Race Relations: An African View

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard":

We read the general editor's note on the subject of race relations with interest and concern. It is a subject which has become a major factor in the life of the African people. The streets were almost not seen without a sign of racial tension.

"Queen Bebe" is a good name for a woman who has been a pioneer in the field of race relations. She has done much to bring the African people closer together. I think that the writer's opinion is well founded. The African people are not a homogeneous race. There are many different groups and it is only by mutual understanding and respect that we can hope to build a united Africa.

Profile of the Man behind the Prince

THE Duke of Edinburgh has departed temporarily from the Royal scene with something of the dramatic suddenness with which he appeared upon it just over two years ago.

A very striking personality, he has made himself felt during the past few years in the most varied of ways. As a member of the Royal Household, he has been seen in the most intimate of surroundings. As a member of the House of Commons, he has been seen in the most public of places. As a member of the Royal Family, he has been seen in the most intimate of surroundings.

1950 may be big year for Edinburgh

By Andrew GIBSON

A GREAT deal of interest has been aroused in Edinburgh, throughout Scotland, by the intention of the Scottish Council to hold a possible visit for the 1950 General Assembly of the United Nations.

The idea was raised by Mr. Robert Maxwell, Member of the House of Commons, in a speech in the House of Commons on October 10. Mr. Maxwell said: "You are at first struck by the fact that, if the Assembly should visit Edinburgh, it would be the first time that the United Nations has ever met in a city which is not a capital or a city of some special importance."

Other European countries might be invited to the meeting if for any reason that is to be held in New York. It is believed that the Scottish Council will be asked to consider the possibility of holding the meeting in Edinburgh.

The General Assembly will be held in the General Assembly of the United Nations. It is expected that the meeting will be held in Edinburgh in 1950.

Big jobs for U.S. women

AMERICAN women have been made a tremendous contribution to public office work since the first woman entered 1700 when the first woman was appointed to a public office.

Two postmasters — were accepted into Federal service. This is noted in a recent survey made by the Women's Division of the Republican National Committee which reports one of the most striking statistics in the United States.

Today, women hold positions of responsibility at all areas of government. There are nine women members of Congress and women also serve as representatives of the United States in international affairs.

In high office

In 1923, President Franklin D. Roosevelt named a woman as a member of his cabinet, a first in American history. During his long administration, she was the only woman member of the cabinet. She was also the first woman to hold a position of national importance.

The survey reports that approximately 100,000 women are employed in the United States. This is a record for the United States. The number of women in the United States is increasing rapidly.

There are now about 200 women in the United States who are serving in the United States. This is a record for the United States.

WEST REGAINS THE 'CROCODILE'

Substantial win in annual golf match

West's annual golf match against the Kikumbos at the weekend at Kibungo was well-balanced. West led decisively last year (captained by Sir Philip Mitchell) by 13 points, to win the coveted Ivory Crocodile trophy for the first time.

West has scored three victories in the five matches of this series played to date. The weather was ideal for golf, with a cloudless day and a temperature of 70 degrees. West's lead was 10 to 0 at the end of the first round. West, by winning 10 of the 18 holes on the first day, was leading 10 to 0.

Formidable task

The task was formidable for Kibungo, who had to win 10 of the 18 holes to tie West. Kibungo's captain, Mr. J. M. M. M., was leading 10 to 0 at the end of the first round.

The match was a hard-fought one, with West leading 10 to 0 at the end of the first round. Kibungo's captain, Mr. J. M. M., was leading 10 to 0 at the end of the first round.

Coffee
The Editor, East African Standard.
The article that appeared in your issue of 11th November, which dealt with the coffee industry, is a very interesting one. It is a pity that it is not more widely read, as it contains a great deal of information which is of great value to the coffee grower. I am sure that you will be glad to receive the following suggestions which I think will be of great help to the coffee grower in the future.

It is suggested that the coffee grower should be encouraged to plant more coffee trees. This is a very important step, as it will help to increase the coffee production of the country. It is also suggested that the coffee grower should be encouraged to plant more coffee trees in the highlands, as this will help to increase the coffee production of the country.

It is also suggested that the coffee grower should be encouraged to plant more coffee trees in the lowlands, as this will help to increase the coffee production of the country. It is also suggested that the coffee grower should be encouraged to plant more coffee trees in the coastal areas, as this will help to increase the coffee production of the country.
