS

Kenya's Minister of Internal Affairs, Mr. J. M. Karume, was expected to arrive in London today to meet the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Averis, and the British High Commissioner for Kenya, Sir Richard Turnbull.

Controversy over mission

Informed sources in London said Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, former Ambassador to Cairo and Moscow, was being considered as a successor to Sir Richard Wood.

Sir Richard was involved in a controversy over the abrupt departure last month of a United Nations fact-finding mission to Aden.

Loan for new Kenya roads

The United Nations Development Programme has agreed to loan Kenya $1,100,000 to help finance its road-building programme and provide road maintenance services.

The loan, which is the largest ever made to Kenya, will be used to build about 300 miles of roads, to improve existing roads and to provide road maintenance services.

The loan is for a period of 10 years and carries an interest rate of 4 per cent.

Priest criticisms

A prominent French Roman Catholic priest, M. Jean-Marie Villot, has criticized the French Government's policy in the Congo.

M. Villot, who is a member of the French Parliament, has said that the French Government's policy in the Congo is "a policy of division and not of unity."

Shoe workers may strike

Standard Bank employees in Durban have threatened to go on strike over a dispute with their employers.

The dispute is over a proposed change in the terms of the employees' contracts of service.

The employees are demanding a 10 per cent increase in their wages and a reduction in their hours of work.

Hodi Hodi off to span Atlantic with Kenya's goodwill

PROUDLY flying Kenya's flag, Hodi Hodi, the Lamo dove bound for the Expo 67 exhibition in Montreal, was yesterday towed from the Atlantic. More than 200 people, including Members of the Mayor, Aid, John Mumbo, gathered at the pier to cheer the crew off on the first leg to Aden.

The Hodi Hodi dove, Mr. Tony Hughes, watches the Mayor of Mombasa, Aid, John Mumbo, as he gets into the plane before the start of the voyage.

NAIROBI ROADS CUT BY FLOODS

Prolonged torrential rain brought chaos to Nairobi's district last night as floods blocked roads and stranded hundreds of vehicles.

The flooding was caused by heavy rain which fell over the city for several days.

Water was seen pouring over the roofs of buildings and flooding the streets.

Many roads were completely cut off, and traffic was brought to a standstill.

Parents send off

The school-leavers of the day, Mr. Tony Hughes, were seen off by their parents at the airport.

The school-leavers were going to school in other parts of the country.

THE Parliamentary Labour Party in Britain headed for an open split last night over the decision to apply to join the Common Market.

More than 50 Backbenchers opposed to the decision have signed a critical motion and most were expected to abstain when the Government sought approval for its decision.

But with the support from the Opposition, the Government was expected to have the votes of 101 of the 218 House of Commons Members.

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. George Brown, was Parliament yesterday that he expected British votes at the time the decision would be made.

Mr. Brown said that the Government would be prepared to accept a vote of 101 if the Government were to be defeated.

150,000 coffee seedlings were uprooted and destroyed at Greengate Farm, in Kiambu District, the largest commercial coffee nursery in Kenya.

The destruction was the result of an order issued by the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Charles Morgan, who said that the Government was unable to absorb the seedlings.

Mr. Morgan said that there were about 150,000 coffee plants in nurseries of which all but 50,000 were surplus. They would be uprooted and destroyed, compensation being paid to the grower.

COMMONWEALTH ASSURANCE ON 'SIX'

DIPLOMATIC CONFIDENCE AMERICA'S AMBASSADOR to Kenya made a serious accusation of his predecessor's book as an unprovoked kind of Press conference in Nairobi on the one initiative to make personal statement without press authorization from Washington.

Mr. Glenn W. Ferguson's mission in making this accusation, subjecting himself to the cross-fire of correspondents from Nairobi and other countries, is as much to be admired as the convincing manner in which he spoke about his conception of Africa and his decision to keep Kenya as free as possible from his hostility.

Designations of The Reds and the Blacks continue to be received as more and more people read what Mr. Atiwad has to say about his mission to other countries, in Canada and Nairobi. What is most mystifying is that Mr. Atiwad apparently has no intention of writing any more dispatches of the nature.

As an author who is aggressively written the narrative of exciting events, probably he will be judged as a literary work and as a political commentator. It is to be hoped that the political significance and the diplomatic significance of his mission will be appreciated by the readers who will read the Foreign Service in Nairobi to journalism.

He has not the diplomatic skills in Africa, but the book has had the opposite effect, being the best piece of propaganda gratuitously handed to the Reds in Kenya by the controversy, unless it will be increased in American position has been ended and Mr. Ferguson's ambassadorial craft made most uncomfortable.

Kenya's Attorney General has issued a disclosure in the book as a betrayal of diplomatic confidence, while the accuracy of statistics of conversation, real or imaginary, is bound to be challenged.

Ministers will feel when dealing with diplomats they will be inclined to be over cautious and understanding in the frank in order to achieve better understanding in international relations.

Career civil servants naturally accept the obligation to remain silent, for five years and preferably longer, unless their writings have been approved by the department concerned. Some cases access to official documents is adopted to historians for 50 years.

Mr. Ferguson used the staff of his mission have been advised a five-year restriction for all Secret. Act binding has no regulations under an Official Secret Act binding non-career diplomats to observe the silence. This should give conclusive evidence to the need to introduce such a code at once.

Incidentally, another aspect of diplomatic protocol concerns the behaviour of missions in the capital to convey the message of national interests, but endeavour to promote by their own national interests, but not supposed to attack other countries. Kenya's recent political propaganda is a case in point to introduce such a code at once.

Mr. Ferguson deserves every consideration if he is put out about the troubles in Africa. The main reason for this is that his mission is to investigate the situation which is none of his making. The main reason for this is that his mission is to investigate the situation which is none of his making.

Union leader asks council workers for all-out effort

He appealed to council workers not to listen to rumour-mongers who were saying that their strike had achieved nothing, and said it was not the duty of the union to deliver the goods within three months.

ZAMBIA TRIBUNAL ATTACKED

Promoting espionage against Rhodesia

A Zambian lawyer suggested yesterday that Zambia's Special Branch was mounting a tribunal investigating the detention of four Whites to expose espionage and psychological warfare against Rhodesia.

Mr. Hugh Mitchell represents two of the four detainees appearing before the tribunal in Lusaka, which is meeting to determine whether it should recommend before the Attorney-General, Sir Charles Shikongo, that the four are let Amis and Henry Peter Norton, both British, Capt. J. (Bunny) Warren, a Canadian, and Cecil Bosh, an Indonesian.

Cross-examining on behalf of Bosh and Norton, Mr. Mitchell suggested that alleged Rhodesian propaganda letters produced in court on Thursday had been brought to his attention by the detainees and to testify on Zambia's espionage and psychological warfare against Rhodesia.

ACCOUNTS ON SUCCESS OF HODI VOYAGE

THE four detained under Zambian security laws four weeks ago, have been sentenced of spying for Rhodesia.

Mr. Mitchell said that the Special Branch, which he said was set up to collect and pass on information to Rhodesian intelligence, and "in a campaign of lies and forged letters intended to cause alarm and despondency in Zambia."

Output of Kenya sugar worth £7½m. by 1970

The Kenya sugar industry will be worth £15,000,000 and £20,000,000 invested in the Kenya sugar industry — almost as much as in any other major agricultural industry — and the country's annual production of sugar will be worth £7,500,000.

The Minister for Finance, Mr. Gichuru, said this while performing a stone-laying ceremony at Chemshell Sugar Company's plant yesterday. Referring to the importance of the sugar industry in Kenya, he said the Chemshell project represented the most important part. Conceived entirely as a result of Government cooperation between the Government, land and international finance, both Government and private, labour and land owners management policy aimed at reaching self-sufficiency in the future. This policy decision would have three main effects:

AN EXCELLENT CASH CROP

Firstly, it would relieve growing friction in the food sector through sugar consumption. Secondly, it would create a large number of employment opportunities and thereby it would provide an excellent cash crop for a difficult farming area.

Mr. Gichuru said the most important part of the blueprint is building high productivity into the sugar industry. He said the Government will continue to help the industry through the provision of technical and financial assistance.

WEATHER KEY TO ALLSOPPS' FINAL

13 internationals take place in match of year

SUNDERLAND F.C. of Toronto, and Abahala F.C. of Kenya, had right completed their training for the final of this afternoon's Allsopp Cup football tournament. The game will not only decide the destination of the cup but will also be the first of a test series.

It is the key to the game will be the weather. Both teams and spectators will be hoping that the rain holds off for the match. The ground is soft and very wet in patches and more rain will make play more difficult. Kenyans play defensive football and like to move the ball from player to player with short, crisp passes.

There will have to be the use of long passes to take the ball into the open spaces.

The game is the second of a series of 13 internationals to be played to decide the Allsopp Cup. The Minister of Education, Development, and Sports, Mr. T. M. Mwa, will be the referee of the match.

Abahala's right winger is the Kenyan, Mwanjama, who is expected to score the winning goal. The Kenyan forward, Gilbert Pambani, is expected to score the winning goal.

IRAQ WILL APPRECIATE GOING AT NAIROBI

By 'NEWABEET'
NAIROBI's atmosphere is an excellent condition at the time of writing for tomorrow's meeting and all racers will be hoping that a sudden downpour does not spoil the greatest difficulty in giving their horses the necessary work.

One thing we can be certain of is that now Joe Drew has got his head in, but also the jockey championship is liable to be going to try and keep it there, but also MacLear, Brian Jones and Paul Berger must have different ideas.

The first one will give some idea of who is going to finish second in Quarter Time, the St. Leger. I am going to back DUBBITZ, but Alf Facer and Brian's Maid will give some idea of the overall race.

Leaders' help 'vital to civil servants' task

EFFORTS of civil servants would come to nothing unless political leaders extended their co-operation in the important task of helping them stimulate the people's support for any undertaking for the development of the country, the Nyanga Provincial Commissioner, Mr. Murgor, told a meeting at Kitumu attended by five M.P.s including the Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Oginga.

He said he strongly believed that for any plan to succeed it must involve the enthusiastic support of the people. If the country was to forge ahead rapidly political leaders' assistance was necessary in mobilising the support and efforts of the people.

Mr. Murgor said the meeting was a forum where the views of civil servants and M.P.s in the area who are vitally concerned in the development of the area should be expressed. It was essential for civil servants to have politicians fully informed of their own responsibilities, and doing for the welfare of the people.

WHILE RISING PRICES in the shops are a symptom of the increased demand for goods, it is not as long as the increase of prices of foodstuffs and retailers announced by the United for Agriculture are concerned on in the countries of the continent.

The household's problem in the past six months has not been in first enough need of food, but rather in the fact that the high prices of foodstuffs have led to a decrease in the number of people who can afford to buy them. Many who were once able to buy foodstuffs are now unable to do so. The number of people who are unable to buy foodstuffs has increased in many countries.

With the cost of transport rising, it is not surprising that the cost of foodstuffs has risen. It is not surprising that the cost of foodstuffs has risen. It is not surprising that the cost of foodstuffs has risen. It is not surprising that the cost of foodstuffs has risen.

Need to grow food for sale

HAVING GIVEN MAT PRODUCE a boost, the Government needs to do more to increase the comparative price of its own produce and the conditions in the different farming areas.

The need for a change in agricultural emphasis was recognized by the Minister for Economic Planning and Development, Mr. Shorah, at a weekend luncheon. He called for the raising of output of food crops, such as wheat, in the small farm sector as a necessary condition for the country to be more self-sufficient in foodstuffs.

In agriculture, there is a need to shift the emphasis with coffee, which forms part of the country's main export. It is not surprising that there is a need to shift the emphasis with coffee, which forms part of the country's main export.

Substituting the raising of staple crops, which is a more secure and profitable investment, Mr. Shorah is actively promoting the raising of staple crops, which is a more secure and profitable investment.

Canada backs French Commonwealth' idea

By William Macpherson Ottawa

CANADA is lending some apprehensive support to a plan proposed by France for creating a Commonwealth of French-speaking nations. A positive move in this direction is to be made at a meeting in Luxembourg on May 17 and 18. Canada's support is understandable in view of the fact that one-third of the population of 20,000,000 in French-speaking countries lives in the Province of Quebec.

Kenya's farming topslids says Mr. Mboya

The Minister for Development, Mr. Mboya, said that every effort must be made to diversify the agricultural sector. The emphasis would be put by the Government on the production of food crops such as beans and groundnuts.

The Minister, who was opening the Young World Food and Development Seminar at the Animal Health and Industry Training Institute at Kabete, said that every effort must be made to diversify the agricultural sector. The emphasis would be put by the Government on the production of food crops such as beans and groundnuts.

MORE JOBS WOULD BE CREATED
It was true that the meat-farms sector had increased over the last few years, but was now selling something like £2,000,000 a year. However, if such crops as coffee, tea and pyrethrum were excluded, the share of the meathouse would fall to a very small fraction.

The income generated in the services sector, mainly in the form of bank deposits, was also being used to finance the agricultural sector. This was a major factor in the growth of the services sector.

THE SENSE OF NATIONAL IDENTITY

By Barbara Tuchman

With regard to the Jewish State it is often said that it is the only nation in the world which was born in a day.

No nation in the world has so many dramatic problems as Israel. In a country the size of Massachusetts, it must maintain national existence while subject to the active hostility of four neighbours and a hostile Arab League. Under their boycott it is cut off from trade, transportation and communication across the entire land frontier.

A year of proud achievement

TODAY Israel celebrates the 16th anniversary of its independence. It is a very short period for a people whose recorded history goes back thousands of years. It is a day to which achievements of the past are summed up and crystallized.

The second in harvesting, the most consistent program in the world to ensure independence, production increased steadily and exports rose accordingly; progress was made in the social and agricultural fields and Israel's relations with its neighbours improved in the field of international law and justice.

Relations between Israel and its Arab neighbours have continued in the past several years from a state of violence to a state of peace. Israel has been able to defend its borders and territory in the past several years from a state of violence to a state of peace.

On this day, the Government of Israel extends its warmest wishes to the people of Israel and to the people of the world who are engaged in a struggle for peace, progress and justice.

Accompanying more than 200 Israeli students and teachers were the Israeli Olympic team which will be competing in the 1968 Summer Olympic Games in Mexico City. The Israeli Olympic team will be competing in the 1968 Summer Olympic Games in Mexico City.

While carrying the living tradition of a Jewish people, the Government of Israel is committed to the development of a modern and democratic society. The Government of Israel is committed to the development of a modern and democratic society.

On this day, the Government of Israel extends its warmest wishes to the people of Israel and to the people of the world who are engaged in a struggle for peace, progress and justice.

GIFT TO PRESIDENT: During his visit to Kenya last year the Prime Minister of Israel, Mr. Eshkol, presented a electronic bearing the Israeli national emblem. It is pictured engraving the symbol of peace.

El Al - the airline that has caught up

THERE are two parts to the story of national airline, El Al. One is the story of the airline itself, the other is the story of the airline's contribution to the development of the State of Israel.

Rebilled operations from the Atlantic to the Pacific began in mid-1949 in the next year, El Al began to fly to Zurich, Vienna, London, Johannesburg and New York. As at that time, El Al was the only airline in the world to fly to New York.

El Al's fleet of Boeing 707s and Douglas DC-8s and Super Constellations were used - and used, unfortunately, when the airline was hit by the 1957-58 oil crisis.

Links provided In three years El Al managed to provide links for Israel to the rest of the world, to transport its people, to develop Israel, to export agricultural and industrial products.

The first chapter opened in 1947. Less than two years from its inception, El Al was flying to New York with a Boeing 707. It was the first airline in the world to fly to New York.

You already own the best guidebook to Israel.

Israel is not like other countries for the same reason that the Bible is not like other Bibles. It is the only Bible that has been written in its own language. It is the only Bible that has been written in its own language.

Israel is 370 miles long, and almost twice as wide as it is in height. The Bible is significant to Israel in every sense as religious and emotional. If you've been reading the scriptures as well as your Bible lately, you know that the Bible is being used by archaeologists and historians.

ABALUHYA CONFIRM SUPERIORITY

Allsopps Cup added to list of soccer triumphs

ABALUHYA United confirmed their football superiority when they won the Allsopps Cup on Saturday. Kenya National Football League and holders of the Football Association of Kenya Cup triumphed over the East African soccer club champions through their fitness and the scheming of their inside-left, Livingston Maderera, who laid on passes which enabled the other forwards to tear the Sunderland defence to pieces.

Had it not been for Sunderland's centre-half, James Maw, Tanzania's top club side would have conceded more goals. He played a superb game, breaking to several promising moves by the Abaluhya forwards. Abaluhya forced the pace from the beginning. Joe Kichaga, the inside-right, made two quick dashes into the penalty area in the opening seconds, but it was there to clear the passage.

The man of the match, however, was Abaluhya's full-back Anthony Mwanaka, whose F.A. Cup breakers saved his side as at 100 minutes from the 1966 season.

Sunderland were unable to break through the Abaluhya defence, which included captain, Mwanaka, and their left-winger, Maw, in the first three minutes. Mwanaka pulled Maw in at the end of the first half and Mwanaka was replaced but Sunderland were able to dictate the terms.

Abaluhya scored two goals in the 17th minute when Maw, who had been replaced, cut across the ball from Ojiambo, who had been replaced by Sunderland goalkeeper.

Bleeding in disguise

His presence later Abaluhya, being fitted to make a change. The left-winger, had to leave the field because of a severe case of nose-bleeding and was replaced by Mwanaka.

Nyanjira's goalkeeper was replaced by Mwanaka, who scored his first goal in the 21st minute. Mwanaka scored his second goal in the 25th minute when he cut across the ball from Ojiambo, who had been replaced by Sunderland goalkeeper.

SUDAN GOVERNMENT TOPPLED

Split ends coalition of nine months

The nine-month rule of the Coalition Government of the Sudan ended yesterday, when the Prime Minister resigned after losing a vote of confidence in the Constituent Assembly in Khartoum.

The 31-year-old Premier, Mr. Saadik el Mahdi, leader of the Umma Party in the Coalition Government, was toppled a week after a dispute with his powerful uncle, leader of the strong Mahdist religious sect, flared into a crisis.

He went directly to the Republican Palace after the result was announced and tendered his resignation to the Supreme Council of State.

The young Oxford-educated Premier had threatened to resign if the Constituent Assembly refused to give him a new mandate. The voting yesterday was 112 to 86.

Imam withdraws his support

He was faced by a two-way split in the coalition — between the National Ummaist Party and his uncle, Imam al-Hadi el Mahdi, had threatened to withdraw from the Government.

N.U.P. leaders had said they thought a new Government should be formed from all the Umma groups, including the Umma's traditional rivals, the Nephel Democrats, who had boycotted previous elections.

But the Imam's withdrawal from the coalition was a blow to the Government. It had been formed by the Umma Party and the Nephel Democrats, who had boycotted previous elections.

The young Oxford-educated Premier had threatened to resign if the Constituent Assembly refused to give him a new mandate. The voting yesterday was 112 to 86.

G.P.T. and budgetary grants

It is the recurring task of the Finance Ministers to equate the necessary level of taxation with those forms of Government which will not destroy initiative and private enterprise, while providing the funds for the necessary public works and services which are essential for the progress of the country.

The Kenya Gazette of May 12 disclosed a surplus on the Government Exchequer account of more than 27,000,000, compared with a deficit of about 2,500,000 a financial position to afford rebate, or at any rate a limited budget.

Besides the repeal of G.P.T., equal attention be devoted to relief of the Income Tax for wage paid to domestic servants? Also, on the principle of equality between private enterprise and Government employees, could educational allowances be granted to Government employees, who are permanently resident in Kenya? After all, sending children overseas for their education reduces the educational cost, per capita, in Kenya.

THE ROADS ARE YOURS TO TAKE AT YOUR OWN RISK

Housewives pay more for beef

HOUSEWIVES in Nairobi had to pay 100 shillings an average of 10 per cent more for meat of good beef yesterday.

The increase was due to the Government's decision to raise beef prices to meet the demand for meat in the country. The increase was particularly noticeable in the price of beef, which is a staple food for many Kenyans.

The K.M.C. (Kenya Meat Commission) has announced that it will be increasing the price of beef by 10 per cent. This decision has caused concern among consumers, particularly in Nairobi, where beef prices are generally higher than in other parts of the country.

The M.C. has also announced that it will be increasing the price of other types of meat, including mutton and lamb. This is part of a broader strategy to ensure that the government has enough funds to cover its expenses.

The increase in beef prices is expected to have a significant impact on the livelihoods of many Kenyans, particularly those who rely on beef as a source of protein. It is hoped that the government will take steps to mitigate the impact of these price increases.

The increase in beef prices is expected to have a significant impact on the livelihoods of many Kenyans, particularly those who rely on beef as a source of protein. It is hoped that the government will take steps to mitigate the impact of these price increases.

The M.C. has also announced that it will be increasing the price of other types of meat, including mutton and lamb. This is part of a broader strategy to ensure that the government has enough funds to cover its expenses.

Higher meat prices will strain some family budgets

By ANN MARSHALL

THE question of meat prices has become a mine of controversy between the domestic and the producer, with the Kenya Meat Commission playing 'pig in the middle' over the issue.

With the price of meat (which is so in the shops) increasing, few weeks ago and consumers find it hard to buy it, the Kenya Meat Commission, which has a monopoly of the trade, has decided to raise its prices to meet the demand for meat.

The sharp increase in the price of meat has caused the Kenya Meat Commission to raise its prices to meet the demand for meat.

The Priceless Asset of A Beautiful Complexion

TODAY every woman is concerned. This preoccupation has brought her to the attention of the scientific advances of cosmetic science and to the knowledge of the importance of a beautiful complexion.

PAUL GOODMAN, has invented a keyboard which he believes may revolutionize the way we write. It is called the "Keyboard with no keys". It is a keyboard with no keys, but it has a screen that shows you what you are typing. You just press a button and the letter appears on the screen. It is very easy to use and it is very fast. It is a great invention for anyone who has to type a lot of letters or documents.

NOTICE

TO ALL SUBSCRIBERS ON THE NAIROBI AND KISUMU TELEPHONE EXCHANGES

The quarterly telephone account for the year ending April 30, 1967, will be the last quarterly account issued to subscribers on the Nairobi and Kisumu telephone exchanges and will be replaced by a monthly account. The first new monthly account will be issued in June, in respect of all services rendered during the month of May, and will contain charges for such items as metered and untimed calls, timed calls, programs, etc. as well as the standard rental charge.

It is hoped that the new procedure will be a benefit to subscribers.
