UGANDA PENSION FUNDS NOT TO BE ABSORBED

Standard Staff Reporter
WORKERS who were demanding the abolition of a private provident scheme because of the proposed introduction of a national social security scheme were warned by a spokesman of the Uganda Ministry of Labour and Industrial Relations that they were acting against their own interests.

The spokesman was commenting on "normal misapprehensions" among certain groups regarding the effect of the Social Security Bill on private provident schemes. He said that the Bill did not give any authority to the Minister of Labour to merge the assets of private funds for the benefit of the State.

What it did was to provide that the assets of private provident schemes should be used for the benefit of the workers who contributed to them.

London Market closes firm

The London Stock Market closed firm yesterday with most share prices ending the session on the day's high. Institutional and public support in the form of advance orders and the presence of several large houses kept the market buoyant.

Other notable features of the session were the recovery of the gilt market, the advance of the pound and the firmness of the foreign exchange market.

The market was opened by a rise in the pound which had been trading at a discount of 10s 6d to the dollar. This was followed by a rise in the stock market, with the FTSE 100 index closing at 258.10.

The market was supported by a number of factors, including a rise in the price of oil, a rise in the price of gold, and a rise in the price of silver. These factors helped to drive up the price of many of the shares in the FTSE 100.

The market was also supported by a number of institutional investors, including the Bank of England and the Treasury. These investors helped to provide the market with the liquidity it needed to trade smoothly.

The market closed with a number of shares at their daily high, including shares in the oil, gold, and silver sectors. This was a positive sign for the market, suggesting that investors were confident in the future of the economy.

Exports rise by 125 pct.

Exports of goods and services from the East African region rose by 125 per cent in the first six months of 1962 compared with the same period in 1961.

The rise was due to a number of factors, including a rise in the price of exports, a rise in the volume of exports, and a rise in the number of exports. These factors helped to drive up the value of exports from the region.

The most significant factor was the rise in the price of exports, which was due to a rise in the price of oil, a rise in the price of gold, and a rise in the price of silver. These factors helped to drive up the price of many of the goods in the region.

The rise in the volume of exports was also significant, as it showed that the region was producing more goods and services than in the previous year. This was a positive sign for the economy, suggesting that it was growing.

The rise in the number of exports was also a positive sign, as it showed that the region was exporting more goods and services to other parts of the world. This was a sign of increasing trade and economic integration.

Kenya will still back East Africa House

Vice-President plants a tree

SUGGESTIONS that Kenya should stop its contribution to the running of East Africa House in London because it was becoming a "hotbed" for opposition to the Government were strongly opposed in Parliament yesterday by the Minister for Education, Mr. Nyagah.

The Minister was speaking during the continued debate on the Vote, which was later approved for the Ministry of Education. He approved for the withdrawal of 45,000,000 from the Consolidated Fund to complete the sum necessary to meet the expenditure of his Ministry during the financial year.

Mr. Nyagah said the House that Kenya would continue to contribute to the running of East Africa House in London in association with the Governments of Uganda and Tanzania.

The Minister said the East Africa House had made a profit during the past year and was being a "burden" on the Government. He expressed the hope that the East Africa House in London would be able to run on its own.

Greenery force digs in for st-ditch stand

AN REPORT DISCOUNTS ESCAPE

foreign mercenaries who fled Kinshasa four days ago are trying to reach Kinshasa or Portuguese territory before Government troops will make a stand rather than try to break through the border, an informant source just back from the Congo said in Brussels yesterday.

The source said the mercenaries led by Belgian Major Jean "Black Jack" Schramme were believed to be digging in around the township of Pwila, 150 miles south-east of Kinshasa (formerly Stanleyville). They have 15 White hostages including 12 Belgians, one American, one Swede and one West German.

The source discounted reports that the fugitives were trying to reach Kinshasa or Portuguese territory after withdrawing from the city in 17 lorries as Congolese Army units moved in on July 15 to quell their rebellion.

To avoid these frontiers they would have to cover about 800 miles of hostile territory. The source added that the mercenaries had and ammunition dumps in a place called Yumbi on the River Loba, 100 miles from their Pwila position.

Hostile to the regime

The Pwila region has never been really controlled by Government troops, and is generally considered an area hostile to President Mobutu's regime. It has not yet been declared "liberated" there," he said. The total force under Mobutu's command would be about 250 White mercenaries and up to 2,000 Congolese mercenaries. They would be able to control an air cover by linking bases near in Pwila — two fighters, a DDC and a small reconnaissance aircraft — to the nearest airstrip. He said that the mercenary column included Frenchmen, Belgians, Spaniards, Cubans and Mexicans.

MANY WHITES WANT TO END U.D.I.

PARLIAMENTARY Britain's Labour Party has today announced a new strategy for dealing with the South African apartheid regime which it would like to see ended as soon as possible. The party would like to see the end of the U.D.I. (Unilateral Declaration of Independence) which South Africa has declared since the end of the war. ### FOUR DIE IN KEEKEROK AIR CRASH

Game blocked runway Standard died reporter

FOUR people were killed instantly yesterday when their private light aircraft crashed and caught fire in the bush near Keekerok airstrip in the Masai Mara Game Reserve. A few minutes before the accident the pilot was seen flying low in an attempt to scare game off the lake. The occupants of the plane — a single-engine Cessna 182 four-seater — died when it crashed into long grass about 200 yards away from the airstrip. One of the workers at the Keekerok Game Lodge — about a mile from the airstrip — rushed to the burning wreckage to help. The plane was completely burned out. Workers at the lodge used portable fire extinguishers to fight the blaze.

Newark in chaos after riots

THE Negro section of Newark, New Jersey yesterday was a hellscape of chaos and violence. His wife was among the passengers who were killed. The intensity of the other two passengers who were killed was not known last night. They were a man and a woman, both believed to have been married.
